Citizens' Service Corps Meeting at Masonic Hall

Many outstanding Negro citizens were extended a special invitation and were in attendance at a meeting called by the Director of the Citizens' Service Corps, Mr. H. F. Whittle, at the Masonic Hall, 1050 East 50th Street, April 6, 1943.

Mrs. Fay E. Allen, Board of Education member, was chairman of the meeting.

The purpose of the meeting was to submit to the heads of organizations and leading citizens of the colored district the opportunity and responsibility of forming a district office of the Los Angeles Citizens' Service Corps, of which Mayor Fletcher Bowron is chairman. This organization is a part of the defense council setup.

The objective of the Service Corps is to secure, through leadership, education and inspiration, complete cooperation and participation on the part of every citizen in activities and programs designed to aid our nation's war effort, and thereby secure and hasten victory.

John Langston Law Club in Regular Meet

The John M. Langston Law Club, comprised of the leading Negro Attorneys of the city of Los Angeles, met in regular session on Friday night, April 16, 1943, at the palatial home of the eminent attorney Willis O. Tyler, 1117 South Serrano Avenue at 8:00 p.m.

A progressive program to deal with the legal aspects of civic problems was unanimously adopted. It was enthusiastically agreed that there should be a place specifically put on the agenda of each and every meeting for a report and full legal discussion of some particular lego-civic problem of current importance with the mutual object being directed to the solution thereof.

The present problem of Racial Discrimination in the various Labor Unions in the Defense Industries was a topic of intense interest under discussion at this meeting and it was definitely felt that the bombastic and antagonistic propaganda approaches to this most serious problem hitherto made with a complete absence of the first use of all legal processes which are presently available was and is a vital error on the part of the well intended citizens whose own enthusiasm for quick solution causes inadvertent oversight of the legal uses which are plentiful at their hand.

It is therefore earnestly suggested that the citizens of our community first and fully acquaint themselves with the legitimate judicial approaches to these vital problems as they come to hand. A written presentation of these problems as they come to hand. A written presentation of these problems to th Langston Law Club for their information, discussion and study will warrant and afford some intelligent instructions along these lines.

State Controller Harry B. Riley today announced that California's General Fund reached a record-smashing cash excess of $95,930,009 on March 31.

Riley said the excess, which increased $16,549,262 in March alone, exceeds that of a year ago by $90,201,879.

Revenue in the nine-month period ended March 31 totaled $197,695,849, an increase of $19,351,434 over the corresponding period last year.

Expenditures increased $1,626,026 due primarily to a rise in cost of the State Guard.

All sources of revenue except the inheritance and gift taxes yielded greater returns this year than last. Expenditures which increased included the State Guard, elementary and high schools, aid to needy children and miscellaneous fixed charges and appropriations.

Tenth Cavalry Band Now Numbers Forty Pieces

According to Sergt. Elmer Fain popular local musician, and former longtime assistant to the president of Musicians Local 767, The Tenth Cavalry band, a part of that famous historical Regiment, has grown until it now has forty members. Starting with about twenty local musicians, the regiment first came to Camp Lockett to continue training, the induction of musicians from other parts of the country has increased the band to its present size.

Due to the fact that the majority of the men were all first-class musicians, and members of well-known orchestras and brass bands beofre joining the army, furnished the ground work for what is rapidly developing into one of the finest military bands in the service. Included in it is a sixteen piece swing orchestra, for dances, and stage shows, and a six to eight "Jam Session" combo.

The band is in great demand throughout the area, traveling long distances to play from Y. M. C. A.'s, U. S. O. centers, officers clubs, etc., at San Diego, El Cajon, El Centro and other points.

Horace White Advises Southern Students

SCOTLANDVILLE, La., — In a vigorous and ringing challenge, Reverend Horace White, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church at Detroit, Michigan and Representative in the Michigan Legislature, exhorted the Southern University students to recognize the fact that the salvation of the Negro, as a minority group in America, rested in the assidious efforts of Negro youth in his own behalf.

Belittling the idea that "we must take things slow" in the matter of Negro-white relations, Representative White urged the Southern students to seize every possible opportunity and work now towards the elimination of racial prejudice and discrimination. "It should become clear," declared the speaker, "that the dominant group has not yet given us very much so it is up to us to secure those rights guaranteed by the Constitution."

Closing with an epic story of Andrew Kallou and the heroic stand of a handful of Negro patriots who sacrificed their lives in unequal battle to prove the valor of the black men, Reverend White suggested that present day Negro youth emulate this stirring example. White's appearance was made possible through the kindness of Reverend Gardner Taylor, pastor of Mount Zion Baptist Church, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

1,500 Negroes In Employ of Railroads

Dr. Channing Tobias, Secretary for Negro Work of Y. M. C. A. National Board, says, "Justice and democracy must operate at home."

PHILADELPHIA, April 19—Establishing a far-reaching precedent in the field of industrial relations between Negroes and American business, the National Association of Negroes in American Industry presented the first "Booker T. Washington Industrial Awards" to the Sun Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., and the Association of American Railroads, here, last Thursday night. John G. Pew Sr., president of Sun Ship, and Robert S. Henry, assistant to the president of the railroad setup, received the awards for their industries.

In citing the two industries for recognition by Joseph V. Baker, executive Secretary of the association, Bishop David H. Sims chairman of the organization's board of directors, pointed out that the Sun unit now employs approximately 9,000 Negro workers "not in one segregated yard, but throughout the vast plant." The recognition of railroads was based, Bishop Sims said, upon the fact that more than 150,000 Negroes are now employed by the industry and "more than any other industry, it kept Negroes employed throughout the depression."

Interracial delegations representing approximately a score of industries of both local and national prestige were among the 300 persons invited to witness the ceremonies, which were held in the Southwest Y. M. C. A., 1724 Christian St. Among those represented were the American Tobacco Co., the Yellow Cab Co., the Philadelphia Electric and Phila. Gas Companies, Bayuk Cigars and the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, and Reading Railroads.

Dr. Channing H. Tobias, Senior Secretary for Negro Work of the Y.M.C.A. National Board was the principal speaker for the award dinner.

The veteran "Y" executive told his audience that not only must Negroes strive to get into the Nation's industries "but they must be taught to make good and invest wisely the monies they are paid." Dr. Tobias struck boldly out against discrimination in the armed forces of the Nation and called for the "operation of justice and democracy" at home.

The award dinner opened a three-day seminar on "The Negro Citizen of Tomorrow's World," which was addressed by prominent speakers, included among whom were: Maceo W. Hubbard, counsel for the Fair Employment Practices Committee; David Williams, Deputy Secretary of Labor and Industry for Pennsylvania; Dr. Rayford Logan, Howard University; Walter D. Fuller, chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers; Howard Huston, the American Syanamid Co., New York Ludlow Werner, the New York Age; Attorney Ruth Whitehead Whaley, and Mrs. Howard Milligan, N. A. M. director for Women's Work.

Brooklyn Urban League Served 5,500 Negroes

NEW YORK (Calvin's News Service)—According to a statistical report just made public by Robert J. Elzy, Executive Secretary of the Brooklyn Urban League, its Industrial Department served 5,433 Negro men and women seeking war jobs, training, and redress of discrimination complaints between June 1 and December 1, 1942.

It placed 2,649 of them in war jobs and other essential occupations; 779 others in training courses in and for war industries, and pressed close to 100 complaints of job discrimination and unfair hiring practices on the part of war employers.

The report, which was prepared by Lorenzo F. Davis, Industrial Secretary, concentrated on October, November and December, and forecasts the League's program for the remainder of 1943. It reveals that the number of women applicants outnumbered men two to one. Further it laments the fact that far too great a proportion of the men still had to be placed in laborer and porter jobs, being the only openings in which they were accepted in large numbers, regardless of their skills. However, of the relatively few skilled openings offered, qualified Negroes were available, and placed in order of numbers as machinists' helpers, assemblers, maintenance men, carpenters, grinders, iron workers, riggers, marine painters and plumbers, wood pattern makers, metal polishers and one metallurgist.

"TURN THE SPOTLIGHT ON THE TRAITOR!!"

ESSENTIAL WAR JOBS OPEN, SAYS REEVES

The chief job of the Los Angeles Railway in furthering the war effort, that of getting the war workers to their jobs and home again each day and after each shift, is hampered only by the lack of manpower to operate the cars and coaches to and from the factories.

"We have the necessary cars and coaches and the necessary power to operate them", said L. A. Reeves, Director of Public Service of the Los Angeles Railway, "and we could give adequate service if we could replace the men who were former employes and who have shifted to other essential war jobs or who have entered one of the armed services."

The Railway Company has set up employment offices on the ground floor at 1056 South Broadway where it is receiving applications from men and women who are interested in steady jobs at good pay which are essential now and which will not be affected after the present emergency is over.

An interview may be had at any time between the hours of 8:30 and 4:00 on any day except Saturday and Sunday. It is not necessary to make appointments for the interviews. Just come to 1056 South Broadway any weekday between the hours shown and someone will be ready to take your applications.

THRIFTY DRUG STORES MAKE CIRCUS OFFER

Easter-time means circus-time, and this year is no different from any other. April 23rd ushers in the great Russell Bros. show at Washington and Hill streets, Los Angeles. Matinee and evening performances will be given every day through May 9th.

Once more the Thrifty Drug Stores have arranged with the management to allow Thrifty patrons to attend any afternoon performance (except Saturday and Sunday) at a bona-fide saving of one-half of the regular admission of children, and approximately one-half of the regular price of adults.

There is no ration on entertainment, and although the circus is looked upon as a child's institution, age is no restriction to its enjoyment. Old and young alike will thrill at the feats of intrepid aerial performers. Occupying top billing this year is a slip of a girl who is regarded as America's foremost feminine aerial gymnast.

Especially appealing is the nursery department where a number of animal babies may be seen along with their elders. Elephants, of course, are always a source of amazement to the kiddies, while equestrian sea lions will hold them spell-bound with their tricks of balance. Throughout the performance a vast and varied assortment of merry funsters will provide comical interludes to relieve the tension of the thrilling and daring acts.

Visit your nearest Thrifty Drug Store today, and ask for your free partly paid matinee tickets. No obligation—nothing to buy!

Lot Owners Get Weed Warnings

The Weed Abatement Section crews of the Los Angeles County Department of Forester and Fire Warden are now placing posters on some 40,000 weed covered lots in County territory outside of incorporated cities.

Lots posted are those covered with weeds, both vacant and improved, which are fire hazards to adjacent improved properties.

Posters advise property owners that unless the weed fire hazard is removed by May 15 the County crews will remove same and the cost of such removal will be placed on the tax bill. Due to the weeds becoming dry earlier in Altadena, La Canada, Flintridge, Montrose, and La Crescenta, property owners in these districts are advised to remove the weed fire hazard by May 5.

Owners who desire to remove the weed fire hazard from their properties are advised to write or call the Weed Abatement Section office, 808 North Spring Street, Los Angeles, telephone MUtual 9211, Station 3684, signifying their intention, so that proper notations may be made on Weed Abatement Maps. Be sure to give lot and tract number, or other legal description of property involved. When the County Weed Abatement crews enter the field this summer, property owners who have so notified the Weed Abatement Section will be contacted, in case their properties have not been satisfactorily cleared, and given an opportunity to do so.

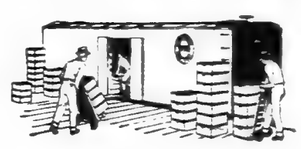
A Report from the Western Railroad Front

All night long you can hear the trains whistling to each other in the lonely mountain passes. All day you can see them rumbling across the deserts.

From New Orleans in the deep South to San Francisco by the Golden Gate. From Ogden in Utah's gaunt Wasatch Mountains. From Portland in the evergreen Pacific Northwest, from Tucumcari, from San Antonio, from El Paso on the Rio Grande. Over Donner Summit, Cascade Summit and the Siskiyous. Through Paisano Pass and Carrizo Gorge. Across the Sabine River, the Neches, the Pecos, the Colorado. Everywhere on Southern Pacific's 15,000 miles of line, the war trains are rolling.

Trainloads of men bound for "somewhere in the Pacific." Trainloads of tanks and guns. Trainloads of steel for the sprawling shipyards in the San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland areas. Trainloads of engines and parts for the humming aircraft plants. Thousands of war trains rolling westward.



This is a report from Southern Pacific, the West's biggest railroad. Like all American railroads, we need more men, more cars and locomotives to do the job. Like all American railroads, we are doing our best with what we have.

Look at a railroad map. See how our lines converge on the Pacific Coast, the springboard for our offensive against Japan. Add to this the fact that we serve more military and naval establishments than any other railroad, and you can see how grave is our responsibility to our country. The war trains must come first.

Yet the other trains must roll, too. Long yellow "reefer" trains loaded with western fruits and vegetables important to the nation's health . . . 50,000 carloads of lettuce from California and Arizona . . . 60,000 cars of oranges and lemons and grapefruit from Southern California, Southern Arizona and the Rio Grande Valley down in Texas. Trainloads of lumber from Oregon and Washington for cantonments and emergency housing. Trainloads of salt from Louisiana, sulphur from Texas and potash from Trona for explosives and chemicals. Trainloads of oil and gasoline from California and Texas. Copper from Arizona, Nevada and Utah. Cement. Sand. Gravel. Cattle. Sheep. Thousands of trains rolling east with the war trains insistently pouring west!

We are moving it all over a railroad that crosses more mountain ranges than any other in the country—with ten major summits, from the 2,500-foot hump at Beaumont Hill to the 7,000-foot Donner Pass, where the average annual snowfall is thirty-six feet, and great rotary plows whine through the drifts.

Our dispatchers are putting more trains over the line than they ever dreamed they could. And the old-timers don't talk about the "good old days" any more. They're really railroading now!

Many people did not believe we could carry the load we are carrying now. Our whole organization of 20,000 men and women is on its toes, thrilled to have an important part in the war effort and determined to keep 'em rolling.

More word-weaving patterns . . . Horace Clark Sr. is a pneumonia convalescent at home . . . Golden Gate Quartet due back in town . . . Bernice Eplon treks to Riverside when her schoolroom duties are over. She'll be an army hostess during the summer. Mentioning army hostesses, Laura Slayton would have YOU know she is most certainly NOT going to Riverside to assume any part of the USO, but rather will go on to nearby March Field, whence she'll become an army hostess; and furthermore, she is NOT resigning her AWVS post—so there! . . . (toss of the head).

Since Ben (Ellington) Webster is just as good as in khaki, I daresay his wife, Eudora, won't return to these parts when the crew dogs and that's too bad. Sunday nite, highspot running into Luvercha Bray (she wears that mink like a brown Barbara Hutton) at Olga Slavenska's party in the hills surrounding Hollywood Bowl. Maj. Henry L'Escargot, who WOULD be from N'Orleans with that name, was hovering around Luvercha's elbow all evening. Last time we saw Henry he was commandeering TWO redcaps in Northwestern Sta. in Chi in Oct., while we looked enviously on. We pondered on it half way across Nebr., looking broodingly out the window. We put balm on our feelings by saying twas that uniform and Henry's darn ingratiating charm that got him TWO porters—TWO!! We counted 'em.

I'll never in this life understand (nor will you) how any such slip-up could happen on ANY lino machine, but anyhoo, last wk's col. Betty Vaughn's train was five hours late in Chi, and she had to forego a merrie-merrie round of gayety which had been scheduled for her by old friends. She only had time to dash from train to train. Meanwhile, I well imagine the DeeCee chapter of the Gay Northeasterners will be hysterically glad to reunite with their ex-member, and the to-do should be tip-top . . . Add highspot: Accepting Dorothy Johnson's bid to explore Ascot School Wedn. in the midst of their annual open-house festivities, and finding it all immensely interesting. Soldiers Crowd Eastside O. S. O.

With the influx of thousands of soldiers into nearby areas, the Eastside U.S.O. is kept at a high peak of activity. Volunteer workers, though busy with home duties, never slack in their U.S.O. routine, attending meetings of instruction and other activities relative to this work. At the luncheon recently held at the Biltmore Bowl for Mr. Chester I. Barnard, president of the National U.S.O., were seen the following persons: Mesdames Cornelia A. Roberson, Ethel Atkinson, Selena Faulkner, Josephine Brown, Alice Wilson, Ruth Kimbrough, Vertner Gordon, Bessie Shaw, and Mr. Harold Prince. The Junior Hostesses, who are also given special instructions as to their duties, faithfully keep up their end of the program, including trips to camps. Last week they made a trip to Van Nuys. Miss Geraldine Lundy, one of our Junior Hostesses, who was recently inducted into the WAACS, left for Des Moines. Another member of the WAACS, Aux. Punch, of Houston, Texas, was a visitor to the center last week. Donations to the U.S.O. are still numerous. We extend thanks this week to: Eastside Mothers Club, Daughter Elks, Mrs. Ellen Weber, Mrs. Carrie Fisher, Mrs. Rainey McReynolds, Mrs. Ethel Bullock, Mrs. Ethel Johnson, Mrs. Gertrude Galloway, Mrs. Treadwell, Mrs. Sarah Parker, Mrs. Corinne Smith, Miss Sadie Fanslow, Mrs. W. M. Hutchinson, the Girl Friends Club, Mrs. Julia Robertson and Mrs. Viola Pollock. Mrs. Mabel Gray donated a much needed card table. Other donors were Mrs. Moscelyn Williams, Mrs. E. M. Bussette, Audrey Thomas, Elester Kyles, Adrena Miller, Mabel Starks, Mrs. Mabel Arnaud and Mrs. Mabel Kenard. Mrs. C. A. Roberson held a business meeting of Canteen supervisors and workers at the U.S.O. last Thursday, where new ideas were advanced for improvements. Classic Literary Club served as hostesses March 28; 229 Auxiliary to Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters served April 4; Thomas Jefferson High P. T. A. served April 11; each club served from 100 to 125 cervice men. The Center is now as busy as the proverbial beehive, planning a beautiful Easter for the men.

Introducing a full day of four features, the young people of the Trinity Baptist Church, 3500 South Normandie Avenue, Dr. J. L. Caston, pastor, will present a fully costumed dramatic pageant "The Risen Lord," by the eminent Dr. Russel Bowie, of New York City, this Sunday at sunrise. The script will be read by the very talented Clarence Hargrave and will be enacted by a cast of fifty persons, including the youth choir of the church. Mrs. Theodesia Washington is directing the pageant and Bill Gibbs is doing the scenes in natural stage backgrounds and special lighting effects. The pageant will begin moving at 6:00 a. m. An overflow crowd is expected.

At 9:30 a. m. the Children's Division of the Church School will present a musical Easter service under the direction of Mrs. Q. T. Bookman and the teachers of the Beginners, Primaries and Junior departments in the church auditorium. Parents of the hundred children participating will be special guests.

Special music will be rendered by the Women's Ensemble under the direction of Mrs. Virdes Shortridge with guests from other choirs participating and with Mrs. Ineze Caston doing special musical numbers.

Climaxing the day and by far the most elaborately prepared of all the features will be the Senior Choir's presentation of "Rise Glorious Conqueror" at 7:45 p. m. under the very capable direction of Mrs. Margaret Hoard. Some of the leading artists of the city will be heard, including Edward Short, Roger Alford, Ernest Rhambe of the Hall Johnson choir and Granville Smith of the Bethel A. M. E. choir. Talented soloists of the Trinity choir, who will appear are: Fannie Carpenter, Vera Romby, Beatrice Cassell, Valda Washington, Esther Garland, Ella Mae Graves, Catherine Foster, Marion Hudgens, Mozell Johnson, Lee Angnes Fitzgerald, Juanita Pratt, David Frisby, Phillip Brown, John Dix, and Otis Fletcher. This is by any measurement the finest Cantata of its kind.

Trinity Church has arranged for additional seating and loud speakers for the expected overflow crowds at each service. You will spend a great Easter at this church.

Third, the Minister will preach a brief sermon "Suppose We Didn't Live Again." Fourth, then will be a "March of Dollars" across the pulpit. The Church has set Easter as the time to raise $7000. Good Friday At Independent Church

Perhaps the largest audience to attend a musical at the Peoples Independent Church will be on hand Good Friday, April 23 at 8:15 p. m. when Albert McNeil presents the Cathedral Choir of 80 voices in the beautiful cantata, "Sabat Mater."

Tribulation is the English translation for "Sabat Mater" which was written by Rossini.

St. Paul Baptist Church Marches On Under The Banner of The Holy Ghost

Rev. S. A. Williams

Mrs. S. A. Williams

Thursday, April 29th, 1943, bids fair to be a memorable day in the historical annals of the St. Paul Baptist Church; it being the time of a most inspiring testimonial on behalf of Pastor and Mrs. S. A. Williams, on the eve of their departure for a much needed rest and vacation tour.

The ocassion of this testimonial marks the 13th anniversary of the pastorate of Pastor Williams in St. Paul, and the 12th wedding anniversary of the marriage of Rev. and Mrs. Williams. The church voted that the pastor and his wife should have an extended rest and recuperative vacation; to this end the committee on arrangements planned to make the affair noteworthy, by inviting other churches to take part in making it an outstanding event.

The following churches with their pastors have kindly accepted the invitation: Tabernacle Baptist Church, Rev. J. D. Gordon, pastor; Trinity Baptist Church, Rev. J. Lyle Caston, pastor; Second Baptist Church, Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, minister; People's Independent Church of Christ, Rev. Clayton D. Russell, minister; Providence Baptist Church, Rev. F. L. Taylor, pastor; Calvary Baptist Church (Santa Monica) Rev. W. P. Carter, pastor; Second Baptist Church, Alhambra, Rev. G. Albert Miller, pastor.

Other guests prominent in religious and civic life who will share in the program are: Rev. Ralph L. Marberry, L. A. City Baptist Missions; Rev. Horace N. Mays, Director, Christian Education; Mrs. C. A. Bass, Editor and Publisher of the California Eagle; Mrs. Mozelle T. Outley, outstanding musician; Mr. S. P. Johnson, Mr. Louis Blodgett, Mr. L. G. Robinson.

St. Paul's major choirs will serve and the "Three Tone Gospel Trio" will be a special feature. Mrs. Marie Overstreet Jackson will be soloist.

You cannot afford to miss this worthy affair given in honor of two devout servants of God, who are devoting their lives to the fearless preaching of the gospel, remember the time: Thursday, April 29th, 7:30 p. m. Place: In the main auditorium of the St. Paul Baptist Church, 21st Street at Naomi Avenue.

You are especially invited to attend the Easter Services at St. Paul this Sunday, April 25th. Pastor Williams will be the speaker at the 11:00 o'clock morning service. His subject will be "The Crucifixion and Resurrection of Christ Climaxed His Birth." His thesis and exegesis on this topic are very inspiring, and the physical demonstrations are awe-inspiring. If you have no other church to attend for Easter Services, we assure you that you will find a hearty welcome awaiting you in St. Paul.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave: for he shall receive me." This declaration from the Psalms is the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Probation after Death" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

A Lesson-Sermon account from John's Gospel tells of Jesus' appearance to his disciples after his resurrection. Thomas, who had not yet seen Jesus, doubted his appearance. "And" says the account, "after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you. Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God."

Mary Baker Eddy writes on this subject in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Jesus' unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all material conditions; and this exaltation explained his ascension, and revealed unmistakably a probationary and progressive state beyond the grave."

Eleven Ministers In the Family Of These Twins

With the battle-cry "Women must do their bit in the church to help win the war, Reatha and Leatha, famous twin-sister evangelists from Chicago have opened a campaign against the growing crime-wave in Los Angeles, that is eating at the war effort like termites.

Four other sisters and five brothers, all ministers identify them as truly members of a religious family. One elder brother is Bishop J. F. Morris, located at Dallas, Texas.

With preparations going forth rapidly for a complete reorganization of Azuza Temple at 27th and Paloma, Sister Reatha, now evangelist in charge, forsees the same success that kept her for ten years pastor of Southside Evangelist Tabernacle in Chicago. With a membership of 2000 it is still under her jurisdiction.

Recognizing the fact that led by the President the true leaders of Democracy are turning more and more to God for the winning of the war, Sister Reatha will start a series of soul-stirring meetings in the near future. Meanwhile from their home, 2851½ E. 45 street she is receiving applicants for the new Azuza Temple choir, which she hopes to make one of the best on the coast. Singers young and old can reach her at CE. 21273.

+++ATTEND CHURCH EASTER SUNDAY+++

Mt. Carmel Honors Soldier Boys

Last Sunday was one of the long to be remembered events of the Mt. Carmel Missionary Baptist Church. A special program was given honoring the boys of Mt. Carmel and the community. No stones were left unturned by Mrs. Beulah Bruce, who is chairman of the program committee, to leave a lasting impression in the minds of our people. The grace and beauty of the Mt. Carmel choir, which was led in by Rev. Harley L. Hays, who carried the Christian Flag. The American flag was carried by Private Porter Smith U. S. Army, Honorable discharge. The salute to the Christian flag was led by Reginald Bennett, and the pledge to the American Flag was led by Master Thomas Moore Jr.

One of the highlights of the evening was an address by Mrs. Helen S. Watson, who has contributed much in the Literary World, and is well known for her poems and readings, spoke on the subject, "The Christian Church In a War Torn World." Those who heard her agreed it was a masterpiece.

The World Wide Guild Girls blended their beautiful voices in song. Then a stirring address by Rev. J. S. Peterson, who spoke on the subject, "God Bless America."

The most impressive part of the program was the presentation of the Service Flag by Mr. Jessie Dumas. A large beautiful Service Flag studded with stars of the boys who are members of the church. Miss Albertina Parrish presented the roll of honor. As Miss Parrish called the names and rank of each boy, the World Wie Guild Girls, sang softly "Day Is Done." The service flag is to act as a gentle reminder, to those who enter the sacred portals of Mt. Carmel Missionary Baptist Church to pray for the boys who are in the Service.

Palm Sunday, the day that Jesus made his triumphant entry into Jerusalem, was celebrated at Mt. Carmel Baptist Church. Rev. J. S. Peterson, pastor delivered a soul stirring message, on the subject "Jesus Our Friend." So forceful was his sermon, that several souls were saved.

The Harvesters Club are having their 10th anniversary on the 2nd Sunday in May at 3 p. m. The Harvesters are expecting a great time, and the public is invited.

Easter Sunrise services will be held at Mt. Carmel at 4:30 a. m.

Rev's. Clayton Russel and Karl Downs Hold Holy Week Services At Theatre

Following another of the new and unusual procedures that have made him one of the most outstanding race leaders on the coast, Rev. Clayton D. Russell, militant young pastor of Independent Church of Christ, brought an opportunity for worship to workers and shopping throngs in the busy Central Avenue business section during Holy Week.

Associated with Rev. Karl Downs, pastor of Scott Methodist Church, Pasadena, services were held daily from Monday in the Bill Robinson Theatre at 43rd and Central Avenue from 12:00 noon to 1:00 p. m. Short sermons were delivered, talks were made by other leading ministers, and choir singers from various other churches gave musical inspiration. The innovation proved very popular, especially to business workers off for lunch.

Tomorrow night, the noted Cathedral Choir of Independent Church, directed by Albert McNeil, will sing the cantata "Stabat Mater," in the Church Auditorium.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICES AT VAL VERDE

High atop Val Verde's Holy Mount the First A.M.E. Church will hold its Easter Sunrise Services. There will be community singing; a solo by Mrs. Anne Durfield; a dramatic reading by Mrs. Clara Taylor; and the Easter message will be delivered by the Rev. E. Judge Wiley. The subject: "The Only Way."

Following the service, a community breakfast will be served by the Pastor's Aid Club and the ladies of the community. Everyone is invited to this inspirational service.

At 11:30 a.m., the pastor will be speaking on the subject "The Resurrection" at the First A.M.E. Church.

The committee on arrangements includes Mesdames Sallie Green, Clara Taylor, Edward Guss, Emma Bruce, and the pastor, Rev. E. Judge Wiley.

BAPTIST ASSN. CONFAB AT WATTS

WATTS, Calif., April 7-8, 1943. —The Tri-County Baptist Association, Auxiliary to the Western Baptist State Convention, held the greatest session in its history in the Village Baptist Church, pastored by that emminent gospel preacher, Dr. L. M. Curtis. Though this church is but two years old, the pastor and members have succeeded in paying off the indebtedness, and have added one hundred new members to its roll. The sessions opened Wednesday morning with Dr. W. D. Carter giving the devotional address. The Sunday School Convention was presided over by Mrs. M. B. Muton. The morning sermon was delivered by Rev. R .L. Amos of the Second Baptist Church of Redlands. The afternoon session of the B. T. U. Convention was also presided over by Mrs. Muton. Devotional address by Rev. Horace N. Mays, Religious Educational Worker of the Convention. Addresses were delivered by Mr. Eugene Allen and Mrs. Helen S. Watson, president and vice president of the Sunday School and B. T. U. Congress. The sermon was delivered by Rev, Key Hughes of the Second Baptist Church of Las Vegas, Nevada.

The evening service opened at 7:45. Rev. John A. Davis giving the devotional address. The very fine choir of the Village Baptist Church rendered excellent singing at this service, as well as at the Thursday evening service. Dr. C. C. Adams, secretary of the Foreign Missions Board of the National Baptist Convention, Inc. delivered a soul stirring message.

The First Baptist Church of Victorville was accepted into the membership of the Association. The Moderator closed the meeting Thursday night with a powerful message.

The entertainment was the best in the Association's history.

More than $483 was raised in this session in cash and credit. A great pastor, and a great people.

Rev. W. M. Thomas, Moderator.
Rev. John A. Davis, Ex. Sec'y.

Dorsey 28th Street Hy-Y Reorganized

Realizing the need for closer unity and knowing that the only way of accomplishing this is by having common ideals and mutual understanding, the "Dorsey 28th Hi-Y" was organized. The initial meeting was called on February 26 of this year. The temporary chairman was Milton Sears.

The first duty of the club is to "fight" as Dr. A. C. Powell has advocated. "We must remove, purge, exterminate all the Uncle Toms from our midst, which means also the zoot suiters, the loud mouths, and the self segregationists at our school," so stated the club members.

Their second program is to try to enter and to urge all other Negro students to try to enter into full participation in every phase of school community activities.

The third program is to carry to the students, both black and white, an understanding knowledge of the progress of the American Negro.

The officers of the club are Reginald Hemphill, president; Earl Pierson, vice-pres.; Lloyd Lenard, secty.; Paul Arnoud, treasurer; Floyd Wilson, Sargent At Arms. The other members are Bert Davis, Conrad Fauver, Arthur Harmon, Davey Hennington, and Anthony Sears.

The members of the club will be glad when the name "Dorsey 28th Street Hi-Y" is eliminated and there is only one Dorsey Hi-Y. "But" they stated "before we can protest the undemocratic double Hi-Y we will have to bring all our qualifications up to and surpass those of the average "regular Hi-Y" member. And then there will be no reason for not following the true Democratic ideals.

At 3:00 o'clock the chairman of the Women's Day program, Mrs. G. Sims, presented the church with a lovely program. The guest speaker was Mrs. H. Curry. Her topic was "Courage." Her speech was well rendered and many interesting points were brought out. Two beautiful solos were rendered by Mrs. Maggie Duncan and Mrs. Ada Wyatt.

Rev. Thornton ended the day's worship by bringing another soul-stirring sermon on the subject: "The Hour Had Come."

IN MEMORIAM

Of Katie Lewis, who departed this life April 19, 1939
"THE OTHER ROOM"

No, not cold beneath the grasses,
Not close-walled within the tomb;
Rather, in my father's mansion,
Living in another room.

Living like the one who loves me,
Like yon child with cheeks abloom,
Out of sight, at desk or schoolbook,
Busy in another room.

Nearer than the youth whom fortune
Beckons where the strange lands loom:
Just behind the hanging curtain,
Serving in another room.

Shall I doubt my Father's mercy?
Shall I think of death as doom,
Or the stepping oe'r the threshold
To a bigger, brighter room?

Shall I blame my Father's wisdom?
Shall I sit answathed in gloom?
When I know my love is happy
Waiting in the other room?

Hatch Speaks Sunday at Baha'i

Mr. Willard P. Hatch will speak Sunday, April 25, at 3 p. m. at the Baha'i Center, 1709 West 8th Street, upon "The Divine Springtime." Basing his talk in part, upon quotations from the Baha'i writings, Mr. Hatch says: "We all know that the earth has need of an annual coming of spring. It is necessary that a new bounty should be forthcoming, or life would be effaced. In the same way, the world of spirit needs new life, the world of mind necessitates new animus and development, the world of souls a new bounty, the world of morality a reformation, the world of Divine Effulgence ever new bestowals. Were it not for this replenishment, the life of the world would become effaced and extinguished. For this purpose, every one thousand years or so, more or less, God sends a new prophet to enunciate the fundamental truths underlying all religions once more, in accordance with the increased capacities of the people of the age. "In this day," quotes Mr. Hatch, "the door of the knowledge of God has been opened by Baha'u'llah, for he has laid the foundation whereby man may become acquainted with the verities of heaven and earth."

8:00 p. m. Wednesday night, Youth Victory Social Club meeting. Mr. R. G. Stacy, president.

8:00 p. m. Friday night, general services.

If you are open and receptive for the highest good, you will be blessed if you attend these services.

Easter Message To the Christian World!

Friends! If you were in prison and someone paid for your release, you would be free, wouldn't you? You would not cling to the prison. Jesus suffered the cross and released you, and today you are yet clinging to, and cherishing the old rugged cross with the expectation—some day to change it for a crown. Suppose that day never comes? Jesus said, "Now is the accepted time." He cursed the fig tree, because it awaited a future day to produce fruit.—Such thoughts, words and ideas create evil environments. Do you remember this! So shall my words be that, that goeth forth out of my mouth shall not return void, but shall accomplish that which I please." Isaiah 55-11-ve.

Jesus said: "I am the resurrection," meaning, when He was resurrected the whole world was resurrected with him. But the people have fallen back in Egypt (the slum of life). I am asking all the churches at Sunrise Services and all day services Easter Sunday to sit and relax for one minute and say this three times, "I have abolished the cross, and I am now wearing the crown." Then say this mentally, "My christian soldiers, you are no longer wearing the cross, you are wearing a crown with the inscription, 'Victory'."

This vibratory thought will go forth and help our fighting boys on the battle fields. Then the master, Jesus, will be pleased. By so doing you will be developing the Christ consciousness. You will be destroying the evil environment, for our thoughts shall go forth and accomplish our desires. —Richard Scott.

EMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH
941 East 42nd Street
Rev. A. A. Peters, Minister

Last Sunday, April 15, 1943, was a very high day spiritually at Emmanuel Baptist Church. The minister, Rev. A. A. Peters preaches a very inspirational sermon on the subject, "Save to Serve." Mr. Matthew, a well known gospel singer, was the guest soloist for the day. There was one accession for the day.

In the afternoon, at 3:30 a grand musical program was presented to a very enthusiastic audience. The house was crowded and many anxious lovers of soul stirring music were compelled to stand on the outside, and just as many were turned away because there was no room to even look in the windows. Truly, the Lord did bless us with wonderful services all the day long.

Easter Sunday will find the members and pastor in another high spirited day. The pastor is speaking on the subject, "He Lives." Another program will be presented during the Children's Hour, 6:00 p. m. There will be an Easter pageant featuring the senior choir at 7:30 p. m. The title of this presentation is, "The Living Redeemer." The public is invited to attend one or all of these services.

BATTALION ORGANIZES N. C. O. CLUB

In full session is the recently organized non-commissioned officers' club of the 208th Q. M. Bn. Officers were elected and military rules and regulations were set up in order to guide the club in its aim.

The club was organized to better conditions between units, white and colored, and to establish a cooperative attitude to the effect where segregatory embarrassment that is rising with the ever-increasing necessity for Negro manpower, may be eliminated.

The latter part of April will terminate a year of service in the armed forces. Plans are completed for an elaborate celebration of the Company's first anniversary. The services of the A. W. V. S. will be engaged and brought to the maneuver area in Southern California. The affair will be held in the beautiful USO establishment in Coachella Valley. A spacious dance floor and swimming pool, and many sports will add enjoyment to the group.

The club has been guided since January by the following elected non-commissioned officers: Sgt. Alvin J. Hatcher, of Los Angeles, president; S sgt. T. Flowers, from Kentucky, vice-president; Cpl. Robert Coggins, Tennessee, company clerk and club secretary; S. sgt. Edward C. Harris, of Los Angeles, treasurer; Sgts. Milton Griggs and Eddie Gentry, from the East, are sergeants-at-arms; 1st Sgt. A. Jamison enjoys being the honorary member, and is from Florida. Cpl. Charles Sanders, of Los Angeles, reporter.

The membership consists of alert N.C.O.'s who are always working for the betterment of the club. Through monthly dues, the club boasts of a special fund reserved for cases of emergency, such as furnishing financial aid to members who must leave for the bedsides of their loved ones.

Deep River Boys Leave Seattle For Other Duties

The famous "Deep River Boys," (nicknamed by their intimate friends — 'Shallow-Water boys') made a hasty departure from the post last evening after a whole week of entertaining soldiers at Army Posts in this area. They were household guests of this Post and could be prevailed upon most any "chow-time" to provide a little impromptu "jive" for the men.

They were travelling under Army orders and having the time of their life and had made reservations to hie away to Salt Lake City for engagement but fate dealt them another hand and they were handed orders by direct wire from New York which began "Greetings." . . . fortunately or unfortunately as the case may be, the missive effects only two members of the quartet, which means all-in-all the quartet will be split up and Uncle Sam will take them in tow sure enough.

While here, M Sgt. Rayfield Lundy arranged a telephone conversation between the boys and Miss Dorothy Mainor, from Post Hq to the Exclusive Olympic Hotel in Seattle. Both artists have been friends for years. (The Deep River Boys attended Hampton Inst. in Virginia and Miss Mainor is a native of Norfolk, Virginia. They have performed with her on several occasions) . . . as an outcome of the whole conversation Miss Mainor consented to sing for the colored boys in an open-air concert FREE . . . despite the fact that she had not recovered from performing before a packed house at the Moore Theatre the night before.

Comes Sunday afternoon. Miss Mainor is escorted to the Post by 1st Sgt. Alfred A. Grant and M Sgt. Rayfield, both of Pasadena, Cal. A censored number of colored boys from Paine Field, McChord Field, Ft. Lawton and this post were privileged to hear the noted singer.

Excerpt from Post Intelligencer of April 13, 1943: Led by Dorothy Maynor, top ranking Negro Soprano, Negro soldiers stood on the parade grounds of the 1st Ave. Cantonment yesterday and sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

The community singing done with the enthusiastic abandon characteristic of their race, climaxed Miss Maynor's appearance before the troops. She sang a large selection of Negro spirituals and several Stephen Foster selections.

After an introduction by Col. R. C. Hill, commanding officer, the songstress was presented with a large bouquet of American Beauty roses by one of the men, First Sergeant Alfred Grant. The program was arranged by Capt. George Cohen, special service officer, assisted by M Sgt. Lundy, who acted as Master of Ceremonies for the day.

Well Known Singers Vocalize in New "Puppetoon" Pictures

In a new departure from the popular cartoon comedies, called "Puppetoons," a group of some of the best race singers in the city were formed into a chorus for the latest of these, now in production by the George Pal Company.

They were Ernestine Wade, Bessie Guy, Dorothea Williams, William Gillespie, Carl Jones, Roy Glenn and B. O. Thomas, under the direction of Edward W. Bailey. With a heavy schedule prepared by the Pal productions, consideration is being given the signing up of the chorus for regular filming.

"Puppetoons" are made by staging a regular puppet show, with the lifelike little figures manipulated by puppeteers, going through their motions, while motion picture cameras shoot the scenes. Meanwhile the conversational and singing voices are registered on the sound strip in accordance with the action.

Incidentally, Mrs. Wade, who made her debut in motion in Louise Beaver's "Imitation of Life," has since both sang and acted in many others. eBsides this, she played various female characters, on the "Amos and Andy" radio program, up until it was discontinued in February.

Soldier Receives Medal Award

The Soldier's Medal, awarded by direction of the President under Congressional authority, will be presented Saturday, to Pvt. First Class Charles E. Burton of Coatsville, Pennsylvania, at a ceremony scheduled for 11 a.m. at Camp Lockett.

The medal will be given by Brig. Gen. T. K. Brown on behalf of the Commanding General, Western Defense Command and Fourth Army.

According to the citation, Private Burton displayed great heroism by saving the life of a fellow-soldier in a near-accident, which occured near the Camp last January 30.

"While riding on a self-propelled handcar," the citation reads, "Pvt. Burton noticed a train approaching from the opposite direction at a distance of not more than 35 yards. All men jumped from the car except Burton and another soldier.

"Noticing that the other man apparently was 'frozen' in position and unable to jump, Pvt. Burton, with utter disregard of his own personal safety, remained on the handcar and pushed the other man off. He himself was unable to jump until the train was less than ten yards from the handcar.

● LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Editor,
The California Eagle
4075 South Central Avenue
Los Angeles, California.
Dear Mrs. Bass:

Congressman Holifield has nominated John Brown, Jr., and two other boys for an appointment to West Point. This nomination entitled them to take the entrance examination to West Point, held March 2nd, 3rd, and 4th. The final decision as to which of the three boys nominated is to be chosen, rests entirely with the examination board appointed by the academy.

John Brown, Jr. ,was well recommended to the Congressman, and his academic background and school activities are proof that he is an outstanding young man. He won the right to be considered for the nomination in fair competition, and I can assure you, as has been already demonstrated, that the Congressman will do all in his power to see that he is given the same consideration by the examining board.

Sincerely yours,
HAROLD W. LANE,
Field Representative
Chet Holifield, M. C.
19th District, California.

Mrs. C. A. Bass,
4075 S .Central Avenue
Los Angeles, California.
Dear Mrs. Bass:

I read with a great deal of interest the front page story in a recent issue of the Eagle on Judge Martin DeVries of Long Beach. Having known both Judge DeVries and his wife over a period of years I am happy to state that this action is well within keeping of the judge's code of living.

In the May issue of Everybody's Digest is a quotation we may well ponder as a race: "It is not to our honor to yield the crumbs of freedom under pressure." We realize that many concessions are now being granted to us because of our present crisis.

Judge Martin DeVries' interest in good government and honest treatment of all men is "pre-Pearl Harbor." These are the people we should admire and respect. The article was splendid and so is the man.

Best wishes always.

Sincerely yours,
RUBY BERKLEY GOODWIN.

Dear Editor:

Realizing that your newspaper is always fighting for proper recognition of our racial group, especially those in business, I wish to report a case of rank insubordination on the part of a driver for one of our mortuaries in South Los Angeles.

This week I was invited to attend the funeral of a friend. On the way home from the funeral the driver of the car in which I rode, upon nearing my residence, invited me out of his car, suggesting that I walk the remaining distance, about a block and a half.

Bonelli Sees Decline in Sales Tax Revenue

While sales tax revenue for the calendar year 1942 set a new high mark of $129,954,253.11, an increase of $5,421,020.31 over the previous high of $124,533,252.80 in 1941, the picture is not as good as it sounds, according to Wm. G. Bonelli, fourth district member of the State Board of Equalization.

Bonelli points out that the increase was possible only because of a gain of $6,820,977.64 in the first half of 1942 as compared with the same period in 1941. The last half of 1942 was $1,399,957.27 less than the last half of 1941.

"This decrease in the last half of the year," Bonelli said, "while it is perhaps to be expected under war-time conditions, is surprising in view of reports by merchants and trade analysists that 1942 Christmas buying was the heaviest in history.

"It indicates very definitely that rationing and inauguration of other war-time restrictions are having an adverse effect upon retail purchasing.

"Analysis of 1942 revenue by counties shows a heavy falling off in those counties depending upon agriculture and the tourist trade for their income. This decrease seems to be strong enough to offset the increase in counties where stablishment of war industries or concentration of large military forces, have stimulated retail sales.

"It is entirely possible that sales tax revenue has reached its peak, at least temporarily, and that a decline can be expected indefinitely."

First Easter

We have traveled far and long since that first Easter that made the Master Christian—the son of a simple carpenter—but the greatest man who ever lived. How well the great Nazarene knew that truth is eternal, that it is the seed within itself, which the brutality of men in this present conflict cannot kill, is universally known.

In spite of all the confusion in the world today, this Easter-tide brings truth that lives again in the hearts of men. It says to those who would look down into the tomb for material hope "Truth is risen." Christian civilization gives men faith and hope that eventually all men, everywhere, will enjoy life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Christian education teaches men to think, not alone for themselves but for others, also.

It is our abiding hope that at this time, in the midst of blood and tears, that this Easter Season will have a softening influence on the lives of men and nations and individuals, so much so that we will not say so much about "He is risen, and gone" but we will say instead "He is risen—and He is here!"

Carver Endowment Fund Initiated

Attesting to the high esteem in which the late Dr. George Washington Carver was held, not only by the Negro race, but by the whites—and Southerners as well—is the article which appeared in The Montgomery Advertiser, one of the leading white newspapers of the south. Such material as this denotes a radical change of attitude on the part of our southern brothers, and gives us reason to hope that we shall soon be able to meet upon a common ground of understanding. For noteworthy accomplishments have no racial bounds; immortal deeds have no distinguishable color; and we can all look with just pride upon the inspirational works of Dr. Carver. Below is a reprint of the aforementioned article:

"The usefulness of some men endures and grows long after they take leave of this life. It is because of their unselfish devotion to the well-being of mankind, warmed by that flame of genius which nature confers upon a few of its chosen creatures. This is not true of cold, selfish men. It is true onuly of those who, while living, discover the real meaning of service and are blessed with the capabilities of serving. It is true of Dr. George Washington Carver, the Negro scientist, who lived and labored and had his being at Tuskegee Institute.

His life and works, of course, are and properly should be an inspiration to the members of his race. His resourcefulness, his faculty for accomplishing much with little, his thoughtlessness of self are traits which should be an inspiration to persons of all races. It is these things that are now being utilized by his associates at Tuskegee Institute to develop an endowment fund as a memorial to George Washington Carver. Dr. F. D. Patterson, president of the Institute, is chairman of the George W. Carver Endowment Fund Association. It is to be an association of many donors to the endowment. It is not seeking large gifts, rather a multitude of small gifts, so that the hoor of participating in so worthy an undertaking may be shared with many.

By this means members of the Negro race have the opportunity to join his friends of other races in honoring Dr. Carver. So that those who give will have something tangible to attest their membership in a great movement the association has issued engraved certificates of membership. In days to come, when the endowment becomes large and important in furthering the advancement of a race, the possession of one of these certificates will be a mark of honor.

It is the plan of the endowment association, according to Dr. Patterson, to use its resources for carrying on the work begun by Dr. Carver and to provide broader opportunities for deserving students who come to the Institute without adequate means. It is a project that should have a strong appeal to men of all races.

The regard in which the late Dr. Carver continues to be held was attested the other day when a group of scientists gathered at Columbia University and listened to eulogies from the lips of Dr. Harold Urey, Nobel prize winner in chemistry, and Dr. George B. Pegram, dean of the graduate faculties of the university. As furthr testimony the review of a new biography of the Negro scientist was featured the other day in the most prominent position in one of the nation's leading literary reviews. Truly Dr. Carver's usefulness is outliving his frail body.

It is to be earnestly hoped that every Negro man and woman, boy and girl, will avail themselves of the opportunity of making some contribution, however small, to the Carver Endowment Fund. It will indeed be a mark of honor, down through the years, to be the possessor of one of the certificates which will be awarded to every donor, and surely we, as Negroes, will not allow such white citizens as the publisher of the Montgomery Advertiser, and others, to be more loyal in the support of this movement than ourselves, to whom the heritage has been given.

Representatives of California Legislature On Spot

The California Eagle has been constantly calling attention to the fact that every effort should be made, not only to bring the Anti-Poll Tax Bill out of the Committee Room, but to bring pressure to bear upon our representatives from California to rally their full support to the measure.

Word has reached us, to our regret, that our California representatives have been slower than any other section to respond to this all-important job of signing the petition; and we learn this week that Representative Ed Isaac, who is known as a progressive and a friend of the people, has hesitated to add his name to the petition. This is very unpleasant news to our ears when we receive this sort of information.

Hail Philip Murray!

On Saturday, April 24th, at 8:00 p.m. at the Olympic Auditorium, possibly the most outstanding advocate of social justice and equal opportunity for all working class Americans, Philip Murray, will speak. Appearing on the same program with him will be Will Rogers, Jr., and Sheridan Downey, as well as many guest stars.

Certainly the people of Los Angeles will welcome the message he will bring at this time, recognizing the fact that we are engaged in this terrible war with two unprincipled adversaries, which makes it imperative that we make every effort, NOW, to make peace within our own borders.

The greatest inroad to peace inside, as well as outside, at this time, is the equalizing of industrial opportunities for all classes and kinds of people. Discrimination is a bane on our escutcheon.

Dark Laughter . . . . BY OL HARRINGTON

"We picked him up as a mugger suspect—now we want the charge changed to resisting arrest, battery and assault, attempted murder and disorderly conduct."

Committee Claims Villification and Slander Against Mexicans

The "Sleepy Lagoon" murder trial, which resulted in the conviction of 17 Mexican-American boys, 3 for first-degree murder, 9 for second-degree murder ,and 5 for assault, can only be understood if it is viewed against the background of persecution and discrimination which has been practiced against our Mexican-American population, a part of which has been a press campaign of vilification and slander against people of Mexican extraction. In this light it becomes understandable that such verdicts were possible when there was no convincing or direct evidence that any of the convicted boys killed Jose Diaz.

Briefly, here are the facts:

August 2, 1942, one Jose Diaz was killed and two men were stabbed and beaten during the course of a fight at the Delgadillo home on the Williams ranch. The prosecution based its case on this theory: That the defendants were all members of an organized group known as the "38th Street Gang"; that one of its members, Henry Leyvas, was beaten by members of a rival gang at a reservoir near the Williams ranch knicknamed "Sleepy Lagoon"; that Leyvas gathered his gang and returned, armed and organized, for the purpose of revenge on the rival gang who were said to be at the party at the Delgadillo home; that in the course of the fight which occurred on their arrival at the party the killing occurred.

No evidence was introduced to prove the contention of the prosecution that the boys were armed. There never existed any "conspiracy to commit a crime," which is a felony, and upon which the claim was based that the defendants were guilty of murder. It cannot be said that the evidence sufficiently proved that any of the defendants fought with or ever went near Jose Diaz!

Further—one of the main prosecution witnesses testified that Diaz had been run over by a car earlier in the evening. Additional facts brought out show clearly that long before the defendants arrived at the party there had been a brawl during which Diaz might have been killed; that some people had been evicted from the party by the Delgadillos at that time; that the evicted people had promised to return to get even; that the complaining witnesses mistook the defendants for the boys who had threatened to return; that the Delgadillos attacked the defendants on their arrival at the party.

It is most significant that two other boys, charged in a joint indictment with the 17 convicted boys, were never brought to trial. They were scheduled to be tried separately after the others' trial was completed. The indictment against them was dismissed upon the motion of the District Attorney on the grounds of insufficient evidence—the same evidence which had been used to convict the 17.

These unjust convictions have national and international results detrimental to an all-out war effort. Axis propagandists have utilized them to sow seed of hostility and distrust among the people of Latin America toward the United States in order to drive a wedge of dissension in Pan-American unity.

These boys must be freed from their unjust sentences. This weapon of the Axis must be removed. For these reasons, and in the name of justice, all organizations and all fair-minded citizens throughout the United States should aid in the appeal of the 17 innocent victims of the "Sleepy Lagoon" murder case.

The Southern California District Council of the International Workers Order has pledged $2000 to the fund-raising campaign of the Citizens' Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth. The money will be used to help finance the court appeal of the 17 Mexican-American boys recently convicted in Los Angeles in the "Sleepy Lagoon" case and now serving sentences ranging from six months to life imprisonment.

Gray Bemis, Executive Secretary of the Southern California District Council of the IWO, told the committee, "Locally and nationally we have committed ourselves to all out support of the work of your committee. We have been advised by our New York office that pamphlets in Spanish and English dealing with this case are in preparation and will receive nationwide distribution through our organization and others."

New officers elected at the last meeting of the committee are: Chairman, Joe Marty, Business Agent of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America CIO Local 1421; Secretary, Harriet Pomerantz; Treasurer, Joseph Daniels, delegate to the Conference of Studio Unions. Under the leadership of the new officers the committee will continue its work for the freedom of the 17 boys.

"Organized labor understands," said Mr. Marty, "that the conviction of the 17 Mexican-American boys was a blow at the forces which seek to unite all the people of this nation in order to win the war. The conviction was a slap in the face for the Good Neighbor Policy; the policy which we can help make a reality by freeing these boys. In the name of common justice and common sense all fair-minded people must support their fight for freedom."

"It makes me feel good to know that the people are trying to help us. I had given up hope, but when I received this letter I said if the people are trying to help us, well I got to have hope. I know that all of us will try to make a good record. I know that the mothers are doing all they can for us."

This is the way one boy in San Quentin feels—a boy whose sentence is 5 years to life for second degree murder. His letter was received recently by the Citizens' Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth which is carrying on a campaign to raise funds for the court appeal of the 17 Mexican-American boys who were convicted in the "Sleepy Lagoon" case and are now serving sentences ranging from 6 months to life imprisonment.

Words of encouragement and hope mean a good deal to Henry Ynostroza, who wrote this letter, and to his friends behind the bars, and have brought a warm response.

Jose Ruiz, who has been sentenced to life imprisonment writes: "Writing to express my appreciation for all the efforts you and the committee are doing in behalf of our defense . . . please express my appreciation to all those people out there for us. . . . I can't seem to find words to express myself, but I know you will understand what I am trying to say. At your next meeting give my sincere thanks to the committee. Tell them that God bless them for all their efforts and kindness. We here are doing our part to make this a successful appeal."

From Jack Melendez: "I would like to express my sincere appreciation for the growing interest that is being taken by the people . . . you can depend on me to try and make an outstanding record and to co-operate with the committee to the best of my ability."

From Ysmael "Smiles" Parra: "It has come to my attention quite a few times that there are many people who are trying or are willing to help us because they feel that our conviction was an injustice. They receive my deepest thanks."

From Manuel Reyes: ". . . very pleased to hear that the committee is still fighting for us and that people from other places are also pitching in and helping us. As for the boys here we will pitch in and help and keep out of trouble. We get to see a show every two weeks. It's good to see a show, but I would much rather be home than to see all the shows in the world. Give my regards to the committee in appreciation for what they are doing for us."

From John Matuz: "We are very grateful to the committee and to all the other groups which are joining for our defense. I don't think any of us can express just how grateful we all are for what is being done for us."

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

The names of Frederick Douglass, Nat Turner and Thaddeus Stevens are symbols of the struggle for freedom, the struggle for democracy. It is fitting, therefore, that three groups of young Negro and white boys and girls in Los Angeles, active on the home front in the present fight to preserve what democracy we now enjoy, have named their Victory Clubs for those three great Americans.

There are some people, however, to whom that FREEDOM for which men have died, and the kind of VICTORY men are dying for today, are just empty words.

This was quite obvious to the members of the three clubs, when on April 9th they went to a public skating rink for an evening of relaxation and fun. As they entered "Skateland" at 1025 West Vernon Avenue, and presented their money, the girl at the window shook her head, refusing to sell them tickets. An appeal to the doorman only just as Hitler does not practice brought forth the retort, "We don't admit Negroes."

Bernard Pearsily, one of the white boys who told me of this incident, and Walt Stevens, acting as spokesman for the group, called for the manager. Confronted by these determined youngsters who insisted that he tell them what is the policy of "Skateland" on discrimination, the manager replied that "they have no policy to keep out anybody because of race, color or creed and that they have nothing against the Negroes, but they just don't wan them there." He claimed that "the Negroes only cause fights, and anyway they'd be happier amongst their own people."

Right there stood Negro and white who are perfectly happy to work, live and play together! The management of this skating rink, in my opinion, is not really concerned whether the Negro people are "happy," whether it be among themselves or not—his theories for the "happiness" of the Jews.

Frederick Douglass spent his life fighting not only for the freedom of his people, but was one of the first to raise his voice for Women's Suffrage—to benefit all women. When Nat Turner gave his life in slave uprisings, thousands of whites were on his side. Thaddeus Stevens, a white man, fought to his last breath against discrimination.

When Dorie Miller risked his life to save that of his captain, he did not think of the man's color. Negro men and women in the armed forces are fighting heroically not only for their people, but for all people in the United Nations.

Pearsily said: "Like Thaddeus Stevens, every liberty-loving white person must protest such persecution. We are taking this "Skateland" incident to the Community and will see that something is done about it. We youth of America are fighting not only to smash the axis abroad, but to wipe out those fascist tendencies that exist in our own country. We will see to it that ALL the "Dorie Millers" may return to a country free from segregation and discrimination.

Spreading Joy.

Like autumn leaves, many of the old pioneers are loosening their moorings, and fluttering to the ground; back to mother earth after a long period of suffering. The angel of mery and relief came and loosened the earthly bonds of our dear friend, Mrs. A. C. (Sally) Richardson. Her mortal remains, earth to earth, dust to dust, were lovingly and tenderly returned to mother earth last Friday afternoon.

The parting ceremonies were held in the church she loved, and for many years one of her chief delights.

Hundreds of friends of all walks of life came to pay their last tribute of love and respect to her memory.

Throughout her thirty-five years of residence in Los Angeles, Mrs. Richardson was always on the vanguard of progressive movements, religious, social and political. She was an active member and a zealous worker in the NAACP, and generally loved by all who were privileged to know her.

Another of the well known first settlers to cross the bar last week was Mr. William Wells, one of the pioneers in the fraternal life of Los Angeles. Mr. Wells was one of the founders of the Odd Fellows Lodge, and was for forty years an employee of the Los Angeles Railway Co., prior to his retirement two years ago. My heart goes out to his widow.

Past Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge, Mr. T. H. Harris, one of the best known Masons in California, passed to the great beyond last week. Fifty years ago Mr. Harris came to California from Austin, Texas, and wa engaged in the express and hau ing business. He was one of the early members of St. Johns lodge of Masons, and one of the founders of the Tabernacle Baptist Church. In 1889 he was married to Miss Addie Woods, who passed some twelve or fourteen years ago. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Terry, Mrs. Jessie Addison, and a brother.

Few men were as well versed in California Masonry as was T. A. Harris, and few men have lived up to the teaching of Masonry as did he. I hope to give a complete account of the funeral in my next column.

I have the joy of announcing that we have a loveable and much distinguished visitor in the city in the person of Mrs. Carrie Jordan, mother of Rev. Fredrick D. Jordan, popular minister of the First AME Church. Mrs. Jordan was for many years a teacher in Morris Brown College. I am sure Georgians, especially those of Atlanta, will make her stay a joyous one.

I TAKE THE PEOPLE'S SIDE

By M. MORAN WESTON

DIVIDED WE FALL

Jim Crow laws and practices in America help keep America divided. A house divided will surely fall. Hitler knows this. "Divide and Conquer" is Hitler's clever plan for world conquest. The conquered nations of Europe now know the terrible truth that "divide and conquer" is really Hitler's "secret weapon." This and this alone. Fascists everywhere know the power of this weapon. They use it with cunning. Jim Crow divides. It is a "secret weapon" for Hitler. And only those who play Charlie McCarthy (with apologies to Charlie!) for Hitler and his gang here in America want Jim Crow today.

TAKE AWAY THEIR POWER

Must we suffer greater losses? Must rivers of blood from our youth stain the seven seas? Must we lose our life to save it? The graves of the hallowed dead could not answer. The Marble Orchard could only echo. But those of the living gathered in Arlington Cemetery last Memorial Day could understand—could understand and act on the words of Sumner Welles, Undersecretary for the State Department, when he said:

". . . we are reaping the bitter fruit of our own folly and our lack of vision. We are paying well for the lack of statesmanship, and for the crass errors of omission and commission, so tragically evidenced in the policies of those other nations which have had their full share of the responsibility for the conduct of human affairs during the last generation"

To America, this Column says, WE HAVE PAID ENOUGH. What divided us must be swept aside. What unites us must be cherished boldly.

Mrs. Pearl Buck flung this challenge to America. Place: Allentown, Penna. Time: Feb. 24, 1943. Occasion: Radio Broadcast "What America Means to Me." Said Mrs. Buck:

". . . We must fight our own ambitious men who would make of America a country to be feared and hated by those who want to be free. . . All those who secretly or openly scorn the rights of human beings are germ carriers of Fascism. . . These we must discover and DEPRIVE OF ALL THEIR POWER. . . We can and must."

In plain talk this means those who secretly or openly kick around Negro Americans, or any Americans, just because they have the power to do so—all these must be deprived of their power to oppress. The plain people of America, expressing their will through the national government, have the power to TAKE AWAY THE POWER OF AMERICAN FASCISTS AND OF THOSE WHO SERVE THE FASCISTS.

FREEDOM NOW MOVEMENT

On April 14, 1943, the FREEDOM NOW MOVEMENT will be formally launched in NYC. April 14 is an historic date. It will be the 168 anniversary of the founding of the first abolitionist society in America—on April 14, 1775. The FREEDOM NOW MOVEMENT will be the TWENTIETH CENTURY ABOLITION MOVEMENT—for this sole purpose: to repeal the un-American Jim Crow laws and cover . . . yes, all of them.

FREEDOM IS INDIVISIBLE

This nation c dure half slave Lincoln recognized President Wallace, ous Century of the Co speech last May 8th, this. Wallace said:

". . . This is a fight be slave world and a free Just as the United States i could not remain half slav in 1942 the world must make decision for a complete victo one way or the other. . ."

One hundred years ago, in 1844, James Russell Lowell wrote to a nation agitated over the slavery issue:

". . . Once to every man and nation
Comes the moment to decide. . .
for the good or evil side. . "

So now has come for America—as it has for the whole world—a "great testing," there has come "the moment to decide" whether we are for or against fascism and its slavery; whether we are for or against equality and freedom for all men. THE FATE OF THE AMERICAN NEGRO IS THE TOUCHSTONE OF OUR DECISION.

Pearl Buck, writing in the NY Times Magazine on February 28th, argued: if this war is to keep its just character, it must become fully a war for freedom. This Column insists, this war cannot become a crusade for freedom as long as the American Negro,—as long as any people—is kept "half slave."

The vaunted STATES RIGHTS must not be placed above the welfare of the nation. When and where they are, then and there there is no nation.

In the historic words of Frederick Douglass on the Fourth of July ,in 1852, this Column repeats, THE CONSCIENCE OF AMERICA MUST BE AWAKENED. The march of the common people of the world towards freedom has reached irresistible momentum. Negro Americans march to freedom with the rest. They began at Boston common with the rest. They now want the whole loaf. There can be no turning back. FREEDOM IS INDIVISIBLE.

HITLER GETS A FREE MOVIE

In Mein Kampf, that porridge of nonsense and witchcraft which has become the Nazi Bible, Hitler screams:

". . . It is a criminal absurdity to train a born half-ape, until one believes a lawyer has been made of him . . . it is a sin against the will of the eternal Creator. . ."

And by "half-ape" Hitler makes clear he means all colored peoples.

You can understand, then, why this Column is dead against the latest free gift to Hitler's Fifth Column, the latest boner from Hollywood, called CAPTIVE WILD WOMAN, just put out by Universal Pictures. In this movie, Universal Pictures peddles Hitler's tripe by showing an ape being turned into a Negro girl by a "scientist." Get it. The Negro is an ape, says smug Universal Pictures.

MEMO TO UNIVERSAL PICTURES: (address 1250 Sixth Avenue, N.Y.C.) Patriotic Americans don't want any of your CAPTIVE WILD WOMAN with its Hitler porridge of racial slander. TAKE IT AWAY AND BURN IT.

Native Son

An Exclusive California Eagle Serial

(From the Book by Richard Wright)

"Your Honor, this court and those troops are not the real agencies that keep the public peace. Their mere presence is proof that we are letting peace slip through our fingers. Public peace is the act of public trust; it is the faith that all are secure and will remain secure.

"When people of wealth urge the use and show of force, quick death, swift revenge, then it is to protect a little spot of private security against the resentful millions from whom they have filched it, the resentful millions in whose militant hearts the dream and hope of security still lives.

"Your Honor, I ask in the name of all we are and believe, that you spare this boy's life! With every atom of my being, I beg this in order that not only may this black boy live, but that we ourselves may not die!"

Bigger heard Max's last words ring out in the court room. When Max sat down he saw that his eyes were tired and sunken. He could hear his breath coming and going heavily. He had not understood the speech, but he had felt the meaning of some of it from the tone of Max's voice. Suddenly he felt that his life was not worth the effort that Max had made to save it. The Judge rapped with the gavel, calling a recess. The court was full of noise as Bigger rose. The policeman marched him to a small room and stood waiting, on guard. Max came and sat beside him, silent, his head bowed. A policeman brought a tray of food and set it on the table.

"Eat, son," Mas said.

"I ain't hungry."

"I did the best I could,' Max said.

"I'm all right," Bigger said.

Bigger was not at that moment really bothered about whether Max's speech had saved his life or not. He was hugging the proud thought that Max had made the speech all for him, to save his life. It was not the meaning of the speech that gave him pride, but the mere act of it. That in itself was something. The food on the tray grew cold. Through a partly opened window Bigger heard the rumbling voice of the mob. Soon he would go back and hear what Buckley would say. Then it would all be over, save for what the judge would say. And when the judge spoke he would know if he was to live or die. He leaned his head on his hands and closed his eyes. He heard Max stand up, strike a match and light a cigarette.

"Here: take a smoke, Bigger."

He took one and Max held the flame; he sucked the smoke deep into his lungs and discovered that he did not want it. He held the cigarette in his fingers and the smoke curled up past his blood-shot eyes. He jerked his head when the door opened; a policeman looked in.

"Court's opening in two minutes:"

"All right," Max said.

Flanked again by policemen, Bigger went back to court. He rose when the judge came and then sat again.

"The Court will hear the State," the judge said.

Bigger turned his head and saw Buckley there. He was dressed in a black suit and there was a tiny pink flower in the lapel of his coat. The man's very look and bearing, so grimly assured, made Bigger feel that he was already lost. What chance had he against a man like that? Buckley licked his lips and looked out over the crowd; then he turned to the judge.

"Your Honor, we dwell in a land of living law. Law embodies the will of the people. As an agent and servant of the law, as a representative of the organized will of the people, I am here to see that the will of the people is executed firmly and without delay. I intend to stand here and see that that is done, and if it is not done, then it will be only over my most solemn and emphatic protest.

"As a prosecuting officer of the State of Illinois, I come before this honorable Court to urge that the full extent of the law, the death penalty—the only penalty of the law that is feared by murderers; — be allowed to take its course in this most important case.

"I urge this for the protection of our society, our homes and our loved ones. I urge this in the performance of my sworn duty to see, in so far as I am humanly capable, that the administration of the law is just, that the safety and sacredness of human life ar maintained, that the social order is kept intact, and that crime is prevented and punished. I have no interest or feeling in this case beyond the performance of this sworn duty.

"I represent the families of Mary Dalton and Bessie Mears and a hundred million law-abiding men and women of this nation who are laboring in duty or industry. I represent the forces which allow the arts and sciences to flourish in freedom and peace, thereby enriching the lives of us all.

"I shall not lower the dignity of this Court, nor the righteousness of the People's cause, by attempting to answer the silly, alien, communistic and dangerous ideas advanced by the defense. And I know of no better way to discourage such thinking than the imposition of the death penalty upon this miserable human fiend, Bigger Thomas!

"My voice may sound harsh when I say: Impose the death penalty and let the law take its course in spite of the specious call for sympathy! But I am really merciful and sympathethic, because the enforcement of this law in its most drastic form will enable millions of honest men and women to sleep in peace tonight, to know that tomorrow will not bring the black shadow of death over their homes and lives!

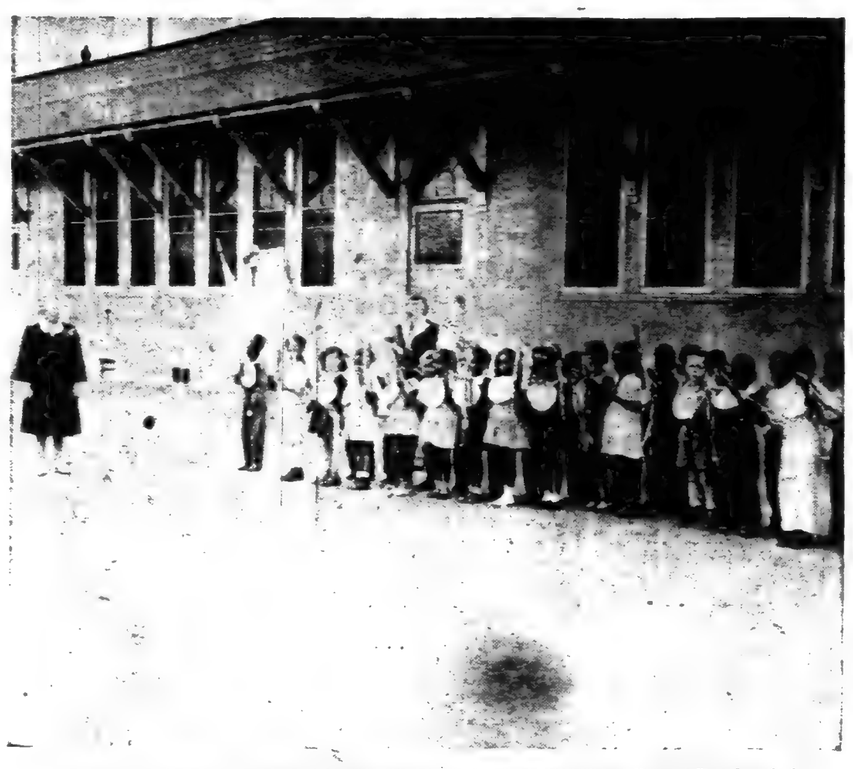
"Chas. Edwards and His Visit To Berlin Germany"

By Charles Edwards
(An Exclusive California Eagle Serial)
HITLER SPEAKS!

The California Eagle takes sincere pride in presenting the first public presentation of the mission fulfilled by America's number one youth leader, Charles Edwards, on his "Assignment to Berlin." What has gone on before Mr. Edwards recalled your memory to December, 1941, when war was declared. He now attempts to expose the facts of why. He recalled his dramatic journey through Berlin, Germany, between May, 1937, and September, 1939, during which time he was granted a personal interview with Adolf Hitler. The purpose of his interview was to try to understand and explain to the World Christian Youth Conference the aspirations of the German government.



Mr. Edwards told of "Mein Kampf"—not revealing nearly all of Hitler's plans. He has entered the reich capital and has gained entrance into the private office of the Chancellor. Many questions have passed between Mr. Hitler and Mr. Edwards, among them being the future of Europe and the rest of the world and Germany's part in creating a new order. We continue:

Whenever Hitler had an interviewer, particularly with one who was interested in the youth movement, he would ask them to dine with him. It was considered a high honor to eat at Hitler's table. We walked to the private dining room. There were places for about ten persons; however, only Hitler and myself were having dinner now. The food was simple. In this, too, the party Fuehrer liked to give an impression of modest living on proletarian lines. He frequently expressed his intentions of changing none of his previous habits, either in his clothing or his style of living. As a matter of fact, this did form an agreeable contrast to the extravagant behavior of some of the new bosses. . . . At dinner, there was soup, followed by a meat course, vegetables and a sweet. Hitler himself, ate no meat, but he devoured astonishing portions of the sweet, and his personal cook, an old party member, he told me, always prepared special vegetable dishes for him. But Hitler placed no vegetarian compulsion on me as his guest. Hitler offered me my choice between beer and lemonade. He was a bit amused at my choosing lemonade. He asked me if I wanted to make a good impression, and he laughed. . . . I later learned from a high ranking Nazi official that the reason for Hitler's large dining table was because the Nazi Chief always enjoyed having a mixed and varied company at the table with him. Invariably some outstanding person was always present, a film star, an artist or a leading member of the party. There were always many ladies, too, but usually in the minority. I also learned later that Hitler prefers pretty blondes.

Throughout our dinner Hitler's tone of voice was informal. Often he was silent, or made only desultory remarks. And then again he would pontificate in a booming voice. It was interesting watching Hitler talking himself into a fury, and to note how necessary to his eloquence were shouting and a feverish tempo. It seemed as though to have a quiet conversation with him was impossible. Either he was silent or he took complete charge of the discussion. Hitler's eloquence is plainly no natural gift, but the result of a conquest of certain inhibitions which, in intimate conversation, still make him awkward. The convulsive artificiality of his character is specially noticeable in such an intimate informal dinner, particularly notable in his lack of any sense of humor. Hitler's laugh is hardly more than an expression of scorn and contempt. There is no relaxation about it. Some weeks later, after this private interview, I again attended a dinner at which some twenty persons were present, and I had the opportunity of hearing Hitler's views on humor. I was sitting opposite Goebbels, who was on Hitler's left. The two were discussing the National Socialist humorous papers and the significance of wit as a weapon. In humor, too, or what he called humor, Hitler saw only a weapon. It was at that time, too, that Hitler in connection with the Eturmen and its Jewish caricatures. He gave utterance to the remark that was later much quoted in the Nazi party, that this was the form of pornography permitted in the Third Reich. Evidently Hitler took pleasure in those stories. Of course, all of that took place at another time, that I will tell you more about in another part of my story.

THE EASTER SPIRIT FINDS WAR!

By Harry Levette

"Lord," cried the Easter Spirit, weary-winged,
"In all the earth, I found no place where I Could as of yore alight. On sixty-five Wide far-flung 'fronts' men battle, curse, and die!"
"Return," the Master said, "and listen well;
Beneath the din of bursting bombs, and roar
Of iron monsters, man-made birds of death,
You'll hear the Easter anthems as before."

"You'll hear them in the hearts of men who stem
The flood of tyranny, race-hate, blood-lust;
Though frightened birds sing not; lilies lie crushed;
Hope sings with faithful, prayerful, growing trust.
This must needs be; the brotherhood of man
Must be wrought out; 'tis Armageddon now!
The tomb will break; the resurrection come!
Ere long, man will again at Easter bow."

"The children dry their tears, and mothers brave
Who gave their son to save Democracy
Men of all races rebuild side by side;
The birds will sing; flowers bloom; the world will be free!"

BEHIND THE SCENES WITH HARRY

HARRY LEVETTE — Theatrical Editor

COLORED MUSICIANS FOUND A FEW more doors opened to them last week, although one unpleasant incident occurred when Lee Young whose work was entirely satisfactory at a C. B. radio station, was cancelled from the all-white band, because someone put on the old pressure. When the matter gets all straightened out I'll tell you all about it.

DEAD AND RUN DOT DASHINGLY—Elmer Fain, now Sergt. Fain, of the Tenth Cavalry, up last week on three days leave; hasn't lost a pound, spite of sixteen mile hikes, leaping into gullies in sham-battles, etc.—Fain, former assistant to President Bailey of Local 767, aiming for staff sargeant, then first sergeant.—Twenty members of famous 10th's forty piece band, from Los Angeles;—Lloyd Reese, promoted last Friday from Sergeant to staff sergeant; is still teaching music, both to band members, and other soldiers formerly musicians who want to learn new technique.—Band now rehearsing classical music — will present Aida in near future.

THE EDDIE BEAL TRIO AND SNUB MOSLEY went into the Trocadero last week;—Charges against Pres. Jas. Petrillo of trust and monopoly operations in long-drawn out fight over recordings dismissed by Supreme Court—matter getting nearer settlement now.—Radio stations getting tired of old records; want new ones. — Jimmy Lunceford's band will be back to the coast soon;—Louie Armstrong at the Elks tonight; to stick on coast for couple of movies;—Ivie Anderson there last Sunday with Sammy Franklin's band. Judy Carrol, for whom a contract is under consideration at C. B. S. up at Frisco with Bill Robinson's "Born Happy" breaking record at the Alcazar.—Billye Browne, former top coast entertainer, now a theological student, preached her first sermon last night at Brotherhood Church—she's dead in earnest;—(all bets off by the profesh, that she wouldn't stick.) Ivan Ray her brother, former manager West Pico Furniture Co., back last Monday from year in Merchant Marine service.

PEN-POINT PERSONALITIES—Ada Brown, starring in Noble Sissles big show at the Casino, started out by playing piano background music for silent pictures at the Gayety Theatre in Kansas City. She got to singing while she played, and was discovered to have a beautiful voice. That was back in 1922. She was married to a taxi-line owner named Brown. She started traveling with Harry Singleton as her accompanist and is now nationally famous.—Ivie Anderson, started out as a chorus girl. Once at the original Apex, the producer was staging a number with the girls wearing boxing gloves, in a musical boxing exhibition. Ivie let one go to hard to the tummy of the girl opposite her and knocked her out. Dr. Jno. Robinson had to be called to revive her.—Mrs. A. C. Bilibrew, author of one of America's first and most stirring war song. "Let's go Americans," is still touring the south, a sensation wherever she appears.—Jacqueline Woods, my best pal, had to drop her popular column, "Orchids of merit" because of night work at the post-office—now instead of getting into days work so she could continue it, and help me as before, she has gone to Douglas Aircraft night shift, —(a regular night-hawk).

FLORENCE CADREZ, KNOWN AS "TINY" to her many friends is really doing her share for the war effort. Besides filling the important, very technical position of recording secretary at the Musicians Local, she is one of the advisory board, and in charge of the colored hostesses at the Hollywood Canteen. But for her watchful eye incidents would occur that would start whispers of scandal. Incidentally the canteen had not been opened long before she had to refuse the services of three girls, of the type that wished only an opportunity to flirt with the (oboy) servicemen.—Florence guards over the girls as carefully as hen over her chickens, and on the frequent long trips to army camps sees to it that a number of mothers and other senior hostesses accompany the junior hostesses, who frequently number a hundred. Born in New Orleans "Tiny" is a descendant of the historical old Creole families of the Crescent City.

LET'S HURRY NOW AND CLOSE.—Lee Young, up to late hour last Friday had failed to keep an appointment with Musician's local authorities, ready to press charges against CBS for dismissing him from the C.B.S. Camel Caravan program, because of race;—is said to have remarked that he hated to put his friend Freddie Rich, on the spot. Freddie the director engaged him, but was forced to fire him,—(can't spare anyone though when it comes to upholding the President's executive order 8802.)—Arie Lee Branche, my movie protege, after doing fine in an excellent Government office job in Washington; her picture front-paged on the Sentry, official Army magazine; popular in church and social circles, now wants to come back to Hollywood and motion pictures.—(Better stay there little girl, at least for the duration. (A Government job is a job.)

Lincoln Theater Furnish Avenue Sensation of Week

Stage shows returned to the Lincoln Theatre last Saturday, and believe me the audience was in an uproar from beginning to end, the patrons of the Lincoln have never seen such a lively, tuneful musical revue since the famous house first opened. The line of beautiful girls kept the audience applauding all through their dance routines that was staged by our own sleepy Williams, the smartly dressed and talented brother and sister act of Louie and Hilda Brown had the audience gasping at their beauty and ability as they so smoothly glided through their dance routines. Then came the dynamic Pepper Welch, with her taps and glamorous costume that just set the crowd wild as she laid her jitterbug jive right in the laps of the crowd and had them begging for more as she finished. Now the real star of the show turned out to be the one and only "Pigmeat" Markham, and this fellow Pigmeat has them all beat a mile when it comes to jutting an audience in stitches. eH is without a doubt the funniest man to ever hit the West Coast, be sure you see him and his partner, the handsome and clever Jimmie Baskette. This happens to be Mr. Baskette's first trip to California, and he intends to stay.

You all remember the late and great Chick Webb and his band with the incomparable Ella Fitzgerald. Well the director of that great band was Bardu Ali. So this week on the stage of the Lincoln Theatre you will see Bardu Ali directing his own band, and I must say he is a sight to behold as he so deftly directs this fine band, which happens to be one of the best to invade this part of the country, and as a novelty Bardu has a local girl, Miss Melba Winston, whom he features on the trombone. As a musician she ranks with the very best male trombonists in the business. Then as an added tonic there is Earl Coleman th vocalist who reminds one of Billy Eckstein, the vocalist with "Father Hines Band." When he brings you the Jelly Jelly Blues. So all the patrons of the Lincoln Theatre enjoyed the time of their lives as they looked, listened, and applauded. It looks as though Jimmie Marshall has got the right thing to make Central Avenue look like Harlem in New York.

Next week the Lincoln will present LeRoy Broomfield and Aurora Greely with new Easter revue starring "Pigmeat", Jimmie Baskette, June Youngaeo, The Sleepy Williams Girls, and many more favorites of the stage, also Bardu Ali and his band in all brand new musical numbers. The entire show will be new from beginning to end. So you had better get there early in order to get your choice seat, because this show is breaking all records.

Ed Wynn Comes To Mayan In "Big Time"

The Mayan Theatre, Los Angeles, takes on new life with the hilarious stage engagement of Ed Wynn in "Big Time" which has been hailed generally as the funniest of all variety revues. Opening Thursday night, April 15, this stage attraction has been booked for a limited engagement, inasmuch as New York wants the show for a Summer run. Fred Kinklehoffe and Paul Small, the "Big Time" producers, are similarly identified with "Show Time," which was an uproarious hit here last Summer before scoring in New York.

In the new "Big Time", Ed Wynn is entirely surrounded with a profusion of song and dance stars. Paul Draper, Jane Pickens, Corinna Mura, Moke and Poke and other celebrites makes up the performance.

Tickets for the Ed Wynn hit are now on sale daily at the Mayan box office (phone RI. 2207). Choice seats are also procurable at the Southern California Music Company, 737 So. Hill street, Los Angeles, and all Mutual Agencies throughout Southern California.

SWEETHEARTS OF RHYTHM ROCK NAPTOWN

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 20 —The world famous Sweethearts of Rhythm were really on the beam during their two day engagement here at Sunset Terrace Club. The popular girl band played to capacity houses both nights and Naptown dance lovers were standing in line an hour before the house clamoring for admittance.

The Sunset stop left only a few more one nighters before their opening at the Paradise Theatre in Detroit, Michigan.

Coast Musicians Informed Convention Called Off at Ohio

For the first time in forty-seven years, the national convention of the American Federation of Musicians will not be held, was officially announced to coast Musicians last week. Members of Musicians Local 767, rated as the best conducted colored Local in the country were informed that Federation President Jas. Petrillo, had voluntarily voiced the willingness of the union to cooperate with the Office of Defense Transportation, which hopes to curtail extensive travel as much as possible this summer, leaving the public facilities freer for the vast volume of troop and war material movement. The Sunday confab, with musicians of both races, gathered from all parts of the United States, was to have been held at Columbus, Ohio, June 8th to the 14th.

Although local musicians were naturally disappointed, since their delegation had planned several important matters relating to motion picture work, for discussion and action, they as a whole have been very philosophical, in accepting a condition brought about by the nation at war. Edward W. Bailey, able president of Local 37, was to make his seventh annual trip to represent it, accompanied by Paul Howard, financial secretary, and Miss Florence Cadrez, recording secretary. It was to have been held at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel in Columbus.

The decision to cancel the national meet, was made at a meeting in Chicago, on March 17th, after full discussion of the matter, and checking the disadvantageous to be suffered by the unions by this failure to confer, against the aid it would be to the war effort. As a rule there have always been about forty Race delegates present, and regardless of whether the conference was held in the north or the south, they have always taken a full part. Jos Eastman of the Office of Defense Transportation, sent the Government's thanks to all the locals upon receiving the Federation's letter announcing the cancellation.

Post theatrical columnist made one of the funniest mistakes in an article this week . . . He said: "Equally attractive in a different way are John Kirby and his out-of-the-world quintet, composed of five of the most sensational Negro musicians you can possibly imagine. When Kirby (who, of course, is white) joins in on his bass, mere earth seems a remote and undesirable place." . . . He was, of course, referring to Kirby's current engagement at the Loews State Theatre on Broadway . . . But just as we were about to remark that somebody should whisper to Ted Hay that the former Maxine Sullivan husband is one of us, his paper came out with a retrace by him, in the form of a interview with Kirby in which he claimed him a great "Negro musician." . . .

INCIDENTALLY . . . Una Mae Carlisle's new song, "Coast Guard Blues" will be played by her at Manhattan Beach Station this week . . . She's currently at the Plantation Club . . . New York . . . (Calvin's News Service) . . . Sometimes, after you see your own race stars playing such low roles in the motion picture industry, you begin to doubt whether they really have the talent, since you hardly ever see it. But if a star like Ethel Waters is given just a foot of stage, a baby spotlight to play around her and a four piece combo for some musical background, she would still be the one and only Ethel Waters!

Well, with the stage footage greatly increased at the Strand Theatre, the spotlight larger and of colors too, and the "combo" being Jan Savitt's nineteen piece band, you can imagine the response from such an energetic personality as Miss Waters, who warbles the blue notes as would a bluebird. Never could there have been so much poise and charm then when this mistress of swing sang famous "Stormy Weather". We wonder how Lena Horne could not it better on the screen.

Billed with Savitt's band were the Berry Brothers from their Broadway vaudeville which closed recently, "Show Time". We have so many good bands and so many natural-born musicians in the Negro race, to play in them, that if we criticized the Jan Savitt band, how could it be without some prejudice?

Hattie MaDcniel In Jas. Cagney Picture "McLeod's Folly"

In an excellent role that calls for the varied emotions of which she is so capable, Hattie McDaniel, noted screen star is featured in "McLeod's Folly" a new drama at Columbia Studio. The star is James Cagney with his brother William Cagney the producer. It is a mixed cast, under the direction of William F. Howard, with Lowell Farrel, first assistant. The name of the character Miss McDaniel portrays is Aida.

Hattie, who is very popular with all the stars of the white race, has for some time been under contract to Warner Bros. First National but had it changed so as to give her a wider field as a free-lance artist. However she has to play in three pictures at Warners under her old contract. Her last there was in the musical "Thank Your Lucky Stars" which featured her in the all-colored "Ice-cold Katie" sequence. She will sing the theme song on her nation-wide tour this summer.

"McLeod's Folly" is the first production of the Cagney boys, who have now gone into business for themselves as an independant company.

With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

AN OPEN LETTER TO A SPORTSWRITER

Gordon Macker, The Big Thumb
Los Angeles Daily News
Dear Mr. Macker:

I would like to call to your attention a couple of paragraphs in your column of Thursday last, April 15, under the caption, "Negroes & Baseball."

Whereas your idea of lining up an all-star Negro baseball club this summer to play a series of charity games with an all-star major league nine and an all-star coast loop club to give the "peasants" an opportunity to judge the calibre of Negro ball-players, and, as you wrote, "If the games turned out to be successful, the next step might be getting an all-Negro team a franchise in one of the leagues next season" to gradually break down the barrier that exists in this so-called democracy, appears to be an excellent one, as a last resort, by the by, I herewith raise an objection to your line of reasoning in two other instances in the case of the Negro Ballplayer versus the Major Leagues.

Instance No. 1 is your paragraph: "But getting colored players jobs in the coast, major or any other league right now is something that neither Rowland nor Collins can do."

Instance No. 2 is your paragraph: "Neither can any sportswriter. Including the favorite correspondent of 22,000,000 on their toes readers."

Mr. Macker it's been a known fact for years, that the owners hold the key to the situation. That goes for NOW—yesterday, today, and tomorrow! The somewhat recent statement by the high commissioner of baseball, Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis, placed the issue squarely up to the owners. He said at that time that there was no bar in fact against the hiring and use of colored ballplayers.

Messrs. Rowland and Collins represent the owners of two of the coast league clubs, and as their representatives their judgment in matters affecting their respective clubs carries the most weight.

You know, Macker, it takes lots of guts to break a tradition. Hollow, or hallowed traditions have been broken before, justly so, by the way, but it took a man or a woman, or a group of impartial MEN and WOMEN to do it!

Remember what they said about Joe Louis, and whether or not the fans would stand for a Negro world heavyweight champion?

Well, so it is with the Negro Ballplayer. The burden of proof, in the final analysis, is on him, as it is with any of the great athletes this particular race has produced. The Jesse Owenses, the Brud Hollands, the Kenny Washingtons, the Jackie Robinsons, the Henry Armstrongs, the Long John Woodruffs, the John Boricans, the Dolly Kings—all had to take a lot of bitter pills, more than their just due, but they took them like men, and therein lies a part of the reason for their greatness.

Then, too, Gordon, Uncle Sam is very impartial in the Big Fight now going on. He is asking all of his draft age men—and women, too—to spill their blood if need be. And it's all red! And believe me, it doesn't make sense if we are wearing the uniform of this nation in the battle for the Four Freedoms for all men, and here at home we have to petition, solicit, campaign, and FIGHT to enjoy the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, irrespective of the color of skin, or the previous condition of servitude of our forebears. The case of the Negro Ballplayer versus the Major Leagues is a part of the Big Fight for the Four Freedoms, and don't fool yourself!

All of which brings me down to instance No. 2.

You wrote, Gordon, that no sportswriter could do anything about the case of the Negro Ballplayer versus the Major Leagues. I disagree.

As a member of the working press, you know the power of the press. That's no idle phrase. The press is all-powerful! And, if and when all sports writers, you and the majority of the others, from coast to coast and border to border, get behind this thing we can all stir up and rekindle so much interest in fair-play and sportsmanship that the hiring and use of Negro ballplayers in the majors will be taken as a matter of course!

More power to you and your 22,000,000 readers, I am

Cordially yours,
J. Cullen Fentress

JACKIE AND RAY COMING HERE?

Young Emmett Ashford, former Jefferson and City College athlete, approaches the heights in his short umpiring career Sunday. He has been selected as one of the two arbiters for the L. A. Steel Casting-Arrowhead Rubber game to decide the Southern California Municipal AAA Baseball championship . . . The column hears that California Jackie Wilson and Ray Robinson, his buddy, both top ranking boxers before they donned the O. D. of Uncle Sam, will pay L. A. a visit Sunday. It's an Easter visit to Wilson's better half . . . Young Peter Jackson was among those introduced Tuesday night at the Olympic . . .

John Thomas Drops Duke To White

Luther (Slugger) White, recognized by Maryland as world's lightweight champion, registered a 10-round decision at the Olympic auditorium Tuesday night when he defeated young John Thomas, local lightweight star, before a near-capacity house.

Saved by the bell in the first stanza as White connected with a short right to the chin, Thomas couldn't keep the easterner off enough to out-box him as is his want.

Forced to fight the way the Slugger wanted him to—in close—Thomas came back in the succeeding rounds to make a hard, fast and comparatively close fight of it for the rest of the way. For that reason, if for no other, Thomas kept his prestige at a high level.

Long John staggered White several times in the bout, particularly in the second and 7th heats when he opened up with flurries to the head.

White piled up his margin of victory when Thomas came out of his crouch. Whenever the latter did so, which was invariably on the ropes, the Slugger fired short rights and lefts to the head which seldom missed.

The Slugger scaled 133½, Thomas 135.

Vincent Villavicencio, 148, who is scheduled to meet Tony Canelli, Italian star, in next week's main attraction at the Grand avenue house of maul, and Nova Esparza, 144, battled to a draw in the six-round semi.

Other results: Don MacLean, 122, decisioned Nash Diaz, 124½, in five; Lige Drew, 152, TKOed Al Burkhart, 157; and Babe Antuna, 132, stopped Manuel Villa, 134, in the third round.

BROWN RAMBLERS TO PLAY ONCE A WEEK

RANDOLPH FIELD, Texas, April 21—Long famed for its strong Army baseball teams, Randolph Field will have two outstanding clubs this year. In addition to the regular post team, known as the Ramblers, a Negro nine—the "Brown Ramblers"—will represent this Central Instructors' School of the Army Air Forces on the diamond.

Organized and coached by the squadron adjutant, Lieutenant Carl D. Hardin, the Brown Ramblers will play at least once a week during the rest of the summer, facing the toughest Negro opposition they can find in Texas. Lieut. Hardin is a former member of the post club, having been selected as shortstop on the all-American team at the National Amateur Tournament two years ago.

The Brown Ramblers opened their season campaign recently with a convincing 9-3 triumph over St. Anthony's Academy of San Antonio behind the stellar hurling of Cpl. Allen Q. Nelson and Pfc. John Hayes, both of Austin, Tex. Number three pitcher on the mound staff is Pfc. Ampy Robertson of Berclain, Tex.

Outstanding hitters on the club are Pvt. James Lee of Bastrop, left fielder, and Sgt. John Blair, Houston, who plays shortstop. These lads bat in the third and fourth slots, respectively. Only one member of the team is a non-Texan—Lead-Off Man S Sgt. Earlie Dudley of Tuscaloosa, Ala., who plays right field.

Other members of the starting lineup are: Sgt. Marion Goodley, Fort Worth, second base; Cpl. Jack Mays, Robstown, first base; S Sgt. Willie Toussaint, Beaumont, center field; Cpl. Oscar Patterson, San Antonio, third base, and Cpl. J. W. Bonner, Naples, catcher.

HODGES AT HOLLYWOOD STADIUM FRIDAY

Billy Hodges of Detroit is a popular guest at the Fedora Hotel, 325 East 2nd Street, this week.

Hodges is billed as a Friday night fight feature at the Hollywood Legion Stadium. Fight enthusiasts will welcome this news.

CECIL HUDSON ON SHELF

Cecil Hudson, top-ranking coast welter, was on the shelf this week when X-rays disclosed a broken bone in his right hand.

He dropped a lop-sided decision to Carlos Malacara of Mexico last week at the Olympic.

TURNING THE TABLES.—Twice Ray Robinson and Jackie Wilson have met in the ring, and both times "Sugar" gave Jackie a lesson in fisticuffs. Now it's Pvt. Ray Robinson and Sgt. Jackie Wilson in an Aviation Squadron at Mitchell Field, N. Y., and the sergeant is giving the lessons. (Official Photograph, U. S. Army Air Corps).

Twin Main At Legion Tonight

Moved up because of Good Friday, Hollywood Legion stadium comes back with its second double main event in two weeks tonight when it shows Tyree White vs. Alexandro Vega and Chuey Figuero against Pee Wee Louis.

Vega and White have met four times, the latter winning three times, the former once on a knockout. Louis is a stablemate of Slugger White.

Fours on tonight's card are Dave Hernandez vs. Tino Ascasio, Julio Robleto vs. Gene Runstreet, and Al Delgardo vs. Richard D'Arcy.

HARDGES LOSES

Billy Hardges, the Detroit kayo artist, saw his bubble of invincibility punctured last Friday night when Julio Caesar Jiminez, Mexican lightweight, clowned his way to a 10-round victory in one-half of the double main event.

Jiminez befuddled Hardges throughout the contest as he outboxed and outslugged Hardges when he decided to tangle in close quarters.

The Mexican ace weighed 137, Hardges 136½.

In the companion ten, Leonardo Lopez knocked out Paul Guerrero in the fourth heat. Both bantams, Lopez weighed 119½, Guerrero 117½.

Reecy Davis, 156, easily nodded Bernie Cardenas, 156, in the top four rounder. Cardenas was on the floor for six in the first heat. The former used a sweeping left hook and a potent left jab to continually stagger Cardenas.

The results of other fours: Frankie Wolgast, 127, decisioned Buddy Spencer; Babe Edwards, 170, knocked out Larry Martin, 164, in three heats; and Sgt. Gaston Miller, 170, outpointed Silas Drake, 172.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Mexico — Two weeks more and beautiful Caliente will open its gates to sport of kings and patrons. Closed since last October, the famous course is being all dolled up. Fresh attractive paint and new landscaping with beautiful flowers and shrubs will grace the eyes of those that attend opening day May 2nd. Unless some unforeseen thing turns up. Only the shortage of horses will delay the opening, and in that case it will be postponed about two weeks to allow the horses from Bay Meadows to arrive.

The meeting closes at the northern track May 7th. Generalissimo Eddie Neali and assistant, Armando Verdugo, expect to have the best horses that have been at Caliente in some years. Nearly all the same staff of officials will serve under the new management. Popular Judge Joe Walter will be racing secretary and presiding steward while Judge Shilling is in Canada. Westneary will be the new starter and it can be said that he is a good one too. Judge James McGill will be paddock and associate judge, and Andy Ferguson, clerk of the scales and placing judge.

We understand that the famous price maker Zeke Caress, will be in charge of the ring. Mr. Caress is no stranger to the public or the horsemen and has been very popular with both. Condition books will soon be released by Judge Walter. Owners are now sending their steeds around the oval and say that it is better than ever. Two carloads of horses are expected to cross the border before the end of the week. These are coming from Bay Meadows. With the races again opening at the three million dollar track more than three hundred Mexican citizens will again be employed, with most of them having families to support. It was a hard blow to some of them when the track closed. Quite a few Sundays will be devoted to Mexican charities, and we say that this is a grand idea and hope that they realize a goodly sum from this new innovation by the new management. So we say viva to Generalissimo Nealis and Armando Verdugo.

Well folks it looks like Count Fleet has the derby at his mercy. Although he came out of his race Saturday with a bad cut on his right hand. I'm still for Burnt Cork as the dark horse. So that this folks is the news of the turf for this week. If you want liberty buy more bonds. If you want slavery and poverty, well . . use your own judgement . . get it? So long—George.

Oak Owner Told Club Manager to Try-Out Duo

What promised to be long-awaited silver lining solution as regards the inclusion of Negroes into the ranks of organized baseball, proved to be just another dud Saturday when Johnny Vergez, manager of the Oakland Pacific Coast League team, point-blankly refused to grant trial to Chet Brewer, veteran pitching ace, and Olen Dial, slugging outfield, at Wrigley Field, despite the fact that Club Owner Vinc Devincenzi had ordered Vergez to do so.

Devincenzi personally told representatives of the Pittsburgh Courier last week in Oakland that he could see no reason why race athletes should be barred. And, further, if there were any such ball players of double-A caliber in Southern California he would have his manager give them a look-see when his club came south to open the season the 18th.

Saturday morning Halley Harding, Tribune news scribe, accompanied Brewer and Dials to the park and sought out Vergez who was engaged in giving his aggregation a pre-game workout.

When approached on the touchy subject, Vergez said he had not been told to allow Negro players trials with the Oaks and, therefore, could not do anything about the matter until he received official orders from the front office.

The committee of three thereupon pooled their finances and called Devincenzi long-distance in Oakland. Once again the owner reiterated his stand and said that the men were entitled to trials and contracts if they proved good enough.

Harding suggested that he tell his manager the same thing over the phone. Devincenzi agreed and asked Harding to call Vergez to the phone. Whereupon he poured the tidings into his ears in no uncertain manner.

Visibly shaken, Vergez proceeded to turn a "fireman's red" and questioned the motive of his boss.

He finally brought the conversation to a close by saying, "You're putting me on the spot, but I guess I'll have to go through with it."

Following this, the conversation took on a different trend as the jittery pilot became panicky and finally refused to grant the two players the promised tryout. He attempted to find a number of excuses but each was met by a logical concrete argument on the part of the committee of three.

Perspiring profusely and pacing up and down, Vergez closed the conversation with these now historical words. "I won't do it. I'll quit my job first. I'll be damned if I'll do it."

JACK CHASE KEEPS TITLE

With but 10 seconds to go before the end of the bout, Jack Chase, California middleweight champion, successfully defended his crown Monday night at Ocean Park when he technically knocked out Leon Zorrita, in a 15-rounder.

Referee Reggie Gilmore stopped it when Zorrita was unable to defend himself.

Coast Citizens Learn 99th Squadron At Front

Bringing a feeling of relief to the many race citizens here who have relatives and friends in the 99th Aviation Squadron, long in training at Tuskeegee, came the fairly authentic news last week that it at last has been sent to one of the battle fronts. Roy Loggins, Jr., son of Roy Loggins, well known caterer, is one of the Tuskeegee students.

As much resentment has arisen here' as in other sections, at the apparent discrimination being shown by keeping these well-trained fighters grounded, while flyers of the other races who started training much later have since earned honors for their exploits against the enemy, fear was felt that they would be kept out of action for the duration, and not be credited for helping win the war.

Of course, following out the War Deparment's necessary secrecy, the families of the embarking flyers were not notified as to their destination, or time of leaving, but deducting from the fact that their belongings had been dispatched to their homes from the school, and a change ordered as to the direction of their mail, they are confident that they have by now reached one of the fronts.

Commanded by Lieut. Col. Benjamin O. Davis, Jr., son of the Army's only colored general, there is said to be 400 officers and men in this first contingent. Davis, a West Point graduate, was in the first class to graduate from Tuskeegee on March 7 of last year. More than four classes have since then concluded their intensive training.

First War Time Class

Fifty-five students became doctors Thursday, April 15, 1943, when the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons held its forty-sixth commencement services. Services were held at the Los Angeles Wilshire-Ebell Theatre at 4401 West Eighth Street. The Commencement Address was delivered by Dr. Walter F. Dexter, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Director of Education of the State of California.

Honorary degrees were awarded to Dr. Walter F. Dexter, Dr. Frank B. Fagerburg, Mr. George Pepperdine, Mr. Manchester Boddy, Dr. Edwards D. Merrill and Dr. Cyrus J. Gaddis.

This is the first class to be graduated out of the war-time accelerated program.

Race Track GOSSIP

By Jay Gould

Bay Meadows race track and e races in California were ved from defeat by the learned ored minister, Rev. Sample of n Mateo, as he stole the show front of the racing board. He ade those who opposed racing the State look like slow mo-n. When the tracks were given e green light, "Bill" Kyne, Bay eadows manager, was heard to y: "You are terrific and will well fixed for life," which eans out of the red.

When this column is read, the ack will have 50 additional rses.

"Duke" Browning claimed Dry lt out of the fourth race the her day for a thousand bucks, hich looked good. Duke has on several races with his Val-na Doll.

Big operators on the track ily: Jimmie Pitts, who just ipped back from Hot Springs ce track, bet a hundred dollars n Quercus, which paid seven-en for two; Al Love playing e ponies out of the form sheet, on three and lost two; Bob erford was a good bet on Sub-b at a good price. Freddy Reed laying his own tips, but don't ow his way around. Vernon rown betting big out of the rm sheet and different news-apers. Lee Thompson, over fif-en hundred loser, and never ins a photo finish. Ethel Car-r, Miss Billie Starr and the hillips sisters playing the races ownstairs making their own ets. Cornelius Clipper is deep in e red but drives home, smiling very day. Jerry from the South-n Pacific station, playing a sing system. Johnny Davis and ittle Sights playing races in the fternoon and 4 or 5 o'clock ev-ry night in smoke-shops. Kid orth, George Dean and Mr. Si olding forth in the club house ut ankling in and out of the etting ring, playing tips. "Cu-d" Davis, George Child, Eddie aniels and wife, Lillian Pankey obinson, and Emma Littleton, er sister, playing the races on e mezzanine floor. Eula Ander-on, Rose Henderson, Mrs. John-e Davison and Mrs. Sights laying the horses and watching e races from the steps under e grandstand. Clocker Mack orris betting big from the press ox and from the top of the randstand. Dickey Boy Louis etting big on the horses but op-rating in the city.

Sergeant Johnny Jones, ex-oxer, is doing the Joe Louis in he Army.

When you see Sam Burney, ask him what worries him to make him get juiced up every night.

Peggy Armstrong don't play he race track or night spots since her husband returned from he Army any more, unless he's along.

Mrs. Martha Garcia Lewis—his column is for fun. Sorry you didn't understand, poor butter-fly.

Don't take my word for it, but Pop Warner is one of the best cooks and seasoners around the Fillmore district. Drop in at the Club Alabam and see for your-self.

If anyone knows where Jay Chavis is, my namesake, please let this writer know, as he may be short.

Hollywood movies wanted the very pretty Cleo Hayes and Marion Egbert, show pretties, at one time, but they didn't want Hollywood.

Don Robie, one of the top sports of the country, formerly of Houston, Texas, skipped to Chicago, Detroit and New York, but played all around California where his charming wife, Sadie Robie, is. I wonder if their marriage has gone on the rocks?

Katherine Dunham, with her magic eyes and artistic snake dance, make more men fall than they care to admit.

Miss Thelma Hill and Minerva both can pass on either side, spotted in the Havana Cafe, flo-flowing with Mr. E. Pittman, downing scotch and soda.

Mrs. Betty Brown, wife of Vernon Brown, midnighting it at their Club Alabam, watching the clock and ordering an extra scotch and soda.

Clarence Demarie, Clarence Ray, "Tex" Allen, Palmer Pinckney and "Bud" Lundy—when you roll into Frisco the first thing you should do is bring your wives with you, find a place to stay—which is no cinch—and don't 2 or 3 o'clock it looking for something or somebody on the loose.

Artie Graves, the veteran playboy, Mack Pinckston, "Black Dot" McGee, Clyde Dorsey, Playboy Monroe and J. C. Sweeney, who skipped to Los Angeles from Frisco, are all in the big money.

Troy Floyd, Bill Tarrell and Mr. Detroit, the ex-bookmaker, are "railing it" in order to duck the draft.

Hot Springs had the biggest season of all times; number one plunger was Dick Austen of Washington, D. C., who was betting five hundred and a thousand to a race.

Plunger number two was Harry Fields of Chicago, who lost ten G's on the season; "Sharp Coon" of Pittsburgh, Bob Williams of Detroit lost a little; Bruce Kendley from Chicago lost four thousand apiece. Jimmy Pitts of Los Angeles won 37 hundred. Charlie Jackson of Chicago played big as usual. Bubber Patterson played the limit on all games in town. Jerry Wooden won a-plenty.

Eugene Sorrell, exalted ruler of the Golden West Lodge, No. 86, Los Angeles, was sight-seeing playing the Big Shot women from Chicago, Pittsburgh, Louisville, St. Louis and Cleveland—along with Lieut. McDuff—this bunch carries enough money with them to last, regardless of how much they toss away.

Mrs. Edna Williams of Pittsburgh—received your message and I'm glad you enjoyed your course of baths and also the races.

Lucius Lomax, Sr., promoter and in the background of Henry Armstrong, bet four thousand at eleven to five on Hank and dialed in on his twelve hundred dollar radio in his apartment at the Dunbar Hotel to receive the unjust news, which should have been a draw.

"Rooster" Hammond and wife from Detroit and Roger Price of Cleveland bet a-plenty on Beau Jack, the winner.

"Black Dot" McGee bet a grand on Armstrong—later walked into the Dunbar, saying: "Gimmie some scotch and soda; it was a tough break."

Lovejoy, the ex-comedian and nite spot owner, betting five hundred and a thousand on different fights and ponies.

Seattle Flashes: One of the sad happenings of 1943 was the passing of Sherman Spates, a brother of Harry Spates.

Word comes from Walter Green and Gus West saying the funeral was one of the largest they have ever seen. Mr. Dick Ruffin, Mr. Dan Mora, Mr. "Twenty-nine" the plunger, Norman Sexton, Otis Washington, "Sonny" Larry, Bennie Harper, Joe Campbell, Joe Burns, "Al" Lewis, "Gorilla" Jones, Ted Bell, Russell "Noodles" Smith, Gillie Richardso: "Pop" Kirk and John Lucas and all of the "big shot" women mourn the loss of Sherman Spates.

Flash! Commissioner Mike Snead played all around Hot Springs this season but may go to the Kentucky Derby. The same goes for Harry Field's partner.

Ralph Cooper, stage and screen star, still tops the field as a radio announcer.

Dewey Johnson, New York, Al Simms of Los Angeles, and Larry Sweetwine of San Francisco are tops in their art, which is that of mixologist.

Willie Pierson, 50-50 in the Log Cabin Club of Cleveland, stayed home, looking out for the cash accounts, while his partner, Price, and his lovely wife play the games from coast to coast. When this column is read they will be in Frisco with two pals and their wives—all globe trotters.

New York Flashes—Pannie Meade, Lovey Joe Robinson, Ed Small Gershion Myers, Charlie Kelso and Jim Scott are doubtful as to whether gas and rubber rationing will let them take time out to attend this year's Derby.

Bob Franklin, Jedson Grant, Harry Bigelow and Johnny (V Club) Cornish—don't get around much any more.

Little Negro League Ball in Sight in 1943

NEW YORK.—The situation in Negro Baseball:
Last season the boys who ran the big show danced.
This season they will pay the piper.

In other words Negro baseball club owners allegedly raked in barrels of gold last year but didn't do much else about protecting their investments with long range planning and as a result, little or no league activity is in sight in 1943.

All this came about, as written before, because Joseph Eastman, head of the Office of Defense Transportation, wired both the Negro American and National Leagues that special permission for them to use their buses could not be granted.

They were urged to cooperate by utilizing all other available means of transportation, trains and established bus line routes.

Much of the present predicament in which Negro baseball finds itself can be traced to the old habit of putting off what should be done today until tomorrow.

Now the weeping and howling is over spilt milk and the barn somebody forgot to lock, thus enabling the nag to get away.

In the Negro National League powwow at Washington last month, the boys took a unanimous vote that they would operate despite the denial of gasoline and use of their own buses which are to be, under ODT regulations, leased out for use in programs directly connected with the war effort.

Meanwhile, the Senors from across the border line, down Mexico Way, are pushing their end of the State Department's program for goodwill among our South American neighbors by stealing all the ballplaying name attractions they can inveigle to leave.

On the one hand, the Mexican agents are jingling gold pieces to the bewildered big name Negro ballplayer, and on the other, the yawning entrances to war plants loom with the spectre of draft boards completing the picture.

Against this mural of unhappiness, the Negro club owner sees little to gain solace from despite his well filled pockets from last year's successful season for most of the teams that operated in both the western and eastern loops.

Henry N. Lewis of the Atlanta Black Crackers was refused a franchise in the Negro National League because the boys said the transportation situation wouldn't permit it with Atlanta being some 800 miles from Washington, thus calling for a 1600-mile round trip.

The boys did get big hearted enough to grant the Atlanta outfit an associate membership which protects them from having their players raided by either of the major colored circuits. Thus, the Atlanta team is entitled to periodical bookings with league clubs.

I have little doubt that if a census were taken and the interviewed folk made to tell the truth, there would be enough Georgia-born Negroes in every big town in the U. S. to form an army big enough to start the Second Front.

That's why it's a good thing for Negro baseball, such as it is and expects to turn out to be, to give a more sympathetic ear to the boys from Georgia and not in the same way as happened in the case of Gus Greenlee of Pittsburgh who was turned down cold turkey last year when he wanted to revive his Crawfords.

Steinbeck's Story "The Moon Is Down"

For sheer dramatic power "The Moon is Down", now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles, is second to no film that has come out of this war. All the magic of the screen art has been called into service to make the film transcription of the John Steinbeck novel and play smashing entertainment.

The story, tense and forceful, has been grippingly told, building to a climax that holds you breathless. There are individual scenes brilliantly devised and moments that tear at one's heart.

Southern Host To Invitational Meet April 23-24

SCOTLANDVILLE, La., — With only battered remnants of a punctured last year's conference team, Coach Gil Cruter, entered, his thinclads in the Prairie View meet, to see if they are about ready for the stiff competition tthey will encounter here next week-end when the Cats play host to the first Southern Invitational meet.

Teams representing members of the Southwestern Athletic conference and other conferences have been invited and at press time five teams have indicated that they would participate, according to Director of Athletics A. W. Mumford. Heading the list are two of the South's powerhouse teams in Prairie View and Xavier, both considered favorites in winning the point meet.

Southern ,as usual will have a fair team with most of the better boys performing in the field events. Over at Prairie View last week. Robert "Hats" Smith, Butler, Cotton and Evans showed their mettle by placing and winning awards in the field, while Bolen and Ford were the standouts in track.

Over on the tennis courts the rackets representing Southern came through to take both the singles and double championship. Bouey took in the singles after having apparently lost to Prairie View's ace; then he teamed with Cook to bring the doubles trophy back to the campus.

Coach Cruter's team of nine men, not considered the best of material will be out to wreck havoc upon the ambition of many a team this season. "Watch the dark horse Cats," is the battle cry of the thinnies as they work daily.

Rex Ingram Plays Second Lead to Humphrey Bogart

Depicting a Sudanese Sergeant Major, Rex Ingram, famous star of "Green Pastures" has just finished 12 weeks of work in Columbia's powerful, timely new drama of North Africa, tentatively titled "Sahara". It may prove to be the most important film in Ingram's colorful career for he plays second lead to the star Humphrey Bogart.

Beltan Korda is the director, and following the stupendous technique of preceding Korda pictures, the completed film promises some thrilling battle scenes. The company just returned from the Mojave desert, where the principal scenes were shot, with a huge cast.

Ingram is now starting in a new as yet untitled picture at Universal. His double and stand-in is Noble Blake, well-known local player. In "Cabin in the Sky" just released, and also in the stage version Ingram played the part of Lucifer Jr.

W.A.A.C. OFFICERS VISIT SAN DIEGO

Capt. Harriet B. White and and Lt. Sophia G. Stanglin, Pacific Coast Recruiting Officers of the Ninth Service Command, Fort Douglas, Utah, spent several days in the city last week recruiting women for the W. A. A. C. Service. The interviews were held at an informal booth in Welfare Dept. Store, Mrs. Ernest Roberson in charge. Elated over the success of their contacts, the officers returned to Los Angeles, from which point they will work the area assigned.

Mrs. Lucille Stanberry, neice of Mrs. Cassie Patterson, cateress, was the first colored girl sworn in. Miss Stanberry will leave for Des Moines, Iowa, next month for training, following her visit to relatives in Texas.

1st Lt. Carter Shired, 7th Regiment California State Guard, who will answer his country's call to active duty April 21st, was a visitor to San Diego, his former home, visiting friends. Lt. Shired served as a Lieutenant in the renowned 37th Inf. Ohio National Guard.

Luther King In Recital at So. University

SCOTLANDVILLE, La., — Appearing before an enthusiastic audience, Luther King, well-known tenor, rendered an effective program in the Southern University Chapel, Thursday morning, April 8.

A pleasing voice, showing skillful training, coupled with more than ordinary histrionic presentation abetted Mr. King's performance. De Rose's "I Heard a Forest Praying" delivered in a charming pianissimo tone and well-regulated finesse was easily one of Mr. King's best offerings.

Other numbers which were were well-received included the comic rendition of Hutchinson's "Old Mother Hubbard" and a soul-stirring arrangement by Jean Houston (Mrs. Luther King) of "Crucifixion", sung without accompaniment. As encores, Mr. King presented James' popular "Cabin Boy" and "Lord Give Me Faith Until we Meet Again." The latter number was dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. King's son, now stationed in Camp Livingston, Louisiana. Very sympathetic aid to Mr. King was given by Jean Houston, at the piano.

MEETING OF YEA VOTE COMMITEE AT PHILLIPS

Negro and white workers in the aircraft, shipbuilders and trade unionists, answered the call to a Mass Meeting sponsored by the Yea Vote Committee of Lockheed-Vega last Sunday afternoon at Phillips Temple C. M. E. Church.

While the thousand Negro workers and their white fellow workers who believe in the principles of democracy, have not yet been aroused to the true sense of power in mass action. The letter and spirit of this Sunday meeting was a rousing demonstration of a future awakened working class spirit at Lockheed-Vega, and other plants where war materials are being produced.

The jim-crow policies of the International Association of Machinists affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, which has denied Negro workers full-fledged participation in the union and upgrading on the job were attacked from every angle.

Herbert Ward was the presiding officer and the speakers were Mr. Ford, Mrs. Fay Allen, Atty. Thomas L. Griffith, Baker, Rev. Hayes, C. E. Pearl and Mrs. C. A. Bass.

Many of the speakers not only attacked the jim-crow policies of the American Federation of Labor, but likewise the Negro hirelings who carry out the jim-crow orders of the union by selling it to, or forcing it down the throats of the men and women who labor in uniform.

Bill Robinson's "Born Happy" Clicks At San Francisco

Opening Monday, April 12, with all the glamour of a Hollywood except for the war-cancelled sun-arcs, and searchlights, Bill Robinson's new stage show opened at the Alcazar Theatre in San Francisco to a record-breaking run. Among the first nighters were many celebrities of the movie world, besides famous figures of the business and professional, worlds and the armed forces.

Revealing that the famed Bogangles is not only King of all dancers, "but a master producer as well, applauding reviewers might have thought it took months to shape up such a well organized, fast moving, fabric of entertainment. In reality he had to work in Fox's "Stormy Weather," up to within two weeks of the opening date, before starting rehearsals at "Music Town" on West Jefferson street.

Presented by Sid Grauman, and Marty Forkins, the big star-studded cast includes, Babe Wallace, singing Master of Ceremonies, Mable Scott, The Deep River Boys, the Three Peppers, Thelma Middleton, formerly with Louie Armstrong, Whitey's Lindy Hoppers, 10 in number, now jitterbugging, the little Layson Brothers, Judy Carrol, Holmes and Jean, Mason and Vigal, Jimmy Anderson, Anita Echols, Rose Murphy, and a chorus of 12 most of whom were imported from New York and Chicago.

RASMUSSEN MOVES FOR NEW CLINIC

As Chairman of the Council Committee on Public Health and Welfare, Councilman Carl C. Rasmusesn has maintained constant vigilance to insure an expanding public Health Department.

As part of this effort, Rasmussen moved in the City Council on Friday, April 16th, that the Board of Public Works be instructed to prepare plans and specifications for a new Polyclinic to be located in the Southeast area and to survey this area for possible sites for such a clinic. The motion was unanimously adopted by the Council.

Rasmussen has led the fight to establish and maintain a clinic in the Southeast area and recently became the object of much publicity during a controversy regarding the structural safety of the building which now houses the clinic at 54th Street and Central Avenue. In accordance with reports of the Building and Safety Department and the Bureau of Construction and the Maintenance, it appears advisable to construct a new clinic building rather than to purchase the one presently used for this purpose.

The administration of public health services, particularly in the field of prevention of further spread of social diseases, has been emphatically stressed by the United States Public Health Department as of vital importance to the Nation's war effort.

By taking this step Rasmussen has launched upon a program which in the long run will give far better facilities for the administration of public health services to residents of the entire Southeast Los Angeles and which will set a pattern which it is hoped will be followed in other parts of the city by the construction of similar clinics in various outlying districts.

Increased Knowledge, Better Understanding Is Needed

The need for an increased knowledge and understanding of American History is greater now than ever before. This has been made evident by the controversy over the film "Tennessee Johnson." The Los Angeles Workers School believes that its new course, "The American Democratic Tradition," can be of aid in bringing about such increased knowledge and understanding.

Dealing with decisive periods in the history of nation the course will trace the development of the Democratic Tradition from the beginning of the Colonial Period, through the Civil War, Reconstruction, up to the present war for national survival.

John Howard Lawson, Albert Maltz, nationally known authorities in the literary world as well as in the field of American history will instruct the course. Other lecturers of similar prominence will also participate.

Beginning April 30, the course will be given every Friday at 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. for eight weeks. To accommodate the many who will attend it will be held at the Unitarian Church, 2936 W. 8th St. (East of Vermont). Tuition for the entire course is $3.00, with single session admissions at 50c.

Registration is still open for the course at the Los Angeles Workers School, 212 W. 3rd St. For further information call MI. 5303.

HELEN HUNT JACKSON BOOK NOTES

Dust Tracks on a Road—Hurston

The road Zora Hurston retraces in this book begins in Eatonville, Florida, the first incorporated Negro town in America. Out of her childhood memories she creates a picture, full of humor, gusto and vitality, of the life of a colored family. The road that began there was a long one. It took her, after many turns and byways, to Barnard and Columbia where her ability and ambition won her scholarships. A Guggenheim Fellowship, given in recognition of her work in anthropology, took her to Haiti.

Rip Tide of Agression—Mowrer

This is a condensation, a digest of the background and history of each Axis nation as they led to this war. Here are the facts on the systematic rise of aggression in Germany, Italy, and Japan; how it was nurtured by the governments and put over on the peoples. How step by step, the system was built up so that vast mechanical forces should be at the disposal of the unscrupulous and ruthless leaders were determined to exploit every man, woman, and child in their own countries.

Journey for Margaret—White

Did you read the short story, in a past Readers' Digest about an American reporter who wanted to adopt two English war orphans, a boy and a girl, and had one room for the little girl on the plane back to America? If you did, you will want to read Bill White's book about the England from which he adopted a little girl.

The Vineyard—Jones

This is a chronicle of life in the Napa Valley from the middle of the last century to the onset of Prohibition. As the story unfolds, the while history of wine-growing in the valley swirls about the two-hundred-odd acres of the Villa Montina: Giorgio Regola, who countenanced no differences of opinion, his son, and the boy of the third generation. Many historical figures find their way into this lusty tale.

The Human Comedy—Saroyan

In this book, Saroyan is at his simplest and best, telling stories of small boys in Ithica, California. Here Homer Macauley, aged 14, determines to be the best messenger boy Ithica's telegraph-office ever had; here four-year-old Ulysses gazes wonderingly on a marvelous and inscrutable world; a high-school coach proves himself a snob and a fool, and an old maid schoolteacher proves that she understands boys, and America.

Editor of "South Today" Visits Southern

SCOTLANDVILLE, Lo., — Miss Lillian Smith, acknowledged Southern liberal and Editor of the courageous "South Today" published in Clayton, Georgia, spent the weekend on the Southern University campus interviewing undergraduate candidates for the newly established Rosenwald scholarships.

In the midst of her official duties, Miss Smith was prevailed upon to meet with the Faculty Book Club and engage in an informal discussion concerning techniques for resolving the race problem in America.

Later, Miss Smith appeared before the student body, during the vesper exercises, and spoke informally upon the topic of "Race Attitudes in Children." Asserting that both white and Negro children develop distorted personalities, due to the restraining influences of social mores and patterns, Miss Smith declared that racial prejudice and discrimination would not disappear until white people would want to do away with segregation because "they did not like it because" it affected their own personal happiness." Upon completion of her activities at Southern, Miss Smith entrained for Prairie View State College.

POST OFFICE FACTS

"And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.—Mark 11:25.

There is one great mistake many new employees make before entering the Government service, and that is forming certain concrete opinions. In order to give and receive the maximum of consideration one must retain an open mind. As long as one deals with human beings they need not expect perfection. Since all human beings possess a certain amount of prejudice it naturally follows that we find it in all organizations. We do not mean just racial prejudice, but also personal prejudices.

Too often it has been true that supervisors have been guilty of dealing in personalities. It is also true that employees often carry chips on their shoulders and allow rumors to govern their attitude toward their supervisors. One uses very poor judgment in drawing conclusions on pure hearsay. In fairness to yourself and others always try to substantiate a rumor if not forget it.

When an employee feels that he or she has been unjustly treated or abused, they should approach the person whom they feel is responsible. If after having done this no adjustment is made, the question may be taken up with one of the post office organizations composed of post office employees. The officers of these organizations are always willing to advise you as to the proper procedure of presenting grievances. The Post Office Department, both locally and nationally, recognize and cooperate with these organizations. Continuous beefing to your fellow employees gets you nowhere and only breeds ill feelings that the Department certainly does not approve of.

We are in a war that is draining the sources of all available man power. It has become necessary to fill all vacancies where possible with women. There are certain positions in the post office which cannot handily be filled by women. Many men have been lured from the post office by enticing wages paid in defense plants. Most of the men remaining in the service have done so out of loyalty to the department. While buying Defense Stamps and War Bonds are doing much to win this war, Loyalty and Cooperation will be the deciding factors. We believe the Department as a whole appreciates these facts and is anxious to minimize misunderstandings. You can help them by being honest first with yourself, then your fellow and your supervisors.

HR 1366 has now become a law and will be effective May 1, 1943, and will terminate June 30, 1945, or earlier by concurrent resolution of Congress. This bill provides a $300 bonus for all post office employees whose salaries are paid by the year. No employee shall receive more than $25 per month of the $300. All employees paid by the hour, piece, or day shall receive 15 per cent of their earned salary, not to exceed $300 per annum. All regular employees will revert to the original 40-hour week. Postal employees will receive straight time for overtime based on 306 work days per year. There is some question about custodial employees receiving pay for overtime, as Congress has never made any provisions for overtime in this department. We will have to wait for a decision from the Comptroller General on this since the bill was amended to include the custodial employees.

We wish to thank all the postal organizations who so loyally supported all post office employees, thereby making it possible to have the bill amended to include all groups. This is commendable, and we hope only the beginning.

We are very sorry to announce that lampist, Leslie V. Johnson, of the Terminal Annex, was severely injured when he fell from his ladder Saturday, April 17. We contacted Mrs. Johnson, and she told us he was resting fairly well at the French Hospital. We wish Brother Johnson a speedy recovery.

"I'm allowed to work fifteen hours on Saturdays to make up time so that I can go to school nights", declares a member of the Advanced Grade class of Jefferson Evening High School. She is to receive fier eighth grade diploma in June. You might find the class worth some such sacrifice too. Why not come and see? Class meets Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7 until 9 p.m., Jefferson Evening High School, 1319 E. 41st Street.

This may look like romance, but the young air cadet is actually just making sure that the girl apprentice mechanic does a good job on the plane he is about to fly. Marjorie Dorsey, of Birmingham, Ala., is one of many women who are learning to service the planes at Army flying schools. The cadet is A/C Cornelius G. Bottle Shortage May Deprive Citizens of Milk, Soft Drinks

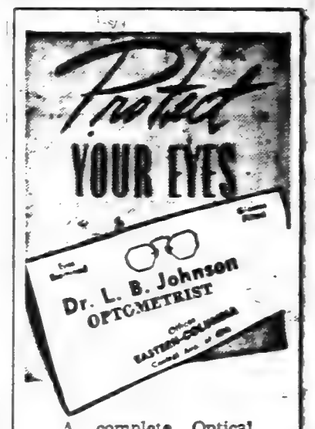
The bottle shortage is seriously affecting the possibilities of buying milk, soft drinks, beer and other foods and beverages, according to beverage manufacturers; so much so that the lives of all of us are being touched.

The situation is so vital that the Brewers' Institute and Beverage Organizations of the Pacific Coast are collaborating with the Owens-Illinois Company in a patriotic appeal to consumers to return all empty beer, milk and other beverage bottles to their dealers during the "Bottle Round-up Week" of April 19th to 24th. The campaign is under the direction of Mr. Paul Snell of the Steve Hanagan Organization.

SCRIPTS FOR NEW PLAYS AVAILABLE

College, school and community theatre groups can now obtain scripts of the new play, "It's Up To You", which had a successful premiere in New York City on March 31, the Office of War Information announced this week.

The play—written by Arthur Arent and directed by Elia Kazan, who staged the recent successes, "The Skin of Our Teeth" and "Harriett"—dramatizes the wartime food situation including black markets, rationing, nutrition, and the dangers of hoarding.



Presented by Skouras Theatres, The American Theatre Wing, and a group of food industry associations in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture, the play had its premiere in New York at the Academy of Music Theatre which donated its facilities for the show. It is now being performed in several New York theatres without admission charges.

Kills Employer

ing about 5 o'clock, when he arose as usual, he again became involved in an argument with Wolf. Wolf had later gone into the milk house and started to sweep the water from the floor. Lee secured an axe from the porch of the shed and, entering while Wolf had his back to the door, struck him a severe blow on the back of the head with the butt of the axe, knocking the victim down. He fell with his head under the sink used for washing the milk cans, and died instantly. This had occurred at about 6 p. m.

"Then," said Lee, "I went out to the field where Miller had harnessed a mule to a wogan, and was in the act of hauling some timbers to repair a dam. I climbed up on the wagon and told Miller that I was going to settle the trouble between us forever. I then hit him with the blunt edge of the axe, knocking him off the wagon on to the ground."

The suspect stated that he then went to his room and started to change clothes. But the thought occurred to him that perhaps Miller was not dead. So he secured a large claw hammer of the type used by carpenters and, returning to the field, proceeded to beat the victim's head and face into a pulp. He then returned to his quarters and changed clothes. Walking then into Cornell, he went to the post office, from which he telephoned to his son, Robert E. Lee, Jr., 1202 East 35th street, and told him what had happened. He then asked Brandenberger to phone the sheriff's office, which he did immediately. Inspector J. Penprase and Capt. Kunou of the Bureau of Investigation arrived and took charge of the investigation. The bodies were examined at mortuaries at Kingsley and Santa Monica. The self-confessed killer was transferred to the Los Angeles County jail and booked on two charges of suspicion of murder.

During all the time of these tragic happenings, another field hand named Hugh C. Peterson of 15126 Rayner street, Van Nuys, was operating a tractor in the field which Lee had to cross to come to town to report his deed. Peterson had come to work about 7 a. m. and, although Miller's body was lying some 200 yards from where he was working, a clump of large sycamore trees had screened it from his view. However, he saw Lee [illegible] the field, but did not know what had been done. When the body of Wolf was found lying across his broom, in a pool of blood and water, the face was found to have been beaten so badly as to be unrecognizable. Lee had sat on the steps of the post office in the company of Brandenberg and waited until the officers arrived. Both victims were white, as is also Peterson, the other field hand.

message will be taken at Los Angeles Railway Building, 1056 South Broadway, Monday through Friday, between the hours of 8:30 and 4:00. There are jobs for both men and women. The pay is good and starts while you are learning."

The above is an advertisement from the Los Angeles Railway Company which appears regularly in the papers. They are short of manpower, cars are standing idle, yet they refuse to allow Negro men and women to operate their street cars.

America is now engaged in a conflict which will necessitate the utilization of every available man, woman and child in order to win the victory. All we ask is that the Los Angeles Railway Company will see the wisdom of using the black men, who are willing, in this time of national stress. The vital issue now is to win the war. All petty grievances—all narrow prejudices centering around race, color or creed must be abandoned. The need is acute — the Negro is ready and willing.

Why not put it up to the working people who have to depend upon streetcar transportation to and from work. We feel sure that they would appreciate regular, efficient service, whether it be given by Negroes or Whites.

LET'S DO SOMETHING ABOUT THIS

It has come to the attention of the Editor of this newspaper that many of the markets in the Eastside are selling an inferior grade of meat. They say that this is especially true of the chain markets who bring tainted meat, that they cannot sell in their westside markets, to the eastside and sell it at top prices.

Just recently a 14-year-old girl at one of the Eastside Junior High Schools ate a meat sandwich prepared in the school cafeteria, and in less than twenty-four hours, died from ptomaine poisoning.

We have faith in our Health Dept., and there is something that should be done in the matter of investigating this report, it should be called to the attention of our Health Department immediately.

Judge Resigns

the Membership Committee is acting upon the application of Mr. Rivers has convinced me that the Association is barring him because he is a Negro.

"I have been a member," continued the judge, "of the American Bar Association for 29 years and desire to continue my membership if I can do so without stultifying myself.

"To be a member of a professional organization which bars Negroes from its membership would, in essence, be contributing toward the perpetuation of bigotry. This I refuse to do.

"Unless I receive concrete evidence that the Association is not pursuing this discriminatory and un-American practice, you may regard this letter as my resignation from membership of the American Bar Association."

The application for membership forms of the Association ask for an indication of whether an applicant is white, Indian, Mongolian or Negro.

In the south wing of the Criminal Court Building on the sixth floor, Assistant District Attorney Rivers would not make a statement, but he did give a brief history of the case. At 2 Lafayette St., Commissioner William B. Hurlands of the Department of Investigation gave the following statement: "As a member of the American Bar Association, I am investigating the facts. If, as reported, Francis E. Rivers' application for membership in the American Bar Association has been rejected because he is a Negro, I shall immediately resign from the Association.

"Frank Rivers has been a personal friend of mine for many years. He had a distinguished career at college, in the legal profession, and in the public service. He is a graduate of Yale College, where he was awarded the Phi Beta Kappa key. He is a graduate of Columbia Law School, which is also my alma mater. He is a world war veteran. He is a former member of the New York legislature. He worked for four years on the staff of former District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, now Governor Dewey. He is now a Chief Assistant in District Attorney Hogan's office. He is a member of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York. There can be no question as to Frank Rivers' qualifications for membership in the American Bar Association.

"I understand that Mr. Rivers' application was pending before the Committee on Admissions in January. It is possible that the application has been or will be acted upon favorably. If I find that it has been rejected, there is only one course open for any self-respecting American lawyer, and that is to resign."

Letters and telegrams of congratulation have poured into Judge Goldstein's office from organizations and individuals, and it is rumored that many prominent members of the A. B. A. will voice their objections and resign.

In reply to Attorney Cornelius McDougal, who wrote: "It is unfortunate for the American Bar Association that there are not more real Americans among them," Judge Goldstein replied: "Self-respect and American principles of democracy gave me no alternative other than to take the action which I did.

"I am always mindful of the last words of the salute to our flag: 'With liberty and justice for all.'—all means ALL. The individual or the minority groups may be singled out for injustice—never for justice. Justice is only assured when it is meted out to all."

In 1932, Mr. Rivers, upon invitation, sent his application and $4.00 dues to the A. B. A. In May, 1932, his check was returned and he was rejected. In subsequent communications between the president of the New York Bar Association, of which Mr. Rivers is a member, and the president of the American Bar Association, it was explained that one dissenting vote on the Executive Committee may bar an applicant and five in the Association. It was admitted by the American Bar president that, "Now, as you know, there is nothing whatever either in the Constitution or By-Laws of the Association drawing the color line, but as you equally know, there are usually and probably always pdesent at meetings of the Association at least five members who will vote against an applicant if and because he is a Negro; and also that there is usually and perhaps always upon the Executive Committee at least one member who will vote against an applicant if he chances to be a Negro."

Folkes Trial

came abroad the train. Folkes prepared sandwiches for some aviators who were drinking their own liquor on the train.

Charles Scurry, who was in the first car behind the diner, testified that he was seated so that he could have seen anybody who entered or left his car, and also refuted the Marine's testimony.

Shaw said the Marine had blood on his right shoe, on his right thumb, on the wrist of his right shirt sleeve, and had blood on his left hand and on his trousers. Wilson had previously said the man he was chasing was a white man (told to Harry M. Hughes and Shaw, and that the man wore brown pin striped suit. Later, Wilson said the man was either a light Negro or a dark white man.

L. Orth Sizemore, special prosecutor hired by the slain woman's father, who is assisting District Attorney Harlow Weinrick, made the State's opening remarks before the jury this morning, asking them to find Folkes guilty of murder in the first degree. "The duty of the State as per evidence heard will prove beyond a reasonable doubt that Folkes is guilty." He told of the dead woman's background in Virginia. He further stated that the State could not convict a man on his own statement unless that statement was backed up with facts. He gave a Folkes' purported reason for the killing as the fact that Mrs. James was "his kind of a woman."

The defense put Mrs. Jessie Folkes, wife, and Mrs. Clara Folkes, mother, of the accused man on the stand. Both woman testified that Folkes was very intoxicated at the time he made the confession at their home.

All witnesses who were on the train at the time of the slaying testified that they heard Mrs. James say "My God, this man is killing me—I can't stand this any longer!" Folkes, who was supposed to be astride the woman at this time, did not hear her say this.

The State had no fingerprints made from the berth, and failed to produce the knife used for the killing. They found blood, not 'under Folkes' fingernails, but under the fingernails of Harold Wilson, U. S. Marine, who was held as material witness in the case.

The defense counsel made his closing argument to the jury this afternoon. He said that the evidence shown was "the rankest kind of circumstantial evidence I have ever seen in my 41 years as a criminal lawyer."

He reminded the jury of its pledge to return a verdict based upon a fair and impartial consideration of the facts presented. He further stated "Go ahead and send him to the gas house; it's your conscience that you have to live with—not mine. You are trying Folkes and not me," in his very convincing argument.

The prosecution admitted before the jury that "one of two people on the train could have possibly committed the murder; Folkes or Wilson."

Lomax scored the Los Angeles police department for its action in giving liquor to a man in obtaining a confession. He particularly scored Captain Rasmussen and Lieutenant E. A. Petrich for their action in this matter. He cited the background of the slain woman, and closed with saying the berth light was on in Lower 13. None of the witnesses said who turned it on. "If it was on when Folkes was supposedly in the berth, Mrs. James would have said 'This nigger is killing me'—not that 'this man is killing me.'

Funches, dining car waiter, who was subpoenaed by the State as witness, did not appear on the stand. Lomax questioned this action, asking why he did not appear.

In the closing remarks, the prosecution failed to refute any of these major points as brought out by the defense.

The case goes to the jury tomorrow morning, after Judge L. G. Llewellyn reads off the instructions to the jury.

Money is always interesting—even if it's somebody else's. That's why I'm keeping an eye on the British and American plans for stabilizing finances after the war. In fact, I wouldn't mind a job as stable boy in a deal like that. The Treasury Dept. has suggested using a common monetary system called Unitas. Instead of the dollar sign, we now have, the money would be indicated by "UN" with a dash through it. If the govt. will make the money—we will be glad to help out by making the dash for it. Well dollars or Unitas—what difference does it make as long as you're healthy. Sorry, we won't be able to publish your answers.

Gems of Thought
Music

Music is the fourth great material want of our nature—first food, then raiment, then shelter, then music. —Bovee.

Harmony makes small things grow; lack of it makes great things decay. —Sallust.

Music resembles poetry; in each are numerous graces which no methods teach, and which a master hand alone can reach. —Pope.

The direct relation of music is not to ideas, but to emotions —in the works of its greatest masters, it is more marvelous, more mysterious than poetry. —Henry Giles.

Music is the harmony of being: but the music of Soul affords the only strains that thrill the chords of feeling and awaken the heart's harp-strings. —Mary Baker Eddy.

The language of tones belongs equally to all mankind, and melody is the absolute language in which the musician speaks to every heart. —Richard Wagner

WAR ON NEGRO

TRUTH: For 323 years a war of prejudice, discrimination, lynching and abuses has been waged against us. I began to fight this battle wren I discovered that I was a 'made fool.' Mark you, not a fool but a 'made one', like many intellectuls.

Thinking people are asking: What are we—Negroes, colored People or what? What is a NEGRO? No educator has ever given a satisfactory answer. They haven't the courage. The truth has never been told. Why is NEGRO the most disputed name? Because the truth is not known. Truth is The Basis of Education. I went to a university: spent 5 years in law school in Boston, became counsellor in public schools. Worked in educational sociology at New York University.

After 15 years' investigation, study and research, I found the facts, the history, the truth about the race.

With my discovery, I made money, and gained world respect.

It can do the same for you. I have compiled it in the great book: "HUMAN SIDE OF PEOPLE." 399 pages, 84 pictures by myself. Raphael P. Powell. The demand for this book by thousands proves that it shows the way to success and is helping to win the war against race prejudice. Price $3. Send orders to: PHILEMON CO., 224 West 135th St., New York City, GUARANTEED: The only book which gives the TRUTH about our race.

SEN. DOWNEY ASKS INVESTIGATION OF ARMY AIR CORPS

Proposes Subcommittee to Determine Military Status of Minority Groups

By JOHN KINLOCH
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—California's Senator Sheridan Downey, following conferences with Washington representatives of the EAGLE, introduced in the Senate Thursday a resolution demanding full investigation of discrimination against Negroes in the armed forces following a blunt, hard-hitting speech designed to give John Rankin and Martin Dies caniption fits.

Downey's action came as the result of weeks of discussion with officials of the Pittsburgh Courier, Dean William Hastie, who resigned his post as Civilian Aide in the War Department in protest against Jim-Crow in the air forces, and the growing national ferment over the treatment accorded Negro soldiers and officers in many areas of this country and overseas.

The California Senator's proposal asked that a subcommittee of the Senate Military Affairs Committee be appointed to "investigate the status of the Negro and other minority groups to determine the extent of compliance with the draft act's prohibition against racial discrimination."

Downey's action is the best news to come out of Washing-

BANDIT QUEEN, HENCHMEN IN KIDNAPPING, ROBBERY

Thought to have been the same young woman who has been the leader of a bandit trio, responsible for a number of recent stick-ups, and even the robbing and burning of a house a while back, detectives are looking for two male, and a woman kidnappers of L. A. Russeling of the Lankershim Hotel, 4th and Broadway.

At about 5 a. m. last Tuesday morning, Russeling was waiting for a street car at the corner of 16th and Hooper, from night shift employment in the neighborhood. A car with the woman and her two companions drove up, stopped and at the point of guns, forced him to get in.

Driving around a bit until they had searched him thoroughly they dumped him out near 41st and Central avenue, without him being able to get the number of the car. However, he gave police a fair description of the bandits, and police hope to eventually capture the "Bandit Queen," and her fellowers.

SPARKS, OF ALABAMA, SPEAKS

TUSKEGEE, Ala.—Your son John or brother Joe or cousin Eddie stationed here in the Jim-Crow army air corps unit have a sick feeling at the pit of their stomachs this week.

Things could be worse, though, because they don't know yet that California Senator Sheridan Downey has introduced a Senate resolution asking a full probe of racial discrimination and segregation in the armed forces. They don't know that Downey mentioned their plight

Boy Car Thief Wounded In Central Ave. Mid-Day Chase

With crowded Central avenue at mid-day yesterday thrown into a welter of excitement by police pistol shots, pedestrians scuttling for cover, and autos sideswiped and jammed, two young men in a stolen car tried at terrific speed to outrun two traffic officers. In spite of the fact that the car was wrecked against the curb at 28th and Central avenue, the driver of the stolen vehicle is still at large, having leaped out and run for it, a bullet in his shoulder failing to stop him.

According to Chas. Perry, 22, a defense worker who lives at 1422 E. 22nd Street, the other occupant of the speeding car, and who was arrested while still seated in it, the driver was a boy whose name he stated was McGill, or McGinnis, said to live in a two-story house in the 1500 block on West 35th Place. MUST HAVE EQUALITY OF SACRIFICE TO WIN WAR

So Says Philip Murray in Address at Olympic

Speaking to a packed house, Saturday, April 24th, at the Olympic Auditorium, Philip Murray, national CIO president, sounded the keynote for the stimulation of a real people's "win the war" rally. Many notables were in attendance, including His Excellency, the Most Reverend John J. Cantwell, Archbishop of Los Angeles; Mayor Fletcher Bowron, Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, of the Wilshire Boulevard Temple; David J. MacDonald, International Secretary-Treasurer: United Steel Workers of America (CIO), and the Right Rev. W. Bertrand Stevens, Episcopal Bishop of Los Angeles, who all took an active part in the program. Guests from the film colony included Miss Lena Horne, Director Herbert Biberman, and Lionel Stander.

Also present, and introducing the speaker, president Phillip Murray, was the ever-popular Laborite, Harry Bridges, whose entrance into the auditorium brough forth thunderous applanse from the audience.

Preceding the main speaker, a very interesting and colorful program was rendered, with musical selections furnished by the United States Service Band. Highlighting the program was the presentation of a playlet, "Three Union Brothers from Out of Town," written by Paul Jerrico and Earl Robinson, and directed by Herbert Biberman. Taking prominent parts in the playlet were Lionel Stander and our own charming Lena Horne, who, during the course of her performance, came on with a

MUST FIGHT FOR COLEMAN'S FREEDOM

According to recent information from the Coleman Defense Coordinating Committe, in San Francisco, there will be no lag in the fight for Festus Coleman's freedom.

Many know the story of the arrest and conviction of Coleman some two years ago on charges of rape, perversion and robbery which resulted in his being given three maximum sentences to run consecutively—imprisonment for life.

Believing in the innocence of Festus Coleman, the committee will ask Governor Warren to grant an unconditional pardon. The parole board will be asked to grant immediate parole. All citizens who believe in the American right—the right to a free trial regardless of race, creed, or color, are urged to write letters to Governor Warren, State Building, Sacramento, California, asking that Festus Coleman, a young WPA worker and father of two children, who was the victim of a prejudiced trial, be given the freedom which is rightfully his.

Request Senator Downey Hear War Man Power Jim Crow

A telegram was sent Sunday to Senator Sheridan Downey, chairman of senate sub-committee on war manpower, requesting that Negro representatives be heard on Jim Crow practices which affect manpower and production. Hearings are being held daily, this week only, in Room 115, State Building, Los Angeles.

The effort was initiated by the Los Angeles Negro Victory Committee and has met with the approval of church, labor, fraternal and civic groups, and the press.

The telegram read in part ". . . in the interest of our nation's fullest mobilization for a complete and crushing defeat of Hitlerism we ask to be heard."

Sources close to the Senator have given assurance that the request will be granted; but the date will be before press time.

Representatives of organized labor will be heard Thursday and Friday, April 29 and 30, and may possibly continue to Saturday.

It is reported that the CIO will present many cases of discrimination in its brief. Hearings are open to the public.

Organizations and individuals jointly participating in the Negro representation are: Victory Committee, N. A. A. C. P., Urban League, Leadership Round Table, Benjamin J. Bowie Post 228, American Legion, Baptist Ministers' Union, African Methodist Ministerial Alliance, Elks Civil Liberties Committee, Shriners of Egyptian Temple, Shipyard Workers' Committee for Equal Participation, Lockheed-Vega "Yea Vote" Committtee on Referendum.

Fay E. Allen, Norman O. Houston, Clayton D. Russell, Thomas L. Griffith, Loren Miller, Charlotta A. Bass, Leon H. Washington, Jr., The California Eagle, The Los Angeles Sentinel, The Los Angeles Tribune, and the Neighborhood Times.

A reply was received today (Tuesday) from Senator Sheridan Downey, advising that a Negro representative (with witnesses) may appear before the Senate sub-committee on War Man-power, Wednesday, April 28, at 3:00 p. m., Room 115, State Building.

Attorneys Denton, Griffith and Miller, for organizations participating, have prepared data to be given to the Senate sub-committee.

No More Negroes Wanted In City Housing Project

The Los Angeles City Housing Authority now refuses to consider applications of Negro families for housing at Aliso Village, largest housing project in the city. This condition was revealed today by the L. A. Negro Victory Committee on the basis of complaints of J. J. Page, M. H. Tounds and Freddie Clark, all of whom have applications pending with the housing authority and whose circumstances should be considered "emergent."

A checkup by the Victory Committee revealed that Aliso has 300 vacant units for which the Authority hasn't enough "white" applications, but that no more Negro families will be housed because the "Negro quota is filled." The "quota" for each of the city's projects is determined by the proportion of Negro families previously residing in the community where the projects are now located.

"The City Housing Authority is guilty of obstructing the war effort," said Clayton D. Russell, Victory Committee Chairman, "and it is our duty to every American to see that this quota system is discontinued. We would like every one refused or 'delayed' in obtaining housing to report the facts to our office at 4073 South Central Avenue. We are studying ways and means to stamp out this Jim Crow practice."

AIRCRAFT WORKER ROBBED ON STREET IN BLACKOUT

When Henry Simpkins, of 805 E. 33rd street, was walking towards Central avenue between Hooper avenue and Central last Sunday night there suddenly came the blackout. However he continued walking, making his way fast as he could in the darkness.

But about 8:45, three men leaped on him from behind, and began pulling him into an alley, without saying a word. He struggled with them but one of them stabbed him in the leg, and he was overpowered. They robbed him of his wallet containing $35, papers, credentials, etc., and disappeared.

Simpkins' wound was treated at Georgia Street Receiving Hospital, but during the blackout the victim could give no good description of them, except that they were colored.

Let's have those 45 more signatures needed to bring the Discharge Petition before Congress for a vote.

Up until press time, we have no news stating that Tom Ford, 14th Congressional District representative, had signed the petition Largely the Negro people living in the 14th are responsible for Mr. Ford's presence in Congress. Have you, Mr. and Mrs. Voter, sent your congressman, Tom Ford, a letter or telegram telling him that you expect him to do his bit in helping to abolish the most vicious legislation protecting so-called States Rights ever hitched on to State Constitution.

Abolition of the Poll Tax will not only liberate 10,000,000 disfranchised American citizens living in the Poll Tax States, but will eradicate the spirit of the Poll Tax and Nazi Germany which reflects itself in such individuals as the writer of this letter:

Richmond P. Benton & Sons
807-809 Union League Bldg.
Los Angeles, California.
Gentlemen:

Your special delivery letter concerning the Adams-for-Board of Education campaign arrived today.

For the first time in our eight years of publishing the Eastside Journal we are going to refuse to accept political advertising. It has always been our policy to give every candidate an equal opportunity to tell his message to the people of this district. Even when the writer was a candidate for public office the columns were open to his opponents.

It was our sense of fair play that prompted our policy. Now we find a campaign being conducted on the lowest of political ethics; even lower than the lowest. You are associated with a program to defeat Mrs. Fay Allen because she is a member of a minority race, a Negress.

Your letter lays unusual stress on the fact that Mrs. Allen is a Negress. (You do not even give her the courtesy of placing a capital letter at the head of NEGRESS.) That type of politics would be in place in Germany or any Nazi dominated nation but this is democratic America. Remember? Where every man is equal.

You indicate that this is a "most vital campaign." We feel that we must agree with you. It is most vital that Mrs. Adams be defeated so that she and her bigoted associates do not get a foothold in public office.

It is only fair that we inform you that we intend to have this letter published in our newspaper and all other fair-minded publications.

Yours truly,
AL S. WAXMAN.

Editor Waxman is of another race. His stand in this matter should stimulate the interest of the Negro people in the district to an enthusiastic support for the re-election of Fay Allen, not only because we have [illegible] in her ability, but because her election is vital NOW in order to defeat the forces of Hitlerism. The forces which are rampant in our city and nation—seeking to break down every worthwhile institution that we, as a race, have built up—and I need not remind you of the price we have already paid to gain these meagre accomplishments.

Housing Need Great as Low Rent Building Suspended

12 PER CENT OF TOTAL DWELLINGS FOR NEGROES

Negro tenants will occupy approximately 88,000 public housing units, representing 12 per cent of a total of 744,000 dwellings and developed at a cost of more than $360,000,000, when the current public housing program is completed, Herbert Emmerich, Commissioner of the Federal Public Housing Authority, announced today.

According to recent estimates, approximately 42,000 of these dwellings will be provided by the war housing program which reached a total of 612,000 units on March 15. The provisions for Negro tenants comprise seven per cent of this program.

Under the low-rent, non-war program, which totalled 132,000 homes, nearly 46,000 homes have already been completed and occupied by Negro tenants. Many of these low-rent dwellings, located in war production centers, now house Negro war workers. The scarcity of critical materials and labor, both of which must be used for vital war purposes, has necessitated the suspension of building under the low-rent program for the duration of the war. Consequently, almost 3,500 of the low-rent dwellings authorized and planned for tenancy by Negroes are now temporarily suspended.

In the development of the total housing program, Negro construction workers had earned more than $33,000,000 at the end of 1942. This represented 12 per cent of total payroll expenditures. Negro craftsmen had received $7,000,000 or four per cent of total wages paid to skilled workers.

Approximately 16,000 of the war dwellings for Negro workers brought into war production areas have been completed for the housing of families and single persons, while 18,000 are now under construction. Under the speed of the war housing program, all these should be completed and occupied by June, 1943.

Although detailed estimates are not available, a sizeable number of war workers are included among the 150,000 Negro occupants of the 46,000 low-rent homes developed by the PWA Housing Division and the United States Housing Authority (now administered by FPHA). These developments were constructed at a cost of $220,000,000. The total low-rent program of 162,000 units houses an estimated 462,000 persons.

In addition to Negro construction workers who have taken part in the public housing program, Negro manpower has also been utilized in the management and maintenance of public housing projects. More than 1,000 Negroes are currently employed in various capacities, including managers, engineers, clerical, and custodial workers. One hundred and thirty Negroes are now in charge of projects. In the total housing program, there were about 2,700 projects as of March 15, 1943.

Discussing the relation between Negro war housing and Negro war production employment, Mr. Emmerich, speaking for himself and John B. Blandford, Jr., Administrator of the National Housing Agency of which the FPHA is a constituent unit, declared:

"We realize fully that public housing is essential to the efforts of American industry to comply with the President's Executive Order 8802, reaffirming the non-discrimintion policy of the United States Government. For us, accepting the responsibility of meeting the housing needs of Negro war workers, insofar as possible under the limitations of the war housing program, means only continuing racial policies which have been in effect throughout the history of public housing.

"Since it is the policy of the National Housing Agency and the Federal Public Housing Authority to provide war housing to meet the proportionate needs of essential Negro in-migrant war workers, the percentage of their employment in essential war work."

Car Thief

a city-wide drag-net out for him, his capture is expected momentarily, The two officers, who declared the determined thief, the most desperate, and his flight the most reckless of any recent experiences, were Geo. W. Brown and Ted Dawson, of Central Station radio detail.

They were on the lookout for a fine tan coupe, stolen on Spring Street, from H. D. Nemo, of Arcadio on Easter Sunday, when they spied it at about 11:15 o'clock yesterday, parked by a soft-drink place near 20th and Hooper, with the two boys seated in it. But when they turned around and drove back to investigate it, the boy at the wheel hurriedly started it, threw it in high, and wheeled west on 20th Street.

With the police car in hot pursuit they swirled into Central Avenue, and swept south, swerving from side to side, and narrawly missing dozens of other vehicles and pedestrians. At 28th and Central, the stolen car seeming to have gotten out of control of the driver, sideswiped two other cars, plunged into the rear of another, then into the curb, smashing probably beyond repair. Before the officers could pull up, the driver leaped out and ran down 28th Street with Dawson chasing him on foot. But so fleet was the suspect that he easily outdistanced the officer, who fired after he had called upon him several times to halt. He stumbled momentarily when the slug hit him but he kept going, disappearing among some houses.

Telling his story to an Eagle reporter, and the police, Perry, who was injured about the head and back when the coupe crashed," said: "I work at an aircraft plant, and was waiting for my share-the-ride car to pick me up at 20th and Hooper when Eddie pulled up and spoke. He asked me where I lived now, and invited me to sit in the car and wait. I asked him to park on the other side of the street, so I could see my car when it came for me and he did. Just then I saw the police car come by, and when it turned around, Eddie started the motor and exclaimed 'here goes some fun!' As he flew away I asked him if the car was a stolen one and when he answered 'yes' I urged him to stop and let me get out. 'Do you think I want to get arrested' he answered, and I was afraid to jump. When we hit those other cars, my head smashed against something, but when he jumped out and ran, I stayed until you officers came, because I had nothing to do with it."

Perry was booked at Newton Station on suspicion of being an accomplice in grand theft auto, but since he was, according to his story, a victim of circumstances, it is thought he will be treated leniently.

NEGRO WORKERS CHRISTEN LIBERTY SHIP IN KAISER YARDS

Thousands of Negro shipyard workers in the Kaiser yards at Richmond, California, participated in the launching of the S.S. Hall Young on March 31, 1943, after Miss Beaulah Whittington, an employee of three days' standing, drew the sponsor's ticket from a pool of 35,000 employees. The lucky Miss Whittington is shown breaking the bottle of champagne on the hull of the ship. The new Liberty Ship S.S. George Washington Carver will be launched soon in the adjacent Richmond Shipyard No. 1.

Downey Blases War Department Cover-Up Publicity

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A beautiful chorus to Sen. Sheridan Downey's solo performance in the Senate this week,—his demand for sweeping investigation of racial discrimination in the armed forces—was the newest statement by tough Dean William Hastie, who resigned as Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War in protest against the Army's jim-crow policies.

Blasting a cover-up attempt by the War Department publicity section, Hastie hammered home the ungarnished truths that he has been shouting to an aroused nation ever since his resignation several weeks ago.

A detailed, thorough document, Hastie's new denunciation of the Department for which he was formerly employed made the following points:

1. The War Department definitely provides for Jim-Crow of Negro and white officers at Tuskegee.

2. A consistent policy of advancing white administrative officers, who have no exceptional qualifications, and restricting Negro administrative officers to subordinate positions is the policy of the War Department.

3. It is ridiculous that the War Department now explains that the use of Negro service pilots is "under study." This matter, he says, has been "under study" for a year . . . The real trouble is the practical impossibility of working out a Jim-Crow plan for using service pilots, and that:

4. The suggestion of the War Department that Negroes are trained only for single engine pursuit flying and not for bombardment, "because of the technical and other features present in flying" is sheer nonsense. The single engine pursuit pilot has the most difficult and exacting aerial task. The fact is that the Air Forces do not propose to give the Negro any greater opportunity in flying than they are forced to give.

In concluding, Hastie said: "Altho there have been some recent improvements, the practices and policies of the Air Corps are still very bad, far worse than the new War Department statement would lead the public to believe."

as one of the reasons for his proposed investigation.

Of course, they'll never know it if we back home don't fight like blue blazes to see that no poll-taxer-Republican coalition of reactionary diehards kills the Downey resolution before it sees the light of day.

Why The Boys Are Sick

The Tuskegee lads, boys from fine homes all over the nation, are sick today because they have just heard the speech of Alabama's Governor Chauncy Sparks delivered as a special Founder's Day Address to nearby Tuskegee Institute.

The Governor did a bit of what he termed "talking plain" about the "so-called problem" of race relations.

The way the Governor has got it figured out, everything's simple. Negroes should curl up in a corner and keep quiet.

The Negro and white races in the South, he told Tuskegee, must be governed by the "principle" of "absolute segregation" and "independent development."

In a fit of rosy condescension, however, Sparks conceded that the elevation of the Negro is a challenge "that forcefully tells us we shall be better off if we reach down and lift up a struggling, neighboring people to a higher plane of education and economic security.'

Fine talk for the ears of boys who are offering their lives for the defense of the nation in its most dangerous combat corps!

Attacks Divorced Wife With Knife In Mother's Home

Although she secured a divorce from him some time ago, Mrs. Ruby Brazelin, who resides at her place of employment, 475 Prospect Terrace, Pasadena, has been frequently molested and threatened by her former husband, Arthur, 42, of 457 E. 40th place, she told police last Monday. He had also for the past month been threatening her employer, besides making numerous attempts to get to "talk to her."

On last Monday night at about 11:15, while she was visiting her mother at 1282 E. 49th street, Braelin had again attempted to see her. However her mother would not admit him, telling him that her daughter said she did not want to talk to him, the irate man then broke into the house and sticking a vicious looking knife to her throat, threatened to kill her. But when her mother's landlord entered, he hurriedly put the knife back into his pocket and fled.

Motorists Advised To Make Plans For Next Tire Survey

Home-front motorists operating on "B" and "C" gasoline rationing books this week were urged by the Automobile Club of Southern California to make plans now for their second 1943 periodic tire and wheel inspection.

Required under the nationwide mileage rationing program, the "C" holders' next deadline falls on May 31, while the "B" book motorists must adhere to this rule on or before June 30.

Soldier Jailed In Robbery

Omar Taborn, a soldier attached to a chemical warfare regiment station in Burbank, has been arrested and jailed by Newton Street police officers on a charge of suspicion of robbery. Taborn was arrested at his home upon complaint of Kim Wong, Chinese, who complains that the soldier and several soldier companions came into a room where he was asleep and relieved him of his money totalling some $80.00. The accused man, however, who is represented by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, denies the charges and claims that he and his friends were visiting his home on a week end trip from camp and were enjoying themselves in a friendly game when the officers arrested them upon the accusation of the Chinaman. He is being held pending further investigation by the authorities.

Divorces Former Band Leader

Pretty Jenevieve Webb, ex-chorine and one-time toast of Los Angeles night spots, was awarded her interlocutory decree of divorce from Lawrence (Speed) Webb, former named band leader and now reportedly in the U. S. Navy. The matter was heard before Judge John Gee Clark in Dept. 18 of Superior Court last Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Webb, who was represented by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, told the court that the dapper band leader deserted her immediately after their marriage which was the culmination of a whirlwind courtship and elopement to Santa Ana. The couple has one child now fourteen years of age who is in the custody of the mother. She stated that Webb left the coast several months after the marriage and has not returned to California since that time.

OPEN LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT

April, 1943.

Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

By this time next year I expect to be dead. I am in good health and am of fairly sound mind. Should the array of forces as I now see them actually culminate in my death, my few friends will acknowledge my passing as a young American who died fighting fascism; as one who succumbed to the power and tyranny of the "master race."

I am not morbid as I write this—no more morbid than any of the millions of red blooded Americans who have taken the oath to lay down their lives if needs be to rid the world of the virulence of fascism and the hatred, ignorance and fears of the master race doctrine. The difference in my case and that of the others is this—which is my reason for writing you—I can't 'for the life of me' see the wisdom of going thousands of miles away to fight the enemy when 'the enemy' is killing my friends every day here at home. The enemy to which I refer consists of those forces, wherever they may be found, that militantly oppose the principles you outlined in the Atlantic Charter.

I am of draft age, but have not as yet been inducted into the Army. It is plainly evident to me, however, that when the "United Nations" defeat the Axis powers, hundreds of thousands of lives have yet to be expended to achieve the victory desired. This means more millions of men are needed in the Army, including me. I shall accept my induction with solemn resolution.

While I am in civilian clothes, however, it is easy for those who advocate the master race doctrine in America to look down upon me because I am a Negro. Americans are accustomed to looking down upon Negroes even though they have to go through the tiresome and humorous process of walking on the stilts of self-flattery.

In my present clothes it is easy for the American fascists to think of me as being docile, ignorant, lazy, humorous, incorrigible and inferior. That is what everybody says I am. The white newspapers say it; the radio says it; the motion pictures say it and the schools say it—I have heard it so often that I have said it to myself at times; but I know better now! But even so, the constitution gives Uncle Tom his birthright and the Atlantic Charter reaffirms his right to freedom.

But when I don the khaki of Uncle Sam's Army, the act of dressing up as a SOLDIER of FREEDOM will give me an adequate dose of dignity. In the uniform of a United States soldier I shall refuse to accept the humiliation formerly heaped upon me by Hitler's henchmen in America. I shall come to realize the full meaning of Patrick Henry's statement, 'give me liberty or give me death.' I shall be able to think of no better words to use if and when I am sent to a southern army camp, where seldom a week passes that does not see some Negro Soldiers of Freedom killed because they had the courage to stand up and say that human freedom in Germany is the same as human freedom in Georgia. After I take the oath and swear to defend the constitution against all enemies, I will consider it my duty to defend it against the cruel advocates of the master race doctrine at home. In the khaki of the Army I shall remember and appreciate your famous words that "we are not fighting this war for men to live together as master and slaves . . . We are fighting for the spirit of brotherhood." I shall repeat those lines to everyone who tries to impose the master race doctrine upon me. I shall stand on my two feet and say as did Patrick Henry, give me liberty at home or give me death at home. Don't take me to Deutchland to die; I prefer to die for freedom in Dixie.

I am not inviting death, because I have only begun to live. But there are thousands of Negro soldiers like me, who, knowing perhaps they must give up their lives for the cause of freedom have decided to make this greatest gift—this supreme act of charity—begin at home.

In other words, Mr. President, when I shall have been inducted into the armed services of this country I shall more persistently, more vigorously and more definitely attack the foes of human liberty in the United States. I shall consider it my duty to do this at the risk of life and limb. I shall denounce with all my might the double standard of "de-mock-racy" and I will correctly define democracy. I will read to them the Declaration of Independence with its equality clause. I will recite the constitution and not leave out the thirteenth, the fourteenth and the fifteenth amendments. I will call their attention to your discussion of the four freedoms and tell them I am under oath to defend all of these. I will do all of this and more and when they advise me to be patient as they did when they thought I was Uncle Tom, I'll reply—patience, hell—this is war!

There is no other course left open to me, yet I know I will not prevail upon them to change. Even though I speak the truth my voice is too small to be heard. These American mongers of the master race doctrine will quickly and deftly silence me. They think that by killing me and all like me who speak out for full human freedom at home, they will have solved their problem. They will fail just as surely as Hitler has failed to do this identical thing in Europe. You know and I know that the ideal of human freedom cannot be squelched by killing the man in whose breast it is [illegible]. But because my words will fall on the ears of [illegible]cists I know they have already decided to "give [illegible]ath" as they have given to many of my buddies before me. They will kill me and the report will read "death by accident." But my friends will know my death resulted because I was fighting against fascism. They will tell others who will tell others who in turn will tell others, until finally the result will be as if a thousand men have been killed instead of one. The seeds of human freedom are being carried everywhere by this current whirlwind. The witch-doctors of the master race doctrine in America will find they have increased their problems ten thousand-fold.

I thought I could tell you about these things, Mr. President, first because there is such a large number of Negroes and others both in and out of the Army of the United States who feel as I do. Secondly, since you are the Commander-in-Chief of the United States Army and co-author of the Atlantic Charter, which embodies the four freedoms, you might want to do something about this situation before it is too late.

Respectfully,
MARK M. GREENE

Hollywood, Calif.—When Life Magazine came out in the April 19 edition with two pages of photos snapped at the exclusive $10 per plate banquet to Madam Chiang Kaishek, tendered at the Ambassador Rose Room, everyone wondered why none of the famous race artists present were shown. But Negroes all over the country were proud to note that in a panel showing Jimmy Cagney's party, one colored Army officer, handsome, soldierly Lieut. S. W. Booker, was seated next to star Joan Blondell, who was smiling and chatting pleasantly with him.

But there were race screen celebrities there including Rochester, Bill Robinson, and Hattie McDaniel. The Lieutenant was there because of Hattie, as her escort. Mr. Crawford, being up north on business, could not get away for the affair, so Booker, a friend of the family, was phoned at his station at Ft. Huachucha, and invited to attend as Hattie's escort. Highly pleased, he secured use of an army plane in order to reach here on time and was seated by Hattie with the Cagneys who had invited her to join them.

But when the cameraman learned that Life could only spare two pages, he saw that since the other sepians were so widely scattered that he would have to miss some one, he suggested to Hattie that he only include our representation from the armed forces. Realizing the wisdom of it she readily agreed and moved to the opposite side of the table, while the photographer shot the other side. The picture shows Cagney, next Mrs Cagney, next Kenneth Thompson, secretary of Screen Actors' Guild, next Joan Blondell, and then Lieut. Booker. Incidentally he enjoyed himself immensely, met many noted people, and will remember it as perhaps his last social affair for a long time. A few days later his regiment, the 75th, was ordered to Louisiana for strenuous battle maneuvers, then probably to one of the fronts.

U. S. Population Shifted Since '40

According to estimates prepared by the U. S. Bureau of Census, there has been a considerable nation wide shift in population between April 1, 1940 and May 1, 1942. States which have experienced a loss in population are New York, 568,166; Minnesota, 112,738; Pennsylvania, 179,259; North Carolina, 105,683; Oklahoma, 158,120.

States gaining population were Michigan, 288,221; District of Columbia, 163,281; Virginia, 149,406; California, 317,077. For the entire United States, the Bureau estimates a total loss of 340,859 in civilian population.

Brothers United After Years of Separation

Mr. and Mrs. Blaney Belvin of Oakland, California, are in the city visiting Mr. Rufus Belvin, of 327½ East First Street, brothers of Mr. Belvin.

The Belvin brothers, separated since childhood, had not seen each other in more than twenty-three years. Blaney Belvin, and his wife were former residents of Stockton, California. While in Southern California, they plan to visit old acquaintances, and make new friends.

Investigation

ton on the race question since establishment of the Fair Employment Practice Committee. Its effectiveness, however, depends upon prompt public support, especially from the Senator's home state.

California organizations are watched closely here. Churches, individuals and trade unions must raise old harry until the Senate has favorably acted on Downey's resolution. Every action of support, no matter how small, is of real importance in this vote-sensitive, 1944-scared capital.

Senator Downey, one of the few militant Roosevelt Democrats left in the upper House, was one of the three members who recently voted against the Senate's recent disgraceful action in lifting the President's $25,000 a year limitation of salary decree. He was the only member who hoisted himself to his feet to blast the Big Business forces which had concentrated their whole gold-plated lobby against Roosevelt's salary decree.

DOWNEY DOESN'T BITE TONGUE

In an inspired address to the Senate, the fighting Californian said, "By the end of this year there will be more than 1,000,000 Negro Americans serving their country in the armed forces. Their heroism, their loyalty is unquestioned. The records of such Negro heroes as Dorie Miller at Pearl Harbor offer testimony of the will of the Negro people to defend the heritage of freedom and democracy which is the birthright of all Americans.

It becomes vital to the successful prosecution of America's war of survival that the morale of the Negro Americans in our armed forces, and of the 12,000,000 more who are now working on the home front, be not impaired by failure of any Government agency to live up to the letter and spirit of existing laws against discrimination!"

EAGLE ACTIVE IN SECURING SENATOR'S AID

Conversations with Senator Downey's office were conducted by this reporter more than a week ago asking for the introduction of the anti-bias resolution. The talks supported long-time efforts of the Pittsburgh Courier in Washington.

The position of California Negroes, a potential balance-of-power in the coming elections, was made clear.

I told the Senator that Negroes in his state were one hundred percent supporters of the nation's war for survival, but that they furiously resented the treatment of Negro soldiers in the armed forces, believing that this treatment contributes to defeat rather than victory.

I told him of the great mass meetings held in Los Angeles by the Negro Victory Committee demanding full protection of Negro soldiers against Southern mob violence, the Robeson meeting, the Powell meeting, the great city-wide burst of indignation that greeted an attack upon Negro flying students at Tuskegee several months ago.

It was further pointed out that the Negro vote in California is of decisive importance, being the only bloc which voted democratic during the recent gubernatorial campaign.

ADMINISTRATION OFFENSIVE

Sen. Downey, one of the men in Washington closest to the White House, may have launched the long-awaited Administration offensive against the poll-taxer sabotage of the administration's all-out war policies.

However, it must be stressed again and again that the Downey investigation will go no further against the solid wall of Dixie opposition which it is bound to meet than aroused public opinion, organized and articulate, can force it.

MOTHERS, FATHERS, HERE'S YOUR CHANCE!

To the mothers and fathers of boys in the armed forces who have received heart-rending letters about conditions faced by their soldier lads in the deep South—letters with which all Negro-America is tragically familiar—the challenge is flung.

If you, Negro mothers and fathers, brothers and sisters of army boys,—have any sympathy with their plight; if you have a spark of indignation against the nauseating restriction which bind the military effort of Negro soldiers, sing out loud and long and NOW!

PLAN BROADCAST

It is believed here that Senator Downey will soon appear on a national radio network to air the conditio nof racial intolerance in the armed forces.

Eagle editor Charlotta A. Bass stated today, "We of the EAGLE, who had only a small, though, we hope, effective part in securing the action of Senator Downey, wish to extend to the Pittsburgh Courier a rousing cheer for its extensive work in securing the factual data from which Sen. Downey worked and in spear-heading the movement for senatorial investigation. It is a job of which the whole Negro press may be proud."

New York Newspaper Publishers Drop Use of Word "Negro"

Los Angeles Newspapers should pattern after this:

The two year old campaign of the People's Committee for a more Democratic press began to bear fruit this week when the World Telegram, P. M., The Post and the Daily Worker never resorted to the flagrant misuse of any word denoting the race of people connected with crime.

On Tuesday, April 20th, and Wednesday, April 21st, these changes took place in the New York City downtown press. They were the result of conferences held by the People's Committee, Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., chairman, with publishers of New York City papers.

Public resentment reached a new high at a mass meeting held at the Golden Gate on April 4th. At that mass meeting over six thousand Harlem citizens issued a mandate to the People's Committee calling on them to arrange these conferences. Wires were immediately sent to Arthur Hayes Sulzberger, New York; Lee Wood, World Telegram; Colonel Patterson, New York Daily News; Ogden Reid, Herald Tribune; and William Randolph Hearst of the Journal American.

Committees from the People's Committee led by Mr. Joseph E. Ford, the Administrator; Dr. Channing Tobias, vice-chairman; and Rev. Ben Richardson, assistant to Dr. Powell called on the publishers. Those who served on the various committees were The Rev. John Johnson, Justice Hubert Delaney, Ed. Lewis, Executive Secretary of the New York Urban League; Miss Dorothy Funn, Secretary of the New York Labor Victory Committee and the afore-mentioned officers of the People's Committee. Each publisher said that they would "consider" the dropping of the use of the word "Negro" in connection with crime.

On Tuesday, April 6th Councilman Powell introduced into the City Council a resolution asking for a five man committee of the Council to confer with publishers.

There was close co-operation at all times among the various organizations working with the People's Committee in the forefront of which was the N. A. A. C. P.

"This is a most signal victory," The Rev. Mr. Powell commented. "The attitude of the publishers of New York City is especially commendatory and we do hope that what they have done, plus the decision of the daily press of Philadelphia a few months ago, will set a pattern for the rest of the nation. No other race is mentioned by its name in connection with crime except the Negro people. If any other race was mentioned we would be the first to fight that such discriminatory terms would be dropped. We feel that this marks a new day in the relationships of Negro people in the City of New York."

The People's Committee is composed of rank and file members and, also, organizational groups. Nearly every organization of Negro people in New York City has a representative in its council. It has a paid full time administrator, Joseph E. Ford. It serves as a clearing house for all the people's movements in New York. During the past twelve months it has placed over nine thousand people in better paying positions.

Los Angeles won its award by cutting its number of traffic deaths from 518 to 320 in 1942, a saving of 198 lives.

Robberies On The Increase As 7 In April

Police and authorities apply the increasing rate of juvenile delinquency to absence of parents in defense work, or improper discipline at home, but are at a loss to account for the great increase in robberies.

Up to the present date there has been 70 such crimes in the Newton district alone, they declare. These are the robberies and burglarizing of business houses, residences and warehouses, not counting the holdup and purse snatchings.

Jail Man On Assault Charge

Rufus Marshall, 3426½ Griffith avenue, has been arrested by officers of Newton Street Detective Bureau and jailed on a charge of assault by means likely to produce great bodily harm which came about upon the complaint of Robert Purdie, an acquaintance who asserts in a serious fight in which Marshall was the aggressor he was struck over the eye with a heavy glass object which caused great lacerations on his forehead and necessitated his removal to the hospital. Marshall, who is represented by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, denies the charges and asserts that all of his fighting was in self-defense. He appeared with his attorney in Div. 4 last Monday morning and was ordered to return to court for his preliminary hearing.

Gladys Childress, of whom we never quite weary writing, appears in recital Thursday (29th) at Barker Bros. . . . Mrs. Willa Evans, Bobbie's youthful, energetic mother, was in town from Frisco. She reports interesting things in interracial affairs in Frisco's USO, whence she plays an active role. Also reports Bobbie doing splendidly at Ft. Lex . . . Trezz Anderson, the lad appointed by Finley Wilson to represent the Elks anywhere in the world as long as he wears his khaki, is That Way about a local lady, Eula Henderson . . . San Diego tan tone USO gets a feminine assistant from these parts, according to the weekend presence of its director.

Billie Yarbo, whowe love much, is back in town after a layer than gay fling about Gotham, and we're heading this minute for her place to gab and giggle, ya betcha life . . . Maurelle, the dancer, calls: "I'm more than just pleased with the wonderful way Naida McCullough plays for my coming recital! She's more than just a pianist, really. Both of us will expect you Sunday afternoon, remember. And if you don't show up, we'll never forgive you!" . . . Musa Williams writes from NY, just before choo choo-ing to Frisco with Porgy & Bess: Honestly, Bill, sometimes its awful. We wrote for hotel reservations, and they actually replied they catered only to white Americans! We'll be glad to get to L. A." . . .

We've been well-buttonholed by members of the Business and Professional Girls League of the YWCA this past week and given details of their annual fashion show breakfast next Sunday. And sandbagged into buying tickets: And meekly agreed not only to be present at nine a.m. (shudder) but to wear a bright smile as well. The girls really deserve credit for their commendable organization . . . Brilliant lad: Reginald Hemphill . . . I sort've think twould be a sound idea, right here, to clear up what may be a lil confusion in days to come. Lovely, lissome Dorothy Johnson (gosh, twas good seeing her again and bear-huggin' her!) is in town from Chi (visiting the Ernest Weavers), and is being written of in various columns, etc. That gives us two Dorothy Johnsons in town, so hereafter don't get 'em mixed. Reflectively, I wonder if the two have met as yet? Chicago's Dorothy is here indefinitely. She's a favorite member of our own favorite Chi club, the Royalites, bless 'em all! And when Marva arrives, they'll be club sisters visiting the same town . . . Marie Joe Browne jots on the back of an Easter greeting from Gotham: "We won't return til June, or after."

The Bert Richeys weekended from San Diego, as did Clarence King. If ever Bob Robinson had a brother he certainly would be Bert Richey for they resemble strongly! By the way, Bob Has It Bad for a local glamour gal . . . Harold Browning, home, and looking great . . . Paul Williams, back from the East and due for a So. American business jaunt within next few months . . . Thats merrie on-your-way send-off for Earl Griffin at the Flamingo Sunday eveg was another bell-ringer. A roomful of congenial citizens kept things lively, and twas JUST the sortve intimate party we really go for! Something of a shock discovering Earl really didn't want to go East. Nice, too, meeting J. T. Gipson's fiancee, and learning they leave by plane for to wed. J. T.'s romantic look is something to stare at, believe me! Wanted me to pack along and best-man him, but if I wasn't here when the Catfish Row folks arrive, I'D NEVER hear the last of it.

MONTH OF MAY—Jno. Henry Lewis birthdays on the sixth; Ralph Metcalf on the twentieth; Fay Jackson on the eighth; Joan Robinson on the twenty-first; Wm. Grant Still on the eleventh; Countee Cullen on the thirtieth; Joe Louis on the fourteenth; Eula Henderson on the twenty-third; Exie Boutte on the twenty-sixth; Cato Robinson on the twenty-eighth; the Chas. Blacks wedding-anniversary on the tenth and the Dr. Clifford Gordons ditto on the thirty-first; Lescot observes his second year as Haiti's Chief on the fifteenth; twenty-eight years ago, this May A'Lelia Walker took over the Walker hair business, and Dean Dixon should recall May eighteenth, for twas that date he directed the NY concert at Mrs. FDR's request andpu shed him out into the limelight . . .

AKA's are busy with their cabaret plans for Porgy and Bess cast at the Alabam on the eleventh . . . Observation: Altho apparently quiet and retiring about it, I think Albert McNeil, the youthful music director at Independent, is the wonder lad of the year. Our first time to watch him was Good Friday when we journeyed in that neighborhood to hear the church choir sing. Gosh, how they've improved! McNeil obviously deserves a world of credit . . . I certainly like Ralph Vaughn's distinctive home! His ceiling in the study is the most unusual one I've seen, and darn if he hasn't put their family trees on the glass kitchen door . . . Mrs. Phil Fortier and her son are back from a week of Berkeley . . . WAAC Myrtle Anderson graduated from Des Moines the other day . . . Evelyn Warren and her daughter will attend special classes for three months prior to assuming USO duties at San Bernardino. We'll miss 'em!

Item: Louisville Negroes were denied admittance to see Cabin In The Sky . . . Delightful: Recent evening at the Turnabout Theatre. S'pity you don't see more of us taking in such affairs. How can you resist enjoying the Turnabout's Green Room? . . . That column letter by Cullen Fentress to Gordon Macker was a classic, and folks are talking about it yet . . . when Fentress is in the mood he can turn out a brilliant column, and we shout hooray . . . Spring is here, and most scribblers go batty swearing all-out allegiance to their writing sisters and brothers. We're no exception. We like Lillian Johnson-Greene, JTGipson, Levette, Erna Harris, LaMarr, Jessie Mae Brown, Almena (bless her!), and just EVERYBODY . . . yep, we love 'em all, by golly . . . (moist kiss) . . . (few tears) . . . Ah, Spring!

They tell me I've read no beautiful verse til I see that of Anita Scott Coleman . . . Did I tell you the Marvin and Iola Johnson baby is due in Aug.? A must: The fashion show revue at Pasadena's Scott Methodist Church, tomorrow (Thurs.) . . . In case you wondered, all ain't well on that NY weekly . . . Dr. A. A. Foster and his family are quietly planning a Mexico City junket . . . Deltas will meet at Tucson this summer . . . Bill Crain writes: "Have the gang write me, Cpl. Wm. Crain, Co. E, 4th QMTR, Ft. Warren, Wyo." . . . Bad taste: That black and white joke-batch in current Readers Digest . . . We met Eduardo Quevedo and Ignacio Lopez recently, and couldn't help admiring minority members with vision! . . . Edith Owens really enjoys her unique job . . . What's the story behind Lt. Booker who attended the banquet for Mme. (I Ans'd That Before!") Chiang?

Malcolm Thurburn's decidedly remarkable easel work lent a vivid touch to Easter Sunday! Many of us (gladly) responded to Helen and Jimmy Garrott's bid to stop by and view the pictures and have a cocktail. The occasion was brilliant, and what better season than Easter to see dear faces? Surprised, seeing Gordon Croques, who wekended from Oakland, and was ill. And surprised, too, seeing Ned Boyd, who was in town a few days. In fact, we saw many people we've missed seeing about! The blackout didn't do much to dampen the eveg, incidentally. (Weren't the stars beautiful?) The hosts were exactly as we admire hosts—informal, fracious, everywhere at once . . . a complete evening, Helen, Jimmy and Mr. Thurburn!

Later, to Elsie and Norman Archer's cozy home for midnight waffles and chocolate (Norman's the world's finest chef). I like the liveable touch they have, don't you? And their prints are most interesting. I enjoy being with them . . .

Suspension of Classes Would Retard War Progress

There was an appeal by the citizens to open war training classes at Jefferson High School. Two classes in machine shop training, such as riveting, assembly, welding, etc., were opened. These classes are for pre-employment and supplementary training.

But unless the required number of students attend, it will become necessary to suspend these classes.

"The shortest distance between two points is a straight line." Your first point is training. Your second point, winning the war. Jefferson High is a connecting link.

DOINGS AT POLY TECH

By David Carlisle

Joan Robinson, all student at Polytechnic High School, had the honor of leading the student body in the flag salute at the recent "Hey, Rookie" show at Poly. Joan, a cabinet member of the Girls' Athletic Association, is very active in girls' athletics.

Featured on Polytechnic High School's Easter Musicale, April 16, were Yvonne Cummings and Don Lee White. Yvonne sang "Alleluia" by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart and Don accompanied her.

The Musicale honored Poly boys in the armed forces. In the audience were parents and friends of the students, commemorating Open House Day. Families of service men were honored guests.

Chosen for outstanding service, Clyde Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Grimes of 1148 E. 43rd Place, became a Knight of Polytechnic High School on April 14. Grimes, a senior A, and an architectural student, is a justice of the Boys' Court, a varsity trackman, and has a very high scholarship record.

As a part of Polytechnic High School's commemoration of Pan-American Day, Jane Johnson, Spanish 6 student, gave a well-written summary in Spanish of the Readers' Digest article "El perro que mordia al amo," (The dog who bit his master), by James Thurber, before several English classes on April 14. Jane is the 11th grade Girls' League representative, a member of the student training class, and belongs to the Scholarship Society and the Junior Guild of Organists.

Serving as ushers at Polytechnic High School during Open House week, April 12 to 16, were several members of the Knights Athenians and the student training class. From the student training class came Jane Johnson and Adolphus Burley. Cornelia Lear, an Athenian, and David Carlisle and Clyde Grimes, both Knights, also ushered.

Woman's Organization Desires Curtailment of Liquor in United States

Evanston, Ill., April 29.—Practically all active belligerent countries except the United States have taken governmental action to curtail drinking of liquor, the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union said here today.

"An all-out war effort demands sobriety and curtailment of wasteful activities," said Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, national president. "All nations which have been in the war longer than we recognize the danger of alcoholic beverages. Canada recently officially rationed liquor, Germany has restricted all alcoholic beverages, and England, Russia and Japan and other fighting nations also have governmental restrictions. It is about time the United States benefited by their experience."

WHAT'S DOING IN THE YOUNGER SET

Jessie Mae Brown

Judging from the high-spirited promenading of the well dressed young setters, one would never know a war was going on. The Easter bonnets were decked with flowing veils, bunches of flowers, feathers, and what have you. The debs were dressed in the latest feminine fashions. And the gents, well most of them, had on the very very sharp olive drab, khaki root-suites. At church Sunday morning, took note of Katherine Dow, in a purple flowered creation, with draped effect, Eloise James, in a clever Tuxedo dressmaker suit, satin lapels and all. Edna Robinson in a teasing white hat. Jerry Stewart, looking very exotic in Raven black. Vivien Stevens sported a gamma striped suit, with delicate pink accessories. Betty Jean Waites topped her outfit with a navy blue cape. Marion and Roy Hill made a charming couple, when they walked to the altar to have their baby blessed.

Nothing special in the line of entertainment took place. Following church services, eyes were turned toward the avenue, where the "on timers" fell in the Memo, Alabam, and Elks Ball Room. Looked the crowd over, and pitched a ball. Hear that caught sipping a few expensive refreshments at the Memo, was cool, James Madison Jackson, togged down in a hard finished steel gray suit, with tan accessories. Matthem Thompson and wife, sporting a very fine Easter outfit of corresponding blue, looking most on. All of these gay blades were having a time till 8:30, when the black out sirens began to sound, letting them know that the war was still going on.

The Alpha Kappa women are taking the whole Alabam over on the 11th of May, when they give their annual benefit cabaret party. Fine plans are being made by Helen Thompson, Corrine Jones, Betty Yarbrough, and other club members for a super floor show. Hear that Wynonie Harris and Herb Jeffries have been lined up on the potential program.

From the looks of things, the LA Tri-Y fashion review and dance is going to be tops. Most of the tickets have been sold, and the crowd is patiently waiting Saturday night, when the affair takes place. The proceeds this year will be used to send two of the Tri-Y members to the annual Girl Reserve conference. Puffy Houston and Jessel Reid are two of the latest additions to the review.

WELL, WELL, WELL!

Lucille Gross and Herbie Boswell have tied the knot. The wedding took place in Tuskegee, Alabama, where Herbie is now stationed. Congrats, from the gang, kids. . . . Curtis Smith is now a 2nd Lieut. if reports are correct. . . . Local's are wondering why "football hero" Kenneth Williams had to go all the way to Tuskegee to catch the measles. . . . Frank Moody and Lorenzo Morris are latest additions to the famed flying school. Received word from the old Tuskegee bunch the other day. Most of the boys are stationed at Camp Stoneman, and expect to be leaving for foreign soil soon. Arnold Bankston, Rip Russel, and Clifford Wilson are now sergeants, while Tommy Hamilton and John Anderson are corporals. Dan Feyneil is no longer with the gang: he's stationed with the 332nd Fighters group. Sgt. Al Duvall is preparing to become a medical officer. The boys would appreciate mail from all of their friends before they leave, so be sure to write. . . . Tamlin Harris was in on furlough last week, looking the picture of health. He made known the fact that Thelma Green will become Mrs. Harris after the duration. . . . Ruth Cosby had a swell Easter with Stanley Loupe on furlough. . . . Wallace DeCuis spent Easter vacation in LA, trying to get things straight with his local friends about the misprint in the column a week or two ago. He's FREE, SINGLE, and Dis-engaged. Please believe me. . . . Connie Smart and Ernie Spearman make a cute couple. By the way, the Spearman twins are scheduled to leave for the army in a few days. . . . Sam Marlowe is stationed in Colorado, finds the army to be 100%. Leonard Beavers leaves Saturday. Hear that Benfield will be going along with him. . . . Chester Hill is home to stay. No more northern shipyard for him. . . . Albert Weems bids LA farewell to make Detroit his home. . . . Seen dining in the Club de Memo t'other day were Alice DeCuir and Emma Milhouse, long with Mrs. Bass. Douglas Van Vactor is in town on leave. He received a grand welcome from his pals. . . . Newlywed Annie Laurie Nesbett was in from 'Frisco over the Easter week; will join husband up north in a few days. . . . Deloris Hollis lets us know that a grand program has been planned at 8th and Town for next Sunday at 4 o'clock. Be sure to attend. In closing, Uncle Sam sent greetings to my big brother, Hoyt; like the others he'll be leaving soon.

Till next week . . .

NEVIN'S PUPILS HOST TEA

Dressed in the latest spring fashions, the mothers of the Sixth Grade pupils of the Nevin Avenue School were feted at a very pretty tea Thursday, April 15, at 1 p. m., in room 1A at Nevins School. Hostess for the affair were the very pretty sixth grade girls, who were very lovely in their pink and white aprons over dainty dresses, and spring flowers in their hair.

Mr. Anderson's room presented a very unique patriotic program. "Block Mothers" was the subject discussed by our president, Mrs. Dunlap. She urged all mothers to sign up to help in Civilian Defense, and at least 10 mothers responded.

"Victory Gardens" are the most popular subject of the day. All mothers who have one, don't delay; contact your president; there will be a "V" garden contest. You may win. Open house was hel throughout the day.

Mrs. Dunlap, president P. T. A., Mrs. Burke, school principal, and Ella Harrison, reporter.

CORRECTION

Owing to a typographical error in last week's issue of the paper, the name of Mrs. Helen Love was omitted from the list of very efficient hostesses who assisted so beautifully at the Silver Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Heard, of East Vernon Avenue, Sunday. Incidentally, Mrs. Love, one of Mrs. Heard's most treasured friends, and a cateress of note, supplied all of those very palatable cakes served by the hostess.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING DEMONSTRATES POWER

"Newspaper advertising has its power to quickly change buying habits," stated J. S. Foto, vice president of Acme Brewing Company, yesterday, as the Acme folks were deluged with nationwide congratulations for being among America's ten largest brewers. "When confronted with bottle cap rationing, we turned to newspaper advertising in the hope of converting people to the purchase of beer in quarts instead of previously-popular 11-ounce bottles. So successful was our newspaper campaign on Victory quarts that 1942 was the biggest year in Acme history, with a 28.7% increase over 1941. This was not only proof of the educational power of newspaper advertising but also of the patriotic manner in which the public responds to appeals for cooperation.

"With bottle caps rationed in order to conserve metals, and an unprecedented wartime demand for beer, it was necessary to show the public why it should buy in larger size bottles and make one cap do the work of three. It was a big job, needing both words and pictures for dramatic, forceful presentation, and newspapers seemed to us to be the logical medium. The sales figures fully justified our decision."

Only the Western beer ever to place among "the big 20" in the national beer field, Acme was 19th in national sales figures in 1939, advanced to 16th in 1940, again went ahead in 1941 to 12th position, and with total sales of more than 26 million gallons, attained 10th place in 1942, according to preliminary figures compiled by Research Company of America. One of the West's largest users of newspaper space, Acme's advertising is prepared by Brisacher, Davis & Van Norden, Inc.

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority Holds Installation Ceremony

On Sunday afternoon, April 18, in the beautiful home of Mrs. Leslie B. Crossland, the Kappa Chapter of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority held their installation of officers.

Officers were installed by Mrs. Dorothy Benton, acting chairman, in a most delightful manner. Many compliments were paid her for her excellent and very beneficial advice she gave those being placed in office.

The newly installed president, Miss Phyllis Kelson, popular and talented student of the University of California at Los Angeles, was presented with a lovely corsage of orchids and yellow tulips, symbolizing the colors of the sorority and the meaning of the office she held.

Mrs. Dorothy Benton, outgoing president, was presented a beautiful gold gavel by the sorority as a token of appreciation for her faithful and unlimited service, and for the esteem in which she was held by each member.

The sorority also presented Mrs. Leslie B. Crossland, very prominent in social and fraternal affairs, a gift in appreciation of her untiring efforts of assistance to Sigma Gamma Rho.

Following the ceremony, members and guests were served a delicious chicken dinner. The party remained after dinner, dancing and enjoying the atmosphere of the lovely home of Mrs. Crossland until late evening.

New officers installed were: Phyllis Kelson, President; Nicey Mann, Vice-President; Mildred Morris, Secretary; Vera Lee Mathis, Assistant-Secretary; Gloria Jones, Treasurer; Anna Mabery, Parlimentarian; Sadie Weemes, Historian.

WAAC RECRUITTING OFFICERS RETURN TO LOS ANGELES

Captain Harriette B. White, of Los Angeles, one of the first women to be commissioned at the WAAC Training Center, Ft. Des Moines, Ia., returned to the city recently to stimulate WAAC recruiting in this area.

Captain White, who has the honor of being one of the six Negro WAAC captains in the country, told of the numerous opportunities for advancement in the Negro companies stationed at Ft. Des Moines, Ia., Ft. Devons, Mass., and Ft. Huachuca, Ariz. "WAACs are stationed wherever the Army serves," smilingly stated Captain White, "both in the states and abroad. Military leaders and officials everywhere commend them on their fine work in the motor transport, administrative cadre, communications, and clerical platoons. Many of the women are being trained in Army specialist schools, in fields that will mean new vocations for them after the duration. Ratings of WAAC auxiliaries range from auxiliaries or private to chief leaders or master sergeants just as the men in the Army, and every auxiliary has equal opportunity to apply for admission to Officers Candidate School."

In Los Angeles as assistants to Captain White are Lt. Vashti B. Tonkins, of Hampton, Va., and Lt. Sophie G. Stanglin, of Atlanta, Ga., who entered the service as auxiliaries in August of last year and rose through the ranks, being commissioned as second lieutenants on January 9th.

Before enrolling in the Women's Army, Lt. Tonkins was a teacher of high school English at Hampton. Lt. Steanglin was managing editor of an 8-page weekly newspaper at Savannah, Ga.

For enrollment in the WAAC women must be American citizens between the ages of 21 and 44 years, of excellent character, if married, no children under 14 years of age, and must be able to pass the Army physical examination and mental alertness test.

WAAC offices are located at 481 Pacific Electric Building, 6th and Main streets, phone TUcker 7171, extension 19. Captain White and her staff of officers are in their offices from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily to give information to interested women.

The California Eigle joins the citizens of this area in welcoming the WAAC officers to Los Angeles, and sincerely hope that the Negro women of this area respond.

AWVS NEWS

Last Sunday, ninety AWVS, with chaperones and friends, spent the day at Murray's Dude Rancho as the guests of the Victorville Flying School cadets. Golf, tennis, swimming and horseback riding filled the day. The group returned to the camp that evening for dinner and the Service Club dance. The Army Swingsters played, and the time was swelegant.

Excelsior Club gave a benefit tea at the Masonic Ballroom recently for AWVS. The fashion show was well done. Miss Ida Perry spoke in behalf of AWVS.

Sunday afternoon, many journeyed to Pasadena to the Open Air Gold Shell. A service flag was dedicated to all Pasadena service men and women. The affair was sponsored by American Legion Crown City Post No. 536. AWVS were honor guests, rode around the ampitheatre in baby tanks selling bonds and stamps.

Mrs. Willa Evans, AWVS chairman of the colored group in Frisco, addressed last week's meeting. Her talk was amazing in interest. She related how in other cities all units work as one, no segregation of ANY sort. She was surprised to learn Los Angeles units have their own buildings and operate separately, financing the best way they can. Frisco leads the democratic practice of all units working as one.

Laura Slayton, now at Riverside as army hostess, was given a lovely bag as farewell gift, with all the trimmings. AWVS bid her goodbye, good luck and good haste in returning to AWVS Laura breezed back Friday long enough to fill two busses with our hostesses and dash to March Field for the dinner dance.

The joint choirs, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Harvey, rendered a very inspiring Easter Candlelight Service.

At the home of Mrs. Elnora Woods, 419 E. Plum avenue, the A. H. J. Club gave it Annual Tea to a large number of friends and members. The shee and pillow set was won by Mrs. Grace Presley. Mrs. Annie V. Haney is the president.

PETER ROSS ON VACATION TRIP

Peter Ross started something when he suggested to the United States War Department that one of the Liberty Ships bear the name of Booker T. Washington. Since that great day at San Pedro, when the world famous contralto, Marian Anderson, splashed the champaign on the bow of the now famous Booker T. Washington, two other Liberty Ships have been named for illustrious Negroes.

Now, Brother Pete's going on a vacation. Next Sunday, at the Zion Hill Baptist Church, Rev. Grant Harris has named it "Peter Ross Day," at which time Mr. Ross will say bon voyage for his many friends and associates before leaving for an extensive Eastern tour.

Thrifty Drug Stores Celebrate 14th Birthday

Chalking up fourteen years of successful service to the community, the Thrifty Drug Stores make this week's headlines by announcing their fourteenth annual Birthday Sale. This gala event starts May 3, and will continue for one week.

When Thrifty celebrates its birthday, usual procedure is reversed. At a Thrifty Birthday Party, the guests receive the presents—these in the form of value-packed merchandise with prices slashed to unheard of proportions. Inter-departmental competition is keen—each trying to outdo the other and offer the greatest value of the year.

Months of planning and preparation are behind this great sales event. Thrifty buyers scurried tirelessly from market to market seeking out quality merchandise to sell at money-saving prices. A high percentage of this merchandise is new with the organization, and will be offered to the public for the first time. The personnel staff has spent endless hours in hiring additional sales and stock people to speed and facilitate service. For the convenience of those who cannot shop by day, this great chain is open evenings.

Thrifty executives have expressed gratification for the enthusiastic response that past birthday sales have received, and have therefore made every effort to make the 1943 event a memorable one.

MINISTER'S VIEWS ON THE WAR

By HENRI O'BRYANT, JR.

President Roosevelt said "I hate war." These words were uttered over and over again long before the betrayal of the United States by Japan at Pearl Harbor. When the barbaric attact came the people of this Democracy, Willie Miller had no time to make a speech. He remembered the Presidents words and moved forward to be one of the first in stopping what not only the president hated but a vermin despised and hated by all lovers of a true democracy. . . . YES Willie and Joe Louis said: "We'll win 'cause we're on Gods side." Joe's words prompted the writer to call on some of the ministers of leading churches in Los Angeles to give their views on the war as expressed in their Easter sermons. In short, clear-cut sentences, these fine ministers have set forth their convictions. Their expressions give one a firmer belief in the principles of democracy.

MINISTERS VIEWS

Bishop William A. Washington likened Jesus unto a spiritual army when he said that: "Jesus was a one man army—a non-fighting soldier — He fought a spiritual battle and died in order that we might live in peace and harmony with all mankind." The Bishops views were clearly supported by Rev. Jane C. Cleaves who was a lieutenant in world war No. I and has a son serving in the present world war. Rev. Cleaves said: "Today we are sacrificing ourselves upon the battlefields because we, like Jesus Christ, are willing to die for the principles in which we believe."

I sat in the pastors study with Rev. S. M. Beane and when I asked 'do you think that Easter offers any hope for a bright outlook in our present conflict?' he turned to me with a radiant smile and said: "Easter brings to us faith, it gives us confidence, it strengthens our patience in our struggle for a world free from wars and rumors of wars."

Closely allied with Rev. Beanes words of encouragement came an expression from Rev. Grant Harris who said: "In this hour we find ourselves gazing upon a universe gone mad . . . Jesus arose on Easter . . . He conquered, and so will our democracy."

PRAY FOR PRESIDENT

Rev. R. B. Porter took time out of a busy program to tell me that he spoke for his entire congregation when he said that: "This Easter, our sacred prayers go up for the safety of our boys on the front lines; for the Divine guidance over our chief of war, the president; for the endurance of our Allies who fight for the freedom of all the people."

The wish made by Rev. R. B. Wade gave impetus to his firm belief in the democratic principles of our government. He said: "Our wish this Easter Sunday is that the soul of man will be so touched by the sacrifices of our Savior that man all over the world will seek to arbitrate around a peace table rather than on the battle field." Rev. Wades thought ran coherent with that of Rev. Frederick D. Jordan.

Speaking in a soft, understanding voice, Rev. Jordan pointed out that "The futility of force as a support for evil or as a weapon against the cause of righteousness is the central meaning of the Easter Celebration."

WORK TOGETHER

As we sat in the office of the Victory Market, Clayton D. Russell, Minister, spoke up with a tenseness in his voice and a sincerity that seemed to denounce all forms of discrimination. "Jesus did not bear the cross alone', Rev. Russell said, "and so to-day, with prejudice and discrimination toward none, we must work together on the assembly line and we must fight shoulder to shoulder on the battle field if we are to win the war and the peace after the war."

All of the above expressions coming from a high quality of our religious leadership certainly gives proof to the fact that thirteen million Negro American citizens are concious of their great responsibility in preserving and perpetuating the four freedoms which we now enjoy.

Revival Closes At Soul Saving Mission

Victory in soul winning and heart warming was achieved during our glorious revival which closes Friday night of this week. Sister Crooms is preaching throughout the week and God is using her in a fine way. Eleven souls have been added to our group, and one was transferred to a neighboring church. Seven souls will be baptised at our home church, Tabernacle Baptist, 12th and Hemlock, at the close of the 11 o'clock service Sunday, May 2. Friends are invited to witness our first baptising.

One of our greatest sermons, "The Graveyard Shift," will be preached Friday night. Be sure to hear this unusual message. Sunday night subject: "The Cup." Come sup with us as we partake of the Lord's Supper. "He that winneth souls is wise." Hattie Crooms, Minister.

WIDOW OF LATE PERCY BRADSHAW TAKEN BY DEATH

On April 19th, barely three months after the death of her husband, Percy Bradshaw, veteran "redcap," Mrs. Mary Earlee Bradshaw of Watts, died at the Lutheran Hospital in Pasadena after a brief illness.

A native of Austin, Tex., Mrs. Bradshaw had lived in this community for many years, and was one of Watts' most prominent residents, where she lived at 1774 E. 111th street.

She is survived by Mrs. Olivia Beltram, and by Walter and Peter Webster. Funeral services were held in the Ivory Chapel of The People's Funeral Home last Friday morning in the Ivory Chapel with Rev. Roan, well-known missionary in charge. Burial was at the Lincoln Memorial cemetery.

St. Paul Baptist Church Marches On

Easter Sunday, 1943, will be long remembered by St. Paulites, as an outstanding event, because the hundreds of worshippers turned away because there was not even standing room, in the church, added zest and impetus to the already moving force in action in St. Paul, rushing toward the goal of $40,000.00 to begin the erection of an edifice that will be commensurate with the needs of the Churches' increasing membership.

Pastor Williams was the speaker at the eleven o'clock services and as previously announced, delivered a sermon from the subject. "The crucifixion and Resurrection of Christ Climaxed His Birth," the overflow congregation listened with rapt attention to him as he very lucidly explained the nature of the birth, both natural and spiritual.

Many favorable comments were made by prominent visitors, who had been fortunate enough to come early, and got a good seat.

You will benefit by attending the services in St. Paul next Sunday. Pastor Williams will be preaching at the Evening service, from the subject, "I am doing a great work, and cannot come down to you; "why should the work cease whilst I come down to you.

This Thursday evening promises to be another great moment in St. Paul, it being the occasion of the Testimonial, honoring Pastor and Mrs. S. A. Williams, on the eve of their departure on a vacation and rest period.

Next Sunday May 2nd bids fair to climax all meetings held in St. Paul for some time; it being the occasion of the Ordination of Rev. George Garner, a young man recently licensed to preach in St. Paul Baptist Church, there are many churches and congregfor the occasion, to take part in and witness the following program.

1. Organ Prelude. 2—Selection, Evangelistic Choir, Bethany Chapel Church of St. Paul Baptist Church. 3—St. Paul's Three Tone Gospel Trio. 4.—Selection, Gospel Choir, Olive Temple Church of St. Paul Baptist Church. 5—Solo, Marie Overstreet Jackson. 6—Ordination Sermon, Dr. John D. Gordon. 7.—Delivering the Charge, Dr. A. C. Capers. 8—Presenting the Bible. Rev. L. D. Stevens, B. D. 9—Selection by choirs jointly. 10—Ordination Prayer, Rev. James Moore. 11—Benediction, recessional.

Spectators Say Blind Man's Sight Restored At Watts Revival

Truly miraculous, but well verified by the hundreds of eyewitnesses present, was an instance of a blind man receiving his sight through prayer and the "laying on of hands" by the power of the Holy Ghost on Friday of last week. This startling incident occured during that night's meeting in the campaign for souls, being held by the famous twin evangelists, Sisters Reatha and Leatha, at the Church of God In Christ, 114th and Wilmington avenue, Watts.

These impressive, soul-stirring ministers, recently called from Chicago, had a similar experience in Pawhuska, Okla., where an Indian who had lost his sight, recovered it by the power of prayer led by these twins. Incidentally the Watts man has been greedily reading ever since, although it has been a long time since he has been able to do so. A number of other cures of the lame and sick have been made since the Watts meetings started.

Sister Reatha, 285 E. 45th street, has been receiving a number of applications for the Azuza Temple choir, 27th and Paloma, to which she has been called.

METHODISTS OPENS NEW CHURCH

The Bethel Trinity Methodist Church located at 36th and Trinity Streets, formerly occupied by a German Methodist congregation, will open for religious worship and service.

The church plant affords extraordinary facilities for church work. It is one of the best smaller church buildings on the eastside. The church is equipped with a pipe organ, numerous rooms, departments, and beautifully stained glass windows depicting biblical scenes and events.

Opening in a new district for negroes, the possibilities for outstanding religious work are many. The church will open for all "believer" and interested persons regardless of creed or race.

The Reverend H. T. Boswell, a resident of Los Angeles for 22 years, a graduate of Wiley College, holder of the master of Theology Degree from the University of Southern California, and former pastor of Shaw Methodist Chapel in South Los Angeles, has been appointed minister.

Rev. H. T. Boswell, socially conscious, interested in the struggles of the common man, consecrated and committed to the principles and teachings of Jesus Christ, is making a brilliant record.

All interested persons seeking more information are requested to call JE. 8093.

Watch this paper for announcement of the Grand Opening and dedication service.

Swing That Spiritual

By GILBERT ALLEN

Did you ever swing a Negro spiritual? Well, many of the "big name" dance orchestras are doing it. It seems odd to hear a beautiful spiritual like "Go Down Moses" swung. "Go Down Moses" is regarded as one of our greatest spirituals.

"When Israel was in Egypt Land
Let my people go:
Oppressed so hard they could not stand,
Let my people go."

When a dance band plays a dance number, now called "swing", everyone is supposed to dance. When a classic composition is adapted or arranged in dance form it loses much of its beauty, potency, and strength. Emphasis is placed on the rhythm, melody, and less thought about the words. Strong words, beautiful melody make for a great song art.

Negroes have been singing "Let My People Go" since the days of slavery. It is their song and prayer for freedom. We are now at war. The United Nations are fighting for freedom; freedom for the oppressed people of the world. "Go Down Moses" ceases to be a song just for the Negro people. It is a song for all the oppressed people. It should be sung with majesty and thought.

"When "swung" to satisfy the dancing feet of thoughtless jitterbugs," it loses its power and effectiveness of purpose. "Go Down Moses" should be a marching song. Negro American citizens are still denied many of the privileges of the "Bill of Rights." The Negro now realizes that he must fight with his art, his toil, and his life. His greatest weapon against the forces that wish to enslave him again is his religion and his art. When you swing his spirituals you make musical burlesque of a great art.

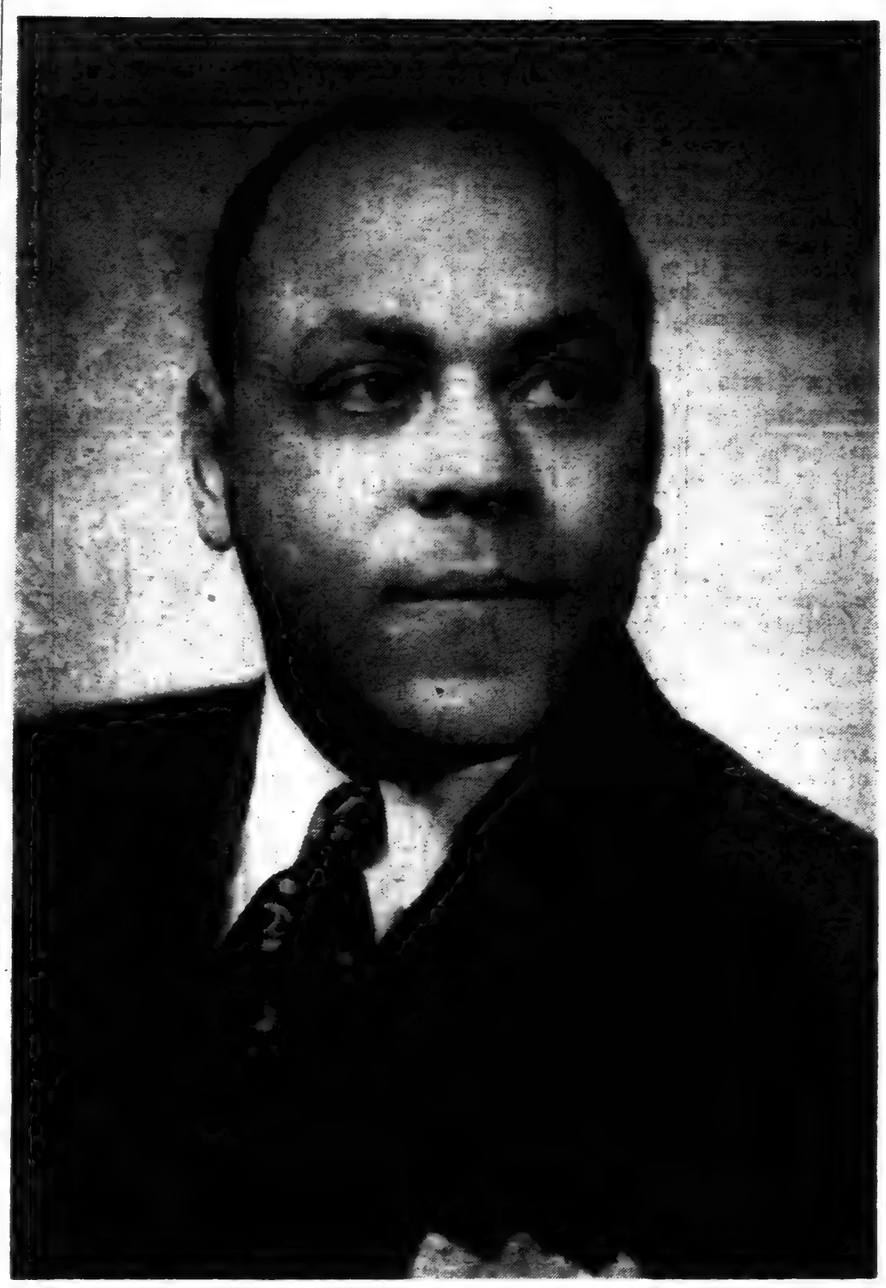
SECOND A. M. E. CHURCH
Cor. 43rd and San Pedro Place (Two blocks from Main, Avalon and Vernon on the H Car Line)
Jno. B. Isaacs—Minister

The Minister Rev. J. B. Isaacs wil loccupy the pulpit at both services on Sunday next, at the morning hour he will speak on the subject "They Went Out". The soloist will be Jess Brooks. The Holy Communion will be administered at the close of the morning service also the rite of Infant Baptism. At the evening service, the minister will speak on "A Walk".



The Easter services at Second Church were all that could be expected, three large audiences greeted the minister during the day; at the five o'clock service the Rev Isaacs contrasted the Passover feast with the Lord's Supper pointing out the things that were said and done by Jesus after Judas had left the crowd for the betrayal. Edsell Webb was the soloist and rendered very effectively "The Peace of God's Love" after which the Holy communion was administered to a large number of communicants. The 11 o'clock service saw a capacity audience filling every available seat and listened to a masterly Easter sermon delivered by the pastor who spoke from the subject "The Risen Christ" and using as a text for the occasion St. John 20:18 "I saw the Lord" There were very few dry eyes in the audience as he dramatically described the scene at the tomb of Jesus. When the invitation was extended fourteen persons united with the church as Jess Brooks sang most exultantly "Seeking For Me". The soloist for the Day was Yvonne Cummings who renedered "ALLELULIA" from Mozart with Charles Davis as accompanist. The Choir under the direction of Ethel Webb sang "IN THE END OF THE SABBATH" by Olney as the Anthem for the day.

The Sunday school rendered its Easter exercises at the evening hour under the direction of Mayme Moore with Robert Strather as master of ceremonies to another large crowd.

Among the visitors who were seen at Second Church your reporter greeted William A. Nickerson, Joe Howe, Katie D. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Adkins, Jerry Smith, Mrs. A. L. Adkinson, John W. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoke, Lloyd Perry, Harry Walls, Marcules Hatter, Mr. and Mrs. Z. H. Smith, Rev. E. L. Johnson, Armon Postelle.

The Pastor announced the launching of a campaign to free Second Church of its present indebtedness in connection with the celebration of the Thirty-Fifth Anniversary of the Founding of the Church.

PNEUMONIA FATAL TO SON OF MRS. KATIE WIMBUSH

Rafus Jackson, 29, the son of Mrs. Katie Wimbush of McCloud, Calif., succumbed to pneumonia in the local General hospital on April 19 after a brief illness.

Jackson, a native of Bellview, La., had only been in the city for a few months, coming here to be near his mother, whom he had not seen for 15 years. Previous to coming here he lived in Kentucky.

Funeral services were held in the Ivory Chapel of the People's Funeral Home.

Reality and the Common Man Discussed By Mrs. Bishop

Sponsored by the Baha'i Faith, Mrs. Charles Reed Bishop will speak Sunday, May 2, at 3 p. m., at 1709 West 8th street, on "Reality and the Common Man." Quoting from and basing her talk upon the Baha'i writings, Mrs. Bishop says, in part: "Some men's lives are solely occupied with the things of this world—their minds are so circumscribed by exterior manners and traditional interests that they are blind to any other realm of existence, to the spiritual significance of all things, while in truth, there exist in men the three elements, or degrees, of body, soul and spirit. Like the animal, man possesses the faculties of the senses—is subject to heat, cold, hunger and thirst; unlike the animal, man has a rational soul—the human intelligence—which is the intermediary between his body and his spirit, or permanent reality. When man allows the spirit, through his soul, to enlighten his understanding, this radiant intelligence makes of him the crowning point of creation. When the soul has received and contained this radiant light of the spirit, then does it bring forth good fruit and become a divine tree. Though man must live and move and have his physical being on this earth and walk thereon with practical feet, he may turn the mirror of his heart and mind towards God and hold in his soul the vision of celestial perfection; then will he perceive the oneness of mankind, and put forth all his efforts towards the achievement on earth of a heavenly civilization, founded on no narrow national boundaries, but on the statement of the founder of the Baha'i Faith that the world is one home, and mankind its citizens."

Diliard Drama Professor Made Captain

Although it will mean a readjustment in the drama program at Dillard, President A. W. Dent congratulates Randolph Edmonds on receiving his commission as captain and wishes him success in his new work as theatrical consultant in the army. Captain Edmonds left for Fort Huachuca on April 9.

He brings ot the service of the army a fruitful experience. During his seven years at Dillard he organied the Southern Association of Drama and Speech Arts, the drama divisionz of the Louisiana Interscholastic and Athletic Association which held annual state-wide tournaments, the New Orleans Theater Guild, and the Paul Robeson Children's Theater. Captain Edmonds has further enriched the cultural life of the south by organizing the Crescent City Concerts Company, which in the past two years has brought to the city such talented artists as Paul Robeson, Dorothy Maynor, Anne Brown and the Don Cossacks Russian Choir.

The well known dramatist has also written over 25 plays which have received publication or production. His latest book, "The Land of Cotton and Other Plays" came from the press a few weeks ago. He is also author of "Simon in Cyrene," a four-act Biblical fantasy which had its world premiere in New Orleans recently.

Captain Edmonds, a native of Lawrenceville, Virginia, did his undergraduate work at Oberlin, received his master's degree from Columbia, studied drama at Yale on a General Education Board Fellowship and in Europe on a Rosenwald grant. He made an intensive study of amateur drama in England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales.

PASADENA BAPTISTS TO HOLD LEADERSHIP TRAINING INSTITUTE

Beginning on the evening of May 3, and continuing for three nights, May 5, 7, 10, the four Baptists churches of Pasadena, The Friendship Baptist Church, Dr. W. D. Carter, Pastor, The Community Baptist Church, Dr. J. W. Coleman, Pastor, The Metropolitan Baptist Church, Rev. S. M. Malone, Pastor, and the Lincoln Avenue Baptist Church, Rev. R. F. Hockenhull, Pastor, are cooperating in sponsoring a Leadership Training Institute at the Friendship Baptist Church, 80 West Dayton Street, Pasadena, from 7:30 to 9:40 on each of the nights indicated.

The school is one of the projects of a great new Christian Education program being carried forward jointly by the Western Baptist State Convention and the Los Angeles Baptist City Mission Society. Rev. Horace N. Mays, newly elected Director of Christian Education under the Western Baptist State Convention and Los Angeles Baptist City Mission Society, will be Dean of the Institute. The new director has just terminated a school in the Los Angeles area which was the largest school ever held in Pacific Coast Baptist history. The Pasadena school promises to be the largest enterprise yet undertaken in that city by our Convention churches.

Using as a theme: "Teaching Under Tension", and as a Scripture the challenging words of Romans 2:21, "Thou that teachest another, teachest thou not thyself?", the Institute will major on the teaching ministry of the Church of Jesus Christ. Three Standard First Series Courses will be offered for credit. Dr. Jonathan Lyle Caston, minister of the fast growing new Trinity Baptist Church in Los Angeles, will teach Course 141a, "How To Teach In The Church School." The second hour for the first three nights, three seminars will be held. Dr. Caston will lead the seminar on the Upper Division of the Church School. Mrs. W. P. Carter of Santa Monica, will lead the seminar on Juniors, and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of the Friendship Baptist Church, Pasadena, will lead the seminar on Beginners and Primaries. Every Church School teacher and anyone interested in the Church School should attend this course. Dr. J. W. Coleman, Minister of the Community Baptist Church in Pasadena, will teach Course 310a, "Understanding Youth." He will also conduct a seminar the second hour on youth problems in the light of these war-torn days. Every friend of youth and worker with youth groups should attend this vital course. Rev. A. Howard Plummer, minister of the Atherton Baptist Church, Los Angeles, will teach Course 112a. "The Essentially Missionary Character of Christianity." Two seminars will be conducted the second hour—one by Mrs. W. D. Carter, State President of the Women's Convention of our Western Baptist State Convention, who will lead a seminar on the work of our National Baptist Convention at home and abroad, and one by Dr. W. P. Carter, Executive Secretary of the Western Baptist State Convention.

In between the lecture hour and the seminar hour there will be an inspirational assembly each evening. Dr. J. Harvey Deere, Interim Pastor of the Alhambra Baptist Church, will bring the keynote address, 8:00 o'clock Monday evening, May 3, on the subject—"Jesus, Teacher of Teachers." On Wednesday evening, May 5, Dr. W. P. Carter will address the Institute on the subject — "The Mission of the Teacher." On Friday Evening, May 7, Rev. Percy Williams, Interim Pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist Church in Pasadena, will speak from the subject, "The Creative Opportunity of the Teacher." On Monday evening, May 10, the final night of the school, a great commencement program is being planned. Rev. Charles H. Hampton, President of the Western Baptist State Convention, will bring the closing address on "Go Ye . . . Teach!" and present the Course Cards to the student body. To further enhance the value and spiritual tenor of the inspirational assemblies and the commencement service, Mrs. Marie Sheffield of the St. Paul Baptist Church, Los Angeles, has been secured as Song Leader, and Mrs. Pearl Booker, Organist of the Friendship Baptist Church, Pasadena, has been secured as Pianist for the Institute. Mrs. Horace N. Mays, wife of the Dean, will serve as Registrar.

This is an unusual opportunity and is unprecedented in Convention annals. Our churches should feel a definite obligation to attend these inspiring sessions and profit from the efforts of those who are giving of their time and talent to train Christian workers to become more effective in the Kingdom Program. Only Christian training will win the peace! In so far as we feel the burden of the world and send our workers and go ourselves to become better trained so we can minister more effectively in a world that needs us so sorely, just so far do we share in the global strategy for peace. Church member, you should plan to attend this training school and take full advantage of its privileges. As a Christian you are morally obligated to support this great teaching venture.

Whether or not your church is among those listed as sponsors, you are cordially invited to join with us in this program of instruction and inspiration.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Paul's warning to the Galatians "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap," will be the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson Sermon on "Everlasting Punishment" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

In a Bible selection from Matthew it is reported that, "many publicans and sinners came and sat down" to dine with Jesus. When the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, "Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners?" But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, "They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick. . . . I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance." In Galatians Paul said, "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; . . . Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ."

A citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy says: "The poor suffering heart needs its rightful nutriment, such as peace, patience in tribulation, and a priceless sense of the dear Father's loving kindness."

Downey Smacks Army Jim-Crow It's Our Job to Support Him

Sen. Sheridan Downey of California has blown the lid off a stewing pot that has disgraced the nation since the first day of World War II.

Into a startled Senate last week, Sen. Downey introduced a resolution to investigate the United States Armed Forces to determine "the extent of compliance" with the draft act's prohibition against racial discrimination.

Negro-America is thus given its first major weapon to combat the divisive force of racial tolerance which everywhere dominates the armed forces of this nation. The extent to which American practice of race segregation in the battle legions of democracy and freedom, the extent to which this native land of Lincoln and Jefferson has prostrated itself before the insane prejudices of the poll-tax ridden and dis-enfranchised South,—to that extent are the slogans of the Atlantic Charter and the Four Freedoms corrupted and the military striking power of our armed forces limited, divided and robbed of that crusading spirit which carried America triumphantly through the great, liberating struggles of the American Revolution and the Civil War.

It is precisely because American Negroes believe passionately those principles which have been enunciated by this government as the purpose of the current conflict that we urgently and insistently demand the immediate abolition of racial discrimination in the army and the navy.

It is precisely because, in truth, this is a war for the liberation of peoples that we demand the right to fight it as free men. Other wars may be won by tactics alone, by concentrations of troops, by correct ration of supply, by coordination of land and air forces,—but not this one. A war FOR the people can be won only BY the people. Nothing could be clearer than the failure to support the war effort by large sections of imperialist, vested-interest, pro-fascist America. Nothing could be clearer than the daily treason of the Hearst Press. Nothing could be more painfully apparent than the victory-killing obstruction of the poll-taxer and Hoover Republican coalition in the U. S. Congress.

If these powerful forces oppose and obstruct the war effort, then who shall deliver the nation from the threat of fascist dominaion?

It is the vast masses of our people, firmly convinced of the anti-fascist nature of the war, determined to blast Hitler and his contemptible way of life off the face of this earth.

Any policy which would divide the people, upon whose unity is built the rock foundation of victory, is a menace to the existence of our country and cannot be tolerated any sooner than we would permit open and public sabotage of war production in an American factory.

The vicious effect of racial discrimination and segregation in the armed forces is nowhere better seen than in the letters which we receive from Negro soldiers stationed in various areas throughout the South. Murder, lynching and terror have been the lot of many soldiers of color whose only crime has been that they demand respect for the uniform of the United States.

We must understand how to fight for the correction of the army's Jim-Crow policy.

It is not by keeping quiet.

Dean William Hastie resigned from the War Department because he protested vehemently the maintenance of a strictly Jim-Crow air-force. That courageous public action was a moving force behind Sen. Downey's resolution demanding that the Senate investigate Jim-Crow in the army.

Further, a consistent campaign of the Negro press has organized vast public pressure. It is with great pride that we salute the herculean efforts of the Pittsburgh Courier in causing the current investigation. Whatever influence the conversations of our own Washington correspondent with Senator Downey's office brought to bear is another source of pride.

But, actually, neither the Courier nor the Eagle or even New York's fighting People's Voice is at all potent unless there is organized behind these organs a blistering rank-and-file campaign of support for the Downey resolution.

Negro individuals and organizations, trade unions and churches, even the gang in pool room or the barber shop—especially the gang in the pool room and the barber shop—must lambaste Congress with such a flood of mail that there can be no ducking the investigation which our courageous Senator has pulled to the forefront of the nation.

Meetings, parades, telegrams, letters—nothing is too big or too little in this effort—for we are fighting so that our boys may fight this war for liberation proudly, freely, with faith and confidence in their cause. Every mother with a son in the army, every wife whose husband wears a uniform owes it to their men to let Congress know that Sen. Downey is NOT out on a limb, all by himself.

New York Judge Starts Anti-Bias Avalanche

A performance comparable in effect only to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's resignation from the Daughters of the American Revolution when that body refused to rent a hall for a Marian Anderson concert was the act of New York's Judge Jonah J. Goldstein this week in removing his name from the roster of the American Bar Association because of its policy of excluding Negro lawyers.

When Judge Goldstein offered the name of a prominent Negro lawyer in New York as a member, he was turned down because of his race.

Since the Jewish juror's action, other nationally known legal figures have divorced themselves from any further association with the lily-white organizations. Among these are Judge Samuel Seabury, Henry W. Taft, Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., Wm. J. O'Shea and Basil O'Connor, former law partner of President Roosevelt.

Here is a prime example of the militance which should be taken by black and white alike at the first encroachment of Southernism. It is safe to say that the explosion set off by Judge Goldstein will inevitably destroy the Jim-Crow policy against which it is aimed. The D. A. R. couldn't stand up to the kind of public denunciation which Mrs. Roosevelt's action launched a few years ago. Neither can the American Bar Association.

Incidentally, why not a few resignations from powerful Los Angeles legal figures? With the issue squarely brought to their attention, such fair-minded men as Mayor Fletcher Bowron, Judge McCall, Judge Kauffman and many others might add their voices to the great national chorus of lawyer's who shared Lincoln's simple concept of their profession, "law is simply the difference between right and wrong."

Willkie's Book Hits Home

Wendell Willkie's new book makes us proud of the political designation borne by this newspaper—WILLKIE REPUBLICAN.

That designation means that we want to win this war. It means we have no truck with the defeatist schemes of the Hoover controlled section of the Republican party. It means we view the freedom of peoples everywhere on earth,—and beginning at home,—as the great cause for which this mighty conflict is waged.

It means that we will fight, clearly and honestly, for these principles.

Mr. Willkie, as leader of "our" section of the Republican party, has given the nation a direct, reasonable and uncompromising statement of his views on the war effort.

They are good in many ways. But here we will note only that section in which he places the question of Negroes' full participation in the war effort to our country and to his party. Willkie writes:

"We have practiced within our own boundaries something that amounts to race imperialism. The attitude of the white citizens of this country toward the Negroes has undeniably had some of the unlovely characteristics of an alien imperialism—a smug racial superiority, a willingness to exploit an unprotected people. . . .

"Today it is becoming increasingly apparent to thoughtful Americans that we cannot fight the forces and ideas of imperialism abroad and maintain any form of imperialism at home. The war has done this to our thinking.

"Emancipation came to the colored race in America as a war measure. It was an act of military necessity. . . We are finding the pressure of this present conflict that long-standing barriers and prejudices are breaking down. The defense of our democracy against the forces that threaten it from without has made some of its failures to function at home glaringly apparent.

"Our very proclamations of what we are fighting for have rendered our own inequities self-evident. When we talk of freedom and opportunity for all nations, the mocking paradoxes in our own society become so clear they can no longer be ignored.

"It has always impressed me that, quite apart from any reasons of humanitarianism or justice or any sentiment regarding the protection of the weak by the strong, it is only common sense to safeguard jealously the rights of minorities. For minorities are rich assets of a democracy, assets which no totalitarian government can afford. Dictatorship must, of necessity, fear and suppress them. But within the tolerance of a democracy, minorities are the constant spring of new ideas, stimulating new thought and action, the constant source of new vigor.

"For now more than ever, we must keep in the forefront of our minds the fact that whenever we take away the liberties of those whom we hate, we are opening the way to loss of liberty for those we love."

Yes, we are WILLKIE REPUBLICANS!

DIXIE SEEKS TUSKEGEE'S SCALP

"Whom the gods would destroy, him they first make mad." The reactionaries in America have gone just that mad. They want nothing less than full power to destroy all that is decent. They are no longer content merely to oppose every program, every institution; every group dedicated to fulfilling the democratic destiny of our nation. And these men and women are organized. They are dangerous. They play a diabolic, clever game. They have appointed the reactionary whites of the South to play front man, to do the talking, to do the dirty work. They appear divided. They work hand in glove. They openly threaten "secession" from the rest of the country, if everybody does not fall in line with their unholy scheme, which begins by "keeping the n—— down" and by "kicking labor the hell out of here."

Last week this Column reported on the open war declared by these blind-with-evil men in the South on any efforts to bring Negro Americans into first class citizenship. This week we report a new scheme.

The "white supremacy" boys ARE AFTER TUSKEGEE'S SCALP. Yes, even Tuskegee is too decent and democratic for them now.

Unimpeachable sources inform this Column that Gov. ——— of Alabama has offered Tuskegee a gift from the State running into six figures. Yes, miracle of miracles, the State of Alabama is actually begging to give Tuskegee a lot of money! But Gov. ——— and his cabinet have read history. They know about the Trojan horse. So what they really propose is to give Tuskegee a Southern Trojan horse. Yes, they will give Tuskegee money, but they want Tuskegee to show its gratitude by allowing Gov. ——— to appoint THREE NEW MEMBERS TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES! Quite a little joker. These three proposed new appointees would give the South control of the Board of Trustees, control of Tuskegee. A neat scheme, if it works. No doubt, young Negro men flying deadly pursuit planes around Alabama is too much for them to stomach. Or, is it that these gentlemen realize even as did Bigger Thomas, that the flying plane is a symbol of freedom.

THE NEW SOUTH SPEAKS

The voice of the New South was heard in Atlanta last week. Over 100 "enlightened" Southerners responded to the call of the ATLANTA CONSTITUTION to discuss the South and the Negro. They agree with the Durham Conference of Negro leaders that the Negro must have a New Deal. But as far as this Column can gather from the press accounts, the New Deal they propose just the Old Deal in a new frock. For as long as Jim Crow laws and practices exist, it's nothing but the same Old Deal.

THE NEGRO WANTS A NEW DEAL

The Negro wants a real New Deal. He wants more than "equal but separate accommodations." He wants equal but the same. He wants not only the same rate of pay. He wants to work on the same job, same machine, same everything. WHAT THE NEGRO WANTS MOST AMERICA NEEDS MOST. The world wants it. That is why the idea of FREEDOM NOW first advocated by this Column is beginning to catch fire all over the country. A man from Washington (D. C.) speaking at a conference at a church in New York put the proposition in a nutshell. He said the time for calling on a Moses is over. Today we must say:

"GO DOWN PEOPLE DOWN ON CAPITOL HILL
TELL OLE JIM CROW
LET MY PEOPLE GO."

Yes, the people of America must go down to Capitol Hill and clip old Jim Crow's wings for good.

INSURANCE HEAD SAYS THRIFT A VITAL PART OF PATRIOTISM

By Public Relations Committee
National Negro Insurance Association

In his proclamation setting aside the week beginning May 3rd and ending May 8th as NATIONAL NEGRO INSURANCE WEEK, Asa T. Spaulding, President of the National Negro Insurance Association says: "These are times when thrift is a vital part of patriotism as well as a measure of one's good common sense."

Mr. Spaulding also calls attention to the devastating effect which inflation might have on the homefront if a program of thrift is not followed. He says:

"While our armed forces are fighting a deadly enemy on the far-flung battlefronts, our government officials are engaged in a momentous struggle against a dangerous adversary—uncontrolled inflation—with almost ruinous possibilities on our home and economic fronts."

He points out that after making allowance for the payment of taxes and purchase of all available consumer goods and services, and for savings at the present rate, there will still be an inflationary gap of at least sixteen billion dollars, according to governmental estimates, and that: "unless these excess dollars are directed into channels which will take them out of circulation for spending purposes, they will be inflationary dynamite constantly threatening to play havoc with nay controls placed on the cost of living and other available goods and services."

He also points out that runaway inflation would absorb the major portion of these excess funds without providing additional benefits and that we would after it was all over. On the other hand, through the exercise of good judgment and the adoption of suitable and adequate programs of thrift, ruinous inflation can be averted and these excess dollars can be conserved until a time when they may be needed more and of greater worth.

President Spaulding closes by urging the public to buy adequate insurance protection and Bonds for family defense and National defense, and for the preservation of the democratic ideals and way of life, pointing out that life insurance and Bonds provide splendid vehicles for carrying our excess dollars over to a period when our needs, and those of our dependents, for these dollars may be greater and their value more. Save! And listen to Mr. L. C. Blount on the "Wings Over Jordan Program" at 10:30 a. m., Sunday, May 2nd, CBS.

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

"We've got to maintain PEACE, and we cannot do it if we admit Negroes!" That was the statement made by Mr. L. Montgomery, manager of "Skateland" at 1025 Vernon Ave., when a delegation of seven from the newly formed Los Angeles Citizens Committee to Abolish Discrimination went to protest against the discriminatory policy of the management. On April 9th a group of young Negro people had been refused admittance to the skating rink.

Heading the delegation were Mrs. Charlotta A Bass, editor and publisher of the California Eagle, and Leo Gallagher, famous labor attorney. Mr. Gallagher had just been elected chairman of the Committee and Jess Stevenson, wife of one of the victims of this discrimination, was elected secretry-treasurer.

The manager, looking all jittery and pale around the gills, assured the delegation that "personally he had nothing against the Negroes — he even worked with them in the shipyards—but it seems every time a Negro set foot in "Skateland" there was bound to be "a fight." In further discussion on the usual behavior of the patrons of the skating rink, Montgomery admitted reluctantly that fighting is a common occurence, in spite of the fact that no Negroes are present.

Mr. Gallagher and Mrs. Bass advised Mr. Montgomery of the California State Law against discrimination—they explained the President's attitude on discrimination—they told of the heroic role of the Negro people in the war — but to no avail. The only answer they received was "We've got to maintain a PEACEFUL FLOOR AND WE CAN'T DO IT WITH NEGROES."

The United Nations could maintain PEACE WITH HITLER and HIROHITO TOO, if they were willing to allow the axis to enslave all of humanity. But, the American people and the rest of the United Nations REFUSE TO BE ENSLAVED and so we are fighting a war — a war to wipe out race hatred and prejudice — a war to preserve DEMOCRACY.

The Negro people are a part of America and we will not tolerate anything that smacks of Hitler methods used against them.

Mr. Charles Pfeiffer of the CIO Warehousemen's Union emphatically stated to the manager: "If we are to ask the Negro people to make the airplanes, guns and tanks; load and sail the ships and fight this war together with us white Americans, I can promise you that Negroes may enjoy the benefits of an equal social life with us."

This new committee, set up to fight not only this particular case, but any case of discrimination that comes to its attention, is bringing LEGAL ACTION AGAINST "SKATELAND." They make this appeal: If you are a lover of liberty, if you want to help enforce the rights guaranteed in our Constitution. If YOU WANT TO HELP WIN THE WAR AND THE PEACE, support the Los Angeles Citizens Committee to Abolish Discrimination. Send funds to them in care of Leo Gallagher, 5851 Avalon Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif.

My Dear Mrs. Bass

When my mind reminds me of the city of the Angels, I think of you. I am OK, going into my third year in the Armed Forces of Uncle Sam.

I do hope these few lines will find you and your dear ones in the best of health. Give my best regards to the staff. I write, but never hear from my friends. I ask for a few nickel cigars and they don't answer, that is all I need. Being some where in New Guinea a paper or picture would look very good. Curtis Mosby's son is with us. Well take care of yourself. Don't work so hard. I don't think it will be too long now.

Masonry assembled in the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Thursday, to pay final tribute to Past Grand Master Thomas A. Harris, in the sanctuary he helped to build.

The white plummed Knights; the grand old St. John Lodge; the mother of all Masonry the Eastern Star; pioneer friends of a lifetime, and neighbors of all walks of life. All came to pay their last respects to the memory of the man who had lived in peace and friendship among them for more than 50 years.

Among the numerous floral offerings was a pillow of tulips, sweet peas and ferns, from the Past Masters' Council.

From neighbors, a wreath of gladiolas, sweet peas and ferns; Garrison Lodge of Masons, a wreath square, and compass of jonquills and blue bells; St. John Lodge, square and compass of lilies and ferns; Grand Chapter, a spray of blue bells and lilies; Memorial Committee of Tabernacle Baptist Church, a wreath of roses and ferns.

Rev. J. D. Gordon, assisted by Rev. Lively and Rev. Davis, and Rev. S. M. Beane, was master of ceremonies. John Fowler (the writer) spoke for the pioneers. Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Delilah Scott, Mrs. Madeline Osburn, and Mrs. Margaret Pett, Mrs. Hoxey at the organ, Mrs. Fannie Benjamin presided at the piano. Conner and Johnson officiated.

Once a year the members of the "Pioneer Club" treke across town to the palatial home of Mrs. S. J. Bruington on North Berendo, and in keeping with that usual custom, and in spite of gas rationing, some four score of "old timers" and their friends, filled to overflowing the spacious drawing room, dining room, and even the bedrooms, were thrown open to accommodate the happy throngs. For several years the home of Mrs. Bruington has been the setting for "yuletide festivities" for the Pioneer Club, this year the "Spirit of Easter" was the motiff which was carried out in the decorations.

Incidentally, it was Mrs. Bruington's birthday, and a very beautiful as well as palatable birthday cake was the center of attraction. Easter bunnies surrounded by dozens of multicolored eggs, each bearing the inscription, "Pioneers," were presented the guest and dishes of delicious bon-bons were served. The birthday cake was more than a masterpiece of beauty, it was the handwork of Mrs. Leanore Green, and truly a work of art.

Highlighting the evening, was the community singing, led by Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Edna Porter was at the piano. Little Sandra, niece of Miss Pauline Slater, rendered a solo.

Paying tribute to one departed Pioneer each meeting, and discussing their life and activities, was the decision made by the club.

Mrs. John Fowler, club historian, read excerpts from The Liberator of September, 1905, published by Editor J. L. Edmonds. Speaking for the occasion were: Harold Prince, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; Miss Pauline Slater, Miss Leola McDowell, Rev. Porter, Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, and Mr. S. P. Johnson. A motion was carried by the club to have Rev. J. Raymond Henderson as their guest speaker for their annual sermon, which is to be held the fourth Sunday in May. All pioneers are urged to be present. The committee of arrangements appointed by the president S. P. Johnson, S. J. Bruington, William Gray. Other guests attending were Mrs. Marion McCord, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Davis, Misses Corrine and Carrie Sewall, Mrs. William Quarrels and son, Mrs. J. Raymond Henderson and numerous others.

(From the Book by Richard Wright)

"My voice may sound vindictive when I say: Make the defendant pay the highest penalty for his crimes! But what I am really saying is that the law is sweet when it is enforced and protects a million worthy careers, when it shields the infant, the aged, the helpless, the blind and the sensitive from the ravishing of men who know no law, no self-control, and no sense of reason.

"My voice may sound cruel when I say: The defendant merits the death penalty for his self-confessed crimes! But what I am really saying is that the law is strong and gracious enough to allow all of us to sit here in this courtroom today and try this case with dispassionate interest, and not tremble with fear that at this very moment some half-human black ape may be climbing through the windows of our homes to rape, murder, and burn our daughters!

"Your Honor, I say that the law is holy; that it is the foundation of all our cherished values. It permits us to take for granted the sense of the worth of our persons and turn our energies to higher and nobler ends.

"Man stepped forward from the kingdom of the beast the moment he felt that he could think and feel in security, knowing that sacred law had taken the place of his gun and knife.

"I say that the law is holy because it makes us human! And woe to the men and the civilization of those men! who, in misguided sympathy or fear, weaken the stout structure of the law which insures the harmonious working of our lives on this earth.

"Your Honor, I regret that the defense has raised the viperous issue of race and class hate in this trial. I sympathize with those whose hearts were pained, as mine was pained, when Mr. Max so cynically assailed our Red customs. I pity this man's deluded and diseased mind. It is a sad day for American civilization when a white man will try to stay the hand of justice from a bestial monstrosity who has ravished and struck down one of the finest and most delicate flowers of our womanhood.

"Every decent white man in America ought to swoon with joy for the opportunity to crush with his heel the wooly head of this black lizard, to keep him from scuttling on his belly farther over the earth and spitting forth his venom of death!

"Your Honor, literally I shrink from the mere recital of this dastardly crime. I cannot speak of it without feeling somehow contaminated by the mere telling of it. A bloody crime has that power! It is that steeped and dyed with repellent contagion!

"A wealthy, kindly disposed white man, a resident of Chicago for more than forty years, sends to the relief agency for a Negro boy to act as chauffeur to his family. The man specifies in his request that he wants a boy who is handicapped either by race, poverty, or family responsibility. The relief authorities search through their records and select the Negro family which they think merits such aid; that family was the Thomas family, living then as now at 3721 Indiana avenue. A social worker visits the family and informs the mother that the family is to be taken off the relief rolls and her son placed in private employment. The mother, a hard-working Christian woman, consents. In due time the relief authorities send a notification to the oldest son of the family, Bigger Thomas, this black mad dog who sits here today, telling him that he must report for work.

"What was the reaction of this sly thug when he learned that he had an opportunity to support himself, his mother, his little sister? Was he grateful? Was he glad that he was having something offered to him that ten million men in America would have fallen on their knees and thanked God for?

"No! He cursed his mother! He said that he did not want to work! He wanted to loaf about the streets, stead from newsstands, rob stores, meddle with women, frequent dives, attend cheap movies, and chase prostitutes! That was the reaction of this sub-human killer when he was confronted with the Christian kindness of a man he had never seen!

"His mother prevailed upon him to comply with her; but the pleas of his mother, worn out from a life of toil, had no effect upon this hardened black thing. The future of his sister, an adolescent school girl, meant nothing to him. The fact that the job would have enabled his brother to return to school was not enticing to Bigger Thomas.

"But, suddenly, after three days of persuasion by his mother, he consented. Had any of her arguments reached him at long last? Had he begun to feel his duty toward himself and his family? No! Those were not the considerations that drove this rapacious beast from his den into the open! He consented only when his mother informed him that the relief would cut off their supply of food if he did not accept. He agreed to go to work, but forbade his mother to speak to him within the confines of his home, so outraged was he that he had to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. It was hunger that drove him out, sullen, angry, still longing to stay upon the streets and steal as he had done before, and for which he had once landed in a reform school.

After seeing a move that Saturday morning, he went to the Dalton home. He was welcomed there with lavish kindness. He was given a room; he was told that he would receive extra money for himself, over and above his weekly wages. He was fed. He was asked if he wanted to go back to school and learn a trade. But he refused. His mind and heart if this beast can be said to have a mind and heart were not set upon any such goals.

"Less than an hour after he had been in that house, he met Mary Dalton, who asked him if he wanted to join a union. Mr. Max, whose heart bleeds for labor, did not tell us why his client should have resented that.

"What black thoughts passed through that Negro's scheming brain the first few moments after he saw that trusting white girl standing before him? We have no way of knowing, and perhaps this piece of human scum, who sits here today begging for mercy, is wise in not telling us. But we can use our imagination; we can look upon what he subsequently did and surmise.

"Two hours later he was driving Miss Dalton to the Loop. Here occurs the first misunderstanding in this case. The general notion is that Miss Dalton, by having this Negro drive her to the Loop instead of to school, was committing an act of disobedience against her family. But that is not for us to judge. That is for Mary Dalton and her God to settle. It was admitted by her family that she went contrary to a wish of theirs; but Mary Dalton was of age and went where she pleased."

FAREWELL PRESS PARTY

By JACQUELIN WOODS

Prefacing and indefinite absence, Earl Griffin, popular photographer and business man was host to a number of friends at an informal farewell party last Sunday. He left last Tuesday for New York to serve as an official photographer for a U. S. Treasury Department bond selling road show.

A charming hostess was Mrs. Lola Griffin, recently returned from New York, who kept the fifty guests well attended. Seen among the well wishers who enjoyed the occasion immensely were: Calvin Bailey, Phil Carter, and wife, Monica; Christopher Jones and wife, Sidney Dones; Lawrence Lamarr, J. Robert Smith, Leon Washington, Cullen Fentress and wife; Dora Moore and husband, Bill Smallwood, J. T. Gipson, Eddie Burbridge, Herman Hill, Harry Levette, Lillian Green, Vaino Hassan, Shirlee Woods, Wilma Cockrell.

Engaging in this bond drive in such a mammoth scale is quite in line with Mr. Griffin's enthusiasm. He suggested and tried to have a bond selling campaign tied in with historic launching of the S. S. Booker T. Washington last fall.

However, the afternoon's social pleasantries were confronted by war's stern realities by last Sunday night's black out. Harry Levette and I were suddenly hauled on our way home by the courteous, but firm command, "lights out and pull over to the curb," from Air Raid Warden Wilson, giving explanation and valuable advice. He discussed what the public should heed in these precarious times, viz: that full cooperation and acquiescence to their orders is absolutely necessary.

DR. EMMETT J. SCOTT DELIVERS FIRST ANNUAL ADDRESS OF THE PHILADELPHIA CHAPTER OF THE "FRONTIERS OF AMERICA"

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — The Philadelphia Chapter of the Frontiers of America, an organization founded to harness the cooperative influence of the leaders of the Colored group in this city and to direct their influence toward the solution of major, racial, civic, and social issues, celebrated its First Anniversary Monday evening at the Christian Street Y. M. C. A., with Dr. Emmett J. Scott as Guest Speaker.

The Frontiers Club represents a unique approach to the intelligent and objective consideration of problems that confront a minority group. In this area, it seeks to clarify aims, to give dynamic force to ideals, and to cement leadership into a solid unit for action. It is purely a non-partisan organization.

The Officers of the Philadelphia Chapter are: Dr. Irvin W. Underhill, Jr., President; Dr. John H. Brodhead, Vice-President; Rev. Charles C. Beckett, Secretary; and Mr. William C. Wingate, Treasurer.

The membership includes such important citizens as Bishop David H. Sims, Messrs. Marshall L. Shepard, John P. Turner, Robert W. Wagnall, J. B. Deans, James H. Duckery, Tanner G. Duckrey, Eustace Gay, Joseph H. Rainey, Magistrate; Theodore O. Spaulding, Attorney; Henry C. Parker, Jr.; William A. Harrod, D. W. Henry, Wayne L. Hopkins, and Ralph H. Jones.

In discussing the broad issues which confront Colored Americans, Dr. Scott declared, "If we have any determined purpose in this life, it is that no technique, no chicane, no mass opposition, no act of oppression or repression, or dastard action shall halt or stay our progress, permanently discourage or depress us, or crush us as we fight the courageous fight for the spread of full-fledged democracy in this country toward the building and defending of which we have made so large and important a contribution. . ."

With respect to the claim of some that there are some questions so delicate that they should not be discussed during this period of war, he said: "There are those who decry a discussion of this so-called delicate subject of democracy in the midst of the global war now being waged on five continents and seven seas.

"Why should a country professing the ideals of the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, and the Atlantic Charter, hesitate to face the implications of these cherished documents? . ."

Further, he said, "Are we Americans so hypocritical that we fear to seek the full meaning and significance of the meaning of justice, the dignity of man, the moral order, and the supremacy of human rights? Are they just catch words, or do they represent the highest hopes and aspirations of mankind?

"Make no mistake about it, the answers to these questions will be forthcoming before World War II comes to an end. We, Negro-Americans make no mistake when we press for an answer to these questions here in America even at this time for they affect us in every normal activity of our lives. In contending for undiluted Americanism in this country of ours, we are not interfering with national unity. Instead, we are helping America and Great Britain to find their very souls. . ."

In the course of his address, Dr. Scott said that he refuses to discuss those problems which perplex Colored Americans from the standpoint of a minority group for the reason that they are just as much Americans as any other segment of our American population. They are clothed in the proud habiliments and dignities of American citizenship.

He described the forthcoming postwar period as likely to be a very troublesome one and declared that Colored men and women have poured and are pouring their all into winning this war as they have in every war of the Republic.

"Colored veterans will return from the present war in no frame of mind," he said "to accept the segregations, the lynchings, the poll tax scandals, the exclusions from industry, the discriminations of labor unions, Jim-Crowism in all its ugly, vicious and cruel manifestations; unequal school facilities, political disfranchisement, Government discriminations, along with departmental, Army and Navy practices with respect to treatment, promotions, and all the long list of meannesses to which we have been subjected. . ."

Dr. Scott stated that a new world order is in process of making and that our world society and economy are to be reconstituted after new patterns.

"Make no mistake about it," he said, "black and brown peoples are pressing their case in the forums of world public opinion and are demanding equal opportunity to develop their native genius and that exploitations, imperialistic enterprise, and all of the other anachronisms of our present world system are on the way to being swept out of existence . . ."

Dr. Scott concluded by summoning the members of the Frontiers of America "to the task of practicing and upholding Democracy in the broadest sense of the word, with debased citizenship eliminated along with bigotry, and intolerance, and with every tradition that seeks the subordination of men and women of different races."

"Chas. Edwards and His Visit To Berlin Germany"

By Charles Edwards
(An Exclusive California Eagle Serial)

HITLER SPEAKS!

The California Eagle takes sincere pride in presenting the first public presentation of the mission fulfilled by America's number one youth leader, Charles Edwards, on his "Assignment to Berlin." What has gone on before Mr. Edwards recalled your memory to December, 1941, when war was declared. He now attempts to expose the facts of why. He recalled his dramatic journey through Berlin, Germany, between May, 1937, and September, 1939, during which time he was granted a personal interview with Adolf Hitler. The purpose of his interview was to try to understand and explain to the World Christian Youth Conference the aspirations of the German government.

Mr. Edwards told of "Mein Kampf"—not revealing nearly all of Hitler's plans. He has entered the reich capital and has gained entrance into the private office of the Chancellor. Many questions have passed between Mr. Hitler and Mr. Edwards, among them being the future of Europe and the rest of the world and Germany's part in creating a new order. We continue:

After dinner Hitler mentioned the fact that his step-sister Frau Raubal, was continually worried about his safety, therefore he could not walk about the garden as he wished to. I met Frau Raubal, and she told me that assassinations were already feared, particularly within the Chancellery gardens, and that Hitler had been warned against walking in them. . . I told him that she had mentioned this to me. And He just laughed, he told me that we could continue to talk and at the same time he would show me the Reich Chancellory. He lived at that time on the second floor. Frau his step sister lent some what of a housewifely character to his home. His home part of the Reich Chancellory was good middle class, quite different from the other sections of the Reich. The rooms were smallish, the furnishings simple and without refinement. There was not a single thing that revealed anything of good personal taste or artistic value. He opened a door and we walked out on a terrace overlooking the garden we sat down . . . I took out my notebook and proceeded to continue my interview with Hitler. My first question to Hitler was what are your political opinions of America? Well I right answer that this way, sooner or later we shall in any case have to face the hostility of the United States and Britain. Germany is ready. And has been ready for many years. As for the United States they shall certainly never interfere in Europe again. . . I know that better than anyone, for I know these gentry and their weakness Britain, he proclaimed, was dead. Where else, he added, should Germany get the elements of her future world empire if not from the disintegrating empires of Britain and France? The final struggle with Britain could not be evaded . . As he spoke I recalled "Mein Kampf," to my mind. And if you will look closely and read very carefully "you will find that everything in "Mein Kampf," . . is of purely tactical value. And Hitler had good reason to write as he did."

That afternoon I heard mentioned for the first time the general outlines of the future great Germany overseas Reich. I was amazed to hear from Hitler himself that he was reaching out to the Pacific. Above all, he was interested in the former great German Dutch possessions and the man island empire, embracing whole of new Guinea. Japan must not be allowed to grow too big, Hitler remarked. It must be deflected against China and Russia. But Hitler said that He also anticipated a Central African Dominion of Germany as well as a complete revolutionary transformation of the United States. With the breakdown of the British Empire, Hitler said that he also believed that he could break Anglo-Saxon influence in North America, and substitute for it in the German language and culture as a preliminary step towards incorporating the United States. About the United States, Hitler had his firm opinion which no argument could shake. This opinion was that North America would never take part in a European war again, and that, with her millions of unemployed, the United States was on the brink of a revolution from the outbreak of which only Hitler could save her. Continued in next issue. . . .

IT'S EASTER TIME FOR THE JOE LOUIS' JACQUELYN

Funny Looking Underwear In "This Is The Army" Real Life

In the opening sequence of Irving Berlin's "This Is the Army" featuring Joe Louis, now before the cameras at Warner Bros. studio, there appears a straggling, be-underweared group of "selectees," new soldiers in the throes of induction. The same group appeared at the opening of the soldier show when it played the theaters of the country.

But, just to show this theater-conscious company that Hollywood and the men who make its pictures will take nothing on hearsay, the Warner Bros. costume researchers spent a day at the Fort MacArthur induction center, studying first hand the things men really wear under their clothes on the day they report to the army.

The men who played the parts in the show thought their costumes were pretty revealing and very funny. But what the studio costume experts discovered to be the more authentic under-their-clothes garments, from their study of the inductee in the flesh, are not as revealing but much funnier.

The soldier group is re-dressing its act to be more in tune with the time—and types.

BEHIND THE SCENES WITH HARRY

HARRY LEVETTE — Theatrical Editor

KEEP YOUR BIG MOUTH SHUT, and buy War Bonds! Don't go blabbing where brother, sweetheart, son or sister is sailing to, merely because he was foolish enough to trust you with a WAR SECRET. There's plenty Nazi and Jap spies right here now! Quit being loud and wrong in public! Quit calling each other "n————r" in public, then expect the other race to refrain from doing so!—Maybe you're making as much in one week now as you made in a month a year ago on WPA or in domestic service.—But cut down the size of your hat-band.—You didn't start it. Other race loving, but patriotic colored citizens protested, picketed, wrote, angled in every way, until the bars of discrimination were let down.—Now do a good job; quit laying off; and quit praising the Japs, like I heard a high-salaried shipyard worked do the other day.

THE JAPS DIDN'T VISIT LAST SUNDAY night, when that 56 minute air raid warning and black out was on, but don't kid yourselves.—They're coming, if you and the rest of the self-contented slackers don't join the conscientious, patriotic citizens of both races in aiding the war effort! All will not prevent them from sending at least one suicide squadron to Los Angeles, to get revenge for the Todio raid, and jolly up the home-folks, and the interned Japs here.—THEY'LL DROP BOMBS ON CENTRAL AVENUE, TOO, AND IF THEY LAND WILL STICK BAYONETS IN THE BAGGY SEATS OF THE ZOOT-SUITS AND TIGHT-STRETCHED WOMEN'S SLACKS!—They won't call their admirers "Dear dark brother," for they could not trust them being traitors to their own United States.

WHEW! I DIDN'T MEAN TO SQUABBLE SO LONG, before getting to the news, but had to administer a few drops of strong medicine, in hopes of reminding a lot of our folks that THIS IS WAR! Don't blame the other race for all our obstacles. Let's do a little house-cleaning and get rid of some of the disreputable, dangerous characters who are disgracing our streets, the cars and busses, and the whole race in general. And now let's take a quick peep at the news.

EARL GRIFFIN'S FAREWELL PARTY to the press just about the most enjoyable event of Easter (for details read the full account by Jacqueline Woods, my assistant, and columnist of "Orchids of Merit") also Bill Smallwood's—so many lovely ladies present, the scribbling boys did not "talk shop" as they do when alone, but everybody enjoyed themselves. Earl took a plane to New York, thence to Baltimore to join the Ingram Treasury Dept. War Bond show, as official photographer. Ralph Cooper is the star, and it is an outgrowth from his Pabst radio show.—Happy Johnson closed at the Club Alabam, after long run; Lee Young and ork, opens April 30, for 12 weeks.—Noble Sissle is still wowing them at the Casino, but preparing for opening of stage show "Shuffle Along" to open at Mayan.—Louie "Snatchmo" Armstrong now at Lincoln preparing to make a couple of pictures.—Casele Burke starts 7th year at Bal Tabarin;—data lost on how many years. Broomfield and Greely there, too, with floor show;—Art Tatum, Tiny Grimes and Slam Stewart at the "Streets of Paris."

BENNY CARTER AT THE HOLLYWOOD CLUB;—Chas. Echols at the Vince Mar; Harlan Leonard headed for the new Rhumboogie. Fess White at Jarry's Joynt; Nellie Lutcher, singing pianist and trio at Club Royale;—Charlie Davis at the St. Frances Room;—Carl Johnson at the Zomba;—Paul Howard at Virginia's;—Ivy, Vern and Von at the Streets of Paris;—They're now playing instruments;—Evelyn "Hot Shot" Burwell of Hallelujah fame with Eugene Jackson on the Pike in Long Beach. Lovey Lane, exotic interpretative dancer, with Noble Sisslej at Casino, just about the only cartoonist-dancer in the country;—she can draw a perfect crayon portrait of you, while she dances (that's if you can keep cool and quiet while she undulates in those scanty, glamorous costumettes)—Let's take a quick peep at the movies in the making now and call it a day.

WAR WORKERS SHOWN IN M-G-M PIX. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will film "Blueprint For a Miracle," from Don Eddy's article, "American Workers Licked Rommel," appearing recently in American Magazine. The article tells how thousands of American workers, in a superhuman production drive lasting nine days and nights, helped rout Rommel when it looked like the Nazi desert fox was about to conquer all North Africa. In a miracle of industry, guns and tanks were constructed, assembled and transported to an Eastern port and from there convoyed safely to Cairo. Dore Schary will produce the picture.

THEATRE WORLD

Vol. 64—No. 3 — Los Angeles, Calif., Thursday, April 29, 1943 — Page 2-B

QUEEN OF 732 MILITARY POLICE, CO. B

CHICAGO—(Press Photo Service, Inc.)—Miss Mercedell Nixon, the daughter of Mrs. William Nixon, 601 East 50th Street, was the pretty little Miss chosen as "Queen of the 732nd Military Police, Company B, Camp Kankakee, Joliet, Illinois, on Friday, April 2nd. Miss Nixon was chosen from among nine finalists, competing for that title. She is a native of New Orleans, Louisiana, and graduated from Jack Yates High School, Texas, completing her education at the Dunbar Vocational School, where she took a course in Millinery. A dinner dance climaxed the affair with Sgt. Horace Anderson, a recent inductee into the Army and a former band leader in civilian life, furnishing the dance tunes.

HOME DEFENSE FEATURE OF POLICE SHOW

With plans for the 9th Annual Police show, to be held in the Shrine Auditorium May 19th to 24th, well under way, Chief of Police C. B. Horrall and Show Director Ernest M. Nelson have just announced that the local USO will participate in the proceeds.

In recognition of the 460 stars which represents Los Angeles police officers now on active duty in every theater of war, a strong reciprocal bond exists between the "home front" service bodies. A check of police personnel now enrolled in various branches of the army, navy, coast guard and marines, covers combat zones throughout the world. It is in tribute to these absent members that the department extends every assistance possible to those groups which unite the outposts of American defense around the globe.

No less important, though less spectacular, is the work being done on our second line of defense. The law enforcement officers who are carrying on the fight for safety and security at home are working longer hours and under greater pressure than ever before to compensate for the drastic curtailment in manpower.

In buying tickets to the great "VICTORY REVUE" you not only insure yourself and family an outstanding entertainment treat, but also help many worthy and patriotic activities not supported by tax funds. See your neighborhood policeman now,—and remember the dates: May 19th to 24th inclusive.

Saturday youth day in recreation and the climax of Youth Week will be Sunday in churches when youth preachers will fill local pulpits.

WILL ROGERS JR. TELLS VALUE OF MOVIES TO SOLDIERS

Drawing on his own army experiences in Camp Hood, Texas, Representative Will Rogers Jr., of Los Angeles County, told the House of Representatives that motion pictures are indispensable to the morale of our fighting men.

Monotony and drudgery are as basic a part of army camp life as are hard work and sacrifice," he explained, and added that motion pictures supply the basic escape for the soldier both in this country and overseas.

"As one who has sat and relished these shows from the army private's viewpoint, I want you to know how deeply the men appreciate this contribution to them from the industry.

"A little known contribution of the industry to the war are the films for men overseas and in small defense outposts. At its own expense, the industry has made 16mm. prints of its current feature picture. I have been present and have seen the thrill of anticipation which runs through a camp when the portable projection truck rolls up, the portable screen is put out at a distance, and a late, current movit hit is shown.

"Colonel Lawton, chief of the army's pictorial division, testified: 'I know of no other industry turning over to the government items of war material absolutely without profit.' He further stated that the Signal Corps had yet to reject a single training film from the Hollywood studios.

"I want the House to know what a tremendous aid these training films have been. I was recently in the army. I was trained by these films. I later used these films to train other men. The use of training films has cut the training time by 30 per cent to 80 per cent.

"On the home front we are prone to take the work of our motion picture studios for granted. We see a patriotic short and we forget that this is not just a run-of-the-mill picture, it is a contribution to the war. In total war, morale is as necessary as munitions."

Maudelle—

Her Dancing

By BILL SMALLWOOD

Diego Rivera never fails to impress biographers with his tremendous respect and enthusiasm for Negro development of the dance and art forms. Then, he refers to Maudelle, the dancer-model, as "a majestic figure who lends vast credence to African culture." He knows whereof he speaks, for Maudelle is one of his more famous models. She spent long months tirelessly posing for him in his Mexico City studio, and dancing in recital for his friends, all equally as famous as their host.

Maudelle's career reads very much like a page from Arabian Nights. The first thing about her which strikes you forcibly is her dynamic sincerity of purpose and enthusiasm of vision. You definitely know nothing will stand in her way. She has a program and she is following it. Her expressive shoulders always shrug off any suggestion of failure or words of discouragement. It's a sortve refreshing treat to relax and chat with Maudelle. She came to sip sherry with me the other afternoon, and proved a guest I shall long remember.

I have never agreed with Isabel Morse Jones in her fashionable lament that primitive dances haven't much to offer the theatre in comparison with the ballet. She should cultivate Maudelle. And she should have been present in New York when Maudelle electrified smart dance-lovers with her ritualistic dancing as the High Priestess in the Ballet Theatre's Obeah. I shall never forget it.

Then, I again saw her weave in and out've New York church auditoriums, leaving onlookers spellbound with her mystical manners, handsome royal Congo head, cat-like dance tread.

Carmel, Monterey and Santa Barbara colonies will never forget her. She does something to you, does it quite simply, quite effortlessly. Roland Hayes was moved beyond words. Merle Armitage considers her one of his finest artists ever to appear at Philharmonic (she led the African ballet Zungura, there). Edward G. Robinson is included among distinguished folk who have been her patrons. She danced in Salome with the Horton Dancers. She has studied on scholarships. Yurieva has sculptured her. She has spent long hours teaching primitive dances to Harlem school children. Herrera, Mexico's beloved dancer, shared a creative dance program with Maudelle, considered it a highlight of her career. Countless artists have painted her, sculptured her.

Her costumes are exotic. Colors, brilliant. Each native dance calls for a different type of costume, a different facial expression. She knows them all. When she dances, you know she's not of your immediate world.

Walter Pack, the artist, went to Mexico City, saw Rivera's large canvas of her and his crayon sketch of her dance. Now, his painting of Maudelle equals Rivera's. When sophisticate Noel Sullivan hosted a Bach Festival at the Carmel Art Gallery he chose Maudelle to dance for the group. That was in 1939, and she still hears often from several who saw that affair. Their admiration remaips. The Community Art Center of Ojai Valley presented her in recital. With a partner (now drafted), she danced at the Ruth St. Denis studio in NY. People didn't want to go home for hours, although she was exhausted.

Maudelle loves Mexico and its people. She would love to live there. And I'm not sure she won't in years to come. They know and love her as an artist, a sensitive soul, a frank speaking and thinking young woman. I think she should live there. Unfortunately this country places too much commercial speculation on art, such as hers. She has something to express, and does it. All else follows.

Maudelle is An Artist. And a person I admire tremendously.

"CABIN IN THE SKY"

"Cabin in the Sky," the new M-G-M picture has assembled a cast studded with brilliant Broadway names. Headed by Ethel Waters, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson and Rex Ingram, it also includes Lena Horne, Louis Armstrong, Kenneth Spencer, Oscar Polk, Butterfly McQueen and "Buck and Bubbles." Duke Ellington and his orchestra and the Hall Johnson choir supplement this celebrated company.

The picture is based on the musical of the same name opened on the stage of the Martin Beck theater, October 25, 1940, and ran for more than a year. Subsequently it enjoyed a successful tour on the road. Lynn Root wrote the book for both versions, John Latouche the lyrics and Vernon Duke the music.

In "Cabin in the Sky" Ethel Waters, as the wife of Little Joe, sings "Cabin in the Sky," "Happiness Is a Thing Called Joe," "Taking a Chance on Love" and other numbers from the Harburg and Arlen score.

"Cabin in the Sky" is more grown up than "The Green Pastures." For one thing it brings out the power of prayer. Basically it is the story of a wayward soul kept on the straight and narrow path by the prayers of his wife, but the treatment is in a happy vein. While good triumphs over bad, there's a lot of fun in the doing of it."

Lena Horne has the part of the seductive assistant to Lucifer Jr., and as Georgia Brown sings such songs as "Life Is Full of Consequences" and "Honey in the Honeycomb" at her torchiest best.

Duke Ellington's orchestra is so well known, it would be superfluous to mention his exciting and varied contributions to "sweet," "hot" and "swing" music. Nor does Hall Johnson and his renowned choir need an introduction except to say that the Hall Johnson Singers are the best of their kind. Mr. Johnson is recognized as the leading authority on Negro spirituals.

Vincent Minnelli, who directed "Cabin in the Sky," although still a young man, is a veteran in the show business. He has demonstrated his brilliant technique in several editions of Ziegfeld's Follies, in the Dietz-Schwartz musical-comedy, "At Home Abroad" and in "Very Warm for May." He also has designed and created sets for the Music Hall and for the Paramount theater. "Cabin in the Sky" is his first picture. He directed the big cast—at times there were 150 players on the stage—beneath 45,000 square feet of canvas.

Arthur Freed produced "Cabin in the Sky" for M-G-M with Albert Lewis as associate director. The screen play is by Joseph Schrank and the musical adaptation by Roger Edens, with Georgie Stoll as director of music and George Bassman in charge of the orchestration.

Dusty Dusty Over Columbia May 3rd

Here's a Count Basie coupling that will spin a thrill into the heart of every pop fan. That old standard heart-throb, ALL OF ME, is grooved with the artful finnesse that characterizes all Basie offerings. Lynne Sherman adds to the general appealing effect by taking off with a pulsing vocal that is both subtle and sweet. Interspersed with the Maestro's delicate piano touch, the side is a highly acceptable hunk of waxwork. The reverse, RUSTY DUSTY BLUES, spotlights the effervescent Mr. Rushing in a bit of lusty blues singing. James is again at his best, giving forth in a manner that leaves no doubt as to his right to all palms for the tops in blues vocalizing. The band carries through in a style befitting Rushing's efforts. This Columbia Disc presents an altogether satisfying session of pop listening . . . a perfect record for adding to any Count Basie collection, or, for getting acquainted, if you've never had the pleasure of being exposed to the superb Basie brand of music.

A remark made recently to a local sports writer by Joe E. Brown, the funny-man, would seem to tip off things to come in the post-war sports picture.

Just returned from a tour of the South Pacific, Brown said that he had talked for two hours with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and that worthy said his charges got a "tremendous kick" out of listening to sports broadcasts and reading papers which contained sports news.

All of which means, of course, that if there are those of us who thought that pre-Pearl Harbor America was overly sports conscious "we ain't seen nothing yet!"

Those boys who are on the war fronts of the world want their sports, but they want them untainted by discrimination and color prejudice! Major league big-wigs, take note!

SLUGGER WHITE CONVINCES

The column saw Luther (Slugger) White for the first time last week at the Olympic and we are convinced that Maryland knew what she was doing when she crowned him "lightweight champion of the world."

The only thing wrong with the coronation, of course, is the quotes. After watching him hang up a rousing 10-round decision victory over our own John Thomas, the Slugger convinced us of his right to wear the crown, and to be recognized as champion universally.

Likened to Henry Armstrong, old "Perpetual Motion," White throws as many, if not more, punches than Hank ever did. Hank's power behind the blows is the only thing lacking. However, Slugger has enough of that to topple an opponent—for keeps! Aside: Wonder who put it out that Slugger was a powder-puff puncher in the first place! A Slugger White-Armstrong match would be a humdinger!

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

Lloyd Marshall, who fought here several times and impressed with his dynamic punching, is pushing Jimmy Bivins for home front boxing laurels . . . Pee Wee Lewis, stablemate of Slugger White, made Chuey Figueroa step every minute of the 10 rounds at Hollywood Friday, although he dropped the duke . . . and Tyree White did everything but use a ring post in registering a lop-sided victory over willing Alejandro Vega . . . Jack Chase, California middleweight champion, goes to the post in San Diego May 8 against Archie Moore . . . Speaking of San Diego reminds us that a new attraction has been uncovered there in Soldier Bob Jones who just recently handed Sailor Jack Coggins a pasting . . .

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Mexico, April 29.—With the opening of beautiful Caliente race course less than three weeks away, horses are arriving from all parts of the country. Latest of the prominent stables from Bay Meadows were those of George Glick and Lonnie Copenhaver, in the shipment were such handicap stars as Sweepalor, Redrock Canyon, Anthology, Jockarando, Uproarious, Paula's Lulu, Paula's Hope and Paula's Star. Generalissimo Eddie Nealis postponed the opening from May 2nd to May 16th in order to have more and better horses on the grounds for the fans, he said I am going to try and give the lovers of the sport of kings better horses than they have had in years, and after the season opens I will offer some attractive events for the handicap division. No purse will be less than five hundred dollars the Generalissimo said. Chief Assistant Armando Verdugo, one of the popular officials is at the track early in the mornings, to late in the evenings, leaving no stone unturned preparing for the comfort of the public opening day. And he has a man's size job on hand, but knows how to do it with that big smile of his and understanding ways, all want to co-operate with him. Mr. Zeke Caress, known as one of the world's greatest price makers will again be in charge of the rings and the combination book, very seldom you catch Mr. Caress out of line with his prices. As he always has a staff of able clockers on hand. Judge Joe Walter is kept busy flying to Bay Meadows and back arranging stall room for the stables that will ship to Caliente, the Meadows will close May 8th. Presiding Stewart George Shilling, the man that knows horses from A to Z. Will leave soon after the opening for Canada but will return after the western racing dates are over. Well it still look's like Count Fleet has the Derby all by-hisself, Ocean Wave and Slide Rule will be the horses to beat. Altho this writes is pulling for Eddie Anderson's Burnt Cork, and don't forget fans that anything can happen in a horse race. And there you have it, the news of the turf for this week. The way the Derby should finish on form is, Count Fleet, first; Ocean Wave, second; Slide Rule, third. Saturday will tell the tale. Until then buy more War Stamps and Bonds . . . and don't let out a Yap, Bonds and Stamps will get those Japs.

So long.— GEORGE

WILLIAMSON RELAY STAR

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—Corporal Joshua Williamson from Camp Pickett, Virginia, captured the high jump here Saturday during the 49th Annual University of Pennsylvania relays.

Williamson's mark was 6ft. 6⅛in. He tried to beat Adam Berry's meet mark of 6ft. 7½in., but failed.

Winning the broad jump, Eulace Peacock of the Manhattan Beach (N. Y.) Coast Guard finished second in the invitation 100-yard dash.

BANTAMS AT LEGION FRIDAY

A fill-in for the oft-postponed Turkey Thompson-Freddie Fiducia heavyweight brawl, bantamweights Benny Goldberg and Tony Olivera clash Friday night at Hollywood Legion stadium.

Goldberg, who has been fighting mostly in the Midwest, holds wins over Joey Archibald, former featherweight champion, and Lou Transperanti. Olivera's last appearance at Hollywood was a losing one to Carlos Chavez.

Rudy Campa tangles with Vincent Villavicencio in Friday's six round semi.

Torn shoulder ligaments keep Fiducia in the East, according to his manager, Jimmy Johnston.

Lige Drew In TKO Win At Olympic

Lige Drew, 147, of San Diego, halted Tony Canelli's attempted comback campaign Tuesday at the Olympic when he scored a technical knockout over the North Broadway Italian midway of the 10th and final round of the main event.

Canelli weighed 148.

Tommy Cornwall, 180, godded Jim Wilson, 172, in the six-round semi-windup. Wilson was on the floor for a count of 7 in the fourth round.

Other results: Dave Edwards, 172, knocked out Silas Drake, 173, in the second round of the top four-rounder; Lou Bernal, 133, decisioned Richard Arce, 139, and Bobby Taylor, 135, shaded Ray Arregon, 136.

A benefit show for Local No. 599, Pipe Fitters and Welders, will b staged tonight at the Olympic with Harold Dade meeting Joe Robleto in the main event.

Turkey Thompson will box an exhibition bout with Jack Scott. Baby Arizmendi will be the referee.

VALENTINO WALLOPED BY BIVINS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29 - Jimmy Bivins, 176½-pound Cleveland, decisively whipped Pat Valentino, 184½-pound Coast Guardsman, here Monday night, to strengthen his claim as the nation's number one heavyweight, what with champion Joe Louis in the Army.

With the exception of the first and third rounds, Bivins found Valentino to be easy to hit and in the 10th and last stanza a flurry of lefts and rights deposited the Coast Guardsman on

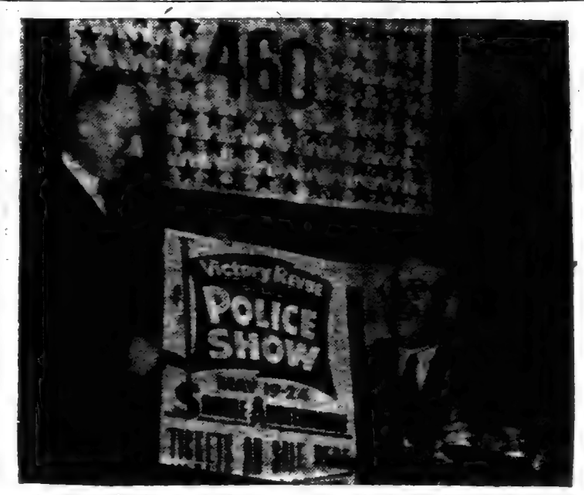
The local pride took the first and third heats when he concentrated on Bivins' body.

Gate receipts totaled more than $25,000.

D. C. Employes Plan National Meet

Plans for the forthcoming national convention of dining car employees were laid and internal problems of their own organization were discussed last week-end as dining car employees of the Southern Pacific railway, the Western Pacific railway, and the T. & N. O. division of the Southern Pacific railway held a system meeting here with twelve members in attendance. The employees are members of the Dining Car Cooks and Waiters Union, an A. F. of L. affiliate.

Pointing to an increased cost of living as justifying it, the gathering pledged members of the union to cooperate in the move for a wage increase that is now pending before the railway panel named by the president; and also placed their stamp of approval on a bill, already passed by the lower house of the California legislature, providing for an itemization of payroll deductions made by employers. James H. Anderson, one of the delegates, has been furthering the interests of the bill at Sacramento.



After hearing a report by William E. Pollard, who attended the trial, the gathering voted to assist in furthering the appeal of Robert Lee Folkes from a death sentence meted out to him in the famous Bertha 13 case, and named Mr. Pollard chairman of a committee to conduct a drive for defense funds.

Delegates to the conference were Clarence E. Brown, president of the Oakland local; Elbert M. Jackson, Bernard Gravelli and T. W. Anderson, all of Oakland; Prince E. Gallagher Sr.; president of the Houston branch; Bernard W. Shaw, Moses H. Lovick and R. L. Crawford, all of Houston, Texas; Thomas Rowlett, president of the Los Angeles local; William E. Pollard, secretary-treasurer of the Los Angeles local; John H. Hicks, Ovid Scott and Clarence Rhodes, all of Los Angeles. James H. Anderson, general chairman, acted as chairman at the meeting.

Committee For Equal Participation In Organized Baseball Formed Here

Against a background of service stars, Chief of Police C. B. Horrall discusses 9th Annual Show plans with Director Ernest M. Nelson.

Concrete ways and means of waging an all-out fight for the inclusion of all Americans in the ranks of baseball took form here Tuesday with the organization of the Committee for Equal Participation in Organized Baseball.

Halley Harding, of the Los Angeles Tribune, was named president; Herman Hill, Pittsburgh Courier, executive secretary, and Chester Brewer and Olin Dials, coordinators.

Both Brewer and Dials are veterans of the Negro National League and are contesting for the right to play in the Pacific Coast league.

A steering committee was also chosen and among those listed are Eddie Burbridge, Los Angeles Sentinel sports editor; Harry Levette, coast representative of the Associated Negro Press; J. Cullen Fentress, EAGLE sports editor; Elihu McGee, "Babe" Wilson, Rev. A. Wendell Ross, Sidney P. Dones, Almena Davis, Rev. N. P. Moreland, Norman O. Houston, Attorneys Walter L. Gordon and Curtis C. Taylor, Baron Moreheard, Henry Armstrong and Lou Rosser.

SEEKS PUBLIC'S AID

Heretofore the numerous unsuccessful efforts to gain admission of race athletes into the sacred confines of organized baseball have been confined to individual gestures. Despite the fact that tremendous progress has been made during the last year it is felt that the fight is of such scope that the aid of the general public should be enlisted.

It is the plan of the organization to solicit funds with which to wage an all-out war against the powers-that-be who are responsible for the total undemocratic exclusion of the Negro from the great American game. Through the medium of the radio, paid advertisements in the daily press, public speeches and personal contact the campaign will be brought to the attention of the public at large.

As the initial step the committee's president and secretary leave Friday for Oakland for a conference with the owners and managers of the Oakland and San Francisco clubs of the Pacific Coast league.

Temporary headquarters of the committee have been set up at 4020 S. Central avenue and 4212 S. Central avenue, suite 3.

Blount "Wings Over Jordan" Speaker

Sunday, May 2, 1943, the famous "Wings Over Jordan" radio program will present as guest speaker, Mr. L. C. Blount of Detroit, past president of the National Negro Insurance Association.

Mr. Blount's address will officially open National Negro Insurance Week, May 3 to 8, making the ninth annual observance of the service and contribution to economic stability made by Negro insurance companies to Negro communities throughout the country. During the week member companies of National Negro Insurance Association will put on a production drive that should be of interest to every member of the race.

Negro insurance companies are participating actively in America's war effort, and especially in the fight for the Four Freedoms and postwar economic security. A partial report shows that these companies have already invested more than two million dollars in War Bonds and Stamps, in addition to the millions invested in regular government securities.

Insurance and War Bonds are today's best investments for the payroll dollar and other funds not needed for bare necessities, and such investments will ward off a period of inflation and make available to investors a backlog of funds in event of a post war depression, is the claim of insurance authorities.

In California and Illinois, the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, a member of National Negro Insurance Association, has all decks cleared for the yearly competition of underwriting. The company asks that everyone, with or without insurance, take time out during this special week to survey their personal and family insurance status. Officials of the company state that they will be glad to send an agent to explain the various kinds of insurance that may be secured and the benefits guaranteed.

Derby Trial KOs Hopes of "Rochester"

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29.—Burnt Cork, the Kentucky Derby hope of famed radio comedian Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, had little more than a workout here Tuesday as Ocean Wave rolled around the muddy Churchill Downs strip to win the Derby Trial by 9 lengths.

Stable mate of Whirlaway in Warren Wright's barn, the Wave established himself as a definite threat to Count Flee in Saturday's 69th running of the famous classic.

As a result of his showing Tuesday, Burnt Cork was not listed among the likely starters.

PRAIRIE VIEW RUNNERS SHINE

DES MOINES, Ia., April 29.—Winning two Drake relays events Friday, Prairie View State College's (Texas) relays team came back here Saturday to triumph in the one-mile college relay in 3m. 20.1s.

Challenge State's Political Code

The Los Angeles County BOARD OF SUPERVISORS and the RECORDER have failed TWICE in this present Legislature at Sacramento to pass an Amendment to the Political Code, Section 4131, which Amendment called for photostating all Legal Documents filed by the public in the Recorder's office. The BOARD has now passed a Resolution instructing the County Counsel to install Photostat regardless, deliberately challenging the Political Code of the State of California.

POST OFFICE FACTS

"Moreover the profit of the earth is for all: the king himself is served by the field." Ecclisiastes 5:9.

As we read the war news in the daily paper it is hard for us to become reconciled over the loss of our loved ones. To compensate the loss of these we love there is a sacred obligation for every real American to fulfill on the home front. We must see that all peoples shall be guaranteed an equal opportunity that these men shall not have died in vain.

It has ben the common belief of many that class consciousness and snobbishness exists mainly among big business men. This belief is far from true for big business is well organized and operates with precision to achieve its objectives. Disunity by application of class consciousness existing in organized and unorganized labor is a factor used so effectively in preventing labor from uniting. Until labor as a whole realizes they are holding themselves back progress will be very slow.

The most prevalent of all groups with a superiority complex are those in the civil service. For some unknown reason they have designated themselves as the untouchables. Civil Service positions in most cases are general accepted to be lifetime jobs with certain retirement and vacation advantages. For these reasons there has been a tendency to underrate fellow workers in private industry. This has been a grave mistake and certainly short-sightedness.

Regardless of who your employer might be, employment is based upon demand and supply. When private industry as a whole curtails production the government automatically reduces its personnel. Revenue to operate government agencies is obtained by taxes paid by private industry and its employees. From these taxes civil service salaries are paid. Since there are only about 300,000 postal employees and there are several million employees in private industry, it stands to reason that private industry must be supporting civil service employees.

Civil service employees should take a more active interest in the affairs of labor as a whole. Their support has been invaluable in assisting in pay raises through Congressional legislation. Our united support is necessary to not only make gains but retain those we now hold so dear. We should contribute to the social, religious, and civil welfare of the community in which we live. Only by becoming a part of the community in which we live should we expect to enjoy its full benefits.

The next time you see a fellow worker who feels sorry for everyone who isn't in civil service ask him if all his ancestors were in the civil service. We all appreciate certain advantages that civil service offers but we should not lose sight of the fact we are still public servants. All labor is honorable and all labor is essential. How your duties are performed is up to you; any job can be dignified if the individual so desires. Some of our most dignified people are those who perform the most humble duties.

Post office guard Jay Moss s back at the Terminal again after spending several months in the armed forces.

Next week will mark the beginning of a series introducing the men behind the scenes who have served the public faithfully for years but are seldom seen or heard.

American Bar Association Refuses Negro Judge Goldstein, And Others Resign

NEW YORK—A bombshell comparable only to that tossed into the machinery of the Daughters of the American Revolution several years ago by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was tossed into the snooty midst of the American Bar Association here this week when Judge Jonah J. Goldstein resigned from that august body in protest against its policy of racial discrimination.

Mrs. Roosevelt quit the D.A.R. when it refused the use of Constitution Hall to the great Negro singer, Marian Anderson.

Goldstein's action set off a chain of resignations from the A.B.A. by such powerful legal figures as Judge Samuel Seabury, famous crusading investigator who tore the tentacles of Tammany Hall from the New York City administration years ago; Henry W. Taft, Charles Evans Hughs, Jr., William J. O'Shea and Basil O'Conner, former law partner of President Roosevelt.

Francis E. Rivers, a chief assistant district attorney here, was proposed for A.B.A. membership, but was turned down allegedly because of his being a Negro. Rivers is a former member of the New York State legislature. He is a Phi Beta Kappa from Yale College and a graduate of the Columbia Law School. Mr. Rivers is also a veteran of World War I.

William B. Herlands, Commissioner of the Dept. of Investigation, said this week, "As a member of the A.B.A., I am investigating the facts. If, as reported, Francis E. Rivers' application has been rejected because he is a Negro, I shall immediately resign from the Association.

Another distinguished American liberal to part company with the A.B.A. was Arthur Garfield Hays, national director of the American Civil Liberties Union. "I am hopeful," he said in a press statement, "that the resignation of Judge Goldstein and myself may lead hundreds of right-thinking men to follow our example."

Rivers' application was rejected in 1942. The A.B.A. application form asks whether the applicant is Negro, white, Mongolian or Indian. Subsequent correspondence between the President of the New York Bar Association and the A.B.A. president that only one vote is necessary on the executive committee and five on the A.B.A. admission committee to keep an applicant out, and ". . . there are usually and probably present at meetings of the Association at least five members who will vote against an applicant if and because he is a Negro: and also that there is usually and perhaps always upon the Executive Committee at least one member who will vote against an applicant if he chances to be a Negro."

LOS ANGELES SHOULD ACT

Observers in New York expect some action from the West Coast, where a number of influential A.B.A. members reside. Vigorous presentation of the discrimination issue by Negro organizations now may add to the flurry of condemnation smothering the A.B.A. bias policy a new, clear voice out of the Far West.

catchy song, which shse sang in her own inimitable style.

Presentation of the National Colors was made by the United States Service Color Guard, and the "Star Spangled Banner," which was sung immediately following the raising of the colors, was lead by William E. Oliver, Drama editor of the Los Angeles Evening Herald-Express.

The program having been briefly presented, but enthusiastiacllv received, Harry Bridges, State Director of the CIO, after making a few inspiring remarks, introduced President Murray, amidst an avalanche of cheers and applause from the audience, who had anxiously awaited that moment.

The text of President Murray's speech follows:

It is a source of particular pleasure and, of course, great personal gratification to have the opportunity of coming out here to Los Angeles for the purpose of meeting with and talking to the people of this great state about the problems of the day. I doubt that I am capable of giving proper expression to you in words of gratitude for the spirit of hospitality that has been manifested towards me since my arrival in this city, yesterday afternoon. It is sufficient, I believe, for me to say to you that your warm hospitality, the spirit of cordiality you have shown toward me symbolizes that great friendship that you have for this great, powerful, influential movement — the CIO.

Some two and a half years ago I ascended to the presidency of this great labor organization; assuming the leadership of the movement at a time when American labor was crying for organization, and the past two and a half years have been years of hard work, great effort and energy, on the part of all of us, to build up here in the United States of America the type of labor movement that feels the pulses of American working men. There has been no labor organization, within my time at least, that lives closer to American workers than does the CIO. It understands human beings. It has an appreciation of their experiences and their desires. It lives in the homes of American workers; it lives with women, and children, and men. It knows something of poverty, of struggle and of privation. It knows something about the Constitution of the United States of America and the Bill of Rights. It speaks the attainment of America's most lofty objectives — its goal—its desires. It endeavors to elevate the standards of the common man. It is bread and butter organization. It is the type of union that believes in putting pictures on the walls—music in the homes — and providing the kind of culture that American workers should enjoy. It believes in equality of treatment, regardless of race, color or nationality. It fights practices of discrimination, in and out of American industry. It contends—and rightly so—that God in his infinite wisdom decreed that all people should be given equal rights. It provides for the attainment of those lofty expressions in its Constitution. It does not stop with the enactment of constitutional provisions and the use of lofty slogans, but is works—it works diligently and hard to make effective these provisions of its Constitution which declare equality; and so, this is the kind of labor organization that the CIO happens to be. It is an American institution. Practically so. It seeks, through the use of this great institution, to make applicable and workable that principle we all refer to as "democracy." We desire and militantly fight for the application of that word in a practical sense —that word "democracy." Oh, my good friends, there is no work in the world that could be more lofty, more noble, or more holy than the work of organizing the unorganized to win for them their industrial and economic emancipation. That is the rock—the rock upon which this organization is being built. And let me say to the good people of California tonight, and the United States of America, through the medium of this great meeting, this is a movement that will live—it will endure—because it is the kind of movement that the gates of hell shall never prevail against.

For a period of approximately seventeen months, or a little over that, our nation has become involved in this great war. This war which has yielded more lives, and more blood and more limb than any war that has ever taken place in this history of the world. It is a peculiar kind of war. It sems to be awfully hard for many of our people to understand, to rightly understant, what kind of a war this really is. Why? Why men are dying like flies: what they are fighting for, and why they are dying? Why they bleed, and why they lose their limbs. Shall I attempt to give to you CIO's conception of this war?

No organiztion anywhere in the world has put more into a war than CIO has put into this war. CIO, through its great membership is primarily engaged in the production of the implements of war; the CIO workers who produce the planes and tanks and guns and trucks and shells; in all the factories throughout the 48 states comprising the United States of America. CIO workers will be found applying themselves, diligently, to the task of producing these things so essential to the winning of this war. The CIO has over 800,000 of its members in the armed forces. CIO conducts its own campaigns, in most instances, the Red Cross, War Bonds, and all other kinds of activities incident to the successful prosecution of the war.

Some few months ago the Secretary of the Treasury called me at my office in the City of Washington. He said," "Mr. Murray, would you care to, through the use of your machinery in the United Steel Workers of America, undertake, and alone, the conduct of the Treasury's Defense War Bond Campaign; without the assistance of industry or without the assistance of the Treasury Department?" That organization accepted the challenge of the Secretary of the Treasury and in the course of a thirty day campaign in the steel industry received commitments from organized steel workers amounting to two hunded millions of dollars in war bonds. The CIO organized its own blood plan. In, many sections of the United States it receives thousands of names for this specific purpose. It organizes the workers and brings them into hospitals or merical centers, in order that blood might be procured to save the lives of our soldiers and sailors, and of our young men in the armed forces of the United States of America.

One week ago, last Monday night, I spoke, together with a number of other people, at a great meeting in the City of New York. In the course of the meeting there was brought to the front of the platform four young men—what was left of four young men: a soldier, sailor, air pilot and marine. One on crutches—one who has suffered the loss of a leg—one who was partially blind — another suffering from severe shell shock. Three of those young men fere members of CIO unions. They marched in single file to the microphone. They had been at sea, had been on the fighting front, and they had suffered.

You know what they told that great audience? Three ordinary dues-paying members; none ever had held office in the union; they told that audience that they thought they knew what this war was being fought for. They said they wanted to continue fighting this war to make not only America a better country to live in, but to help make other countries better countries to live in. They didn't know much about post-war planning. They haven't given any academic thinking to what might happen with reference to the rehabilitation of occupied countries in Europe; but deep down in their mental processes they thought — they are thinking — that men with kids, when this war is over, should have a better chance in this world. Yes, those three members of our armed forces are just like millions and the United States of America millions of others. Not only in but in other countries throughout the world, the common man is asking, praying and fighting for a little more of that sunlight that God, in His infinite wisdom, decreed human beings should have. Yes, the war has its terrifying aspects, because of the bloodiness attendant to war itself. But if I happen to know anything obut the working man, and I profess to know a little, I am conscious of one fact; that is this: That come what may, let the sacrifices be whatever they may have to be, Hitler, Hirohito, and a weak man called Mussolini,, and all they stand for, must be driven from the face of this earth. That may entail, as it must needs entail, some sacrifices on the part of all people, not only on the fighting fronts, but at home, as well. We can't hope, in the United States of America, whilst we are engaged in a war of this description, to maintain that life as usual, that happy-go-lucky way of living. We must needs necessarily look at the more serious aspects of the war situation and enter into it in that spirit in order to win the war.

Labor is and has been making that kind of contribution. The remarkable record achieved by American labor in the field of production is unequalled in any country throughout the entire world. The per capita productivity of an American worker ranks higher, by far, than the productivity of any wroker anywhere in the world today. The efficiency has constantly increased, so much so that it has staggered the imagination of our country's leading industrialists. I have had ample opportunity, while in the City of Washington, of meeting many of the leaders of our top-flight war agencies, as well as the leaders of labor organizations, to understand just what it is that American labor is doing in this wor. All hail to the great performance of American labor since the beginning of the war! Its willingness; its wholesomeness; to make whatever sacrifices might be necessary to obtain the highest degree of efficiency in the production of war materials in American industry.

It is true that in the Congress of the United States, and amongst a few leaders of big business, labor has been subjected to many bitter attacks—misrepresentations have been made upon the floor of Congress concerning the attitude of labor toward thiswar. Charges have been made that labor has been conducting itself in a manner unbecoming American leadership. Charges of a treasonous nature have been made against leaders of labor, but the record — the record speaks for itself. The record in this situation happens to be the facts. The facts happen to be undisputable. No laborbaiter, no matter who he may be, can gainsay the facts and the record of performance made by American labor since the beginning of the war.

There are other phases of this situation on our home front to which, of course, a leader of labor upon occasions such as this, must allude. Recently, the President of the United States of America, in asking that we give to him our whole-hearted support as our Command-in-Chief and as our great president, issued a Presidential directive, a directive to be administered by Mr. Justice Burns, director of Economic Stabilization, which has come to be regarded as a national Wage Freezing Order. I had the opportunity to make protest to the Director of Economic Stabilization and to the chairman of the National War Labor Doard, against the institution of this directive, contending that the absurdities contained in this directive would not be helpful to the maintenance of a high morale amongst the American working men and women. Let me point out for the benefit of this magnificent audience here tonight, the CIO's approach to the solution of this very vexing phase of our home front.

On the second day of October, 1942, the Congress of the United States enacted a law designed to stabilize wages, control prices, permit the adjudication of inequalities, inequities, maladjustments and make provision for wage increases where such wage increases would enhance the successful prosecution of the war. That law was made retroactive effective to September 15, 1942, and has come to be regarded as the National Wage Stabilization price control low. Immediately after the passage of the act, October 2, the National War Labor Board reshuffled its cards. It reorganized its administrative precesses to meet the requirement of the October order. It stated that beginning with September 15, or October 2, it would discontinue the practice of extending any further general wage increase. It would, however, in accordance with the provisions of the law seek the orderly determination of any inequities, inequalities, maladjustments and provide for wage increases where such wage increaseswould enhance the opportunity of the nation's winning the war. It also provided for the elevation of sub-standard levels to a higher level. That was the law, under which the National War Labor Board proceeded to operate after October 2, 1942. That law also said that concurrently with the fixing of wages, prices would be stabilized. Prices, retail prices, the prices that you pay for your goods in the market place, from your lical dealer, the chain stores, the independent stores, for clothing and food and other necessities of life. So Congress, by virtue of that Act made a commitment to the American people, made a pledge, and it wrote that pledge into law. But contrary to the spirit of the law, wages were stabilized and prices were left uncontrolled, so that since September 15, 7942, although the nation has had wage stabilization, living costs, particularly in foodstuffs, have increased approximately 38% to the average worker in the United States.

My good friends, I contend that in the spirit of equality, and exact justice, we ought to have equality of sacrifice in this country. Labor is asking for no special privilege, it asks that no special privilege be protected; it simply says that in the name of good government and good citizenship, let there be equality of sacrifice in the United States of America for the duration of the war.

All right, last week, last Friday down came the so-called wage-freezing order, preventing the orderly adjudication of inequality, inequities, or maladjustments. Wage increases were thrown out the window in general on September 15, 1942; inequalities and inequities are thrown out the window, and the cost of living is still going up. Yes, that is the stark tragedy of this situation.

Now, might I through the medium of this great meeting here tonight, ask Mr. Justice Burns, the Director of Economic Stabilization, what he is going to to about this? The President appointed him, and aside from the President of the United States, he is the most powerful man in this country tonight. He exercises more authority and more power than any other citizen in the United States tonight with the possible exception of the President, himself, and the President has conferred upon him presidential authority to direct the whole program on the home front.

You workers at this meeting, and you industrialists who are present, quit complaining about the National War Labor Board from here on in, about the OPA, about Claude Wickard or Chester Davis, or the food administrator; you've got a director of Economic Stabilization, and he is the man who can correct those things if he wants to, and it is up to the people of the United States of America to call upon him in the interests of everyone in this country of ours, to do one of two things: To roll back these high prices to September 15th level, or provide for the necessary wage adjustments to take up the increases that have taken place in the cost of living since September 15, 1942.

Some outstanding statesmen over in the city of Washington say when you talk about rolling back prices, "Oh, that is a difficult task; you know it is very difficult." But, you know, there isn't anything difficult over there any more. I wish you lived under this veritable avalanche of Directors sprouting out of every department over there, none of which, or very few of which, is understandable. I become so confused that I have dizzy spells every one in a while. Overlapping directors, overlapping each other, and no evidences of sensible direction so far as our conduct of the war effort is concerned in most of those instances. How do I know? I say to you in Labor and I say to you industrialists here tonight, tell Mr. Burns to get busy. He's got a job to do and that job is to impose upon Americans equality of sacrifice.

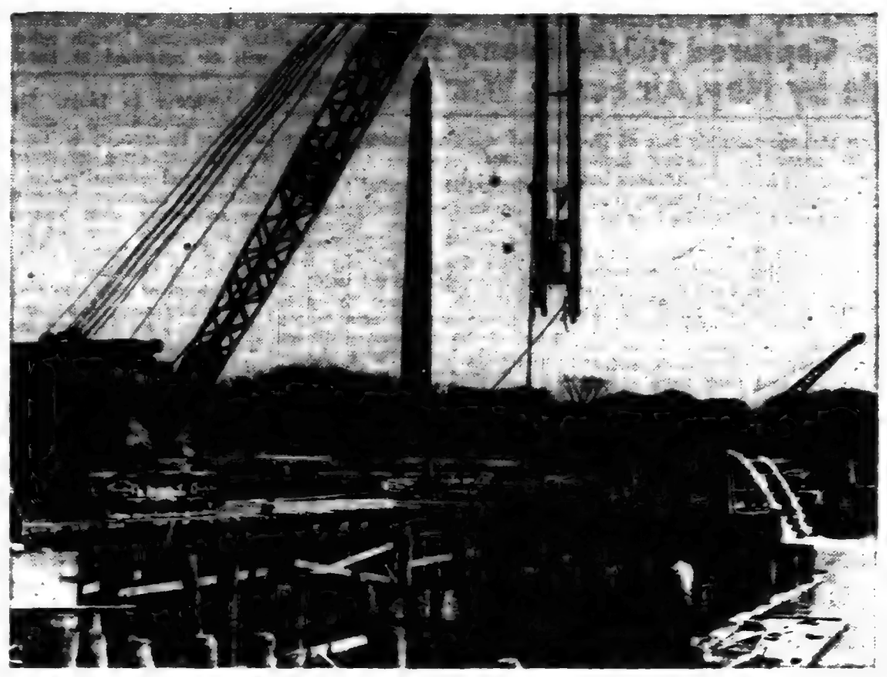
It might be interesting in passing to delve into this mystery of this thing we call equality of sacrifice just a little bit. Last year, the year 1942, according to the Federal Reserve — the Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, big business in the United States, after it had paid its obligations, its taxes, netted approximately $6,800,000,000. That is a mystical figure to us —$6,8000,000,000, or 66⅔ more profit than business in the United States netted in the year 1939. While I don't say that all business is bad, I would be a fool if I said that—but I do say that some very important business interests in this country are permitted to do too much filching today. I don't think any citizen in the United States should be permitted to practice extortion where men and women and kids are being killed in a bloody war. You should make a manifest your objection about these matters; we try to over in the city of Washington, but greater manifestation should be shown of your own interest in these things. There ought to be a speedier negotiation of a lot of these cost-plus contracts. There ought to be immediate renegotiaition of those contracts, and the fat boys ought to be put on some sort of a rationing diet, a war-time diet, the kind of a diet that everybody should be placed on during a war, no matter what their status in Life might be.

It is a matter of record that the distinguished chairman of the Board of Directors of a mighty steel corporation last year made $65,000 more in 1942 than in 1941, and he made $501,000 last year. That boy isn't doing badly in this war, is he? And then some of our brass hats talk about slow down and absentism. Let's direct the attention of America to the things that are really going on in this war; and these are a few of the things that are going on in the United States today.

Yes, my friends, the CIO must make its militant fight to secure the correction of these abuses. It must not only fight militantly, but it must fight constructively and intelligently. It must keep its feet on the ground and it can't afford to run around the United States of America with a club in its hand, trying to beat the brains out of its neighbors. It's got to live an orderly, sensible war time life right now, using whatever brains it may possess, in an effort to have the people of the United States understand better its constructive policies.

Considerable discussion has gone on throughout the United States today about our post-war program. I was privileged to participate in a post war meeting only a few days ago in the city of Washington, and I discovered to my amazement that this group had been studying post war conditions in Europe since fourteen months ago — they didn't wait very long, did they?

But of coure that is a complete and absolute necessity, just as the Rabbi mentioned here sometime ago, we have to now begin thinking about what the common man is going to get out of this war after it is won on the battlefront. On the home front there has got to be a declaration of principle with regard to the part that the people of the United States are going to play in our affairs here after the war is over. Let me point out to you some of the reasons why.



The Government of the United States has loaned or given to big business and small business—but mostly to big business, $23,000,000,000 worth of new property since the beginning of the war. $23,000,000,000 worth of facilities, new plants, and new eqipment. That is a figure which staggers your imagination because before the war started and during the course of our peace-time operations the plants and facilities and equipment of our American industry did not reflect an investment of $23,000,000,000; but the government of the United States, since the beginning of the war has leaned to these various business enterprises approximately $23,000,000,000. This money has been spent and these plants established in the heart of the great industrial centers, where grave social problems have already been created, due to poor housing facilities.

What interests labor and the American workers for the moment is this: Not so much what is going to be done with this equipment during the war, because this equipment is very necessary to winning the war, but how and who is going to use this equipment when the war is over? Is it going to be utilized by bigger business to make that bigger business bigger? Is it going to be utilied to drive the country's thousands of little business completely out of business, and destroy the heart of America, the little communities, the little street railways, the little school houses, the little mercantile establishments, and the little homes built by the average workers in the little communities? $23,000,000,000 is gozing to be used either by bigger business interests when the war is over to drive the little business man completely out of the picture, to destroy the little community, destroy all the little investments in the little communities — including the workers' homes, or there is going to be some post-war planning done here in the United States of America.

The CIO has a post-war planning today that is directing its energies and thoughts constructively toward the conception of ideas to protect the best interests of America after this war is over.

I could indulge with you into a discussion of the various phases of our home front and the relationship to post-war considerations, but that is not for me to do here tonight. It is sufficient for me to say that in addition to giving consideration to our domestic post-war planning, the CIO, without quibble or qualification, stands for inter-national labor collaboration. We want labor all over the world to know this: we want to sit down with them and talk with them about these many many mutual problems, before the war is over and after the war ends. We would like to develop some sort of a pattern through the common understanding of labor and the United Nations to develop a pattern for the human and economic rehabilitation of the occupied -countries of Europe. We should like right at this very moment to suggest that one of the primary considerations to provide for the democratic way of life in the occupied countries of Europe must necessarily be the development of the rights of life in all of those countries; the right of self-organization, the independence of human beings; the right to stand beside his neighbors and before his home and say 'I have rights under the law and the right to association with my fellows in the union for the purpose of bringing democracy into industry.' I should like that to be one of the vital considerations originally promoted and promoted by labor of all the United Nations when these days of actually winning the war are over. That, of course, is but another part of our CIO problems to which we have dedicated ourselves and to which we constantly apply our energies.

ow India Aids the United Nations

rgest Volunteer Army Defending Eastern Bastions; e Division Alone Captured 100,000 Enemy Prisoners; eat Strides Made by Nay, Air Force, War Industries

h her vast resources in and materials, her rapidly nding industrial capacity, her strategic position both nd and sea, India today has he not only the main reser- of supplies for the entire zone extending from Lybia ina, but also the pivot of United Nations' war activi- n the Eastern Hemisphere. war effort thus is not thing distinct and individ- of her own but forms an ral and vital part of the d Nations as a whole.

e intensification of this ef- during the past couple of s has been due, to a large t, to a growing relisation India's strategic frontiers no longer circumscribed by territorial limits but extend e farthest theatres of war.

Volunteers Monthly

dia's Army—1,500,000 strong the largest volunteer army e world. It is increasing at an average monthly rate of 70,000 men, its limiting factor being not lack of volunteers but the amount of equipment available to the United Nations as a whole.

Nearly a third of India's Army is on active service overseas. Indian troops have fought brilliant actions on many of the war fronts. It was they who were largely responsible for the overthrow of Mussolini's African Empire, and they have played an outstanding part in the campaigns in Eritrea, Abyssinia, the Western Desert, Iraq, Syria and Iran, and in the defense of the Far Eastern bastions at Hong Kong, Malaya and Burma.

To take only one example, in the course of nearly two and a half years of active service in the Middle East, the Fourth Indian Division has suffered some 15,000 casualties or one hundred per cent of its strength, but captured over 100,000 Italian and German prisoners. They also accounted for numerous enemy tanks and aircraft, not to mention innumerable casualties inflicted on the enemy.

In the words of General Sir Alan Hartley, Deputy Commander-in-Chief of the Indian Army, "the record of the Fourth and Fifth Indian Divisions, the Third Indian Motor Brigade and others in the war in Africa as a whole has been outstanding, and one for which India and the United Nations have reason to be grateful."

The mechanisation of the Indian Army has been rapid and extremely successful, as evidenced by the many decorations won by Indian armored forces in the Middle East. India is now producing the latest types of artillery and her factories and arsenals are well-equipped for all types of repair.

A training school for parachute troops was established early in 1942. The response of volunteers has been excellent. Both Indian and Gurkha soldiers have been found to make first class parachutists.

Navy's Personnel Expands

The Royal Indian Navy has many ships approaching her shores with vital war supplies in the task of protecting India's extensive coast-line and the planes have taken a large share

Indian Air Force Spreads

The Indian Air Force has now spread its wings far afield to enemy territory and taken part in the Burma campaign.

The extent of expansion of the Indian Air Force and its activi- and troops. Its units have carried out important reconnaissance and bombing flights over the battle of the Atlantic, in the now a personnel ten times greater than at the outbreak of war.

Ships of the Royal Indian Navy have played their part in the East and to the West. Its operations against the Italians in East Africa, the campaign in Iran, the operations in the Dutch East Indies waters, the defense of Singapore, and the battle of Burma. Today, they are engaged in the duties of escort, patrol and minesweeping throughout the Eastern waters. ties may be judged from the fact that more than 1,000,000 men have been engaged day and night, for months on end, in the work of aerodrome construction.

War Industries Expand

Before this war, India was already the eighth industrial country of the world. By November, 1942, Indian industry executed war orders to the value of $1,319,100,000. Output today is several times any comparable figure of the last war, while an enormously larger range of products is involved, amounting to nearly 20,000 different articles.

The output of India's ordance factories is now many times the pre-war figures. The production of rifles has increased six times, that of machine guns eight times, small arms ammunition four times, gun ammunition twenty-four times, and guns and carriages nine times.

The manufacture of armored fighting vehicles in India has been progressing apace ever since the Indian steel industry succeeded in producing an armored plate of the required specification at an early stage of the war.

In 1941 an aircraft factory in India turned out the first indigenously assembled aeroplane and thus marked the beginning of an aircraft industry in India. Today, the factory is primarily engaged in the servicing and repair of aircraft.

Before the war there was no shipbuilding in India. Today, Indian shipbuilding yards are working to capacity on the construction of ships for anti-submarine and general patrol duties, motor launches, minesweepers and other craft. The number of vessels launched in Indian shipyards during 1942 was two and a half times the combined total of 1940 and 1941.

Over 4,000 sea-going vessels of all types were repaired in Indian shipyards during the first two and a half years of the war.

War supplies of textiles produced in India up to June 1942 amounted to $360,000,000 in value. By the end of 1943 supplies are expected to total $570,000,000.

Thirty-five per cent of India's cotton textiles production (excluding handlooms), which runs to some 5,000,000,000 yards yearly, is now ear-marked for war supply.

The value of Army tents to be supplied in 1942 was $36,000,000 and that of Army boots over 4,000,000 per year.

India has supplied 80,00 medical instruments of indigenous production to Russia.

The NEWS REEL

By HARRY MORGAN

Right now the nation is having its Second War Loan drive. Like most everyone else, I don't know why it is the Second one, but I'm for it clear up to the soft spot on the top of my noggin. We shouldn't need a hypodermic in our psychological arms to keep putting up the stuff to buy the weapons for the boys who are up on the front lines doing the pitching. All we need is a good non-stop, non-numbered War Loan that keeps all our excess dollars going where they'll do the most good. I know that it may be considered a hardship by a lot of folks—but I don't imagine it's much fun trying to stop a tank with an empty machine gun either. Invest in today and tomorrow with War Bands!

Shipyard workers are complaining about the words "quit" and "fired." When they change jobs they'd rather consider they'd been "defrosted." Could they say they'd been given the frigid air?

One thing you don't hear any complaining about is the excellent quality and wide selection of liquors at The House of Morgan, 2729 Central Ave. Our well arranged displays make it easy for you to find your favorite brand and I'll be on hand to help you with your selections.

Launching of Liberty Ship George Washington Carver Notable Event

The Liberty Ship, George Washington Carver, named for the celebrated Negro scientist, will be launched at noon on Sunday, May 2, at the Richmond (Cal.) Yard No. 1 of the Kaiser Shipbuilding Company, the Maritime Commission announced today.

The ship, second in a series of three bearing the names of outstanding Negro Americans, will be sponsored by Lena Horne, a singer and motion picture actress. Betrice Turner, one of the 6,112 Negro workers in the four Kaiser shipyards in Richmond, will be matron of honor. Both were chosen by the United Negro Labor Committee which is in charge of the launching ceremony.

Thousands of the Negro shipyard workers, who are employed as boilermakers, shipfitters, shipwrights, stage riggers, joiners, sheet metal workers, painters, warehousemen and laborers will participate in the ceremony, along with representatives of Negro organizations throughout the country. The latter will include a representative of the Carver Foundation at Tuskegee Institute, Ala., and a Negro delegation from Ohio appointed by Gov. John W. Bricker.

C. L. Dellums, West Coast representative of the International Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and president of the United Negro Labor Committee, will serve as master of ceremonies on a program which will include short addresses by Attorney Walter A. Gordon of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Leon H. Washington, Jr., publisher of the Los Angeles Sentinel, and Vernon McCalla, a shipfitter, representing the Kaiser workers. Marcus Hall, another shipyard worker and protege of Roland Hayes, noted tenor, will sing "Ballad for Americans."

The Supreme Camp of The American Woodmen entered its subscription for One Hundred Thousand Dollars in War Bonds in the Second War Bond Drive conducted by the State of Colorado for $38,379,000.00.

Pictures taken at The Denver National Bank during the transaction show two members of the Finance Committee of The American Woodmen and three members of the United States Treasury War Finance Committee. Ben H. Graham, Secretary of The Supreme Camp of The American Woodmen, is seen presenting the Association's Check for One Hundred Thousand Dollars to Roblin H. Davis, President of The Denver National Bank and a member of the U. S. Treasury War Finance Committee. Shown also are Dr. T. T. McKinney, Supreme Physician and a member of the Finance Committee of The American Woodmen; Lawrence A. Greenlee, a member of the U. S. Treasury War Finance Committee and who solicited the purchase from The American Woodmen, and Arthur H. Bosworth, Denver Chairman of the U. S. Treasury War Finance Committee.

Lawrence H. Lightner, Supreme Commander of The American Woodmen, presided at the meeting approving the purchase of the Bonds but was out of the city on business matters when the picture was taken.

Since the bombing of Pearl Harbor by the Japs, the Supreme Camp of The American Woodmen has purchased Government War and Defense Bonds amounting to four hundred seven thousand seven hundred fifty dollars ($407,750.00).

TAURUS
April 21 to May 21

If you were born under this sign, you will fand the present year to be a very interesting one. Your steadiness and strong desires will give you the patience to work slowly forward. The great tenacity, determination and self control that is given people born under this sign will help them to enjoy success, love and prosperity.

There are certain Taurians who some people consider too self centered, possessive or selfish. If you are among these, you should avoid these traits. Don't permit yourself to become ill-tempered or stubborn as is so often said about Taurians. This judgment is usually passed upon them because of the way they meet and master situations where other people are concerned.

Those born in the first half of Taurus have less reaction to the changing influence of transiting movements than those born during the last half or solar part of this sign. The Planet Uranus going through this natal sign will continue to drive many out of old ruts, by creating unexpected trends and events. Many will change their profession from a line of work they have followed for years.

These and many other interesting facts may be revealed to you thru your Horoscope, why not write for yours today.

W. E. Dear Sir: Your letter received a few days ago. I was surprised to find that you knew so much about me and my trouble. But, I guess that is your job. Your advice worked miracles; you should just see the difference in my home now. Please accept my humble thanks for everything.

O. D. J. Will I get married soon?
Ans. Marriage is revealed in your Horoscope, but it will be quite sometime before it actually occurs. Several things will interfere to prolong the date, but don't feel badly about this for you will be quite happy when you do marry.

F. L. B. Will my luck ever change?
Ans. According to your lucky stars and guiding planet, your luck is destined to change for the better in the very near future. I would be glad to advise you further along this line, if you will write in for a private reply.

L. H. Will my clothes be finished at the appointed time?
Ans. Probing into the matter I find that you will have everything you desire and look very nice for the occasion in question. Don't worry, you will get several compliments on your appearance.

M. C. S. Does this boy I go with really love me?
Ans. I find that you and this boy are very young and are still in school. He appears to care a great deal for you, but I recommend your spending more time on school work and concentrate upon your future occupation and endeavors. When you are older you will be better prepared for truelove when it comes your way.

S. A. B. Did the woman that was staying in my house take the things?
Ans. Concentrating upon your question I find that the woman is innocent of your accusations. An outsider took your things.

E. R. Dear Prof. Herman! I read your column every week and find it very interesting. Will you please tell me why my husband got angry with my sister?
Ans. It seems that your sister came to take care of you while you was ill, and stayed several months. Your husband disliked her attitude and just told her so. Don't feel bad about this as their is no real harm done.

A. M. Has my husband been too friendly with the woman he works with? If so when? Or is it someone else?
Ans. Only one question is answered in the column due to the small amount of space, I would be glad to help you, if you will write in for a private reply.

E. M. W. I am sorry, but the nature of your question requires a private reply. I suggest that you consult your doctor for the other information you wish concerning childbirth.

BAND MEN HAVE TO WORK HARD SAY MUSICIANS

Any trumpet tooter or clarinet crooner, who upon induction to the armed forces hurried to angle into the regimental band, thinking he would have it soft, was out of luck, say local musicians here on leaves from Camp Young, Camp Crockett, Camp Rothwell and other training centers where colored bands are located.

To the contrary, according to some in the crack Tenth Cavalry band, they have to work just as hard as any other privates. Far from sleeping late, like the average musician is accustomed to doing, when that bugle hits its high reveille notes at 5:45 a. m. they have to fall out and get ready to fall in line for breakfast, or get none.

With a different schedule of training each day, the band boys their softness of civilian life now transformed into muscle, have to take part in 16 mile hikes, over the roughest of terrain. Sham battles are staged and actual conditions at the front simulated, to prepare the men for things to come. However Sunday brings rest and recreation, 11:00 o'clock services held by the chaplain, then movies, etc., at the service houses.

WAR ON NEGRO

TRUTH: For 323 years a war of prejudice, discrimination, lynching and abuses has been waged against us. I began to fight this battle when I discovered that I was a 'made fool.' Mark you, not a fool but a 'made one', like many intellectuals.

Thinking people are asking: What are we—Negroes, colored People or what? What is a NEGRO? No educator has ever given a satisfactory answer. They haven't the courage. The truth has never been told. Why is NEGRO the most disputed name? Because the truth is not known. Truth is The Basis of Education. I went to a university: spent 5 years in law school in Boston, became counsellor in public schools. Worked in educational sociology at New York University.

After 15 years' investigation, study and research, I found the facts, the history, the truth about the race.

With my discovery, I made money, and gained world respect.

It can do the same for you. I have compiled it in the great book: "HUMAN SIDE OF PEOPLE." 399 pages, 84 pictures by myself. Raphael P. Powell. The demand for this book by thousands proves that it shows the way to success and is helping to win the war against race prejudice. Price $3. Send orders to: PHILEMON CO., 224 West 135th St., New York City. GUARANTEED: The only book which gives the TRUTH about our race.

"TEN LITTLE NIGGER BOYS"

On the Sidewalk

by c. a. b.

By c. a. b.

The defeat of Mrs. Fay E. Allen for the position of member of the Board of Education, which she has so faithfully filled for the past two terms, is a definite loss of political territory for the Negro people of Los Angeles. A loss, perhaps, which cannot be regained.

While Mrs. Allen, as a member of the Board of Education, was not able to do as much with her one vote, as many people may have expected, the majority of us are witnesses to the fact that she did a magnificent job and that she accomplished as much as was physically possible to accomplish by any one individual. So—we know that her defeat did not come about because of any failure or lack on her part. Her defeat rather came about by a well-directed campaign, founded upon race prejudice, which was propagated through the combined efforts of the Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles Examiner and the Los Angeles Daily News, with the assistance of Mrs. Adams' compaign manager. It was learned that this gentleman on last Friday night approached the Hollywood Democratic Club, and through the efforts of two of his henchmen, who circulated through the meeting telling the people that "they were from Oklahoma and would not stand for a Negro woman being a member of the Board of Education, succeeding in destroying the harmonious support for Mrs. Allen.

This week, the editor of the California Eagle was called upon to investigate one of the most outrageous insults perpetrated by any school official in the history of her experience. She was called to the school at the 53rd and Main streets by the parents of a little brown girl who said that she had been terribly humiliated, first, when her teacher on one occasion told her: "You little black girl, stand in a corner." But the second offense, this past Monday, was even more pointed—when the teacher permitted a little book entitled "Ten Little Nigger Boys," written by Nora Case, to be circulated around the school. This little book is illustrated with little black caricatures with protruding red lips and unshapely limbs. The little Negro girl said that the white children laughed and poked fun at the Negro children when the teacher permitted the book to be circulated and read among them.

When the parents of this little girl, who are property-owners on Wall Street, in company with the Eagle editor, visited the school and discussed the case with the principal, he was courteous and thoroughly cooperative in trying to find out who was responsible, but refused to call the teacher. He did say, however, that the influx of Oklahomans and Texans was complicating race relations in the public schools.

The California Eagle is calling to the attention of the Board of Education that we are too busy winning this war to stop and fight Oklahoma and Texas brands of Hitlerism in our public school system.

We expect action from the Board of Education in the matter.

New York State Republican leaders today saw the beginnings of a rift in their ranks between the supporters of Wendell L. Willkie and Gov. Dewey for the Presidential nomination in 1944. Roland B. Marvin, one of the strongest New York Republican leaders and a Willkie supporter in 1940, has precipitated what may prove later to be a serious split.

In a letter addressed to Isolationist Rep. Hamilton Fish, who had sent him a report on an anti-Willkie poll taken by the Fort Wayne (Ind.) News-Sentinel, Marvin commented on a recent speech of Secretary of State Thomas J. Curran, a Dewey man.

In that speech, Curran declared that "the voters will see no advantage in shifting from a Democrat who knows he is bigger than his party to a Republican who thinks he is bigger than his party (obviously referring to Willkie).

In my opinion Willkie is not only the biggest but the best.

SS. G. W. Carver Launching Postponed

STREAMLINED CIVILIAN DEFENSE BODY ORDERED

A streamlined Civilian Defense organization in Los Angeles County was ordered today by the Board of Supervisors.

The new organization will eliminate unwieldy methods of procedure and will give the county a more flexible Civilian Defense with operation primed to meet varying emergencies, according to Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough, who as chairman of the Board of Supervisors, becomes chairman of the new County War Council.

The new organization consists of a County War Council, a Defense corps, a Service Corps, and Area War Councils.

Besides McDonough as Chairman of the War Council, others selected to head high positions in the County Defense are Supervisor William A. Smith vice-chairman; Sheriff Biscailuz, commander of Defense Corps, Dr. C. C. Trillingham, superintendent of County Schools who is Director of Service Corps; and County Manager Campion as coordinator.

The County War Council will consist of the members of the Board of Supervisors and the newly appointed heads of the Civilian Defense organization plus

COUNTY TAX RATE 'CUT' SEEN HERE

Another cut in the County tax rate—the fifth in as many years—will be realized this year, according to Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

This week the Board started its study of the preliminary budget, submitted by county departments and compiled by the county manager. This preliminary 1943-44 county budget shows a reduction in total appropriations in the amount of $701,531.

"Further paring of budget will come during the study," said McDonough. "Every item will be considered and only essential and mandatory items will be permitted so that the County tax rate will be lowered, thereby giving taxpayers of the county relief from local taxes and enabling them to put more money into War Bonds.

There is no room in our educational system for the teaching of intolerance and the promotion of color prejudice.

Mid-West Mobilizes For Conference On The Problems of War and The Negro People

DETROIT, Mich. — In a letter to Edward Strong, Secretary, National Negro Congress, C. Pat Quinn, President of the Greater Detroit and Wayne County Industrial Union Council, pledged the sponsorship of that body to the forthcoming Mid West Conference on the Problems of the War and the Negro People, to be held in Detroit, May 29-30. Said Mr. Quinn, in his letter: "Be assured that we shall cooperate with you in every way possible," and further, "that all locals affiliated with the Council will be urged to cooperate fully to sponsor and send delegates."

The Mid West Conference, which was called by the National Negro Congress to rally the people of the Mid West to save the Fair Employment Practice Committee and to mobilize for passage of the anti-poll tax bill, has already received the sponsorship of the Cleveland Industrial Union Council, the Detroit Citizens Committee, Local 600 of the United Automobile Workers of America, CIO, and a score of other important labor, civic, and religious organizations.

THOMAS JOINS RED CROSS

Jesse O. Thomas, prominent Negro leader, has joined the American Red Cross national headquarters staff effective today, DeWitt Smith, director of domestic operations, announced. Mr. Thomas was appointed last December as special assistant to the director, but his actual employment was delayed at the urgent request of the Treasury Department where he served in the War Bonds section of the educational department.

HE WANTED A DIVORCE, BUT HE'S IN JAIL

Trouble piled up like a shower of rain on James Ray, defense worker of 3208 Griffith Ave. last Wednesday morning. Ray who was scheduled to meet his Attorney Curtis C. Taylor in Department 17 for the purpose of securing a divorce from his estranged wife Edith Ray, failed to keep his rendezvous and search by telephone and otherwise by his Attorney failed to reveal his whereabouts until finally later in the day it was learned that Ray had been arrested the night before and jailed by radio patrol officers on complaint of his wife who claimed that he came by her home and created a disturbance not the least of which was an attack upon her person. So Attorney Taylor instead of getting a divorce for Ray, was forced to go to court to try to get him out of jail where he had been booked on a charge of drunk driving. His case comes up again on May 5th before Municipal Judge Ben Rosenthal.

Dumas Johnson, who recently served a 25 day jail sentence after conviction of offering bribe money to police, today lost his suit to recover the $660 he assertedly gave to Dep. Chief of Police Ross R. McDonald when Superior Judge Ingall W. Bull, without comment, entered a judgment against him.

COLONEL STATEN GIVES STATE ADMINISTRATION CLEAN SLATE

Colonel Moody Staten the commanding officer of the 7th regiment of the California State Guard states that the recent order for the inactivation of his regiment was a part of the administration's over-all program to demobilize the entire active duty component of the guard in accordance with the recently enacted McCollister bill, and that in this respect the 7th was treated no differently from all other units of the guard.

Colonel Staten further stated that the necessity for the McCollister bill was brought about through the failure of the federal authorities to make any provisions for draft deferment for the state guard personnel or to grant adequate priorities for essential military equipment; that it became clear to all concerned some time ago that under the circumstances no active duty guard worthy of its keep could be long maintained.

The colonel emphasized, however, that although the McCollister bill eliminates the active duty units, the guard is far from dead, as it provides for reorganization along lines somewhat akin to the Home Guard of England, where every ablebodied citizen is given an opportunity to serve in a unit in his own immediate community and is to be called out for service only in case of a grave emergency in his own locality; he also stated that he wants the people to know that the 7th Regiment is very much in this new picture as it has splendid reserve units which still have offices in the Armory and meet there every Thursday night for drills, and are in no fay disturbed by the orders inactivating the active duty units; he invites enlistments in these units and gives assurance that one can render invaluable service to the defense of his home and state with the minimum of interference with his daily routine.

It can now be stated that during the past year of active duty the 7th Regiment was entrusted with the protection of some of the most vital installations in the state and that on all occasions acquitted itself with honor and credit to itself and to the state. Among the more important installations cover by the 7th was: the Los Angeles power and water lines coming into Los Angeles from Owens Valley the main sources of supply of these utilities for the city; the Boulder Dam power lines and switching stations, the Metropolitan Aqueduct bringing water from the Colorado River to the metropolitan district of Southern California; they also guard the domestic water supply for Hawthorne, Hemet, and the city of San Diego; it also took over from the Army, radio beams, pumping stations and important railroad bridges. It had its main headquarters near Corona and received at all times the most splendid cooperation from the people and officials of that city.

Local Industry Accused Of Discrimination

LOS ANGELES, April 30. —Sheridan Downey, U. S. Senator from California, and Chairman of Military Affairs sub-committee on War Manpower, was told in hearings today that widespread jim-Crow practices in local essential industry seriously handicap the nation's war effort, already suffering acute manpower shortage.

Spokesmen were Attorney Marshall Denton, Jr., Rev. Clayton D. Russell and Norman O. Houston, representing a wide section of Negro organizations and individuals including church, labor, civic, fraternal, and the press. The group was called together by the Los Angeles Negro Victory Committee.

Exposed by the witnesses were the Los Angeles Railway Company, the aircraft companies and shipyards, and some A. F. of L. Unions in these industries. The City Housing Authority's "quota system" for Negro families was also condemned as manpower bottleneck.

Denton told the sub-committee, "battle experience shows our enemy to be no easy victim. Victory for us may be indefinitely prolonged or ultimately lost unless every hand grasps gun, machine or plow. It is out of a sense of self-preservation, therefore, that we remove the remaining

McDONOUGH ACTS TO RID SOUTHEAST OF DEATH-TRAPS

"Deaths in 108th Street "ditch" MUST BE STOPPED—the menace of this treacherous open ditch must and will be removed."

Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough thus reiterated his stand yesterday that the Flood Control district act immediately to rid Southeast Los Angeles of the death-traps in the open drainage ditch, running southeast of Main at 108th Street.

McDonough made his demands for immediate action at this week's meeting of the Board of Supervisors. He protested dilly-dally attitude of the Flood Control engineers in this matter "where human lives are being sacrificed repeatedly in debris-filled holes of the ditch."

In condemning delayed action of engineers, McDonough said he has consistently and regularly brought this matter up for a number of years. It is time the engineers completed this project and eliminated the death holes, he said.

"When U. S. Army Engineers did not recognize this ditch as a flood control channel, the action was a big disappointment to all of us," he added. "I have always

WANT RATION BOOKS? FRONT DOOR, PLEASE

The individuals who applied last night for ration books to Board 540, at 4504 S. Central Avenue, Los Angeles, didn't comply with regulation OPA procedure.

They came in by a window instead of the front door, B. B. Bratton, board chairman discovered when he entered this morning and found that the drawers of desks had been rifled by the "applicants", who apparently were in a bit of a hurry.

Of course, they didn't get any ration coupons—the books had been locked safely in a bank vault when the board closed for the night.

That is standard OPA procedure in all ration districts, Fred Yerger, OPA organization chief here, explained today for the benefit of others who might be planning to call at unconventional hours.

A.F.L. and C.I.O. Men Protest Against Job Freeze Order

DETROIT, Mich. — "All eight AFL and CIO representatives on the Detroit War Manpower Commission's advisory committee have resigned in protest against the President's job and wage freeze policy.

Thus labor's nationwide revolt against what Victor Reuther, one of the eight resigning WMC members termed "a blanket freeze of labor which involves compulsion and paves the way to total labor conscription," takes concrete shape.

Resignation of all United Auto Worked (CIO) members from the War Manpower Commission posts was voted by the UAW-CIO executive board at its special session in Cleveland, and will certainly be followed by a wave of resignations all over the country.

The attacks by Presidents Philip Murray of the CIO and William Green of the AFL on the job freeze order constituted the first real break of the AFL and CIO with the administration on labor policy during the war.

The CIO described the wage and job freeze orders as "chaining workers to ill-paying jobs." The AFL charged workers were by the orders "reduced to the status of forced labor."

Vigorous condemnation of the job freeze came from President John Green of the CIO's Industrial Union of Maritime and Shipbuilding Workers, who declared "the people of our country are not going to stand for the freeze."

Instances of apparent racial discrimination on the part of appointing officers in state agencies have recently been called to the attention of the State Personnel Board. The Board, deeply concerned about the matter, has called to the attention of all state agencies the fact that racial discrimination and certain other discriminations are prohibited by the Civil Service Act.

According to Section 201 of the Civil Service Act, "In applying the provisions of this act or in doing any of the things provided for in this act, no person shall be discriminated against because of sex, rate, or marital status except that position which in the opinion of the appointing power and the board require the services of a specific sex may be reserved to that sex."

While discrimination on the basis of sex is prohibited, the Act provides that positions which in the judgement of the appointing power and the Board require the services of a specified sex, may be reserved to that sex. No discretion, however, is permitted with reference to racial discrimination.

The Board has declared that reports of discriminations prohibited by the Act will be investigated and if found true, it is prepared to take such action as is warranted against the offending person or persons.

Ferrol Bobo Connor To Attend Executive Board Meeting

Mrs. Ferrol Bobo Connor left Los Angeles early this week to attend the Executive Board Meeting of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses, to be held in New York City, May 8th to 9th. At the 137th Street Y.W.C.A.

The purpose of the meeting is to chart a program for 1943 and 1944. Due to the war the National Convention, originally scheduled to be held in Atlanta, Georgia, has been suspended. Those attending will be members of the executive board representatives of state, local and alumnae associations, representatives of hospitals where Negro Nurses are employed.

Mrs. Connor was elected National Recording Secretary at the National meeting, which was held in Los Angeles in 1941, and will serve at her new post for the first time. She is also president of the Local Nurses Association, and a member of the California State Council for war nursing.

maintained the channel should be covered and hereby serve notice that I will not permit such conditions to continue."

As a result of his vigorous appeal for immediate action, the Board instructed the Flood control district as follows:

1—Drag entire length of open ditch to remove holes and debris.

2—Give first consideration to constructing a concrete floor in the channel and covering the ditch, or install a pipe line to carry storm waters.

This action places improvement of the ditch ahead of other flood projects and assures immediate action to correct existing conditions, according to Supervisor McDonough.

shackles that Negro manpower may make its indispensable contribution toward a people's victory and a people's peace."

HITLER'S LITTLE HELPER. Russell's testimony exposed the breakdown in the L. A. transportation system by the company's refusal to hire Negro men and women to man the 300 cars, idle because of alleged labor shortage. L. A. R. Y. likewise refuses to upgrade Negroes to skilled trades where they could re-condition additional equipment. "Over half million population increase in the past year and very limited use of private automobiles and many former street car operators now in the armed forces have placed a strain on transportation. But we maintain that the company is 'Hitler's little helper' when war workers cannot reach their jobs on time because Negro manpower is not utilized to re-condition and man idle equipment."

Houston, World War I veteran, blamed the L. A. City Housing Authority Commissioners "quota system" for Negro war workers being denied use of several hundred units now vacant in the city. He pleaded for more housing developments, but "free from Jim Crow."

The organizations represented were: The Victory Committee, N.A.A.C.P., Urban League, Leadership Roundtable, Benjamin J. Bowie Post 228 American Legion, Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance, Baptist Ministers' Union, African Methodist Ministerial Alliance, Elks, Shrine, Masons, Shipyard Workers Committee for Equal Participation, Lockheed-Vega Committee for Equal Participation, The California Eagle, The Los Angeles Sentinel, The Los Angeles Tribune and the Neighborhood News.

28TH STREET U. S. O. NEWS

In spite of the blackout Easter Sunday, the 28th Street U. S. O. Fashion show continued. Lovely Junior and Senior hostesses continued their parade around a circle escorted by "Well Dressed" men of the Armed Forces. Light was supplied by candles. Some of these charming hostesses were Mary Belle Johnson, Louise Wilson, Clara B. McLemore, Winefred Dawson, Virgie Walker, Gladys Tolliver, Elewise James, Laverna Floyd, Dorothy Hill, Rose Branch, Joyce Branch and Mrs. Clyde Rowell of the Classis Literary and Sociay Club. Delightful music was supplied, even during the blackout, by Pvt. George Anderson.

"Fess Jones' Band" from March field made the "Jam Session" last Friday really "jump." We just wish we could hear more of them.

Weather or not life on a desert is enjoyable, it will be experienced by U. S. O. girls that are getting ready to make a trip to areas where men are on maneuvers. They will be living and eating just as the soldiers for a week-end.

Something new has been added to make the U. S. O. more colorful. The friends of the Royal Dragon Club gave lovely draperies to the center. Miss Earnistine Davison of the club made the selection of the gift.

Special thanks go to Mrs. Florence Carter for her services during the month as Supervisor and then to Mrs. Walter L. Gordon, Miss Vera Winston, Mrs. Victoria Allen, Mrs. Merrea Gray, Mrs. Jinnie Graham, Mrs. Georgia Hardimon, and Mrs. Mary Armstrong for their donations. Thanks also goes to the clubs and organizations that participated during the month such as the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, the Thomas Jefferson P. T. A., Les Belles More Club, and the Council of Catholic Women. We realize that it is through the efforts of these kind individuals and organizations that the U. S. O. is able to carry on its program more effectively.

Among the special visitors of the week, we had Chaplain Diggs and several smartly dressed W. A. A. C.s such as Cpl. Technician Doris E. Stewart, Aux. Eleanor Brassey, and Aux. Princh. Doris Caldwell, one of our junior hostesses has recently been accepted by the W. A. A. C.s.

Of course we are always indebted to the junior and senior hostesses and we would like to remind them that on May 8, 9, and 10th, they are expected to report to the U. S. O. from 6:00 to 9:00 to have their fingerprints taken as part of the new regulations. After this time it will be possible only for the volunteers that have met requirements to be active at the U. S. O.

Last but by no means least, a very important meeting of the Eats Side U. S. O. Board took place at the U. S. O. Club at which Mr. Kelly Williams presided. The special business, according to the very capable director of the U. S. O., Miss Viola Aldrich, concerned securing larger quarters for the U. S. O.

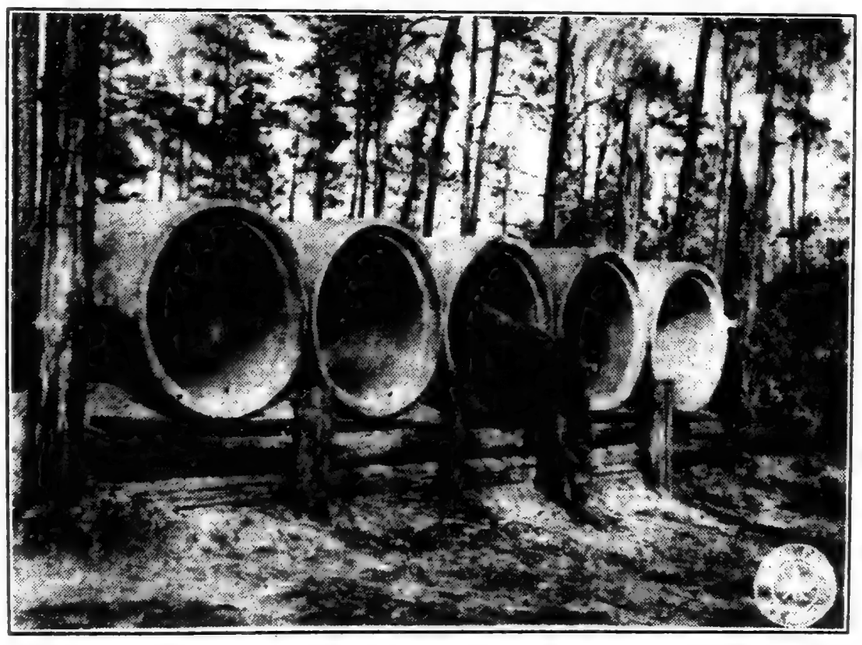
HOLDS CIO WAR RELIEF POST



Otha Kirk, comely office manager of the National CIO Committee for American and Allied War Relief's Detroit branch, who has won applause for her distinct efficiency. Truth of the matter is, at least a half-dozen union organizations in the Auto City would like to do some polite labor pirating to secure her services. Miss Kirk, a popular figure in labor circles, was educated in Detroit and worked previously with the Michigan Unemployment Commission. She confesses to a love for horseback riding.

THEY CALL HIM COOPERATION

By ARCHIBALD RUTLEDGE

Anybody in Durham, North Carolina, can point out to you the six-story fireproof office building which houses the $60,000,000 North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, the largest business enterprise in the world operated by and for Negroes. But forty-four Octobers ago, on the day the company was founded by John Merrick, a barber; Dr. A. M. Moore, a physician; and Charles C. Spaulding, a ten-dollar-a-month dishwasher in a small hotel, the only visible sign of the company in Durham or anywhere else was three high, stiff white collars.

The three Negro visionaries had no capital. They did have a naive temerity, probably matchless in the history of American business, and a faith that comes a whisker's width from passing all undertanding.

Spaulding, now sixty-eight and guiding spirit of the company, recalls October 28, 1898, with a twinkle in his eye. "We didn't have a thing," he confesses. "We had no money, no knowledge. But we had sense enough to put up a big front of respectability. We hunted all over Durham until we found the highest white collars we could find."

In his office hangs a photograph of himself and the two other founders, wearing the collars and looking like Sunday-school superintendents of the old starched school.

Besides the white collars, they had a tangible asset in the person of old Washington Duke, or rather Merrick, the barber, had the asset for a half hour each morning as a customer in his chair. What old Mr. Duke used to say to Merrick became the new company's great intangible asset.

In the beginning, this company was so small and the state insurance laws so lax that the insurance commissioners probably did not even know of its existence until after some years, when it had established itself on a sound footing. But before that came to pass, what a struggle lay before these pioneers. The first policyholder was insured for forty dollars; the company had no assets except his first premium of sixty-five cents. When he died suddenly and not long after he had been insured, the directors called a hasty meeting in the back of Merrick's barbershop to make up out of their own pockets payment for this first claim, for they well knew that if this was not settled, the whole scheme might blow up. Spaulding at that time was general manager, office boy and the company's only ifeld agent. He had so little money that when he went abroad on a field trip, he was usually delayed in getting home until he could collect enough premiums to pay his traveling expenses.

"At that time," he said, "we found it difficult to get any agents who were literate. Some white agents, knowing of our troubles, went out of their way to be kind to us. But generally the business was one long headache. For some time after we started, the company had no reserves and no surplus, and even if we had had, we had no knowledge of how to discriminated in investments. I don't know why people took our insurance. I believe they must have had no doubt that we were honest."

When the barbershop was closed for the night and Doctor Moore had finished with his patients, he and Merrick would meet Spaulding to tak a kind of mental inventory of the company's problems. For the solution of the graver ones they waited until the following morning, for then that famous old war horse of business, Washington Duke himself, would come into Merrick's barbershop to get shaved! and when Merrick literally had the financier "down and lathered," he would propound some of the questions that the three directors of the insurance company had found difficult to handle.

Duke, a simple man, a friend of Man, blowing the suds aside, would advise his Negro friend. The advice was always followed, and was always found admirable. If Washington Duke were living today, he could be very proud of having encouraged and having lent a hand to these daring Negroes who have now achieved the most signal success in business to be found in the history of the Negro race. It is the personal achievement of Merrick, Moore and Spaulding, but in the dim background I see kindly old Washington Duke, sympathetic with his Negro friends, advising them with that sanity and sagacity that built for his own family one of the great American fortunes. I can see him talking with Merrick, not petulantly, not condescendingly, but man-fashion, earnestly, with a fine loyalty to the interests of humanity.

To appreciate how far the company has come in these past forty-four years, you will have to come with me to Durham, and into the North Carolina Mutual's building.

On the ground floor of the building is the Negro bank associated with the insurance company. The second floor of the insurance building is occupied by an elaborately complete modern clinic, headed by a graduate of the Harvard Medical School. Only a few other insurance companies, such as the Metropolitan, have such a service. There are 412 people employed in this building, every one a Negro.

There is a research library, devoted to the Negro in general, as well as to the business of insurance. In the building are a complete printing establishment and a model cafeteria, where the staff can get first-class meals at cost—about seventeen cents. In one room an expert was instructing new agents, who are not permitted to take the field until they can sell their teacher a policy. One whole floor is given over to industrial life insurance, another to ordinary life. The company has more than 375,000 outstanding policies, averaging $632 apiece. In the ordinary-life department the policies run from $500 to $10,000—with very few of the latter. I learned that the company holds more than $1,000,000 worth of Government securities. Since its organization this company has paid its policyholders more than $20,000,000. Insurance in force at this time is in excess of $60,000,000.

From the printing press of the company come magazines, leaflets, booklets, bulletins and much ordinary printing. The company distributes to its policyholders and to the public in general more than 100,000 booklets on health each year. What Spaulding and his colleagues are after is something infinitely rarer than making money. They seemed charged with an especial mission which is distinctly religious. They want to save their own people, and to do it in a practical way.

In studying the North Carolina Mutual Life, I became more and more aware that the mere business aspect of the company was subordinated to a consideration of the economic salvation of the Negro race. For that reason there is nothing else like it in the world today.

A significant part of the work is education. According to Spaulding, Negroes suffered for many years from the mismanagement of their fraternal organizations. They lost so much money that they developed a natural distrust of anything that savored of insurance.

"What the Negro today needs most," he said, "is more people he can trust to advise him how he can save his money. That is one reason we organized, along withour insurance company, our bank and our building-and-loan association. Do you see that big bank over there?" he asked me, pointing out of his office window. "That is a white bank, and every one of the hundred and fifty Negro employees of the city of Durham used to cash his check there. He got his money there and spent it right away. rou know," he added with a smile, "the Negro does not yet quite understand the responsibility of freedom. He knows that he is free to spend a dollar. What we try to teach him is that he is likewise free to save it. I went to my white friends in that bank and I said, 'Let me have this business. Let me take over these city accounts.'

"They let me have them, and we have a personnel officer in our bank who persuades these Negroes, who formerly ran through with most of their money, to save systematically. We act as trustees and guardians, even of small amounts. We have at this time some fifty or sixty of these persons buying their own homes. Especially now we advise them to invest in Government bonds. We are thinking of how to raise the level of our people. We try to teach them wary prudence; we try to make them thrifty. The Negro, given the chance and made to see the wisdom of a plan that promises security, can be as careful about money as a white man. Among our customers at the bank are many white people—about ten per cent of all our depositors—and the best advice of the bank is, of course, extended to them also. I do not believe—at least it has not been my experience—that, given similar conditions, the Negro is inferior to the white man in business sagacity. When really taught to save, he can do it very systematically."

In order that Negroes may be educated to buy insurance and to save money in other ways, it is necessary that they should be approached by educated men and women. The officers of the Mutual, the office force and the field agents are college or high-school graduates. Some have taken post-graduate courses. The group of trained actuaries are experts in their field. Spaulding pointed out to me many members of his office force who had been sent to school and college by him. There is a wholesome and easy family atmosphere about the home office. The members of the various departments have been warily selected and studiously trained. There is about the work of this company a thoroughly modern efficiency.

The home office is in Durham. The company has fifteen officers, who are likewise its directors. In the territory in which the company operates there are thirty-four districts, each district having its own office in key cities such as Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Norfolk, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Memphis, Charlotte, Charleston and Savannah. Of all the Negroes living in these thirty-four districts, about 6 per cent carry North Carolina Mutual life insurance, which means that about 25 per cent have its protection. For, as Spaulding said to me, "Those who carry insurance are, as a rule, protecting others rather than themselves, and it is natural for my people, you know, to think and act for one another."

The North Carolina Mutual invests wisely and well, running especially to Government securities and to first mortgages. And not only are its portfolios diversified as to the character of the securities but care is taken to invest in properties in widely different localities, so that a depression that is local can have but a small effect on the welfare of the company.

When it was started no existing company would bond Negroes. Under the law, all insurance companies must bond their officers and their agents. Well, here was an insurance company that could get no one to bond its personnel. What to do? Necessity solved the difficulty. The officers of the Mutual formed their own bonding company. In that earlier day there were no banks willing to finance Negro business, no fire-insurance companies that would insure Negro property. Necessity again neatly turned the trick. Spaulding and his fellow officers founded their own bank.

Said he, "Negroes could get no credit. Under the circumstances, there was nothing to do but establish our own. Nobody will ever know how much effort it took. Yet in the end we profited from the very prejudices that at first seemed so much against us."

That Spaulding has succeeded is attested by the fact that the Mutual has the public commendation of both the state insurance commissioner and the state commissioner of banks.

Asked whether he was satisfied with what had been accomplished, Spaulding smiled deprecatingly and said, "We have come a long way, but we have a long way to go. Here in Durham and in North Carolina, here in my South, my people have achieved self-confidence, and in so doing we have won respect. We are developing a race pride. And why shouldn't we? I don't know much about history, but I venture to say that never before has a race of subjected people made the progress that American Negroes have made in the last seventy-five years since we were slaves. W have had help; yes, lots of it. And we still need help, but we need sympathy and understanding more. But in the end the Negro's salvation is in his own hands, and I thank God I have lived to see the day that he recognizes it."

Anyone interested in a vivid human personality will find in Charles Spaulding a human being as original as genius. Of medium stature, he is strongly but not heavily built. His features are as clearcut as those of an Indian. His forehead is high. His eyes are constantly alight with animation. His expression is at once kindly and thoughtful. Quick in all his physical movements, his native thought processes are even quicker. After I had talked with him ten minutes I realized that I was conversing with about as authentic and fine a person as you are likely to find anywhere in America.

Born in Columbus County North Carolina, on a small farm, he was a man before he left the land. His friends and neighbors thought he ought to marry and farm cotton, as all of them did. They prophesied that no good would come of his going to the wild and wicked metropolis of Durham. They thought he might have amounted to something as a plowman. But going to the city was trifling, if not sinful. To this day, despite his many great achievements, Spaulding retains in a prevailing degree the winsome simplicity of the farm. A farm boy, he has made good in the infinitely vaster field of business. But he has not changed. He is one of the most singularly direct and ingenuous people I have ever met. His circle of friends is wide and influential, but he retains the common touch. As to his more powerful friends, I might say that the editor of one of North Carolina's greatest newspapers said to me, "Charlie Spaulding is on of the most truly valuable men we have in the whole state."

Behind any achievement there is usually a motivating philosophy, and I discovered one behind the work of the North Carolina Mutual Life. I believe it emanates from Co-operation Spaulding. I had heard of him as " a powerful financial figure," "a tycoon," "the overlord of Negro business." But I found that I had met a philosopher as well. Perhaps it is more true of the Negro than of any other race that if you will stay with one of them long enough you will be rewarded by what you find. Beneath the plowman, the field hand, the ditchdigger, the dishwasher, you will come on the man. So Charles Clinton Spaulding is far more than a successful businessman. I asked him what he considered the requisites for starting a business. He answered, as he always does, without hesitation and without any of the pleasant evasions politicians employ.

"Three things seem essential," he said: "Character, efficiency and capital. However, if you have the first two, you don't need the last; and if you lack either one of the first two, you wouldn't know how to use the money if you had it."

I asked him why he was forever emphasizing co-operation.

"Well," he answered, "co-operation brings organization, efficient organization brings success, and success alone inspires confidence and understanding. When I speak at college commencements—and the only time I ever spent in college I have spent making speeches—I tell the young people that life has to be lived out, not with money, not with machines; but with people. And I mean not only with other people of our own race but with the members of the white race—in fact, here in the South I mean esepcially that. I tell graduates that, when we consider our white friends and neighbors, our duties are these: How to get us along with them. How to get them along with us. How all of us can be happier together.

As this trend in our talk led naturally to a consideration of the Negro's relative chances, North or South, these days, I asked Spaulding for his opinion on this question.

With some emotion, he answered, "There are more lost or disillusioned souls in Harlem than there are in the whole South. Many of them went there as farm boys and girls, but lost in spirit. While some may have left home because of bad treatment, most left because of the lure of the city. For the most part, their best chance would have been here in the South. Booker Washington said to us, 'Let down your buckets where you are.'"

I was eager to discover what ideas this great Negro leader had on the question of racial equality.

He answered quite readily and with his habitual sincerity. "There is no race superiority per se. If a man of any color is more sincere and loyal than I am, he is just a better man, he is a superior human being. Equality is a thing that should not be granted. It cannot be had by coercion and intrusion. It has to be earned. No Utopian dreamer can achieve it for another man. It is like citizenship. A man cannot really have citizenship until he becomes a good citizen. If the Negro will measure up to equality, he will receive it. Recognition then will be instinctive, and therefore imperative. But you can't drink from the spring high up on the mountain unless you climb for the water. You must not expect the law to hand it down for you. If the Negro wants equality, except of opportunity, he must pay for it, and the ancient and unalterable price is character and achievement."

"For a long time, possibly forever, there will be two separate and distinct races in America, and instead of insisting on the forced recognition of so-called equality, I give my time to bringing up the levels of my own people. They can, by attainment, without being white, or even like white people, still be Americans of whom this country can be proud. The fact that our races are segregated does not within itself prevent the Negro from rising. A man of any race, with equal opporunity, may become equal to a man of any other race. But it is always a personal achievement. It is very idle and foolish to talk about granting equality, except equality of opportunity.

"The Negro in the South has suffered from prejudices, because the white people, in considering his petitions for more facilities or opportunities, such as vocational schools, feared that he was after social equality. Now, in a real and deep sense, there is no such thing as social equality, even among white people. And even in those states where the law does not forbid it, there is little intermarriage between the members of my race and the white race."

Because of his sterling contribution to his people, his community, his state and his nation, Co-operation Spaulding has received marked and just recognition. Besides being the president and the presiding genius of his three companies, he is a trustee on the boards of several Negro schools and colleges, he is a member of the Commission on Interracial Co-operation, he has received the Harmon Award for outstanding service to his race, he has been elected a member of th New York Chamber of Commerce and he is the recipient of many honorary degrees. But over and above these, he has in an increasing degree what he has always enjoyed, what Milton called, "the approbation of the Good." In all his long record of personal achievement he has never forgotten to be a good shepherd.

ualking through the various offices, I noticed with what simple affection Spaulding greeted his employees, and I watched their faces light up at his presence. He pointed out many of his friends who have literally spent their lives with him — twenty-five and even thirty-five years.

One incident, fortuitous, trival in itself, and apprehended accidentally, impressed me more than all else that I saw or heard.

Ahead of my host, I was walking toward the elevator. He had paused to greet one of his oldest employees. I barely overheard him say this: "You are doing fine, God bless you."

I think I overheard what might be the almighty solvent for human relations. For here was the head of a great corporation speaking the language of affection; powerful, yet humble; Knowing much, but understanding far more.

When the details of this company's notable achievements shall have faded from my mind; when its ever-mounting financial successes shall escape my recognition and memory, yet always will come back to me, as perhaps the open sesame of it all, the talisman, the whole story, those simple, and heartfelt words, "God bless you."

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES HOLD SIGNIFICANT MEETING

Sixty-two graduates of the YMCA School of Commerce, New Orleans, employed by the government in Washington, attended dinner meeting on "Business Education in the Post-War World," held last Sunday at Phyllis Wheatley YWCA, in the nation's capitol. Dr. Ambrose Caliver, Specialist in Education, U. S. Office of Education; Joseph H. B. Evans, former Consultant, Division of Negro Affairs, NYA, and Herman A. Washington, Racial Relations Advisor, USHA, were speakers for the occasion. W. H. Mitchell, Jr., executive secretary New Orleans YMCA, and director of school, presided. Dr. Caliver termed the meeting one of most significant ever held in Washington. The "Y" school, a co-ed institution, has more than one hundred of its graduates employed by the government, and its current enrollment is said to be the largest in the nation.

This year, MOTHER'S DAY must share the lines with vital war calls

War calls come first. Delays will occur. We will gladly do the best we can.

Many people in other years have used Long Distance on Mother's Day. We fully understand their desire to do it again this year. But we want to explain the situation.

War is on the Nation's Long Distance lines . . . and war does not step aside. The lines are carrying the heaviest volume of calls in history—vital war calls. They must come first. The lines must carry those calls on Mother's Day—Sunday, May 9—just as they carry them every day.

More lines cannot be built—the materials are needed for war. That situation will continue, until Victory is won. So we must ask your assistance in using Long Distance only when it is absolutely necessary.

We believe that many people would not make calls on Mother's Day this year if they realized that such calls might delay calls that help speed the building of guns and bombers and the launching of ships.

Thank you for your help.

Add Ivie Anderson: She'll be an honorary AWVS . . . The more I think of the 99th Squadron, the more impressed I become with their training record! What they had to work with, and under, I think they've done darn swell! Happy landin', fellas! . . . Capt. Phil Beach (bro.-in-law to Junior Hodges), -stationed in Liberia, writes: "My wife will be in L. A. this summer. Boy, I really miss Times Sq.! Chrystalene Maxwell is here at the station hospital. My nurse assistants are all 100%. Best regards to Henry McPherson, he was a year ahead of me at medical school at Howard."

I saw Bubbles, of Buck 'n Bubbles, the other noon and thought of Geo. Gershwin calling him the black Toscanini of the dance. Gershwin also idolized Art Tatum. Fred Astaire once spent long nites in Harlem clubs watching Bubbles dance . . . Hortense Simeon writes from Chi: "Well, I may be back home, true, but I'm aiming to return to L. A. but soon!" . . . Hortense Allen entertained her bridge club Frid. eveg. . . . Vera Sommerford and her daughter have choo-choo reservations for Chi on the 11th. They've both really enjoyed their local merrie-merrie, and we'll miss 'em . . . Sunday was originally slated as wedding day for Jeni Le Gon and Phil Moore, both in NY, but if they did or didn't I know not . . . Grace Fisher Atkins is back in town after Dee Cee . . . Reading several back issues of the (vita!) Negro Actors Guild's monthly Newsletter recently and learning Georgia Burke had her tonsils yanked in March; we didn't know Leigh Whipped was second vice-president; Marc Connelly became a Life Member in Febr.; Juano Hernandez back on Bway; Alberta Hunter completed a brow-raisingly unusual technical training at Harlem Hospital as pneumonia specialist, and Adelaide Hall, in Surrey, Eng., writes of her fond hopes to visit the States after the war but only for a brief time, she loves England first and always. (Of late I've been musing what thoughts the Brownings may have about England when peace returns.)

Sentimental solace at midnite: Listening to the album of Lena Horne's tears-in-our-beer waxes, and replaying her "Ill Wind" version . . . ah, Spring, dammit! . . . what we dearly need is more Spring choo-chooing to ward off encroaching hand-holding and vow-exchanging!

Watching Maudelle dance Sunday at Allotria Colony (interesting site!), we were vividly impressed with her dignity of expression. And her enchanting costumes. And her great art. She's wonderful. Naida McCullough shared the limelight, but, then, Naida always does her program-share brilliantly! (Her Chopin Etude soothes our brow, always) Intimate, informal atmosphere lent much to the event. And qui vivre folk well on hand lent much, too!

WHAT'S DOING IN THE YOUNGER SET

Jessie Mae Brown

Well beds, up Palm Springs way there seems to be a bit of USO work needed. My sister, Marion, and her friend, Mrs. Lena Lacefield, visited the famed Torney General Hospital last week-end, and found a fine Negro Medical Corps on duty. These boys are here from the Eastern Coast, and have been stationed at the popular resort for the last two or three months. During this time, they've had absolutely no entertainment, no place to go, due to small colored population, and no place for their friends and relatives to visit them. So now comes time, for the local USO, and AWVS Jr. Hostesses to divide time between March Field, other neighboring camps, with Palm Springs. These boys would really appreciate one of the famed Service Club dances, and also, a colored talent show, with some of our leading stars. Palm Springs is a heavenly place. But, without entertainment! Well let's get busy. . . .

Over the Week-End.

The LA Tri-Y affair was a grand starter, for a gay spring week-end. Music Town Aud. was on, when the younger setters, dressed fit to kill ,made their entrances, to see what Vogue and Esquire had to offer in the line of latest fashions. . . . Barbara McMorris was the sleeping beauty who dreamed of the models, while Your Truly did a bit of M. C.'ing. A few of the highlights is the fashion review were Diane McCelvey, in red slacks. The Forties sisters, in sport dresses, Jeanne Gross wore blue and Burgandy sport suit and was escorted by Chester Woods, in pin triped suit, tailored in Frisco, Bobby Lambert, in red suit, with white accessories, Rebecca and Antoinette Brown, striking in twin navy blue suits, Jessel Ried, modeled fitted dress, with large white picture hat, Orchid was in three-piece brown check suit, escorted by Billy Jordan, in brown suit, tailored just for him, by Thomas, Ouida Pruit, in a sassy hat, topping her tailored suit, and Jean Brown, from the college set, in a blue and white date dress. By the way, Donald Martin, and Ann Cunningham made a couple of fine models. Esquire couldn't have better taste than Donald, who stepped out in a pair of white drapes, with tweed coat, straw hat, and other touches a suave hep cat would wear. while Ann modeled aqua blue, with red topper. Following the show, dancing took place, all present had a grand time.

The Business and Professional Girls Breakfast, fashion review, was a tremendous success, held in the beautiful yard of the new YWCA. The menu was changed a bit, from previous years, due to point rationing, etc. Instead of waffles ,fried chicken was the main dish. Connie Monroe, and Rena Nelson were among the breakfasters.

Wedding Bells.

Trinity Baptist Church was setting Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the fashionable Charlotte Gogue, Francis Dennis wedding. Charlotte, dressed in beautiful white satin gown, was assisted by Maid of Honor Leontyne Taylor, in pale blue, Main canary yellow, and her maids, dressed in pastel shades. Althea Warren sang, "I Love You Truly," she was dressed in pink. The reception immediately followed the wedding, and was held at the church. After the many beautiful gifts were viewed by the guests, the young Mr. and Mrs. Dennis, long with their friends journeyed to Alpha Bowling Club, where they had a gay party, topping the events of last week-end.

Well, Well, Well.

Lambert Green is back in town, after making an extensive trip to the south, to visit his brother, stationed at Tuskegee. He also visited Camp Pickett, Virginia, to see Woody, who was stationed there at that time. Says the boys are fine, and that he, Lambert Green, had the time of his 4F life. . . . The SC, UCLA Negro clubs will hold a joint meeting Friday evening at 8 o'clock. After a noted speaker, dancing will follow, all alumni are expected at this meeting, to be held at Camilles Den. Happy as a lark, Lois Fox, who patiently awaits the return of Darrington Weaver from Ft. Huchuka, on the 15th. . . . Flo Nukes is working hard on the AKA Cabaret plans. Let's us know that tickets are out, and the price is $1.10 each. . . . Irma Gilmore completes study at Compton J. C. this semester. Plans to enter UCLA in September. . . . Glad to see Ramona Robinson up, and looking fine, after her recent auto accident. . . . Rene Hewlett Eastered in New York City with John Kinloch. Of course they had the usual good time. . . . Wesleen Foster is sticking to her books now days. Not much partying on her schedule. Maymonde Christain is a private at Van Dorn, with other local men. . . . Arline Anderson has the pink slip to the Julius Anderson "Kemp," gas stamps an dall. Her brother leaves on the 11th. . . . Virgie Donnely is the one and only, with a portrait of Ruddy Fexico. . . . Naomi Davis has taken to modernistic dancing. I hear that she's really good, too. . . . Albert Hicks has reached his destination, and is a Boot at a Marine Camp Lejune, California. . . . The Jr. NAACP members are holding meetings, and would like for all old members to please attend. . . . Wonder why Barbara McMorris's boy friend was so very very salty, at the dance Sat .night. DON'T FORGET THE BOYS IN THE ARMY. . . . WRITE, WRITE, AND WRITE SOME MORE.

Till Next Week. . . .

EARL DANCER AND MOTHER OF NICHOLAS BROS. ELOPE TO TIAJUANA AND MARRY

With not only the screen, stage, business, and society circles here surprised, but even the bride herself, Earl Dancer, internationally known theatrical figure, and Mrs. Viola Nicholas, mother of the famous Nicholas Brothers dance team, were married at Tiajuana, Mexico, Thursday afternoon, April 29. The surprise to the bride lay in the fact that when she thought they were headed for the marriage license bureau in Civic Center, Los Angeles, to make the three-day advance application for a license, under California's strict law, Mr. Dancer was speeding to the Mexican border. She asked in surprise, "where are we going?" "To Tiajuana, where couples can get married right now," answered Earl as he hit the highway for the more than 200 mile romantic errand.

Accompanying them was Mrs. Fayard Nicholas, young wife of Fayard Nicholas, now in the Army, whom they had brought as witness to the application. Arrived at San Diego, passports were secured without delay and they hurried to the office of one of the justices of peace so plentiful in this Mexican "Gretna Green." In a little while they were made one, but not before the news had spread like wildfire that famous folk were getting spliced. They know and love the sensationally dancing Nicholas Brothers in Mexico, and all in the vicinity took up the cry. "Viente! Viente! eet ees the mama the Neecholas muchachos." So by the time the justice proclaimed "Ora, yo pronuncio homble, y esposa," there was a crowd of witnesses applauding gaily.

The happy couple returned at once arrangerd to spend their honeymoon on the Dancer ranch at Elsinore, some 50 miles from Los Angeles. They plan to make this their future home, where the new Mrs. Dancer, who is found of country life and chicken raising will supervise the lucrative poultry business, which Earl plans to enlarge. Already it is stocked up with hundreds of Rhode Island Reds and Hampshires, so he is arranging to add 2000 more, in order to keep up with the demands of the market.

"Africana" Goes Into Rehearsal

White the bride is attending to this, Dancer who numbers among his many theatrical achievements the discovery of Ethel Waters and Jeni Le Gon, will put his new elaborate stage show, "Africana" before the footlights. Rehearsal starts this week at a downtown theater, with the May, an planned for the locale of the opening. Following its Los Angeles run it is to hit the road, to some key cities already bargaining for it.

The bride, pretty, petite, and so charming as to have become very popular here, is devoted to Earl's mother Mrs. Fred Mason, widow of one of the west's most outstanding lawyers. Several pieces of income property, besides a home in the city, and the Elsinore ranch, are included in the family estate.

Morgan Smith, of 243 West 125th Street, New York City, who is a photographer and member of the People's Voice staff, and Lillian A. Griffin of Ansonia, Connecticut, are visitors in Los Angeles.

This means that this broadcast was sent to every listening post in the world and in many cases, recordings were taken and the program will be re-broadcast to the men in the armed forces. This program was sponsored by the army entertainment bureau for the army men.

The boys sang two Negro spirituals, "Gospel Train" arranged by Noble Cain and "Listen to the Lambs." An added feature was Bobby Brooks' singing of "Bess You is My Woman Now" from "Porgy and Bess" by George Gershwin. The other portion of the entertainment was Louis Armstrong and his orchestra.

The boys' Glee Club at McKinley has been very active this semester, and has sung in several different centers in this community.

THE DORIE MILLER HERO CLUB MEETS

The Dorie Miller Hero Club held its regular meeting Sunday, May 2nd and had a very large attendance of members and friends. Plans were discussed for the celebrating of our First Anniversary to be held Sunday, August 1st at the Camille's Party Den. Outstanding talent of our city will appear on the program and the occasion is scheduled to be the highlight of the Social Season. Final arrangements will be made at a later date and our friends will be invited publicly.

Two applications were received into our membership, Mesdames Annabell Gant and Susie Hill. We're sure they will find that they have joined one of the most progressive clubs of the City. A club as distinctive as its name —DORIE MILLER—our hero at Pearl Harbor.

After a most interesting meeting and round-table discussion of pertinent ideas and facts, our meeting was adjourned to meet the first Sunday in June at the home of Mrs. Bessie Duncan, 340 E. Jefferson Blvd. Our hostess, Mrs. Nina Lott of West 36th Place served a most refreshing and palatable repast to the complete satisfaction of members present. Her lovely home was beautifully decorated with blossoms and it was truly evident that Spring is here.

WAR MOTHERS TO DEDICATE SERVICE FLAG

On Sunday, May 9th, "Mothers' Day," the Second A. M. E. Church located at the corner of 53rd Street and San Pedro Place, will be the scene of a very colorful program.

Laura Bowman will present "A Tribute to Mother" on Sunday morning and Jess Brooks will feature "Mother MacCree."

The services on last Sunday were of the accustomed high standard. The pastor, speaking to a large audience, stressed the attitude of those who "went out" from the Last Supper. A number of visitors were present and when the invitation was extended, several persons united with the Church.

Sorority Sponsors Unique Affair

Alpha Gamma Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority entertained their Mothers and Sponsors at a very elaborate luncheon on Saturday, May 1, 1943 at the home of Soror Lucille Gibbs, 787 East 43rd Place. Each year at the regular May meeting of the Sorority the Sorors have as their guests the Las Madrinas club, which consists of the Mothers and sponsors of the Sorors. After the luncheon Sorors Marjorie McPherson and Ursula Adams conducted various games which were enjoyed by Sorors and their guests. The most entertaining was an impromptu Major Bowes type programme for which prizes were given. Mrs. Minnie Boring started the programme by playing and singing a number, following which those guests who were born in May danced and sang in Maypole fashion. Prizes were won by Mrs. Webb, mother of Bernice Barnum, and Mrs. Grace Boswell, sponsor of Audrey Bradshaw. Mrs. Grace Boswell is mother of an Alpha Kappa Alpha member and mother-in-law of still another member. The Sorors very talented member, Gladys Childress, who again scored a hit as a pianist at Barker Brothers on April 29th played a cabaret party at the Club Alabam on Tuesday, May 11, 1943 at which time Etta Moton their soror, and the cast of Porgy and Bess will be the guests of the Sorority.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brackin of East Forty-Third Street were exceedingly overjoyed, when their son, Cpl. John Jr. came home on furlough in April. Although his visit was brief, relatives and friends of Los Angeles and San Diego made his stay a pleasant memory. A former student of Manual Arts, and Los Angeles City College, Cpl. Brackin received his stripes after three months in the service. To date he has been in the service seven months.

NOTICE TO ALL LIQUID FIRE USERS
Congo Insecticide & Disinfectant Co.

Dr. N. H. Jones, the sole owner of the PRIZE WINNER INSECTICIDE and DISINFECTANT CO., and inventor of the Famous LIQUID FIRE, wishes to inform the general public that the State of California, Department of Agriculture, has at his request, canceled the above name and registered the new trade name of CONGO INSECTICIDE & DISINFECTANT CO., and as the owner of such, he holds copy of same with license to manufacture and sell Insecticides both wholesale and retail.

He wishes further to state that since many of the heavy chemicals used in the formula of the Famous LIQUID FIRE were imported from the present war zones, necessity demanded that products from our own native soil and neighboring countries be utilized; so the noted chemist presents an entirely new SYNTHETIC insect killer for the same purpose that has been tested by the California Testing Laboratories of California, 1429 Santa Fe Ave., L. A., and accepted by the State Dept. of Chemistry, Sacramento, known as SKOR-CHER with a money-back if it fails to kill 'em.

DELTA SORORS' WARTIME PARLEY STRESSES DEMOCRACY NEED

By Victoria McCall

"Demonstrating Democracy In American Communities" was the theme of the executive committee of Delta Sigma Theta sorority which met in a special war time conference in Chicago April 23-25. The meeting, which was presided over by Atty .Elsie Austin of Washington, D. C., grand president of the sorority, was a business session in the strictest sense of the word and serious thought and action were given to national and local problems by those who attended.

Because of the national emergency and the acute need for concentration on specific local problems, the body was of the opinion that the most constructive work could best be done in local communities rather than by large national forces, and therefore directed its efforts toward developing local programs for the sorority during this war period. However, the sorority's two national projects, a mobile library unit which operates in rural communities of North Carolina, and the job analysis program, whose purpose is to aid in the vital economic problems affecting Negro women in America today, were given special consideration and an extension of program. The job analysis program now includes three phases to be developed along national and local lines: (1) securing job openings for Negro women; (2) job clinics for women workers; and (3) day care of children of working mothers. The mobile library has met with governmental approval and will be conducted by a full time librarian.

Patriotic Activities

One of the achievements of the meeting was the purchase of a $10,000 war bond by the sorority. This purchase, totaled with previous national, regional and chapter purchases, now brings Delta Sigma Theta's war bond investments well over the $25,000.00 mark. The most outstanding single achievement in such patriotic activities was the announcement of the fact that Alpha Gamma Sigma chapter in Memphis, Tennessee, had recently raised $98,000.00 in a war bond drive which it had conducted in the city of Memphis.

Reports further showed that the sorority's other war time activities consisted of extensive cooperation on both a national and local scale with much agencies and organizations as the OPA, OWI, OCD, FEPC, USO, and Red Cross. Chapters throughout the country have also completely furnished day rooms at camps, overnight hostels for soldiers, and day nurseries for the children of war workers. In recognition of the individual services being performed by members of the sorority during the war, the executive committee voted to extend financial standing to its members who have entered military and foreign service for the duration.

$2,275 In Scholarships

An announcement was made during the sessions by the scholarship board, which reported that $2,275.00 had been made in awards and loans to young women of high scholastic attainment during 1942. Of this amount a $500.00 loan fund was established at Bethune-Cookman college at Daytona Beach, Florida which was founded by Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, an honorary member of the sorority.

The sorority took out memberships in the Associated Negro Press and the Southern Youth congress, and also completed all but a small balance on its membership in the N. A. A. C. P. It was further agreed that although the sorority would not affiliate, it would cooperate with the National Negro congress and the March on Washington whenever possible.

On May 16 Atty. Austin will present "Delta Sigma Theta's Annual Report to the Nation" on the "Wings Over Jordan" broadcast which emanates from South Bend, Indiana. The report, which will also be in printed form, will be available to all who desire copies ."The History of Delta Sigma Theta," as compiled by Edna Johnson Morris, historian of the sorority, will also be published soon.

In attendance at the conference were in the following members, who presented detailed reports of the splendid achievements of their specific offices and of those whose activities they supervise: Annie Duncan, Washington, D. C., chairman of traveling library project; Gwendolyn Higginbatham, Bluefield, W. Va., Midwest Regional director; Marion Palmer Capps, Hampton, Va., Eastern Regional director; Edna Morris Johnson, Gary, Ind., grand historian; Louise J. Wesley, Wilberforce, Ohio, chairman of budget committee; Beatrice E. Penman, Kansas City, Kansas, grand treasurer; Victoria McCall, Detroit ,Michigan, grand journalist; Mary J. Nightengale, Washington, D. C., grand secretary; Mary S. Buford, Sand Springs, Okla., Central Regional director; Naomi Cherot, Kansas City, Mo., chairman of scholarship board; Minerva Johnson, Nashville, Tenn., Southern Regional director; Dorothy Height, Washington, D. C., chairman of job analysis project; Chrystine Shackles, Austin, Texas, Southwest Regional director; Myra Hemmings, San Antonio, Texas, founder and grand vice-president.

Triumphant Climax At Soul Winning Mission

2011 Hooper Avenue

A day of rejoicing which was ours, Sunday, May 2nd, will long be remembered by all. The Holy Ghost was with us from our Sunday School throughout the day's journey. At the close of the morning service, six were baptised at the Baptist Temple, (18th and Avalon) of which Dr. C. Sweeney is pastor.

Our hearts are grateful to this pastor, who willingly and graciously made impromptu preparation for our first baptizing.

At three o'clock, we enjoyed a fine message by Rev. G. B. Baylock. His discourse encouraged our hearts, and broadened our vision. Our night service was unusually good, and Sister Crooms was magnetic in her demonstrative discouse subject "This Cup." The Holy Spirit swayed and staggered the entire audience, and all were happy in the Lord.

Three additions were made at this service, and two of these are ministers of the gospel. We are asking God for more laborers.

Evangelist J. A. Alexander, a great mogul in the gospel, set our hearts on fire as usual when he prayed the sanctifying prayer for our communion vessels. His presence was an asset to us as he assisted in administeding the Lord's Supper.

We welcome all to worship with us whenever time will permit.

"He tnat winneth Souls is wise."

Hattie M. Crooms, minister.

Services for Members Of Armed Forces

Services for and by members of the armed forces are scheduled for Sunday, May 31, 1943, at the Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church, corner of Vernon and Hooper Avenues. The program includes a sermon by an army chaplain, a soldier's chorus and quartette, short remarks by former soldiers as well as the present active membership of our ever increasing armed forces.

Husbands, sons, brothers and sweethearts now wearing the uniform bring to each family in our community an interest in this service which is personal. The Stars and Stripes of our flag are symbolic of the vital interest we have in the physical, spiritual and moral gifts of our young men now in active service. By the way set for them they seek to preserve the world justice and inheritance of democratic rights.

We, the civilians at home, owe much to these young men and women in service and especially is it our duty to see to it that the things for which they are told to fight to preserve shall be given to them and us. Furthermore, we owe it to them that this terrible experience shall not be the fate of their children and their children's children. They do not believe in war nor does the Christian church.

Our church doors are open for the men and women in service. Come in if but for a moment of meditation and spiritual atmosphere. This service will honor war mothers and wives.

Signed, Major M. Dean.

Santa Barbara Churches Continue To Enjoy Success

Elder G. H. Saunders, pastor of the Church of God in Christ, came to Santa Barbara Dec. 2, 1940, bringing five members and after three weeks of service, they all left but one. Sometimes he was alone, but he had faith in God and continued to pray. On Jan. 1, 1940, one soul was saved—a white sister—and from that time the Lord began to bless his work and many souls have been saved.

On May 5, 1940, the church marched into its present location at 236 East Cota Street, buying the house and lot with nothing but faith in God. The Lord blessed, however, and they were paid for two months ahead of time.

From March 7th through the 22nd, the church celebrated jointly the Pastor's birthday and the church anniversary. $243.00 was raised and many souls were saved in the meeting. This was all done without the selling of any food. The organization also has a Junior Church which has full charge on Friday nights.

May has arrived in Santa Barbara with its beautiful sunshine and sweet smelling flowers. The weather is fine, but many minds are confused with thoughts of the war.

The city has many week-end visitors.

Among the newcomers to the city is Elder J. M. Cain and family from Texas. Elder Cain is a gospel preacher worthy of his calling. He is a resident of 211 E. Haley Street.

Bro. L. Harold, Jr., is the efficient and energetic reporter of the California Eagle. "Push on Harold."

Harvesters to Celebrate 10th Anniversary

The Harvesters Club of the Mount Carmel Missionary Baptist Church will celebrate its 10th anniversary next Sunday, May 9th at 3 p.m.

For ten years the Harvesters Club has played a major part in the up-building of Christian work at Mount Carmel. The club represents the social, as well as the financial side of the church, and has assumed the leadership as the most outstanding auxiliary of the church.

The highlight of this affair will be an inspiring message which will be brought by Rev. J. S. Peterson, pastor. There will also be an interesting program, and free refreshments for all. All friends and well wishers are invited to be with us on the above date.

Sunday, May 15th, 1943, at 3 p.m. Mount Carmel will hold its Installation Services, at which time Rev. J. S. Peterson will be installed as pastor of the Mount Carmel Baptist Church. So keep the date in mind Sunday, May 16, 1943.

SECOND BAPTST CHURCH MARCHING ON TO VICTORY

The Minister and the Trustees of Second Baptist Church wish to thank the public and the members of the church for the fine spirit of cooperation which was shown in our Easter Rally, which was a huge success. The total amount collected was $9,120.68; $7,000 was paid on the Mortgage. $1,000 of which was a gift secured by the pastor. $2,000 was paid on the Parsonage.

We now owe a balance on the Church of $27,966.33 and on the Parsonage $1,620.55. With a balance on hand in our Rally Fund of $290.68.

The Minister and his wife are in Portland, Oregon, for a week's service with Rev. J. J. Clow's Rally and Anniversary. They will return for the third Sunday in May. There will be an Ordination Sermon that morning of two deacons.

Again thanking the public for the interest and support which it is giving our efforts. And the wonderful spirit of cooperation in the church.

Rev. J. Raymond Henderson—In Appreciation

The Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance held its last meeting on April 26, and I must confess it was the best meeting I have attended in months. Everything was just as it should be. One of the reasons for this—the main one—was the attendance and performance of the Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, the scholarly pastor of the Second Baptist Church. This brother preached a sermon that was a "knockout"—pardon my slang. His message was to the world in general, and to the Christian in particular. He did a mighty good job of bolstering our faith in the certainty of a hereafter. He had everything—facts, thought, logic, oratory, fire, sincerity, and keen human interest.

Though it is a fact that the quality of our ministers in showing signs of considerable improvement, yet it also is a fact that ignorance is still rushing to the pulpit through back doors and broken fences in certain definitely known quarters. This being so, it is highly refreshing to know that we have men—and there are many of them—whose qualifications are potent enough to aid in the neutralizing of the ineptitude of the others.

Many moons have waxed and waned, and the sun has negotiated with quite a few of earth's annual revolutions since I heard anything like Dr. Henderson's sermon, and I am not so sure I shall live long enough to hear one better.

Second Baptist is to be commended for its choice of pastor, and Los Angeles is indeed fortunate in having such a valuable addition to its roll of ministers. May God's best blessings rest upon the brother and his work.

Rev. L. St. Geo. A. McCallum.

"Reverend" Garner Receives Ordination

In the presence of representatives from leading churches of the nation and Southern California before an audience composed of all races, George Garner, internationally famous tenor, graduate of the University of Southern California, executive vice-president of the Garner Center, was ordained Sunday afternoon in the sanctuary of St. Paul Baptist Church.

Dr. S. A. Williams, minister to St. Paul Baptist Church, and outstanding pulpiteer, was master of ceremonies.

The ordination sermon was delivered by Dr. John D. Gordon, dean of ministers of Southern California. The sermon, spiritual and doctrinal in content, plus matchless rhetoric and oratory that has characterized Dr. Gordon's scholarly delivery through the years, not only touched the heart-strings of the candidate, but reached the vast congregation present. One could feel the presence of the Holy spirit as Dr. Gordon delivered his soul-stirring message.

Dr. A. C. Capers, professor of Departmental Religion and instructor to the Los Angeles Baptist Ministers' Union, gave the charge. Rev. L. D. Stephen presented the newly ordained minister with the bible.

All citizens of Los Angeles, and the nation, who have known and appreciated the fine work of Dr. Garner as a musician, now wish him God's speed and the best of success in this most worthy calling to the gospel ministry.

To Worship In Work Clothes

Reverend Clayton D. Russell initiates regular worship hour for the convenience of workers on "swing" and "graveyard" shifts, it was announced here today. These services will be held each Sunday, beginning May 9th, in the main auditorium of Independent Church, 18th & Paloma Streets, at 9:00 a. m. and will last for one hour only.

"his program is in line with efforts to place the entire community resources at the disposal of war workers, regardless of the hours of their work," said Rev. Russell.

This feature is expected to prove very popular as workers are urged to come in work clothes, thus eliminating unnecessary travel and loss of time.

"The community-at-large is urged to join our war workers in worship," said the pastor.

St. Paul Baptist Church Marches On Under The Banner of The Holy Ghost

Thursday April 29, 1943 will go down in the historical annals of St. Paul Baptist Church, as a momentous day, marking a very significant occassion, it being the 13th anniversary of the pastorate of pastor S. A. Williams, and the 12th anniversary of the marriage of Samuel Aaron Williams, to Miss LuVoille Morgan Three weeks ago, or more specifically, April the 11th, Mrs. her church for the first time for more than ten months, she having just recovered from a lingering spell of illness, and on his her return, she made an inspiring "thank you" address. mated by her vivacity, and realizing also that pastor Williams had planned to take a vacation and rest tour, if and when she regained her health, the members of the church set about to show some kind of recognition to the pastor and his wife for their unselfish, untiring, devoted service. A committee was formed to devise ways and means, to properly show the recognition due the pastor, for having cut short his rest period last year, when he was suddenly summoned home, from Portland Oregon, where he had just gone and was making arrangements for the coming of Mrs. Williams, recognition due Mrs. Williams because she was suddenly deprived of the opportunity of taking the rest tour last year, when she was stricken ith an illness, from which she s only recently recovered, and in appreciation of her valiant fight for health and strength, to be able to try, try, again.

At first the committee considered giving an "anniversary party" but pastor Williams had for the past twelve years insistently refused to be honored with an anniversary, so in the second meeting of the committee it was agreed to resort to a coup d'etat, and to launch a three point anniversary-testimonial placing pastor Williams on the center spot, from whence he could not escape . . . The three points were as follows:

1st, 20th Anniversary of Membership in St. Paul, Mrs. S. A. Williams.

2nd, 13th Anniversary of pastorate in St. Paul, Pastor S. A. Williams.

3rd, 12th Anniversary of the marriage of Pastor and Mrs. S. A. Williams.

The trinity idea met with popular approval by the members and friends of the church, hence the great demonstration on Thursday night, April 29th. A very unique program was arranged by the committee and duly mastered by the invincible Mistress of Ceremonies, Mrs. C. A. Bass. Space will not allow for a reiteration of the many fine tributes paid pastor and Mrs. Williams, and I consider it equal to the need to merely give the names of those participating, for you to know that what they said was not flattery. The following prominent members of the clergy and the citizenry were extravagantly profuse in their remarks anent the honorees. The Clergy—Rev. Clayton D. Russell, Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, Rev. John D. Gordon, Rev. Ralph L. Maberry, Rev. F. L. Taylor, Rev. I. G. Robinson, Rev. J. W. Bailey, Rev. Horace Nelson Mays, the citizenry was represented by Mr. S. P. Johnson, Mr. Louis Blodgett, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, and others. Music was rendered by the Choir of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, suplementing the St. Paul Choirs, Mrs. Paulyn Garner, gave a very lovely piano selection, which was vociferously received, and a request number by Mr. George R. Garner, was an outstanding feature and appreciated by all lovers of good music. Mrs. Marie Overstreet Jackson, in her inimitable Mezzo Soprano voice sang for the edification of Pastor and Mrs. Williams, that popular number so often heard on wedding occasions, entitled "Because," her rendition of the number eveked favorable comments from many old and newly weds. The financial remuneration was beyond the sanguine expectation of the committee in charge, for the visiting churches, civic organizations citizens, members and auxiliariets of St. Paul, made and presented a purse of $1004.90, as a testimonial to the pastor and his wife. This amount was increased to $1040.50, for their use on their vacation, in addition to the money, many valuable adjuncts were made to their luggage ensemble. The presentation was made by Prof. Geo. R. Garner, a recent licentiate of St. Paul Baptist Church, who said in part—Pastor and Mrs. Williams, for more than twelve years past, we as members of your church and congregation, have profitted by your ministrations, and within that period you have greatly endeared your self to us by your earnest devotion to duty, and the hearty interest you have manifested in our welfare as a people.

In the pulpit you have faithfully presented the precepts of our religion. In our homes you have been our sincere and sympathizing counselor and friend, and in all things you have proven yourself our competent and loving pastor. With a deep sense of your many benefactions, those assembled here, and those who, unable to attend personally, sent telegrams and letters, requested me in their name to you this money and these presents as a token of our gratitude for your labors in our behalf; we ask you Mr. and Mrs. Williams, to accept it as freely as we offer it; for it is fitting that you should have something tangible about you as you go from place to place on your tour, that will remind you of us who are left behind endeavoring to carry on.

Mrs. Williams in a very appropriate speech graciously accepted the gifts and responded to the kind words of Prof. Garner.

Pastor Williams in response, was almost emotionally overcome, he said in part—I am greatly moved at this new manifestation of your affection and esteem. Since I first came to you, an entire stranger, more than twelve years ago, you have become very near and dear to me, you have so freely bestowed on me your confidence and generosity that I feel as though I had always known and loved you as your pastor. In accepting this magnanimous testimonial my heart glows with renewed joy in your service. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for your magnificent gifts, and the kind words accompanying them. I trust that our ties as pastor and people will unite us closer and closer in the bonds of Christian love through time and eternity. The festivities included a delicious repast served in the Social Auditorium, under the direction of the genial cateress, Mrs. Marguerite Jones.

Sunday, May 2nd, was a glorious day through out, the Church School was excellent, and hundreds of children and adults, were in general assembly in the main Auditorium. At the 11 o'clock service Elder B. C. Cook, was the speaker, bringing a very striking message from the text, "He Shall Be Like a Tree," his theme was the christian and their planting. His exegisis were profound, logical, and provocative of greater zeal in Christian living. There were ten accessions, at the close of the message. The afternoon service, was, as previously announced, an outstanding event, it being the ordination service of Rev. George Robert Garner, II The musical numbers leading up to the message were inspiring, the Dr. J. D. Gordon, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church, Dean of Baptist preachers in the N. W. preached the ordination sermon, his theme being "The Way of the Preacher," based on the scripture, "My Ways Are Not As Your Ways Nor My Thoughts As Your Thoughts." His message was pregnant with exegetical lore, and preachers who heard him were impelled to say they were never witnesses to a more appropriate ordination sermon.

Dr. Augustus C. Capers, B. T. delivered the Charge, to the licenciate, basing his remarks, principally, on Paul's Charge to Timothy, as noted in 2nd. Tim. 4th Chapter. Rev. L. D. Stevens, B. D., presented the Bible. He briefly outlined the ancient historical facts pertaining to it, and gave chronologically the names, meaning and divisions of the 66 books there in. Rev. James Moore offered the consecration prayer, while the 12 elders stood with bowed heads with their hands upon the head of the Ordainee, ardaining him to the preaching of the gospel of Christ. This service was very impressive, made more so by the soft notes from the organ sending out notes "I need thee every hour." The hand of fellowship and felicitation was extended to Rev. Garner, by the whole congregation, thus ending a most auspicious assemblage. At 8:00 p. m. Pastor Williams was the speaker in what he called his "Good Bye" sermon until he returns. His message was based on the reply Nenemiah made to Sanballat, "I Am Doing a Great Work, So That I Cannot Come Down." He urged the constituency to be ever on the alert for those Sandallats who would offer glowing invitations, to come down from St. Paul for A CONFERENCE. He so lucidly explained the many things that might lure those who are susceptible to flattery. That those who heard him vowed to be ever on the alert during his absence, and always ready to say "I Am Doing a Great Work."

There were three accessions at the close of the message. The baptismal rites were performed on three candidates, and the Observance of the Lords Supper, ended a glorious day.

Statistics for the day—Services held 4, Accessions 13, Baptisms 4, Attendance 1750, Finance $864.19.

The 55th anniversary celebration and annual men's day program of First A. M. E. Church, Pasadena, California, was set in motion on Sunday with J. L. Glover, minister at Allen Chapel A. M. E. Church, San Pedro as the morning speaker and Harold S. Prince, executive secretary of the 28th Street Y. M. C. A. as the speaker in the evening. These services are to be continued through May 9th to May 16th.

Founded as it was only two years after the incorporation of the city of Pasadena, First A. M. E. Church, in celebrating its 55th anniversary, stands as the oldest Negro institution in the city. To Son on Mother's Day

Someone is pulling for you son,
To beat the Dago, Jap and Hun;
To knock them over one by one
Keep them forever on the run.

Someone is praying that you will,
Return to the farm, factory and mill;
With loved ones ever by your side,
Praising and loving you from tide to tide.

Fight a little stronger, work a little harder;
Do the job quicker, bring back the larder,
When this war is finished, never more to roam;
The loved ones that are praying; will be waiting for you, home.

Your Loving Mother.

Ministers Consult Kenny Washington In Juvenile Crime Drive

Kenny Washington, nationally famous former U.C.L.A. All-American football star, now on the Los Angeles Police Juvenile squad, is being consulted this week by Sisters Reatha and Leatha, widely known twin evangelists, called here from Chicago. He with Percy Williams, and other juvenile officers both young and veterans, have been promised the all-out aid of these religious crusaders, and civic workers, breaking up, or at least cutting down the obviously growing rate of juvenile delinquency. They hope too that following their example, and noting their predicted success, that every minister, church officer, and every congregation in the city, will get into the campaign and make it a united front.

Free Motion Pictures and Recreations

Studying the data supplied by the officers, as to the nature of the offenses, and the effects of the law's punishment on first offenders, they plan to nip in the bud, as many embryo breakers of the laws of decency, and the state as possible. For instance Sister Reatha, who is organizing both an adult, and a junior choir for Azuza Temple, 27th and Poloma where she has been called, intends to devote some of its spacious facilities to youth. "We will counter-attack the Devil, like the United Nations do the Axis," declared Sister Reatha. "Free motion pictures of an instructive, amusing and religious nature, games, music, and other recreations, during vacation, can, we believe, be made more attractive than the deceptive path that leads them to the pit-falls of sin. This should bring gratitude to many heads of families, engaged in defense work. Meanwhile Sister Leatha is conducting nightly meetings to growing crowds, at her charge, the Church of God in Christ, 114th and Wilmington, in Watts.

Mrs. Bishop to Speak Sunday, May 9, at 3 P. M.

On Sunday, May 9, at 3 p.m. 1708 West 8th Street, Mrs. Charles Reed Bishop, internationally recognized lecturer, and Director, from 1934 to 1938, of the International Baha'i Bureau, at Geneva, Switzerland, will speak on: "Some Christian Mysteries." "The fundamental unity of all religious teaching," explains Mrs. Bishop, "is very often concealed in the symbols made use of by the prophets who come from era to era to expound the truth in accordance with the capacities of the people of the age; such, for example, as the Christian Mysteries veiled in the verses regarding the 'changing of water into wine;' 'the descent of the dove;' 'the raising of Lazarus;' and 'the Resurrection.' As stated in the Baha'i writings, the Baha'i Faith is not a new religion, but a new approach to religion, seeing the same authority in all the prophets of the past, who have brought the same underlying truths to successive eras, through progressive revelation. If examined with heart and mind spiritually awake, the unity of God and the fundamental reality underlying all the great religious systems of the world is readily perceived." Mrs. Bishop's keen spiritual insight and clarity of exposition are an inspiration to all who enjoy the independent investigation of truth. All are cordially invited—there are no charges or collections.

There will be a Musical and Fashion Tea given in the Social Hall of the Trinity Baptist Church, 35th and Normandie Avenue, May 9, 1943, from 3 to 7 P. M.
Silver Offering.

1943 Mothers' Day

The observance of Mother's Day since its inauguration takes on a rarer meaning in 1943 than ever before in our day and time.

Those sons who have answered the call to arms, and those of draft age, have parents—some white, some black, some yellow and some brown; but all asking the same question—For what purpose have we raised these boys? Guided them through the trials of infancy adolescence, school? Taught them to love their God, their country and their fellowmen?

In these months, years and days of anxious waiting, longing and hoping for the inevitable return of some only son, the anguish of uncertainty and loss falls most heavily on mothers. But let us not forget the categories of these mothers. The white American mother knows that the same arm of protection thrown around her son in his native land of the free and home of the brave is his assurance against any form of persecution by any alien enemy. But the black American mother who gives of her resources and sons cannot be so secure in her belief that her boy will receive that same protection as his white comrades on the battle front. She knows also that, in many instances, she is not permitted to share in the production of the implements needed to successfully win this war against Fascist astrocity in the shortest time. And yet—these black mothers whose sons are being sacrificed on the battle fields of Africa, Australia and other foreign fields have not lost faith in their God, nor respect for their native land. They will continue to teach their youngsters those ideals of government that should guarantee life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

We hail the mothers—Black, White, rich and poor—the potential builders of a new nation dedicated to the establishment of democracy; a democracy under which all men may live as one nation and one people!

Must Support Downey

California's Sen. Sheridan Downey has introduced a bill in the U. S. Senate demanding investigation of jim-crow and discrimination in the armed forces. One of the important war measures of this session, that bill must secure the one-hundred percent backing of the "folks back home."

Our state may be proud that one of its Senators has stepped courageously to the fore and hurled a real challenge at the Bilbos, Ellenders, Tom Connally's and Cotton Ed Smiths of the Senate.

But Downey and his bill are powerless without the fullest support from an aroused nation. If there is indignation, protest and militance in the plea of Negro parents and all our people against the treatment accorded black boys in the armed forces, we have been given a weapon which we may use to blast aside the gun-toting constabulary of the race-hate South, the jim-crow "tradition" of the armed forces; let us exhibit the democratic will of this anti-fascist nation to the tiny cliche of "officers and gentlemen" who are convinced that American boys who, throughout most of America, grow up together and are schooled together—must find it impossible to fight together.

Sen. Downey's forthright action in the Senate was a direct result of the resignation of Dean William Hastie from the War Department in protest against the discriminatory policy of the army's air arm.

That splendid, militant performance must call for the unqualified support of all Americans determined to bring victory to America and her allies. A jim-crow army is hardly the crusading force which can rid the world of fascist tyranny and oppression. Let Sen. Downey know that he has the full support of his home state. Let Sen. Hiram Johnson know that we want a statement as to his stand on this issue.

Victory Market Is Triumphant

When other major markets operating in the Central Avenue district were found guilty of violating OPA meat-quality regulations, the Negro Victory Market, splendidly defended by young Atty. Crispus Wright, Jr., drew a prompt vindication from a Los Angeles jury last week.

Here is a fact to make our whole community proud!

It is the people's market alone which refuses to victimize our war-working population. It is the people's market alone which will not sell inferior meats at bloated prices.

Not long ago, it seems, these editorial columns were full of preachments that proclaimed the POSSIBILITY of opening a consumer-owned market on Central Avenue. Wiseacres laughed out loud. It couldn't be done.

Yet, today, when all retail stores face the difficult task of serving this vast war-working community, in the face of shortages and rationing, it is the people's market,—the "impossible" people's market,—which remains true to its responsibilities.

The Victory Market is inviting the people of Los Angeles to be present, Sunday evening, at Independent Church of Christ, to celebrate their first anniversary. If the people of Los Angeles respond to this effort in the future, as they have in the past, there promises to be greater cooperative effort on the part of Angelenos which speaks for a better day in the business world for us.

Machinists Have Obligation

Refusal to permit Negro membership in the International Association of Machinists, which holds a contract at Lockheed aircraft company, is a severe blow to the national unity vital for victory in this nation's war effort.

It is clear that the vast majority of workers in our area are fully willing to extend equal participation to Negro workers—as has been demonstrated by many other local A. F. L. as well as C. I. O. outfits.

The Machinists exclusion tactics flow—once again—from the poisonous domination of high national union circles by Dixie's walking delegates.

The struggle for full labor rights by the Lockheed "Committee for a Yea Vote o the Referendum", is one of the significant national movements of the war.

Demonstrating Los Angeles' understanding of the democratic nature of this war, Machinists Local 727 has requested a national referendum of all Machinist members on the question of Negro participation. Utmost support must be given this effort. It is only a united, battling labor movement, free of employer-inspired racial clefts, that can wage a real war against the profiteers, appeasers and fifth columnists who would betray the nation's struggle for survival.

Negro Press Conference

Long-neglected but vitally needed, the coordination of the Negro press and progressive white publications in their heroic struggle for the nation's victory through the equal participation of all citizens in every phase of the war effort becomes a closer prospect this week as final arrangements are made ready for a week-end conference of Negro and white newspapers to be held in New York City under the auspices of the Council for Democracy.

Significant is the fact that the meeting will bring together Negro and white win-the-war publications. Two speakers will be Wendell Willkie and Pearl S. Buck.

Among those who will participate are John Lewis, managing editor of PM; Ted Thakery, editor and assistant publisher, New York Post; Gardner Cowles, assistant director, Office of War Information; Philip Salisbury, executive-director, Sales Management; and William E. Haskell, administrative assistant to the president of the New York Herald-Tribune.

The editor of the California Eagle was invited to be a part of this conference, but in view of the fact it was impossible for her to be present, the California Eagle will be represented by its Managing Editor and Special Staff Correspondent, John Kinloch, who is in New York City at the present time.

In Memoriam

In memory of our loving Mother and Grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Edwards, who passed away five years ago, May 9, 1938.

Two years have passed away
since that sad day
That called the one we loved away.
Forget no, we never will, for in our hearts she liveth still.
The blow was great, the shock severe.
We little thought the end was near.
And only we who knew her well,
can of the parting tell.
She bade no one a last farewell.
She said goodby to none. The heavenly gates were open wide.
A gentle voice said
come.
Whose loving face is ever enshrined within our hearts.
Her soul to God-her memory to us.
Rest dear one.

Her devoted daughters, sons and grandchildren:
Mrs. Cora Spencer,
Mrs. Jennis Ford,
And family.

To Daughter on Mother's Day

Baby dear, listen here, I am with you do not fear:
Since you first did open your eyes:
I was always near to hush your cries.
With kisses, songs, labor and prayer.
I did raise you to womanhood, lovely and fair.

Work, fight, and love with all your might,
Be forever on the side of right;
Go where you're needed, help all you can:
Live a clean life, evil and vice disdain.

When this strife is over, and you're home again:
Make that good man happy, be as sweet as sugar cane.
Raise a flock of kiddies, fill the neighborhood;
Keep them in the Sunday good.

Put them through the highest schools:
Till they've reached the top.
Then send them out to make the world
A better place to stop.

● LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Open Letter to Congress

Sirs:

It has become necessary to express to you a strong feeling of in me. It has to do with racial injustice that has been growing discrimination. I am not a victim and in my good fortune have neglected giving much thought to the condition. However, now for our own good, the good of the whole country at war, it is urgent that a few of the outstanding wrongs be righted. It can not be done by those who are oppressed; it must be accomplished by those of us who are in a position to look with a personal detachment.

I refer to the two outstanding cases here on the west coast; to the Mexican "Sleepy Lagoon" case, and the case of the Negro, Folkes, who is not being given a fair trial for the murder of Mrs. James. In the latter case the evidence points to a white man and the colored man is as good as convicted. Maybe at this time he has been convicted.

This has a much greater meaning than the sentences of men "railroaded" through a trial. It is important first as cause for disunity between us and our many colored allies, and second as more than adequate meat for Axis propaganda.

Please try to do all you can as our representatives to correct these unfortunate errors.

Sincerely,
JO LEACH.

HIS SONG, "SWING LOW SWEET CHARIOT," MEANS PEACE

He is a young defense worker. While he works he always sings. This time he sings softly the beautiful Negro spiritual "Swing Low."

"Swing low sweet chariot
Coming for to carry me home
Swing low sweet chariot
Coming for to carry me home."

The noise of the defense machinery does not interfere with his singing. It acts as an obligato to his thinking. He is a Negro. He is a riveter. He is building "Bomber" planes. These planes he cannot fly. His hands are too black. However, the world will not stop his song. One day he hopes to be supervisor of his department, after his job is mastered. Someday "Democracy" will be a reality. Someday "Victory" will be ours. Someday he will enjoy the citizen . . . rights of the American Constitution.

As the war continues, the noise of the defense machinery becomes increasingly louder. I wonder will it eventually drown out his song? I wonder will it drown out everything that is beautiful in our lives? The young defense worker sings until the close of dreams, hoping for a better world.

His father sang "Swing Low" while picking cotton. His grandfather sang, while working for the "Big Boss" on the levee. Here he is, one of the thousands of Negroes recently employed to work for Victory.

A year ago, they would not listen to his song, but he kept on singing. The sound penetrated "closed doors" and opened them. He must keep singing for he is a Negro. He must sing until every prejudice, discrimination, is destroyed.

Keep singing young Negro America. While you are singing, nations are crumbling, Social Orders are changing, and men are dying. Christ said "you will be free indeed." Your song is stronger than a "Bomber" Plane, deadlier than a torpedo, more devastating than a sinking Battleship, and mightier than an army.

While you are planning Negro Leader; while you are praying Negro Preacher; while you are educating, Negro Teacher; while you are working Negro Defense Worker, keep singing. Don't let the noise drown out your song. Keep singing. Someday this noise will stop.

YOU CAN'T FORCE FREEDOM

By RUTH TAYLOR

Freedom can never be forced. The slave may be manumitted from his bondage, the shackles struck from his prayer clasped hands—but still he may not achieve freedom.

Freedom is the state in which the free man dwells. True freedom is the opportunity to progress—to enlarge one's life through the fair exercise of one's own ability and energy.

The savage in the wild places of the earth is "free" in the purely physical sense—but he has no freedom. He is bound by superstition, by ignorance, by shobbileths of tribal tradition. He lives in a slavery of fear of the unknown and hatred of the unfamiliar.

Only the learning man achieves freedom for he alone can keep pace with it. Freedom does not stand still. It must grow and expand to live. And only that man or people who grow with it can enjoy freedom. Those who have only physical freedom may have the name, but they lack the spirit of freedom.

This country abolished forever and condemned wholeheartedly all involuntary slavery. We, as a nation, hold that all men are created equal. We make a cult of freedom—but we, as a nation or as individuals, are not hypocrites enough to claim that all our citizens take full advantage of their freedom.

Far too many Americans are still in slavery to want, to disease, to ignorance. We cannot force freedom upon them—but we can open the way to freedom for them by giving them the opportunity and strength to scale the heights.

Our credo in the present crisis is contained in the Four Freedoms. We fight this war as a last stand of isolationism but with the full realization that Lincoln's words must now be paraphrased to read, "The world cannot endure half slave and half free."

We fight for the right of men to achieve freedom, not to force freedom upon men. We fight to destroy fear and ignorance that men may develop under the sun of peace and attain their God-determined stature in a world of ever widening freedom and opportunity.

In the stirring words of the Vice-President of the United States, "Strong in the strength of the Lord, we who fight in the people's cause will never stop until that cause is won."

Henry Johnson And Needham Roberts

In nineteen seventeen the first world war began,
An all-out call came from Uncle
Sam:
Black Americans, white Americans all alike,
Had to take an active part in the fight;

Remember Henry Johnson and Needham Roberts, too—
When they were out fighting for the red, white and blue;
They were on sentry duty in the still of the night—
The enemies fired upon them; they were wounded in the fight;

They thought it would be easy to take the black man,
So they stole across no man's land,
And came upon our men in a surprise attack,
But before very long they were running back;

The fighting was fierce—the odds came on.
The enemies out-numbered them
ten to one;
They fought hand to hand cutting right and left—
We can truly say our boys did their best;

Both men were wounded but that didn't stay their hand,
The way they cleaned up the enemy was simply grand;
Soon those two brave sons of guns
Had the sneaking enemy on the run;

Johnson and Roberts, both of the Negro race;
Their courage and bravery won them a place
Among the great heroes of the war
To get the distinguished service cross.

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

What is good Americanism? Some people believe it is DEMOCRACY, FREEDOM, EQUALITY FOR ALL MEN, and some people just utter these words but believe otherwise.

It seems that Dr. John R. Lechner, who claims to be a member of the Americanization Committee of the American Legion was "called upon" by several businessmen in the vicinity of Skateland Roller Rink at 1025 W. Vernon Ave., TO TEACH the Los Angeles Citizens Committee to Abolish Discrimination JUST WHAT GOOD AMERICANISM IS.

This Citizens Committee, formed recently, is handling the case of the young Negro people who were barred from Skateland on April 9th. They advised the management through the chairman of the Committee, Mr. Leo Gallagher, attorney, that unless they open their doors to the Negro people, a suit will be brought against them in the courts of Los Angeles.

Dr. Lechner, who further claims that he has no connection with Skateland other than the fact that his little daughter patronizes the place, came to a meeting of the Citizens Committee on Tuesday, April 22, to "merely give his opinion".

First of all, he wanted the Negro people present, including several of the children involved and their fathers, to believe that "he has, for many years, worked for the Negro people, to better their conditions—he has been a good friend to the Negroes—he has personally 'fought' to get jobs for Negroes in the war plants, etc. etc."

However, according to this gentleman, there is a certain pace at which we must proceed to make further gains for the Negro people. He seemed to feel that it would be "unwise" at THIS TIME to try to enforce the California State law against discrimination, since "it might antagonize the white mothers who object to their children skating with Negro children" — and a suit against Skateland "MIGHT CAUSE TROUBLE."

What kind of "TROUBLE" is Dr. Lechner talking about? It seems to me I've heard that "tune" before and the strains of it usually seem to be heard from the deep South. Is this the kind of GOOD AMERICANISM this man came to teach the Citizens Committee and the Negro people?

When the father of eight children asked: "What do you expect me to tell my children when they come home after being humiliated in places like Skateland just because they are Negro and they ask me 'aren't we Americans, isn't there something we can do about it'?", Dr. Lechner's only answer was that "it take time—we must not rush things — after all if we try to force things 'unwisely,' we might hurt the gains we have already won for the Negro people."

Here we are, engaged in a war to save democracy for the world, but from what this columnist could gather from Dr. Lechner's little speech, his opinion is that I TIS NOT YET TIME TO GIVE FULL DEMOCRACY TO THE NEGROES!

Some of us white people in America disagree with Dr. Lechner and together with the Negro people, our answer to him is that NOW is the time to fight for VICTORY AT HOME AS WELL AS ABROAD.

Spreading Joy.

By John Fowler

Yesterday, Los Angeles flung wide its arms and took into its heart the petite Mrs. Carrie Thomas-Jordan, along with that of her distinguished son and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Frederick Douglas Jordan, of Eigsth and Towne A. M. E. church.

Mrs. Jordan, ever the perfect school marm, corrected my statement in last week's issue, in which I stated she had taught in Morris Brown College for a long time. Mrs. Jordan states she was there for only two years, but for many years she was the youngest principal in one of the largest public schools.

Mrs. Jordan is the daughter of Rev. Larry Thomas, one of the early pastors of the famous big Bethel Church of Atlanta; the church that gave to the convention some of its most famous bishops, among them Bishops Turner, Parks, Flipper, Gaines, Carey and Fountain.

From this long line of holy men, with evangelical backgrounds, came our own Frederick D. Jordan.

Last Sunday morning as I sat an dlistened to his wonderous Easter sermon that touched and swayed three thousand souls, eight persons came forward to unite with the church. Surely this man of God is worthy and well qualified for the highest honors of the church; surely, (some day, soon) I hope, Frederick D. Jordan will be elected bishop of the church his ancestors helped to make great.

Back to the reception. In the spacious drawing room of the parsonage were friends of all walks of life, who came to pay honor to this mother-educator and christian soldier. Among her sister school marms gathered to pay their respects were: Mrs. Bessie B. Burke, Mrs. Marjorie McPherson and Miss Pauline Slater. Mrs. Jessie Coles Grayson, from the cinema; Mrs. Walter L. Gordon, and Mrs. Anita Conway-Wright from the business world; Dr. and Mrs. Cleaves, Mesdames Laura Young, Nannie Holt, Laura Fowler, Emma Brown, Desire Clark, Francis Jackson, Julia Hodge, Daisy Wilson, Grace Hemphill; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Martinez, Mrs. D. Walker and Tina Little.

The reception was sponsored by the Courtesy Club of Eighth and Towne, Mrs. Florence Carter, president. In the receiving line was Mesdames Carter Mann, John Scott, Eliza Warner, Ardisia Jordan, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Jordan.

The dining room table was beautifully decorated with a cloth of rare beauty, belonging to Mrs. Minnie Tucker, who was seated at the head of the table. Assisting Mrs. Tucker at the coffee urn were the popular twins, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Spillar. Mrs. Vivea Glass and Mrs. Ann Hill were the registrars; Mrs. Wilma Chapman was the pianist for the afternoon.

Slick, shiny autos were still in evidence along with their handsomely gowned occupants when we departed at 6:30 p.m. Let us all help to make the stay of "Miss Carrie," a delightful remembrance.

Miss Pauline Slater related to me a vocal birds-eye view of the coming event of the Outdoor Life and Health Association's pageant, in which the origin and the progress of the Rest Home, the "brain child" of Dr. Leonard Stovall, would be depicted. The fact that Mrs. Marjorie McPherson is collaborating in the production is evidence enough to assume its success. I saw Pauline and Jessie Grayson in a huddle, add that up, and you have something to look forward to.

I was glad to note this, for I think now is the time to ask the public for the $1,600.00 needed to pay off the encumbrance on the property, and give Dr. Stovall an opportunity to accomplish one of the greatest tasks of our time; to give sunshine and health to those less fortunate who are about to lose all hope.

I thing we of California have one of the greatest opportunities of our lives in the Duarte Rest Home. In all America, I don't think there is another spot better suited to the healing which we seek. The sunshine, the wide open spaces, the health-giving aroma of the pine trees situated on the premises, all go to give optimism and hope to the ill.

Thus far, Dr. Stovall and his association has wrought wonders on a meager scale. Let us accept the spirit of the Master, when He said of the "cup of cold water in My name. When you do it unto one of these, you do it unto Me." So keep your ear to the ground, and listen for the call of Miss Slater and her supporters in their war against the dreaded T. B.

Unless we realize what is going on, and do something about it, our brother from the deep south is about to destroy all of the "good will" and "our way of life" that we have built up in the past 50 years. I know of hundreds of men and women of my race from the heart of the south, who never in their whole life, earned more than $10 or $12 per week, who are now getting no less than $50, $60 and $70 per week, and in many cases, three days later they are broke.

Should the war end today, these same people would be cut of a job, and in a breadline. Yes, it would be some of our business, for it would be "the taxpayers, who would have to feed these people.

THINK ALONG THESE LINES.

Native Son

An Exclusive California Eagle Serial

(From the Book by Richard Wright)

"This Negro drove Miss Dalton to the Loop where she was joined by a young white man, a friend of hers. From there they went to a South Side cafe and ate and drank. Being in a Negro neighborhood, they invited this Negro to eat with them. When they talked, they included him in their conversation. When liquor was ordered, enough was bought so that he, too, could drink.

"Afterwards he drove the couple through Washington Park for some two hours. Around two o'clock in the morning this friend of Miss Dalton's left the car and went to visit some friends of his. Mary Dalton was left alone in that car with this Negro, who had received nothing from her but kindness. From that point onward, we have no exact knowledge of what really happened, for we have only this black cur's base word for it, and I am not convinced that he is not telling us all.

"We don't know just when Mary Dalton was killed. But we do know this: her head was completely severed from her body! We know that both the head and the body were stuffed into the furnace and burned!

"My God, what bloody scenes must have taken place! How swift and unexpected must have been that lustful and murderous attack! How that poor child must have struggled to escape that maddened ape! How she must have pled on bended knee with tears in her eyes, to be spared the vile touch of his horrible person! Your Honor, must not this infernal monster have burned her body to destroy evidence of offenses worse than rape? That treacherous beast must have known that if the marks of his teeth were ever seen on the innocent white flesh of her breasts, he would not have been accorded the high honor of sitting here in this court of law! O suffering Christ there are no words to tell of a deed so black and awful!

"And the defense would have us believe that this was an act of creation! It is a wonder that God in heaven did not drown out his lying voice with a thunderous, 'No!' It is enough to make the blood stop flowing in one's veins to hear a man excuse this cowardly and beastly crime on the ground that it was 'instinctive'!

"The next morning Bigger Thomas took Miss Dalton's trunk, half-packed, to the La Salle Street Station and prepared to send it off as though Miss Dalton were still alive. But the bones of Miss Dalton's body were found in the furnace that even-

"The burning of the body and the taking of the half-packed trunk to the station mean just one thing, Your Honor. It shows that the rape and murder were planned, that an attempt was made to destroy evidence so that the crime could be carried on to the point of ransom. If Miss Dalton were accidentally killed, as this Negro so pathetically tried to make us believe when he first 'confessed', then why did he burn her body? Why did he take her trunk to the station when he knew that she was dead?

"There is but one answer! He planned to rape, to kill, to collect! He burned the body to get rid of evidences of rape! He took the trunk to the station to gain time in which to burn the body and prepare the kidnap note. He killed her because he raped her! Mind you, Your Honor, the central crime here is rape! Every action points toward that!

"Knowing that the family had called in private investigators, the Negro tried to throw the suspicion elsewhere. In other words, he was not above seeing an innocent man die for his crime. When he could not kill any more, he did the next best thing. He lied! He sought to blame the crime upon one of Miss Dalton's friends, whose political beliefs, he thought, would damn him. He told wild lies of taking the two of them, Miss Dalton and her friend, to her room. He said that he had been told to go home and leave the car out in the snow in the driveway all night. Knowing that his lies were being found out, he tried yet another scheme. He tried to collect money!

"Did he flee the scene when the investigators were at work? No! Coldly, without feeling, he stayed on in the Dalton home, ate, slept, basking in the misguided kindness of Mr. Dalton, who refused to allow him to be questioned upon the theory that he was a poor boy who needed protection!

"He needed as much protection as you would give a coiled rattler!

"While the family was searching heaven and earth for their daughter, this ghoul writes a kidnap note demanding ten thousand dollars for the safe return of Mis Dalton! But the discovery of the bones in the furnace put that foul dream to an end!

"And the defense would have us believe that this man acted in fear! Has fear, since the beginning of time, driven men to such lengths of calculation?

"Again, we have but the bare word of this worthless ape to go on. He fled the scene and went to the home of a girl, Bessie Mears, with whom he had long been intimate. There something occurred that only a cunning beast could have done. This girl had been frightened into helping him collect the ransom money, and he had placed in her keeping the money he had stolen from the corpse of Mary Dalton. He killed that poor girl, and even yet it staggers my mind to think that such a plan for murder could have been hatched in a human brain. He persuaded this girl, who loved him deeply—despite the assertions of Mr. Max, the Godless Communist, who tried to make you believe otherwise!—as I said, he persuaded this girl who loved him deeply to run away with him. They hid in an abandoned building. And there, with a blizzard raging outside, in the sub-zero and darkness, he committed rape and murder again, twice in twenty-four hours!

Negro Community Press, Challenge LARY

May 3, 1943 "Jim Crowism is Hitlerism crush it now: is the new battle cry of the L. A. Negro Victory Committee in a war to the finish against growing anti-Negro practices which threaten the war effort," announced Rev. Clayton D. Russell, V. C. Head, here today.

LARY HEILS. "Still nobody the community spotlight as 'Hitler's little helpers' is the L. A. Railway Company which is directly responsible for breakdown in local transportation because it refuses to use Negro men and woman as conductors, motormen and skilled tradesmen, to 'recondition and operate idle cars,' LARY says, with tongue in cheek, 'we cannot supply the service without the manpower,' states Sentinel Publisher, Leon Washington, "but their slogan 'Become a Trolley Pilot' does not apply to Negroes. One applicant was turned down with . . . 'we can't use Negroes as conductors, money excites them too much.'"

Publisher, Charlotta Bass, of the California Eagle said, "LARY should follow San Francisco's example, where Negro men and women have been operating street cars in harmony for over a year. LARY can and will utilize Negro manpower when an aroused public refuses to tolerate present war crippling transportation situation."

Jim Erwing, Jr., of Neighborhood News said: "It is our united responsibility to mobilize the entire population against LARY's policy which has become a very real danger to the war program. This Dixie Hitlerism must be crushed immediately."

Robert S. Robinson, Administrative Secretary of V. C. requests organizations and individuals to pledge their cooperation by writing, phoning or calling in person between 10:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. at 4073 S. Central, ADams 1-5887. "Many times we have attempted to break LARY's policy but never have we organized the entire community," said Robinson. "All sections of Los Angeles are seriously handicapped by LARY's failure to meet the transportation crisis. The equipment is available, so is the manpower. We are sure that the million or more people dependent on the local system will join our fight. But the responsibility is ours to inform and to organize this force. Join this fight NOW. 'Jim Crow has got to go!'"

"Chas. Edwards and His Visit To Berlin Germany"

By Charles Edwards
(An Exclusive California Eagle Serial)

HITLER SPEAKS!

The California Eagle takes sincere pride in presenting the first public presentation of the mission fulfilled by America's number one youth leader, Charles Edwards, on his "Assignment to Berlin." What has gone on before Mr. Edwards recalled your memory to December, 1941, when war was declared. He now attempts to expose the facts of why. He recalled his dramatic journey through Berlin, Germany, between May, 1937, and September, 1939, during which time he was granted a personal interview with Adolf Hitler. The purpose of his interview was to try to understand and explain to the World Christian Youth Conference the aspirations of the German government.

Mr. Edwards told of "Mein Kampf"—not revealing nearly all of Hitler's plans. He has entered the reich capital and has gained entrance into the private office of the Chancellor. Many questions have passed between Mr. Hitler and Mr. Edwards, among them being the future of Europe and the rest of the world and Germany's part in creating a new order.

We continue. . . . Chancellor Hitler has just stated to Mr. Edwards, that the United States was on the brink of revolution from the outbreak of which only he himself could save her. . . . In showing me around the Reich Capitol, after lunch Hitler showed me the vast Gardens, the many spacious rooms and offices of the Reich, the balconies that almost over-looked all of Berlin . . . and now we were walking through his home which was on the second floor of the Reich. The Nazi leaders step sister Frau Rabual, was really one of the most beautiful German girls I had ever seen. I was tempted to ask Hitler, why wasn't she one of Germany's movie stars. But I had promised myself that I would not let Hitler know of my interest in the Motion Picture Industry, therefore I should avoid every possible chance of mentioning it. I wanted very badly to become more familiar with the German Motion Picture Production Companies. I knew that they were much farther advanced than any other country in the world. I was also conscious of the fact that Hitler held the key to those Studios but until I had got better acquainted with him I would not venture into that which interested me most. Hitler had only granted me this interview because of my interest in youth activities, and the many planned programs that I had for Boys and girls of all ages. Hitler was interested in that. He denied the many ministers who were seeking interviews with him. He was not interested in their religious programs, but he was vitally interested in a young man who could bring young boys together and hold their interest. I knew before my interview was granted that Hitler wanted to know what method was used for young boys to idolize a young leader. Since then I have come to realize why he wanted to know this, and how important it was to the construction of a new Germany. However we had not yet ventured into the Youth discussion. We were still on a major discussion of World affairs in which Hitler was expressing his views. I asked Hitler if it wouldn't be of decisive importance for Germany to win the friendship of North America. I had heard that certain members of the German government had publicly emphasized the unique value of friendly relations with the United States, and for this reason had some misgiving about the anti-Semetic policy of the Reich. . . . "Whose friendship?" Hitler brusquely interposed. "The friendship of the Jewish people or that of the American people?" . . . He expressed his contempt for the present government of the United States. "This is the last disgusting death rattle of a corrupt and outworn system which is a blot on the history of this people. Since the Civil War, in which the southern States were conquered, against all historic logic and sound sense, the Americans have been in a condition of common sense or logic. In that war it was not the southern States that should have been conquered, but the American People themselves who should have been conquered. In the spurious blossoming of economic progress and power politics, America has been ever since drawn deeper into the mire of progressive self destruction. A moneyed clique, which presumes to be good society and to represent the old families, rules the country under the fiction of a democracy which has never before been so nakedly exposed as a mass of corruption and legal venality."

S. A. WILLIAMS ANNIVERSARY THURSDAY

The above is a representative of ministers, business people and members of the St. Paul Baptist Church, participating in testimonial honoring the Rev. S. A. Williams and wife. The occasion was the motive for the raising of more than a thousand dollars for a much needed rest and vacation for Rev. and Mrs. Williams. (See story on Church Page.)

HELEN HUNT JACKSON BRANCH LIBRARY NOTES

Journal for Josephine—Nathan.

This is not a novel, but a short journal of the home life and the community life of the Nathans during the summer at Cape Cod. It is an American summer with the hopes and fears of one American family in that first year of the war.

Ship's Doctor—Hooker.

For fourteen years, Dr. Hooker has been a ship's doctor and, in that time, has been around the world many times, but the glimpses he has had into the lives of passengers and crew members, and his own professional adventures, have interested him more than the places he has seen. Ranging from the tragedy of a dying South American ambassador's last trip home to the saga of Minnie, the smoke-blue Maltese cat with a yen to travel, these stories are all intensly human.

Another Chance—Franker.

This is the third novel of the home life of Claudia and her family. If you have read the other books of the stories in the magazines, you will like to hear more of this American family.

All Night Long—Caldwell.

The author of "All-Out on the Road to Smolensk" has written a novel about Russian guerillas carrying on the terrible struggle on the border between White Russia and Great Russia on the Central front.

China Sky—Buck.

This is a novel of two brave American doctors in a country at war. It is the story of two hearts kept apart by honor and duty until a Chinese bandit and a Japanese prisoner and the horrible might of dive bombers brought a dramatic solution.

LABOR'S RESPONSIBILITY TO NEGRO FREEDOM

BY FRANK GRIFFIN (VICE-CHAIRMAN, ANTI-DISCRIMINATION COMMITTEE, JOINT BOARD FUR DRESSERS & DYERS UNION, CIO)

Labor looks with pride upon the men who have left its ranks to join the armed forces of our country, fighting this People's war for a People's Victory and a People's Peace. In this struggle, if we are to win the victory in the shortest time possible, it is necessary that the decisions of the Casablanca Conference for an all-out offensive on the continent of Europe be executed this year.

Yet there are omnious signs in the United States' participation in the war that must be brought to light and, if our campaign is to be effectual in every phase of winning a People's victory, must be brought into the glaring searchlight of public scrutiny, and thereby, like the festering disease that it is, be rooted out of our national life. I speak of the continued and despicable practices of discrimination against the Negro citizens of our country.

Discrimination and segregation in our army against men in uniform of one color is a glaring example of the inadequacy on the part of our government of the steps it has thus far taken to build a real People's army. While the heroism and loyalty of this large section of American citizens has never been questioned, and cannot be questioned, the policy of doing little or nothing on this issue not only weakens our struggle, but it makes these millions of citizens doubt that this is their war.

Judge Hastie's heroic exposure of treatment of Negro members of the air corps in the Jim-Crow training school at Tuskegee shows the dry rot of brass-hatism in the American army, which must be fought with every ounce of strength that the organized labor movement possesses.

The break-down of the hearings on railroads, and the scuttling of the Fair Employment Practices Committee, is another blow against the unity of our nation. Not only has this breakdown affected the production of the needed implements of war on the battlefields of North Africa, the South Pacific, and eventually the continent of Europe, but it holds up as a sham the ideals for which America is fighting.

We of the trade union movement, and particularly the Furriers Union, where equality and justice reign supreme and where we have rooted out forever any distinctions based on race, creed or color, must see in these anti-Negro forces, the Bilbos, the Dies and many appeasers in the Administration itself, the same people identified with the attackers of labor and its hard-gained rights. Scratch an anti-Negro Congressman and you find a Rickenbacker or a Hobbs supporter. Labor can make no distinction in the fight for complete equality of the Negro and the fight for the retention of its freedom, in order to play its role in this war. The two go hand in hand. Every local of our International must bend every effort to see that the anti-Poll Tax bill is brought out of committee immediately. Our unions must be loud in their condemnation against the destruction of FEPC.

To this end, one of the greatest rallying points will be the Negro Freedom Rally at Madison Square Garden on June 7, organized by the People's Committee, the Negro Labor Victory Committee, together with every progressive trade union in New York City. Labor must bring to this rally its entire membership. Not only is it necessary that every local of our International take tickets or make a donation toward the expenses, but we must help in bringing to this rally other unions which have not yet spoken out on the problems affecting the Negro people.

The Negro basically is for a People's victory, because they are freedom's people. Their background from the day they first landed in this country has been one of struggle toward that goal. Fascism, at home and abroad must be crushed. Labor has a solemn duty. This hour of the fight for the equality of mankind is the hour of the fight for Negro freedom. Negro people, labor and all others must forge iron-bound unity for that concept of a new world—for this we fight.

ORGY AND BESS" BUILT ON GEORGE GERSHWIN'S musical score is as true to life as is Central Avenue, le Street, San Filipe Street, Rampart and Gravier, Cen- Track, Lennox Avenue, or any other Negro community ere you can meet varied unusual types of humanity, in Angeles, Memphis, Houston, New Orleans, Dallas, New York, where Negroes predominate and congre- e. The musical is not meant to decide any racial prob- , but only to form a vehicle of entertainment for the standing musical and acting talents of the noted artists the cast. Hence before any local critic through over- sciousness, calls it a slam on the race, he should visit actual locale of the plot. LOCATE BEAUTIFUL WHITE HORSE FOR "BUFFALO BILL," Florian, the famous, beautiful Lippizan horse, will make his return to the screen in Harry Sherman's "Buffalo Bill" at 20th Century-Fox Studios.

During the later years of his life, Buffalo Bill rode a magnificent white horse in his western shows which toured the United States and Europe.

Meanwhile, Sherman continues his search for a buffalo-hunting horse for the period of the frontiersman's life preceding the shows.

Florian will be ridden by Joel McCrea, who plays the title role. William Wellman directs "Buffalo Bill." Wellman used many colored players in "Wild Boys of the Road," one of his best early films.

Boogie Woogie Queen Praised

Louisville, Ky., May 5—When the new Queen of boogie woogie and blues, played her history-making Derby Eve Dance bebut here April 30, all Louisville turned out to hear and praise this fine jump crew.

Christine and her Boys captivated the crowd with their danceable swing music and her rendition of the blues. They had all who heard them asking when this groovey combination would return. The crowd started collecting front of the Pythian Temple around eight P. M. trying to gain admittance and get a good view of the Queen as she entered the ballroom.

Jackson Bynum promotor estimated the crowd as the largest ever to attend a Derby Eve dance. The band left immediately after the dance on their southern tour which will take them into Alabama.

Indians to Be Filmed Killing Many Buffalo

For scenes in "Buffalo Bill", producer Harry Sherman and 20th Century-Fox officials are seeking permission from the Crow Indian Agency near Hardin, Montana, to photograph in Technicolor the annual buffalo hunt.

The reservation is situated between Sheridan, Wyoming, and Billings, Montana, on the Little Big Horn river, right at the edge of the Custer Battlefield.

The United States government maintains one of the largest herds of buffalo extant here. Once a year, they permit the Indians to hold a hunt to kill enough buffalo to keep the herd from growing too big to handle. More than 2000 Indians congregate there for the occasion, providing one of the most colorful events in America. Only Indians are permitted to participate.

Vol. 64—No. 4 Los Angeles, Calif., Thursday, May 6, 1943 Page 2B

"Rochester" succumbs to the charms of Lena Horne in Metro's latest musical hit, "Cabin in The Sky," based on the long-run Broadway hit which will have its first Los Angeles showing at the Rivoli Theater starting Thursday, May 6th.

'Cabin In The Sky' Opens Here Today

Stars of stage and screen combine talents to provide a musical fantasy of unusual brilliance in M-G-M's "Cabin in the Sky," opening at the Rivoli Theater, Western Avenue at West 46th, Thursday, May 6th.

Based on the New York stage hit of the same name, "Cabin in the Sky" deals with the struggles of Petunia, played by Ethel Waters, aided by the forces of good, to save the soul of her well-meaning but weak-willed husband, Little Joe, portrayed by Eddie (Rochester) Anderson. The forces of evil, represented by Lucifer, Jr., Rex Ingram, plot the downfall of Little Joe in an air-conditioned room in Hades. They enlist the aid of temptress Lena Horne, sensational young M-G-M singing star. But Petunia fights fire with fire and with the forces of good on her side rescued Little Joe from the clutches of evil temptation.

Singing the ballads "Happiness Is Just a Thing Called Joe" and "Cabin in the Sky" as only she can sing them, Ethel Waters also makes the song, "Taking a Chance on Love," something to long remember. Lena Horne will thrill you when you hear her sing "Honey in the Honeycomb." Rochester and Miss Horne do a comic duet, "Consequences." Other musical highlights are provided by Duke Ellington and his popular band and the famous Hall Johnson choir.

Also in the cast are Louis Armstrong of the celebrated trumpet and the dance team of "Buck and Bubbles." Kenneth Spencer gives a fine characterization as the "General of the Lord."

Vincente Minnelli of Broadway fame directed and Producer Arthur Freed has provided spectacular settings and costumes.

Police Show Prologue Features Civilian Defense

With more than 475 members now in the Armed Forces, the Los Angeles Police Department has built its opening prologue around USO and Civilian Defense activities on the "home front."

Titled "Heads Up," this patriotic pageant will include units from the various CDC groups, Auxiliary Police, Air Raid Wardens, Fire Watchers, Nurses' Aids, and similar bodies, coordinated under the personal supervision of Prologue Director Jack Guyot. An inspiring musical arrangement of the Star Spangled Banner, presented by the Los Angeles Civic Chorus, and the prologue theme song "Heads Up" sung by Officer Don Kent, especially written for the 9th Annual Police Show by Universal Studio song writers Milton Rosen and Everett Carter, are among the outstanding features of the great spectacle.

Following the prologue, a two hour program of top vodvil acts and elaborate "girl" numbers, using the famous "Fanchonettes," will be presented. Many novelties, with special costuming and dance routines, have been imported direct from New York according to Russell A. Stapleton, Special Events Director for Fanchon and Marco, show producers.

Proceeds of the annual Benefit, which will be held in the Shrine Auditorium May 19th to 24th inclusive, go to help maintain departmental activities not supported by tax funds. Included also is the local USO, in tribute to police officers now in active military service. Your attendance will assist these many worthwhile causes, and provide an evening of outstanding entertainment for yourself and family.

Tickets now on sale by all policemen, or at the show headquarters, 132 West First Street, Los Angeles.

CAMP LEE HAS WHALE OF TRACK TEAM

There's a story in these columns somewhere of a camp track meet at Camp Lee, Virginia, and guess whose names dot it from top to bottom? None other than those of Barney Ewell, ex-Penn Stater; Frank Dixon, former New York university miler and cross country runner, and our own Don Barksdale, who kicked up more than a fuss in basketball and track circles in and out of U.C.L.A . . . Inability, because of the war, to secure name attractions, has stymied portly and affable Babe McCoy, matchmaker at the Olympic, for the past several weeks, but he figures to make up for the dearth of material in the next several weeks. He has Rudolfo Ramirez and Carlos Malacara heading the bill next week, and Clayton Worlds, of Chicago, going against our Turkey Thompson shortly afterwards. Turkey has remained too inactive because of lack of opponents. Locals would still like to see him mix it up with that tough Army sergeant, Bobby Jones, from Riverside, who in recent weeks in San Diego has thrashed both Jack Coggins and Harold Blackshear . . .

While speaking of the Army camp, Camp Lee, a few lines ago, the column thinks it would be a good idea if the newspapers received more dope concerning "names" in civilian life who are now wearing the uniforms of the Navy, Army, Air Force, and Marines. Some attention should be given to this matter. Think so? . . .

'Y' CAGERS TROUNCE HOLLYWOOD; LOSE TO SAN FERNANDO

In a first practice game for a postseason Y. M. C. A. basketball series, the 28th Street "Y" Varsity soundly trounced the Hollywood team one week ago last Monday night on the Hollywood courts. The score : 51-31.

Penetrating the Hollywood defense almost at will, the 28 Y players seldom were forced to take long shots and had things pretty much their own way under both baskets. High scoring honors for the evening were taken by Art Spencer, 28th Street center with (7) seven field goals. He was closley folowed by Thomas with 12 and Ben Walker, 10. Isaacs led the Hollywood scoring with (8) eight points.

On Saturday, May 1, the 28 Street Varsity lost out to a favored San Fernando Valley team by a narrow 2 point margin in the second game of a double-header which opened the Southern California Y. M. C. A. Basketball series. The games were played to the Van Nuys High School gym and in the first encounter, the Hollywood five edged out San Pedro Phalanx by a close score.

After overcoming a 20-10 half time handicap, the 28 Y boys pushed to within (4) four points of tieing the score in the closing minutes of the game, but just could not seem to keep the ball in the basket. Time after time shots that looked like a certain 2 points rolled off the rim. Stellar play on offense and defense by Kaufman who caged (16) sixteen points and Randolph with (11) eleven, proved a consistant threat thruout the contest and even over shadowed the play of Bob Waterfield (yes, of U. C. L. A. fame) and teammates Yuosek and flashy forward, Palmer who scored (13) thirteen points. But it's the points that pay off. The final score read 28th Street 32; San Fernando 38.

It was a heartbreaker for the locals to lose and had the first half play been as intense as the second, it could have easily gone the other way.

BEGINNING OF MAY SEES Bond and Stamp Sales Boom

This year the American people, Negro and white celebrated the historic May Day (May 1st) by manning the production machines for our great war effort. However, on Sunday, May 2nd the Communist Party held a tremendous Carnival at the L. A. Breakfast Club on Los Feliz Blvd., from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., giving the workers on any shift a chance to come out not only to celebrate this Worker's Holiday which originated with the winning of the eight hour day many years ago in America, but also to take part in the many war activities going on all day.

Significant of the clear understanding of the people of Los Angeles of the part they must play in the winning of the war, was the record-breaking sale of War Bonds and Stamps. The uniformed women of the A. W. V. S., working from early morn to late in the evening, had to call upon the committee in charge to assign some people to help them sell these stamps and bonds. At the end of the day, these women of the A. W. V. S. felt well rewarded for their splendid work when they counted up and found a total of some $50,000 worth of bonds and stamps sold.

The many Negroes attending this Carnival met the warm friendship of the thousands of their white trade union brothers and sisters, everyone taking part in one part of the long program or another. Besides the splendid shows put on several times during the day, featuring the well-known "Duke of Iron" and his Calypso music, there were various outdoor sports.

The Carnival ended with a dance in the large auditorium and the last of the people there left at about 11 p. m., long after the closing time, some on their way to the "Graveyard" shift, others to their homes to rest up for their jobs on Monday morning—all with but one thought, to keep the machines rolling, the planes flying, the ships sailing — TO WIN THE WAR.

Shans and Lemos Mix At Legion

Initiating a stellar series of May dates at Hollywood Legion stadium Friday night are Cleo Shans and Richie Lemos, who are meeting for the sixth time in the 10-round main event.

Matchmaker Charley MacDonald has Benny Goldberg of Detroit tangling with Tony Olivera May 14 in a rematch; Charley Burley vs. Holman Williams on the 21st, and Luther (Slugger) White vs. Julio Jiminez on the 28th.

Lemos, who once held the NEA featherweight crown, is one up on Shans. He whipped Shans in Providence in November for his three wins to two margin.

Born in San Diego, Shans was formerly under the wing of Henry Armstrong, but is now in the Pete Reilly stable. He fought Johnny Greco of the Canadian Army this year, losing both times in sensational battles, but holds a win over Jackie Callura, present NEA featherweight kingpin. Callura later upset Jackie Wilson of Pittsburgh for the crown.

Last Friday night at the film arena, Goldberg was given a split decision over Olivera, the edge being so slight that Matchmaker MacDonald decided to put them on again.

Tomorrow night Nava Esparza and Don Lemos fight the six-round semi under the Richie Lemos-Shans go. The usual slam-bang prelims back the two top bouts.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT PACIFIC PARACHUTE COMPANY

Located in the City of San Diego is a thriving new business enterprise known as the Pacific Parachute Company, which was officially organized and began operations on March 19, 1942. It began operating with sixteen employees, who had secured their training on the power machine sewing project on the National Youth Administration. The mechanical equipment included ten Singer power machines.

The Company received its impetus from the burning ambition of Howard "Skippy" Smith, who prior to the inception of the plant had been employed by the Standard Parachute Company as its first and only Negro Parachute Inspector. Howard Smith, better known as "Skippy" throughout California, had brought with him to Standard a somewhat sensational reputation as a professional Parachute Jumper. He was a member of the famous team of "Skip" and "Skippy," the first two Negro parachute jumpers in the country. "Skip," whose partner was killed in an exhibition jump, and Mr. Smith decided to go to San Diego from Los Angeles to secure employment in the parachute industry.

As the production output at Standard, where he was working, began to require an increase in personnel, he became interested in wanting to develop employment for members of his own race in this, and other companies. Due to the close and personal relations between Colonel C. E. Fauntleroy, President of the Standard Parachute Company and "Skippy" Smith, the opportunity of developing a sub-contracting Plant was realized. Then followed the problem of financing it. Finally, contacting Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, of radio and motion picture fame, his necessary financial assistance to begin operations was secured. In addition, financial assistance came from a close and enthusiastic friend of "Skippy's" W. W. Gay. Doubtless, when the final steps of incorporation are completed, it will include the three names of Eddie Anderson, W. W. Gay and Howard "Skippy" Smith, as the basic organizational triangle, though moral support and encouragement have come from many directions. One organization which has given its assistance, advice and cooperation all along, is the Los Angeles Urban League, through its Executive Director, Floyd C. Covington.

On March 27, 1943, the Pacific Parachute Company celebrated its first anniversary, and it is significant to point out that included in the seventy-two production employees are members of all racial and cultural groups —white, Mexican, Negro, Italian, Swiss, Jewish, and French. The following statement from one of the white employees is illustrative of the goodwill and democratic relations that exist within the Plant.

Says Mrs. Lena Koch, who has worked in the capacity of a production employee, and now supervises: "You would have to work here to understond. I came from Missouri, where my father used to have large farm lands. Naturally, we employed Negroes. I never thought I would be working for one, and I must admit that racial tolerance was a problem with me at first; but working at Pacific Parachute has actually made me a different person. I wouldn't have missed the experience for anything."

The Plant is housed in a three-story fireproof building comprising a total floor space of 7720 square feet. The company has completed 43,513 pilot parachutes during the period from March 23, 1942, through March 31, 1943. These were completed and received the approval of the AAF Inspector and delivered to the two prime contractors, namely: Standard Parachute Company, San Diego, and Cole of Los Angeles, California. This Company is the only one of its type in the United States owned, operated and managed by American Negroes.

Caliente Mexico, Generalissimo Eddie Nealis and his official staff made an inspection tour of the beautiful Caliente race course and was well pleased the way work was progressing along for the opening Sunday, May 16. The track itself is better than at any time during the past few years, and the horsemen are well pleased with it. Nearly 200 horses are now on the grounds going thru their trainin½. Another feature that Generalissimo Nealis plans is to revive the old feature attractions of the past, such as the Caliente Handicap, The Derby, and The Cup. Also many novelty events that were created by popular Judge George Shilling, such as The powder Puff Derby, Roman Races and The Dark Town Derby. Chief Assistant Armando Verdugo, is seeing to it that all will be ready for opening day; with a new coat of paint and beautiful flowers and shrubs. The fans will see nearly a new Caliente, it is also rummored that the track will run more than one day a week later. Although there will be twelve to fifteen races on Sunday which is equivalent to two days of racing, as most tracks only have seven races per day. Some of the old favorites that will be on hand, are Sunny Jack, Winner of the Caliente Derby, Best Beau, that good handicap horse and that long distance runner Tiny Tim. Racing Secretary and Judge Joe Walter known now as the flying judge returned from Bay Meadows with news that more than three hundred horses will ship to the border course as the close of the meeting which is May 7. All lover of the sport of kings are waiting with joy for the opening May 16th. The inaugural handicap will be at six furlongs bringing the best sprinters on the coast together. Also three other features on the twelve race program. Well now that the derby is over, all eyes will be turned to the Preakness, next big event for three year olds. And as the derby it looks like Count Fleet has it in the bag. He will go to the post at one to ten. With Burnt Cork (Rochester's) pride and joy proved in thte derby and also the derby trials, that he is nothing but a sprinter, but a good one at that, and Eddie will not confine him to sprints so that that's it folks the news of the turf. Well if you won't lend me, lend Uncle Sam and watch it all come back with a great big bang. U. S. War Stamps and Bonds for security. . . . So-long, George.

CAMP LEE, Va.—Private Frank Dixon, who was the sensation of the indoor track season at New York University, proved equally sensational in the 9th Quartermaster Training Regiment's track meet Saturday afternoon, winning in the cross country, half mile, mile, and two mile events.

For his feats, Pvt. Dixon won the Sherman Cross Country trophy and took an individual trophy for amassing 18 points in the meet. He covered eight and a half miles in competition during the afternoon.

Malacara, Ramirez Toe Mark; Worlds On Way

The Olympic stages the Mexican welterweight championship fight next Tuesday night, May 11, when Carlos Malacara toes the mark with Rodolfo Ramirez in Matchmaker Babe McCoy's ten round headliner.

There is bitter rivalry between the welters from below the Rio Grande, and a hurricane brawl is expected. Each won two, and one was even.

Clayton Worlds of Chicago comes to the Olympic to battle Turkey Thompson in an all-Negro natural May 18. Worlds is new here, but he is well regarded in Chicago where he punched out a decisive victory over Pat Comiskey a few months ago.

Tommy O'Loughlin, who manages the classy Charley Burley, is directing Worlds on the Coast.

The huge Windy City belter is due here late this week. O'Loughlin says Worlds is a rangy fellow, can hit plenty hard and is a pleasing scrapper. O'Loughlin claims he is unbeaten as a pro. The Thompson fight will be his stiffest test to date.

Turkey is working at the Central A. C. Worlds will make his headquarters at Willie Arner's Main street gymnasium.

Malacara and Ramirez are going through daily workouts at the Main street club. Malacara made a terrific impression in his Olympic debut recently when he slashed out a win over the capable Cecil Hudson. The mustache welterweight never stops tossing gloves.

McCoy is arranging a slam-bang action card under the Malacara-Ramirez program.

EMPLOYEES EDISON COMPANY SUE FOR BACK SALARIES

The employes, past and present, of the Southern California Edison Company filed a suit this week in the United States District Court, through their attorney, Vince Monroe Townsend, Jr., for back salaries due them under the Fair Labor Standards Act from October 24th, 1939, to August 1st, 1941. The employees are and were the custodial workers of the defendant company and are headed by Thomas R. Watts, Anderson S. Span, Albert L. Bain, Joe Harrison, Peter R. Thompson, Clinton W. Hall, Henry C. Jones, and Vernon C. Kelso who are named as the parties plaintiff in the action, suing for themselves and on behalf of all other persons similarly situated.

The employees complain that there is overtime at time and a half due them for being required to work 44 hours each week after October 24th, 1939, when the Fair Labor Standards Act required overtime payment for all over 42 hours; and after October 24th, 1940, when the said Act required overtime payment for all time worked over 40 hours per feek.

The case is to be heard before Federal Judge Pierson Hall at a date to be later set after the defendant company files its answer which they must do within the next 20 days. The case is one of Federal Jurisdiction because it arises out of the Fair Labor Standards Act which is a Federal Law.

It is significant to note that only the custodial workers, the far greater per cent of whom are Negroes, have suffered this malpractice from the Edison Company.

Attorney Townsend states that he feels fully confident that all back wages will be duly covered with interest for the unlawful withholding.

Good News For Retired Postal Employees

There is some welcome news in the offing for retired postal employees. This good news is in the form of Bill S-878, which has been introduced in the Senate, and a companion Bill H. R. 2195 which has been introduced in the house, providing for an increase in annuities for those postal employees receiving less than $2,400. These bills not only provide for an increase in annuities, but also for an amendment to the amendment passed Jan. 24, 1942, to take care of those retired prior to that date.

Section 2 of the bill now before the House states: "During the period of the present war and for six months thereafter all annuities heretofore or hereafter awarded under the terms of the Civil Service Retirement Act of May 29, 1930, as amended, to annuitants whose highest consecutive five year average salary was $2,400 or less, shall be increased by 15 per cent."

It is felt that the President will sign such a bill if it is passed, but it is up to the retired employees, themselves, to put pressure on the Congress. So all those concerned are urged to get busy at once—do not wait. If you do not know the names of your Representatives and Senators, you can secure that information from the local postmaster.

The National Association of Retired Federal Employees has stated that it will do everything within its power to get this legislation through both Houses of Congress. They state, however, that they will need lots of help and urge you to give your aid by writing to the Representative from your district, letting him know that you are in favor of the bill.

PEPSI COLA COMPANY STARTS NEW ADVERTISING DRIVE IN THE NEGRO PRESS

In the next few days the Pepsi-Cola Company is starting a new advertising drive focusing attention of the merit of Pepsi-Cola as to flavor and taste and the increased sale of War Bonds and Stamps.

Threefold Function:

The main function of the advertising is to remind Negro Americans of the necessity of buynig more war bonds every month. It also requests that they replace caps on empty Pepsi-Cola bottles before returning same to their grocer and its third function is to remind the public of the taste, quality and pleasure to be derived from drinking Pepsi-Cola consistently.

Sterilamps Preserve Purity:

To further safeguard the purity of its drink, Pepsi-Cola Company employs Sterilamps, the newest contribution of science to protection from dust and germs, in Company-owned bottling plants. Many franchised bottlers of Pepsi-Cola have also added Sterilamps to their bottling equipment.

According to announcement by Pepsi-Cola Company, the Sterilamps, developed in the research laboratories of Westinghouse, are tireless guardians of purity. Under the glow of their protective radiation, the lines of Pepsi-Cola bottles move, continually bathed and protected by ultra-violet rays until the filling and capping operation is finished. These rays, by purifying the air under the lamp, protect the inside and outside of each bottle as it is being filled.

The installation of Sterilamps is but a further evidence of the progressive, modern methods in its entire operation.

which Pepsi-Cola Company uses

Cleanliness and Efficiency:

The most advanced ideas of cleanliness and efficiency are brought to perfection amid the mechanical, streamlined operation. The units of stainless steel machinery and the trim uniforms of the machine operators combine to make a picture of new-pin cleanliness.

Even the water is specially treated. It is filtered in the Pepsi-Cola plant before it goes into the manufacture of Pepsi-Cola.

Carefully Selected Ingredients

The same care is expended on the selection of each pure-food ingredient which goes into the making of the syrup. These ingredients are thoroughly mixed and blended in stainless steel tanks from which the syrup flows to the automatic bottle filling machines.

Bottles Specially Treated

The bottles themselves undergo an amazing cleansing process to fit them as receptacles for Pepsi-Cola. A scientific, automatic bottle washer takes the bottles first and scours them inside and out by means of high-pressure jets of pure, fresh water. Next, it sterilizes them in a special solution. Emerging from this operation, the bottles are subjected to more high-pressure jets of pure water to remove every trace of the sterilization solution.

As they leave the bottle-washing machine, they pass an inspector, one by one, as they move along an automatic conveyor. Still farther, they are carried past a powerful light which exposes them to a final "close-up" under the eye of another vigilant inspector. Only then are they permitted to reach the automatic filling machines.

This drink has long been recognized as an energy giver. This series of ads calls particular attention to the enjoyment to be derived from drinking Pepsi-Cola.

Maintain Large Merchandising Staff:

The Pepsi-Cola Company maintains a large Negro merchandising staff whose function it is to travel from city to city informing Negro Americans of the merit and health giving qualities of the Pepsi-Cola drink.

This company pioneered in this direction and can safely state that it employs more Negroes in its Sales Promotion Department than does any other major soft drink manufacturer in the world.

Defense Council Against Return of Japs To Coast

In the dual capacity as Chairman of the Los Angeles County Defense Council and Sheriff, Eugene W. Biscailuz today protested against "any governmental move which may permit Japanese to again establish themselves on the Pacific Coast."

Sheriff Biscailuz had been urged by the Native Sons of the Golden West, of which he is a member, to use his influence to prevent the return to California of any Japanese now interned in re-location centers.

The Native Sons asked the Sheriff and Chairman of the county defence council, to point out to Washington officials the grave peril that would confront the citizens of this district, as well as the dangers the Japanese themselves would face if returned here from their present camps of protection.

"It is my intention to add my voice to those already raised in protest against any move which may permit Japanese again to establish themselves on the Pacific Coast," Biscailuz said.

The Japanese problem is no new one to the County Defense Council since in the original wave of protest against Japanese occupancy of this war zone which resulted in their evacuation, the defense council led the fight.

FORMER FURNITURE CO. MGR. TELLS ADVENTURES IN YEAR'S MARITIME SERVICE

Like a chapter from a novel is the tale of travels over the Seven seas, reluctantly related by Juan Ray, of 285½ E. 35th street, who is home for a visit to his relatives after a year's absence in the service of the Merchant Marine. What he will not tell would perhaps be still more startling, but although the Eagle reporter considered him as over-cautious, he would not discuss anything during the interview upon his return, that bore the least resemblance to a war secret. However with a "well I suppose now it can be told" air, he admitted having been in islands of the South Pacific, Australia, Central America, New York, England, Wales, Scotland, North Africa, and other countries.

Missed Ship; Got Left in Africa

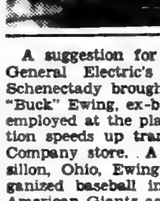
But putting "two and two together" and by considerable cross-questioning, and reading between lines, it was possible to learn that he had many narrow escapes from enemy submarines, and surface raiders; that we do not realize what a tough war we are in, and still have before us; that the colored troops are doing a swell job on all fronts especially in Africa; and that they are the most obedient to the clause in the printed edict issued before the invasion as a warning against attempting to flirt with Moslem women. These still wear veils covering their faces, and he unto him who dares to touch and peep. A knife flashing in the dark; mysterious injuries or disappearances, etc., happen in this strange land, a mixture of the ancient and the modern, says Juan.

Ray, formerly one of the best salesmen with the Golden State Insurance Co. was up until a short time before sailing, manager of two of the West Pico Furniture Company's Eastside stores. He greatly increased the firm's business among colored citizens. Embarking on May 26, 1942, from San Francisco, he reached Hawaii, Guadalcanal, and other South Pacific hot spots before getting to New York, thence across the Atlantic to England. He was one one of the transport ships in that greatest invasion fleet of history, when it made that memorial landing last fall in Africa.

Here came a real change in Ray's adventures. While ashore in Oran, accumulating souvenirs in the colorful market places, he and fourteen other members of his ship's crew got left. Fortunately he had been intensively studying French, which he now speaks fluently, so could communicate with the natives. It was two months before he got another ship back to England, thence to return again to Africa. While in Africa, he caught malaria, which is very prevalent there, but Navy physicians pulled him through, little the worse for wear. After considering the fact that the ship he missed was attacked by one of the Axis wolf-pack, Ray says maybe his guardian angel caused him to miss it. Among the historic cities the traveler visited in the British Isles were Londan, Cardiff, Glasgow, Eton, and the quaint old town of Loch Lomond, made famous here by the swinging of its folk song, by colored singers.

Ray brought his sister, Billye Browne, and his mother, Mrs. Julia Ray, many presents and souvenirs of the various countries he visited. Billye, former night club star, is now a theological student at the Angelus Temple Bible College.

War Worker Rewarded



A suggestion for saving time at General Electric's war plant in Schenectady brought this check to "Buck" Ewing, ex-baseball star now employed at the plant. His suggestion speeds up transactions in the Company store. A native of Massillon, Ohio, Ewing broke into organized baseball in 1919 with the American Giants as a catcher, later playing with the Homestead Greys and an all-star colored team which toured Cuba. He played his last full season with the Mohawk Giants in 1935. He has lived in Schenectady for several years and joined G. E. in 1941.

The News Reel

By HARRY MORGAN

Now that meat is getting to be scarcer than a banker's smiles, cattle rustling is playing a return engagement in the Western states. There are hombres plenty of who won't let a few strands of barbed wire keep them from a cutlet—even if it's unbreaded and on the hoof. But the cattlemen aren't going to take this kind of treatment lying down like a wet rug. Already the vigilantes have formed and they aim to be tougher than a top sergeant with corns. From all reports it looks as though the rustlers better have their ration stamps with them when the vigilantes catch up with them—or they are apt to be guests of honor at a hanging party.

A street cleaner who died in New Zealand recently had $25,000 tucked away. Sounds as though he really cleaned up somewhere along the line.

And somewhere along the line you'll want to stock up on your liquor requirements. So—for a finer selection of liquors, wines and beer—go to the House of Morgan, 2729 Central Ave. It's easy to find your favorite brand in our well-arranged displays — and our cash and carry plan gives you finer quality at less price.

Lauretta Butler's Kiddies At Universal

A great number of our talented young stars today owe their beginning to Mrs. Lauretta Butler, who because of her love of the art of dancing, patiently, and many times without remuneration, worked with young children—boys and girls—and encouraged them up the ladder of success.

Sixteen of Lauretta Butler's kiddies are now working under Ben Carter, singing at Universal Studios. They are: Grace Ann Jeter, Gloria Jeter, Monna Jones, Wilma Parger, Danellen Mabry, Harriete Flowers, Beverly Thomas, Dorothy Moon, Beatrice Smith, Sylvia Perry, Edwin Johnson, Sherrill Luke, Jack Thompson, Walter Smith, and Billy Mitchell.

Featured star is that wonderful boy singer, Bobby Brooks, who is working under contract at Universal Studios, having worked three days last week. He will finish his part this week.

Many talented boys and girls from the age of three years and up are receiving wonderful training under Mrs. Butler.

"Echoes from the San Jose Workshop" will highlight the May Open House held Wednesday, May 12th, at the Woodlawn Branch Y. W. C. A. when our delegates, Mesdames Jessie Coles Grayson and Joan Johnson Willis will tell members and friends about their experiences with national leaders from New York, and women and girls from all parts of California who met to discuss ways of meeting the needs of women and girls in wartime.

The program for this open house is in charge of Mrs. Charles Satchell Morris II of the membership committee, Mrs. Leonard Stovall of the educational committee and Mrs. Bert McDonald, hospitality chairman.

Open house provides the occasion when members can assemble for an informal social time and can learn what activities are going on in the "Y" in which they may participate. Everyone is welcome.

L. A. Railway Thanks Patrons And Asks For Help

As evidence by the recent mail to the Los Angeles Railway, a fine spirit of cooperation on the part of riders is shown in that many of the letters tell the company that its efforts to give satisfactory service under trying conditions, is appreciated.

"The Los Angeles Railway appreciates these expressions of confidence," said L. A. Reeves, Director of Public Service, "and, at the same time it knows that its services are not meeting the high standard they formerly reached. This is due because we have been unable to replace the trained men who have left our employ to enter the armed services or to take jobs in other essential industries." The railway company will very much appreciate any assistance it can get from its riders to influence their friends or relatives who are not now employed in essential war work, to enter the services of the Railway where many jobs at good wages are available now. There are now about 500 jobs for both men and women, some part time, open for those who can qualify. "We have opened a first-floor employment office at 1056 South Broadway where applications are taken daily," continued Reeves.

SANTA FE CONDUCTOR FIGHTS FOUR "MUGGERS" IN VAIN IN EARLY EVENING

With Los Angeles "muggings" apparently trying for the lead over New York, which gave strong-arm robberies this new name, one of the boldest occurred at the early hour of 9:45 last Saturday night, when four unknown men overpowered L. W. Hawkins, a Santa Fe Railroad conductor, just off crowded 42nd and Central Avenue. He suffered the loss of $52, and important papers, besides being bruised and shaken up during the encounter. He lives at 5317 Granada Street.

Hawkins told Newton police that he was standing in the doorway of a Cafe in the 4200 block on Central, waiting for showtime at a nearby cabaret, when a young man stopped and struck up a conversation. Informed that he was going to the amusement place, the stranger suggested that he come with him and have a drink first. Not suspicious of any foul play, Hawkins joined him and they walked to the corner of 42nd and Central, then east. Just as they stepped into the dark side-street, Hawkins' companion turned on him, just as three other men leaped out of the shadows, and attacked him.

But gamely putting up a terrific fight, with only his fists, the victim smashed out right and left, knocking down two of his assailants and partly stunning them. Seizing this opportunity, he vaulted over one of the prostrate forms and started running. But another of the quartette tackled him football fashion before he could reach safety. As he fell two of them piled up on him, and went through his pockets. It all happened so suddenly that the victim could give no good description of them, but police are checking up on a number of suspects.

In spite of the fact that starting last week there are now fifteen active police sergeants in the Newton District, instead of the previous nine, increased police activities and reinforcements have failed so far to diminish the mounting number of holdups and sluggings.

Steel Worker Hit With Bar; Robbed

While waiting to transfer at 12th and Central Avenue at midnight last Friday, Lawrence Barret, a steel worker at Consolidated plant, who lives at 1530 Motz street Hynes, was struck over the head by an unknown assailant. The blow according to physicians, came from a blunt instrument, knocked Barret out, before he could see who had wielded it.

When he recovered from his dazed condition, his wallet containing $6 was gone, as were also important papers it contained.

Street-Car Acquaintance Knocks Out; Robs

Accepting the acquaintance of a strange fellow-passenger on a street car, proved a painful experience, and a lesson for Walter Rusintak, of 831 Atlantic Avenue, Long Beach, last Sunday evening.

An unknown man, with whom he had chatted on the car, got off at 7th and Central when he alighted. He suggested to the Long Beach man that they stop at a cafe near there. But as they left it later, the new acquaintance hit his host and knocked him out.

When he came to later he found his bill-fold lying on the sidewalk beside him. It had contained $8, but this was gone as were also important papers.

March Field Soldier Robbed Of Furlough Money

An eagerly awaited furlough to Spokane, Washington, where he had planned to visit relatives, came to a bitter end at 12th and Central, for Arthur Lund, a service man stationed at March Field in the Engineer Corps.

He was in the Greyhound bus terminal at 3:00 a. m. last Sunday when an unknown man approached him and suggested that they have a drink to help pass the time away. He followed him outside to a car in which another man sat, and agreed to accompany them for the drink.

Instead they drove him to 12th and Central Avenue, but when they informed him they would have to go to a hotel, he objected. Then, according to Lund, one of the men stuck a gun in his side and declared, "no foolin' this is a stick-up."

Upon going through his pockets they took his bill-fold with $17.50, all the money he had, but they also took his furlough papers, a round-trip ticket to Spokane, and other atricles it contained.

First Robbing of Los Angeles Conductorette Occurs.

With the unpleasant experience of being the first of the new Los Angeles conductorettes to be robbed of the street car money, Miss Reba Farrow, 1604 W. Pico, was the victim of two money-box snatches at 5 o'clock last Friday afternoon on an "U" car.

During the shift she had placed $38.16 in cash and $18 in tokens, in the iron utility box on the floor. When the car reached Vernon and Central, she placed one foot on it, while preparing to load and unload passengers at this busy transfer point.

One of two suspects tapped her on the shoulder, and when she turned, the other grabbed the box and fled accompanied by his accomplice. Both sped out of sight in the crowd.

Woman Pick-Pocket Caught Returning Purse

Naming Juanita Smith, address unknown as the suspect, Clarence Krouse, 1270 E. 47th Place, charged the woman with picking his pocket, and removing a considerable sum from his wallet, last Saturday.

He declared that he was talking to a boy in the cleaning establishment there, when he discovered the woman fumbling at his hip pocket. He declared that he seized her wrist, and found that she was trying to put the empty wallet back into his pocket.

Severest Penalty Awaits Despoiler of 11 Year Old Child

Shocking even the most blase veteran juvenile officers, several sex offenses, charged against Charles Bringler, 32, of 1046½ E. 53rd street, are expected to bring the severest penalty of the law upon him when he comes to trial.

The little victim of the man, who is a defense worker was an eleven year old girl, the daughter of his common-law wife. According to police the mother made the charges, after discovering a terrible condition brought on the child by her seducer. Besides rape, unnatural practices and perversions had been committed by him since August, 1942.

Members of the juvenile squad at present are Jas. Rosebury, Thos. Bradley, R. F. Greene, Kenny Washington, Thos. Nelson, and Percy Williams.

Wounded Box Car Thief Escapes Out of Town

While Newton police were questioning Chas. Perry, 22, young defense worker of 1422 E. 22nd street, concerning Chas. McGill, of West 35th street., said by them to have been wounded while escaping on foot from a stolen car, the suspect is thought to have made a clean getaway, and is out of town.

By the time the officers located the house where he lived the fugitive had made his way to his room, secured some clothes and hurriedly left. Perry who had been seated in the car with the suspect had been held on suspicion of being an accomplice but he was discharged later.

McGill who had attempted to outrun the officers in a coupe stolen last Easter Sunday, had led them on a wild mid-day chase down Central Avenue, before wrecking the car on 27th street. He had then fled on foot with the officers firing at him. One bullet is said to have struck him in the shoulder.

Address all communications to Prof. Herman, the Astrologer, care of The California EAGLE.

Corrections and higher education alone can offtimes be utterly without culture. The secret of assimilating true culture lies in the proper education, charm and a pleasing personality. On the other hand, why some folks think of art, books and mathematics as something stuffy—to be put aside when pleasure and lightness are desired, it is difficult to define. No playground in the world is so inviting as that of a well developed mind.

Most people are naturally good mixers, yet fail to attain the higher cultural standards. The fault lies in their home environment and early training. Frequently folks put on their culture like their "company manners," thereby inviting contempt for the atmosphere of artificiality.

Everyone should cultivate a better mind and a greater interest in that which will enrich their lives.

A. D. Dear Prof. Herman: My home problems were becoming a constant worry until I received your Hindu Charm Bag, and since that time, I have enjoyed happiness and peace in my home again. You have been a wonderful blessing to me, Prof. Herman.

WAR ON NEGRO

TRUTH: For 323 years a war of prejudice, discrimination, lynching and abuses has been waged against us. I began to fight this battle when I discovered that I was a 'made fool.' Mark you, not a fool but a 'made one', like many intellectuls.

Thinking people are asking: What are we—Negroes, colored People or what? What is a NEGRO? No educator has ever given a satisfactory answer. They haven't the courage. The truth has never been told. Why is NEGRO the most disputed name? Because the truth is not known. Truth is The Basis of Education. I went to a university: spent 5 years in law school in Boston, became counsellor in public schools. Worked in educational sociology at New York University.

After 15 years' investigation, study and research, I found the facts, the history, the truth about the race.

With my discovery, I made money, and gained world respect.

It can do the same for you. I have compiled it in the great book: "HUMAN SIDE OF PEOPLE." 399 pages, 84 pictures by myself. Raphael P. Powell. The demand for this book by thousands proves that it shows the way to success and is helping to win the war against race prejudice. Price $3. Send orders to: PHILEMON CO., 224 West 135th St., New York City. GUARANTEED: The only book which gives the TRUTH about our race.

New Pressure on Anti-Poll Tax Bill

by c. a. b.

TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF EDUCATION, WE: Some of the people of Los Angeles, in the interest of justice and fair play, as well as unity in our ranks for all Americans, and according to the fundamental principles of freedom of religion, protection and promotion of our democratic institutions, urge that you take steps to remove from the teaching faculty at the 53rd and Main Street School the teacher who circulated, or permitted to be circulated, the book entitled "Ten Little Nigger Boys." We make this request believing that such willful violation of the fundamental principles of democracy will destroy the faith of a minority group of Americans whose all-out aid and support we need to gain a full and complete victory in this global conflict.

It is not my desire, or the wish of the parents of children who attend such schools as the one at 53rd and Main Street, to complain or to become over-sensitive—not that at all. Our government has called upon us to fight, to pray, to buy bonds—die, if necessary, to help drive Hitler from the face of the earth. We have answered and we will still answer this call, meas-

Bishop OK's H. Bridges

NEW YORK, N. Y.—More than 300 clergymen throughout the county joined Bishop Edward L. Parsons of San Francisco, California, in signing an open letter to President Roosevelt, April 22nd, asking that he "set aside the deportation orders against Harry Benton Bridges and afford him the opportunity to become a citizen of the United States."

The letter declared that "an examination of the case against Mr. Bridges and his record since our entering the war convinces us that his deportation will be an injustice to him and a material loss to our national war effort."

The 800-word letter sent by the religious leaders points out that the charges against Mr. Bridges have been dismissed twice, once by Dean James M. Landis, (now National Director of Civilian Defense) following an eleven-week hearing, and agani by the Board

MABERN PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Elbert Sidney Mabern, 28, well known member of the Local Oklahoma Colony, appeared before Judge Charles Fricke Wednesday morning May 12th, in Department 43 of the Superior Court and pleaded not guilty to the charge of violation of the Health & Safety Code. Mabern was charged with the posession of narcotics.

At the preliminary hearing held on April 6th, 1943, before Judge Joseph F. Chambers, Officers Wilson ad Towns testified that on the night of April 21st, around 3:00 A.M. in the morning they came upon Mabern and a large heavy-set White man known by the name of Momo, or Mr. Five-by-Five. They further testified that they suspicioned the men and searched each of them. Wilson testified that he found a marihuana cigarette crumpled in Mabern's watch pocket. He further testified that Officer Towns was present during the search. Officer Towns did not take the stand, but was called by defense Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., and when questioned as to the search made of Mabern's person, towns testified that he was not present and that the search was all over when he got there. Mabern, according to his attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., offers a defense that the cigarette was planted on his person and that he knew nothing of it being on his person until he saw it in the Officer's hand.

Jury trial was set for June 21st. 1943, in Department 41, before Judge Newcomb Condee.

BULLETIN

POLL-TAX MEASURE GAINS MOMENTUM

Neither Hiram Johnson nor Tom Ford have been heard from on the Anti-Poll Tax issue. The House has made good its pledge to stand fast in support of the Anti-Poll Tax legislation. Now, let's demand support of our friends in the Senate.

The Poll Tax is the greatest impediment in the way of making our democracy work, so let the Negro people and all friends of freedom and justice bombard Washington with letters and telegrams in support of Bill H. R. 7, in order that this opportunity which we have may not be lost.

Charlotta Bass,
4075 S. Central Ave.
California Eagle, Central Ave., Los Angeles.

A victory for national unity has been won. Two hundred and eighteen members of the House of Represetatives of all political parties have signed my discharge petition on Anti-Poll Tax legislation thus guaranteeing a vote and certain passage of Anti-Poll Tax legislation in the house. On May 24 the vote will be taken to bring up my bill, H. R. 7, and on May 25 final action will be taken. Congressmen George Bender, William L. Dawson, Joseph V. Gavagan, Warren G. Magnuson and Tom E. Scanlon were staunch leaders in this fight. I do not want the country to forget the fine service of these men or of the late Congressman Lee E. Geyer, who first introduced Anti-Poll Tax legislation into Congress. I thank them and each of the 218 members of the house who signed my Discharge petition for their support. I want to express my personal gratitude to you and your paper and to the Negro people and their organization for the unyielding support they have given me and my colleagues in this fight. We have cause to be glad that a vote will take place on Anti-Poll Tax legislation in the House. But we must not let up our pressure either in the House or the Senate. This time Anti-Poll Tax Legislation must not be filibustered to Death by a willful minority in the Senate. We must watch out also for attempts of Poll Taxes to pile my bill with amendments. Every American who wants to bring democracy to ten million voteless Negro and white citizens should wire his Congressman now to vote for H. R. 7 and to reject all amendments. May 24 is an historic day in the fight for democracy. The Negro people must not lose this opportunity. They must make their voices heard now.

Jealous Husband Shoots Rival In Lunch-Stand

Falling almost at the feet of an Eagle reporter, who had dashed to the spot at the first sign of imminent trouble, Jack Ray Goree, of 4005 Paloma, lay dying last Sunday afternoon, in a drive-in barbecue stand at 42nd and Central Avenue. He had been shot in the forehead at close range by Lavolia Anderson, who had surprised him in the company of his wife, Georgia. As the stricken man lay gasping, while a juke-box incongruously played a loud swing number almost above him, Anderson, gun in hand, walked to the car in which he had arrived and got in. However he almost immediately alighted and disappeared around the corner.

"I JUST KILLED A MAN"

Upon report of the tragedy to police, officers Collins and Dimon arrived at the scene. The victim was rushed to Georgia Receiving Hospital, thence to General Hospital, and Mrs. Anderson was held by the officers for questioning and material witness. A stake-out was placed at the home of the Andersons, 1163 E. Adams, to arrest him, if he made his expected appearance there. Meanwhile, tracing it by the license, the car in which the husband had arrived was located and impounded, the driver, John Conkrite, and a companion, Claude Nixon, booked as material witnesses. Goree, who never rallied, died at General Hospital at 8:35 the same night.

Meanwhile the murderer was arrested by Smith and McGruder of Newton station, following a call to First and Main streets, upon the report of his presence there by a traffic officer. Anderson had walked up to him and said, "I just killed a man named Jack at 42nd and Central. They're looking for me. We had a fight over my wife and I shot Jack." He was booked at once on a charge of suspicion of murder, with the preliminary hearing not yet set at press time. Eye-witnesses to the killing besides a number of persons in the stand and the busy neighborhood, were

Program of Writers Set

The League of American Writers, West Coast chapter, forum on "Tom Jefferson—Today" was a distinct success. Before an audience of 400 Alvah Bessie, Attorney-General Robert W. Kenney and John Howard Lawson spoke brilliantly on the relation of Jefferson's writings and political activity to our war problems today. The Earl Robinson radio-cantata "That Freedom Plow", with text by Lou Lerman, was played and sung by Robinson himself. It was enacted by Roman Bohnen, Art Smith and Harry Bratsburg, with Doris Albert as violinist, and received a tremendous ovation.

Three resolutions were adopted by the meeting:

1. WHEREAS a winning of this war depends upon a mutual trust and understanding between the United Nations, and

WHEREAS 'The Fifth Seal" by Mark Aldanov is a distorted and prejudiced view of one of our allies, the USSR, which will only tend to lessen cooperation between the USSR and the USA,

THEREFORE, be it RESOLVED that the 400 people assembled at this meeting protest to the Book of the Month Club for releasing at this time "The 5th Seal", a book which wil tend to harm our war effort and endanger our country's safety.

II. WHEREAS in war time espionage and attempted dis-affection of the armed forces are crimes universary punishable by death,

THEREFORE be it RESOLVED that the 400 people assembled at this meeting condemn the acts of those individuals and organiza-

EMERGENCY NURSES CORPS PLANNED HERE

A corps of registered nurses who could be called upon for service i nthe event of an emergency is being formed at the Los Angeles County Hospital, it was made known yesterday by Gordon L. McDonough, Chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

"In the event large numbers of wounded soldiers should arrive here and overflow military hospitals, we would not have sufficient nurses to care for them,' McDonough said. "Likewise, in the event of a bomb raid and consequent injury to many civilians, the same situation would result.

"Our County Hospital is equipped to care for 700 patients above its normal load and is the only

Having made tremendous steps forward in the war effort—first by the launching of the Booker T. Washington, first sea-going vessel ever to be named for a Negro, then following with the naming of a second ship for a Negro, the George W. Carver, news reaches us now that on May 10th, the Marine Eagle, first ship built entirely by Negroes in the first all-Negro shipyard in the country, was launched at Chester, Pennsylvania. This is truly a worthy accomplishment and proves that Negroes are master-craftsmen when given a chance.

It is also good news to learn that Captain Mulzac of the good ship "Booker T. Washington," with his crew, have unloaded their first cargo safely in Africa and made the return trip to the United States without mishap.

SHIPYARD WORKERS COMMITTEE INVESTIGATES HIRING POLICY AT MOORE'S

"Discrimination against any workers because of race, creed or color does not exist at Moore Dry Dock!" said Chairman of the Board, J. A. Moore, Sr., in an interview with members of the Shipyard Workers Committee Against Discrimination, in Berkeley, California, a few days ago. "I have the President's Order (Exec. Order No. 8802) and am a personal friend of the President, and will not tolerate that sort of thing here," he said.

The story behind this meeting, however, is as follows: It seems that several Negroes, well qualified, have been refused employment in the administrative department of the Moore Dry Dock Company of Oakland, California. Miss Thelma Ballard, an experienced typist who applied for work at Moore's, was refused because "her attitude was not acceptable". A Mrs. Floree Jones also was not able to get work, but is still waiting to be called. (The old worn-out runaround). The committee happens to know, however, that it is a clear case to substantiate argument by the fact that there are some 4500 negroes now working in the yards.

The meeting with Moore Company officials was arranged by Ernest Gray, who was accompanied by Mrs. Floree Jones and Ray Thompson, Chairman of the SWCAD. These representatives of the Committee were sent to investigate charges of discrimination in the hiring of Negroes as office workers. After a short discussion, the statement of Mr. Moore was accepted and LIBERIAN REPRESENTATIVE TO ATTEND FOOD CONFERENCE IN U. S. A.

Dennis, President of the College of West Africa, Monrovia, Liberia, and former Secretary of Treasury of Liberia, has been commissioned by his Government as the representative of the Republic of Liberia, West Africa, to officially attend the International Conference on Food and Agriculture, to be held in Virginia, beginning May 18, 1943. This conference is being held under the sponsorship of the United States Government and will include representatives of all the United Nations.

This information is just released by the organization of the United Races of America with headquarters at 524 S. Spring Street, Los Angeles, California, Attorney Hugh E. Macbeth, President, and it indicates the wide scope of attack on the problem of post war, planning for world feeding.

Mr. Dennis is an able representative and is expected to contribute substantially to these deliberations.

Pictured, is Mrs. Fannie E. Robinson, wife of the world famous tap dancer, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson, and affectionately known to many as the "Sweetheart" of New York, and Los Angeles, who is now enjoying her palatial westside home for a few weeks rest. THE PEOPLE WILL SPEAK" T DETROIT CONFERENCE

The Detroit Emergency War Conference, which will et from June 3rd to 6th, in Detroit, ending with a huge ss meeting on Sunday afternoon, June 6, in the Detroit gers' Ball Park, promises to be the biggest demonstran ever staged by the Negro in history. Though it is lled the N. A. A. C. P., it is to be a conference of all the ple, colored and white who end to see that something is e about the way in which Ne- es are being treated. Except a brief opening statement at meeting, it is not the plan to e set speeches from people ling those present what they uld think and do. Instead, s is to be a real conference ere those who attend will tell at they think can and shall be e. It is to be a truly demo- tic meeting, and many work- le suggestions will doubtless voiced. Much benefit will be ined from the thinking of se, educated or limited in edu- ion, who have given real ought to the Negro's plight, th now during the war and in post-war years.

Although it will be an enor- us and expensive job to fill a rk seating 55,000 people, the A. A. C. P. has set this task its objective and with the help all citizens, through the col- ns of the varous newspapers, radio announcement, corre- ondence, etc., they expect not ly to fill the park but to have overflow crowd outside.

Let all of us thing of the tre- endous effect on America and the world to hear over the dio and to see in the news- els and newspapers that from ,000 to 100,000 Americans as- embled to insist that the Four reedoms apply to colored people the United States and through- ut the world, as well as to white eople. It is conceivable that if uch a task is accomplished, it ay mean a new day for the egro.

Musicians Regret Fay Allen's Loss

No group in the city more greatly regrets the defeat of Fay Allen for reelection to the Board of Education last week, than do the members of Musicians Local 767. Mrs. Allen a long time member of the Trustee board of the Local, has earned the respect and confidence of them for the same qualities she had shown during her service of the Board of Education. Here is a consensus of their reactions on what appears to them to be a deliberate unseating of her by adverse forces of both races.

That if Mrs. Beatrice Johnson had not entered the race for a seat on the Board of Education, the Negro vote would not have been divided and would have remained the same "balance of power it always is when directed towards one object.

That many otherwise loyal supporters were led to believe that by voting for Mrs. Johnson, two race members would be insured on the board instead of one; a smear campaign attacking Mrs. Allen's record and principles was another weapon—all this made it easy for the other group that wanted her out, to as usual "divide and conquer."

However the musicians praise highly the action of Charles Allen, white candidate, who withdrew from the race for fear the confusion of names might lose votes for the incumbent Mrs. Allen. He was more appreciative of her than a lot of our own race say the musicians.

WAR WIVES, MOTHERS GET VITAL MESSAGE

Dr. Emma L. Balcom, 2911 Paulding Avenue, New York City, past president of the Gold Star Mothers of America in a message to wives and mothers said: "Our sympathy goes out to the thousands of women all over the country who have men in the service and who watch the casualty lists and tremble every time the postman knocks at the door in fear of receiving a notification from the Army or Navy which will mean that they will never again hear beloved footsteps or feel strong arms around them.

"For these waiting women, we, who have experienced the same griefs and fears, have a message. We should not be disheartened by the feeling that we are powerless to help our loved ones on the firing line.

"We can help in many ways. First and foremost by keeping up our spirits and morale. The letters we write and the things we say should carry with them to the men at the front our confidence in Victory.

"There is no better way of keeping up morale than work. Some are privileged to work in war production plants, some can work for Red Cross or Civilian Defense. All of us can buy bonds and stamps.

"Many women find their job in the home and I would emphasize that they perhaps have the greatest responsibility of all. They are conservators of food and materials of war. They accept the petty discomforts of rationing cheerfully and gladly knowing that it will release food and supplies for war. Above all in saving every scrap of vital material, they know the great satisfaction of serving their country in a manner no others can.

"Particularly is this true of fat salvage. Here is a direct link between mothers and their boys at the front. Inedible fat saved in the kitchens is processed for the glycerine it contains and that glycerine is available for gunpowder and medical supplies three weeks after it is turned in to a meat dealer. Saving fat is just a routine household job and I suppose some women neglect it in the belief that it is only a housekeeping chore, yet if they knew how important it was they would see to it that not a single drop of precious fat or grease that couldn't be used for cooking was thrown away.

"On Mother's Day I am sure that every mother in America did welcome the chance to do something for her boy that only she could do. If every mother this week will take a pound of waste fat to her meat dealer and turn it in for munitions she will know that she has actually done something that might save her boy's life. That humble, pan-blackened grease might contain the glycerine that will go into the powder behind the bullets your boy will use, or it might go into the glycerine used in a sulfa ointment for a surgical dressing that will save your boy or some other boy's life.

The Los Angeles City Schools during the six-weeks "Jeep" campaign inaugurated by the United States Treasury Department for the pupils of the nation's schools purchased more than 12 per cent of the total 10,000 jeeps set as the goal for the entire country, Superintendent Vierling Kersey reported to the Board of Education yesterday.

Superintendent Kersey stated: "Our schools have done it again! The Treasury Department's goal for the schools' 'Jeep' campaign for the entire nation was 10,000 jeeps from March 1, 1943, to April 19, 1943. The quota for the California schools was set at 755 jeeps. The quota for the Los Angeles City Schools was 189 jeeps.

The actual accomplished results of the Los Angeles City Schools supplied War Bond and Stamp funds for 1,202 jeeps."

ALISO VILLAGE ANSWERS WAR HOUSING PROBLEMS

War workers families of two or four persons will find their house-hunting problems at an end in the new Aliso Village and Wm. Mead, war housing developments of the City Housing Authority, located at 1401 East First street and 1300 North Main street, respectively, it is reported today.

There are 243 one and two bedroom apartments at Aliso Village and 107 at Wm. Mead Homes which may be rented immediately to qualified war workers, the local Authority officials state.

The new low-rent homes have every modern convenience to save time and labor in household duties of the women whose husmands are engaged in war work and do a bit of welding and riveting themselves to speed victory.

Applications for rentals are simplified to cut red tape and may be arranged to allow renting and moving into the developments with one operation. Nursery schools and protected play areas take care of the children, while a variety of community activities for adults provide interesting recreational features.

The Central Application office of the Housing Authority is at 321 Clarence street. Mead Homes applications should be made at the development, 1300 Cardinal. Interviewers are on duty, daily from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., and from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Saturdays and Sundays.

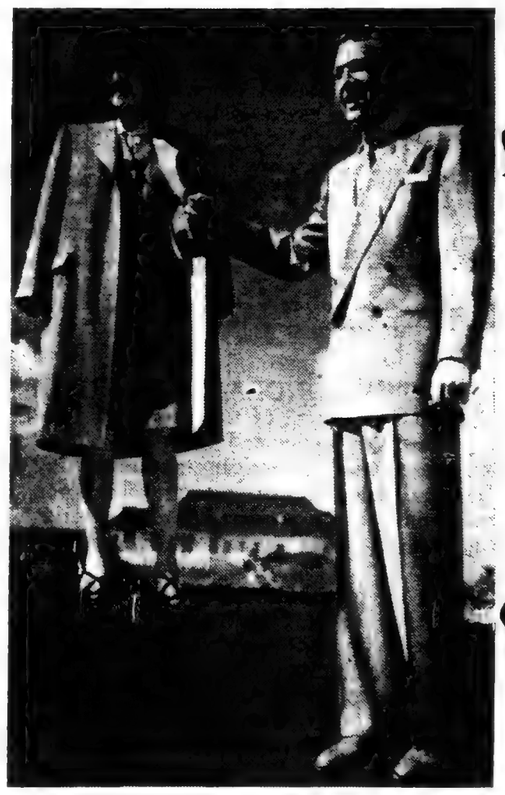
HOW MUCH DO YOU VALUE YOUR CHILDREN?



"How much do you value your children?" asks "Sister" Reatha militant Chicago evangelist, who with her twin sister Leatha were recently called to pastorates here. For following check-up of data furnished by the Newton Police Gross, Ross Snyder playground director, she realizes that plan to organize against juvenile crime must start first with the mothers. Hence she invites all those whose offspring is as dear to them as nation-wide celebration of "Mothers' Day" last Sunday represented them to be, to get in touch with her at once. Her phone is CE. 21723 with residence at 285½ E. 35 street, and she will be glad to arrange for a meeting with as many mothers as possible, in regard to the menace of crime clutching at youth.

"Pearl Harbor was a lesson to the nation," declares Sister Reatha, "so mothers should not become so absorbed in defense work, or social activities as to overlook the bulwark of home defense, before their children are caught in the whirlpool that will carry them down to disgrace. Cooperating with the Police Department, Board of Education, the Playground and recreation department, and the other churches of the city, she is planning a non-profit vocational, and recreational center and nursery, at Azuza Temple, 1001 E. 27 street. Providing free motion pictures, games, etc., she plans to open it at the beginning of vacations next month.

Those candidates who will graduate by July, 1943, may take either or both examinations and will be eligible for appointment after graduation. Separate applications for librarian and children's librarian are required by each cooperating agency, but candidates may take one examination and may attain places on the eligible registers of the various agencies. Starting salaries for these positions vary with the jurisdnctions. Applications for all jurisdictions may be filed until 5:00 p. m., Saturday, May 15, with the Los Angeles City Civil Service Commission, Room 11, Los Angeles City Hall.

NEWS REPORTER SUFFERS BITE AND LOSS OF CAR TO THUGS

Police reports show that Lawrence F. LaMar, well known newspaper man, reported the loss of his A model Ford coupe Tuesday night to a pair of hoodlums. He also suffered a badly lacerated finger, when one of the thugs bit him during the ensuing fist fight that followed.

LaMar told police he had just picked up an acquaintance at Washington and Central Avenue going his way and driven one block to 18th street when a black V8 Ford sedan drove in front of his car. The bumpers of the two cars hardly touched.

This minor traffic incident, however, proved just the thing the hoodlums needed as an excuse to cause a row. The two men got out of the car with oaths and grabbed the keys out of the newsman's car and immediately demanded that he produce $5.00 in payment for the imaginary damage.

The hoodlums followed their demands up with threats to beat up LaMar. The reporter said he struck the larger of the pair in an endeavor to break out of the trap. He succeeded in outsprinting the man to the corner of Washington and Central where he turned and gave him battle. The man was knocked down twice before he began chewing on LaMar's finger..

LaMar said he ran over to the Clark hotel annex to phone and await the arrival of police. When they returned to the scene both hoodlums had gone. Also, the newsman's car had vanished. The car was reported stolen and police given a good description of the suspects.

MISS BRONZE AMERICA IS NAMED

Miss Estelle Anderson, daughter of C. W. Anderson, is the new Miss Bronze of America of the Mid-South.

The winsome nineteen-year-old Lucky Heart beauty preparation worker was chosen as a result of selling more than $17,000 of war bonds in a rally climaxed by her coronation by Mayor Walter Chandler of Memphis, during the Second War Loan Campaign.

Assisted by her fellow workers at Lucky Heart Co., well known Memphis makers of beauty aids, and with the purchase of bonds by officials of the Lucky Heart firm, Miss Anderson soared over the top, despite vigoruos competition, to be named winner at a meeting attended by more than 5,000 people at Memphis' big Ellis auditorium.

"We are naturally proud that one of our employes won the contest," said Victor Williams, president of the firm where Estelle is employed. "We were glad to be able to help her win and we are glad that her fellow workers pitched in and helped her."

Dodridge Nichols, chairman of the War Finance Committee was high in his praise of Estelle's untiring efforts in soliciting the sale of extra bonds and stamps.

Vivacious Miss Anderson, who laughingly contributes her beauty to regular use of the products of the firm where she works, is the recipient of a cash award from Lucky Heart. Sunday, May 2nd was a very busy and eventful day for the A.W.V.S. The Godmother's Guild sponsored a Benefit Tea and After-Easter Promenade at the Casa Raphael. In the Promenade of dashing Easter bonnets and smart outfits, the uniform of the Senior A.W.V.S. members and the pinafore of the Juniors was modeled by several members.

While in Pasadena, at Rev. Karl Down's church, there was a very appropriate program for the WAACS, titled, "Women's Activities during the War". Capt. Sanford of the California State Guard, spoke in behalf of his Regiment. Miss Ida Perry (a faithful member who always manages to be present at all affairs) represented the A.W.V.S. There were also speakers from the Ambulance Corps, 2nd Division, Crown City Post and the Red Cross. Dr. Griffin was the Mistress of Ceremonies.

Later in the evening, a convoy of Hostesses & Chaperones went to dinner and a dance, as guests of the 175th in Inglewood. From all reports, it was a very "super-elegant" affair. The weather was perfect, the dinner delicious, the orchestra "groovy", the servicemen dressed to perfection, and the girls bedecked in all their Easter finery. After the mid-day Teas, etc., the evening spent with the 175th, it was really the end of a perfect day.

Friday May 7th, was another full schedule. A convoy made the weekly trip to March Field, accompanied by Laura Slayton. Another bus went to Camp Anza, a new camp in Arlington California. The servicemen and their Officers had arranged a very delightful evening, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. In fact, it was so delightful, the trip will be made once each month.

Saturday May 8th, the California State Guard had its farewell dinner and dance. Several of the Guardsmen's wives went in the convoy with the AWVS members, and other friends. To the State Guard: the AWVS wishes to thank you for all the services you have rendered to our organization, and for the many social events we have enjoyed. You are still welcome to visit our Center at any time.

Sunday May 9th, Sister Ada Russell, and the Laws sisters, Sarah and Sylvia, surprised the servicemen by opening early and serving breakfast. At the first table only fifteen boys were served, but in the meantime, more had come in, and several of the AWVS members. So, a second table was set and twenty other boys had breakfast and the girls served them. Since it was Mother's Day, it helped cheer several of the servicemen who were away from home for the first time.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE YOUNGER SET

Jessie Mae Brown

With the College and High school crowd getting in their last bit of solid studying before finals roll around, there just isn't much doing. Therefore, we'll look in on the local USO center, where Vye Aldrich and her Junior Hostesses are doing a fine piece of work helping to keep up the morale of our boys in service. One of the main events at the center, is the weekly sport dance. This affair is well attended by service men and hostesses. Last Friday night, the girls donned their formals, and added a bit of color to the weekly affair. Besides entertain-ing at the center, the hostesses often make trips to neighboring camps with a group of Senior workers, who act as chaperones. Sometimes, two trips are made a week.

Learned from staff secretary, Margaret Bullocks, that the reg-ular hostess meetings are back in session and all members are expected to attend. Each week more Negro soldiers are stationed in or near Los Angeles. More workers are needed at the center to make it pleasant for those boys. If you haven't been to the USO, visit there, and see about doing your part.

The AKA Cabaret affair hon-oring Etta Moten, and serving as a benefit for the Mississippi re-lief, took place after this week's column went to press. All details will be yours, in next week's edi-tion.

WELL WELL WELL

Charlotte Gogue married Fran-cis Robinson. What caused the mix up of names in last week's chatter, is still a mystery to me. . . . Out Belmont High School way, we find that Harriete Pat-terson is still as charming as ever . . . still taking the old school by storm. . . . First night-ers at the Porgy and Bess light opera, were Phyllis Hoxie and Helen Thompson.

Helen will choo choo eastward, as soon as school is out. . . . Caught a glimpse of Andrew Manuel last Sunday, he looks all right, in his uniform. Louis Love seems to be doing OK, out at Douglas Aircraft, rated a picture in last week's plant magazine. . . . Wonder if Carl Alexander, Fannie Williams combo has broken up. Don't hear much talk any more. Maybe Dan Cupid's a little off the beam. Gloria Rob-erts certainly wears well, her many "chick hats." . . . Speaking of dress, Peggy Carlson's casual gray topper is only fine. . . . Vivi-an Staton is home again, after her lengthy visit to Frisco, where she visited her aunt, saw all the L. A. gang employed up that way, and had a ball. By the way, she still won't tell her fiance's name. . . . Gloria Walton is also back, after visiting her hubby, David, at a northern camp. . . . Work, and study take up most of Josephine Spearman's time now days. . . . According to chatter, younger setters definitely en-joyed Cabin in the Sky, espe-cially the cabaret scene, with Rena Clarke, Kathleen Hartsfield, Lena Torrance; Juliette Ball, and a bunch of other locals were in evidence. . . . Vernell Guthier is one of the new Ivy Leaf mem-bers. . . . Who blew in town t'other day but Joe Spaulding, in his little blue sailor suit. . . . Speaking of service men, John-nie Luke was in a few days ago on furlough, and more than one stripe appears on his sleeve. Hear that Nancy Balch Lewis is planning to join hubby in Sacra-mento soon.

Paulite Coleman, Bob Edwards, and Weni Allen, are still finding bicycling a great sport. So does Theron Kirk, who does his pedal-ling in white shorts, and sandals. Truly a sight to behold. Whis-pers have it, that a gay UCLA deb is only surprised to find that somebody else is taking her place, with a Cadet, stationed at Tuskegee. . . . Gloria Ford is pretty busy now days, studying hard, and entertaining her pals home on 'furlough. . . . Luana Edwards and Saul Reese eloped, to the surprise of many, and are living up north. . . . Willy Mc-Ramsey is up from the sick bed looking as well as ever. Will go up for his physical on the 18th.

Blanche Groggs leaves L. A. for the Lone Star state at close of semester. Say's she'll spend the summer away. . . . John Kinloch will be home in a few weeks, to take up where he left off. . . .

OPEN FRIDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHTS TILL 9!

CROWN CITY CAPERS

By Philippa Jones

I dedicate this column to one swell soldier at Ft. Riley, Kansas, who keeps asking for it, so here I am dishing it out. I never was too good at this sort of thing so maybe that's why I go on that "absence makes the heart grof fonder" policy. Anyway, here goes.

Well, we're back in school again, knee deep in Tri-ads after a blissful week of Easter vacation.

Last Saturday, a week ago, the KKA's gave a very nice party at the USO for the benefit of the servicemen. A new high light to the affair was the arrival of a number of seamen, stationed at you know where. I'm not very good at names but some included were: Seaman Edward Reed, Bruce Decuire, Bernard Crawford, and Vernon (I can't remember his last name but he went to grade, and high school with Alpha man, John Alston) some of the girls there doing their share to build up the morale of the saldiers were: Delores Carfoll, Cookie Cook, Lucille Harrison, Johnetta Smith, Dot Mims, Julia oJnes, Barbara Reynolds, Jessie Arnold, and Jane Brown. The affair was very nice and those attending seemed to be enjoying themselves to the utmost.

Back home on furlough over the Easter vacation were: Philip Harrison, Fred Valentine, Tom McLurkin, Frank (cupid) Batiste, and Rufus Blake, the boys were in their GI specials, so they didn't have to worry about any "rootay suitay" suits. It was good to have the boys back, but "Things ain't what they used to be."

Rufus brought news from 'Sippi way, and said the boys want to know is there a shortage of ink or lead pencils. They send all their regards and say to keep writing.

Last Friday the Fine Mellonеers had an election of new club officers. The newly elected ones are: Lucille Harrison, president; Thelma Jackson, vice-president; Gloria Bunch, treasurer, and yours truly, secretary.

The skating party the Junior Church of the Friendship Baptist gave was quite a nice affair. Having their share of the spills and thrills were: Aaron Fairfax, P. J. King, Dickie Thornton, Rae Thompson, Lois Price, Helen Jones, Betty Benson, and Betty Brown. The group plan to give these skating parties once every two weeks, so let's everyone turn out in grand style for the next one.

Can't help thinking and praying for the time when the "Lights go on again, all over the world." We'll have a future to look forward to . . . maybe not too bright . . . but it is a future. We'll make our future what we wanted it to be before it detoured on life's road. Now is the time to make our plans, when the war is over, we'll carry them out, and we won't stop until they are carried out and carried out in full.

OUR BOYS

Bill Duncan is beginning to appreciate things up his way. Great Lakes) He also states that, Harrison Bailey and Harry Guilders send their regards. Fred Valentine is making ou tall right at Camp Stoneman. He looks nice in his uniform. J. T. Morgan says up his way the country's full of silver, and the USO is grand. He is also planning to sing with the company band. David Scott states: army life isn't too worse, and he also wants to know why Lois Prince doesn't write. How about it, Lois? . . . speaking of the Scotts, Bill isn't doing so badly. He's attending a regular school, and upon finishing, he expects to be transferred, but he says he needs a translater to decode David Scott's letters. . . . His cousin, Paul Towrey, down Kansas way, states that: Abby Jones has a "beautiful" girl in K. C. that looks like she got lost on the way to a glue factory. By the way Abby, how's the N. S. . . . Back at Ft. Riley I hear Walter Knott, and Fortchie Sweeney got a record dedicated to them. The sender was too kind hearted to include the better part of the threesome (A. M. G. 111) in the bargain. I like the stationery J. T. Morgan and Eddie Johnson write on. It's different. Speaking of Eddie, he plans to be a General soon. He was twenty-one a few weeks ago. Bernard Harris writes and warns all of the girls not to aght over Bo, and Bump. He's looking forward to hearing about an all girl football team. Hear that Kenneth Bruce, up March Field way, with Tom M. and Frank B., got hit in the mouth with a gun barrel, and chipped one of his front teeth. I'm sorry, Kenneth. Hear all three of the boys are diong well on the baseball team, they won their first game. I wonder is John Anderson still looking for Pepe Lemoko? I hope you get well soon Arthur Gray. Keep writing the girls, boys, and we'll do the same.

BACK HOME.

Barbara Ramerez has taken quite a liking to the navy. Aaron Fairfax wants to put in a want ad for a girl friend, but I hear he wasn't alone in the blackout the other night. . . . By the way, I wonder where some other people were on that fatal night. I hear Thelma J. got her fingers nibbled at by a certain squirrel. If she had been looking at the squirrel instead of one D. T., it might not have happened. Robert Morgan has a very reliable source of information, but I know of one occasion where he was misinformed, and how! Paul and Joe Devine, back in Dena over part of the holidays looking very debonaire (???). I hear Courtney has left his Carolyn and he wasn't too happy about it. Jaddie Blake singing, "It Started All Over Again." Johnetta Smith is being true, navy or no navy. Some day Frank Batiste will know why some call him "cupid." Ernest Griffin, "the answer to a maiden's prayer." Betty Benson looking awfully foxy Easter. I hear Lucille H. knows all about flag signals.

REMEMBER WHEN ? ? ?

Well, Here I go again with my memories: Quite a while back the 369th C. A. (aa) came out this way. They came, they saw, they conquered, and they can't be forgotten. Some of their names were: Clifford Johnson, Warren Coleman, Tommy Wallace, and Billy Alexander. A little more than a year ago on April 3rd, 21 of Pasadena's boys left for Uncle Sam's service. Some of those included were: Jackie Robinson, Albert Jones, Roscoe Devore, and Walter Knott. Friendships basketball team won the championship, and the members received gold basketballs. It was that Easter that Dot Mims fell out in her fingertip plus suit. Johnetta S. was displaying a gold ankle bracelet Danny M. gave her with his name on it. Rufus B. was singing, "My Bonnie lies over the ocean," but L. A. wasn't overseas. Frankie Arnold and Fritz Banks attended a banquet. Well, I'll stop now, for time changes everything, and although some things are gone, I doubt if they're forgotten.

Lots of luck, Art. Will stay on the beam, J. M.

James Rhodes and Anita O'Day left Los Angeles Wednesday, May 5th, to rejoin Krupa. The former is G. K.'s prop boy. The letter is chirper.

USES WANTS WOMEN FOR SEWING

Negro women who know how to sew now can put this ability to immediate war use, Walter O. Christian, manager, Los Angeles office of the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission announced today.

Every woman qualified as a single needle, double needle or special power machine operator, is needed to help meet war production schdules in the garment industry. Field jackets, sleeping bags, cartridge and bomber belts, military shirts, and gas mask bags are a few of the hundreds of items important to the war effort for which local garment manufacturers have contracted.

USES interviewers are trained to match the sewing skills of these women to the biggest war jobs they can handle. After the job-seeker's skill is appraised, she is sent to an employer who can utilize it to capacity.

Not only are fully qualified power machine operators in demand, but apprentices are being accepted. Hundreds of beginners, who started only a few months ago at base pay, now have advanced to responsible positions. Their places are being given to inexperienced learners.

Other jobs which contribute heavily to the war program include those opportunities recently opened to women in the shipyards. Negro women who have a desire to work at the same type of duties assigned to men should investigate the Helper program. One may become a helper to a boilermaker, carpenter, shipfitter or arc welder. Under a carefully supervised program, these workers are tested for their progress and ability, and after six months have as much opportunity to secure journey rating as the male workers.

The apprentice program also enables women to learn operations in rubber processing, in aluminum plants, and in the machine shops which supply tools and parts to aircraft and shipbuilding contractors.

Christian said that not only mechanical and technical, but professional and clerical abilities of Negro men and women as well are needed in the war effort. Already the West Coast war plants are using them in responsible jobs commensurate with their abilities.

Job-seekers rae urged to make inquiry at the nearest United States Employment Service office of the War Manpower Commission. The Los Angeles branch of this Federal chain is located at 1100 South Flower Street.

Mrs. Annie Wagner, of Oakland, California, is spending a few weeks visiting friends in and around Los Angeles. Mrs. Wagner, former resident of Riverside, has been living in Oakland for past few years.

Mrs. Mary E. Fowlkes, former Angeleno, now residing in Oakland, spent a few days in city last week. Mrs. Fowlkes combined business with pleasure and had an enjoyable visit.

A Surgeon's Fight To Rebuild Men—Albee

Honors, decorations, recognition, fame have come to Dr. Albee from all parts of the globe. He sprang into international fame during the First World War because he could mend a broken leg that refused to heal, fasten together a fractured elbow, perform miracles of bone surgery. His autobiography is the story of his early years as a pioneer of medicine and of his steady rise at the important field he occupies today as one of the great physicians of our time.

Yesterday's Madness —Cockrell

Phyllis and Ives Marshall were married not for love, but for convenience. Phyllis, a young widow, had found herself about to bear her lover's child. Ive's engagement had been broken and his fiancee married another man. These two childhood friends pooled their disillusionment in a legal form that was never intended to be permanent. Together they returned to their home town to live.

Klondike Mike—Denison

Klondike Mike Mahoney is one of the few men who went to Alaska in the big gold rush, struck it rich, and managed to come out with his stake intact. He knew Robert Service and one of his treks inspired the poem, "The Cremation of Sam McGee". Other well known characters in the book are Jack London, Soapy Smith, and Tex Rickard.

George Washington Carver—Holt

Few men present as magnificent a subject for American biography as George Washington Carver of Tuskegee. His genius, patient and pure, ranks him with the great men of the century. His profound knowledge of botany, agriculture and soil economy enabled him to devise ways of helping the economically submerged South to better ways of living.

One Destiny—Stong

The story of a small Iowa town, and its reaction to the morning of December 7, 1941. The moving geniusness of the people and the story, and the warm sence of American soil and American folk which this novel conveys make it one of the high spots in contemporary fiction.

A committee of the Board of Managers of the Branch, chaired by A. J. Williams and including George E. Bryant and H. A. Howard is arranging an outstanding musical program to complete an afternoon of inspiring addresses, introductions, and recognitions. Mrs. Myrtle Brown Franklin, former member of the faculty at Western University Kansas City, Kansas, stated today that plans were completed for a Mass Meeting and reunion this Sunday Afternoon at 3:30 at 801 Towne Avenue, for former students, teachers, and interested friends of Western University.

This school is one of the twelve operated by the African Methodist Church. Upon its grounds in Civil War days was located a station of the Underground Railroad. For the past three decades the State of Kansas conducted an Industrial Department in the School. Effective this June this department will be disbanded and the entire University will be operated exclusively by the African Methodist Episcopal Church. Prior to coming to the pastorate of the First A. M. E. Church here, Rev. Frederick D. Jordan was the President of the Institution. He will tell of the plans now being developed for the University.

Rev. And Mrs. H. B. Gantt Angel City Visitors

Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Gantt are culminating a two week vacation in our city as the house guest of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gantt, and grandson, Gordon Clifford Gantt, Jr. They plan to leave for San Francisco Thursday morning, May 13

Rev. Gantt is pastor of the First A. M. E. Zion Church in San Francisco where he is doing a great work. Since coming to San Francisco October 4, 1941, he has added 283 members to the church, and the mortgage has been reduced from $19,000 to less than $14,000. Bishop Brown states: He was very pleased with the work Rev. Gantt is doing up north. Mrs. Gantt is an accomplished musician, vocal and instrumental. Rev. Gantt was a resident and pastor in Los Angeles for 15 years, where he worked and was well liked by all with whom he came in contact. He is a good pastor, a fearless gospel preacher, a christian gentleman. We welcome Rev. Gantt, his wife and family to Los Angeles at all times. I know if he is given the cooperation from his members and friends, he will do a great work in San Francisco.

If in San Francisco, visit the First A. M. E. Zion Church, or call Rev. H. B. Gantt, West 1416, or residence, 2390 Post Street. He will endeavor to find a stopping place for you; go see your sick; give you any possible advice; bury your dead; or perform marriage ceremonies for your sons or daughters. He is ready, and willing to serve.

The San Francisco news will be reported in this paper each week by Rev. Gantt. Rev. Gantt will head the contemplated North California Branch Office of the California Eagle, which is to be opened some time in the near future.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" will be the Sunday Lesson-Sermon subject in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text from II Corinthians reads: "Henceforth know we no man after the flesh."

The experience of Jacob as he journeyed from Beer-sheba to Haran is told in a selection from Genesis. It is reported that when he came to a certain place he lay down to sleep, "and he dreamed, and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold the angels of God ascending and descending on it. And, behold, the Lord stood above it, and said, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac: the land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed; . . . And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest. . . And Jacob awaked out of his sleep and he said, Surely the Lord is in this place; and I knew it not."

This definition from "Science and and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is included: "Angels. God's thoughts passing to man; spiritual intuitions, pure and perfect; the inspiration of goodness, purity, and immortality, counteracting all evil, sensuality, and mortality."

Memorials Presented to Pasadena's First AME

A series of memorials have been presented to First A. M. E. Church of Pasadena since Palm Sunday, April 21, 1943. On that Sunday a beautiful altar of unexcelled craftsmanship was presented to the Church by Mrs. Fannie Farrow in memory of George D. Farrow, her late husband, who for many years was Treasurer of the Church. On Easter Sunday in a Sunrise Communion and Dedicatorial service, a beautiful Communion constructed by the same craftsmen was presented by Mrs. Ada Brownlee in memory of her late husband and his former wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Brownlee. Mr. Brownlee was also an outstanding member of First A. M. E. Church and was for many years a Trustee and custodian of the Church. On last Sunday, Mother's Day, a priceless stained glass window was presented to the Church by Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong, honoring her mother, Mrs. Mollie C. H. Moore and memorializing her late father, Mr. Jas. C. Moore. The unveiling and dedication took place at the eleven o'clock service just before Dr. E. J. Odom, Director and General Secretary of Evangelism of the A. M. E. Church, was presented to deliver the Mother's Day Message.

First A. M. E. Church is grateful to these farsighted doners of useful and inspiring gifts. The Men's Day and 55th Anniversary celebration, which has been in progress for three weeks, will close on Sunday evening with the showing of Cecil B. DeMille's greatest motion picture production, "King of Kings".

The books of the Old Testament were originally written in Hebrew. A small portion of the books of Daniel, Ezra, and Jeremiah were written in Biblical Aramaic. However, today we do not have a single trace of the original manuscripts of these books.

The first mention of writing is found in Exodus 17:14. Soon after this the law written by the finger of God was given the Israelites. But before this, Moses had already written the book of Genesis while on the desert of Midian while tending his flocks in that wilderness soliture. It is generally believed that the book of Job was in written form before this.

The New Testament was written in the current language of the time. It was written in Greek. The Biblical Greek and the classical Greek differ because the language of the apostles and evangelists was fired by the influence of Christianity, and consequently received a character altogether distinct from the classical or secular Greek. The Greek language, fortunately, was flexible enough to permit a transformation under the guidance of the inspiration of godly truth.

Oldest Scripture Writings

Our oldest Scripture writings now in existence were written on papyrus or vellum. The papyrus is a tall, bamboo-like plant which grows in the Nile region in Egypt. The pith of this plant was sliced in thin, smooth strips, then laid crossways at right angles and pressed into a sheet. This was mother to our present pulp paper, and was used by the Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans.

Pastor of Independent Church Tells People Delinquent Score

Efforts of the members of the People's Independent Church, and its pastor, aided by interested citizens for the past four years, struggled to establish a boys' home. It came about not merely in point of establishing a boys' home, but other collateral circumstances which seemed to suggest that unless some provision was made Negro boys passing through the Juvenile Courts, in many instances, they would be left out in the cold.

Last Sunday's eleven o'clock sermon by Pastor Russell dealt with statistics showing not only the need for the present boys' home, but expansion and develpoment of it in proportion to the growing problem for shelter and protection for Negro youth.

I. Delinquency Among Racial Groups

Estimated percentage of school population. White: Boys 81%, Girls 81%; Mexican: Boys 15%, Girls 15%; Negro: Boys 3.5%, Girls 3.5%.

Number of Juvenile Court cases in 1942. White: Boys 2,441, Girls 956; Mexican: Boys 928, Girls 322; Negro: Boys 344, Girls 104.

Percentage of total Juvenile Court cases in 1942. White: Boys 65.1%, Girls 68.2%; Mexican: Boys 24.8%, Girls 23%; Negro: Boys 9.2%, Girls 7.4%.

II. Trend in Total Number of Juvenile Court Cases Filed 1940-1942

Year 1940: Boys 3,020, 100%; Girls 1,043, 100%.

Year 1941: Boys 3,621, 119.9%; Girls 1,141, 109.4%.

Year 1942: Boys 3,748, 124.1%; Girls 1,401, 134.4%

III. Trend in Auto Theft Cases

Boys filed on for auto theft 1941, 722; Boys filed on for auto theft 1942, 562. Decrease 160—(22.2%).

IV. Delinquency Trend Among Racial Groups, 1942 compared with 1941

Year 1942. White: Boys 2,441, Girls 956; Mexican: Boys 928, Girls 322; Negro: Boys 344, Girls 104; Total: Boys 3,748, Girls 1,401.

Year 1941. White: Boys 2,408, Girls 788; Mexican: Boys 927, Girls 256; Negro: Boys 250, Girls 89; Total: Boys 3,621, Girls 1,141.

Increase—White: Boys 33, Girls 168; Mexican: Boys 1, Girls 66; Negro: Boys 94, Girls 89; Total: Boys 127, Girls 260.

% Increase — White: Boys 1.4%, Girls 21.3%; Mexican: Boys 0%, Girls 25.8%; Negro: Girls 37.6%, Girls 16.9%; Total: Boys 3.5%, Girls 22.8%.

Since the 1940 census, the population of the county has increased about 15%.

Most delinquency cases occur in the years from 14 to 17 inclusive. This coincides with the conditions in previous years.

But there is an increase in cases of children under 12, due to parental neglect. There is a slight decrease in the cases of 17-year-old boys.

This statistical study indicates a dangerous trend among white and Mexican girls (21.3% and 25.8% increase respectively in one year), and among Negro boys (37.6% increase boys were expelled from Los Angeles City Schools. A disproportionate number of Negro boys were transferred to the welfare centers.

A study made in Hatford, Connecticut, on some methods of preventing delinquency proved that "No single agency in itself can prevent delinquency. Once a family is broken up . . . a potential delinquency case has been created. Punishment does not straighten out kids; they must be given exciting substitutes for the thrills they find in gangs and dangerous play."

Opportunities for satisfying membership in a group, or club, with a thrilling program and a live adult leader provide one solution to the problem. A study of Los Angeles County discovered 424,000 youth, 9 ot 25 years of age, not enrolled in any known constructive group. Of the 750,000 youth in the County, only 43.5 per cent were in such groups.

The most important factor in delinquency prevention is the improvement of home life. This must come through better housing and a continuous improvement of education for marriage and the home in schools, colleges, churches, and all sorts of community groups.

In a study made in Columbus, Ohio, "Children of divorced parents had a delinquency rate nearly four times as great as children from unbroken homes."

Mulzac Tells Fifty Thousand New Yorkers!

Captain Hugh Mulzac of the trail-blazing Liberty Ship, Booker T. Washington, said a mouthful at the gigantic mass rally of fifty thousand New York City workers Sunday afternoon in famed Yankee stadium.

"Fellow workers," said Mulzac, who is a member of the National Maritime union, "the Booker T. Washington is a symbol of democracy, not only to the United States but everywhere we go.

"We want to show the world that all working people, regardless of race, color or creed could live together and fight together. We are all trade unionists on our ship and we are depending upon you to make the guns to shoot Hitler."

Other Negroes who scored tremendous ovations at the meeting were Councilman Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., and Paul Robeson. Both called for the immediate invasion of western Europe, blasted the defeatist forces in America opposed to the extension of Negro rights and winning the war.

Powell proclaimed, "We do solemnly pledge ourselves that we are going to fight abroad and at home till every fascist force is crushed in the world.

"Tomorrow belongs to we the people. We will fight through unitedly towards victory."

Paul Robeson sang on this occasion before the largest crowd he had ever faced, bringing to the vast labor outpouring songs of the United Nations. Before singing, however, Robeson struck forcefully the "small, but powerful minority" opposed to winning the war.

Other major speakers at the labor victory rally were Sen. Claude Pepper and Mayor Fiorello Laguardia. Chairman of the arrangements committee was Ferdinand C. Smith, Negro vice-president of the National Maritime Union.

Voicing condemnation of the John L. Lewis coal strike, urging full support to the President's war program and blasting the anti-Soviet, anti-second front wail of the nation's copperhead press, the gathering was a major blow for United Nations victory and unity. An important element of its great strength was the demonstration of racial unity apparent throughout. The great bonds, being welded today between the Negro people and organized labor are a rich promise for tomorrow's peace.

Dark Laughter . . . . . BY OL HARRINGTON

Now, Mr. Bootsie, we ain't that dumb. If you was in that raid on Tokyo, why wuzn't your picture in the papers with Jimmy Doolittle?

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

In Germany, the Gestapo put the Star of David on the sleeve of every Jew, so that they could better carry out their reign of terror. In Los Angeles, U. S. A., some police officers need no identification mark. They just determine their victims by the color of their skin.

With the ever growing unity of the American people in our fight against the axis, the reactionary forces, among whom you can find members of the Police Department, have set out in recent months on a systematic campaign to disrupt that unity. The Negroes and Mexicans have been at the butt end of that campaign.

On Thursday, May 6, at 11:45 a.m., two Mexican youths left their place of work at the Pacific Sound Equipment Co., 1534 Cahuenga Blvd., Hollywood, to have their lunch. They stopped in at a store at 1615 Cahuenga to look at some phonograph records. Just as they entered, a policeman, leaving a squad car with two more cops in it, came up behind them and demanded that the youngsters come with them to the police station.

Out on the street, the boys insisted on knowing why they were being "pulled in." "You're zoot-suiters" was the reason given by the cops, according to the boys. The cops wanted to know "why were they in Hollywood—were they were to steal cars or snatch purses?"

The fact that both boys informed these officers of the law that they were employed by a war plant right down the street and were out on their lunch hour, and the fact that they showed their identification tags with their pictures, didn't have the slightest effect upon the treatment they received. Slapping one on the back of the head, the cops threatened both with having their hair clipped, and they were told "before long we're going to set wolf traps for you guys, you're beginning to look like wolves."

Rafael Sabala, 20 years old, one of the youths involved, is married and will shortly have a family to support. He is working in a vital industry so that he may do his part in the war effort. But, he told this columnist, if it means the humiliation of being insulted because he is Mexican and works in "white" territory, he does not know how long he can continue to work there.

Sixteen year old Raymond Plasincia said it is no longer a question of being "outside his territory," but that he cannot even go to the corner store in his own neighborhood for fear of being "picked on" by the police.

The personnel manager of Pacific Sound Equipment Co., Mr. William Belton stated that he protested against this un-American action and that Lt. Winrod of the Hollywood Station informed him that "any Mexican is a good suspect." When told that this war plant employs many Negroes and Mexicans and that if they continue to intimidate these people, the workers would be afraid to work in Hollywood and production would be hampered, the lieutenant was said to have replied: "I guess we are working at cross-purposes—WE (the police) want to get rid of them and YOU (the company) want them!"

Such Hitlerite methods are no better than the barbed wire fences around the ghettos of nazi-conquered Europe—no better than the bourbon lynchers of the South. WE'RE FIGHTING A WAR FOR FREEDOM! LET'S FIGHT IT THEN, WITH EVERY AMERICAN, BLACK, BROWN AND WHITE—AND LET'S GET RID OF THE SABOTEURS ONCE AND FOR ALL TIMES!

We are writing this on Mothers Day: The day when the sons and daughters, who have been somewhat derelict in their duties to the Mater, seek to make amends through flowers, candy and other gifts which they make to her and, as a means by which they seek to asuage their guilt of past indifference. But: better sometimes than never. This thought brings to mind what we intended writing. The influence of women in the present and future patterning of the world in which we are now living and the world in which we are about to enter.

There now is great stress on two phrases "Minority Groups", and "World Democracy". In the solving of both we are more than ever convinced that it is going to take the patient intuitiveness and inate sagasity of women to solve them. If the minority groups—So called—of the United States of America are to solve their problems it will be done by thoughtful planning and not through flights of oratory. Take for instance the numercus mass meetings held in protest of the many inhibitions and discriminations of the Negro group. In that entire audience, comprised mainly of us who know of those facts, there were a very few of the groups we wish to acquaint with those facts. We were in conversation recently with a jurist of the highest court of California. The conversation centered on the African campaign and the troops engaged there-in. Mention was made of the fighting ability of the French. We saw an opening for a question; so we asked the judge "Why should there be minority groups in a democratic form of government?" then we told him that the French forces which he had lauded were black troops of Senegalese and Moroccans. Then the question was put to him. "Could we claim with sincerity and truthfulness to be a democratic government and not give to all the same opportunities. Should there be any class distinction because of race. We, the judge and me are going to have further conversation. It is a fact that majority of whites, many who are influential in communities and deplore the conditions of minorities, they know of the atrocities perpetrated against the Jew and the pitiable plight of refugees in the war torn areas; but right here and under their very noses they have no knowledge of the plight of the Negro. That is unless it is heralded by some criminal act. They know nothing of the worth while achievements of the Negro as a whole. They know of Paul Robeson and Booker T. Washington; Marion Anderson, and a few of the noted Negro as artists but nothing of the great mass who are groping for an opportunity to break through the black cloud to the golden sunlight. There are many who could and would be helpful to the aspirations of people with out regard to race or color. Our weekly papers are a revelation to many of them. When ever my papers fail to be in the mail box on time. We know the reason why and never kick. The carrier has become interested and thinks that we can wait a dry or so. But to revert to our contention: It is to the women of any "Minority Group" to plan for a successful culmination of the problems confronting us. Too much stress must not be laid on the plaints of any one group. The fight must be made for humanity as a whole. A prominent citizen—Not of our race—put this poser to us, "Don't you think that most of the publicity of racial discrimination is developing into a racket?" he asked. The same applies to the question of Labor", he continued. A racket for the benefit of self appointed persons who seek for self agrandizement at the expense of those who follow. WE ARE PLACING OUR FAITH IN THE UNSELFISH INTEGRITY OF OUR WOMEN. In the city of Oakland there is a teacher who has been stationed for eighteen years in one of the city schools. From what we can learn, Mrs. Ada Jackson has an enviable record as an efficient teacher. The move is on foot to obtain for her a position as principal in either the school in which she is teaching or some other of the city schools. We hear that the women of Oakland are taking an active part in that campaign. If so we can look for a successful culmination of the effort.

We have been trying to solve the reason fo rthe defeat of Fay Allen for a return as a member of the Board of Education. From what we are able to glean it seems to be that we have in the city of Los Angeles quite a number of racial Quislings. Too bad!!

The Hon. Fred Roberts, former legislator from the 62nd Legislative district, run in to say "hello" at the State Building. We had quite a little chat over legislation enacted a tthis session and a brief resume of the days when we were together in the Capital city. We notice quite any number of our women acting as conductorettes on the Muny Street Cars. In spite of all that may be said or done it takes the women to do it. We are informed that they have succeeded in squashing the rumor of disaffections between the racial groups in certain housing projects. The proof is that entire harmony exists and that there has been no trouble whatever. We are with you women, trust your sagasious sanity in the solving of every question.

We have on our desk a copy of the Reporter. A journalistic venture of Messrs Albert White and Frank Logan, editors and publishers. We hope for them a SUCCESSFUL VOYAGE but warn that the SEA of JOURNALISM is a stormy one and has many treacherous roofs.

The Covenant
Abdul Baha

Dear Mrs. Bass:

Sponsored by the Baha'i Assembly, Mrs. Charles Reed Bishop speaks Sunday, May 16, at 3 p. m., 1709 West 8th Street, on "THE COVENANT: ABDU'L BAHA." Mrs. Bishop points out the meaning of the ministry of this great teacher and educator who visited America in 1912. She says, in part: "Woven into the fabric of the Old and New Testament is the theme of The Covenant of God, which is renewed from age to age. The prophet who bears the testimony of th erenewal of God's Covenant with His creation is the initial point of 'The New Cycle of Human Power' and His Word reveals the new social laws and pattern for the worthcoming cycle of civilization. In the case of each of these cycles of civilization, the major needs of the people of the day are anticipated by the prophet whose intuitive wisdom is added unto the scriptures that prove revelation is progressive. The Baha'i teachings," she continues, "stress the oneness of mankind and the fundamental unity underlying all religions." There are no charges or collections — all are cordially welcome.

Cordially,
Ned Brydon-Jack
Committee Chairman

Dear Friend:

I think that I am one of the legion who believe the reason the noble lady, Mrs. Fay Allen was not elected is, because so many of her supporters who would have rallied to her, are now at the Front, fighting for the causes she so sincerely and capably represents.

The only loss is to the City of Los Angeles, and the Schools are defeated in her inability to carry on the splendid work she has so courageously done.

And may the time be not long distant when her loyal supporters return, as the Board of Education is sorely in need of members of her high character and standards.

Very sincerely yours

Spreading Joy.

By John Fowler

First, I want to pay tribute to the memory of Dr. Anna J. (Baker) Leggett, once acclaimed the pretties girl in Atlanta, Georgia.

The Baker family was one of the first families of Atlanta, and Anna was the life of the family as well as all of the parties. She, and her childhood sweetheart, Jimmie Leggett, climaxed their honeymoon in Los Angeles, some forty years ago. They made Oakland their home prior to returning to Los Angeles, where they had lived, and where Dr. Leggett had rendered valuable service to the church, to the state, and to the community. Her's was a life filled with deeds of kindness and mercy. My heart felt sympathy for those who mourn her passing.

Sunday was Mothers' Day. The one day in the year when every mother's son and daughter should bend a knee, and thank God again for that "grand lady" who went down through the valley and shadow, to bring us into this world.

As I sat at my desk and looked at the smiling face of my dear mother on the photo she had given me; I hardly knew which of the millions of things she had done for me, that I am most grateful for.

I remembered how patient and kind she was when I was a child, and how tolerant and forgiving she was when I was going through school.

Sometimes I think I love her most for the way she took my wife into her heart, and loved her as one of her own daughters, and for the consideration she had shown my choice. I love her for the joy she gave us in the reception of our first son, and later the sister that joined him.

I love her for the family pride she instilled into me as a boy. I was taught that, had I done anything unbecoming to a gentleman, the name of Fowler would be disgraced.

I love her for her way of life; the Christ way she taught me at her knee, and the family altar. "All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my sainted mother."

Among other mothers whose memories I wish to keep alive, and who have long since crossed the bar are: my mother-in-law, Anna Lucas; Mother Talbot, the mother of Mrs. Laura Young; Mother Norris, the mother of Tom Norris; Mother Williams, the mother of Paul Williams; Mother Nelson, the mother of Dr. I. J. Nelson; Mother Roberts, the mother of Fred Roberts; Mother Vena, the mother of Miss Sina Vena; Mother Ramsey, the mother of Mrs. Cora Buck; Mother Scott, the mother of Mrs. Mattie Scott Nelson; Mothers Tilghenan, Hines, Hughes and Brown of Readers Digest fame believe that the Negro Press is a child of Satan.

Another thing is clear. The South cannot be left alone to Mr. Graves and other "liberal" whites such as Mark Ethridge, and Virginius Dabney any more than a sick child can be left alone with a witch-doctor. If it is, then America, the America we love and are ready to die as well as live for, will be sick a long, long time.

MAKE HASTE

"We must crowd the business of an age into the compass of a few months". This is the way Tom Paine summed up the situation in the crucial year of 1777. And this is the way things are today. We just can not use the old time schedule any longer.

It is encouraging that the Negro leaders in the South, who met in Durham last year, recognize that we must go faster and farther. It is encouraging that the White leaders in the South, who met in Atlanta a few days ago, recognize there is a job that must be done. That job is to bring the full power of the people of the South into the war on the side of "justice and liberty for all".

But they have not recognized that they cannot do this and keep that old buzzard Jim Crow alive. It can't be done. It can't be done any more than can India be kept in chains and unarmed. Any more than can the African people be kept tied to the coat tails of European imperialists. This Column is confident that, despite our present snails pace, the people of the South, hand in hand with the people of all America will rise to meet the challenge: "We must crowd the business of an age into the compass of a few months."

Orchids of Merit to Rev. Anna McMillon and Mrs. Desire Clark for their splendid work among the women of Blodgett Manor. I will never forget the wonderful work of Rev. McMillon, when she conducted the "spiritual lighthouse on the avenue where many soul stirring meetings were held. She has a wonderful opportunity to bring the Manor district, and to all South Los Angeles a much needed spiritual awakening.

Following Miss Pauline Slaters pageant, Mrs. Bernice Meadows, of the Watts Unit of the Outdoor Life and Health organization, has some very elaborate plans in store for the Rest Home.

If the motorists who drive on Central Avenue had taken note of my reference to the reckless drivers, as did the many pedestrians that wrote, phoned, and spoke to me about it; some good would surely result.

The way in which many drivers pass a standing car at a cross walk, is another breach of good judgement.

The law says: It is unlawful for one car to pass another when stops are made at a cross walk or street intersection to let pedestrians cross the street. Many times a day cars on Central Avenue dash past a standing car taking chances of striking pedestrians they cannot see until it is to late.

Central Avenue is our street, and it is our duty to make it safe.

"Please Leave Us Alone"

"Your meanest enemy can't hurt you, but watch your closest friends." John Temple Graves and his new book "The Fighting South", make this old folk saying seem full of the wisdom of Solomon.

JTG is a "saintly" white Southerner of an old and influential family. His heart just bleeds for the poor Negro. Things aren't just as they should be. Mr. Graves admits: "The Negro in the South suffers many injustices at the hands of white majorities and as a race is hated by many Southern whites". There is no democracy in the antics of the "KKK, of the flag-waving lunatics — and certain industrialists who are positive the masses must be kept ignorant, non-voting, and unorganized."

But Mr. Graves is about to have the St. Vitus dance for fear someone—especially those Yankees and "uppity Negroes"—will really do something to get rid of pellagra, of ignorance, of lynch terror. It really makes Mr. Graves ill to think some of these "foreigners" might do something to beautify what he says is a "dreary, damned lost land, as hollow-eyed, thin and sick as the people who try to make a living on it for themselves and a down-at-the-heel landlord."

"Please leave us alone", chants Mr. Graves. "Us" pure-hearted whites and good old faithful Uncle Toms will fix things up just like they ought to be. "We want no outside agitation for the unobtainable". I take it the only thing unobtainable is democracy for Negroes.

It isn't quite clear what Mr. Graves would do to make Dixie a real heaven on earth, if the meddlers would just keep their noses out. One thing, however, is clear. He would have us get rid of "the NAACP, the Northern Negro press, the politicians and sentimentalists in high places in Washington and the devoted cross-eyed humanitarians."

Mr. Graves thinks the KKK is nothing to be proud of. But the pains he takes to point out that the motive of the KKK is "the preservation of the law", that "its basis was a belief that people must behave properly," makes me shudder. Does Mr. Graves believe, as he says the Klan does "in honesty and passion", that "... athiests, Communists, Negroes who are uppity, labor leaders, Jews, Catholics ..." are the ones who do not behave properly?

One thing is clear. Mr. Graves and Dr. "Uncle Tom" Warren

"I repeat, Your Honor, I cannot understand it! I have dealt with many a murderer in my long service to the state, but never have I encountered the equal of this. So eager was this demented savage to rape and kill that he forgot the only thing that might have helped him to escape; that is, the money he had stolen from the dead body of Mary Dalton, which was in the pocket of Bessie Mears' dress. He took the ravished body of that poor working girl — the money was in her dress, I say— and dumped it four floors down an air-shaft. The doctors told us that the girl was not dead when she hit the bottom of that shaft; she froze to death later, trying to climb out!

"Your Honor, I spare you the ghastly details of these murders. The witnesses have told all.

"But I demand, in the name of the people of this state, that this man die for these crimes!

"I demand this so that others may de deterred from similar crimes, so that peaceful and industrious people may be safe. Your Honor, millions are waiting for your word! They are waiting for you to tell them that jungle law does not prevail in this city! They want you to tell them that they need not sharpen their knives and load their guns to protect themselves. They are waiting, Your Honor, beyond that window! Give them your word so that they can, with calm hearts, plan for the future! Slay the dragon of doubt that causes a million hearts to pause tonight, a million hands to tremble as they lock their doors!

"When men are pursuing their normal rounds of duty and a crime as black and bloody sa this is committed, they become paralyzed. The more horrible the crime, the more stunned, shocked and dismayed is the tranquil city in which it happens; the more helpless the citizens before it.

"Restore confidence to these of us who will survive, so that we may go on and reap the rich harvest of life. Your Honor, in the name of Almighty God, I plead with you to be merciful to us!"

Buckley's voice boomed in Bigger's ears and he knew what the loud commotion meant when the speech had ended. In the back of the room several newspapermen were scrambling for the door. Buckley wiped his red face and sat down. The judge rapped for order, and said:

"Court will adjourn for one hour."

Max was on his feet.

"Your Honor, you cannot do this... Is it your intention.... More time is needed... You...

"The Court will give its decision then," the judge said.

There were shouts. Bigger saw Max's lips moving, but he could not make out what he was saying. Slowly, the room quieted. Bigger saw that the expressions on the faces of the men and women were different now. He felt that the thing had been decided. He knew that he was to die.

"Your Honor," Max said, his voice breaking from an intensity of emotion. "It seems that for careful consideration of the evidence and discussion submitted, more time is..."

"The Court reserves the right to determine how much time is needed, Mr. Max," the judge said.

He did not know how he get back into the little room; but when he was brought in he saw the tray of food still there, uneaten. He sat down and looked at the six policemen who stood silently by. Guns hung from their hips. Ought he to try to snatch one and shoot himself? But he did not have enough spirit to respond positively to the idea of self-destruction. He was paralyzed with dread.

Max came in, sat, and lit a cigarette.

"Well, son, We'll have to wait. We've got an hour."

There was a banging on the door.

"Don't let any of those reporters in here," Max told a policeman.

"O. K."

Minutes passed. Biggers head began to ache with the suspense of it. He knew that Max had nothing to say to him and he had nothing to say to Max. He had to wait; that was all; wait for something he knew was coming. His throat tightened. He felt cheated. Why did they have to have a trial if it had to end this way?

"Well, I reckon it's all over for me now," Bigger sighed, speaking as much for himself as for Max.

"I don't know," Max said.

"I know," Bigger said.

"Well, let's wait."

"He's making up his mind too quick. I know I'm going to die."

"I'm sorry, Bigger. Listen, why don't you eat?"

"I ain't hungry."

"This thing isn't ever yet. I can ask the Governor..."

"It ain't no use. They got me."

"I know."

Max said nothing. Bigger leaned his head upon the table and closed his eyes. He wished Max would leave him now. Max had done all he could. He should go home and forget him.

The door opened.

"The judge'll be ready in five minutes."

Max stood up. Bigger looked at his tired face.

"All right, son. Come on."

Walking between policemen, Bigger followed Max back into the courtroom. He did not have time to sit down before the judge came. He remained standing until the judge was seated, then he slid weakly into his chair. Max rose to speak, but the judge lifted his hand for silence.

"Will Bigger Thomas rise and face the Court?"

The room was full of noise and the judge rapped for quiet. With trembling legs, Bigger rose, feeling in the grip of a nightmare.

"Is there any statement you wish to make before sentence is passed upon you?"

He tried to open his mouth to answer, but could not. Even if he had had the power of speech, he did not know what he could have said. He shook his head, his eyes blurring. The courtroom was profoundly quiet now. The judge wet his lips with his tongue and lifted a piece of paper that crackled loudly in the silence.

"In view of the unprecedented disturbance of the public mind, the duty of this Court is clear," the judge said and paused.

Bigger groped for the edge of the table with his hand and clung to it.

"In Number 666-983, indictment for murder, the sentence of the Court is that you, Bigger Thomas, shall die on or before midnight of Friday, March third, in a manner prescribed by the laws of this State.

"This Court finds your age to be twenty."

"The Sheriff may retire with the prisoner."

Bigger understood every word; and he seemed not to react to the words, but to the judge's face. He did not move; he stood looking up into the judge's white face, his eyes not blinking. Then he felt a hand upon his sleeve; Max was pulling him back into his seat. The room was in an uproar. The judge rapped with his gavel. Max was on his feet, trying to say something; there was too much noise and Bigger could not tell what it was. The handcuffs were clicked upon him and he was led through the underground passage back to his cell. He lay on the cot and something deep down in him said, It's all over now... It's all over...

Later on the door opened and Max came in and sat softly beside him on the cot. Bigger turned his face to the wall.

"I'll see the Governor, Bigger. It's not over yet..."

"Go 'way," Bigger whispered.

"You've got to..."

"Naw. Go 'way..."

He felt Max's hand on his arm; then it left. He heard the steel door clang shut and he knew that he was alone. He did not stir; he lay still, feeling that by being still he would stave off feeling and thinking, and that was what he wanted above all right now. Slowly, his body relaxed. In the darkness and silence he turned over on his back and crossed his hands upon his chest. His lips moved in a whimper of despair.

"Chas. Edwards and His Visit To Berlin Germany"

By Charles Edwards
(An Exclusive California Eagle Serial)

HITLER SPEAKS!

The California Eagle takes sincere pride in presenting the first public presentation of the mission fulfilled by America's number one youth leader, Charles Edwards, on his "Assignment to Berlin." What has gone on before Mr. Edwards recalled your memory to December, 1941, when war was declared. He now attempts to expose the facts of why. He recalled his dramatic journey through Berlin, Germany, between May, 1937, and September, 1939, during which time he was granted a personal interview with Adolf Hitler. The purpose of his interview was to try to understand and explain to the World Christian Youth Conference the aspirations of the German government.

Mr. Edwards told of "Mein Kampf"—not revealing nearly all of Hitler's plans. He has entered the reich capital and has gained entrance into the private office of the Chancellor. Many questions have passed between Mr. Hitler and Mr. Edwards, among them being the future of Europe and the rest of the world and Germany's part in creating a new order.

Herr Hitler, continued his conversation on his opinion of the American government. The beginning of a great new social order based on the principle of equality were destroyed by the Civil War in America, and also the embryo of a future truly great America that would not have been ruled by a corrupt caste of tradesmen, but by a real class that would have swept away all the falsities of slavery. I asked him "What about the equality of races"? That word "equality," seemed to lash him into a fury. "Equality of whom"? he shouted. "Of the descendants of old Spanish ruling families and of Swedish settlers with the degenerate masses from Poland, Bohemia, Hungary, with the scum of East Baltic and Balkan Jewry? . . . But I am firmly convinced that in a certain section of the American middle class and the farmers, the sound fighting spirit of colonial days has not been extinguished. We must awaken that spirit. It has not yet been destroyed. The wholesome aversion for the Negroes and the colored races in general, including the Jews, the existence of popular justice, the naivete of the average American, but also the skepticism of certain intellectual circles who have found their wisdom vain; scholars who have studied immigration and gained an insight, by means of intelligence test, into the inequality of the races all these strains are an assurance that the sound elements of the United States will one day awaken as they have awakened in Germany. National Socialism alone is destined to liberate the American people from their ruling elique and give them back the means of becoming a great nation." Hitler had grown animated. All other conversation died away. "I shall," he continued, "undertake this task simultaneously with the restoration of Germany, to her leading position in the world, and in America. . . . In what sense in America"? I asked Hitler. "Have you forgotten that the declaration of Germany as the national language was lost by only one voice in Congress? The German component of the American people will be the source of its political and mental resurrection. The American people is not yet a nation in the ethnographical disparate elements. But it is the raw material of a nation. And the Yankees have failed to create a nation from it. They have instead kept their noses in their moneybags. Today this is being avenged. Their difficulties will become insuperable." "Do you mean," I asked, "that the German-American, rejuvenated by National Socialism, will be called to lead a new America?" . . . "That is exactly what I mean," Hitler returned. "And that is exactly why I wanted to see you, Mr. Edwards. "We shall soon have an S. A. in America. We shall train our youth. And we shall have men whom degenerate American southerners will not be able to challenge. Into the hands of our youth will be given the great statesmanlike mission of Washington which this corrupt democracy has trodden under foot." "But if you do this, would you not very greatly complicate your own struggle in Europe?" I asked, "and will not the powerful families become your bitterest enemies? I am apprehensive that your great plans will be shattered before they have time to ripen." Hitler became excited.

"SUN AND SAND CARAVAN"

As the opening event on the desert Negro co-ed program of the "Sun and Sand Caravan," new USO Mobile Service unit, a dance was held recently at the Coachella USO Club, to which enlisted men from Thermal Air Base were invited.

USO girls from the Los Angeles Eastside Club and from the San Bernardino Court Street Club were asked to attend the week-end events as hostesses. Miss Violet Aldridge of Los Angeles, and Miss Albertina Parrish of San Bernardino were in charge as directors. The girls arrived by bus Saturday evening and were met by Mrs. Marguerite Van Derwerker, head of the Sun and Sand Caravan and Lt. John Christ, special service officer.

Following dinner at the army air base, the girls returned to Coachella for the evening's dance. A seven-piece orchestra had been provided by the army, and a dance contest was held during the evening as part of the entertainment. After the dance the girls spent the night at the Indio USO Club where army cots and bedding were donated by the army. Sunday breakfast was served at the base after which the girls returned to Coachella for swimming and a matinee dance. By two o'clock they were on their way back to their destination.

Through a tri-cornered scheme of operation, these week-end dances are made possible. Mrs. Van Derwerker, in her office in Palm Springs, and in her field work on the desert, confers with directors of the USO Clubs which provide the girls and also with the special service oficers of the various army divisions on the desert. Arrangements are mapped out in detail before ever a girl steps foot on a desert-bound bus.

The primary aim of the new USO Mobile unit will be to extend and expand the present program of bringing girls from desert towns and outlaying communities of Los Angeles to the desert area.

Mrs. Van Derwerker will be drawing upon her own experiences as past director of both the Long Beach and the Santa Ana USO Clubs, plus those of the Desert Battalion, a Los Angeles organization, headed by Mrs. Dorothy Wilkinson, which pioneered co-ed events in this area. Plans are for a running schedule of dances and other recreation every weekend at some army camp, air base, or USO club on the desert. Laurence Johnson, West Coast Representative of the National USO Mobile Service, is directly in charge of the operations of the Sun and Sand Caravan.

American Woodmen Anniversary Program A Success

The American Woodmen held their 42nd Anniversary Sunday May 2, at The Progressive Baptist Church, Rev. C. A. Hemphill presided, with Mrs. Kathryn Graham, wife of Supreme Court Clerk as mistress of ceremonies.

A brief talk was made by S. P. Johnson explaining the founding and history of The Woodmen and their achievements during the 42 years of service to mankind.

All of the members were happy to have J. E. Rector back after his long seige of illness, proving that GOD does heal us, and he introduced Sup. Eugene Robinson who gave a wonderful talk on Fraternalism during this World Crisis, and that there are millions of humans today who are expressing the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man to one another.

The church choir rendered several beautiful numbers and we always enjoy hearing praises sung to God.

Those appearing on the program were, opening prayer, J. E. Rector for devine guidance during the coming year, pledge allegience to the flag, Miss Mary Bowden, reading Nor. Rebecca Anderson, musical numbers by Nor. Viola Hubbard and Nor. Norris Stokes.

The pastor, Rev. R. B. Porter gave a wonderful message, and welcomed the Woodmen to his place of worship.

The highlight of the day was 10 applications of those who want to join us in expressing the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man, helping us to build a larger and better American Woodmen.

The Woodmen wish to thank all who attended, and helped them to make the program a success, and we hope all enjoy good health and happiness and divine guidance in all your efforts.

M. W. Thornton, Sr.
"Mayor of Beale Street"

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 7.—In recognition of his many outstanding contributions to the people of Memphis, Matthew W. Thornton, Sr., "Mayor of Beale Street," will be tendered a birthday tribute Sunday, May 16th, on occasion of his 70th birthday anniversary. Ceremonies, scheduled to be held at the city's largest high school, Booker Washington, will take on national significance as friends from all over the country send messages of greetings.

William C. Handy, of New York, famed as "Father of the Blues," is expected to be present in person. It was through Mr. Thornton that Mr. Handy came to Memphis as a young man from Mississippi, and launched a musical career that has produced the "St. Louis Blues," and other song hits heard the world over.

Prof. George W. Henderson, the eminent educator in the field of business administration, who founded the now nationally known Henderson Business College, was influenced to come to Memphis by "Mayor" Thornton.

This venerable leader has been outstanding in virtually every area of community service during the past forty years, and only recently, when Memphis Negroes raised a Million Dollars in purchase of War Bonds, was responsible for the sale of $40,000 worth of bonds individually. He is in the employ of the U. S. Postal service here, a position he has held for many years.

The birthday program will include addresses by city and county officials of Memphis and Shelby County, and an array of leaders of both races in many walks of life. Messages of congratulations from friends can be sent in care of the Memphis World, 388 Beale Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee.

Z. L. Bonner, real estate man and confidant of "Mayor" Thornton, is general chairman of the Birthday Celebration Committee.

READ JESSIE MAE BROWN'S "WHAT'S DOING IN THE YOUNGER SET" in the society section even if you're eighty instead of eighteen. It is newsy, cheerful, refreshing, just like a drink of cool spring water; reflects her sincere, sparkling, unaffected personality! She's one of UCLA's most brilliant students, yet manages to work in defense also. Which reminds me of the fact that there are a number of other faithful columnists and reporters scattered around on this and the other papers. Without them, the local publishers would have to do some hurried and expensive importing (even then they might pull a blank in the cross-continental gamble)—I'll give you a pen picture of each of them next issue (not the publishers—the writers). Which in turn reminds me tnat the few papers here should not fight each other, but fight the common enemy, prejudice and discrimination, without: misconduct, racial treachery, envy, disunity, within, like the occupants of the Trojan horse. Like the dailies, they should pool enough dough to buy time on the radio with this commercial: "Read some colored paper each week, and learn what your race is doing and trying to do.

HALL JOHNSON IN N. Y. FOR "CHILLUN"—Hall Johnson left last week, May 5th, for New York, to prepare for the opening of "Run Little Chillun," there on a larger scale than its initial N. Y. performance, or the Federal version which ran for a year here. Clarence Muse, who will direct it, will follow a little later. Only a few of the Hall Johnson singers here on the coast are to go, according to report, in order to keep the coast group intact. Among them will be Bertha Powell, one of the original singers, who came here for "Green Pactures" in 1935. As for pictures there is a big lull so far as calls for colored players are concerned.

IN "ROGER TOUHY" AT TWENTIETH Century-Fox, a few colored players worked a week ago in a prison sequence. They were Haasan Said, the native African, Elias English, Jas. Adamson, Jesse Graves, Thos. It is a drama starring Preston Foster and Lois Andrews, directed by Robert Florey.

Another All-Negro Musical In The Making

NEW YOSK, May 9—George Hale, a gentleman of good intentions, is the latest to fall under the Saroyan spell. Mr. Hale has no intention of establishing another Saroyan theater, but his idea is to build an all-Negro musical comedy out of the best features of "Razzle-dazzle," "Human Ballet," "Opera and Circus," and others of Saroyan's works.

In case you don't associate Saroyan with the Negro theater, let it be revealed that he wrote the sketches for a colored show which the late Bela Blau and Vincente Minnelli planned to do back in 1939. All the material desired for the Hale venture has been made available to him, according to Harold Matson, Saroyan's agent, and most of the show has already been mapped out by the author.

Lincoln Theatre Celebrates 1st Month Of Stage Shows

Beginning this Saturday, May 15th, the Lincoln Theatre will celebrate its first full month of stage shows, during this past month, thousands of happy patrons have said and declared that these shows are the best cure for the tired hard working people of the war industries, defense plants and other nerve wracking labors, these shows they say, make you forget your worries, put your blues aside and just relax. The patrons have acclaimed "Pigmeat" Markham and Jimmie Baskette, the funniest two men to hit the west coast since the days of "Bilo and Ashes". Along with Pigmeat and Baskette, the Lincoln Theatre has developed a line of twelve beautiful dancing girls and believe me they have been the talk of the town. Their dancing has captured the hearts of the people, because they are all Los Angeles Girls, and everyone likes to see their home town girls go to town.

Jimmie Marshall, formerly of the Apollo Theatre in New York is responsible for the new policy at the Lincoln, that is two first run pictures and a grand stage show, it was he (Jimmie) who declared that the people of Los Angeles deserved the best in entertainment, and he has certainly tried to give them the best. Jimmie Marshall, sent to Chicago for Pigmeat, who was playing at the Regal theatre there, then he sent to New York for Jimmie Baskette, who at the time was playing at the Apollo theatre, after much persuasion and long distance telephoning, Jimmie got their O.K. that they would both be in Los Angeles to open the Lincoln theatre on April 17th now that is all history as they both arrived and the Lincoln theatre presented its first stage show "Harlem Scandals". After that first show Pigmeat and Jimmie Baskette were made favorites of Los Angeles, because they had the house rocking with laughter and it has continued every night since their famous opening.

So beginning Saturday night with their first celebration, Jimmie Marshall promises that Pigmeat and Baskette will have the patrons rolling in the Aisles with laughter because Little Margaret Hart will produce the dances, which she says will be something new and, novel. Pigmeat will produce the comedy scenes, Bardu Ali and his band will swing out with new tunes, the costumes will be the most beautiful yet seen on our girls and the scenery will make you gasp with astonishment. So all in all it looks as though the patrons of the Lincoln theatre will be in for the treat of their lives next week. So come out and celebrate with pigmeat.

The cooling system at the Lincoln theatre is rapidly being put in order, to insure you of a pleasant time while witnessing the show.

Should anything or anyone make your stay at the Lincoln theatre unpleasant, please report it to the management. We are happy to say that you may witness a show at the Lincoln with a quiet atmosphere prevailing at all times, come over and be convinced.

"Mission to Moscow" on L. A. Screen

Heralded as one of the monumental movies of our time, Warner Bros. "Mission to Moscow," based on the best-selling book by former Ambassador Joseph E. Davies, now playing at Warners Hollywood, Downtown and Wiltern theaters.

With more than 140 speaking parts, "Mission to Moscow" has one of the largest casts in film history, headed by Walter Houston, Ann Harding, George Tobias, Oscar Homolka, Gene Lockhart, Helmut Dantine, Eleanor Parker, and Richard Travis.

The film tells the story of Ambassador Davies' journey to Russia, from January, 1936 to 1938. Walter Huston is seen as Mr. Davies and Ann Harding as Mrs. Davies.

Opening with the League of Nations assembly meeting in Geneva, in June, 1936, "Mission to Moscow" swings to many places of hsitoric interest, including the White House; the State Department; 10 Downing Street; the Kremlin; Red Square; and the U. S. Embassy in Moscow; Stalingrad, Odessa, Kharkov, and Leningrad; Russian factories and Berlin.

Authentically reproduced to the minutest detail are such world-stirring events as the Russian purge trials of 1938; Ambassador Davies' meetings with Joseph Stalin, Churchill, and finally the Ambassador's personal report to President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Important world personages who are depicted in the film include President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Premier Joseph Stalin, Anthony Eden, Kalinin, Molotov, Litvinov, Timoshenko, Cordell Hull, Pederewski, and many more.

"Mission to Moscow" was directed by Michael Curtiz, and produced by Robert Buckner, from the screen play by Howard Kosh.

"Edge of Darkness," with Errol Flynn and Ann Sheridan, is now playing through Tuesday, May 11th, at Warners Hollywood, Downtown and Wiltern theaters.

"Cabin In the Sky" Excellent Entertainment

Times will not permit full justice done to MGM's much discussed all-colored cast feature, "Cabin in the Sky," which hit the local field after its release a month ago, following the world premiere at Dallas, Texas. This reviewer caught it at Loew's State on opening night, with a capacity house, at first evening performance, and a long line-up for the second. Other houses at which it opened simultaneously were Carthay Circle, Grauman's Chinese, The Ritz, and the Rivoli. The Loews State and the Rivoli, had the largest crowds of sepia fans being closer to the eastside and westside Negro districts.

The billing, both on the screen and the advertising was properly itemized, with Ethel Waters, Rochester, Lena Horne, Louis Armstrong, Rex Ingram, Duke Ellington and his orchestra, The Hall Johnson Choir, in accordance both with their degree of fame and importance to the film. Phantasy that it is, it is a great deal easier for one to get into the spirit of it than, the stage version, because of the technical effects impossible behind the footlights. As a wholeit is excellent entertainment, and has proven to be a fine vehicle for the talents and versatility of the notable cast.

Like "Green Pastures," the screen materialization of the eternal war between good and evil is the story of a wayward, morally weak husband, receiving final redemption through the prayers of an adoring, religious and faithful wife. Ethel Waters as "Petunia" the wife even outdid former roles which gave her the name of one of America's greatest dramatic actresses. Her voice both in dialogue and song was wonderful; — Rochester dispelled previous doubts as to his ability to portray the wavering dependant "Joe," when drama instead of comedy called; Lena Horne, whose natural beauty was the asset most needed for the temptress Georgia Brown sang "Honey in the honey-comb," well; Buck of Buck and Bubbles, Ernest Whitman, Nicodemus, Bill Bailey, Mantan Moreland, Butterfly McQueen, Clinton Rosamond, Rubye Dandridge, and all in lesser roles were excellent.

Rex Ingram made a still more impressive "Lucifer Jr." than on the stage, while his moral opposite "Kenneth Spencer" as "the Lord's General" was very impressive. Vincente Minelli, director did a good job with the Arthue Freed production.

BURLEY, WILLIAMS IN HOLLYWOOD MIX

THOMPSON, WORLDS TO TRADE PUNCHES TUESDAY AT OLYMPIC

The outstanding heavyweight fight of the nation will be staged at Olympic Auditorium next Tuesday night (May 18) when Clayton Worlds of Chicago, conqueror of Pat Comiskey, trades punches with our own Turkey Thompson, booming heavyweight, whom California claims is the logical contender for Joe Louis' heavyweight title.

A near capacity crowd is expected to attend the fistic fireworks.

Worlds, who is 23 years of age, has engaged in seven pro fights, and has showed he is a capable ringman by defeating the well regarded Pat Comiskey, Jersey Irishman, several months ago at Chicago Stadium before 13,000

Comiskey was the favorite in the betting, and the towering Worlds handed the Eastern heavyweight a sound lacing.

Comiskey had scored knockouts over some of the best fighters along the Atlantic Coast.

He's a Giant

Worlds turned pro last August, after winning the Chicago city Golden Gloves heavyweight crown. He defeated Big Boy Brown of Detroit in the semi-finals. Brown, a cousin of Joe Louis, has since turned pro and has been going great guns.

Worlds stands six feet, five inches. He weighs around the 205-pound mark. He has been working the past few days at Main street Gym, and displays dazzling speed for a heavyweight. Some say he is the fastest big fellow since Tommy Loughran's hey-day. He is boxing with Charley Burley, Chuck Crowell and Johnny O'Teris.

The Windy City heavyweight whips an uppercut at close quarters, and has a snappy left hand that he peppers away with machine like rapidity. Burley is one of the classiert boxers in the game and World's doesn't slow up against the Minneapolis speed ball one bit during their speedy drills.

Has One Loss

In his pro debut, Worlds punched out an eight round decision over Bill Peterson at Marigold Gardens, Chicago. The lanky speed burner stepped out of the amateurs and into the pro ranks with top billing. His first pro fight was a main event. He drew in his second meeting with Peterson, over the 10-round distance and defeated Altus Allen in his third fight, also a 10-round contest.

Allen, known as a terrific puncher, chiled Johnny Paycheck, who fought Joe Louis for the title. Paycheck retired after Allen flattened him.

Only loss Worlds suffered was to Sgt. Joe Muscato, dropping a close 8 round decision. His last fight was his smashing triumph over Comiskey at the Chicago Stadium.

Worlds is a mild mannered, pleasant fellow. He attended Wendell Phillips high school for three years in Chicago. He was a star center on the basketball team.

May Go East

Tommy O'Loughlin, who brou Tommy O'Loughlin, who brought Burley to the Coast, is managing the Illinois giant.

In his last Olympic bout the wide shouldered Turkey stopped the clock for Jack Marshall of Texas. Prior to that Thompson knocked out Gus Dorazio at Oakland. Two months ago Thompson cooled Eddie Blunt at Oakland.

Cal Working, manager of Turkey Thompson, has hopes of getting a Madison Square Garden shot for Thompson this summer against Tami Mauriello, but the shifty Worlds may upset the well laid plans of Working and the Turkey.

BOXING STEPS FORWARD

The following editorial appeared last week in the official program of the Olympic auditorium here, and apparently was written by affable Gene Vinassa, the publicity chief:

"What Is the Great American Game? Boxing or Baseball?

"We often have heard that BASEBALL was the great American game! Just how American is a game that does not allow all Americans to participate in it?

"Organized baseball has been closed to Negro players; they are not allowed to play and earn a living in a game that supposedly is American. Negro fans are allowed to pay their money to see the game. Negro men and women are serving this country in essential war jobs. Negroes are competing in every other sport and are a credit to their race.

"How can a game call itself American and at the same time discriminate against Americans?

"Negroes are not discriminated against in our armed forces; they fight with great honor. What kind of an American can deny them the right to earn a living playing baseball?

"Boxing CAN be called the Great American Game. Negro boxers are performing in all the leading arenas throughout the country and hold enviable records. They are not discriminated against!

"Let's get together and call BOXING the GREAT AMERICAN GAME!"

"GET BACK TO GOD"—IN SPORTS!

A highly respected wearer of the cloth told his Sunday congregation that our soldiers, fighting and dying on the far-flung battlefields of the world, are not oblivious to the hypocrisy here at home. To the home folks their battle cry is "Get Back to God," the congregation heard him say.

That, of course, means "getting back to God—in sports, too." A Christian nation can't continue to keep some of her citizens from enjoying their rights under the law. The America we know can't continue to keep the Negro out of organized baseball and return to God as her fighting and dying soldiers desire.

Wendell Willkie, in his book, "One World," knows whereof he speaks when he says that nothing will be won in the peace which is not now won in the war.

L. A. IN FISTIC SPOTLIGHT

Two fistic attractions with a lot of appeal are going to be served to an on-edge boxing public within the nert few days.

Out on El Centro off of Hollywood Boulevard tomorrow night Holman Williams boxes Charley Burley and the bout will probably turn 'em away—as it should.

Four nights later, Turkey Thompson will attempt to topple Clayton Worlds, the Chicago giant. Just to see squat Thompson and 6 foot, 5 inch Worlds in the ring will be worth the price of admission. Babe McCoy is staging that one at the Olympic.

LIGHTWEIGHT TOURNEY OK SOUGHT HERE

The California State Athletic Commission met this week to draw up plans for a world's lightweight championship tournament to be submitted to the National Boxing association for approval.

A member of the NBA, the California commission does not recognize Beau Jack, the New York version, as champion of the division. With such fighters on the coast now as Slugger White, Willie Joyce, John Thomas, Juan Zurita, Richie Lemos and Cleo Shans, the proposed tournament is already receiving strong local support.

LEMOS WINS OVER SHANS AT HOLLYWOOD

His inability to fathom Richie Lemos' southpaw shots to the head cost Cleo Shans, Brawley lightweight, a 10-round split decision at Hollywood Legion stadium last Friday night.

Lemos weighed 135, Shans 133½.

Shans, who came into Los Angeles by train the day before, enjoyed a fair margin going into the 8th stanza mainly because of his superior infighting ability. When Lemos elected to throw leather from the southpaw stance in the last three rounds, however, the Brawley fighter steadily lost ground.

It was Lemos' fourth win in six meetings and was a toe to toe thriller from bell to bell.

Referee Charlie Randolph cast a draw ballot, but judges Benny Whitman and Frankie Van tabbed Lemos.

Nava Esparza, 14y½, of Tiajuana, won a close verdict over Don Lemos, 140, younger brother of the ex-featherweight champion, in the six-round semi-windup.

JERR SNARES MEET TITLE

With Leroy Gay and Melvin Whitfield showing the way, Jefferson High School's track and field contingent annexed the Southern League dual meet championship Friday afternoon when it captured the triangular meet with Roosevelt and Washington High schools.

The Democrats had 58 points, Roosevelt 20. 1101R-q Roosevelt 30 and Washington 20.

Gay took both hurdle races, while Whitfield captured the half mile in 2:02.

Caliente Mexico, Thursday, May 13th. The sport fans of California take off their hats to the new popular Generalissimo, Eddie Nealis who will re-open beautiful Caliente race track Sunday, May 16th, with some of the best horses ever to cross south of the border down Mexico way, even the Mexican citizens in all walks of life are very grateful to the Generalissimo and he has the full co-operation of all. Nearly four hundred Mexicans will be given employment at the track and that will feed lots of families. Generalissimo Nealis has spared no expense in putting the track and plant in the best of condition for all concerned, and now everything is ready for the gala opening Sunday, May 16th. Ass't General Manager, the likeable Armando Verdugo, who has worked night and day arranging all the details for the opening, has completed his big task. At the border more than twenty cashiers will be on hand to exchange your money, as nothing but two dollar bills, silver money and checks will be allowed into Mexico. But you can take as much as you care too.

Another thing that I want to advise my readers that are contemplating visiting the races and old Mexico, to avoid long delay at the line, please only take one spare tire, no camera or unnecessary papers. With owners and trainers rapidly getting their horses in the best of shape the oval has taken on a different atmosphere. More than four hundred horses are on the grounds, as early as four thirty a. m. the grooms and exercise boys have the horses on the track for their morning work. The inaugural handicap at six furlongs has brought out fifteen entries. Some of the best sprinters on the coast to compete for the -1000 purse. Also there will be three other attractive events on the twelve race program. Post time will be noon and that will allow people to get home before the dim-out. Such riding stars as Jack Westrope, Charley Bianco, Frankie Chojnacki, C. Ralls and many more will be on hand to accept mounts. And there you have it folks, some of the highlights of the opening of Caliente, Sunday, May 16th. Where thrills and excitement will help to keep up that morale and a little relaxation will do everything good. So if you happen to be lucky at the races, don't forget your Uncle Sam, Buy more U. S. War Stamps and Bonds. We now have them on the run, but this big battle has just begun. So let's keep on buying until the battle is won . . . So-long.—George.

ARCHIE MOORE TAKES JACK CHASE'S TITLE

SAN DIEGO, May 13.—Archie Moore, of San Diego, became the new California middleweight champion here at Lane Field Saturday night as he won a 15-round decision over Jack Chase, of Walsenburg, Colo.

Moore weighed 159, Chase 157.

On even terms until the 13th round. Chase began to tire with Moore finishing at a fast pace. Chase's right eye was closed as the bout came to an end.

The decision was unanimous, meeting the approval of a crowd of 3100 fans.

Winning the state title from Eddie Booker, Chase had held it for five months.

SOUTHERN U. WINS XAVIER U. RELAYS

(By Charles L. de Lay)

NEW ORLEANS, La. May 13.—Coach Gil Cruter's well-balanced and equally fell-coached Southern university track and field team of Scotlandville, La., won six first places and placed in every one of the eighteen collegiate events, except the 220-yard low hurdles and the 880-yard run, to score 67½ points and win the Tenth Annual Xavier U Relays, major feature of the Xavier University Sports Carfnival, here at Xavier Stadium.

Xavier university's famous Gold Rush track and field aces, champions in national colored track and field circles since 1938, had to be content with runner-up honors via 57½ points, a remarkable performance for the war torn thinlies of Xavier. Coach Fred T. Long's Wiley college Wildcats of Marshall, Tex., victors in the recent San Jacinto Relays held at Marshall and runner-up to the Southwest Conference track and field champions (Southern university) in the open conference meet recently at Scothonors via 41 points. Xavier was runner-up at the Prairie View Relays and third at the Scotlandville meet.

Southern's David Bolen played a major part in bringing the championship to his alma mater, winning three first places: 100 and 220 yard dash events, and the 440-yard run. Bolen also ran a leg on his team's third place quartet in the 440-yard and mile relay events and on Southern's second place 880-yard relay team; he proved to be a veritable one-man track team in scoring 16¾ points for individual high point honors.

THE SHOE IS ON THE OTHER FOOT, SAYS JOE

It seems that Holman Williams, who fights Charley Burley at the Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night, owes his training to Champion Joe Louis. Williams has been in the Louis stable for several years, having been sparring partner for Joe during most of his important fights. "Holman has taught me more than I ever taught him," drawls Joe as he directs the Pensacola, Florida, boy's wrokouts.

The job Joe and Holman are working on now is to figure out how to tie up Burley's right hand. Burley has a long string of knockouts. He has stopped Leon Zorrita, Shorty and Big Boy Hogue ,Jackie Burke, J. D. Turner (heavyweight) and others.

Williams, however, holds two 15-round dukes over Burley. And Burley beat him in ten and scored a nine-round knockout over him. This really gives the edge to Burley because of the knockout. In fifteen-rounders where Burley has to pace himself differently, Williams has had the advantage. Williams knows how to under drivers and to brush them off.

Legion Main Eventers Rated Toss-up for Go

Holman Williams and Charley Burley are rated a tossup for their 10-round bout at the Hollywood Legion stadium tomorrow night.

The score sheet on previous bouts favors Burley. He has defeated Williams in tens, once scoring a nine-round knockout. But defeated Burley in two fifteen-rounders.

Williams, born in Pensacola, Fla., came out of the 1932 Golden Gloves in Chicago with Billy Hardges.

The firm of Roxborough & Black that made a world's champion out of Joe Louis took Williams over as a sparring partner.

LOUIS THE PUPIL

Williams proved to be just what Louis needed to tune him up for his important bouts. The Pensacola boy is a smart boxer and he can mix things up when necessary.

While generally known as the pupil of Louis the champion says that Williams has really taught him more stuff than he ever taught Williams.

Williams defeated Bobby Seaman in a six here the night that Louis stopped Jack Roper at Wrigley Field.

The record of Williams is advertised as "amazing". He has stopped Slugger White, He drew with Eddie Booker. He whipped the Cocoa Kid three times. He defeated Izzy Jannazzo, Joe Basora, Kid Tunero, Pauline Walker, Gene Buffalo, Joe Carter, Vinnie Vines.

JACKSON FAVORED

Burley's record is just as impressive. He stopped both the Hogue boys, Shorty and Big Boy. He kayoed J. D. Turner, a heavyweight who went the distance with Billy Conn.

In fights here Burley lost once. That was to Lloyd Marshall who has since whipped Ezzard Charles in Cleveland. Jimmy Bivins is ducking a fat offer to box Marshall.

Ken Jackson is a 7 to 10 favorite over Rudy Campa ni the six-round semi-final tomorrow night. Campa lost a disputed decision to Vincent Villavicencio recently. Jackson holds a win over Lalo Rodriguez.

Johnny Armando, winner of 21 straight bouts—12 by knockouts, is liked over Al Sanchez in the special event. Sanchez has beaten everybody but Armando.

Other bouts on the card tomorrow are Billy McGrath vs. Jimmy Wilson and Manuel Villa vs. Tony Mendez.

LOUIS TO BE IN WILLIAMS' CORNER FOR FRIDAY BOUT

Joe Louis brings his pupil, Holman Williams, to the Hollywood Legion stadium next Friday night to box Charley Budley of Minneapolis.

This is one of the most important fights of the year so far held in the film capital.

Louis, now an army sergeant who is here making "This is the Army" picture, will handle Williams for the bout.

This is something new for Hollywood to have a world's champion in a fighter's corner doing the directing.

Williams has a great record.

He has won three decisions over the Cocoa Kid, two over Burley, two over Joe Basora, two over Antonio Fernandez, two over Kid Tunero, two over Irish Eddie Dolan, two over Ernest Cat Robinson, two over Paulie Walker, three over Johnny Hackson, and four over Gene Buffalo.

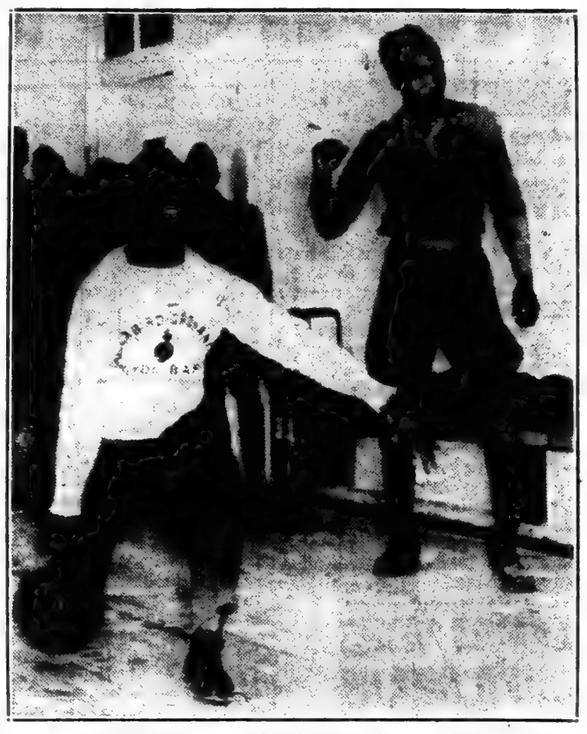
iWlliams has knocked out Slugger White, Vinnie Vines, Randy Brown and Buffalo.

He drew with Eddie Booker. He whipped Izzy Jannazzo and a flock of others.

Burley's Coast Record

Burley has had five fights out this way. He beat Cocoa Kid in New Orleans. eH lost to Lloyd Marshall at Hollywood. He won from Jack Chase at the Legion. In the north he defeated Harvey Massey and Tiger Wade.

Burley fought Marshall, a substitute for Booker, with a hand injury. In order to pass the the inspectors Burley kept his hand in an ice pack 24 hours before the weigh-in.



Tommy O'Loughlin, who brought Burley here, cites the proof that Burley beat several heavyweights in the east in order to get action, one of them being a fellow who went the route with Billy Conn.

Burley and Williams have met three times. Williams won twice and Burley scored once with a technical knockout.

Both Burley and Williams are rated among the first ten middleweights of the country by the Ngtional Boxing Association.

Matchmaker Charley MacDonald is showing a star supporting card with Rudy Campa and Ran Jackson in the six and Johnny Armando meeting Al Sanchez in the especial event.

Other bouts announced for Friday are Billy McGrath vs. Jimmy Wilson and Manuel Villa vs. Tony Mendez.

Here's the Farmer's Job

The nation's 6,000,000 farmers, of which 680,000 are colored, are pitching in, trying to produce the largest food crop the world has ever seen.

Here's the job the Food-for-Freedom goals have assigned the American farmers: to produce enougs eggs to fill 308,000 stacks of egg cases as high as the Washington monument, to produce enough cattle and calves for slaughter to make a double line around the earth at the equator, and enough milk to fill a row of quart bottles 200 feet wide stretching along the nation's entire coast lines.

They must also produce enough hogs to fill a train of livestock cars reaching from New York to San Francisco, back to New York, and again to San Francisco, enough peanuts to fill 14,000 railroad tank cars with peanut oil, and enough sheep and lambs for slaughter to keep a man counting, one a second, eight hours a day for 27 months.

FORMER COAST FIGHER HOLDS CAMP FIGHT SHOWS

FORT BENNING, Ga., May 13.—Joe Louis is America's No. 1 athlete both in and out of the Army, but there are hundreds of other athletes from scholastic, collegiate and professional ranks, making military reputation equal to their status in the sports world.

For example, at Fort Benning there is Sgt. Eddie Jackson of Hq & Hq Company, Service Bn., 3rd TR, heavyweight contender of California and former Golden Gloves champion of Pennsylvania. Jackson, 205 pounds, stopped a brilliant pugilistic period to serve in the armed forces. He worked as sparing partner for Tony Galento and Abe Simon. In the ring Jackson won 45 of 47 amateur bouts, 35 out of 37 professional bouts. He is now boxing instructor of Service Battalion, Third Student Training Regiment, Fort Benning, Georgia. He promotes all boxing shows in the battalion.

There are fighters here such as, "Dynamite" Daniels, New Jersey sensational lightweight, National Golden Gloves champion; eGorgie Pace, former bantamweight champion. And many other outstanding fighters of the pugilistic world. Many of them from California. Sgt. Jackson has one of the finest boxing teams seen on any post today. The Benning "Panthers" of Service battalion, 3rd STR. The boxing team is made up of all classes of fighters, ranging from featherweight to heavyweight. They are prepared to take on all opposition. The team is in excellent condition.

Since March, 1942, the Panthers stable of fighters have come along in fine fashion. They have presented to the Army some of the greatest future contenders.

It's record glittering with K. O.'s and undisputable decisions. By it's long list of amateur prospects. The Benning Panthers move into the spotlight May 14, 1943, at Doughboy Stadium at Fort Benning, Georgia. As the headquarters has done much to bolster the boxing supremacy in the Fort Benning district.

Glimpsing briefly at the honor roll we note the victorious accomplishments of fighters like Jimmy Mitchel, Rosevelt Pitts, "Dynamite" Daniels, Levi Ervin, Russell Booker, Joe Noble, "Tiger" Peterson, Tim Still and many others. Also we have Eddie Jackson, 195 pounds, of Los Angeles, Calif., the thunderbolt of the West Coast, who challenges any heavyweight in the country. Eddie fought from coast to coast as a professional and is known to fight fans on the Pacific Coast as the "Thunderbolt."

The physical development of men is of great importance to the Army. With cooperation of Battalion Commander, Major Ball, and Lt. Gushin, Morale Officer, they are doing a fine job. The Panther Boxing team ranks with the best in this game called "Boxing." Contact promoter Sgt. Eddie Jackson of Hq & Hq Co., Serv. Bn., 3rd STR, or phone No. 1. The team challenges any team in the Service, Colleges or Universities, ready for action at all times. . . . Flash! This Friday, May 14, they have presented the Post with a most spectacular boxing show. Fighters from everywhere are on the card.

Dade Mages Last Fight Winning One

Harold Dade, who went into the Army yesterday, made his last fight as a civilian a winning one Tuesday night at the Olympic auditorium when he defeated Dave Hernandez in the six-round semi-windup.

Dade outclassed his foe all the way but found the Mexican lad hard to put away.

Both weighed 124.

Carlos Malacara, 143, won a unanimous 10-round decision over Rudolfo Ramirez, 147, in the all-Mexican main event.

Other results: Lou Bernal, 131, nodded Dan McLean, 124, in a disputed decision; Allen Arnett, 180, drew with Jim Smith, 180; and Dick Flatt, 143 knocked out Bobby Montoya, 143, in three rounds.

Here's How to Stretch Your Meat Coupons

You can have 372 pounds of eggs and poultry meat a year, or a pound a day from a flock of 15 hens, together with about 50 chicks raised chiefly for fryers and for replacement of the layers, department poultry specialists estimate. The 372 pounds would be made up of 180 dozen eggs, and 80 pounds of dress fryers and broilers. When it comes to stretching your meat ration coupons, a backyard flock is just the thing.

McDonald, Leone Top Mat Card

Promoter Hugh Nichols yesterday signed Sockeye McDonald and Antone Leone to wrestle the main event at the Hollywood Legion stadium next Monday night.

Leone held up signing until he was guaranteed by the promoter he would have ample police protection.

Last Monday the police averted a near riot between sailors and soldiers when Leone was disqualified for the third fall in his bout with Sailor Billy Vargo.

I see the govt. is getting around to reviewing the 4-Fs. Now that men are needed almost as bad as Mussolini needs aspirin the draft boards are going to shuffle through the deck again and see how many aces they missed. On the first time around the draft boards were as fussy as an old maid at a picnic—but now they're like diners on a Meatless Tuesday — they'll take what they can get. What used to be an affliction is now classed as a laughable little defect. There are lots of jobs in the Army where you don't have to be a second Tarzan—they tell me. One of the big problems now will be keeping the remaining 4-Fs from feeling lonely.

A perfume labelled "Lady" didn't catch on. They changed the name to "Hussey"—and it's a sell-out. What did you say about a rose by any other name, Mr. Shakespeare?

Skipping from Shakespeare to liquor brings us around to the House of Morgan, 2729 Central Ave. — where folks come for an outstanding selection of highest quality liquors, wines and beer. Dinners and social gatherings are always better when you serve good liquor—and for the place to get them is the House of Morgan. Our well arranged displays make it easy for you to find your favorite brand.

uring our loyalty by the same yardstick with which you measure yours. But we ask that you stop talking about the Four Freedoms and the Atlantic Charter, and, using as a guide or political bible, the Bill of Rights, put the doctrine of all these into practice rather than talk so much about our "American way of life;" and he logical beginning should be in our schools and public institutions.

Those teachers in our public school system from Texa ands Oklahoma, who have taken upon themselves the responsibility of revising our school methods to meet their inherent race hatreds and color biases should be treated to over-doses of real democracy — such is needed to stop Hitler in his tracks and silence Japan forever—more as an aggressor nation.

All such books, magazines and papers of the type and character of "Ten Little Nigger Boys" must be withdrawn from distribution in our public schools.

We cannot survive 'half slave and half free' now. We tried that unsuccessfully before and ended up by fighting a Civil War.

SEEKS COUNTY COUNSEL INTERVENTION

Such action as that on the part of some members of the Board of Education this week should be considered sabotaging the legal rights of a citizen, or citizens; for, after all, what affects a part affects the whole.

The average school boy in the primary stage of his education can see through the Askey Elliot trick. Dr. Askey, and everyone else "in the know" on the Board of Education knew that Dr. Askey planned to resign. That appeared to be a certainty. But not until Mrs. Marie Adams was safe in the arms of the Education Board did it occur to Dr. Askey, et al., that the good doctor's time was needed for his personal affairs.

Mrs. Fay Allen, former member of the Board of Education, has announced that she will ask the County Counsel for a ruling on the legality of the hurried appointment of J. Paul Elliott. Elliott was appointed by the Board of Education Monday after President Roy J. Becker announced that Dr. Askey had resigned because of the pressure of his private medical practice.

Mrs. Allen, who was defeated for re-election May 4 by Mrs. Marie Adams, a nurse, would have retained her place on the board in the April primary if Dr. Askey had resigned before that date, George Wakefield, deputy county counsel, ruled unofficially yesterday.

"As one of the five highest candidates in the primary Mrs. Allen would have been re-elected if there had been five vacancies on the board to fill instead of four," Wakefield said.

All Americans who believe in equal rights will protest the action of the educational bosses.

Men and women who are entrusted with the grave responsibility of shaping the destiny of our youth should be above reproach.

N. A. A. C. P.

The local branch of the N. A. A. C. P., under the superb leadership of its president, Thomas L. Griffith, Jr., has lead most of the other branches in the country in raising funds for worthy causes. Its latest offering is the pledging of a neat sum of money for the defense of Robert Folkes. Folkes, you will remember, has recently been tried and found guilty of murder, despite the fact that all evidence shows that he is innocent of the crime. Attorney Griffith and his co-workers deserve our commendation and support for the fine work the Association is performing under their leadership.

PHARMACIST PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO BOOKMAKING CHARGE

For the second time in less prominent pharmacist and operator of a drug store at 27th St. and Central Ave. stood with his Attorney Curtis C. Taylor in the Calendar Department of the Superior Court and entered a plea of not guilty of a charge of bookmaking last Monday morning.

Dr. Harris was arrested in August, 1942 by officer Aaron Ward, now deceased, and after trial before Judge Thomas Ambrose on Oct. 4th was acquitted after a brilliant defense by his Attorney.

On April 12th of this year, however, he was arrested again by officers from the Central Vice Detail and was held over for trial in the Superior Court on April 15th after a preliminary hearing in Div. 4 of the Municipal Court.

Last Monday morning he entered a plea of not guilty to the offense and is scheduled to go to trial on June 4th in Dept. 40 of the Superior Court.

Attorney Taylor expresses complete confidence in a second acquittal. "My client is being hounded by certain police officers" he claimed to reporters, "but they won't get away with it any more than they did the last time."

A Song of Prayer For Our Men

Hear oh Lord my song of prayer
For our men, on land on sea and in the air,
Protect them with thy mighty power
Be with them in their trying hour

In the jungle with many beast
Watch over them while they sleep.

Former Riverside Girl Making Mark as Singer

"It is my intense desire to give expression to the true feelings of the souls of nations, and particularly to those of my own race—" So states Miss Ablyne Lockhart, promising young contralto, who was born in Riverside, California; and is now studying in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where she is the Prodigy of Dr. Albert C. Barnes.

In her early life Miss Lockhart was active in all musical activities connected with the schools in Riverside, winning many honors. In 1938 she held the William Grant Still Scholarship, offered by the Gray Conservatory of Music in Los Angeles, by rendering Mr. Still's composition, "The Breath of a Rose."

Miss Lockhart forged on, entering the University of California at Berkeley, and being duly elected to the Treble Cleft Society where she made a very interesting record. While studying Voice in San Francisco she ushered at the San Francisco Opra House for a year, during which time she developed a standard of judgment for her own future work. It is also interesting to note that Miss Lockhart won numerous medals and honors as a speaker and orator in California, having graduated from UC with a major in Public Speaking.

For the past three years Miss Lockhart's work was sponsored by Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Chaney of the University, who, along with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Marsh, presented Miss Lockhart in Recial at the University of California at Berkeley.

When Dr. Albert C. Barnes, Scientist, Educator, Philanthropist, and Art Collector asked Miss Lockhart to sing for him, he not only predicted for her a very brilliant future, but immediately subsidized her and is now supervising the musical activities of his new find. At the same time, Miss Lockhart is attending the Barnes Foundation, at Merion, Pa., where she is busy learning the traditions and esthetic values of painting and its relationship to music, which will greatly enhance her work.

Dr. Barnes' authority in the fields of Education and Art is an otugrowth of a lifelong de- James, Santyana and John Dewey. Having spent twenty-five years of research in the leading museums of the world, he has developed a philosophy for painting that has granted him the position of the International authority on Paintings.

Miss Lockhart believes that to know the truth about spirituals, it is necessary to know their origin and history, and what they have meant in the experience of the people who created them. Says Miss Lockhart, "A singer must develop the capacity to feel the spiritual. These songs will always remain a high test for the individual artist."

Miss Ablyne Lockhart is the daughter of the late Rev. C. J. Lockhart and Mrs. Alice Lockhart of Riverside. She is affiliated with the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and the NAACP.

There is no doubt that this charming and gracious young lady is going places in the musical world.

HIS BOOK WAS BURNED!!!

Reliable sources informed Deaderick F. Jenkins, author, that his daring and soul-stirring novel, IT WAS NOT MY WORLD so infuriated a white man in

New York he went out and burned it.

The particular sentence which enraged the white man was the line: "White women prefer colored men."

On being asked what he (Jenkins) thought of this violent reaction to his book Jenkins said: "Hitler and Mussolini burned books but I never thought it would happen here."

Mr. Jenkins' book can still be had for $1.00 plus 3 cents for mailing.

WAR-WORN ROCK

Speaking of Corregidor, the fortress in Manila Bay which fell a year ago to the Japenese, General MacArthur said, "Intrinsically it is but a barren, war-worn rock, hallowed like so many other places, by death and disaster. Yet is symbolizes itself that priceelss, deathless thing, the honor of a nation." Ironically enough, Premier Tojo arrived in Manila last week on a military inspection trip where he plans to "have a frank exchange of views with Jorges Vargas, chairman of the Philippines Executive Commission. The report of an American air attack on a new Japanese base in the Solomons indicates Japan is working feverishly now to bolster its outer defenses against the gradually tightening ring of American bases. Now that the U. S. has moved into Allice Islands in the South Central Pacific, has occupied the Russell Islands north of Guadalcanal and brought increasing pressure to bear on Kiska in the Aleutians, it can safely beg assumed that our position is strengthening to a point which is making the Japanese devote all their energies to strengthening their own positions. When the time comes, we can use Kiska—and will!

SHORT OF SPIRIT

"Where people have begun to work in harmony, where they have settled their differences, and where production is up, we don't have any trouble in selling bonds!" declared Secretary Morganthau on his recent visit to the Coast. Declaring further that the drive for $13 billion had been a success, he added that he was not satisfied with the number of people who had subscribed. Some, however, developed the real idea behind the war effort. Those who had already subscribed 10 per cent of the income for War Bonds, bought an extra bond. To win the war, we don't dedicate ourselves, in part, to the necessary effort and sacrifices. We dedicate ourselves, in part, to the necessary effort and and sacrifices. We dedicate ourselves wholly. It was regrettable to find California, first in war production, last in subscription to bond buying. But when Secretary Morgenthau arrived in San Francisco, he found some all-out subscriptions! Safeway Stores dumped their entire receipts for a day's sale, on April 28, in the lap of the Treasury's representative—a sum amounting to over $2 million! Banking subscriptions were likewise heavily over-subscribed. It was individual buyers who lagged. There is no feather for the cap of Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen who fail to grasp the importance of investment for future security. But we can still overcome Secretary Morgenthau's criticism that we are "short of spirit" on this Coast. Let's begin!

A LOOK AT LEGISLATION

The U. S. Senate passed legislation outlawing the instigation of strikes by a vote of 63 to 16 last week. The finla version of the bill contained a clausse vesting in the War Labor Board statutory power to settle labor disputes. If finally enacted, this amendment would give the WLB full authority to settle wage disputes without necessity of adhering to the 'little steel' formula. Decision of the Board would be final. Here in California, the old age pensions were upped from $40 to $50 a month which will increase the cost of pension payments for the next two years from -64 million to $75 million. California's three-day marriage license law ended, but the premarital physical examination requirement remains.

HANDBOOK FOR EUROPE

Handbook for Europe is a new volume got out by Goebbels for the education of the Germans in "Europe for the Europeans." This pictures Europe as a happy family of united nations (with England naturally shut out) living together in peace and prosperity under the sunshine of Hitler's smile! The Handbook has a foreword by Ribbentrop, arch Nazi of all Nazis. The book ends with —"At the conclusion of this gigantic struggle, a new Europe will stand, shaping its destinies without interference from the outside, allowing all European nations a fair and worthy place." Adolf, when the war is over, you won't have enough of a smile to be sunshine for anybody!

MY KINGDOM FOR A HORSE!

The Royal Army Service Corps of Britain, which does all short distance haulage for the headage for the headquarters of the northern command, saves hundreds of gallons of gas weekly by employing a horse transport. The drivers and grooms are jockeys, stableboys and ex-cavalrymen selected for their experience with horses. Here's a tip for the ODT. But do horses exist any more in America? Except under a policeman, a cowboy, or on a racetrack?

THREE COLORED MOTHERS FETED AT FT. BENNING

Three mothers of colored soldiers at Fort Benning were royally entertained on Mother's Day when two of them were official guests of the post and one the guest of her son's battalion.

When it was decided to play host to 14 mbothers, picked by lot, it was stipulated by Brig. Gen. Walter S. Fulton, commanding geenral of fort Benning, that two were to be mothers of colored soldiers, based on the total population of the Post and the allotment of the various companies.

Those picked by lot to be the guests of the Post were Mrs. Mary Mary Francis Causey, 618 W. 8th St., Port Arthur, Tex., mother of Pfc. Joseph Causey, Bakers and Cooks School, and Mrs. Alice B. McConico, 3009 S. State Street, Chicago, mother of Sgt. John T. cMConico, Co. U, Provisional Truck Regiment. Later the Service Battalion of Second Student Training Regiment held a drawing and Staff Sergeant Clifton Alexander, supply sergeant of Company A, won the drawing and his mother came to the Fort from Camden, S. C.

The mothers of the colored soldiers were entertained at several functions together with the other 12 mothers, and a special program was worked out for them at Service Clubs No. 4 and 5 devoted to colored troops. On Friday, May 7, they were entertained at an open house, a supper and variety show at Service Club No. 4. Then, on Saturday, there was a breakfast at Service Club No. 4 for Mrs. Causey and at Club No. 5 for Mrs. McConico, followed by a tour of the post and presentation to Chaplain Thompson. iDnner was served at 6:30 at the Reception Center for all three mothers.

On Sunday, they attended the group meeting and program at 9:30 a. m. in Doughboy Stadium, when all the were welcomed by General Fulton and three other generals and a lieutenant colonel, commandants of the various units on the Post. Then, at 11 a. m. they went through the Bakers and Cooks School for an inspection and a dinner.

In the afternoon, they were guests at Service Club No. 4 from 2 to 3 p. m. when the Morris Brown Glee Club of Atlanta, Ga., performed. From 4 to 5 p. m. they were entertained at Service Club No. 5, when the Community Chorus from Columbus, Ga., sang and a short talk was given on the Origin of Mother's Day by Sgt. D'Otis F. Donald, Third Battalion, Provisional Truck Regiment. The mothers were then presented to the group.

At the big Sunday morning open air service in the statdium, the mothers were introduced by the generals commanding the units to which their sons are attached. There was a band concert and a brief address by Gen. Fulton and by Lt. Col. Frank M. Thompson, Post Chaplain.

Mr. Leon Buchanan of West 35th Street, died Monday morning at White Memorial Hospital. Mr. Buchanan was a pioneer westside resident. eH came to the city in 1901, and was the first to purchase property on westside. Funeral services will be conducted from Angelus Funeral Home. At press time final arrangements have not been completed.

Texas Negro 4-H Clubbers to Feed Fighting Men

Reports from Texas which the department received recently indicate that Negro 4-H Club boys are behind the men behind the guns. In some counties the clubbers have got together and pledged to grow enough food this year or its equivalent to feed themselves, and one fighting man from their county. Take Caldwell county 4-H Club boys, 115 of them have planted Victory Gardens, 63 have started poultry projects, and 219 are collecting scrap metal. Texans are not alone in this fight. Most of the 200,000 Negro 4-H Club boys and girls throughout the 16 Southern states have special wartime farm projects.

Welles Had Hand In Career of Archie Savage

By BILL SMALLWOOD

Some day some enterprising oung writer searching for a new ant will trace the numerous caeers of fellow artists just to oberve how frequently they, in ome fashion, had dealing, deailed or slight, with Orson Velles. When you get into it ctually it's a sort of game. I ecently traced Archie Savage's rogressive career thusly, and gain bre-er Welles popped up. rchie Savage, exponent ideal of he modern dance, has Welles to hank for one phase of his dance chievement.

It dates back to the much lanented Federal Theater Project n N. Y. Welles and tse producers ere nail-biting in symphonic nison over failure to find anyne possible of doing a twelvefoot fall in the production of Macbeth, then being shaped. Savage, trained as an athlete as well s a dancer, came as manna from eaven. Not only could he take hat spectacular fall, but he ould do it gracefully, panther-like. And not bring a city ambulance on the run to the stage-floor. Welles never forgot him. Nor did those who saw Macbeth in N. Y., and as it toured Nef England, Texas, Ohio and Michigan. Since that incident, I recall highly technical Franz Rupfel elling me in that broken English of his how he visited Macbeth eight times to see Archie Savage's big moment, and then compare his fall with some particular bit of fancy terpischore Franz saw Nijinsky execute in Vienna.

Archie Savage is a surprise. As you talk with him you suddenly realize his virile force doesn't necessarily stem from his magnificent young body, but rather comes from deeper source. His determination to ultimately be great credit to his race and, in turn, help mould other aspiring young folk to perfect their dance expression, is a sincere thing. He speaks always in quiet tone, smiles readily. And you wonder about a rather surprising presence of urbane naicety in his make-up, too. You have to probe to find it.

His interest in dancing dates back to public school days in New York. He collected a few steps here and there, he recounts. In 1931 he worked with Hensley Windfield, appeared with him the following year at Roerich Hall. Later still, he became Windfield's assistant dance director. It isn't widely known, but it was Windfield, with Edna Guy, who pioneered in the field of modern dance applying their tallents to interpretation of Negro culture. When Lawrence Tibbett and the Met did Emperor Jones at the Roxy Theater on Broadway through Emancipation Week, which followed not long after Savage's professional debut, Savage was in the revival. Exciting, if exhausting, he adds.

Next in line, naturally, was his professional debut on the legit stage as dancer. He worked in Dance With Your Gads, after rehearsing long hours for The Black Crook. By this time, young Savage had his first good taste of the theater plus a love for travel in Pullmans. Sure-fire combination, that. Vaudeville followed. He toured with Noble Sissle, Jimmie Lunceford, Teddy Wilson, even worked at the mourned Lafayette Theater. He became one of the Cotton Club Boys, traveled with Lunceford. Then, into Four Saints In Three Acts (will I EVER forget that potpourri — Allah, no!!) which closed in Chicago. Then, the Macbeth interlude. And another Welles encounter in Doctor Faustus, which was a Federal Theater highspot. Followed Pinocchio and Haiti, and Savage moved over into the N. Y. World's Fair production of Cuban Village.

Archie Savage, perhaps better known originally as a dancer fith Katherine Dunham, first worked with her in the Labor revue, Pins and Needles, which ran so long in N. Y. He had widened his dance instruction as he moved from show to show. With such background, he and Dunham went to Chicago for rehearsals and four appearances, then back to Pins and Needles. eBtween shows the pair prepared those memorable Sunday evening concerts which created such fashionable furore. After the Cabin In The Sky stage version closed its successful tour in Los Angeles, Savage did a movie short with Dunham (Carnival of Rhythm). And worked, too, in the unlamented Tales of Manhattan. He was hired as dance director for the film version of Cabin in the Sky. His debut as legit stage actor occurred in an intimate production of Noah in Hollywood not so long ago. Last fall he presented his dance group at the Mayan. More recent, he danced as guest artist on Si Lan Chen's recital in Hollywood. And most creditably.

Archie Savage has profound respect for Dunham's achievement. He recalls particularly their first meeting. He met her in 1937 when she and her group were brought to N. Y. by Allison Burroughs and Edna Guy to dance on the same bill at the Young Men's Hebrew Association. I think Savage really made his favorite long strides while he was with Dunham's group. His present career certainly stems from those triumphs.

Archie Savage, and others of our young artists like him, deserve a continuous fellowship enabling them to do naught but dance and study unhampered. I'd predict tremendous things from such arrangement. He'd stand out, undoubtedly. But, with or without a fellowship, Savage will make it. He will. As it stands now, I agree with John Martin, N. Y. Times critic: "Archie Savage can not only dance like a house afire, but he is a good actor and a genuine stage personality . . ."

"CABIN IN THE SKY"

eBcause of the agitation over a period of years for better roles for Negroes in motion pictures by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Negro pournals, and Negro welfare agencies, Hollywood has at last given us a classic production in "Cabin in the Sky." This all Negro cast picture was produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio and lives up to expectations and Hollywood standards. The star is Ethel Waters, who is supported by an outstanding array of artists: Eddie Rochester, Pena Horne, Rex Ingram, Kenneth Spencer, Louis Armstrong, "Buck and Bubbles" dance team, Ernest Whitman, Nathan Moreland, Duke Ellington and his orchestra, and the Hall Johnson Choir.

Technically speaking, "Cabin in the Sky" is a beautiful picture. Its photography, music and acting are excellent. It ranks with the great eNgro pictures of the past; "Hallalujah" and "Green Pastures."

As a stage play, I found "Cabin in the Sky" to be very entertaining. As a picture I felt it tended toward the classic, meaning the religious. Accent is placed on the philosophic aspect of the story which is presented as a fantasy. It is a story of a simple "faith" and the conflict of "good and evil" in our lives. It is the "white man's" conception of the Negro, his worship, and his attitude toward his church and God. There are always the "faithful" praying for the sinners. The Negro's ambition is to get to heaven. Any money he makes beyond his needs on this erth, he spends foolishly. In the picture "Rochester" buys his wife "Ethel Waters" a washing machine. He says, "now I have to find some electricity to run."

Because of the war, strife and trouble in the world, it is difficult to present a religious theme in a humorous manner and that is what "Cabin in the Sky" attempts to do. You can't laugh at a people's "faith" no matter how is is expressed.

"Cabin in the Sky' is a picture in the right direction. It is a prelude to a greater Negro picture. I won't tell you more of the story. You see the picture.

Watsons Win Court Battle Over Real Estate

After a bitter three day battle before Judge Myron Westover, Dept. 31 of the Superior Court, Mrs. Mattie Elizabeth Watson and her real estate broker husband, Wm. Mells Watson, emerged victorious and recovered a judgment cancelling a grant deed and quieting title to a valuable piece of Los Angeles real estate.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson who were represented by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, filed suit against Exie Lee Perry and her husband William Reese Perry of 1248½ East 56th St. to set aside a grant deed which was dated on October 6, 1941 and to cancel a real estate agreement made the same date.

According to the testimony brought out at the trial, the Perrys who claimed they had just come to Los Angeles from Chicago approached Mrs. Watson in the early part of Oct., 1941 with an offer to buy certain property which she had listed. They testified they made a down payment of $250.00 and signed a contract to pay the balance in small monthly payments. Mrs. Watson placed the contract with the California Bank for collection.

Mrs. Watson testified that the Perrys secured the deed from her by subterfuge and then recorded it against her consent and then claimed title to the property for which they had not paid.

The Perrys on the other hand, who were represented by David K. King, a white Lawyer, contended that they had finished paying for the property by handing Mrs. Watson the entire sum in cash consisting mostly of One Hundred Dollar bills on Oct. 6th. This Mrs. Watson denied and challenged the Perrys to produce proof of the payment. At the end of the trial which lasted three days and after Attorney Taylor had made a brilliant argument in support of his clients' contention Judge Westover decided that Mrs. Watson and her husband were entitled to cancellation of the deed as prayed for in their complaint and gave judgment setting aside the deed and cancelling the contract.

Tells Experiences As Postoffice Employee

By P. L. HACKETT, SR.

"Greater love hath no man than this: that a man lay down his life for his friends." 1st John, 15:13.

Sunday, May 9, was Mother's Day. Let us pause for a moment and pay tribute to the hand that rocks the cradle and shapes the destinies of the world. When we think of the pain and agony that mother goes through to bring us into the world, it would seem that every day should be Mother's Day. Mother shares your responsibilities and troubles from the cradle to the grave.

If every individual could only remember that every human being, regardless of race or creed, is one mother's child. That all mothers love their children like your mother loves you. That all mothers go through the same agony to bring children into the world as your mother did for you. They share the same anxiety for their children's welfare, as your mother does for you. Mothers are the same the world over. Make a mother happy every day by being your brother's keeper.

Three years and two months I have been in the Post Office custodial service. In this short space of time I have lived 30 years. Though I have been retired by expulsion, I feel that a pension would be in order. In spite of the fact that I am no longer an employe of the post office, I am still a loyal American citizen, and as such I feel it my duty to relate some very interesting experiences.

In the spring of 1941, shortly after U.F.W.A. Local No. 191 received its charter, I was called into Mr. Stambach's office. Mr. Stambach told me that he had heard we had organized a CIO local. He informed me that the CIO did not set so well with the public because of the type of strikes they had pulled in the East. Mr. Stambach stated while he questioned the wisdom of our choice, he believed in unions and would string along with us as long as we cooperated with his office.

Mr. Stambach, the CIO was forced to resort to this type of strike. They knew that they were dealing with ruthless men whose only God was the almighty dollar. Like Hitler, they had dominated industry and held labor down by dividing and ruling. Race was pitted against race and creed against creed. Knowing that to have strength there must be unity, the CIO struck out to break those barriers down. It is going to help break them down in the post office. These are the things men are dying for and they must not die in vain.

The CIO is often referred to as a Red organization. Yes, we are all red—red-blooded American citizens. Look at our record on the production line, in the shipyards, airplane factories, and other essential industries. Check the Treasury Department for the number of bonds we have purchased. Look at our record as blood doners to the American Red Cross. Check our contributions to the various war relief agencies. Our record would seem to bear out the fact that we are loyal red blooded American citizens.

Through the efforts of the CIO, Captain Mulzac, a Negro, is commanding the good ship Booker T. Washington. Here is a U. S. Merchant Marine ship, with an inter-racial crew carrying war supplies to the seven seas. Are the crew members satisfied? Ask them. This is real democracy in practice and the same should exist in our local post office.

Southern Students Buy "Jeep"

SCOTLANDVILLE, La. — In a very patriotic move during the Second War Loan Drive throughout the nation, students of the Southern university Demonstration School bought a "Jeep" through the purchase of war bodns and stamps.

The appearance of a Jeep from Harding Field in the high school gymnasium was a stimulus to all the classes in the purchasing of bonds and stamps. Competition ran high among the classes as to which would raise the highest amount of the $900 for the purchase of the Jeep. At the close of the drive the students had bought stamps amounting to $796.35, and bonds amounting to $361.25, which gave a total of $1157.60.

The participation of 95% of the 334 students enrolled at the school made them eligible for the Treasury Flag. The buying of the Jeep for the government, and the winning of the Treasury Flag for the school proved the patriotism of the students to the call of their country.

Cotton Prices

The Office of Price Administration and the War Food Administration have announced a series of steps which will be taken to stabilize the price of cotton. Among other things, their plan provides for sales of Commodity Credit Corporation stocks at a price f 21.38 fr middling 15/16 inch cotton.

Last year, according to the Crop Reporting Board, 23,302,000 acres were planted in cotton, and 22,602,000 acres were harvested. The lint yield of 272.5 pounds per acre harvested is the highest on record. Total cotton production for 1942 was 12,824,000 bales. This exceeded the 1941 crop by 2,080,000 bales. The total cottonseed production in 1942 was 5,720,000 tons.

Husband Shoots

Wife Seated in Victim's Car

According to a reconstruction of the slaying by police, Anderson, a tall, 26-year-old steel worker, had come home and found his wife gone. In some unknown manner he had received information that she was at the stand with Goree. He had gotten Conkrite to drive him there and they pulled into the drive-in also. As he alighted and went up to Goree, Dixon stopped at the bar and started to drink some soda. But a few words had passed between the men before Anderson's 32 calibre Colt pistol spoke out amid the screams of employes and the frightened wife. "I had gone with Jack about 4:30," she told police, "and meeting my brother, Robert Mosely, had been conversing with him, when my husband came."

WAR TIME HOSPITALITY

New rationings and heavy taxes are hitting hard at our "Old Southern" hospitality. Making adjustments to their restrictions is a puzzling problem in more ways than one, and, bids fair to hurt some tender sensibilities. Most luxuries, long vacations, house guests, etc., will feel it more than ever this coming season.

Folks no longer keep that extra room open, because it's rented to a war worker. Nor do they have a surplus of good foods and liquid refreshments laying around as everything is being conserved for the war effort.

Naturally one's hospitality suffers, when unable to entertain their friends as heretofore. Frankness will help solve some of these problems. Simply tell your prospective guests that you are no longer in the position to be the "good host" you were before Pearl Harbor, and, Victory is your business.

R.G. Dear Prof. Herman: I have been reading your column for quite some time and find it very interesting. I have a question that I would like for you to answer. Will I soon get my wish?

Ans. After giving your question careful thought, I find that you have been associating with someone that you wish to get rid of, but are wondering if it is possible. If you are perfectly frank with this mon, explaining that you no longer wish to continue your friendship with him, I am sure he will listen to reason and agree. Since it has been impossible to get along for some time.

R.T. When did Health Education enter into the school curriculum?

Ans. Health education, originally a voluntary movement inaugurated early in the 19th century by physicians who offered their services without compensation ot check the spread of contagious diseases. Positive health work of the schools in the U. S. began prior to 1875 in the medical examination of students in some of the colleges. By 1926 it had come, theoretically to be placed first among the nation's objectives in education. School environment and health instruction occupy an important place in the curriculum today, hygiene both personal and general, being a required subject in most schools.

S.R. Of the two jobs in mind, which will I benefit most by accepting?

Ans. A careful analysis of your question indicates these jobs and the fact that you are most qualified for the position as clerk which will give you a chance to advance, according to your ability.

C.S. Dear Sir: I received my Prayer and Meditation Combination a few days ago and find it works wonders! I shall never be without this wonderful product, for while burning the incense and candles and concentrating and praying miracles just seem to happen. Thanks again for your help Professor.

H.L. Will I ever get my wife off my mind?

Ans. It appears to me that you have been trying for some time to forget your wife, but so far haven't been successful. You can't expect to forget someone that you have been associated with for a period of years, in a day, month or even months. It will take some time to eventually put her memory in the recess of your mind.

E.T. Why does my husband go on drinking sprees?

Ans. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals your husband as being worried over some financial difficulties and since drinking is a means of his forgetting for a while, he resorts to it. I suggest that you have a talk with him and explain that he is only endangering his health if he continues.

M.H. Will my boy friend and I go back together again?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that you and your friend were closely associated for two years, but have been separated for the past three months. There is a possibility of your resuming your farmer state of friendship if you make the first move toward a reconciliation. As he is very stubborn, and will not give in first.

An Open Letter To the Police Dept.

Persecution vs. Prosecution

Mayor Fletcher Bowron
City Hall,
Los Angeles, Calif.
Honorable Sir:

This company is located in the central district of Hollywood, and is manufacturing various types of sound equipment solely for the Army, Navy and Marine Corps. We have approximately 45 employes, about 60 per cent of them being Negro or Mexican men and women.

On Thursday, May 6, two of our Mexican employes were picked up on the street during their lunch hour, by several members of the Los Angeles Police Force. They were picked up for questioning on suspicion of purse snatching and car stealing, and were taken to the Hollywood police station. These two Mexican youths identified themselves by showing the company identification cards and claim they informed the police they were merely making purchases during their lunch period. The treatment received by these young men was unwarranted, in our opinion.

After short questioning at the police station, they were released and returned to work. In all, they lost their whole lunch hour and the company was forced to permit them addition time in which to eat.

This is not the first time that people of Mexican origin have been picked up by the police and held for as much as 12 hours without any charge being preferred. The net result as far as this company is concerned is that we have lost man hours and our help has been afraid to come to work in Hollywood. Our company has found that Mexican and Negro employes are extremely good workers and we are anxious to keep all male help, particularly in view of the manpower shortage.

As a result of the aforementioned incident, together with our personnel manager, I called on the Lieutenant in charge of the Hollywood police station to investigate the matter. His statements in brief were that "all Mexicans are good suspects" and that "the police and ourselves are working as cross purposes, in that we want to keep them in not."

This company, together with its employes, all of whom are working diligently toward the winning of the war, feel that such practices do not lead to the common goal toward which we are fighting. Therefore, we respectfully request that immediate steps be taken to insure against the continuance of these practices which intimidates our Mexican and Negro employes and in the long run affects our war production.

Respectfully yours,
Pacific Sound Equipment Co.

general hospital in Southern California capable of admiting casualties in large numbers, but even in its normal operation there is an acute shortage of nurses."

Hospital authorities, McDonough said, plan to issue an appeal to the patriotism of registered nurses who are inactive, married or engaged in other lines of occupation to register for call in the event of such an emergency. They would be called upon only in this event and would serve temporary periods.

Registered nurses willing to serve their country in such an emergency are urged to notify the County Hospital by telephone, CApitol 3161, Station 419, or letter leaving their name and address and an application blank will be mailed them, McDonough said.

Flowers Or Food?

Many Victory Gardeners are trying to decide between growing flowers and growing vegetables. Well, there is no sure-shot answer. Sound judgment must be used by individual gardeners.

However, every gardener should keep this in mind: the need for food is great. Without doubt, vegetables should take first place this year and flowers second. Here's a fair guide: plant vegetables on the richest, sunniest soil and flowers in the shadier and less fertile areas.

WAR ON NEGRO

TRUTH: For 323 years a war of prejudice, discrimination, lynching and abuses has been waged against us. I began to fight this battle when I discovered that I was a 'made fool.' Mark you, not a fool but a 'made one', like many intellectuls.

Thinking people are asking: What are we—Negroes, colored People or what? What is a NEGRO? No educator has ever given a satisfactory answer. They haven't the courage. The truth has never been told. Why is NEGRO the most disputed name? Because the truth is not known. Truth is The Basis of Education. I went to a university: spent 5 years in law school in Boston, became counsellor in public schools. Worked in educational sociology at New York University.

After 15 years' investigation, study and research, I found the facts, the history, the truth about the race.

With my discovery, I made money, and gained world respect.

It can do the same for you. I have compiled it in the great book: "HUMAN SIDE OF PEOPLE." 399 pages, 84 pictures by myself. Raphael P. Powell. The demand for this book by thousands proves that it shows the way to success and is helping to win the war against race prejudice. Price $3. Send orders to: PHILEMON CO., 224 West 135th St., New York City. GUARANTEED: The only book which gives the TRUTH about our race.

WARN AGAINST TRICKERY TO DEFEAT POLL TAX REPEALER

Georgia Race-Baiting Solon Accused as Bribe-Taker

WASHINGTON.—Rep. Eugene Cox (D., Ga.), Negro-baiting poll-taxer stands accused of accepting bribes, according to a story in yesterday's New York post.

The Post expose charged that Department of Justice officials had squelched the accusations against poll-taxer Cox.

Attorney General Biddle has seemingly developed a new interpretation of "Congressional immunity," using it as an excuse to prevent prosecution of the Dixie legislator on bribe charges.

Records, turned over to the Justice Department many months ago by the Federal Communications Commission showed that Rep. Cox received a "2,500 check from the owners of a Georgia radio station, after having communicated with the FCC or its

by c. a. b.

At a moment when our husbands and sons offer the last full measure of devotion on battlefields that straddle the earth, it is our job to blast aside the poll taxer defeatists who obstruct the war effort on every Congressional vote and who stand as the greatest political boulder in the path of a people's victory and a people's peace that we may know in America today. But this victory and our cherished hoped-for peace is being retarded because certain people, vested with power to trample on the rights of other people, have injected into our army camps, war industries, and even our governmental institutions, unconstitutional laws, rules and regulations for the expressed purpose of humiliating Negro trainees, war workers and civilians in all walks of life.

Two weeks ago this column called attention to an ugly little book entitled "Ten Little Nigger Boys" circulated in one of our eastside public schools. So ridiculous and degrading were the illustrations in this book that I made a cut and published it in order that Negro parents and other people who believe in one educational standard for all Americans might see how Nazi influence of the Hitler brand had trickled like a hidden stream into our educational system. Those who wanted to, understood my motive; those who elected to do otherwise, did not.

One brother, or maybe it was a sister, went so far as to say it was a circulation stunt—brother or sister, I don't give a rap what you say or think. Long since I have chosen my way—my path is before—I am seeing straight—I shall not stop, not even hesitate to heed your petty prejudices and jealousies—there is too much to be done. It is my duty and yours to put everything we have into winning the victory and peace about which we sing, pray and speak. Every impediment in our way to victory must be broken down. Not only shall we drive out of our educational system those political reactionary forces that destroy peaceful race relations among our young people in our local schools, but likewise expose those big shot Negro leaders who are as responsible for some of the abuses as those who perpetrate them. Let's stop whispering and speak right out—as the late editor J. B. Bass often said during his lifetime, "Hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may."—Here are some facts, and I have plenty more—In a recent political campaign, some Negro politicians conferred with some white politicians of their same political faith for advice as to how to throw the writer of this column out of the same party.

Minister Asks Public To Aid Folkes

I Conferred With Folkes' Attorney

By Rev. J. Raymond Henderson

While in Portland, Oregon week before last, I conferred for almost an hour with the Attorney who has the Folkes' case. The appointment was arranged by Rev. J. J. Clow of Portland, who has been so helpful in this case.

Leaving this lawyer's office, I was convinced that Folkes is innocent of the "Lover 13 Slaying". I believe him to be the victim of circumstances and the trickery of someone who committed the crime and was smart enough to cover up and incriminate an innocent Negro with insufficient intelligence to protect himself.

The lawyer himself is convinced that a higher Court will reverse the prejudicial decision of the lower court. I wish to allign myself with this fight and compliment those who are in the forefront.

It will take over $600 to print the transcript of the record needed for a new trial. We must help raise that and more.

This is to tell the Los Angeles public to go to your respective churches this Sunday prepared to give an offering. The Baptist Union of which I have the honor to be president, voted on Tuesday to lift offerings in the Baptist Churches, reporting the same at the Union on next Tuesday. I am glad I had the chance to go to Portland and to confer with Rev. Clow and the lawyer, for that has placed me definitely in favor of Folkes. Let us all become aroused, lest justice be once again miscarried.

ELLINGTON FIELD, Texas, May 20.—Marching in snappy cadence and standing rigidly at attention, fighting men of the United States Army Air Forces attached to the 79th Aviation Squadron at Ellington Field, Texas, drew admiration of the field's entire personnel recently in a special review. High in praise of the Negro troops' thrilling performance was Col. W. H. Reid, Ellington Field's Commanding Officer.

FRANK OSBORN SINGS FOR ELLINGTON SOLDIERS

Frank Osborn, well known traveling tenor gospel singer, thrilled Negro troops stationed at Ellington Field, Texas, huge twin-engine advanced flying school, when he appeared recently in a special Sabbath concert sponsored by the Brotherhood of St. James Church in nearby Houston. Osborn's inspiring performance drew praise from Col. W. H. Reid, Ellington Field's Commanding Officer, and Mrs. Reid, honored guests at the concert. Osborn, whose home is at Bryan, Texas, came to Houston and Ellington Field from Chicago, where he sang a number of concerts.

Report Anti-Poll Tax Bill Passage in House Certain

WASHINGTON.—Passage of the Marcantonio anti-poll tax bill in the House of Representatives May 24th is held certain here.

A majority of House members forced the anti-poll tax bill out of Committee by petition yesterday—as they did last year—but this time early enough in the session to preclude any possibility of its being killed by a fillibuster. Passage this month is certain.

The petition was completed in record-breaking time last Thursday when 10 Congressmen added their names to it, forcing an automatic vote on the bill. Poll tax Congressmen have been blocking the measure in the House Judiciary Committee.

That the bill will come up for a vote on May 24 was assured when Rep. Antonio Fernandez (D., N. Mex.), added his name to the petition during the afternoon to provide the 218th signature. Rep. George H. Bender, (R., O.), chairman of the committee in charge of the petition, quickly filed it with Speaker Rayburn and rushed to the press gallery to announce the triumph.

Bender and Rep. Vito Mercantonio (ALP., N. Y.), author of the poll tax bill, announced the petition had been completed in record-breaking time—one day less than two months, a period during which the House was in session 32 days.

The committee in the House which conducted the drive for signatures included, in addition to Bender and Marcanotio, Reps., Warren Magnuson (D., Wash.), Joseph Gavagan (D., N. Y.), William Dawson (D., Ill.), only Negro member of Congress; Thomas E. Scanlon (D., Pa.), Charles M. La Follette (R., Ind.), and Joseph Clark Baldwin (R., N. Y.).

Under House rules, when the House meets May 24, Speaker Rayburn will recognize Magnu-

Justice Seen In Mississippi Lynch Case

HATTIESBURG, Mississippi — Despite the acquittal of three men accused of helping in the lyching of Howard Wash, Negro, it can be said that Justice, after 10 years, put in its first appearance here in the Federal Court, when a young Virginia attorney, Frank Coleman, of the Department of Justice, put up a strong fight for the prosecution of the vicious lynchers.

Awaiting a mandatory life imprisonment sentence for the self-defense slaying of his white employer last October, Howard Wash, Negro dairy worker of Laurel was taken from the Jones county jail and hanged by a lynch mob from Welborns bridge near Laurel.

The Government placed powerful evidence of the gilt of three of the accused men before the Mississippi jury, most important of which was a six page statement, signed by Allen Pryor, employee of the Laurel, Mississippi Masonite plant, admitting that he had helped to force the outer door of the jail, and that he was

Selfish, Indifferent Attitudes Of Social Workers Indicted

By J. ROBERT SMITH

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Unlike most mild and gentle gatherings of social workers, the labor session of the 35th annual California Conference of Social Work which met at the Roosevelt Hotel here last week, was given an unexpected shock when Revels Cayton, vice-president of the Californio Council, CIO, and director of the state union's program for organizing Negroes in the body, released a series of "depth" charges accusing the workers of their selfish and indifferent attitudes towards labor.

One of the main speakers at the convention, Cayton in a fiery address told his more than 1500 listeners, mostly white, "You have your program written on paper, now how are you going to take it off paper, breathe life into it and make it live?"

"A program backed up only by yourself can only win condescendnig acknowledgement from the powers that be. You, like the Negro people, the farmers and other like group have got one thing to learn and that is you must unite with the working people of this country and go forward to victory," he said.

Ineffective Program

The West Coast labor leader further warned his professional audience that no minority group can pull itself up by its own bootstraps on any individualistic work program unless such a program was dovetailed into the

Investigation of Jim-Crow In Armed Forces

The daily increase of maddening, petty, insulting practices of discrimination against Negro soldiers in Dixie-land has reached a peak, as indicated by the increasing and overwhelming protest of young Negro soldiers.

It has become strikingly noticeable, from letters pouring into the offices of the Negro press in all sections of the country, that petty acts of discrimination are having a more calamitous effect on the morale of Negro soldiers than actual deeds of violence.

That a climax is approaching in which action will have to be taken to eliminate these Hitlerite practices which serve only to disrupt national unity was the opinion voiced by William H. Hastie, former civilian aide to the Secretary of War, last week.

Hastie was recently awarded the Spingarn medal, after having resigned his post in protest against jim-crow practices in the armed forces.

SEES MOUNTING RAGE

Addressing a meeting in New York Hastie called attention to the "mounting rage" of Negro soldiers towards these injustices. "In most southern communities the struggles of a Negro soldier begin when he leaves the boundaries of the camp," Hastie said.

What is being done about it? Senator Sheridan Downey, California Democrat, chairman of the subcommittee on war production of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, courageously introduced a Senate resolution demanding investigation into jim-crow in the armed forces, three weeks ago. As sponsor of the resolution, it is anticipated that within a very short period, a committee will be appointed by Senator Downey, and an unbiased investigation will be launched.

EAGLE HELPED

Conspicuous participants in urging the introduction of Senator Downey's resolution were the Eagle's Washington representative. Full and complete support of the citizens of Los Angeles was promised in the long-delayed but encouraging step toward positive national unity.

What can we do? Our work is now to give this expose support, wholeheartedly. All of us are affected, directly. It is our sons, our brothers, our fathers—our people who are crying out against these practices, remnants of the days of slavery.

NATIONAL NEGRO CONGRESS ASSAILS ANTI-POLL TAX FOES; URGES ALL-OUT CAMPAIGN TO SECURE PASSAGE OF H.R. 7

NEW YORK, May 14.—The National Office of the National Negro Congress here, this week, called upon all its local councils and affiliates to wage an all-out campaign to secure passage of H. R. 7, the Anti-Poll Tax Bill, when it comes up for vote in the house May 24. Pointing to the fact that unity of the people was responsible for the securing of the necessary 218 signatures within thirty-two legislature days after introduction of the bill, the National Negro Congress urged even more vigorous action of all win-the-war forces to keep the fight going until passage of the bill is achieved in both Houses of Congress.

At the same time, the Congress assailed those poll taxers and other reactionaries who are plotting sabotage and defeat of the bill by means of:

(1) Parliamentary maneuvers to prevent consideration of the bill on May 24.

(23) Intimidation of other Congressmen with a view to: a. make them vote against the bill or, b. persuade them to be absent when the vote is taken. (The key positions held by poll-taxers on major committees before which bills, important to various Congressmen, must

Special Officer Acquitted On Assault Charges

Fred Thompson, special officer officer employed by the American Patrol Co., and residing at 58 East Santa Barbara avenue, was acquitted of charges of assault with a deadly weapon after trial without a jury before Judge Clement D. Nye in Department 40 of the Superior Court last Tuesday morning. He was represented by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor. The assault charges grew out of the shooting of Tony Massoriti, an Italian youth, on March at the Daly Theater on Daly and Broadway. Thompson claimed that the wounded youth was one of the members of a Zoot Suit gang which had terrorized the neighborhood theaters by forcing their way in without paying their fare, and that on the night of the shooting one of these gangs assaulted Gilbert Goode of 318 Ferris street, an usher in the theater and was severely beating him when he called for help. Thompson testified that he ran to the assistance of Goode at the same time yelling for the youths to stop. He testified that they refused to do so whereupon he fired a wild shot at the steel door of the theater in an attempt to frighten the gang, but that in some manner the bullet ricocheted and struck the Massoriti boy in the leg as he was in the act of running. He further testified that he picked up the wounded boy and held him at the corner of Daly and Broadway until an ambulance came. The district attorney had sought to prove by numerous witnesses that the shooting was deliberate and intentional. In acquitting Thompson Judge Nye ordered that his pistol which had been confiscated by police, be returned to him upon the restoration of his license from the Police Commission to carry firearms in pursuit of his employment.

Woman Found After 4 Days Alone in Bed

Reported as in a dying condition, Viola Blakely, 30, a defense worker, of 1340 E. Washington, was found in her bed there last Tuesday, where for four days she had lain unattended, suffering from wounds, and internal injuries. She had been terribly beaton on the Saturday previous, by her lover, Paul Smith, 40, of the same address.

According to her story told to officers Watson and Brown of Newton Station, Smith had beaten her with a chair because she had objected to surrendering the pay-check she had just received. "I arrived home from work, and about 9:15 Paul insisted that we go to Tiajuana. I told him I didn't think we could make it, then he demanded my money. When I refused, he beat me with a chair until I fell, then he stomped me all over the body until I became unconscious. When I came to I begged for a doctor, but he would not call one, nor for four days would the landlady or any of the other tenants.

But today, when he stepped out I began screaming again, and when he returned, he said he didn't want to get arrested, and left." Officers expect to apprehend him from his description.

U. S. TO BACK NEW YOUTH VOLUNTEER ARMY

The new volunteer army of youth will be given Federal recognition by the issuance of civilian defense certificates of achievement. Identifying insignia will be a duplication of the official Citizens' Service Corps emblem—the letters "CVD" in red on a white triangle in a blue circle—with the words "Junior Service" added.

The training will be carried on through existing youth organizations in cooperation with the city and county Citizens' Service Corps.

Dr. Thomas J. Tormey, sectional director of the Citizens' Service Corps in the national Office of Civilian Defense, met with the local Committee on Youth Programs to set up the working plan for the Southern California section.

The following were named to carry out the program under the city and county service corps: Robert B. Gould, Woodcraft Rangers, chairman; C. L. Glenn, L. A. city schools; Jacob Alkow, Beverly-Fairfax Community Center; Thelma Patterson, Y. M. C. A.; Rev. R. Cotter, Catholic Welfare Bureau; C. A. Hadley, Los Angeles City Recreation Department; Donald Monroe, Boy Scouts; David De Marche, Y. M. C. A.; Dr. John L. Mixon, Church Federation; Dr. Robert A. McKibben, All-Nations Foundation; Mrs. Ester C. Morgan, Camp Fire Girls, and Mrs. Sara Cook Marriott, Girl Scouts.

GRASS, WEEDS RESULT IN FIRE HAZARDS

Fire hazards resulting from a profuse growth of grass and weeds this year on thousands of vacant lots in Los Angeles present one of the city's major problems in civilian defense, according to a report filed this week with the Board of Public Works by H. P. Cortelyou, engineer-director of the Bureau of Maintenance and Sanitation.

In sounding a warning of danger from fires of local origin attention also was called to the grave possibility of fires from incendiary bombs if the threatened air raids are staged in this area by enemy forces.

In normal years the city posts notices annually on 100,000 vacant lots. Of this number lot owners and private contractors usually clean 5g,000, leaving approximately 45,000 to be cleaned by the city's crews. This year, however, with a shortage of labor and equipment it is estimated that thousands of vacant lots will not be cleaned unless local citizens respond to the appeal for assistance.

An appeal is being issued to local citizens to form groups and clean the weeds and grass from all vacant lots in their own neighborhoods. The burning would be performed without city supervision and with no compensation to the workers. No charges for the service would be made against the property owners. Fire department regulations controlling fires, however, must be observed.

All persons interested in cleaning vacant lots should obtain the necessary permits to burn from the nearest city fire station. The burning period is limited from 6 a.m. until 3 p.m. It is thought that many people will be willing to cooperate in the program as a matter of local neighborhood pride, as well as for the protection of their own lives and property.

California's plight in the proposed gasoline rationing program is reminiscent of the shipwrecked sailor who found water all around him but not a drop to drink.

NATIONAL NEGRO CONGRESS FLAYS CONNOLLY-SMITH ANTI-LABOR BILL

NEW YORK, May 12.—Dr. Max Yergan, President of the National Negro Congress, in a statement issued here today to all local councils and affiliates, udged immediate action to defeat the Connolly-Smith Anti-Strike Bill. Dr. Yergan characterized this move on the part of the Southern Bloc as the most vicious and flagrant attempt to destroy the gains of organized labor. In denouncing this bill, which would the War Labor Board and threaten the essential contribution of organized labor to the war effort, President Yergan called upon the Negro people and organized labor to rally their forces for defeat of the bill.

Dr. Yergan pointed out that this bill would destroy the very gains which labor is sacrificing to preserve. The Connolly Anti-Strike Bill was hurriedly pushed through the Senate on a wave of anti-labor hysteria created by the John L. Lewis-United Mine Worker controversy. Encouraged by the quick passage of the Connolly Bill, labor's long-time enemy, Representative Howard Smith rewrote the Bill and not only included all the old anti-labor provisions of former bills, but added new provisions that would:

(1) Require a secret ballot before a strike can be called in a war plant.

(2) Require labor organizations to register and give full financial statements.

(3) Give the War Labor Board power to subpoena witnesses and data.

(4) Prohibit strikes for 60 days after the WYB assumes jurisdiction.

(5) Provide penalties of $5000 and a year in jail for promoting strikes in Government- seized plants.

(6) Outlaw jurisdictional disputes, secondary boycotts and sympathy strikes.

The defeat of this Bill is essential to national unity and full prosecution of the war.

Motorists Told Of Carbon Check Need

Southland motorists this week were advised by the Automobile Club of Southern California to keep a close check on carbon formation in the engine of the vehicle which is serving the home front.

Slower driving due to wartime restrictions has a tendency to cause faster development of carbon deposits, it was pointed out. A motor operating at normal temperature causes less carbonization, and slow driving causes the operating temperature to remain below normal, resulting in a faster formation of carbon.

Excessive carbon results in loss of power and inefficient motor performance, motorists are warned.

My Experience In The Post Office

By P. L. HACKETT, SR.

We are backed in a gigantic struggle today and everyone will be glad to see it end. Men are losing their lives, cities are being destroyed, children are being left parentless, and yet in spite of these horrible conditions, good has come out of this conflict.

The world is learning that necessity is a respector of no one. When things must be accomplished, it doesn't matter who does it. The most important part is, that it is done.

The world has found out that all things veing equal, all races can and will arise to the occasion, if given an opportunity. We find most every one working for anyone, and the strange part, no one seems to care. If we can do this for the duration; we can continue in post-war days.

At a time like this, it may seem out of order to speak of non-competitive examinations. When I think of the reasons that postmaster, Mrs. Mary D. Briggs gave for denying employees non-competitive an see the whole thing and told to the local post office could be maintained Mary W. Briggs, gave for denying employees a non-competitive, and see the post office as it is operated today, the whole thing looks very obscure. Mrs. Briggs stated that she did not feel that the high standards of the local post office could be maintained by giving non-competitive examinations to those who were capable-of making only low grades. When asked if she did not feel that faithful service merited reward by a chance to advance there by giving an employee something to look forward to, she stated: 'she did not want any one in the service to be unhappy, and if they were not satisfied, they should seek employment where they would be happier, and that she was sorry, but in fairness to the many who passed high in competitive examinations she would not consent to a non-competitive: that, competitive examinations were fair and open to all.

I only hope that the post office department will learn a lesson from this war. Today hundreds of employees who are acting in a temporary capacity are handling mail. These employees have never taken a civil service examination, yet, they have risen to the occasion. Are doing a good job learning schemes and carrying out. Wouldn't it have been wonderful if loyal and faithful employees had been given this chance without a war.

Several of the employees who wished to take a non-competitive examination, but were refused, are now making good clerks.

It doesn't require a college or even a high school education to be a post office clerk. All one needs is to be able to read and write, a good memory, and the willingness to apply yourself, and follow instructions. Due to the economic course through which we pass, we find that many of the new clerks have far better academic training than the men who supervise them. When this emergency is over, we hope that the men who serve in our local department will be given more consideration for faithful services rendered. It should be remembered that America was built by determination, ambition and perseverance.

HOLD MAN IN DEATH OF YOUTH

As a result of the fatal shooting of Jack Gorin, 22-year-old youth of 2927 South Western avenue on Sunday, May 9th, at the corner of 42nd street and Central avenue by Lovoulia Anderson of 1163 E. Adams boulevard., a coroner's jury returned a verdict of homicidal intent against Anderson and recommended that he be held for the murder of Gorin. The chief witness for the prosecution was Officer Earl Broady of the Newton street police station who testified that he arrived at the scene only to find that Anderson had fled, but that thereafter Anderson had surrendered himself and called for his attorney, Curtis C. Taylor, and gave a statement in which he said the shooting grew out of an attempted assault upon his person by the dead man with a tire tool after Anderson had requested his wife, Georgia Anderson, to get out of an automobile in which she was riding with Gorin. He also testified that Anderson told him that he shot in self-defense; however, he said that no witnesses could be found to verify this statement. Defense Attorney Taylor representing Anderson drew from the witness an admission that in Anderson's statement he had also said that he had told the dead man to halt several times before firing the fatal shot, and that he only fired after his demands to halt were ignored. A complaint charging murder was filed against Anderson and his preliminary hearing has been set for Wednesday, May 19, Division 4 of the Municipal Court, at which time it is expected that he will be held to answer for trial in the Superior Court since his attorney has indicated that he will not put on any defense at the preliminary hearing, but will wait for the trial to prove his client is innocent.

STRIKING ANTI-NEGRO PHONE WORKERS RETURN TO WORK

CAMDEN, N. J.—Last week's walkout of eighty white women from the Bell Telephone Company here when they learned of the company's plan to employ Negroes was settled on the afternoon of the same day it occurred, the Camden and Philadelphia branches of the NAACP revealed this week. As yet, no Negroes have been hired at the Camden Telephone office.

The strige was immediately referred by the NAACP to the War Manpower Commission who sent representatives to Camden, and the strikers wro were clerks in the accounting department returned to work.

On May 3, the morning of the strike the company informed the press:

"The situation is caused by the fact that a group of employes in the accounting department objected to the employment of Negroes. The company's policy regarding not discriminating against applicants for employment because of race is squarely in line with the President's executive order to defense industries in which the telephone company is included."

The strikers belonged to no union, but their spokesman, M. D. Murphy, secretary-treasurer of the Telephone Workers Union, said:

"They went out because they wished to obtain a correction of working conditions. They want seniority rights and a promotion."

The striking white workers were returned to their same job catagories.

PLAN MEET ON WAR WORKERS' HOUSING

VICTORY COMMITTEE PLANS CITY WIDE CONFERENCE ON NEGRO WAR WORKER & HOUSING

Because immediate action is necessary to provide housing for the growing Negro population, the Negro Victory Committee, at its last meeting declared, ". . . housing for Negro War Workers is a most immediate problem for the City of Los Angeles, especially in view of the growing Negro population, the limited facilities of the City Housing Authority, and its quota restrictions against Negro tenants."

Norman O. Houston, Chairman of the V. C. Housing Committee, stated in his report before the Steering Committee that "not only was it necessary to seek the removal of the 'quota system' but it was necessary to seek more federal aid to Los Angeles for the building of homes for war workers." Another problem presented by Mr. Houston, which has been acute for some time, and which will be all the more so in the next few weeks, is the question of housing for the thousands of Negro service men who are now spending short leaves in Los Angeles.

Because of these situations, a city-wide conference is being called for May 30, 1943. The place will be announced very soon. The Committee on Arrangements for the conference is composed of Mr. Al Patrick, Mrs. Mary L. Rosser, Mr. Charles Russell and Mr. J. E. Hargrove.

The Negro Victory Committee is interested in securing all possible facts on thesituation and is urging that all people with housing problems register with the Committee at 4037 S. Central Avenue .The offices are opened daily, 11:30 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. or phone ADams 1-5887 for appointment.

As publicity director of the CIO War Relief Committee since January of this year, Ottley has brought public attention to the CIO's achievement in raising $17,000,000 for war relief purposes. Ottley prepared magazine articles and radio broadcasts and addressed various organizations on what the CIO has done and what it expects to do in helping the suppressed labor movements of the world re-establish their free trade unions.

Ottley's second book, which is scheduled to appear next year, will describe the minority peoples of the United Nations and the heroic fight they are now waging for freedom and for destruction of Axis tyranny.

"This fight for the Negro is the Real Fight for the American way of Life," said Rev. They will be assisted by Mr. Clarence O. English of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company and Mr. James Anderson of the American Federation of Labor.

WHITE OFFICER PROTESTS ARMY BIGOTRY

NEW YORK, N. Y.—In a letter from an intelligent young white officer stationed in a southern camp, the NAACP was urged this week to continue its fight on all fronts for the realization of democracy in America.

"Your fight is our fight—that a man has rights as a man, whether he be a Jew, Negro, Irish-Catholic or a southern demagogue," writes this officer.

"I have found very little reason for encouragement in the application of democratic thoughts to race relations since entering the army. . . . I know that I am in a bed section of the country to find any great emphasis on tolerance and justice in this matter but what has been especially discouraging is the number of men from the supposedly more liberal northern states whose eyes are just as blind as Rankin's."

Social Workers

broad and powerful movement of the American people.

Calling upon the social workers to join the fight to stamp out discrimination, racial and otherwise, Cayton declared, "Our best efforts must be bent to remove the obstacles to the operation of our war program. It is extremely serious that while we are complaining of a desperate manpower shortage there are literally hundreds of thousands of men and women who are unemployed but could be brought into war production.

Slipshod Methods

"I refer to the great numbers of women, to Negroes, to Mexicans and to other minority groups whose full utilization is blocked by lack of proper planning and by the operation of stupid prejudices. We cannot afford to nourish racial and religious prejudices or continue with slipshod methods in these times."

In his direct appeal he continued, "The question of a forthright attack upon prejudice is particularly significant. The extent to which we fight prejudice, the extent to which we share with minority groups democratic rights and opportunities, measures the extent of our strength to win the war and the peace."

"We call upon all social workers and all interested in social welfare to join in this essential fight."

Landed Haymaker

Opening speaker of the annual conference was Dr. Arlien Johnson, president of the conference. Delegates to the conferenee saw her enter the controversial ring of social welfare and child care with both arms swinging. She landed a haymaker on the collective chins of the "status quo gang," labeling it as dangerous as the Axis gang to the world of the future.

She clipped the champions of greed and avarice, the pressure groups and the "gimme boys" for placing themselves ahead of the war and the peace. Then, as only a veteran of social welfare work could, Dr. Johnson jabbed at communities which believe Demrocracy is founded on "buck passing" rather than on shouldering responsibilities.

Dr. Johnson, who is dean of the graduate school of social work at the University of Southern California, spoke on "Social Work On the Home Front," but this title hid a bagful of potent punches aimed at those who would like to hinder America's plans for a world peace and security.

"Y" BRANCH IN ANNUAL PUBLIC MEETING SUNDAY

Judge Scott to Speak

Members and friends of the Twenty-Eighth Street Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association will gather at Hamilton Methodist Church next Sunday afternoon, May 23, at half past three o'clock to hear Superior Court Judge Robert H. Scott speak on "The YMCA Today and Tomorrow." The Judge will speak not only from a rich background of knowledge and understanding of the problems of the community, but as a member of the Metropolitan Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. will draw upon an intimate insight into the ability of the Association to meet these needs.

A special committee, chaired by A. J. Williams of the Golden State Life Insurance company, and including George E. Bryant, Broker, and H. A. Howard, Realtor, has arranged an interesting program for this annual meeting which will bring to the members of the Branch a report of the Board of Managers from the Branch Chairman, the Rev. S. M. Beane. Miss Josephine Cooper will give sparkle to the program in two numbers. The Boys' Glee Club of McKinley Junior High School will sing. Clarence Gordon, a member of the Boys' Section of the Branch will read his original poem, "I Am a Negro."

The members of the Branch and the public will join in honoring the Rev. Frank A. Harris, a former Kansas City "Y" Secretary, now a presiding elder of the A. M. E. Church, who served as interim executive when Lieutenant Baxter S. Scruggs left the Branch last year. New members of the Board of Managers and the new Branch Executive will be introduced in the course of this fast moving program.

Negro Congress Condemns Policies of UMW Leadership

In a statement by its National President, Max Yergan, made public recently, the National Negro Congress voiced its unqualified opposition to the tactics of the obstructionists within the leadership of the United Mine Workers who are threatening the hard-earned gains of labor and jeopardizing the opening of the second front, and full prosecution of the war by their failure to utilize recognized government channels to settle the just grievances of the miners. While expressing complete support to the miners in their demand for higher wages to cope with the sharp increase in the cost of living, Dr. Yeagan severely criticized the demagogic exploitation of the situation by John L. Lewis to disrupt the war program. At the same time, the National Negro Congress called upon the 500,000 Negro and white miners to accept the nation's war machinery for settling labor disputes through the War Labor Board, and to press for the carrying out of President Roosevelt's seven-point economic program to maintain a just ratio between wages and prices.

"The organized labor movement has demonstrated its desire and determination to produce for victory. Its efforts must not be thwarted, nor its rights jeopardized by the obstructionist policy of the John L. Lewis UMW leadership and its followers whose antics have already whipped up an anti-labor hysteria responsible for the quick passage of the Connolly Anti-Strike Bill. The National Negro Congress joins with labor in its fight to achieve the complete solidarity of the win-the-war forces in our nation to hasten victory over fascism."

Justice Seen

part of the mob that lynched Howard Wash.

Press Reddoch, sheriff of Jones County, and leading witness for the Government, personally identified two of the accused. This testimony, from a white peace officer, identifying lynch mobbers was of an almost unprecedented nature in Southern trials.

After four days, with less than a half hour's deliberation, the jury of twelve average Mississippians, mostly farmers, turned in a unanimous acquittal of the three men, accused of being part of the mob lynchers who took Wash's life, despite a strong plea of Justice, and an appeal to the jury's most backward prejudices.

That Uncle Sam does not intend to abandon his efforts to uphold the rights of the Negro people in the South is becoming apparent. The government called attention to the effects such mob violence is bound to have upon the rest of the world, because of its strong resemblance to Hitlerism. Arguing that the Federal Government was upholding rather than invading the soverign rights of Mississippi, it was pointed out that lynching is becoming a powerful propaganda weapon in the hands of the Nazis and Japanese.

America, as the land of the free, has the responsibility of showing to the world today, that we stand for equal opportunity for all oppressed peoples and that the Negro people, therefore, cannot remain oppressed before the law in this country.

Howard Wash is dead. Those who were part of the mob that were responsible for his violent death are acquitted, but the Federal Government is awakening to its responsibility to its minority peoples. So in the death of Wash, one must find consolation, since there must needs be some, in the realization that Justice, personified by the Federal Government, is rallying to the defense of its oppressed peoples.

He will address candidates for graduation and convocation audience from the topic "Post War Challenges and Opportunities."

Anti-Poll-Tax Trickery

sounded today by the International Labor Defense.

Representative Vito Marcantonio (ALP, N.Y.), author of H.B. 7, the poll tax repeal bill, is national president of the I. L. D. On May 7, 218 members of the House of Representatives having sign a petition to bring H.R. 7 to a vote, the petition was filed. Under House rules, debate on the measure will start May 24.

"A public campaign much more intense than has yet been developed, is necessary between now and May 24, to defeat plans of the poll taxers in Congress to scuttle the bill," the International Labor Defense said.

"The opposition is desperate and will stop at nothing. Their strategy will include attempts:

"1) To prevent consideration of the bill on May 24, by parliamentary maneuvers:

"2) To intimidate Congressmen with a view to make the vote against the bill, or not show up for the vote. The key positions on House Committees before which bills important to various Congressmen must come gives them a powerful lever for this kind of pressure.

"3) To load down H. R. 7 with amendments which will alienate various groups of Representatives, so as to defeat the bill on the final vote.

"In this situation, the most powerful campaign of public pressure on Congress is essential, to counteract the poll taxers' plot.

"Every union, every organization, every individual, should write or wire his own Representative insisting:

"That he be present on May 24 and 25, and on the floor of Congress; that he be present to vote down every amendment, no matter how desirable its contents might be as a separate measure; that he vote for passage of H.R. 7; that no absenteeism at any time during the debate will be excusable for a supporter of poll tax repeal."

The poll tax repeal bill would remove voting disability from six million white and four million Negro citizens in seven Southern states. At present, the Representatives from the seven states are perpetuated in office by a vote averaging less than 3 per cent of the population. Many are elected by 1 per cent or less.

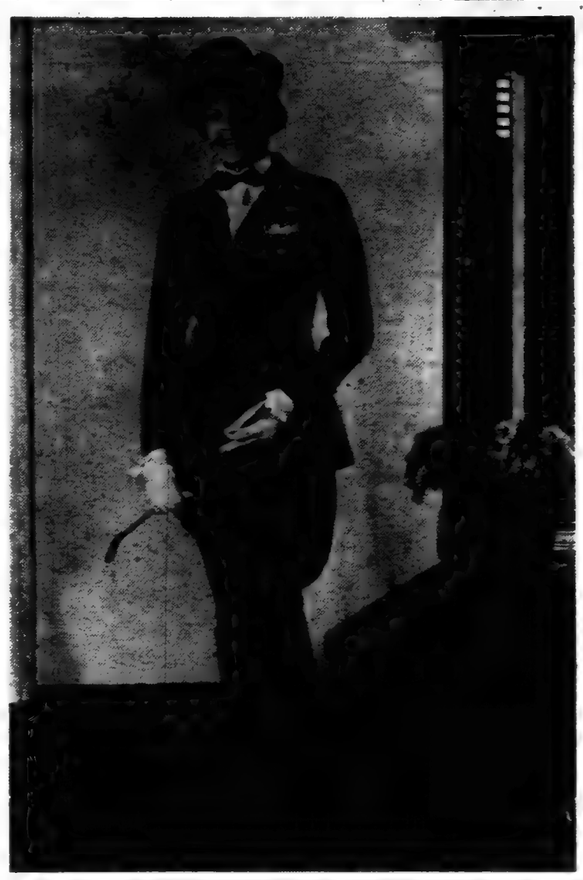
DOUGLAS OPENS RENTAL BUREAU

Can't find a place to live!



That often-voiced plaint of its employes, new and old, has forced Douglas Aircraft Company into another sideline activity, in addition to the business of turning out combat and cargo planes for Uncle Sam and his allies.

To help solve for its people the vexing housing problem, the company today opened rental bureau offices at the parent Santa Monica plant.

Accumulated there is every available listing that can be obtained from general sources such as agencies, realty operators and classified news columns. These are supplemented by a group of professional house-hunters, by door-todoor canvassers and survey experts. Analyzed for suitability as to location, availability to transportation and other essential requirements, the listings are further classified as to price ranges.

Clark Ewing, chairman of the new Douglas housing committee, said that the service will save new employes an average of one week to ten days in time in looking for a house or apartment.

"For surveys of the greater Los Angeles area disclose that housing now available is less than 0.3 per cent," Ewing declared, adding that the new rental bureau is prepared to handle up to 100 employe requests per day.

Congressional immunity means freedom from arrest (or subpoena) in civil proceedings during sessions of Congress, and immunity from libel or slander charges for anything said on the floor of Congress, under the Constitution. It has not, hitherto, been interpreted as meaning immunity from prosecution for violation of the criminal statutes.

Under the Criminal Code of Section 113, provision is made that any Congressman, guilty of "directly or indirectly" receiving any compensation for representing any person before any government department or bureau shall be subject to a two-year jail sentence and a $10,000 fine.

Magnuson, for the Democrats, and Baldwin, for the Republicans, will be the floor managers in charge of the debate.

It was a non-partisan, coalition drive that put the petition across so quickly. The committee in charge represented three parties, all sections of the country and both the white and Negro races.

If the bill is passed by the House on May 24, it will leave more than a year and a half to organize pressure for getting the measure through the Senate. It was blocked there last time by a minority of Senators from Southern states who conducted a filibuster against it.

Walk 18 hours -Ride six

The war has brought drastic changes in habits, occupations, earnings, working conditions, living requirements and even in the appeals of advertisers.

The Los Angeles Railway formerly asked that you use its cars and coaches as often as possible and told of its excellent service, city-wide coverage, comfort in riding and economy.

Today the Los Angeles Railway asks that you use public transportation only when necessary, that you walk instead of ride when the distances permit, that you ride only between the hours of 10:00 A.M. and 4:00 P.M. when the equipment is not needed to haul the workers to and from their jobs and that you be lenient if there should be any crowding or inconvenience.

The effort to win the war is uppermost in all American minds.

Ah, brown girl,
Sing!

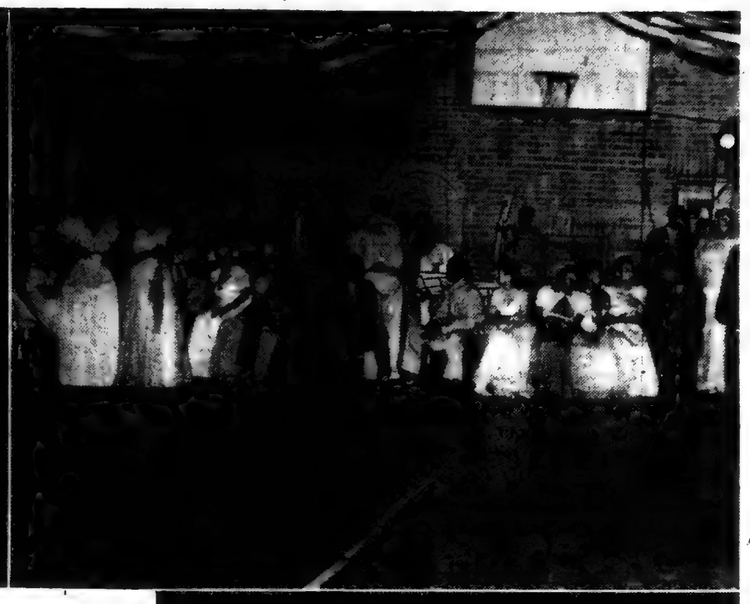
Dean of Women at Wilberforce G. Myrtle Teal is in these parts for a month, arrived last Wedn. She has her kit bags at the Pasadena place of Mrs. J. Berkley Bryant. Local Deltas will learn Wilberforce's peronable Dean is one of them . . . Noo Yawk's titian-hair Henriette Flanner is singin' the blues because an unexpected defense program for teachers has cropped up to prevent her hurrying back to Calif. for the summer. She had her heart set on poppin' in here on us, surprising us outve a year's growth.

Ethel Waters entourage arrives here June twentieth for a few days, then onto Frisco for a July fifth opening . . . Marie Joe Browne, back East these few months, gave a recital in Hartford, Conn. recently . . . Before I forget it—here 'n now—sincere thanks to those swell folk who remembered this dept's birthday. Thanx, honest! . . . Etta Moten returns here for a short stay during the summer. She'll study . . . In all sincerity, I don't know who I really rather have seen other than Jack Carr and Ruby Elzy back in town! It's always good seeing them around the land, somehow, and I love 'em more and more. And if Ruby wasn't MAGNIFICENT opening night I don't know who was!! . . . And it's been darn swell again spending delightful hours with Gladys and Tod Duncan, who we last saw in Chi in Nov. . . . Gladys never looked better, she enjoys choo-chooing with her hubby. By the bye, did you know S'America wants the Gershwin opus to visit them? It's been so good having them all here—yep!! Reunions have been plentiful and gay. And quiet . . .

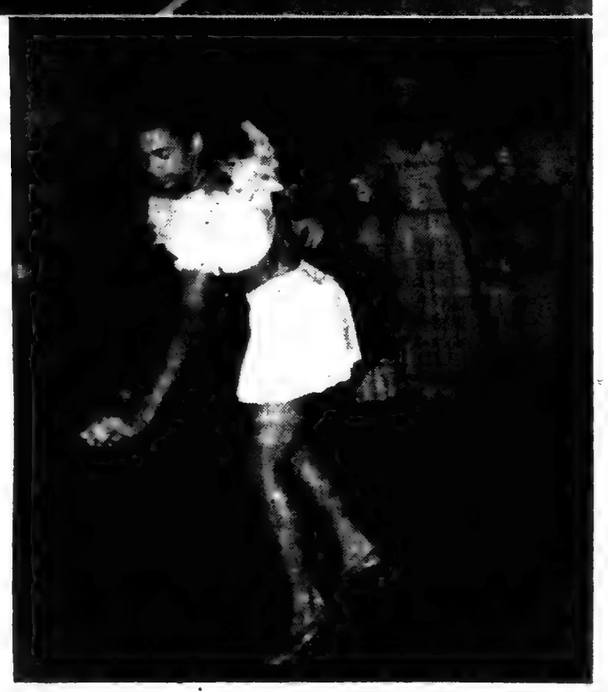
Velma Gipson, who has been in Chi these twelve years (she's a Lab technicians), arrives next Sunday prior to becoming the bride of Lt. Frank Biddle, stationed in these parts. The wedding occurs within the next few weeks, and will be the first of two weddings slated for the Gipson family this Spring . . . Few folk enjoy life more than coruscant, fun-loving Jay Loftlin! Goes on his merrie way, let come what may . . . Courtney is due, probably as you read this. He's in from heap much merchant marine travel . . . Vye Aldridge (does she have An Announcement to make, by chance?) put her mama on a Texas-bound choo choo last Wednesday for her annual trek . . . Reggie Arnaud and Ollie McClelland are now servicemen, were inducted last Friday . . . Laura Slayton has written a jim-dandy musical comedy for the lads at Riverside. It boasts one of those "chorus lines" and sounds hilarious. She hopes to put it on here, later . . . In case you vaguely wondered, then yawned, 'tis Fredi Washington who pens that rather confusing Hollywood column on PV under the Winston Graham title . . . "Jo" Cooper let Spring catch her with her guard down. She's radiant these days, and with nice cause. His name is Fred Cumbees, and together they make one of those tender, slender and tall couples everybody looks at again.

As of May twenty-third, this dept. will be godpappy for Gwen and Sinky Bourne's son, who will be christened that afternoon at St. Martin's in New York City. Buster Werner will stand-in for us via the proxy route, and Marie Lawrence will be godmother. The after-christening party will have the Bourne domicile frolicksome and full, I well know. And if you don't think I wish I was there you're crazy, buh . . . A recent addition to City Housing staff: Mrs. Chester Himes . . . Fred Cleveland has finally come up outve the wilds of Dixie, now is stationed at Huachuca . . . I like: gay tone to the flagged patio of the Dr. Jefferson Fowlers Van Ness home, don't you? . . . Meet the Negro, written by Rev. Karl Downs (he's India bound after the duration) and illustrated by Cal Bailey, is on the press. Advance publicity on it is in circulation . . . Sgt. Joe Crawford is about to shove off to visit all air fields having tan tone servicemen. He's been commissioned to round up all available talent for a large-order all-race soldier show planned by the Air Force, no less! He'll be here within three weeks or less. Incidentally, if any lads in the set-up reading this wish to contact Joe for the show, let me know.

What's this about somebody sending an anonymous threatening letter to Thelma Johnson Streat after viewing her exhibited mural (at a Hollywood art gallery) which highlights injustices, etc. suffered by tan tone lads in khaki? She turned it over to the police.



Reginald Michael Arnaud was christened Sunday at St. Phillips while Reggie and Verna beamed and beamed. Mike took it all in his stride without a yawn. He has the world's happiest grin! Judy Brazley Rutherford and this dept. were godparents . . . Reno item: Mrs. S. Simms Campbell. Friends hope she'll return East via our town . . . Effective Hazel Scott has all but Upset The Poor Dears again with her dependably stunning wardrobe. She's living in Bel-Air . . . The Louis Armstrongs recently acquired a ten-room house in Corona, Long Island. Satchmo hasn't seen it yet, his wife took it over while he was on the road . . . Marie Fielder Smith leaves within the fortnight to join her hubby, Frank. Their baby will be born in Balto, whence Frank's people reside. Happy travelin', Marie! . . . Kay Wilson Robinson is in Omaha.



When Frances Hill buzzed me about it. I knew then and there the breakfast soiree she, her hubby Tony, and Marietta Canty were then planning for Sunday would be only brilliant—and it was! Honoring some twenty or more members of Porgy and Bess (all of it delightful reunion for the Hills and Marietta and the Porgy folk, since most are outve New York originally — twas nostalgic for us!) other villagers thronged the lovely garden of the Sissle place atop Blueberry Hill at noon. Breakfast was served at gay tables, splashes of color were everywhere, folk drifted about as only folk can, twas hugging for various ones who hadn't met in seasons. It was thoroughly enjoyable! Mrs. Sissle, who assisted, looked like a debutante in her two braids and dirndl . . . and the Hills and Marietta looked the part of informal, busy a ndefficient hosts. They were precious, no less. And brava to 'em for a highlighted Sunday afternoon!

After their Sunday nite Pasadena performance, Porgy and Bess members moved over to Karl and Marion Downs's place for midnite supper. More enjoyment. The idea began "for a few, Bill, you know, just a few—" and by the time I got there Orange Grove Avenue looked like Gasoline Alley and Karl and Marion were busier than the stationmaster on Sunday nite! A houseful of rare talent, and several sang before the night moved on . . .

Observation . . . Angelenos have been warmly gracious to members of the Gershwin opera . . . and intimate gatherings for them have been numerous . . . and interesting . . . and corks were popped yon and thither . . . tis nice having them all with us . . . and they take with them our warmest best wishes . . . and quietgratitude for brightening up an otherwise dull season for us . . . Happy singin'!!

NEGRO WRITER WINS AWARD FOR WORLD TOUR

Roi Ottley, publicity director of the National CIO War Relief Committee, has been awarded one of the coveted Rosenwald Fellowships for a 10-month study of working class minorities in the United States.

The first Negro journalist to win such an award and one of the first from organized labor's ranks, Ottley is the author of the forthcoming book New World A-Comin'.

Taking a leave of absence from his present CIO position, he will make a tour of the various war fronts to secure material for a new book tentatively titled, Warriors All.

Formerly an editor on the New York Amsterdam News, Ottley will ascertain war relief needs among working groups in the United Nations he visits and also report on how the relief contributions of CIO members have been used in England, Russia, China and other countries.

In addition he will send back to the United States news stories and articles that will be made available to the labor press.

As publicity director of the CIO War Relief Committee since January of this year, Ottley has brought public attention to the CIO's achievement in raising $17,000,000 for war relief purposes. Ottley prepared magazine articles and radio broadcasts and addressed various organizations on what the CIO has done and what it expects to do in helping the suppressed labor movements of the world re-establish their free trade unions.

Ottley's second book, which is scheduled to appear next year, will describe the minority peoples of the United Nations and the heroic fight they are now waging for freedom and for destruction of Axis tyranny.

A graduate of St. Bonadventure's College, Ottley attended the University of Michigan, and St. John's Law School. He is 37, married and has his home in Harlem.

Eve's Daughters Style Success

Eve's Daughters of Phillips Temple C.M.E. Church, set a new high in fashion shows when they presented their Victory Style Revue in the beautiful S. P. Johnson Gardens, Sunday, May 16th, where Los Angeles' elite, beautifully gowned and handsomely groomed, assembled to participate in this unique affair.

The revue was presented in a novel fashion, evolving around three sisters shopping for a bride's trousseau. The scene was set in Madam Lucille's exclusive gown shop, and the showing included models for every occasion. Many clubs and organizations were represented in the line-up of perfectly attired young men and women.

The success of the review was due largely to Miss Nicola Holland's careful planning, who was general manager, and to the splendid cooperation of the other committees.

CROWN CITY CAPERS

By Philippa Jones

Once again I'm back trying to bring you some of the latest news and then some.

At Pasadena Junior College, a very impressive talk was given by a sergeant stationed at Blythe, California. The soldier told of the difficulties that some of the boys stationed there are encountering. It seems as though there are not enough immediate recreation facilities available for the men.

After a hard day's work in the broiling sun, the men return. After cleaning up, where can they go? What can they do to entertain themselves and relax. At the present there is only one room which can hardly hold 50 people, where they can go to enjoy themselves. Though the exact number is a military secret, I can assure you that there are more boys there than that number.

What can the rest of these boys do? Are they supposed to walk around in the hot desert to relax? No, they need another room where the rest of them can be accommodated.

The sergeant stated that there was another room there but it wasn't furnished and it will be furnished.

The Phi Rho Sigma of Pasadena Junior College (composed of Negro students) has taken it upon themselves to help furnish this room. The minimum goal which this club is seeking is $350, and they intend to make it more. If there is anyone who cares to help, any donation sent to "yours truly" 'at 92 Pepper street, Pasadena, or the Phi Rho Sigma, Pasadena Junior College, Pasadena, would be appreciated.

If there are those who would like some real enjoyment, and at the same time be helping these "boys at Blythe," then come ot the skating benefit the Fine 'Melloneers are planning, or giving for the boys, in the near future. (Time, date and place will be given in next issue.) Everyone attending is sure to have a grand time, so start planning on how you're going to pool those cars and trek out to Old Dina for a really fine time, and you'll also be aiding a grand cause. Will be looking forward to seeing you.

Last Sunday the Entre Nous gave a belated Mothers' Day affair for their mothers. The affair was a very enjoyable one and after an interesting program, ice cream and cake was served. Officers in this newly organized club are: President, Lula Bunch; vice-president, Mabel Duncan; secretary, Eloise Cooper; treasurer, Marjorie Benson. Other members are Jeffa Lyn Brown, Betty Guster, Gladys Huff, Frankie Jacques and Ernestine Thomas. You had a nice start, girls; now keep up the good work.

While still on club news, I'll now announce the newly elected officers of the Fine' Melloneers. They are: President, Lucille Harrison; vice-president, Thelma Jackson; secretary, Yours Truly; treasurer, Gloria Bunch. The girls are planning a full and eventful year ahead of them.

CHIT CHAT. Up from Camp Lockett for a few days furlough were Roscoe Devore and "Butler" Ellis. Robert Farlice was also home from somewhere in Texas —can't find out where he's stationed, but Van Wade was home, too—and to complete the list, Seaman Bill Duncan was home from Great Lakes. From different sources, I hear that all of the boys really enjoyed themselves. Although not products of our fair city, Darrington Weaver and John Alston were back in circulation for a while before returning to the army routine. Ellie Hickambottom says he's still looking for his sergeant's friends' Baton Rouge girl friend. Now, Sarj, "it's a sin to tell a lie." Also hear Elbie is head personnel clerk. Congrats!—Harry Lester not only rates as a mechanic, but he is official driver, also. Bob Brown is the assistant supply sergeant. I guess the boys practically run Camp Van Dorn. Sorry to hear J. T. Morgan is in the hospital. Hope you get well soon. Brother Abbie is finally in O.C.S. Good luck! . . . I read the other day that they had a big tornado at Fort Riley, Kansas. I hope that Ab, Walter Knott, Fortune Sweeney, Jackie Robinson, and Paul Towery are all right. . . . Included on my "Hi ya" list are Fred Valentine, Eddie Johnson, Bernard Harris, David Scott, Billy Scott, Jonathan Moreland, Cleveland Shumaker, and Harrison Bailey.

Don't forget the Melloneers' skating benefit for the boys at Blythe and keep on writing.

KEEPS ON TIME. As everyone probably knows by now, West and East Campus are combined at East Campus—Every day we see the different personalities going to and fro. . . . Seen in the morning: Charlotte Edwards, Pat Fox and Naomi Bowens, trying to get to school on time. Seen at noon . . . Lois Prince, Dot Mims, and Imogene Irving "talking it over." Seen in the afternoon: "No more classes 'till tomorrow." Complete relaxation.

Overheard Irene Huff saying "Goin' to come every night, am! ! (I guess she didn't). Hear that James Bartlett was really "sweatin' a girl down at the beach Sunday. Wonder who she was? Hear the K.K.A.s had an enjoyable outing last Sunday. Jackie Bunch reports Roy Stevenson called her up, and long dis too. Eddie Dexter Floyd says he had a very nice time at the "jump" down on Vernon and Villa last Friday night. By the way, he wanted a column dedicated to him . . . so the rest of this is all yours, Eddie. D. Weaver only looked "foxy" in his uniform. Ask Thelma Jackson to show you "The Claw" some time. DON'T FORGET THE SKATING BENEFIT.

Dickie Thornton wants to know can't a fellow comb his hair once in a while?—Oh, forgot to mention the fact that Almer Jamerson was also home on furlough. Myrtle Jones seen sporting Billy Scott's letterman's sweater. How about that Paul Lowery.—C. T.'s still coming to school.—Jane Harrison has the laugh.—How about this between Mary Francis Smith and Frank Sullivan?—Glad to hear that Aaron Fairfax is recovering rapidly from his operation. His sister, Lucille, is still displaying her engagement ring. Talking about engagements, I hear Felix Williams finally popped the question to Sy Hester. Mary Bland is planning to be wed on June 1st. Missed Lora Jacques and Lucille Harrison at school last Monday. In reminder of the Fine' Melloneers' affair I'll say:

"Come to skate, or come to sit
At our little benefit;
So you people don't be shy,
It's all for the "boys at Blythe."

I'll close now. You'll hear from me next week.—P. E. J.

Club Honors Mothers On Mothers' Day

In keeping with the motto "Help Thy Neighbor," the Ladies' Social Club of 1942 honored their mothers on Mothers' Day in a very fine minner. They first escorted them to 11 o'clock services at Ward's Chapel Church, after which they were taken to the home of the president, Mrs. Myrtle Jones, 623 E. 22nd street, where they enjoyed a sumptuous chicken dinner with all the trimmings. After dinner, each mother was presented with a keepsake token of Mothers' Day. The mothers honored were Mother Sarah Diggs, Mother Bettie Bailey, Mother Martha Bradley, Mother Sarah Williams, Mother Williams is visiting in the city from Shreveport, La. She is the house guest of her son, Homer Williams of 1412 E. 22nd street.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Elmore from the Woodmen's Social Club, Mrs. Emma Bailey from the Golden State Social Club and her company, Mr. Melvin Thompson. Also the club ladies' husbands and sweethearts were there.

The club regretted very much not having their faithful member Mrs. Willa Mae Dones with them. Mrs. Dones underwent a major operation, but is back at her home, 1445 E. 48th street, and is reported doing nicely at this writing. Please send all communications to 129½ E. 36th place to Mrs. Lena Yates. Our motto is: "Help Thy Neighbor."

FORT F. E. WARREN, WYOMING—One hundred and 39 years of accumulated service for the U. S. Army is the remarkable record attained by these five Negro non-commissioned officers now on duty at this famous old western post. Left to right, they are: First Sergeant Earnest A. Fearn, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Sergeant Mack Demumbran of College Grove, Tenn.; Staff Sergeant Haskell Separs, of Union, South Carolina; Staff Sergeant Arthur E. Mills, of Spartanburg, South Carolina, and Sergeant James Larket of St. Paul, Minnesota. All these soldiers, true to the record of Negro fighting men throughout the Army's history, are performing important duties at Fort Warren and their long years of experience are valuable to Uncle Sam.

Y.W.C.A. News

The visit of members of the Altrusa Club, to the new Woodlawn Branch which they helped make possible through their efforts in the Negro Branch Building Campaign of two years ago was the occasion for an evening of rich cultural enjoyment provided by the Allied Arts League of which Mrs. Dorothy V. Johnson is president. After a tour of inspection of the building and grounds, members of the Altrusa Club and the Allied Arts League met for Dessert in the Living Rooms. Mrs. Corona Baumann acted as Mistress of Ceremonies for the evening's program which followed. In a gracious manner Mrs. Baumann interpreted the work of the League. Then followed the program. Selection by William Grant Still in recording, an original Poem "Marion Anderson" by Mrs. Marjorie Bright McPherson; Piano Selections by Miss Gladys Childress graduate student in music at the University of Southern California. The reading of the original poem "At the Peace Table" by Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, the president was especially appreciated by the group because this was Mrs. Johnson's first public reading of her composition. Miss Mariam Matthews of the Vernon Public Library gave a stimulating presentation of Negro literature, of resources in material for study or pleasure and showed numerous pictures depicting all phases of achievement of Negroes. The program closed with a rendering of the Ballad for Americans in reading. Mesdames Ethel Bell and Maurene Browning of the League shared as hostesses in interpreting the cultural life of Negroes.

All present were unanimous in appreciation of the rich experience in friendship and in appreciation of Negro art made possible by Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Baumann and the other members of the Allied Arts League.

"San Jose Team" is the name Mesdames Jessie Coles Grayson and Joan Willis have earned form members since making their brilliant report of experiences at the National Y. W. C. A. Workshop at San Jose to the Committee of Management and members. The event proved to be a gala occasion with the Living Room of the "Y" filled with bright spring flowers from our garden and the hospitality arranged under the guidance of Mrs. Della McDonald, chairman. The event was also especially important because chairmen of several committees and their members worked together. Mrs. Irene T. Morris, chairman of Membership presided; Mrs. Leonard Stovall, chairman of Education; Mrs. Josephine Brown, chairman of Volunteers with Mesdames Ida Heibler, Anna Hodge and Virginia Stevens served as hostesses with Mrs. Mc Donald. After this event, committee chairmen are looking forward for further help from the "San Jose Team" in special fields during the next few weeks.

The California Conference on Social Work drew many Committee and staff members to Hollywood for its sessions. Among those attending were Mesdames Hebe Mack Robinson, Juanita Ellsworth Miller, Josephine Brown, Virginia Stevens, with her friend Mrs. Minus of Detroit, Misses Carmelita White, Celestine L. Smith, Ruby C. Jefferson, and Dorothy C. Quinn. Miss Quinn participated in the Panel discussion of the Group Work Division on Objectives and Methods in Group Work.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE YOUNGER SET

Jessie Mae Brown

Night clubbing, that's what the elite of the city were doing last Tuesday night, when the AKA's chose the Alabam as setting for their benefit cabaret. The affair was a huge success, with the under graduate daughters of the Sorority and the Ivy Leaf pledges doing their part as waitresses and hostesses. Etta Moten, the honored guest, and part of the "Porgy and Bess" cast, including Avon "Sporting Life" Long, were present as scheduled. The gracious Miss Moten was presented with a gift, from the sorority. Practically everybody in town was out. Took special note of Jewel and Johnnie Randolph at one of the tables; Billy Scott, Elinore and Dunbar Hunt, LaRue Sheppard in uniform; Wesleen Foster, Francis Patterson, Ruth Cosby, Cookie Cook seated at same table; Kirk, with Margaret Potter, Vivian Stevens, Leon Coleman, Maethilde Kenner, and more and more. The regular Alabam show wasn't on. However, Helen Thompson, program chairman, had many personalities appear. Wynonie Harris, real highlight of the show, sent the whole audience wild with his famed "Round the Clock Blues." Bobby Picket, regular club singer, also did a grand number. The Alpha Kappa Alpha women are certainly proud over the success of the benefit.

CLUB ROOM

The modernistic club room of the new Y. W. is certainly an answer to the Girl Reserves prayers. No longer do the Tri-Y members worry about where their different affairs will be held. The whole Y has everything to work with, but the club room is used more than any other, by the Tri-Y girls. A few weeks ago, the Jeff girls had a joint club social, which was well attended by girls from different high schools. The Manual Tri-Y held its carnival last Friday night, the sub deb group was out having fun.

The different clubs have taken an interest in completing the furnishing of the different rooms. At present, the L. A. Tri-Y has completely furnished one of the rooms in the living quarters of the branch. All girls in Jr.-Sr. High, College, and in Business and Professional, fields, are urged to joi nthe Y.W.C.A. . . .

VOWS TAKEN

Mattye Hodge and Joe Comfort took the younger set by surprise, when they up and married last week. Saturday night the young couple were honored with a wedding party at the Comfort home, where their many friends extended best wishes. Laura and Johnnie Brewer, Jackie Booker, Renna Clarke, Clorinda Benson were amon gthe many guests. Mattye and Joe are popular younger-setters.

WELL, WELL, WELL

Laura Wilde and Floyd Henderson didn't waste time with old traditional ceremony, the youngsters eloped, had a quick honeymoon, and are back in town as Mr. and Mrs. Congratulations. . . . Earnie May Maxey, "Chickie" Jackson and Mary Short did some light tripping as brown-skinned ladies of the sonnet in jazzed version of a Shakespearian ballet in recent show on the UCLA campus. . . . Bill Terry is scheduled to come home from Kegee in a few weeks on furlough. We know that Weni Allen will be glad to see her cadet. . . . Frank Edwards is also homeward bound from "Bam," guess Paulitle Coleman will drop everything and see to his having a good time. Wonder what Bill Faulkner will do in the meantime. . . . Personality kid, Gloria Burchett, only took the crowd by surprise, when she up and married Sgt. Tony Campbell. The vows were taken in the beautiful Trinity Baptist Church, on the 11th of May. . . . By the way, have you seen Boots Collins since she's turned on the glamour with a new up-sweep hair do? You don't know what you're missing. . . . In the Navy now is Julius Anderson and Frank Strange, the two left L. A. Monday night, bound for the Great Lakes. . . . The 4-F rumor about Felix Williams is a thing of the past, for the local lad reported for active duty on the 18th, leaving his Zoot suits, and Dena Debs behind. . . . None other than Military Police Darrington Weaver, blew in town on furlough last Sat. night from Huachua with lot sto tell about the fort's WAAC-ville, and all. He'll be in town for two weeks. . . . T. L. Kirk was before the public Tuesday night, when he cut a few jitterbug capers with Mattye Hodge Comfort at the AKA cabaret party. . . . Alpha man Artis Grant, now stationed at Jefferson Barracks, is scheduled to leave for Officers Training School soon. . . . Dora Lee Armour is feeling rather blue now days, her fiancee James Lee is now on his way to foreign shores. Rip Russell, Tommy Hamilton, and Arnold Bangston are also crossing the blue Pacific. . . . Neal Collins was recently home on furlough, making all the rounds and having a grand time. Of course the gand was glad to have him back. . . . Planning to wear UCLA Caps and Gowns this June are Corrine Jones, Betty Wright, and Gloria Tribble. Here's hoping all goes well in the finals. . . . Leonette Walker was escorted to the Mattye Joe Comfort party by Fred Robinson, who's hurriedly getting back into circulation. . . . Just a minute, hold everything . . . What's this little info. about Pottsey DeJoie, and a gav young matron, having a few fiery words at a recent party. Now, now, girls, not that. . . . John Kinlock is back and nobody is any gladder to see him than the Eagle staff . . . By the way, I thank my coworkers for the kind remarks about What's Doing in the Younger Set. Their works, too, encourage me to go on. . . . In closing, a pat on the back for Jack Terry, who makes himself a one-man USO.

Till next week.

The Thrifty House-Wives Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Wylma Windsor, at 4227 Woodlawn Ave. The new Frock Parade, and House-cleaning Demonstration, was the center of attraction. Mrs. Lillian Kelson was the lucky winner of the frock.

Mrs. Nicie Mann of 1615 W. 37th street was hostess for the month ending. Gifts were presented to Mrs. Maynard Windsor, and to the mother of Mrs. Nicie Mann. Quite interesting was the impromptu debate, subject: "Is the Employment of Mothers in the Defense Work Detrimental to the Future Generation?"

Realizing that nothing is so important to the Negro worker today as the question of his position in the Post-war World, the Negro Labor Committee will present to the citizens of New York an open forum, Friday, May 21, 1943, at 8:00 p.m. in the Harlem Labor Center, on the subject "Negro Labor and the Post-war World."

The forum, sponsored by Frank R. Crosswaith, chairman, Negro Labor Committee, B. F. McLaurin, national Secretary, March On Washington Movement, Allan Jackson, Ralph Redmond, C. E. Bingham, Charley Belle Stoney, Edith Ransom, Lorna Griffith, Winifred Gittens, and James Robinson, is for the purpose of informing the Negro worker and equipping him with the basic information to retain the gains made during the present crisis.

Pastor Mt. Carmel Bapt. Church

Sunday afternoon, when Rev. J. S. Peterson was duly installed as pastor of the Mount Carmel Baptist Church.

Rev. J. L. Caston, pastor of the Trinity Baptist, preached the installation sermon. For almost an hour he held his audience spellbound, as he so forcibly brought out the duties and conditions that will face a new minister, as he carries the blood-stained banner of Jesus Christ. Rev. Horace Mays, director of Christian Education, acted as master of ceremonies. Rev. A. C. Capers, pastor of the Faithful Central Baptist Church, made the charge to the church. Rev. G. Albert Miller, moderator of the Los Angeles district convention, made the charge to the new pastor, also the expression of welcome on behalf of the Western Baptist State Convention. Rev. Thomas of Riverside, Calif., gave the expressions of welcome on behalf of the Los Angeles district convention. Expressions on behalf of the community churches was made by Rev. O. W. Bomar, pastor of the Lighthouse Full Gospel Church. The welcome address, Mrs. Mamie Curry, an address on behalf of the Mount Carmel Baptist Church, Miss Jacqueline Bruce. The Men's Bible Class quartet sang two inspiring numbers. A beautiful poem, expressin gthe sentiment of the church was read by Mr. Thomas Moore. Music was furnished by Trinity Choir.

Pasadena Baptists Close Leadership Training Institute

The above picture was taken Monday evening, May 10th, at the Friendship Baptist Church in Pasadena. The picture shows the graduates of the Institute who are standing while the faculty of the school is seated on the rostrum. Those sitting are, reading from right to left: Rev. Charles H. Hampton, President of the Western Baptist State Convention who brought the closing address and presented the Course Cards to the graduates; Dr. W. D. Carter, Pastor of the Friendship Baptist Church where the school was held and who also served as a seminar leader; Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, who served as a seminar leader; Rev. A. Howard Plummer, Pastor of Atherton Baptist Church, Los Angeles, who taught the course on Missions; Rev. J. W. Coleman, Pastor of Community Baptist Church, Pasadena, who taught the course on Youth; Rev. Horace N. Mays, Dean of the Institute, Mrs. Horace N. Mays, Registrar of the Institute; and Dr. Jonathan Lyle Caston, Pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, Los Angeles, who taught the course on the Church School.

Meeting in histoire Friendship Baptist Church, the Institute which was conducted for four nights was acclaimed a success by President Hampton and the Western Baptist State Convention. Never before in Convention history has such a project been carried out in the Pasadena area, with the four pastors of our convention church all cooperating.

Using as a theme: "Teaching Under Tension" and featuring three Standard First Series Courses in Religious Education, the Institute majored on the teaching ministry of the Church of Jesus Christ. With zeal and enthusiasm the instructors entered upon their tasks and a spirit of close fellowship and intense interest marked the sessions. Encouring also was the enrollment which reached 70 while 37 of that number earned Course Cards.

In the years to come Institutes of this nature will be instrumental in sending back to our churches more and better trained workers to facilitate the task of the ministers and the impact of the new Christian Education program now under way will be felt throughout the territory of the great Western Baptist State Convention.

NEW CHURCH PIANIST SAW PEARL HARBOR HORROR

Recently returned from Honolulu, after waiting a year to secure passage in the limited convoys, Bernard Banks, former orchestra leader in the States, will be the organist for the adult choir at Azusa Temple, now being organized. He was engaged last week by Sister Reatha, who called from Chicago, will be evangelist in charge beginning late this month. Prospective members have been making application over the phone, AD. 21273, at her home, 285½ E. 45 street and first rehearsals will start in the near future. Meanwhile her twin sister Leatha's meetings at the Watts Church of God in Christ, has been progressings successfully.

A junior choir, which will be the feature of Sister Reatha's vacational and recreational centre for children at the church this summer, will also be organized soon. Arrangements have already been made for a series of free motion pictures, by L. S. Booker, Army camp service exhibitor.

Mr. Banks had some thrilling and dangerous experiences both in Hawaii, and while crossing, and is glad to be back here to aid in this great work at 27th and Paloma.

Negro Fraternal Council of Churches Holds Meeting; Leaders From All Large Denominations Present

The Negro Fraternal Council of Churches closed last Saturday (May 1st) the most significant gathering of the great denominational leaders of the race ever held in America. Attending were Bishops of the Methodist Churches, Presidents and Moderators of Baptist Conventions and Associations, College Presidents, religious Editors, Administrators, distinguished Laymen, women leaders of the Missionary Society, and representing every phase of the race's religious life.

This Bureau is in charge of Bishop J. A. Bray, President of the Council, Bishop R. R. Wright, Jr., Executive Secretary and Dr. W. H. Jernagin, Chairman of the Executive Board and Local Committee.

A commission of seven from different denominations will advise concerning on the policy of the office. Bishop J. A. Gregg was appointed to visit the battle fields where the Negro soldiers were giving their lives for their country. The constitution was revised so that it now becomes possible for a local church, as well as denomination and individuals, to join the Fraternal Church of Churches — the membership being $2.00 for individual membership, $1.00 a year for associate membership, $5.00 for church membership. A budget was provided for the operation of the Washington office for the protection of the rights of the race, also for the operation of the main headquarters for research and publicity. Unity, harmony and singleness of purpose characterized the meeting.

Among those who appeared on the program were, Drs. W. H. Jernagin, J. C. Austin, J. L. Horace, W. B. Berry; Bishops S. L. Greene, D. Ward Nichols, Dean C. L. Hill; Drs. W. R. Wilkes, A. W. Womack, B. Chaplain Carr Addresses Theological Seminar

Rev. J. M. Carr, who is now serving as chaplain in the United States Army, received a fine congratulatory letter from Wm. A. Matthews, Ph .D., president of the L. A. Baptist Theological Seminary, for the fine address he made to that body on April 30. On the strength of it, he has been invited again, by Dr. Matthews, to be one of the Convocation Speakers on Sunday, May 23rd, at 2:30 p. m., delivering an address before the graduating class.

Dr. Matthews has volunteered to write a letter to the Colonel of the Regiment in which Chaplain Carr serves, speaking words of commendation in respect to the outstanding address Chaplain Carr made before the Faculty and Student Body of the Seninary.

MRS. BISHOP TO BE BAHA' FAITH SPEAKER

Sponsored by the Baha'i Faith, Mrs. Charles Reed Bishop will speak Sunday, May p3, 3 p.m., at 1709 West 8th street, on "The Forerunner: The Bab.' Basing this talk upon the Bahai writings Mrs. Bishop says: "This is a new cycle of human power. The age has dawned when human fellowship will become a reality. It is the hour of unity of the sons of men and the drawing together of all-races and classes. The century has come when all religions shall be united. On May 23, 1844 —one hundred years ago today— the Bab, as herald and forerunner, proclaimed the dawn of this new era and announced the coming of One who came after him —the great world educator and prophet Baha'u'llah. In the estimation of historians this radiant century is equivalent to one hundred centuries of the past. If comparison be made with the sum total of all former human achievement, it will be found that the discoveries, scientific advancement and material civilization of this present century have exceeded by far the progress and outcome of one hundred former centuries. Thoughts and theories of past ages are fruitless now. Thrones and governments are crumbling and falling. All conditions and requisites of the past unfitted and inadequate for the present time are undergoing reform. Therefore it is our duty in this radiant century to investigate the essentials of divine religion, seek the realities underlying the oneness of the world of humanity, and discover the source of fellowship and agreement which will unite mankind. This unity is the radiance of eternity, the divine spirituality, the effulgence of God, and the bounty of the kingdom—His promised kingdom to be established upon earth."

Dear Sir:

How were the Scriptures or Bible given to man?

O. B. Smith, Santa Monica, Calif.

Turning to the Bible itself, we read in 2 Timothy 3:16 the following words: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, throughly furnished unto all good works."

Also 2 Peter 1:21—"For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

Dr. Hastings in his encyclopedia makes this observation about the Bible: "Here are words written by kings, emperors, princes, poets, sages philosophers, by fishermen and statesmen, by men learned in the wisdom of Egypt, educated in the schools of Babylon, and trained at the feet of rabbis in Jerusalem. It was written by men in exile, in the desert, in shepherd's tents, in green pastures, and beside still waters. Among its authors we find the taxgatherer, the herdsman, the gatherer of sycamore fruits; we find poor men, rich men, statesmen, preachers, exiles, captains, legislators, judges; men of every grade and class...

"This wonderful volume... is in reality a library filled with history, geneology, ethnology, law, ethics, prophecy, poetry, eloquence, medicine, sanitary science, political economy, and perfect rules for the conduct of personal and social life. It contains all kinds of writing, but what a jumble it would be if 66 books were written in this way by ordinary men.

"Suppose, for instance, that we get 66 medical books written by 35 or 40 different doctors, binds them all together, and attempt to doctor a man according to the book. Or suppose you get 35 ministers to write a book on theology and then see if you find leather strong enough to hold the books together."

The original manuscripts of the Bible were scrupulously copied by writers called scribes. They were so careful in their work that at the close of each piece of work they would count each work and each letter to be sure it tallied with the original. If it did not tally, that section was destroyed and then copied correctly.

ow Europe

With the invasion of North Africa mpleted after six months of blitz war- re, the continent of Europe, heart of scist aggression, lays open to the aveng- g hand of the free world.

Thousands of Negro boys participated combat troops in the grand push ross the sandy wastes of North Africa. ccording to Capt. Hugh N. Mulzac, ipper of the Liberty Ship, Booker T. ashington, which has recently returned New York from Atlantic convoy duty, ese men are anxious to get moving on e road to Berlin. They remember the oud boast of Adolph Hitler and his laster Race. They know of the fascist orld-plot to drive Negroes into the ains of chattel slavery; and they know ose forces in America which were— nd are—sympathetic with that infam- us scheme.

Our men in the field understand that Hitler and Martin Dies, Goering and ugene Cox, Ribbentrop and John Ran- in are brother-fascists. They know it their job to get within shooting dis- ance of the German wing of world ascism. They know it is our job at ome to confound the defeatist con- piracies of our own domestic fascists nd would-be slave-holders.

We may expect a furious struggle on he part of the latter gentry to disrupt he home front. There is one slogan nder which the whole of pro-fascist America marches today: "Disruption nd disunity to prevent a second front gainst Hitler." That slogan oozes rom the revolting preachments of the Hearst press; it gushes from the corrupt mouths of Joe Starnes and Tom Con- nally.

On the day of allied victory in North Africa, the Hearst Daily Mirror in New York shouted editorially: "No second front this year."

A week before allied victory in North Africa, Sen. Tom Connally, leader of the anti-poll tax fillibuster last year, joined with prominent Republicans in a Congressional drive to "switch the war strategy" from a second front in conti- nental Europe—the war policy estab- lished by President Roosevelt and Win- ston Churchill at Casablanca—to "an offensive" against Japan.

The fascists at home and abroad are quaking in their boots. The same blow will smash them both. A second front in Europe . . . NOW!

Lewis Blasted by Negro Congress

"The organized labor movement has demonstrated its desire and determination to produce for victory. Its efforts must not be thwarted, nor its rights jeopardized by the obstructionist policy of the John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers leadership and its followers whose antics have already whipped up an anti-labor hysteria responsible for the quick passage of the Connally anti-strike bill. The National Negro Congress joins with labor in its fight to achieve the complete solidarity of the win-the-war forces in our nation to hasten victory over fascism."

This is the blistering attack of Dr. Max Yergan, president of the National Negro Congress, aimed at John L. Lewis and the disruptive UMW coal strike, which involves over 200,000 Negro workers.

How neatly Lewis' political strike, directed against the war and the war leadership of President Roosevelt, plays into the hands of the worst labor-baiters and Negro-haters was seen in its prompt utilization by Sen. (That Man Again) Tom Connally in a bill to undermine the fundamental guarantees of labor rights in America, passed last week in the Senate.

It is certain that the grievances of the coal miners are legitimate. These grievances should have been placed before the recognized government agencies responsible for handling them. This John L. Lewis and the UMW have refused to do. From the outset, Lewis' action was aimed not at the solution of the mine workers' problem but at the destruction of the whole government wage-and-price control system.

This aim, we must understand, is shared by the whole nest of appeasers and pro-fascists who are the deadliest enemies of labor and the Negro people. This aim is the chief goal of the American fifth column. The mine workers' grievances have been used to foster a delibrate campaign against the war administration of President Roosevelt, connected with the most sinister elements of pro-Hitlerism in the nation.

Dr. Yergan's statement is to be hailed, for it is a clear indication that the Negro people are awake to the danger of John L. Lewis' obstruction of the war effort and want no part of it.

Real Fight Made First Poll Tax Victory Possible

It was because a hard-fighting coalition of House Republicans and Democrats, spear-headed by the American Labor Party's Vito Marcantonio didn't know that it was "impossible" to bang the Anti-poll Tax bill out of the rabidly poll-taxer House Judiciary Committee in a breath-taking 32 legislative days that the measure is forced onto the House floor this week for a vote.

It required the signature of 218 congressmen to force the bill out of committee — a committee whose chairman, rat-face Hatton Summers of Texas, had sworn "hell would freeze over" before anti-poll tax legislation would see the light of day. Those 218 representatives of the people did not stampede to the little table at the front of the House of Representatives on which the discharge petition laid because they felt a sudden fit of sympathy for the plight of ten million disfranchised Americans in seven Dixie states. Their action, on the contrary, was the result of a determined political campaign, waged with skill, vigor and unrelenting courage by the coalition of House Republicans and Democrats in whose hands guidance of the anti-poll tax bill rested.

A demonstration for defeatist elements among the Negro people, elements which contend that House passage is unimportant, since the bill will run into core violent opposition in the Senate, was the blistering offensive attack of anti-poll tax forces in the House.

Powerful reactionary interests, those which have been able to block the President on the $25,000 salary limitation order, on the Bankhead Farm Bill, on the entire Seven-Point Program for economic war controls, ranged their big guns against the poll tax discharge petition in the House. But the organized pressure of trade unions, churches, and Negro organizations broke the back of that opposition.

The nation's press, and especially the great wire services which cover Washington plays its usual "cover up" role, refusing to report the news of consistent victory for anti-poll tax forces. These phony news outlets wish to repeat their deception of last year. So unprepared was the American public for the bitter Senate filibuster against anti-poll tax legislation last year, unprepared because American newspapers kept them that way—that the filibuster, offensive to the whole spirit and traditions of this nation, emerged victorious.

It is in the face of a new "hush hush" campaign of the press that anti-poll tax forces have driven the bill to the House floor where it is certain of passage May 24.

This early anti-poll tax passage in the House catches the Senate filibuster gang napping. There is exactly one year and a half for their attempt to talk the measure to death—a long distance effort which even Bilbo cannot dare.

A fierce battle must be waged NOW to bear down on the U. S. Senate. We must reject every suggestion of defeatism. Because the anti-Lynch bill lost in the Senate and because the first anti-poll tax bill lost in the Senate is no reason for our people to concede defeat there for the second anti-poll tax measure. A bitterly reactionary House of Representatives has been forced by the vocal will of the people to remove poll tax legislation from the slimy poll-taxer hands of Hatton Summers. An aroused American people can—and must—force the Senate to final passage of the bill.

Dark Laughter . . . . . BY OL HARRINGTON

"I went to this fine function with Bootsie . . . He said that they was his boys and that he had everything under control."

• I TAKE THE PEOPLE'S SIDE

By M. MORAN WESTON

Too many American voters are unschooled. 35 per cent of the voters of Louisiana over 25 years of age have less than four years schooling. 30 per cent of those over 25 in Georgia. 26 per cent of those in North Carolina. Aand 12 per cent of those in New York state, which means over 1,000,000 of the Empire State voters.

These facts may yet prove the Achilles Heel of our democracy—the democracy we have been "raising" so painfully these 150 odd years. For these unschooled voters are easy dupes of a Huey Long, of a Talmadge. The extension of the vote to women in 1919 was a recognition of the fact there can be no divided citizenship in a stable, working democracy. So was the Emancipation Proclamation, together with the 14th and 15th Amendments. So is the current anti-poll tax campaign. Unschooled voters are second class citizens. They are crumbling bricks in the foundation of America.

The war is beginning to increase the number of these unschooled voters all over the country. In small towns, in rural areas, boys and girls are being literally hi-jacked into going to work. For the most part these jobs are unskilled, insecure, with low wages, long hours. Reports from places in Texas, from along the inland waterways show 'teenage boys out of school, doing jobs left by men called to the colors. Americans in every state must

GOOD NEWS

And it comes from the South, from North Carolina. On April 26, in Greensboro, the municipal primary for the city council was held. There were 16 candidates. Twelve were successful. One of these was Rev. Mr. R. C. Sharpe, a Negro undertaker, who placed tenth, only 600 votes behind the leading six candidates. Of a total of 4,138 votes cast, Rev. Mr. Sharpe received 1,279, better than one out of every four.

The Greensboro Daily News (a white paper) made the following observation in its news item on the primary: " . . . interest in the primary seemed to be strongest among the Negroes who worked systematically to get voters to the polls."

These facts speak for themselves. It is not a "New Negro" who is beginning to take hold on the reins. It is an Organized Negro, an Organized Negro fith a system!

The same thing was true in the recent eelctions for the city council in Baltimore, Maryland. Last Tuesday, May 4th, ministers, doctors, union organizers, housewives were ringing door bells from six in the morning to six at night. Getting out the Negro voters to vote for the three Negro candidates for the city council.

What really is beginning to make a difference is that the Organized Negro is learning how to work together. This means we will soon have a United Negro. get wise to what is going on. They must help check this drive to bleed the schools of the young before they have had enough of the three-R's to be good citizens, wise voters.

The Organized Negro is also learning to work with the organized white Americans. This was true to some extent in Greensboro. It was more true in Baltimore, where in some precincts whites were helping bring out the vote. When this combination really gets going in America —an Organized Negro united with the Organized white American—then will come the pay-off. Democracy.

French Equitorial Africa

Governor-General Felix Eboue, the Negro ruler of French Equitorial Africa, is raising hell, not only to help lick the Axis but to improve the lot of the African people under his rule. His welfare budget for 1943 shows this when compared with the 1940 budget. Gov. Eboue has allotted twice as much for agriculture; two-and-a-third times as much for public health; four times as much for public education; two million times as much for housing and resettlement, that is, there was nothing in the 1940 budget for this.

PLAIN TALK . . . . . by E. A. C.

"There is nothing the matter with me," said a friend of mine recently, "that a little 'dough' won't cure." And that is not only true of individuals but it is true of the Negro race. There is nothing much the matter with the Negro that some money won't cure. You can solve a lot of race problems in America with a hundred dollar bill.

I remember once in the City of New York when an old school mate of mine suggested that we go to a show. It was a long time ago, when New York theaters indulged in raw discrimination and the colored theater-goers invariably found themselves behind posts, in the rear of the balcony or segregated in some section of the theater. We started for the Hippodrome and being low in funds bought tickets for the gallery. When we got up there we were so far from the stage that the actors looked like dwarfs and we couldn't hear anything distinct. Away down in the front there were two or three vacant seats apparently reserved. My friend who had more nerve than I had said, "Let's go down there. We can't see anything here." And so we started down the steps toward the vacant seats. In those days the old Hippodrome had girls as ushers and one of them seeing us going down the steps came swiftly and planted herself directly in our path on the stairway. I hesitated —my friend kept on until he and the usherette were face to face. I saw his hand go out and touch hers. She immediately turned and led us down to the row which contained the empty seats. As we moved in, she spoke to my friend under her breath. But all I could hear was his polite "OK."

I could hardly wait until the show was over to ask him how he had managed it. So when we got in the lobby I said to him, "Did you know that young woman usher?" "No," he said, "I never saw her before in my life." "Well, what did you say to her?" I asked. "Oh, nothing. I just slipped a half dollar into her hand," he replied, "and asked her if we could sit further down where we could see." "But what did she say to you when we got to the seats?" I queried. "'If anyone comes with tickets, you would have to move.' I said 'O.K.' a half dollar, my boy," he continued, "can smooth a lot of rough spots."

In my experience during many years I have found that this observation is in many cases true and in the judicious use of a little money will obten save one from humiliating and petty annoyances of the color line. Not always — but more times than you can imagine—a quarter or half dollar will change the sneering frown of some prejudice ridden subordinate to a gracious smile. For money has no race, no color, no nationality. It speaks the same language all over the world.

But the Jew has money, some one will say, and there is prejudice against him. My reply is: Well, there would be a lot more if he didn't have money and the problem of the Jew is fundamentally different from the problem of the Negro. I don't say that money will wipe away all color prejudice, neither will the development of great musicians, of great scienists or of great poets and artists. We have been able to smash big holes in the walls of prejudice without financial resources to amount to anything. What we might do as a race in America with some real money, no one can foresee.

We know the deity before which America bows down, the god before whom she kneels with the greatest reverence and devotion. It is money and the final test of capacity or worth of an individual or group in America is the amount of money which they can accumulate. This may seem to be a cruel indictment of a generous freedom-loving people. But is true.

So we must get some money. And to get money we must have access to jobs that pay more than just a living wage. But these jobs demand skill, so we must acquire skill, exceptional skill, uncommon and extraordinary skill. And we must learn to pool our money and preserve it. But this is not enough either. It's too slow.

We got off to a late start. The material resources of the country were all gobbled up before we came into the picture. The foundation of great fortunes no longer exists for the individual enterpreneur no matter how hard he tries unless he is an inventor or a scientist who happens upon some great new discovery and eve nthen his chances of getting big money are small. So we must devise new methods and improve on old ones if we are ever to "get in the money" either as individuals or as a group.

Now while the war is being fought corporations are being organized and plans developed by white men to make more money by exploiting the untouched wealth of Africa and South America and the East Indies. The longer the war lasts, the greater will be the need for raw materials. For a significant part of the world will have been destroyed. Experts on Wall Street and in the great trade marts of the nation are planning what to do when Peace comes.

Can we get into this picture? We must—somehow, some way. A new world is in the making. What part shall we play? What part can we play? Next week I shall submit a few ideas on this tremendously important subject.

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

The employees of the Pacific Sound Equipment Company at 1534 Cahuenga Blvd., Hollywood, engaged in production for the armed forces, are very much incensed by the recent wave of police brutality in this city, and many of them have taken steps to let the City Administration know that they will not tolerate any interference in their ALL-OUT effort to WIN THE WAR.

The following is a letter sent to the Mayor of Los Angeles by a Mexican mother of two sons. This letter needs little comment and is one of many sent by the Negro, Mexican, Jewish and other workers employed in the plant:

"Mayor Fletcher Bowron,
City Hall, Los Angeles, Calif.
"Dear Sir:

"I was born in Central, New Mexico, a very small town. My parents are Mexicans, therefore I'm proud of being a Mexican and not afraid to say it.

"I work in a war plant in Hollywood, that is, Pacific Sound Equipment Company. Most of us workers are Mexican or Colored, but we are not discriminated against.

"The other day Rafael Sabala and Raymond Placencia were buying records at a music place, during their lunch hour, and the police came and picked them up just because they were Mexicans, took them in and later released them. When I heard about this it gave me a very depressed feeling and I have been thinking, will my boys grow up and be thrown around like that? I'm a mother of two boys, one eight and one four years old and I'm working hard to raise them right and make good citizens of them and I certainly don't want to even think that my boys will be kicked and slapped by a policeman without any cause, just because they are Mexicans and make 'good suspects.' Does the way a person dresses necessarily mean he is a criminal? In that case, zoot-suiters in other parts of the country would all be criminals and they are not all Mexicans!

"Raymond was telling me the other day he won't even go to the store for groceries for fear he will be picked up by police and not be able to show up for work the next day. Is that being fair to us Mexicans?

"Something should be done and done quick, otherwise the morale of these boys will be ruined. I want my boys to have a better future ahead of them and not be afraid to face their future because of nationality.

"Our boys are also in the front lines fighting for a Democracy which we all want.

"I, as a good citizen of these United States, law abiding and a registered voter highly protest against this police brutality and persecution because of nationality.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) DOLORES FIGUEROA,
701 So. Mott St.,
Los Angeles, Calif."

• THE WORLD THIS WEEK

FIFTH VISIT

When Prime Minister Winston Churchill arrived in Washington on May 11, he and President Roosevelt were meeting for the fifth time. There is strong indication—because he was accompanied by British land, sea, and air commanders in the Indian theatre of operations—that our visitor is here to plan for a decisive campaign against the Japs, in addition to checking on plans, already made at the Casablanca meeting, for the invasion of the German-held fortress in Europe. The Allied situation in the Pacific has been fundamentally altered by the triumphant victory in Africa and the impending reopening of the Mediterranean sea route from America and Britain to India and the Middle East. This will mean a saving of 5000 miles from American ports to India—the equivalent of adding millions of tons of shipping to the Allied Merchant Fleet. This also has equal application to the cruisers and destroyers used in convoy duty, for, as a result, many of them may now be shifted to the Pacific. Although the plans mapped out by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill will necessarily be kept secret, we can be sure they spell the beginning of the end of the Axis!

UNITED WE STAND

The theme "United for Victory" was emphasized throughout the sessions of the thirty-first annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the U. S. in New York City. Problems of the American economy under the exigencies of war were canvassed thoroughly. Resolutions of the meetings emphasized America's faith in the system of free enterprise, and concern was expressed that war controls might become a basis for establishing a new form of economy. Opposition to competition by the government with private enterprise was declared. These statements will please the country bankers in their present fight to maintain themselves against the inroads of government subsidized and socialized credit. Smaller businesses were held by the Chamber to constitute the backbone of American business, and their preservation was insisted upon as necessary to our economic future. Reductions in non-war expenditures were advocated at every possible point, and approval was given to extension of the Trade Agreements Act. As soon as war conditions permit, the report of the meetings stated, the government should pursue a policy that would maintain and increase the volume of export trade and foreign business transactions of American enterprises. Winning the war and the peace were expressed as supreme objectives of both management and labor.

OUT-BUILD WORLD

President Roosevelt estimates that American airplane output now surpasses that of all other nations in the world combined. U. S. 1944 production of aircraft is estimated at 1,417,000,000 pounds, amounting in round numbers to about 7,000 planes a month — which include more than 500 heavy bombers. To the air-minded people of the nation, this has a reassuring sound. Especially is it reassuring in view of a Tokyo broadcast picked up by the OWI recently, in which they heard Lieutenant General Ashinari Uchida acknowledge that the Japanese air force is inferior in technical knowledge, even while claiming that the Japanese have more spiritual strength! What he means is that Shintoism promises a dead warrior more pretty girls, while American soldiers fight for the right to come home to that one pretty girl!

FIFTY DESTROYERS

Fifty new American-built destroyer escort vessels have recently been transferred to the Royal British Navy. Back in 1940, fifty other destroyers were exchanged for certain naval bases to meet a shortage in the British Navy. At that time, the choice for Britain lay between reducting the convoys or sending them out to sea without adequate protection, either of which would have resulted in temporary advantage to Germany's undersea raiders. The first fifty have given two and a half years' service, steaming millions of miles through fierce gales and bitter weather in northern seas, protecting Allied shipping.

RACE ISSUES

The South does not want a race issue to make political cause at a time when it is already heightened by war problems—such as the presence in the south of thousands of Negro troops. Action is being taken by both white and Negro leaders in the south, centering around conferences now in progress. There is conviction in some southern state that progress is being made toward a better solution than has yet been found.

Gems of Thought

MERCY

Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.
—Matthews 5:7

As freely as the firmament embraces the world, or the sun pours forth impartially his beams, so mercy must encircle both friend and foe.
—Schiller

We cannot, indeed, give like God, but surely we may forgive like Him. —Sterne.

All people can and should be just, merciful; they should never envy, elbow, slander, hate, or try to injure, but always should try to bless their fellow-mortals.
—Mary Baker Eddy

Mercy among the virtues is like the moon among the stars—not so sparkling and vivid as many, but dispensing a calm radiance that hallows the whole.
—Chapin

For Mercy, Courage, Kindness, Mirth,
There is no measure upon earth;
Nay, they winter, root and stem,
If an end be set to them.

By Richard Wright

In self-defense he shut out the night and day from his mind, for if he had thought of the sun's rising and setting, of the moon or the stars, of clouds or rain, he would have died a thousand deaths before they took him to the chair. To accustom his mind to death as much as possible, he made all the world beyond his cell a vast gray land where neither night nor day was, peopled by strange men and women whom he could not understand, but with those lives he longed to mingle once before he went.

He did not eat now; he simply forced food down his throat without tasting it, to keep the gnawing pain of hunger away, to keep from feeling dizzy. And he did no sleep: at intervals he closed his eyes for awhile, no matter what the hour, then opened them at some later time to resume his brooding. He wanted to be free of everything that stood between him and his end, him and the full and terrible realilzation that life was over without meaning, without anything being settled, without conflicting impulses being resolved.

His mother and brother and sister had come to see him and he had told them to stay home, not to come again, to forgive him. The Negro preacher who had given him the cross had come and he had driven him away. A white priest had tried to persuade him to pray and he had thrown a cup of hot coffee into his face. The priest had come to see other prisoners since then, but had not stopped to talk with him. That had evoked in Bigger a sense of his worth almost as keen as that which Max had roused in him during the long talk that night. He felt that his motives for refusing to accept the consolations of religion was a sort of recognition of his personality on a plane other than that which the priest was ordinarily willing to make.

Max had told him that he was going to see the Governor, but he had heard no more from him. He did not hope that anything would come of it; he referred to it in his thohghts and feelings as something happening outside of his life, which could not in any way alter or influence the course of it.

But he did want to see Max and talk to him again. He recalled the speech Max had made in court and remembered with gratitude the kind, impassioned tone. But the meaning of the words escaped him. He believed that Max knew how he felt, and once more before he died he wanted to talk with him and feel with as much keenness as possible what his living and dying meant. That was all the hope he had now. If there were any sure and firm knowledge for him, it would have to come from himself.

He was allowed to write three letters a week, but he had written to no one. There was no one to whom he had anything to say, for he had never given himself wholeheartedly to anyone or anything, except murder. What could he say to his mother and brother and sister? Of the old gang, only Jack had been his friend, and he had never been so close to Jack as he would have liked. And Bessie was dead; he had killed her.

When tire of mulling over his feelings, he would say to himself that it was he who was wrong, that he was no good. If he could have really made himself believe that, it would have been a solution. But he could not convince himself. His feelings clamored for an answer his mind could not give.

All his life he had been most alive, most himself when he had felt things hard enough to fight for them; and now here in this cell he felt more than ever the hard central core of what he had lived. As the white mountain had once loomed over him, so now the black wall of death loomed closer with each fleeting hour. But he could not strike out blindly now; death was a different and bigger adversary.

Though he lay on his cot, his hands were groping fumblingly through the city of men for something to match the feelings smoldering in him; his groping was a yearning to know. Frantically, his mind sought to fuse his feelings with the world about him, but he was no nearer to knowing than ever. Only his black body lay here on the cot, wet with the sweat of agony.

If he were nothing, if this were all, then why could not he die without hesitancy? Who and what was he to feel the agony of a wonder so intensely that it amounted to fear? Why was this strange impulse always throbbing in him when there was nothing outside of him to meet it and explain it? Who or what had traced this restless design in him? Why was this eternal reaching for something that was not there? Why was this eternal reaching for something that was not there? Wh. this black gulf between him and the world: warm red blood here and cold blue sky there, and never a wholeness, a oneness, a meeting of the two?

Was that it? Was it simply fever, feeling without knowing, seeking without finding? Was this the all, the meaning, the end? With these feelings and questions the minutes passed. He grew thin and his eyes held the red blood of his body.

The eve of his last day came. He longed to talk to Max more than ever. But what could he say to him? Yes; that was the joke of it. He could not talk about this thing, so elusive it was; and yet he acted upon it every living second.

The next day at noon a guard came to his cell and poked a telegram through the bars. He sat up and opened it.

BE BRAVE GOVERNOR FAILED DONE ALL POSSIBLE SEE YOU SOON. MAX.

He balled the telegram into a tight knot and threw it into a corner.

ONE AMERICAN FORGETS THE MEANING OF "AMERICANISM"

—by Bernice Cook

The "I Am An American Day" celebration, held in the Coliseum at Exposition Park, Sunday afternoon, May 16, almost turned out to be a very democratic event. Just one individual participant on the program, however, had to spoil what otherwise would have been a true American demonstration.

Mr. Eugene Conklin, guest soloist, in giving his rendition of the ballad "Ole Man River" did not think the author was specific enough in the use of the word "darkey" in the song, therefore, in order that there might not be any mistake as to the group of people referred to in the song, in order that there might not be any mistake as to the contempt in which he personally held this group of individuals, Mr. Conklin sang the verse as follows: "Niggers all work on the Mississippi; Niggers all work while the white folk play".

Many loyal Negro-Americans who were present at the celebration could not help but feel the brunt of such an insult; especially when simultaneously with the utterance of this slur, black American soldiers were fighting and dying somewhere in Africa to help make the "world safe for democracy". Even if the person in question had no respect for the feelings of one group of American citizens — one would think, being an artist, he would be endowed with enough of the finer sensibilities usually possessed by artists, musicians in particular, to refrain from adding to or subtracting from a fine composition by a great composer. Though this particular song has long been objectionable to some, due to the fact that the word "darkey" is used, because the word "darkey" is obviously used to describe color, in this instance, there is no particular harm done since we are not ashamed of our color; the word "nigger", however, is not only objectionable but repulsive because of the fact that it describes character in an uncomplimentary manner, and we Negroes are proud of the fact that taken as a group of people our character has never reflected anything but credit upon our race and our nation.

The writer was glad to note, however, that the majority of the people who filled the seats of the stadium seemed to exhibit a fine spirit of friendliness and geniality toward the colored citizens present, and many small courtesies were extended here and there, during the course of the afternoon, which proved that a large sector of American citizens are learning to get along and be tolerant one towards the other, despite attempts, in high places, to sow seeds of disruption and discontent.

All in all, the "I Am An American Day" fete was a grand success. Members of all races were well represented in the various divisions of the parade, itself, and without a doubt the parade exhibited wonderful advancement, with respect to war implements, war methods and combat training, on the part of our government, and we Negro-Americans shall go on doing our part with the hope that in the near future the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" will mean as much to us as it does to all other "native sons."

Two world-famous figures, Joseph Stalin and Winston Churchill, meet in a momentous scene from "Mission to Moscow," Warner Bros. mighty screen spectacle, based on the book by former Ambassador to Russia, Joseph E. "Chas. Edwards and His Visit To Berlin Germany"

By Charles Edwards
(An Exclusive California Eagle Serial)

HITLER SPEAKS!

The California Eagle takes sincere pride in presenting the first public presentation of the mission fulfilled by America's number one youth leader, Charles Edwards, on his "Assignment to Berlin." What has gone on before Mr. Edwards recalled your memory to December, 1941, when war was declared. He now attempts to expose the facts of why. He recalled his dramatic journey through Berlin, Germany, between May, 1937, and September, 1939, during which time he was granted a personal interview with Adolf Hitler. The purpose of his interview was to try to understand and explain to the World Christian Youth Conference the aspirations of the German government.

Mr. Edwards told of "Mein Kampf"—not revealing nearly all of Hitler's plans. He has entered the reich capital and has gained entrance into the private office of the Chancellor. Many questions have passed between Mr. Hitler and Mr. Edwards, among them being the future of Europe and the rest of the world and Germany's part in creating a new order.

Hitler continued talking expressing his contempt for the United States Government. "Will you understand," Hitler said, "our struggle against Versailles and our struggle for a new world order is one and the same; we cannot set limits here or there as we please. We shall succeed in making the new political and social order the universal basis of life in the World. Or else we shall and we the the German people intend to fight until we are destroyed in our struggle against a peace-treaty which has in reality never existed, and proved on the very first day of its ratification that the conquerors had accidentally been taken for the conquered, and vice versa." "Nothing will be easier than to produce a bloody revolution in North America. No other country has so many social and racial tensions. We shall be able to play on many strings there." I remained silent, visibly confounded. Hitler observed this and seemed irritated by it. "North America is a medley of races," he continued, "the ferment goes on under cover of democracy, but it will not lead to a new form of freedom and leadership, but to process of decay containing all the disintegrating forces of Europe. The America of today will never again be a danger to us." "It is a mistake to assume that it was a danger to us in the last war," Hitler remarked crossly. "Compared with the British and French, the Americans behaved like clumsy little boys. They ran straight into the line of fire, like young rabbits. The American is no soldier. The inferiority and decadence of this allegedly new world is evident in its military inefficiency" "Nevertheless," I repeated, "I should like to be allowed to express a most humble warning that the Americans ought not to be underestimated as an enemy." "Who says anything of underestimation?" Hitler exclaimed angrily, as he rose from behind the desk. "I guarantee, that at the right moment a new America will exist as our strongest supporter when we are ready to take the stride into overseas space. We have means of awakening this nation in good time," he added after a pause. "There will be no new Wilson arising to stir up America against us." The various German organizations in different parts of the world are all in the same position. Largely without their knowledge, their functions are all being terribly distorted. Only history will show how great an accumulation of trust and belief has been wantonly destroyed. All these overseas German communities have become the breeding ground of a mushroom growth of propaganda, flourishing in the dark, which has run through all the stages up to effective espionage. Every German, whether still a German national or a citizen of the country in which he was living, was impressed into the service of this enormous machine. Every organization that did not explicitly state its aims as being anti-Nazi was more or less the agent of a system of political propoganda and espionage center that far exceeded all legal and legitimate limits. They were all commiter to the task of making Germandom abroad the instrument of a gigantic, world-embracing system of secret service. . . . to be continued in next issue.

"Nobody Knows"

By Gilbert Allen

She was a young Negro girl about seventeen years old. She was slender, shy, unaffected. She was brown, the color of beautiful bronze. She had finished the first half of her debut concert program, consisting of songs by various classic composers.

She opened her second part with a group of Negro spirituals. She was singing "Nobody knows de trouble I see, nobody knows but Jesus. Sometime I'm up, sometime I'm down, O yes Lord. Sometime I'm almost to the ground." For the first time her face beamed. She no longer tried to sing. She was singing and very beautifully. Her young soul was feeling what many before her felt. It was her music. The audience was spellbound. Tears appeared on some cheeks. They were listening to great music.

Negro spirituals possess a certain simple, enchanting beauty that strikes the attention. The young singer was singing about life that "nobody knows but Jesus." She finished her song. There was a second of silent appreciation, then a burst of applause; an ovation. A new artist was born. Some day audiences all over the world will sit spellbound, listening to her simple songs.

It is a good thing for young singers to sing spirituals, because such music beautifies the soul; gives naturalness, and the opportunity to perfect feeling.

I left the concert hall. As I walked through the streets, I could head that beautiful melody. It lifted me up. "Trouble" is common to all people. All people look to some supreme diety for the answer to their problems. They look to Jesus.

As I walked through the streets, I wondered if the young brown face would always beam. I wondered if life would keep her voice beautiful and let her realize her dream. These things I could not answer. "Nobody knows but Jesus."

Jeferson Students Form Aeronautical Victory Corps

Negroes to "Rally" In Madison Garden

NEW YORK—Blasting at the enemies of the Negro people within and without the administration who are responsible for the "lingering death" of the FEPC, Charles A. Collins, leading New York trade unionist and member of the Negro Freedom Rally committee, issued a statement yesterday demanding action on the reorganization of the committee at once.

"We do not intend to tolerate this attack on the rights of the Negro people," said Collins. "It will be a focal point of our rally at Madison Square Garden on June 7. Thousands of Negroes will attend the rally and we will put it directly to the administration to see to it that the President's order is carried out now. The committee is suffering a lingering death. It must be revived."

Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, New York City Councilman, commenting on the situation today stated "While this is a just People's War, the Four Freedoms are not being extended to America's fifteen million Negroes. Discrimination in the armed forces still remains the order of the day and our boys are still being segregated even on the battlefields, and now they propose even in death to segregate them in graveyards."

"The Negro Freedom Rally on June 7 will give our answer to this American brand of fascism. I expect over 25,000 people to raise their voices not only in support of this war but to condemn to the high heaven these vicious practices. We will pull no punches. Let them fall where they may."

"Those Who Wait" Completed By Still For Stokowski

Predicted to be one of his most impressive works, as well as one revealing still more his talent and highly trained art as a composer, William Grant Still has just completed a new choral written for Leopold Stokowski. The words were written by Mrs. Still, the poem having as its theme the brotherhood of man, carries the strivings of the Negro, for his "place in the sun," in a new and unusual tone picture.

For instance there are questions and answers between the Negro chorus, and a white narrator, such "Are we not all brothers?" Mr. Stokowski has already put his stamp of approval on the work, but will arrive here this week to confer further with the famous Negro composer.

DR. YERGAN SPEAKS ON AFRICA

"If a third world war is to be avoided, America, Britain, Russia, and China must guarantee the democratic development of Africa and its resources in the interests of Africa's oppressed people."

This declaration was made here this week by Dr. Max Yergan, executive director of the Council on African Affairs and president of the National Negro Congress, at the two-day Highlander Folk School Inter-Racial Conference held here this week.

"Africa with its huge, undeveloped resources will be the bone of contention among the victorious nations unless we act now to end imperialism throughout the world," warned Dr. Yergan, who served 17 years on that continent as a YMCA official. "That should be a deep concern of Americans who now have sons in Africa fighting for democracy. Moreover, American troops and American representatives are now found throughout the continent."

The speaker proposed that the four major countries of the United Nations set up a commission, which would be assisted by technicians and economic experts, to develop Africa's industries on a free basis to encourage trade with the United States and Europe. This commission would also pave the way for independence of the African peoples, under regional governments which would end the present colonial lines of division.

Dr. Yergan pointed out that the United Nations had already suffered sharp defeats in Burma and the Dutch East Indies because of the dissatisfaction of colored colonial peoples. He urged that the United Nations adopt a program of reform for Africa which would include access to the land for the native peoples, wage increases to insure decent standards of living, the arming of Africans to fight the Axis, the right to vote, the right of workers to organize and bargain collevtively, and the inclusion of Negroes in economic, lend-lease, and other missions sent to Africa by the American and Allied governments.

The Seed Bed of Democracy

By Henry A. Wallace
Vice-President of the United States of America

Here in the United States our population is a blend of many races. Men and women of divers origins have built our science, our literature, and our arts, our finance, our industry and our government. We have established here the truth of a genetic basis for democracy.

When I was a small boy, George Washington Carver was a good friend of my father's at the Iowa State College. Carver at that time was specializing in Botany, and he would take me along on some of his botanizing trips. It was he who first introduced me to the mysteries of botany and plant fertilization. Later on I was to have an intimate acquaintance with plants myself, because I spent a good many years breeding corn. Perhaps that was partly because this scientist, who belonged to another race, had deepened my appreciation of plants in a way I could never forget.

I mention Carver simply because he is one example of a truth of which we are today deeply convinced. Ability and character are not the exclusive possessions of any one race or any one class. They may arise anywhere, provided men are given the right opportunities.

In a democracy, every individual according to his station in life and according to his capacity should have opportunity for joyous service of the general welfare. Democracy must apply itself to meeting the material need of men for work, for income, for goods, for health, for security, and to meeting their spiritual need for dignity, for knowledge, for self-expression, for adventure and for reverence. And it must succeed. The danger that it will be overthrown in favor of some other system is in direct proportion to its failure to meet these needs. We may talk all we like about the beauties of democracy, the ideals of democracy, the rightness of democracy. In the long run, democracy or any other political system will be measured by its deeds, not its words.

MAXIE ROSENBLOOM SIGNED AT MONOGRAM—Eddie Quillan, Maxie Rosenbloom, Joan Woodbury, Armida, Sidney Miller and Mary Gordon have been signed for the cast of "He Couldn't Take It," Monogram comedy-drama which goes before the cameras Friday (14), with William Beaudine directing for producer William Lackey. The story concerns a hot-tempered young man who can't hold a job until, fleeing from a vengeful gangster, he blunders into his draft board headquarters—and is accomodated with a permanent position in the army.

MEXICAN TROOPS ACT. The entire third mechanized division of the Mexican Army has been loaned to a C. B. De Mille location expedition to act in scenes of "The Story of Dr. Wassell" in the southern republic. Part of the film's gross receipts will go to U. S. Navy Relief.

Plans Completed for 9th Annual Police Show

Loyal patrons of the 9th Annual Police Show to be held in the Shrine Auditorium May 19th to 24th have gone "all the way" to make this year's Benefit a sell-out affair.

Mayor Fletcher Bowron, who as usual was the first purchaser of tickets from Chief C. B. Horral, and officially launched the 1943 sales campaign, was gratified to learn of the public's enthusiastic response to advance publicity. In fact, there were calls for tickets even before the show was completely set, and many firms doubled their last year's purchases, which hangs up some kind of "satisfied-consumer" record.

The Police Relief Association, which sponsors these annual events, can assure the public that the great "Victory Revue" will come up to the most optimistic expectations of its thousands of fans.

Heart-Stirring Story of Small-Town American Life "The Human Comedy" Now At United Artists Theatre

William Saroyan's "The Human Comedy," now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, is a story of a typical American family caught in the whirlpool of war. It mirrors the heart and soul of the Nation's millions. Mickey Rooney, displaying the strongest performance of his career, shines brilliantly as the boy of this tale, and tiny Jack Jenkins, is right up there with Rooney in one of the most natural and outstanding kid performances ever transferred to the screen.

Mickey Rooney plays a small town 'teen age youngster, who becomes wage earner in off-school hours to ease his widowed mother's burden of keeping a home for himself and two other children, when his elder brother is inducted. As the town's 4-to-midnight messenger boy he comes in contact with the loves and hates, joys and sorrows of various of his townspeople and life takes on import and meaning in conflict with his schoolboy ambitions and adolescent heart affairs.

The film has comedy—that intimate, friendly folsky kind of humor, born of human mistakes and conflicts of opinion that has its counterpart in everybody's life. But, it also has tragedy—deep-rooted tragedy that makes the tear ducts flutter and brings you to the edge of the seat. It has drama, romance, pathos, adventure and thrills. "The Human Comedy" touches every facet of the scintillating gem that is the American way of life. Yes, touches and polishes each plane and edge until it shines in brilliance to blind your eyes to your own petty peeves and worries and gives you a better understanding of that intangible something that motivates the existence of America's millions.

The cast is a joy. Besides Mickey Rooney and Jack Jenkins, there are Frank Morgan, James Craig, Marsha Hunt, Fay Bainter, Van Johnson, Donna Reed and many others.

Added attractions will include the latest news and color cartoon "Sufferin' Cats." See it now —"The Human Comedy"— at the United Artists Theatre, downtown Los Angeles.

Although this is the first word ever published about his work, so free is he from self-praise or fanfare, L. S. Booker, ever since the War Department opened its many camps, has been rendering valuable service in helping keep up the morale of colored soldiers. This he has done by touring the camps, most lacking in recreational facilities, and regular, or varied entertainment. Equipped with a fine, expensive, latest model projection machine, a loud speaker system, late full length talkie features, comedies, and short subjects, he turns the largest assembly hall available into a theatre. In a few minutes he is ready to show a double feature, besides plenty of musical entertainment, from dozens of latest hit records.

With the proper government credentials, and service insignia both on his arm, and fine pontiac sedan, he started in February, 1942, with a show at Ft. Clark, near Brackettville, Texas, through the cooperation of Chaplain Beasley, stationed there with the large contingent of colored troops.—Since then in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona and California, he has made regular visits. Included were 332 Aviation Squadron at Del Rio, Tex., 354 Aviation Squadron at Eagle Pass, Tex., Army Air Base: Army Air Base at Deming, N. M.; 427 Signal Corps, Tucson, Ariz.; Camp Young, Calif., Thermal, Calif., Coachella, Calif., Banning, Calif., San Bernardino, Calif., Camp Rice, Camp Hahn, March Field, Inglewood and Long Beach also in California, besides a number of others. One of the principal reasons the race soldiers welcome him gladly is because he not only shows pictures featuring colored artists, but all colored cast features. A very amusing two-reeler by Step-in-Fetchit brings roars of laughter to the boys.

Among the high ranking officers, and commanders who have written communications praising Booker's work have been Maj. W. C. Owens, at Camp Young, Lieut. Col. Blackshear at Coachella; Lieut. Col. T. L. Nick, at Camp Young, 1st Lieut. Wm. B. Long, commanding officer 427 Signal Corps, and many others. This week Booker is again at San Bernardino, with the 356 Engineers Reg. through arrangements made by Chaplain Jas. N. Carr, and his entertainment committee.

JR. CITIZENS SERVICE CORPS ANNOUNCED

In keeping with policies of the National OCD, the Committee on Youth Programs of the Los Angeles County and City Citizens Service Corps today announced the formation of a Junior Citizens Service Corps, according to Judge Robert H. Scott, chairman of the committee.

Founded on the slogan "Recognition Not Regimentation" the new group will enlist youth leaders and children under 16 in programs of training and service which will contribute to winning the war and fit them for post war citizenship.

The new army of children will be given federal recognition by the issuance of arm bands, and certificates of achievement. The arm band will be a duplication of the official Service Corps insignia with the words "Junior Service" added. The training will be carried on through existing youth organizations in cooperation with local Citizen Service Corps.

Colored Units Make Good at Stewart Show

CAMP STEWART, Ga.—Stewart's colored troops took their share of honors in the unique Transportation Show held recently before thousands of soldiers and civilians, a tabulation showed today.

Two colored battalions, the 458th and 503rd, won top places for their entry in the ¼-ton truck and 2½-ton truck classes respectively.

Another, the 477th Battalion, took second place honors in the "most original" entry class, with its Arabian sedan chair.

The giant Transportation Show, with more than 100 vehicles of all types entered, was held on the Post Parade Ground, as an impetus to "preventive maintenance" and to stimulate friendly rivalry between units at Stewart.

HATTIE MC DANIEL DENIES SPONSORSHIP OF "IT WAS NOT MY WORLD"

Hollywood, Calif.

"The sponsorship of the book, "It Was Not My World," was not authorized by me." Please retract the statement.

(Signed) Hattie McDaniel

The above was a special delivery letter sent by Miss McDaniel, noted movie star to the ANP representative, last week, upon reading an article purporting to be an A.N.P. release relating at length that because of her interest in the book and its author Deadrick Jenkins, she would go on record as one of its sponsors.

She is very indignant over the fabrication, as is also her husband, Mr. Crawford, but the Los Angeles office of the Associated Negro Press is equally if not more indignant, because the article was a pure forgery. The article was positively not written, released, or authorized by Harry Levette, coast representative of A. N. P. and its appearance was as much a surprise to him as to her. Henri O'Bryant former Chicago business man, assisting with A.N.P. work, while on the coast, like wise was not responsible for it. However it is expected the person or persons responsible for the story will eventually be uncovered.

Far from sponsoring the book, Miss McDaniel declares that she has not even read it. Her husband bought a copy, by way of showing appreciation to the author, while on a business trip to San Francisco.

member of the Negro race. Great art knows no color bars. We are proud of Marian Anderson and herewith publicly congratulate her for having been given the honor of opening the Hollywood Bowl Season, giving the first "Symphonies Under the Stars" program on Tuesday night, July 6. Plans for the 1943 outdoor concert season call for eight weeks of programs, three or four nights a week. Ten Sunday night broadcasts will originate in the Bowl. This summer's concerts will be dedicated to the men and women in the armed forces and war industries. Tentative plans call for the traditional symphony nights, solo nights and programs devoted to special features.

Half-Light Dangerous

By far the greatest number of traffic accidents occur between the hours of 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. One of the principal reasons for this is that vision is more difficult because of the "in-between" light, and because of the necessary adjustment from day to artificial light. Some cars have headlights on, others do not. Drivers must be ready for either. Pedestrians, particularly, must be watchful during these hours when motorists are hurrying home from work.

COMMISSION CLEARS 2 FIGHTERS

Down in Front

With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

ON WILLIAMS AND BURNEY

All through boxing history the record shows that some fighters have met each other many, many times. Sometimes the bouts got better with each meeting, sometimes worse as the participants caught on to styles, et cetera.

In the latter category fell the Holman Williams-Charley Burley "bout" last Friday night in the ring of Hollywood Legion stadium.

They met for the sixth time and on paper figured to put up quite a heated fistic argument. Looking on was the heavyweight champion of the world, Sgt. Joe Louis, who is reputed to be interested in Williams.

So dull fans started leaving early, the "bout" was stopped one minute after the start of the 10th and final round, and as Referee Abe Roth shooed the fighters to their corners he beckoned that the mike be lowered. He said, "This bout is being stopped for the good of the game."

That statement left room for lots of speculation, the kind that is not so good. And so the column was glad Monday when the State Athletic commission, represented by Chairman Jules Covey and Everett Sanders, announced that no evidence had been produced to show that the fighters, or the referee, had taken part in anything of a shady nature.

To this column, as we sat and watched the bout unfold, we thought that both boys were trying, but being so familiar with each other's style there was no way for it to look but bad.

Referee Roth appeared to have been so disgusted after warning the fighters repeatedly, especially Burley, that he showed no inclination to break the numerous clinches. In one stanza (we thing it was the 8th) Burley appeared to have shaken up Williams, who immediately tied Burley up. Burley's efforts to break free reecived no cooperation from the referee. Roth only looked—or did he?

As a result, there will hardly be any more meetings, at least locally, between Burley and Williams—"for the good of the game."

ON "TURKEY" THOMPSON

The local promoter who can inveigle some of the better heavyweights to consent to take a chance on mixing it with our "Turkey" Thompson will get the undying gratitude of this column.

For our part, the column is tired of seeing the bottom rounds of the heavyweight ladder thrown to the No. 4 clouter of the world's heavies.

Thompson, a dynamic puncher, seems to have punched his way out of opponents and the do-re-mi. Too good for his own good, if he wants to fight at all, he has to take the best the promoters can give him.

NEGRO ACES SHINE IN PENN RELAYS

FRANKLIN FIELD, Philadelphia.—The glory that was Rome has gone. The glory that belonged to the Penn Relays last Friday and Saturday was but a drab memory of that yesteryear when the nation was at peace with the world and when the thousands of young men and boys from the nation's leading high-schools, colleges and universities were grinding their names into the record books of the track world with flying spikes and scintillating performances. The shadow of a global war-competition on the mightiest scale the world has yet known—overshadowed all else and despite the brilliance of Saturday's sunshine that beamed so warmly down on the 20,000 odd enthusiastits who turned out for the games, despite the individual and team performances of the competing institutions, something was missing in this, the 49th annual running of this historic, tradition-laden track carnival.

There were outstanding performances Friday and Saturday as there have been in every year since the games have been taking place. There were individual and team heroes; capable youngsters to whom the sky is the limit. But one never got over the sensation of futility attached to the meet. Even the crowd seemed to feel the tension of the times, the terrific strain of a nation at war, and it was more subdued than in any other year within recent memory. It was fitting that the efforts of members of our armed forces stood out among the individual achievements of the two days of running and jumping.

It was Eulace Peacock, the former Temple University cyclone, and now of the U. S. Coast Guard, stationed at Manhattan Beach, New York, who roared back from track oblivion into the headlines again with a sensational victory over Private Norwood H. (Barney) Ewell, Camp Lee, Va., stalwart, and ex-Penn-State "fastest human" and holder of a flock of dash and jump records. Peacock beat out Elwell in the latter's "private property," the broad jump, with a terrific 24 feet 1 inch.

It was in 1937 that Peacock made his last appearance in the Penn State Relays for Temple University. The big, gentle-spoken young man romped off with the 100 yard dash in 9.8 seconds, a relay carnival record. He also leaped 24 feet 1 inch to take the broad jump. The experts later showed an increasing tendency to count Peacock out as a first line threat in the specialities he had once ruled, but Saturday, the Coast Guardsman showed 'em all that he still has more than a "couple of good jumps" left in him as he bounded to a 1943 relay title, six years later, and over the 1942 champion to boot!

Josh (Corporal Joshua) Williamson, tall taciturn kangaroo, from Camp Lee, Va., and former star of the Xavier University team of New Orleans, was the second military man to grab a title, defeating a powerful field of high jumpers, that included the favorite, William Vesey of Columbia University, and A. Richmond Morcum of New Hampshire with a dizzy 6 feet 6 inches.

Vesey, previously undefeated in competition this year and conqueror of Williamson in the Knights of Columbus indoor games at Madison Square Garden in New York last winter, finished a poor fifth. Morcum's 6 feet, 5¼ inches topped the best effort of two colored stars, Private Donald Barksdale, former UCLA freshman sensation, now of Camp Lee, Va., and Charles Walker of the Hampton Naval Training School, who tied at 6 feet, 3¼ inches for third place. Vesey's best was a poor 6 feet 2 inches. Hubert Doud, the CIAA champion from A. and T. College at Greensboro, N. C., failed at 6 feet, 1 inch.

Adam Berry, last year's winner and holder of the relay carnival record of 6 feet, 7½ inches, was advertised for the event but did not show up. The former Southern University wizard is a sergeant at Fort Knox and evidently couldn't get away.

Since 1935 colored athletes have made the 100 yard dash a "closed corporation" for "members only." That is the ONE race where all the brothers and sisters can get together on and count as in the bag for the "race." That's why most of the colored fans who come to Franklin Field for the relays pile into the corner section of the stadium near the finish line for the dash. They haven't in past years been disappointed. In 1935 it was Eulace Peacock. In 1936 it was Jesse Owens. Peacock won again in 1937 and Ben Johnson took the event in 1938. Mozel Ellerbe of Tuskegee won it in 1939 and in 1940, but W. Williams of North Texas Teachers College, a white boy, upset the dope in 1941 and took the race. This wasn't a serious defection, many thought, and they waited for 1942 to straighten things out again. Leo Tarrant of Alabama State came along and did just that.

Meanwhile, one of the fastest men in the world, was on the outside looking in on this particular race, chasing an ever elusive bubble in seeking one victory in the Penn invitational 100 yard dash.

He was Barney Ewell at Penn State. Barney had won the 1C-4A championship for three years in a row; he had won indoor titles; and many other titles; but had always come up short in the one race he wanted most to win. Barney last year, like thousands of other athletes, was handed a uniform by Uncle Sam and he went into the army without winning a Penn relay dash for Penn State.

Saturday, Ewell told me he "felt right" and believed he would win. The field was made up of Walter Galiford of the USMC, Eulace Peacock, Herb Rubin of New York University; Harvey Kelsey of Princeton, Shaw of Cornell, and several others who did not show in the final. Ed Conwell of New York University, the highly touted colored freshman, was scratched as a result of a pulled tendon and Ewell, to all intents and purposes, had the best chance in his life to grab victory in the race he wanted most to win.

Ewell went out in a business-like manner to take his, the first heat, in 10 seconds flat with Galiford second. Peacock took the next heat in the surprising time of 10 seconds flat. Kelsey won the next heat and after the field had been sifted out, the finals were staged.

But the winner wasn't Ewell, neither was it Peacock. Instead, it was the ignored Kelsey, the New England prey school champion. Peacock had just run a gruelling quarter mile leg for Manhattan Beach in its effort to gain a relay team title.

Peacock, the only man in the dash field with a better than even chance to defeat Kelsey, defeated himself so that the three white boys on the Manhattan Beach team might earn second place medals. It was his leg that gave Manhattan Beach second place. Peacock ran sixth and out of the money in the 100. Ewell was second by three feet. Shaw was third and Rubin fourth.

Harrison Dillard, sturdy little hurdling ace of Baldwin-Wallace College, Ohio, became the third Negro in Penn relay history to win the 120-yard high hurdles, when he defeated the highly favored Tom Todd of Virginia in 14.8. The relay record of 14.4 is held by Ed Dugger, the Tufts College timber topper and one of the most scholarly colored athletes to compete in this event.

The Penn 120 highs were won by Willis Ward in 1935 and Dugger came along to set a record in 1941. Third place Friday went to John Saunders, former Miami University of Ohio star, now of Camp Lee. New York University's Warren Halliburton, freshman sensation, was fourth. It was the first time also that three Negroes had reached the finals of this event.

College relay honors went to New York University, Notre Dame and Michigan. The Michigan team, with John Roxborough, nephew of Joe Louis' co-manager, running the leadoff leg, took the two mile championship as well as the sprint medley. Roxborough was defeated by Fupta of Notre Dame by an inch as the Irish took the distance medley. Both were running the lead legs. Running the third for Penn State in this event and showing well as his team placed third, was Rufus Williams, ex-Overbrook high of Philadelphia product.

Camp Lee's spring medley team placed third in the second section of the race after Frank Fixon, New York University's mile king, had run a 1:59 half-mile anchor leg to come from last place to third. Dandridge led off for the soldiers, followed by Sherfield and Barney Ewell. Fordham won the race. The final of this event went to Michigan with NYU second and Fordham third.

Thompson Drops Foe To Win

Turkey Thompson, 202-pound No. 4 heavyweight, floored lanky Clayton Worlds, 195, of Chicago, in the third round for a 9-count to win the unanimous 10-round decision at the Olympic auditorium Tuesday night before a crowd of 7,000.

Taller and possessing a longer reach, Worlds failed to show any hitting power and with the exception of the third round knockdown the bout produced no thrills.

In the late rounds Turkey appeared to tire and Worlds outpointed him with a snaky left jab and powder-puff right crosses.

Thompson used a left hook effectively throughout, flooring the Chicagoan with the pnuch in the third stanza.

Referee Ab Roth awarded the verdict to the local heavyweight six rounds to four. Judges Frank Holborrow and Reg Gilmore scoring the bout 59 to 51, and 60 to 50 points, respectively.

Other results: Sgt. Burrow Woods scored a two?round TKO over Farmer Smith. Babe Edwards nodded Allen Arnett in four, Al Burkhart hung a TKO on Bob Lacey, and Jimmy Wilson decisioned Joe Mack in the opener.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Mexico.—Racing came back to Southern California fans like a cyclone when over seven thousand crowded beautiful Caliente track to see the sport of kings resumed after a layoff since last October. The day was perfect—in fact it was one of Mexico's ideal summer days. People from all walks of life and of every race was on hand to greet the return of the galloping thoroughbreds—even the expression on the faces of men and women was different, nothing but smiles greeted the people as they passed each other. It reminded one of just one big family getting something that they wanted for relaxation, and the thrills and excitement was good not only for the nerves but to help keep up morale, Generalissimo Eddie Nealis, the popular big boss of the track was also highly pleased with the opening and said barring any unforeseen trouble we will be able to race indefinitely on a Sunday only program. Although if things do change for the better we may race two or three days a week. Mr. Zeke Caress, the greatest price maker in the world, gave liberal prices to the fans and they were quick to take advantage of it. Six favorites won out of the twelve races. Assistant General Manager Armando Verdugo did himself proud the way he had everything working like a clock, and his untiring efforts was rewarded.

Ruben Verdugo, assistant to his brother, was also proud the way his office force responded to the many details that confronted them on opening day. All in all the entire official family was on the job doing everything that could to make the public feel right at home and that is just what they did.

The chairman of the California Racing Board was on hand and made a brief speech to the crowd and praised Generalissimo Eddie Nealis for opening the track and keeping the sport of kings alive for Southern California.

Mr. Jerry Giesler also said that in behalf of the breeders of California we want to extend hearty congratulations and wish the management lots of success. So there you have it folks—a brief of the highlights of the reopening of the famous Caliente race track. So until next Sunday when another great card of twelve races will be staged south of the border down Mexico way, this writer joins with the many well-wishers to say viva Generalissimo Eddie Nealis.

So long.

Burley, Williams Cleared In Hollywood Fiasco

Stopped Friday night in the 10th and final round by Referee Abe Roth "for the good of the game," the bout between Holman Williams and Charely Burley had nothing suspicious attached to it, the State Athletic commission decided here Monday.

Roth rendered the decision one minute after the start of the 10th, calling the bout a "no decision" affair. He had repeatedly urged both leather slingers, meeting for the sixth time, to get in and mix it up.

Fans started filing for the exits early as Burley, the harder puncher, continually missed, while Williams threw punches half-heartedly.

The referee had Burley in front at the time he halted the bout.

Burley weighed 154½, Williams 153.

Commission Chairman Jules Covey announced Monday that since (1) no evidence had been produced to show that the fighters had been guilty of collusion, stalling or faking, (2) no evidence had been presented to show that they were not in good physical condition, and (3) evidence showed Roth made his decision in the interest of the game, the boxers be cleared and given their purses, and the referee also be cleared.

Hollywood nabbed second-place honors with 38½ points, followed by Polytechnic, scoring 35½ points, and Fairfax with 28.

Lucien Collins, placing fourth in the 440, and Clifford Hall and Lorenzo Holderness, relay squad members, turned in fine performances.

In class "B" competition, the "Parrakeets" scored 78 points to win the championship handily. Bill Hurlic turned in outstanding performances to win the high jump and board jump. Walt Johnson, sprint ace, Bob Brewington, high hurdle star, and Melvin Embree of the relay team contributed valuable points.

POLICE ACADEMY GOES TO WAR

Lieut. J. O. Dircks, Director of Training at Police Academy, is on the firing line with "sharpshooters" from L. A. Military Police unit. Pistol and sub-machine gun shooting are taught by police specialists.

One of the benefiting organizations on this year's Police Show, to be staged May 19th to 24th in the Shrine Auditorium, is the famous Police Academy. Located in Elysian Park, the Police "West Point" has turned in excess of 1,500 members of the Armed Forces.

Because of its outstanding record of service, the Academy has been acclaimed by competent authority as the foremost police training school in the nation. Here in a sylvan setting reminiscent of the High Sierras, rather than the heart of a great city, various groups of soldiers including privates, corporals, sergeants, lieutenants, captains and majors, have been sent for special courses in police tactics, police science, and precision shooting with pistols and sub-machine guns.

Race Track GOSSIP

By Jay Gould

Hello, Frisco, Flashes! Mrs. Marguerite Clipper, tall and beautiful with her gorgeous dreamy eyes, is some looker.

Mildred Maxwell, ex-show charmer, never looked lovelier than t'other night at Club Alabam.

Betty Payne, it's OK to carry your mamma around with you sometimes, but cut her out of the picture when you get high.

Percy Campbell of the Lark Club, Berkeley, with a convoy of chicks, paying all checks regardless.

The best bet these days is the alphabet, as you can really come on when you know how to read and write.

If you eat at the Town Club or "Pop' Warners at Club Alabam, the food will fill out your frame and make your muscles bulge.

Mr. B. Hill of Oakland is one of the best dressed men on the coast with his pockets full of one hundred dollar bills, ringsiding all big events.

Novell Hayden,—youre not a showgirl and probably can't dance even a tap dance, but if you were on the stage, you'd be a show stopper. You cause the raising of many eyebrows when you ankle in and out of the swanky spots.

The petite Myrtle Jones, cute little waitress at Jack's Tavern, is now attending school to learn the beautician's trade and manicuring.

Carl Young, well known on all race tracks, is now raking in heavy dough by being head carpenter with a crew of 24 men in an Oakland defense plant.

Some of those pretties of Clarence Estelle may be gifted with a home on the outskirts of town some day as Clarence is 50-50 with Julius Delifus at the Havana Tavern which takes eight or nine hundred dollars into the cash drawer on week-ends.

Slats Regan, Larry Sweetwine, Dewey Johnson of New York, Al Simms of Los Angeles, Fred Pugh and New York Brownie can get more money in a cash register than any twelve men in the country.

The lovely Alameda Browning Fields and Dee Dee Hackett top entertainers from Seattle with two other beautiful ladies, knocked themselves out in the nite clubs before departing for the Pacific Northwest.

Miss Ruby Pierce came down to San Francisco, "middle aisled" it with Mr. Roy Mercer and rushed back to Seattle, her home.

Mr. Clyde Davis of Tacoma and Seattle is now eye-ing the cuties in the Bay Area.

Miss Ida King has packed her bags and is all set to streamline it out Colorado way. Miss King is the owner of a tailor shop across from the Town Club.

There are never any kid gloves on the hands of Vernon Brown when it comes to handling women. Wonder why he is so rough?

Louis Verette will soon be one of the best auto drivers in Frisco, maybe, as Louis can be seen en route to and from his ranch on the outskirts of Oakland.

The meanest man in the world is a cab driver who charged a blind man two dollars to take him home from a downtown restaurant t'other night, stopped the cab and robbed him of $34 and put him out.

Dickie Boy Lewis spending and tossing away his coin. Take it easy and slow down Dickie, your wife, Gladys, will come back some day, maybe?

Ruth Overstreet of Portland, Oregon, out with a guy who was flashing big money, but the way Ruth was handling it, would make one giggle.

Foster, the owner of the barber shop of the same name at 1967 Sutter is all thrilled from his shoes to his hair-cut, because his next stop is Hot Springs, Arkansas for six weeks.

Reedy Martin and Little Sights were on their way to see Bill Robinson's show, "Born Happy," with a couple of pretties, but the convoy downed too many scotch and sodas before getting there.

Alfred Elliott and wife and Sam Jones and wife were missing at the ringside to see Buck Cannon's star boxer t'other night.

Genevieve Stearns, entertainer who wrote "There'll Be Some Changes Made," is back from the east and can be seen in and out of the best spots.

"Tex" Stimson has bought a half interest with Cal Whitlock and is now a 50-50 owner in a smoke shop.

Mr. M. M. Wallace, well known globe trotter is very busy these days going from one nite spot to the other.

Sgt. Weldon Bailey, looking very smart in his uniform, doing the spots with Ione Dorsey. If she is as good as she looks, she's one hundred per cent.

Flash! Carl Buckner and his pretty wife toased an imported champagne shower at the Club Alabam. In the party were Louis Verette, Vernon Brown, Skeeter Bentley, yours truly, Slats Regan and Ben Lundy. A good time was had by all, and everyone walked straight when the party was over.

James J. Jeffery, owner of a barbecue pit on Post street and other property on Sutter street, was surprised when newcomers moved in without warning to his property and refused to vacate. The alibi was they were tired of walking the streets all nite. This goes to show just how acute the housing situation for negroes is in greater San Francisco. Much damage was done to said property.

Did Ruth Whitfield and the lieutenant from the Presidio go to Salinas or Reno? Did you notice the ring he's wearing? Who is the lieutenant? Is he a playboy?

Mrs. Ruby Butler of Chicago was the guest of Mr. William Gideon of Chicago while visiting San Francisco. Mrs. Butler is on her way to Pearl Harbor to join her husband.

Those two waiters at Club Alabam have new names since all the men are going to the army—the two James brothers, which two?

Out balling and having some fun were Margie Franklin of the Fresno Hotel, and A. J. Williams of Oakland at the Havana Club.

From Los Angeles was seen Kathleen Watson, visiting Frisco and doing the niteries in the company of Mark King, brother of Louis King.

Myrtle Rector, your orchid coat with the platinum fur on the collar looks like a standout.

Barry Baine arrived in Los Angeles and Frisco from Honolulu with four Gs of folding money.

Miss Pat ("I'm a waitress") Patterson, who worked at the Dunbar Grill of Los Angeles for several weeks, is back in town looking her best.

Did you, you and you see Rev. H. B. Gantts photo in the California Eagle last week? They just returned from Los Angeles where he and his wife visited their son and daughter-in-law.

A party of six was seen at Jack's Tavern sipping to their heart's content. Included were Miss Valerie Black, Miss Lucille O'Daniel, Fred Campbell, Al Jones, national known as a globe trotter, Nick Nicholson from the deep blue sea and Little Joe.

Ray Boganite, who runs the dining room at the Havana Tavern, serves meals that can't be beat,—stop in and see for yourself.

Mrs. Georgia Spigner of San Jose, California is San Jose representative for the San Francisco Reporter, San Francisco's only Negro weekly.

Frank Logan, owner of the Republican Club, and the San Francisco Reporter, wants all to see, buy and subscribe to his young, up and coming weekly publication.

Guard Soldiers' Checks, Secret Service Warns

Reports that many service dependency allotment checks are being stolen from Southland porches and mail boxes and then forged, have prompted the United States Secret Service to issue a warning to the wives and other dependents of men away at war:

1. Be sure some member of the family is at home when the checks are due to be delivered.
2. All mail boxes should be equipped with a lock, and the individual's name should be printed clearly on the outside of the box.
3. Checks should be cashed in the same place each month, making identification easier.
4. Checks should not be endorsed until you are in the presence of the person you will ask to cash it.

To persons and business houses asked to cash Government checks, Secret Service offered this guidance:

1. Insist that a person presenting a Government check properly identify himself as the person entitled to the check.
2. Insist that all checks be endorsed in your presence.
3. Require that all checks be initialed by the employes who pay out money for them, or who approve such payment.

Since many commercial and business students of high schools and colleges soon will be taking their place in jobs where they will handle money and Government checks, Secret Service publishes and distributes a 32-page book entitled "Know Your Money," which contains pictures of counterfeit and genuine money for comparison. Copies may be purchased for 10 cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.

MUGGINS INCREASE AS POLICE FORCE DROPS FROM 2450 TO 1750

According to citizens who have been studying the current crime wave, the police force is being so seriously undermanned by draft and constant retirements, that they are unable to cope with the situation properly. Mindful of this the large horde of criminals from other sections has grown bolder, as mounting reports of muggings and other crimes reveal. Of a personnel of 2450, two years ago, there are only 1750 in active duty today, with a new batch of retirements soon, and no new graduates from the police school. The problem is a little too dangerous for the home defense program, say both citizens and some of the officers.

Female Mugger Slugs Couple

Going New York one better by the advent of female muggers, Miss Bertie Roney, 5001 Missouri street, Southgate, told police that she and her boy-friend were the victims of one last Saturday night. While waiting for a car at Vernon and Central, a short, husky woman, about 29 years old, accompanied by a man approached them and asked if they wanted a drink.

Thoughtlessly they accepted, but after all had drank from the bottle carried by the woman, she suddenly smashed her in the face and grabbed her wrist watch. Both a assailants disappeared in the darkness.

the thumb of Lamar's right hand, making a severe wound. Meanwhile the other thug was running towards them but the newsman managed to escape before his arrival. However when he went back to where his car, a Ford coupe, had been, it was gone, so one of the pair must have driven it away. Police are on the lookout for it, and the thugs.

Kidnapped from Vernon-Central

While Thos. Ogden of Venice, Calif. was awaiting a traffic light change at the corner of Vernon and Central Avenue last Sunday night about 11:30, two men approached and forced him at the point of a gun, into their car.

They then made him drive to 29th and Naomi, where one hit him, knocking him, and going through his pockets. He lost his wallet, containing $113, to the kidnap-muggers.

Chased by Purse Snatcher

Miss Dorothy Clark 501½ E. 48 street, had the harrowing experience of being caught by a purse snatcher, after she had thought she had outrun him to safety.

While returning home last Monday night, she sensed a boy about 18 years old, wearing black tennis shoes, was following her. Accordingly, she tucked her purse under her arm, and started running to where she saw a carload of people parking. As she neared them and slowed down, the boy who had been running also, stooped down as if he was tying his shoe, throwing her off guard.

Suddenly he again leaped forward and jerked her purse from under her arm and fled west on 47 street. The pocket book contained $17.50.

Evening Slugging on Avalon

Apparently extending their activities to Avalon Blvd. because of its growing rapidly into a business centre, one of the most brutal muggings occured last week in the early hour of 9:15. The victim, Chas. Shook, 610 E. 54 street, was beaten and robbed of $17.00.

Shook was walking home, and had reached the corner of 53rd and Avalon, when he met two men, walking north on Avalon. Not suspecting an attack, he did not attempt to avoid them, but as he was passing, one of them struck him a terrific blow in the face without warning. When he fell they went through his pockets, and ran away. The victim is not sure if he can identify them.

Among the arrests made last week by Newton Police were Richard Crandall, 846 Crocker, by Wilton and McKenzie, on suspicion of banditry. Houston Miller, 700 E. 50 street, was arrested on suspicion by detective L. C. McGruder. Officers said he answered the description of a rape suspect.

Dear Madam:

I received twenty-five copies of the California Eagle. They really sold rapidly. An addition of thirty more was sent to me. They arrived late Saturday evening; therefore I was not able to sell very many. I have five white regular customers already, also fifteen others. There are three churches here. Each church has selected their own representatives. In turn each individual reporter will report to me and then I will compile all three according to the directions you gave me. Going by your instructions everything is working beautifully.

Everyone thinks the Eagle is a marvelous paper. Especially the white people.

The April 29, 1943 edition with the cartoon on page 1-A certainly made a big hit with the open-minded white residents of Santa Barbara. A white man named Mr. A. B. Smith said, "I admire this paper: Louis Harold, be sure to have a paper for me every week." Also many of the employees of the First National Bank desire copies. I mean to put the California Eagle over the top!

Sincerely yours,
Louis Harold, Jr.

The curtain has gone up on our 9th Annual Police Show, and as in years past we owe sincere appreciation to the District Press for their cooperation in publicizing this event.

The Benefit this year promises to top all previous events, with the best array of talent it has been possible to assemble. We would of course greatly appreciate mention of this fact in your next issue, if it comes out within the show date, May 19th to 24th.

Press passes have already been sent to your paper, and we hope you will enjoy the show.

With kindest personal regards to yourself and staff.

Very truly yours,

California State Guard Seeks Reserve

The American, British and French captured the last outposts of the Axis, in Tunisia, North Africa, and entered the cities of Bizerte and Tunis on or about May 7, 1943.

The Allies won a great victory. This victory raised the morale of the American, British and French troops and many of the citizens of the Allied countries. The victory also changed the situation of the Allies, from the defensive to the offensive.

The American forces, on another front have landed and established a base or bases on the island of Attu, another good reason for the raising of the morals of the people at home.

With all that good news, the citizens of this country are subject to add more complacency to an already, too complacent condition, which is very dangerous. The war is not ended yet and the most potential enemy to the Pacific Coast is not yet eliminated. The Jap pulled a sneak play at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941 and involved this country into the conflict and who is it, that can be so complacent as to think and feel that the same thing cannot happen again in some other locale, possibly this West Coast.

The British Home Guard celebrated their birthday on the 16th of May 1943. The Home Guard of Great Britain is credited with the defense of England while the soldiers of that country were fighting on another front far from home. There will follow more information about that organization, which set the example for our own home protective army, the California State Guard.

On that Sunday afternoon, December 7, 1941 the California State Guard went on active duty with a small personnel of volunteers, some with pay and others without, who gave liberally of their spare time and who will be topics of articles yet to come. The Crack 7th Regiment, the Negro regiment of the State Guard, had a parade that day, on Central Avenue, honoring the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and Walter White, the leader of that Association who at the Second Baptist Church on that occasion. The line of march passed the doors of that church, where the reviewing stand was located, and ended at a point one or two blocks beyond. At the end of the line of march a call for volunteers was made, and the response was greater than the anticipation and more than could be used at that time. The active duty of the 7th Regiment was in effect. The active duty division of the California State Guard is now being inactivated, after eighteen months of hard work, sincere and meritorious service. The writer who has seen a year's active service, himself, recalls several members who have been in service during the entire period of active duty. The duties consisted of fighting fires (forest fires) from San Diego to Fresno and Malibu in addition to their regular guard duties of guarding plants, essential locales and industries. The Governor and the Legislature of the State of California has found it advisable and necessary to disband the active duty division of the California State Guard.

The Reserve division of the California State Guard in still the same organization that it was before December 7, 1941, except the personnel, many of which have been drafted into the services of the U. S. Army. The Adjutant General of the California State Guard, has started to carry out his plans to concentrate all able bodied Negro men up to 60 years of age, offering unlimited opportunities to those men who can and will spend some of their spare time toward training and study. This should especially appeal to those boys of draft age and to those who are about to turn that age. This training is of great after the war as well as the present time.

For information concerning enlightenment into the California State Guard apply at the State Guard Armory, in Exposition Park, at 700 Exposition Boulevard, Los Angeles, California.

The horse and buggy days are gone but it still takes horse sense to drive an auto safely, avers Gordon H. Garland, Director of Motor Vehicles.

Mr. Thomas is the first Negro employed in an administrative capacity on the national headquarters staff of the Red Cross. The banquet will be tendered in recognition of his appointment.

Negro War Savings Committee Of Southern California

Realizing that this is "truly the opportunity of a racial life-time to build our national wealth," and our patriotic duty to protect our men in the armed forces, a group of far-seeing citizens of all walks of life accepted an invitation of the U. S. Treasury Department and created the Negro War Savings Committee of Southern California.

The group elected Paul Williams, International Architect, as chairman. The following men began to feverishly set up all kinds of committees to reach the heart of the colored population of this section. They are: B. B. Bratton, vice chairman; Charles Matthews, 2nd vice chairman; Edgar J. Johnson, of the Golden State Life Insurance Company, secretary-treasurer; James H. Anderson, A. F. of L., Edward Bailey, president of Musicians Union, George A. Beavers, L. M. Blodgett, Revels H. Clayton, of the C. I. O., Milton T. Dean, Norman Houston, H. H. Howard, S. P. Johnson, L. G. Robinson, Wm. Nickerson, Jr., Rev. Clayton D. Russell, Rev. E. W. Rakestraw, Christopher C. Scott, Davis W. Williams, and Clarence Muse.

The Liberty Loan Association at 2512 Central Avenue, already an issuing agent for the United States Treasury Department, has donated its facilities and offices as the headquarters for the War Savings Committee. This is a permanent committee for the duration. This quarter million dollar institution has set aside five thousand dollars as their first contribution to this "set-up" in bonds. The Golden State Life Insurance Company voted at the first meeting of the committee to make it's task ten thousand dollars, which has been paid to the credit of the Negro War Savings Committee.

The first drive of the committee has been set as a BUY A BOMBER campaign. sponsored by the Phi-Beta-Sigma Fraternity, a national business society, who will complete the details of getting enough bonds to purchase a medium flying fortress, that is $175,000 dollars. The slogan is to be BUY A BOMBER, WE HAVE JUST BEGUN TO FIGHT! Every citizen is invited to help in this great effort of the Negro people who are helping to make this world free.

Such students as are eligible may fill out application blanks, which are also signed by the minister of the church. They must complete a minimum of fifteen hours service between last January and the close of the semester in June, in order to receive caps and insignia at the Victory Corps Recognition assembly which will eb held at the school.

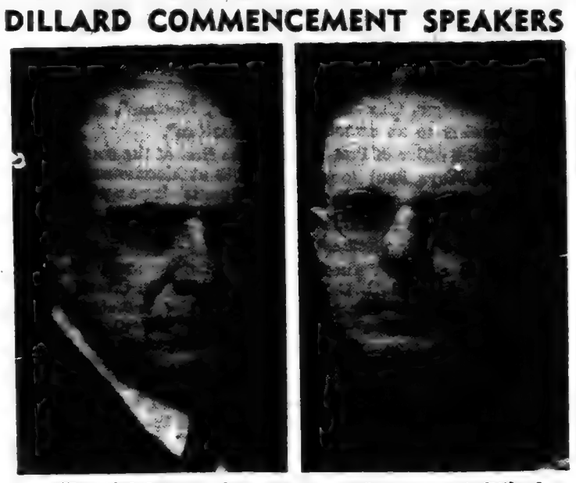
Boys Receive Journalism Honor

James Whitfield, editor-in-chief of the Jeffersonian, and Joe Martinez, assistant editor, were the recipients of certificates of honor for their work in the field of journalism at the Los Angeles High School Press Association breakfast which was held at Clifton's cafeteria on Saturday morning, May 15.

Rena Ann Marlowe and the paper sponsor, Mrs. Lillian Graeber, were also at the breakfast.



More Breakfast

With many foods rationed, increasingly families are going to turn to breakfast cereals to meet certain nutritional needs. To increase the production of cereals, the Breakfast Cereals Industry Food Advisory Committee of the Food Distribution Administration, meeting in Washington last week, pointed out that three problems must be solved. These are (1) obtaining package cartons (present supplies are almost exhausted), (2) obtaining additional sugar, and (3) making necessary machinery repairs and replacements.

An extensive advertising program has been planned by the cereal industry to inform the public of the nutritive value of cereal foods, and to show how they may be substituted for scarcer foods.

There will be a program, which will feature some of the best talent in the city. One of the highlights of the program will be Bob Parrish of international fame, a local boy who has made good is a product of the Mt. Carmel Baptist Church.

SEE NEED FOR MORE FARM LABOR

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—California farm labor requirements, during the coming harvest season, will be higher than in any past year because of the increased production quotas established to supply the needs of our armed services, civilians, and our allies, combined with depleted reserves. Therefore, it is increasingly apparent that the services of older people, women and other volunteers will be urgently needed if the crops are to be harvested.

This warning was issued yesterday by W. E. Spencer, of Whittier, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Southern California Council, California State Chamber of Commerce.

Last year, Spencer stated, California suffered a loss of about $15,000,000 in agricultural products because of labor shortages. Regular requirements for agricultural labor for California are estimated at 210,000, of which 90,000 have been lost to industry and the armed forces. Recently, about 10,000 workers have returned from industry to agriculture, making the present net loss approximately 80,000. At the peak of the harvest season, more than 160,000 workers are required. As of May 1, he said, 30,000 seasonal workers were employed in agriculture, indicating that a considerable number of workers must be recruited for the peak harvest season.

Concerning Mexican labor, Spencer pointed out that the present agreement provides that 50,000 Mexican nationals will be permitted to enter the United States this year, and that about 40,000 of these will come to California.

"Our food and fiber production problem is the largest and the most serious ever faced by this state, or nation," Spencer said, "and the results of our efforts will reach far beyond normal economic factors, since they may materially influence the conduct of the war and the terms of the peace."

PUBLIC WARNED AGAINST DROP THE PIGEON BUNCO MEN

Adding new worries to the overworked and undermanned police force and a new pitfall for unwary defense workers, a gang of "drop the pigeon" bunco artists has swelled the recent influx of criminals, say police. Hence they have asked this publication to issue a warning against this type of petty racketeer, hoping that the number of victims will be diminished while they are running the suspects to earth. They also complain that although a number of cases have occurred since the gang moved in, all have not been reported by the persons who suffered at their hands. This may have been because of shame on the part of the gullible victim, or because they thought nothing could be done. Instead it is only by a description o fthe buncoers that the police can arrest them.

WOMAN LOCKHEED WORKER TRIMMED FOR $185

One of the recent victims of this old, but still effective scheme, was Mrs. Ethel Rose, an industrious worker at Lockheed aircraft plant. While nearing her home at 1129 E. 10th street, she saw a man pick up something off the sidewalk. Instantly another unknown man hurried to her and told her that since they had both seen the man find a large sum of money, he would be willing to split. As there were several hundred dollars in the wallet, she would be required to put up some money as her guarantee, and he would bring the finder to her home. She went into the house, the couple left, and she has not seen them since. This instance is the usual mode of operation in "dropping the pigeon," say police.

Pigeons Being Trained At Pope Field, Fort Bragg

Pope Field, Fort Bragg, N. C., May 15—Those bush league burglars of all things holy... Adolph, Benito, and the Son of Heaven... are due very shortly to "get the bird".

The bird in this case is the homing pigeon which will be thrown at them along with Fortresses, Airacobras and everything else that flies for the United Nations all over the globe.

Proof of this prophecy lies in the recent assignment to Pope Field of the first pigeon company ever to be attached to the Air Forces. The unit is attached to the year-old I Troop Carrier Command and will doubtless move to be the parent of similar units throughout the country.

For the record, the company is comprised of a full complement of experienced pigeoneers commanded by 1st Lt. Richard E. Fix of Buffalo, N. Y. At present officers and non-commissioned officers alike are busy acclimating their birds to their lofts at Pope Field. Eventually they hope to use these flying messengers as a secondary means of communications in carrying out tactical missions.

The NEWS REEL

By HARRY MORGAN

This is the time of the year when June brides break out like a rash in the nation's tabloids—and you can't walk within 3 blocks of a church without being barraged by the scent of orange blossoms. Mothers will give mild imitations of Niagara Falls in action as they weep for joy. Fathers will wear their usual baffled looks as they try to decide what they're supposed to do. But there will be a difference this year. Formerly the bridegroom was considered as part of the general scenery—if at all. Now with uniforms sparkling on every side, he is shoved into the spotlight. It takes the play away from the bride a little—but remember what Sherman said about war, ladies!

On his recent trip to Mexico City Bing Crosby sold nine of his race horses to impressed Mexicans. What ever became of the "Good Neighbor" policy?

It's still the "Good Neighbor" policy at the House of Morgan, 2729 Central Ave. Old friends and new drop in whenever they need to replenish their liquor supplies—for they know they are getting the finest whiskey, wine and beer that money can buy. Out selection is large and varied in a wide range of prices.

GUS GERDEMAN

Surinam born Mr. Gerdeman, since many years a resident of the USA and now engaged by the Netherlands Information Bureau at New York, was one of the speakers at the flag dedication of Netherlands patriots from Dutch Guina, who joined the Allied Military Forces. (Netherlands Guiana League, New York, May 9, 1943.)

EUGENE HENRY HUFFMAN GOES A-CALING IN SAN FRANCISCO

By EUGENE HENRY HUFFMAN

Dear Mrs. Bass:

It has been a long time since I took pen in hand to write Ye Olde California Eagle a few lines. Nevertheless, like the Lord, I have had my eyes on you. And have been happy to note that during the past year and a half you have progressed from a so-called "leader of our people" to a "champion of down-trodden humanity." Sail on, fair lady, sail on. Bravo! Bravo! May the blessings of heaven ever rest upon you.

Now the scripture says that we must watch as well as pray. But my aunt says that a lot of people, now-a-days, are doing an unusual amount of praying but are doing most of their watching in the wrong direction!

Well, lovely lady, it seems that I have done quite a bit of turning about myself. In spite of all the much publicized "shortage of manpower," up to now, I have been having rather an hectic year. For one reason or another no job I went on lasted more than two or three weeks. Thoroughly fed up, I finally found employment with one of our great railway systems and I am now galavanting up and down the road.

On my previous trip in I ran into a Mr. Leon Green, a former resident of Los Angeles who is now residing in San Francisco. Mr. Green said that he had received his induction papers for the army and had run down to Los Angeles to say goodbye to all of his old friends, and was taking the evening train back to San Francisco. He gave me his address and told me that should I chance eto run up to San Francisco shortly to be sure to look him up. I was glad to receive this invitation because I now have the opportunity of going to San Francisco quite frequently, and I have often wondered where do the better class of Negroes in San Francisco reside, if there were any. The vast majority of our people in San Froncisco, as you probably have heard, have the reputation of being of the "rough and ready" type having reached the cultural level of the "Gay Nineties." And the very next day I got a chance to run up to San Francisco.

Mr. Green's address was an apartment house on a street bearing the very pleasant name of Laguna. When a resident of Los Angeles the young man had always lived in our more "exclusive" apartment houses back in the days of the real exclusion. For a long time he had occupied an apartment with the "late" Dr. LeRoy S. Hart in the well-known Kellar Apartments on Adams Boulevard. So I was sure that his San Francisco address would prove to be quite the place. And so it did!

Our train arrived in San Francisco at 6:45 a. m., and we were able to have buf a five hour layover, so it was quite necessary for me to move swiftly.

Going out to look for Mr. Green's address I got off the street car much too early, which necessitated my walking up and down several of San Francisco's interesting hills. And to climb up and down San Francisco's hills early in the city's cool mornings has a sharp tendency to make on respond to nature. So after about the third hill Dame Nature zegan to knock violently upon my door, and there I was.

Finally, on the opposite side of the street, I saw a rather nice looking frame building (nice for San Francisco), and as I came directly in front of this building I discovered that it was an hotel. A well dressed colored gentleman stood in front of the door, so I crossed the street and asked if it were a colored hotel and he said it was. I told him that I was a stranger in the city and about the prank naughty Nature was trying to play upon me. I asked him if it would be possible for me to go in and have it out with her, and he bade me enter.

Following the gentleman's directions I passed through a small but surprisingly attractive lobby, and when I entered the little shrine to Nature I found it very neat and clean.

When I came out the same gentleman was still standing there. I asked him if he were the proprietor of the place and he said that he was. I offered to pay for the service he had rendered me but he would not accept. I happened to have several copies of a humorous pamphlet of mine which I usually take with me and sort of "bookleg" as I go along, so I gave him a copy. He seemed very agrecably surprised, because it seems that one Negro never expects another to amount to very much.

The cover of my book naturally introduced me, but the gentleman dod not bother to introduce himself. So I congratulated him on having such a nice place and inquired what his rooms rented for, but he would not say. He said that all of his rooms were taken so there was no need of him quoting prices. I told him that I planned to be in San Francisco and Oakland about eight weeks beginning in September on a lecture and book-selling tour, so I might contemplate stopping at his hotel. So he told me that he would be very glad to have me drop around and inquire but he doubted whether he would have a room because his hotel was filled with "permanents" and he had very few rooms for transients. So in the first week in May the hotel proprietor doubted whether he would have a vacancy by September! So I went on my way.

Just a little farther along I arrived at the address I was seeking. Number 1523, which must have been the exact year during which the ground was cleared for the erection of what must have proved to be the first apartment building ever erected in the city of San Francisco. But because of various disturbances and interruptions, both natural and human, the building probably was not actually erected until 1862. In all probability the building enjoyed its hey day throughout the "Gay Nineties" and the infamous Barbary Coast days. It miraculously escaped the earthquake and fire of 1906, after which it was pronounced a relic and was deserted by the prosperous class who quite evidently inhabited the place once upon a time.

Various succeeding poverty-stricken nationalities inhabited the place until finally, hopelessly trapped in the clutches of time, all and sundry of these nationalities abandoned it to Negroes. And now its dirty yellow facade frowned upon me. And when I say frowned upon me I mean frowned.

Four time-worn marble steps led up to the door. And these steps were sticky with a mysterious gooey grease. The sidewalk in front was tracked with the mess. A printed sign hanging in the door read: "No undesirable characters allowed in this building. Stay out." Well. Another sign hanging right under this one read: "No vacancies. Stay out.." My, how hospitable," I thought.

Now I did not know whether the first sign meant me or not. So I got tough and forced my way on in anyhow. My what antiquity in the matter of walls and floor-covering assaulted my ewes!

My friend's apartment was third floor up, so I marched to the foot of the ancient broad staircase, far down on the right. As I approached the stairway I was amazed to see an ancient e levator shaft in which rested what must have been one of the first automatic elevators ever invented and installed. But I thought it a mere relic of yesteryear that probably hadn't operated for the past forty years; so I sailed jauntily on up the stairs, thinking what a surprise I would give my friend.

When I arrived at what seemed to be the correct door a sign above it read: "For Apt. 34A, one ring. For Apt. 34B, two rings." Mr. Green hadn't mentioned this "A" and "B" business, so it created a dilemma. I took a chance and gave one ring. A handsome young man, apparently about twenty-four, answered. There was a deep scowl on his face. "Yes?" he growled.

"I came up this morning from Los Angeles," I said pleasantly, "and I am looking for a Mr. Leon Green, who gave this address."

"There ain't no Mr. Green livin' here."

"But perhaps in the adjoining apartment," I persisted.

"I don't know anything about who lives in that apartment," the young man said. And he rudely slammed the door.

I gave the two rings and the same young man busted out again, his scowl deeper than before.

"That was the two rings that time, sir,' I said, "for the OTHER apartment."

"Well there's no need of you ringing there. Because there is no Mr. Green living there. A fellow named Gooth lives there and he's gone to work." And he slammed the door again.

I went back downstairs and consulted the cards in the mailboxes. And sure enough I discovered the name, "Mr. Leon Green, Apt. 34." But it failed to state A or B.

At that moment a fat, light-complexioned lady attired in a blue slack suit entered, I asked her if she were the landlady and she said no. There was no landlady, but a landlord. She directed me to the landlord's apartment, but stated that she doubted whether he would respond at this early hour. It was five mniutes past nine.

The lady who had directed me stood some distance away, curiously waiting to see what would happen. I rang the bell and stood for a moment. The lady inquired, "Is he coming?"

"Yes," I said, "I hear some one."

"Well, its a wonder," she said.

A lock clacked, bolts and chains rattled, and then what must have been the building's only claim to "respectability" opened the door, an elderly, grumpy white man, who evidently had the most bitter hatred and the utmost contempt for the colored race.

"Sir, I am looking for a Mr. Leon Green who gave this address, and—"

"Don't know anything about 'im." SLAMM! !

The lady who stood waiting remarked, "I know HE wasn't going to tell you anything. But the man you're looking for must live here or his name wouldn't be on that card. Come on, I live up there, so I'll pass by there with you and see what we can find out."

But as I approached the stairs she said, "Come on, let's take the elevator. I can't walk up them steps. I started out the door last night, and somebody dropped a bottle of castor oil on the front steps and broke it and I stepped in it and fell down and hurt my hip and ruined my fur coat."

"Oh," I said, "is that what all of that greasy mess is." And she said yes.

And then I inquired, "Do you mean to tell me that this old elevator still runs?" And she said, "Oh, yes, it runs. I don't always stop to fool with it, though. But this morning, on account of my hip—"

She pressed a button, turned a switch, or did something to the old elevatod and it suddenly came to life and started a creepy ascent.

My mind went back to the castor oil all over the front entrance that had caused the lady's injury and spoiled her evening. I thought whoever had bought that much castor oil at one time must have been strangely addicted to the stuff and had bought a large enough supply to last them for the duration. Or maybe someone with a cynical sense of humor decided to give the old building a working out.

We arrived at the third floor without mishap. And in spite of its antiquity I had to admit that this old apartment building di, after all, have something on all colored apartment buildings in Los Angeles. Because as a matter of amazing fact there isn't a single apartment house inhabited by Negroes in our Angel City with a elevator going up and down in it, modern nor antique. So we Angelenos will certainly have to do something about that.

Arriving this time at apartment thirty-four my good lady rang the bell and then put on a disarming smile. The same handsome young inmate, now annoyed to the explosion point, snatched the door open and snarled, "Now what?" The lady said, "This man is looking for a Mr. Green. He must live in one of these apartments because we both just saw his name downstairs." The young man retorted, "I don't care whose name you saw down there, I told that guy twice that I never seen nor heard of any Green around here. And that the guy who lives in that apartment there is named Gootch." So I put in, "But does Mr. Gootch live in there alone? Isn't there another fellow in there with him?" He replied:

"I think there was another fellow in there. But I haven't seen him around lately. He must have checked out."

"Arnh-harnh," I said, "Now that you admit that there was another fellow in there, was he a rather handsome ,curly-haired young man who dressed conservatively jitterbug?"

"I don't know what he looked like," he said. "I never saw him. I merely heard 'em talking in there, and going in and out. And again he slammed the door.

My lady escort shrugged and said, "Well, I guess that's about all we can do."I agreed. But inwardly I reflected that San Francisco certainly never read the one about being aware as to how they receive strangers for fear that they might turn away an angel. Not that I want to pretent that I have already sprouted my wings, not by any means. But I do thing that I rate ordinary courtesy when I ring a person's doorbell.

As the lady and I returned to the stairs and the elevator I tactlessly remarked, "Isn't this an odd building?"

Because she lived there the lady resented this remark. She froze up like a clam, gave me an icy glance, turned and ascended toward the fourth floor without saying goodbye or waiting to be thanked for her interest.

I hurried down the stairs with the idea of getting out of this God-forsaken building as speedily as possible.

As I approached the front door, again my attention was drawn to the registration cards on the mail boxes. This time I read: Mr. Paul Gootch and Mr. Leon Green. And would you believe it? I turned around and went right back up those stairs and rang that bell again.

This time an attractive, rather stout mulatto young woman answered. The icy young man came and peered out behind her. "I am sorry to be so persistent, Ma'am," I said, "but I have just discovered that the card downstairs does read: "Mr. Paul Gootch and Mr. Leon Green. So I have a copy of a little humorous book of mine that I would like to leave for Mr. Green, so he will know that I have been here, if you will please be so kind." And I preesnted the book.

It was a pretty little red book with my picture inside. But the lady acted like she was afraid that it might bite. She wouldn't touch it. Instead, she closed her hands tightly and thrust them behind her.

"You may come in and shove it underneath their door yourself," she said. And she hurried back into her apartment and slammed the door.

I walked out into the street feeling that maybe I had better change my mind about going up to San Francisco in the fall, or at any other time. As I walked along I saw the hotel protrietor who would not quote his rente prices standing with the copy of my book I had presented him, reading and smiling. So I thought maybe I had made some little dent in the unyielding frotn that is San Francisco, after all. With this bit of satisfaction I returned to the railway station and caught the train.

ROBESON COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER AT MOREHOUSE

Atlanta, Georgia, May 15—Special—According to an announcement fro mthe office of President Benjamin E. Mays, Paul Robeson, internationally famous baritone and actor, will be the commencement speaker at Morehouse College at 10:30 a. m. on Tuesday, June 2, in Sale Hall Chapel. These exercises will bring to a close the four days of events which have been planned for the commencement season of '43. The announcement also stated that this year reunions will be held for the classes of 1903, 1913, 1923, and 1933.

The commencement speaker has achieved prominence in four realms of the entertainment world: the theatre, the motion picture, the concert stage, and radio. He has been a frequent visitor to college campuses, and he is known by thousands of college students all over the country. Educated at Rutgers College and Columbia University, Mr. Robeson has been honored with the L. H. D. degree by Hamilton College. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, he was a four-letter man at Rutgers, and in 1918 he was picked by Walter Camp as All-American end.

On the legitimate stage, Mr. Robeson first appeared in "Voodoo", and later he was starred in "Emperor Jones", "All God's Chillun", "Porgy", and "Black Boy". He gave his first concerts as basso interpretor of Negro spirituals in New York City in 1925. On four different occasions, Mr. Robeson has made concert tours of Europe. On other occasions, he has toured Russia and America.

In London, Mr. Robeson played in the title roles of "Othello", "The Hairy Ape", and "Stevedore". In motion pictures, he has had important parts in "Emperor Jones", "Showboat", "Saunders of the River", "King Solomon's Mines", "Jericho", and "Tales of Manhattan".

The first of the commencement events at Morehouse will be the Presidents' Reception to the graduating classes on Saturday, May 29, from eight until ten p. m. at Morgan Hall, Spelman College. On Sunday, May 30, at three p. m., Dr. Channing H. Tobias, Senior Secretary, Colored Work Department of the Y. M. C. A., will preach the baccalaureate sermon in Sisters Chapel; and from five until seven p. m. President and Mrs. Mays will be at home to the seniors, the faculty, alumni, and friends. Monday morning, June 1, at eight o'clock, the senior breakfast will be held in the University Dining Hall; and at three p. m. class day exercises will be held in Sale Hall Chapel. Climaxing the events of the day will be the annual alumni and senior meeting and reception at 8:00 p. m. in the Robert Hall Lounge.

"BLIND SPOTS"

Motorists are advised by the Automobile Club of Southern California to bear in mind the "blind spots" of their vehicles. Under certain circumstances, the two rear corners of the car may prevent vision of approaching cars in the rear view mirror.

SHOCKPROOF CAR

A novel "bumper" that might be used on the much-discussed plastic "car of the future" is a shock-absorbing guard rail that runs clear around the vehicle, the Automobile Club of Southern California was informed this week. The bumper is designed to protect against side-swipes as well as head-on collisions.

FORECASTS CUT IN COUNTY TAX RATE

A 10-cent cut in the annual county tax rate to make it the lowest since 1935 was forecast today by Chairman Gordon L. McDonough of the Board of Supervisors.

He expressed belief that the rate would drop to $1.24 per $100 assessed valuation as compared to the present rate of $1.3489. In 1935 the county rate was $1.19 reached an all-time high in 1938 of $1.51 an dthen began to decrease

McDonough said he based his claim of a 10-cent cut in the rate on budget comparison.

"The request budget of county departments last year was $83,311,000," he said, "as compared to the request budget this year of $75,534,199. Furthermore the final budget adopted last year by the Board which set the rate at $1.3489 was $77,819,308; whereas this year's request or preliminary budget without any anticipated cuts which the Board will make is already $2,285,109 less than the final budget of last year."

The Supervisor explained that curtailment of some activities, such as, purchasing because of war restrictions, lower relief load because of working conditions, and others has helped to bring in a lower request budget. He pointed out that some problems are greater, including juvenile problems, which will require higher budget appropriations.

McDonough expressed personal satisfaction for the splendid cooperation of county employees to provide essential services despite shortage of manpower. He also stated that the new budget would carry forward the work of planning postwar projects.

PLANS FOR FINANCING L. A. STREET MAINTENANCE OK'ED

Plans for financing the $232,000 street maintenance deficit confronting Los Angeles city worked out last week at a conference of city and county officials, were submitted and approved this week by the Board of Supervisors according to Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough, chairman.

Under the arrangement agreed upon $368,000 of anticipated gasoline tax revenue will be added to the $1,019,315 for aid to county cities scheduled in the preliminary county budget.

"The additional anticipated funds are well within the range of conservative estimate and takes no cognizance of a probable $300,000 increase in motor vehicle revenue," Gordon L. McDonough chairman of the county board of supervisors said.

"This sum will not only care for the needs of Los Angeles but will provide $136,000 additional to be proportionately allocated to county cities for street maintenance purposes."

Other funds including $460,000 that becomes available to Los Angeles County upon the signing of Senate Bill 1083, by Governor Warren could not be used for street maintenance work. The bill ear-marked these funds for planning and specifications only, it was explained.

Attending the conference were: Lew Arnold chief deputy city engineer; Walter Thiel, ass't, director Budget and Efficiency, representing Los Angeles City and from the County, Kenneth Sampson, and H. J. Ostley, administrative officers: O. F. Cooley, County Road Commissioner, Chairman McDonough of the supervisors and deputy county counsel, Claude McFadden.

"FOOD BUY OF THE WEEK"

A Suggestion by the Los Angeles City and County Nutrition Committee

Lamb and mutton and cottage cheese will be the most convenient sources to provide civilians with their supply of animal proteins during the current week in the Los Angeles area.

Not every person who asks for lamb or mutton at the meat store will be able to get it, but supply is greater than either beef or pork. There has been a fairly good lamb crop in California and, because green feed in the Valleys is drying out, lambs have been coming steadily into the local market.

Cottage cheese provides a dividend od calcium along with its proteins. Points are not required for purchase of cottage cheese. Supply of cottage cheese is based on conditions partly separate from the hard cheese market, where Army, Navy, and Lend Lease are taking most of the present output. The civilian population probably can expect that reasonable abundance of cottage cheese will continue.

Scientists completing study of the human limitations of operators of motor vehicles have issued warnings to motorists not to demand too much from the eyes, particularly in wartime driving, reports the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Eye muscles strained by hours of exacting production work may not respond to the extra task of driving safely, particularly Through dimmed-out zones, the scientists maintain.

ESCAPE . . .

Living in this present war machine-age of ours has a tendency to put us in a groove, and, to suppress our creative potentialities no end. The resulting monotony and boredom derived thereof, go to encourage mischievous personalities and unhealthy minds.

Variety being the spice of life, escape may be found in joining the neighborhood art and dramatic groups, or becoming a member of a social, dancing or musical organization. Red Cross and Civilian Defense activities are very beneficial likewise. Romance frequently offers one an escape from the monotonous routine of every day life. Love-life has an intrinsic value of its own, which is an excellent avenue of escape.

Such activities enrich our very existence with warmth, color and harmony. Variety is necessary for our well-being, and, will help us to enjoy new experiences of a pleasant and profitable nature.

S. F. Dear Sir: Upon receiving your letter I followed your instructions carefully and to my surprise, got the job at once. I don't know how you manage to know these things and help people, but speaking for myself, you certainly helped me!

Mrs. L.D.R. What does he think of me?

Ans. A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that this soldier is very fond of you. If you were free to marry him, he would ask you to be his wife.

E.M.C. What happened to the money? Will I marry again? Is my future husband living in New York?

Ans. Only one question is answered in the column due to the limited amount of space. I shall be glad to advise you if you will write in for a private reply.

C.S. Why has my friend stopped writing?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that your friend has been so occupied that he hasn't had time. Remember that his time is not his own now. Be patient, I vision your hearing from him soon.

L.T.W. Which one will I marry?

Ans. Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate marriage but not to either of these men you have in mind. True love does not exist between you and either of these men, you just admire them. Within the next few weeks you will meet someone that will impress you, an dthat friendship will grow in such a manner that you will know he is the man for you.

H.L.B. Should I do it against my parents will?

Ans. After giving your question careful thought I find that you should not marry against your parents will for several reasons. You are quite young and should wait at least until you are 21 before entering into marriage. And your parents objections are based upon sound reasoning and should be given serious consideration. By all means give the matter a lot more thought before making any decisions.

A.F.A. Will he get out of trouble?

Ans. Concentrating upon your question I find that your friend may get a release since he has good evidence and a good record. If he is successful it is his intention to marry you and move to another location for a fresh start.

L.L. Have once sold this paper and always found your column very interesting and helpful. I am now coming to you for help and advice. Should I remarry my wife?

Ans. My Psycho-Mentlaist Crystal reveals the fact that you still love your wife but are also fond of two other women. The love you have for your wife is deeper and based on a firmer foundation and I suggest that you remarry her. The mistakes you both made in the past should help you now to get along much better.

GREAT CAMPAIGN AT AZUSA TEMPLE

A great campaign is conducted by the twin-sister evangelist Retha Herndon of Chicago, at the Azusa Temple, 27th and Paloma St., every night except Saturday and Monday. The evangelist speaks every Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service. Sunday night our pianist Mr. Banks will conduct the music. All are welcome. Mother Cotton.

U. S. O. News

28th Street U. S. O.

Very successful was the picturesque Annual Spring Formal of the U. S. O. on May 7. The 28th Street Y. M. C. A. was cleverly bedecked with patriotic red, white, and blue decorations giving the "Y" gymnasium a very colorful atmosphere. These unique decorations were the results of the efforts of Mr. Lloyd Thomas, assistant director of the U. S. O., and his assistants. The beautiful dresses of the hostesses were accentuated by changing spotlights of red, white, and blue bringing out the theme of the dance. Mr. James Brown is the helpful person responsible for the lights and Mr. Alfred Rhetts operated the public address system. The music that was "Only Fine" was rendered by Corp. "Fess Jones and his band" from March Field. Miss Inyta Creekmore arranged a very delightful floor show that was thoroughly enjoyed by all. At intervals during the dance, service men would give itno their emotions and perform individually for the benefit of others present. Miss Mary Stamps, chairman of the Junior hostesses, wore a stunning ice blue evening dress. She was responsible for securing over 250 lovely girls for this affair. Picturesque and tasteful refreshments also were available. Especially beautifully designed aderves were made by Mrs. Mar Silvers and Mrs. Ruch Kimbrough. Homemade sookies and (Frappe) punch weer secured by the courtesy of Mrs. Josephine Brown of Mrs. Frances Mayo and Mrs. Rush Castleberry. Others who so willingly donated their things, time, and services in other capacities are Mrs. Bessie Show, Mrs. Mae Oliver, Mrs. Selina Faulkner, Mrs. Ethel Atkin, Miss Geraldine Sorrell, Miss Clara McLemore, Mrs. Flors Grant, Miss Sadie Fauslow, Edna Dillsworth, Dr. and Mrs. Hutchinson, Miss Bellamy, Mae Eloise Stansell, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, and the Excelsior Club.

Aside from the party, other important things have happened this week. The Junior hostesses received their I. D. cards by going through the procedure of meeting certain requirements and having their fingerprints taken.

Twenty-five girls from the U. S. O. went to Thermal last week for an overnight trip where they had a very nice enjoyable trip. Swimming and dancing were the highlights of the pleasant trip. One night last week a quartet of service men from the U. S. O. were invited to Ward's Chapel. Special recognition of the splendid job that the senior hostesses for the week are diong—they are Gertrude Christman, Mrs. Berta Thomas, Mrs. J. Roberts, Miss Helen Hudson, Mrs. Hazel Gray, Mrs. Nellie Smallwood, Mrs. Carol Moor, Miss Dorothy C. Quinn, Mrs. Carmelita White and Mrs. Marnestine Davidson, chairman of the Senior Hostesses.

There is one group that we are always greatly indebted to—they are the Canteen women. The Canteen is the main interest of many service men when they come to town and it is through the efforts of these women that the USO is able to help satisfy their desires in that line. These efficient women that helped in the Canteen for the week are Edna Dilsworth, Mabel Stark, Ruth Gittens, Erma Burt, Katie Thomas, Irene Bieze, Marie Garret and Cornella Robertson, the able chairman.

There is now an urgent call for all patriotic families that may have room in their house to accommodate service men's wives, according to Miss Violet Aldridge, the competent USO director. Share your hospitality and if you know someone that would like to help us out, please get in touch with the 28th Street USO office as soon as possible.

Archbishop Rummel Commencement Speaker at Southern

SCOTLANDVILLE, La. — The Right Reverend Archbishop Francis Rummel of New Orleans will deliver the annual commencement address at the graduation exercises of Southern University to be held Wednesday, May 26, at 3 p. m., in the auditorium-gymnasium, it was announced this week by President F. G. Clark. The address by the distinguished Catholic prelate will climax a series of activities in observance of the 29th annual commencement week, May 22 to May 26.

Another highlight of the various programs planned during the week is the baccalaureate sermon to be delivered by Dr. Benjamin Mays, president of Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga., during a program to be held in the university auditorium Sunday, May 23, at 4 p. m.

It is expected that one-hundred twenty-five persons will receive bachelor of science or bachelor of arts degrees from the various divisions of the institution at this year's exercises. In the group are some young men, members of the army's enlisted reserve corps, who were called to active duty last week, and whose degrees will have to be awarded in absentia.

REV. CHARLES M. TONEY

Rev. Chas. M. Toney, field secretary of the Los Angeles District Association of the Western Baptist Convention, delivered the 21st anniversary sermon at the Metropolitan Baptist Church, E. 42nd and Hooper avenue, now pastored by Rev. J. E. Pius. Subject: "The Establisher and Purpose of the New Testament Church," St. Matt. 15-17. The spirit was high. This church was organized June, 1922, by Rev. M. C. Carter (deceased) of E. 40th and Paloma streets, Los Angeles. Members: Pastor and wife; Deacon and Mrs. Charles M. Toney; Madame M. T. Outley and daughter; Sister Emanda Drayton (deceased); Deacon Ed Young and family; Deacon A. M. Davis (deceased); Brother Ira Bell and wife, Lucille Bell; Brother Lucious Toney and others. This was the first colored Baptist church in this part of the city.

Landon Church

Rev. C. R. Douglas delivered the baptismal sermon Sunday morning. His subject: "He that believeth and is Baptised shall be saved," which was quite inspirational. The service was spiritually high, and well attended. Rev. A. W. Hector, and Mr. Allen and family of Santa Monica, worshipped with us.

Rev. Bently, pastor. Estella Powell, reporter.

"When we get home to the mansions above,
With the loved ones gone over before,
Who can tell what a joy that will be
There to live and rejoice evermore;
Angels will praise, the Redeemer will smile,
And loved ones we'll clasp by the hand;
Free from all pain, far beyond earthly stain,
We shall dwell in that beautiful land."

WAR ON NEGRO

TRUTH: For 323 years a war of prejudice, discrimination, lynching and abuses has been waged against us. I began to fight this battle when I discovered that I was a 'made fool.' Mark you, not a fool but a 'made one', like many intellectuls.

Thinking people are asking: What are we—Negroes, colored People or what? What is a NEGRO? No educator has ever given a satisfactory answer. They haven't the courage. The truth has never been told. Why is NEGRO the most disputed name? Because the truth is not known. Truth is The Basis of Education. I went to a university: spent 5 years in law school in Boston, became counsellor in public schools. Worked in educational sociology at New York University.

After 15 years' investigation, study and research, I found the facts, the history, the truth about the race.

With my discovery, I made money, and gained world respect.

It can do the same for you. I have compiled it in the great book: "HUMAN SIDE OF PEOPLE." 320 pages, 84 pictures by myself. Raphael P. Powell. The demand for this book by thousands proves that it shows the way to success and is helping to win the war against race prejudice. Price $3. Send orders to: PHILEMON CO., 224 West 135th St., New York City. GUARANTEED: The only book which gives the TRUTH about our race.

LENZA SMITH

POLICE SLAYING INCITES NEAR RIOT ON EAST 52 PL.

HERE IS THE CROWD . . . which police charge approached riot stage after the shooting of Negro defense worker Lenzo Smith Sunday afternoon by officer Paul Van De Bogart in a house at 852 East 52nd place. Although condemnation of the shooting, since Smith was unarmed and had committed no crime, was rife, scenes above show no riot in progress.

Mass Meet Sunday Will Jolt Police Brutality

Shouting defiance at the effort to split national unity behind the war effort through police brutality, thousands of Negro and white citizens will gather Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. in an emergency mass meeting at People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma streets, called by the Negro Victory Committee, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the CIO Anti-Discrimination Committee.

Shocked at the shooting of a Negro defense worker by police officer Paul Van de Bogart Sunday afternoon and the subsequent Newton Street police station beating of a Negro deacon and world war veteran, all sections of Los Angeles have voiced a sharp denunciation of "storm-trooper" tactics of the Eastside police cops.

Led by Attorney Thomas L. Griffith, NAACP prexy, and Rev. Clayton D. Russell, chairman of the Negro Victory Committee, a group of Negro citizens are appearing this morning before a county grand jury investigator to present conclusive evidence of Eastside police brutality.

At a special meeting of the NAACP Monday night, attended by virtually the entire roster of community leadership, vigorous action was promised to halt dis-

Near-Riot As Cop Shoots Eastside Man

In four staceato blasts, death came sizzling from the police revolver of Officer Paul Van de Bogart as a street "incident" on East 52nd place nearly precipitated mass disturbance of irate Negro citizens late Sunday afternoon.

Dead was a 36-year old defense worker, Lenza Smith, of 947 East 49th street. Shot four times by the policeman, Smith died Monday at noon in Georgia street receiving hospital. Inquest into his death will be held Friday morning at the coroner's office.

With Los Angeles' Negro community a tinder-box smarting under refusal of the Los Angeles Railway to employ Negro conductors, refusal of aircraft plants to upgrade qualified colored workers and the increasing congestion forced upon the ghetto Central avenue district by housing restrictions, Sunday's glaring evidence of police brutality set-off sparks which might have ignited a real conflagration.

WHAT HAPPENED:

Sunday afternoon at about 2:30 p.m. a police car parked in front of 852 East 52nd place was struck by a vehicle driven by Lenza Smith. No damage was done.

Challenged by white officer Van de Bogart, Smith stated, "I am going in there (indicating house number 852) to kill the man who stole my $20," according to a police version.

A witness, Chauncey Watson, 859 East 52nd place, later ar-

Urge Douglas To Vote CIO

UAW-CIO Struggles For Full Negro Rights

With Douglas workers in the El Segundo and Vernon plants making final preparations for a National Labor Relations Board election to be held June 8, the United Auto and Aircraft Union (UAW-CIO) moved on three fronts last week to advance the fight for race equality.

1. More than a score of members of the North American UAW-CIO local participated in a demonstration against race discrimination in baseball at the Wrigley field last Sunday. The action came after the local union unanimously voted for a resolution condmening the practice and urging participation in the demonstration.

2. As a result of strong UAW-CIO pressure on the Douglas corporation, the UAW-CIO Santa Monica local won reinstatement for Mrs. Myrtle Marie Dunham, Negro woman worker who was discharged in what the union charged was a race discrimination case. The union sought and won support from the minority groups division of the WPB here.

3. A drive for equality in job upgrading at the North American plant was launched by the local union there after a series of meetings at which Negro workers outlined their problems to local union officials.

Equality for workers of all races is provided for in the constitution of the UAW-CIO and the union is known throughout the country as a leader in the fight for the rights of all races.

The union does not permit segregation of workers either in the plants or in union activities and many Negro workers hold high offices in the UAW-CIO.

The election at the Douglas plants is considered of special importance to Negro workers since it will determine the political nature of the union to be chosen in the biggest industrial plant in this area and will have a definite bearing on the future opportunity of employment for all minority races.

Leading figures in the Negro community, including Paul Robeson, have urged all workers to join and vote for the UAW-CIO.

HOUSE BANGS DIES, RANKIN— PASS POLL-TAX BILL 265-110

BILL MUST NOW GO TO HOSTILE SENATE

WASHINGTON.—The poll-taxers got banged silly as the Marcantonio anti-poll tax bill trampled all opposition in the House of Representatives Monday, chalking up 265 Congressional "ayes" to the Dixie die-hards' 110!

The Marcantonio legislation prohibits imposition of poll taxes, which disenfranchise 10,000,000 Southern voters, as a prerequisit to voting in primary or general elections for national officers. Seven southern states levy poll taxes.

Victory for anti-poll tax legislation was the first signal triumph of progressive forces in the House during this session of Congress. Only the terrific campaign launched by organized labor and Negro organizations brought the bill to speedy passage.

Unity behind the measure hurdled all party lines. A coalition committee of Republicans and Democrats supervised the bill in the House. Rep. Dawson of Chicago, only Negro in Congress, was a prominent member of this group.

The bill must now go before the Senate, where it was killed in a ten-day fillibuster last year.

Rep. Marcantonio's office pointed out today, however, that last year the Dixie gang had less than a month in

The teacher at the 33rd and Main Street School, who paraded the "Ten Little Nigger Boys" story before her class of very young white and Negro students, has not been removed as per request by the parents of the children and the people of the community.

Friday evening, the parents of children attending the school will hold a meeting at which a committee will be selected to wait upon the Board of Education and formally, but emphatically, demand the removal of this teacher.

Confident as to her security, the instructor, a few days ago, accosted the little girl who reported the book episode to her mother and addressed her in these words—"you and your mother are awful liars."

A teacher, especially one in a community largely populated by minority groups, should realize that very nearly a hundred years ago we finished fighting the Civil War. That these young Americans she would insult and humiliate are products of the great American melting pot is a thought probably strange to her. They have been processed in the schools of segregation and racial proscription, and are put[illegible] on the finishing touches in present struggle at home [illegible] abroad to establish world-wide democracy.

We cannot and will not close our eyes to the spread of fascist propaganda in our educational system. We realize that it is just as important to rid our

His face swollen after a night of beating at Newton Street police station, William E. Harrison, 1832 East 115th street, city employe and world war veteran, was arraigned with two other Negroes Monday before Judge Edwin Jefferson on a charge of "inciting a riot."

Harrison is accused of participating in a disturbance which occurred Sunday afternoon after police officer Paul Van de Bogart shot and killed Negro defense worker Lenza Smith in a house at 852 East 52nd place.

Lenza had committed no crime and carried no weapon. Police assert he was "on his way"

How Negro Community Stands

AGAINST JIM-CROW!

A reminder to stooge Negroes attempting the setup of a Jim-Crow auxiliary of the Boilermakers' International Union in Los Angeles for Negro workers at Calship, Consolidated, and Western Pipe and Steel plants are the following flat-footed statements of community spokesmen representing ALL fields and shades of opinion.

We'll have no special privilege Uncle Toms disrupting the growing unity between Negro and white workers in the shipyards,—the unity which can,—and will,—break up the Boilermakers' whole appeaser policy against equal Negro participation.

"Now is the time for Negroes in the American Federation of Labor to stand up and fight! The Dining Car Cooks and Waiters of the West Coast denounce Jim-Crow unionism and point with pride to the anti-segregation stand of the State Federation of Labor. The Boilermakers must get in step—and fast!"—John E. Hargroves, Dining Car Cooks and Waiters, AFL.

"I believe that the present policy of segregation practiced by the Boilermakers is detrimental to the growth of the AFL and also denies to Negro membership the right to participate fully in the activities of the organization. There is a growing number of leaders in the AFL who recognize the serious threat that this kind of policy is to the American labor movement and the nation's victory. The present struggle in which this country is engaged demands the full utilization of all forces in our democracy."—James Anderson, State Federation of Labor.

"The ships that America needs desperately for its victory over our fascist enemies must be built as efficiently as possible. Jim-Crow union regulations, smashing huge gaps into the nation's ship production, is not only a perversion of the spirit of democracy but sabotage against the armaments necessary to protect that democracy."—Thomas L. Griffith, jr., president, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"The fight against Jim-Crow is part and parcel of the fight for victory in this people's war. Jim-Crow is a boulder in the path of full production. America can't afford it. Negro citizens won't stand

Man Must Answer For Murder

"From all the evidence thus presented, it appears that Jack Goree was killed as the result of a cold blooded murder." This was the statement of Municipal Judge Joseph Chambers as he ruled against the setting of bail for A. Anderson, accused of murdering Jack Goree on Mother's Day in a drive-inn, at 42nd and Central avenue in a sensational daylight shooting witnessed by scores of persons. Anderson was ordered bound over for trial in Superior Court on homicide charges.

Several witnesses appeared to testify, but only one gave corroboration to the defendant's claims that the deceased attacked him with a tire tool. Other witnesses testified that there was no tool or weapon of any kind in the vicinity of Goree's body.

Odessa Goree, estranged wife of the murdered man, has en-

Boilermakers Get Negro Stooge Help

Appeasers and Negro-baiters in the officialdom of the Boilermakers' International, Jim-Crow union outfit holding contracts at Calship, Consolidated and Western Pipe and Steel plants, chalked up a fresh convert recently when Garner V. Grayson explained he consider-

Chicago Fites Cop Slaying Of Youngster

CHICAGO.—Protesting the unjustified slaying of 16-year-old Elmo Vassar, Jr., 600 Chicagoans demanded the removal of James Kerr, Police Captain of Morgan Park, at a mass meeting here last week, and asked that a fund of $1,500 be raised for the prosecution of officers responsible for the brutal shooting.

Patrick Rynne, policeman, and possibly Charles Schwartfeger, his companion, deliberately shot and killed the youth in the street, asserting that young Vassar threw stones at them when they attempted to stop him for questioning. Both men have been suspended on orders of Mayor Kelly.

Indignation of Negro citizens reached its climax in the mass meeting, sponsored by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, held at Arnett African Methodist Episcopal church.

A commitee of 20, which Hosea Rogers has been selected to lead, is determined that prosecution of the accused shall not be delayed.

The Chicagoans are demonstrating their urgent demand for justice, for on May 25, the date set for the inquest into Vassar's death, another meeting will be held at the Arnett church.

ROPOSE H. WILSON BANQUET

A scurrilous attack against v. J. H. Wilson, editor of the estern Christian Recorder and and Old Man of the African ethodist Episcopal Church, inted in an Eastern religious urnal, must call for the sharp- denunciation of all citizens the community," said Mrs. arlotta Bass, EAGLE editor, to- y.

Contributions of Reverend ilson in building his denomi- ation and in constructing a gher cultural life for this en- re area should call forth today o pen pushers slurs, but sincere nd heartfelt gratitude of those hom he has served," she con- nued.

d organization of the Jim-Crow nion the best way to fight Jim- Crow unions.

Shipyard workers quickly denounced Garner's action, elected a new president and pushed forward a vigorous campaign of rank-and-file, Negro-white unity against the small cliche of bigshot union bosses who are attempting to bolster the tottering structure of labor Jim-Crow.

NAVY GIVES SUPPORT

Blasting every splinter of support from the Jim-Crow proponents was a statement by the naval inspectors at the shipyards revealed this week. "Exclusion of Negro workers from equal participation in the union definitely disrupts unity in the yards and wounds production," was the broadside comment of Navy Lieutenants dispatched to Los Angeles shipyards by the government.

Wild haste in buying up available fronts for Jim-Crow organization by E. V. Blackwell, international representative of the Boilermakers in Los Angeles, was attributed directly to the growing support being given the plea for equal participation of Negro workers by white rank-and-filers throughout the shipyards.

COMMITTEE STATEMENT

A statement issued yesterday by the Shipyard Workers Committee for Equal Participation, representing hundreds of men in the yards, black and white, contended, "All fair-minded Americans, Negro and white and those of other national origin who are employed in the Los Angeles Bay area shipyards, consider the present Jim-Crow policy of the Boilermakers Local No. 9 a promoter of racial oppression and division of the workers. It is injurious to the morale of American defense workers, a stumbling block to production and a definite generator of disunity.

Nazi Prisons Can't Break Senegalese, Brave Poles

By YVONNE SHEPHERD

NEW YORK—Pride, vivid as the glow of hot iron, mirrored itself in the eyes of the escaped French prisoner, now a sailor in the Free French Fleet, as he told me of the gallant resistance of Senegalese (Negro troops) and Poles against enforced military training at a Nazi prison camp in Prussia.

The simplicity and directness of the sailor was striking and appealing. It contrasted oddly to the gay little pom pom (a tousel) bright red, on top of his white cap, light blue collar with white stripes, white front vest and navy blue suit of the Free French Fleet. To me, he will always personify the brave, courageous, gallant men of Free France.

There was sadness in his voice and eyes for a few seconds. His body became limp and slumped. Then, as he triumphantly spoke of the defiance of courageous Senegalese and Poles, there was an amazing transformation. His body became erect, and he stood, firm, brave and proud, all unconsciously, even as a pillar of steel, and this is what he told me.

"Prisoners of war, Poles, English, Senegalese, French, Norwegians, Liths, Belgians, Dutch, Czechs, Yugoslavs, Greeks, at Nazi camps are undergoing enforced military training. Upon completion of this training, they are to be used as a force to hurl against our gallant ally, the Soviet Union."

My heart swelled, as I heard of the inability of the Nazi to force their tyranny upon the Senegalese and Poles, even when others cracked under the prison terror. Another triumph against Hitler! Here, the very ones whom Herr Hitler considered the least important and most insignificant of peoples to be dealt with, proclaim the "Master" and his "supermen" to be wrong—again!

Punishment? Yes, the Nazis used punishment! Still, they could not break the spirit of these men, who refused to wear the yoke of tyranny.

Death? Yes! Examples were made of the rebels of Nazi oppression, but yet, that failed. Senegalese and Poles—black and white—died side by side, unbroken, taunting the fascists.

Finally, new tactics were adopted. Anxious, deeply sympathetic, and concerned over the health of the Senegalese and Poles, who suddenly were "unsuited to the climate in Prussia," the Nazi prison masters transferred them to the South of France.

My eyes teared with joy!

Freedom Lives

Freedom will not die! If ever I doubted it, if ever for a faltering moment I questioned, now, once and forever, I know it cannot perish.

Freedom stood before me! The escaped French sailor, whose identity it is impossible to disclose, became a living symbol. The story he told was and is proof of its everlasting existence.

This we knew, both the sailor and I! Neither coercion nor punishment can terrify the minds nor hearts of some men.

Death—and death alone will kill determined struggle against tyranny. But even death is a temporary halt in the people's eternal struggle. With the death of some, others are inspired. Inspired, because they know that freedom holds so important a part in the life of man, that some will die, to justify their belief.

Side by side in a Prussian prison camp, Senegalese and Poles—black and white—fought rebelliously — some died—to proclaim that freedom shall always live.

Freedom, flaming in the minds of black and white soldiers, who fought shoulder to shoulder across the sands of North Africa, victoriously.

Freedom! A cry that straddles the earth and springs from the mouths and hearts of common men in every land.

Freedom! The message shining through a story which just reached the city desk of this newspaper from an army camp town in the deep South.

"Negro and white soldiers joined here yesterday in overturning a bus whose conductor insisted upon enforcing Jim Crow regulations."

Elks Hold Oratorical Contest

The annual Oratorical Contest of I.B.P.O.E.W., held here last Sunday afternoon at Avalon Christian Church, ended victoriously for Virginia George, of Polytechnic High School, whose talk on "Abe Lincoln and Constitution," won her the coveted trip to the regional oratorical contest.

The winner of this contest, which is held each year during the convening of Pacific States Association Board, has a chance to compete for the national scholarship of $1000.

Mrs. Ella S. White served as mistress of ceremonies and James M. Stewart, National Chairman of Education, as director. A short musical program was rendered.

Participants in the contest were Jane Harrison of Berkeley, California, who spoke on "Frederick Douglas and Constitution"; David Washington, Jordan High, L. A., "The New Deal and Constitution"; Anna Mae Moody, Jefferson High, L. A., "Abe Lincoln and Constitution"; David Carlyle, Polytechnic High, L. A., "Negro and Constitution"; Elizabeth Richardson of Berkeley, California, "Negro and Constitution," and winner, Virginia George, Polytechnic High, L. A., "Abe Lincoln and Constitution."

Washington," and "George W. Carver," respectively, with Rev. Clayton D. Russell acting as Commander-in-chief of the entire fleet. Clarence Muse and William E. Pollard have been designated as Rear Admirals, with C. O. English and James Anderson acting as assistant rear admirals; while Thomas Duckett and Clarence Smith have been named vice admirals.

The drive, which will be in full force for a period of 30 days, has set the goal as 6000 new members for the association, and every interested individual is invited, as a committee of one, to become a working member of the crew, with the choice of sailing under the flag of either ship he desires. The main objective is that each ship must reach its prescribed destination—and on time.

Now, more than ever before, the National Association is needed to fight the battle for economic emancipation of the Negro, as it has in the past; to demand justice and fair treatment for Negroes who would be denied that right, despite the guarantees under the Constitution, and to continue to bring pressure to bear upon those who represent us in government to seek for the passage of measures, such as the anti-Poll Tax Bill, the anti-Lynch Bill, and any other measures which have been or may, in the future, be advanced for the benefit of the Negro race.

The NAACP has done a commendable job. It has not failed the people. The people must not fail it. All freedom-loving peoples, regardless of race, color or creed, have an obligation to support an organization such as this, because in lifting the standards of an oppressed race within the nation, it also and at the same time, cannot help but raise the standards of the nation at large.

The convoys "Booker T. Washington" and "George W. Carver" are ready to sail—the captains and crews are in order—you may book your passage NOW. Don't miss the opportunity to take this voyage—the cost is low and the great pleasure and benefit you will derive from it will be well worth any amount you may spend. REMEMBER! The outcome of this voyage may spell success or failure for the Negro people in many vital matters, and every Negro-American, who wants democracy enough to fight for it, can make no better start than becoming a member of the N.A.A.C.P.

Poll Tax

which to filibuster and could easily threaten to hold up Congress on this question for the duration of the last session.

"Today," said Marcantonio, "those uys have a year-and-half to filibuster,—too long "even for their wind."

WHAT CAN BE DONE

Increased vigor of the anti-poll tax movement was reflected in the fact that it required only 32 legislative days to drive the bill out of the House judiciary committee, whose poll-taxer chairman, Rep. Hatton Summers, Tex., D., had stated the bill would stay pigeon-holed "till Hell freezes over." It took more than a year-and-a-half to secure the 218 Congressional signatures demanded on a committee discharge petition during Congress' last session.

MUST ROUT DEFEATISM

All concern sources in Washington,—barring the poll-taxers themselves,—feel certain that anti-poll tax legislation can be driven through the Senate during this session. Sad stories of how the previous bill came to grief in the upper chamber only fortify the poll-taxers.

"It is our job," said a statement from the National Committee to Abolish the Poll Tax this week, "to see that there is no successful filibuster in this session. Our letters, reolutions, telegrams, delegations and demands are the stepping-stones to victory in this struggle against appeasement and reaction on the home front.

"Unless we attack and rout the defeatist, poll-taxer section of Congress, not only our war effort is struck a treacherous blow but the prospect of a people's peace is dark, indeed. This is the moment! Let us dig into the Martin Dieses, John Rankins, Bilbos and Ellenders,—NOW. Write your Senator TODAY asking his "aye" vote on anti-poll tax legislation.

Rev. Clayton Russel, pastor of Independent Church of Christ, Charles Pfiffer, National Maritime Union, CIO, two Negro workers from Los Angeles defense plants and Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor of the California Eagle, will broadcast over radio station KRAS, 7:15-7:30 Friday night, discussing "It Pays to Organize."

Organization against disruptive anti-labor, anti-Negro elements is so important in defeating fascism that all people sincerely working for victory of the Allied Nations are fighting gallantly to bring about complete unity and solidarity of American workers.

to commit a murder in the East 52nd place home, an alleged gambling center.

Scores of irate Negro citizens gathered around the scene of the slaying.

Three were arrested. Besides Harrison, there was Chauncey Watson, 26, 1859 East 52nd place, and Denard Earl Johnson, 469½ East 41st place.

HARRISON BEATEN, CURSED

An unnamed police officer at Newton Street station Sunday night walloped Harrison across the face, which is now swollen on one side into a huge brown knot. Harrison had made no disturbance there.

The Negro, a deacon at Calvary Baptist Church, employed for 19 years by the city garbage disposal department and himself an official auxiliary policeman, was cursed vilely. The officer told him:

"You are one of those smart Eastern n———s. You and the n———s down on Central avenue are listening to a bunch of Russian Communists who are trying to convince you that the American white people aren't treating you all right.

"The white man," continued the storm trooper cop, "would be treating the Negro right if he would kill all you smart n———s."

Pulling out a wallet in which there was a picture of his son, the police officer showed it to Harrison.

"Do you think," he asked, "that we are going to let you n———s walk over kids like that?"

It was then that the cop yanked Harrison to him, smashing his right fist against the man's jaw.

Another policeman attempted to mollify the attacker. "You'll get into plenty of trouble for hitting that fellow," he was told.

At that the storm trooper proclaimed, "Well, I defy any police officer to deny that I struck him!"

CORROBORATED

Attorney Crispus Wright, who represents the three Negroes charged with inciting a riot, told The Eagle yesterday, "What makes Harrison's story so impressive is that an independent questioning of Charles Watson, another accused man who was in Newton Street station at the same time, corroborates it in every detail."

Harrison, Watson and Johnson will be tried June 23.

Appearing before the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Monday night, Harrison told his story. President Thomas L. Griffith promised a vigorous demand for sweeping grand jury investigation of Eastside police brutality, especially Sunday's shooting and beating.

Scheduled to present a solid front of white and Negro unity against the disruptive tactics of the police force, a mass meeting called for Sunday by the Negro Victory Committee will find thousands of black and white Americans on hand. It will be held at People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma street, at 1 p.m. Cooperating to the hilt are the NAACP and the CIO Anti-Discrimination Committee.

POISON . . . is the word for a story apearing in last Sunday's AMERICAN WEEKLY supplement in the Los Angeles Examiner. Assertedly an account of the "Lower 13", Robert Folkes murder case, the article attacked Negro railroad workers, stated unproved allegations as facts, hurled slurs at Negroes in general. A committee of Negro ministers, led by Rev. J. Raymond Henderson and J. Lyle Caston, yesterday denounced the article before the Examiner managing editor. With Folkes execution hanging in the balance and desperate efforts underway to secure a new trial, the Examiner smear is particularly deadly. It is aimed also at growing win-the-war unity of Negro and white workers in Los Angeles.

ruptive police brutality practiced against Eastside citizens.

GRIFFITH LASHES OUT

"There is no excuse," said Attorney Griffith, "for a police officer to shoot an unarmed man four times when that man is not even guilty of a felony.

"The NAACP," he continued, "and all other organizations of the community, band together to urge summary dismissal of the officers responsible.

"We will demand a thorough grand jury investigation of this case. We will take it to the Mayor, the Police Commission and to every other responsible official body," he concluded to ringing applause.

William Harrison, Negro deacon and world war veteran, picked up by police on a charge of inciting a riot following the Smith killing, was on hand Monday night to show the wounds he had suffered in a beating at the hands of a Newton Street police station officer.

He told of being cursed and of a threat by the officer who assaulted him to "come down and kill all the smart n----s on Central avenue."

NOT AS A FIRECRACKER

"This community," said Rev. Russell today in the call to Sunday's 1 p.m. mass meet, "is hot as a firecracker.

"We understand clearly that there is on foot in Los Angeles a deliberate effort to goad the Negro people into rioting and bloodshed. We know that the disrupters, fascists and appeasers of Los Angeles have concentrated their heavy fire upon this patriotic community coldly designing to split it, body and soul, from the thousands and thousands of new friends which it has found in the organized labor movement, to tear asunder that national unity which is the hated enemy of all friends of Hitler.

"We are aware of the sinister scheme behind the daily slurs against Negroes, Mexicans and other minorities in the metropolitan press of Los Angeles.

"We know what it means when the most powerful industrial interests of our city proclaim that 'thus far' Negroes may come in war production 'and no further.'

"We are not baffled by the reaction of Los Angeles realty robbers, who restrict us into a congested, over-crowded, rat-infested corner of this magnificent city.

"It is their design to drive us into bloodshed. It is their design to duplicate the carefully planned Chicago riot, to split war unity and to drive a wedge into the heart of Los Angeles victory production.

"But this community is fighting back!

"With our staunch friends in the labor movement, our Mexican neighbors, with all fair-minded, patriotic Americans, we call upon the constituted authorities of Los Angeles and of the nation to protect us against the rapacious brutality of the police force on the Eastside; we demand the right to contribute our full measure to the victory of our nation through unrestricted industrial upgrading; we recognize and condemn the fascist enemies of America and civilization who would brew the vile poisons of racial hatred and inject them into a city which is the heartbeat and pulse-center of aircraft production for the whole United Nations!"

Near Riot

rested for "inciting a riot," told Eagle reporters, however, that Smith said: "Turn me loose. I want to get my money."

At any rate, Smith ran in the direction of the house, hotly pursued by Van deBogart.

According to police statements, Smith charged through the house, where "some sort of game" allegedly had been in progress, knocking over Mrs. Nellie Griffith, resident, and attempting to break out of the building through its rear exit.

With Van de Bogart approaching him, police say Smith wheeled and threatened the officer's life.

Smith possessed no weapon.

Van de Bogart fired point-blank twice. Smith is said to have grabbed the officer's gun, attempting to wrest it from him. In the struggle, he was shot two more times.

Bleeding profusely Smith reeled out of the front door of the house, charged up the stairs of an adjacent duplex lodging, 850 East 52nd place, trying to secure entrance.

Failing, he fell backward on the lawn of 850. An ambulance soon arrived to take him to Georgia Street Receiving hospital. He died Monday of four wounds.

Other occupants of the house in which Smith was shot were David Griffith, 36, its owner; Elizabeth Jackson, 4048½ Woodlawn avenue; Robert Merrill, of Hollywood; Robert Gooden, 323 East 42nd street; and another man, identified only as "Mex."

Crowd Gathers

A large crowd gathered. Several persons shouted that a man who had committed no crime should not be killed by police officers.

The story of police brutality quickly attracting large numbers of Negro citizens, officers state that "almost a riot situation developed."

One man snatched down the antenna of a radio set in the police car.

Three Negroes were arrested for "inciting a riot." They were Chauncey Watson, 26; Denard Earl Johnson, 35, 469½ East 41st place, and William Harrison, 1832 East 115th Street.

Harrison was later assaulted and cursed by a police officer in Newton street police station. (See special story).

Mass Meet Sunday

Monday night the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, gathered in an extraordinary meeting, condemned the "police killing of an unarmed man who had committed no crime." The body will demand grand jury investigation and plans taking the question of police brutality on the Eastside before all responsible city and county officials.

Sunday at 1 p. m. in Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma streets, the Negro Victory Committee, in cooperation with the NAACP and the CIO Anti-Discrimination Committee, will sponsor a giant mass meeting of Negro and white citizens, to present a united front of Los Angeles war-working populace determined to blot out police brutality and discriminations which make ghetto Central Central avenue a "tinder-box" community.

Poll-taxers and southern old guard in the nation's capitol, along with some forces in the State Department, fought viciously to prevent Barclay's coming.

The groan of protest, loud and long, that no Negro could stay overnight at the White House and become a resident of the Blair home, social mecca of the capital, where it is traditional that all visiting Presidents stay, graced the Washington breezes for several months.

What really stuck in the craw of the down-home-boys was the fact that the Blair House was the scene of Robert E. Lee's historic refusal to command the Union Army. They were further enraged because Barclay is the descendent of Kentucky slaves and there was no way to kid themselves that he was "another kind" of Negro.

The President's action in extending the invitation to Barclay, entertaining him at the white house and installing him in the Blair home is the biggest social debacle the Washington Confederacy has ever suffered.

schools, civic, political and social institutions of Naziism, as it is to drive Hitler from all Europe.

No, we shall not shrink from our duty—the winning of the war and the establishment of permanent peace. We are battling two of the strongest enemies of democracy that the world has ever known—Germany and Japan.

The fight of the Negro against injustice should be the common fight of all fair-minded Americans. In the army—in the navy—in the air, and everywhere in civilian life, efforts have been and are still being made to so persecute and humiliate Negroes as to turn their attention away from the paramount issue of the time, defeating the Axis.

Such agencies as the Los Angeles Examiner manufacture defeatist propaganda in this time of great crisis, consistently smearing American Negroes. From Bunker Hill to Carrazel—from San Juan to "No Man's Land," he has stood firm in his support of American policies. He has defended the Monroe Doctrine and has steadfastly refused bids from outside influences to betray the land he knows as his heritage. Again he dons the khaki and is spreading himself in great, strong black hordes across the battlefronts of the world. He hopes to again say to his Uncle Sam "the old flag never touched the ground."

"But if the stars and stripes are to still wave over the land of the free and the home of the brave" such agencies of destruction as the American Weekly magazine section of the Los Angeles Examiner, as it appeared last Sunday, must be stopped. "Murder in Lower 13" spread across the feature section, has all the elements of lynch baiting.

Following a trial reports of which shame the Scottsboro case, young railway porter Robert Folkes was recently convicted of the murder of a pretty young white passenger on a west coast R. R. line. There is wide ground for doubt of his guilt, especially considering the near-lynch spirit in which his trial was conducted.

Although Folkes is scheduled for execution this very morning, as of last night there was in progress a furious campaign, supported by thousands of white and Negro citizens to secure a decision from appelate courts which would grant the young worker a new trial.

Yet across the pages of the Los Angeles Examiner Sunday there appeared a leering illustration, portraying Folkes as he allegedly murdered the white girl.

Also shown is a drinking party of Negro porters on the train—a fit of pure invention by the Examiner artist.

The entire tone of the article is inflammatory and obviously appeals to the lowest emotions of the most backward readers.

Publication of the Examiner is aimed at the division of Americans engaged in an all-out war effort which will decide for them all a fate of freedom or slavery for the next thousand years.

It is aimed with deadly precision at the heart of that war effort.—national unity.

Lockheed Gives Training, Jobs To Hi Schoolers

"This is the most constructive thing the schools and industry have done in a long time—it should provide the answer to our juvenile delinquency problem and at the same time aid the nation's war effort."

District Attorney Fred N. Howser made that flat statement recently at the Lockheed Aircraft plant in Burbank just after he and Robert A. Neeb, Jr., Deputy Attorney General of California, had completed an inspection tour of the Lockheed-Vega "boypower" plan of using 16-and 17-year-old high school boys on the production line. The county and state officials were out at the invitation of Svend Pedersen, director of education for Lockheed and Vega. He learned recently that the district attorney is greatly interested in a statewide survey now being completed by Neeb for Attorney General Robert W. Kenny.

"I was surprised to learn how the Lockheed-Vega plan works in such close cooperation with the school systems of the various communities, and I think that that is the most important part of it," Howser said. "No boy under 18 is hired who does not come in through his school, and where such a plan is followed I think that we are justified in allowing our high school boys to find so important an outlet for their enthusiasm to be doing something in their spare time that will help win the war. Such a program as this will keep the boys out of trouble, it will teach them a useful trade and it will give them the feeling that they are of real importance in the war program.

"Seeing these boys today, I am confident that no one who knows the facts would have any objection to the work they are doing. This trip has done one thing for me—I am not going to pull into my shell next time anyone criticizes my stand on this subject. I've seen for myself, and I know the plan is sound."

Neeb stated that the Lockheed-Vega plan of hiring only boys who live at home and who are cleared in through the school systems, is, in his opinion, a solution to the juvenile delinquency problem.

"Production corporations in California should discourage out-of-state boys coming into California to work," Neeb said.

Neeb added that the Lockheed-Vega program not only aids production, but aids the social condition of the state in two ways—first, by keeping the boys out of temptation to engage in unlawful acts, and second, by relieving mothers who may stay at home and care for younger children. "The boy who is busy and has a home environment doesn't often get into trouble," he said. "At Lockheed and Vega they make it an honor for a boy to be at work."

Pedersen said that Lockheed and Vega now have more than 1000 high school boys working part time, either four hours on and four hours in school or four weeks at work and the next four weeks in the classroom. This number will be increased to 3000 by June, he said.

Schools now in the program include Burbank, Glendale, Hoover in Glendale, Hollywood, Van Nuys, San Fernando, Verdugo Hills, Metropolitan and the Pasadena school system of five junior high schools and Pasadena junior college.

Ready to come into the program at the end of the present school semester are Alhambra, Bell, Belmont, Downey, Eagle Rock, El Monte, Excelsior at Norwalk, Fairfax, Franklin, Fremont, Huntington Park, Jackson, Lincoln, Mark Keppel in Alhambra, Los Angeles, Monrovia, Montebello, Roosevelt, South Gate, South Pasadena-San Marino, Wilson, Pomona, Puente, Chino, Chaffey J. C., George Junior Republic and high schools in those outlying cities where branch subassembly plants have been established.

The boys will work at the Lockheed or Vega plant nearest to their school.

Her lovely, lyrical voice is of soaring range. Next season, I hope all is forgiven and she returns, or at least someone nearer Anne than poor, dear Etta Moten ever will be in this life. Or the next. I hope Etta retires to some quiet corner and knits for the sailors at twilight.

DELTA MOTHERS HONOR DISTINGUISHED MOTHERS

On last Sunday afternoon, May 23, the beautiful Serrano Avenue home of the George Babers was the setting for the Mother's Day dinner, sponsored by the Mothers and Sponsors Club of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, when they paid tribute to two of their distinguished members, Mrs. Mamie Broyles and Mrs. Jennie S. Bruington.

Mrs. Broyles, the mother of 8 children, was singly honored for having the largest number of Delta daughters. 6 of her 7 daughters accompanied her to the party; 4 of whom belong to the sorority and are Los Angeles city school teachers.

Mrs. Broyles was presented by Dr. Georgia K. Offutt and in response she said that each one of her eight children is and has always been her greatest joy and interest.

Mrs. Bruington, a pioneer citizen and also a pioneer in encouraging and seeking higher educational opportunities for Negro youth in Los Angeles is the mother of Mrs. Bessie Bruington Burke, our first Negro teacher and only principal in our city schools. Mrs. Burke's many achievements are largely the direct results of the training and vision of her mother. Mrs. Bruington was presented by Mrs. Webb, corresponding secretary of the club, and she responded modestly, by taking no credit for her daughter's successes, but instead she said, if there are any honors, we humbly credit them to Divine Guidance.

A large number of invited guests shared the courtesies of the day, among them were: Mrs. Naomi Hazelett, president of Las Madrinas; Dr. Vada Sommerville, president of the Sajourner Truth Club; Mrs. Fay Thomas, representing the Kappa Mothers Club; Mrs. Georgia Hardiman, president of the Medical Auxiliary; Mrs. Carrie Jordan, of North Carolina, the mother of Rev. Frederick Jordan and Mrs. Emma Speed of Love Joy, Illinois, the sister of Mrs. Jennie Graham and Miss Pauline Slater, also the Delta daughters of the club.

A very special guest was Mrs. Ducie Kennedy, the young mother of 17 children, with 7 sons in the army.

An interesting and spicy program of music and short speeches was presented by Mrs. Georgia Robinson, president Emeritus of the club and program chairman. Mrs. Ethel Johnson, the very charming president, brought greetings and extended a warm welcome to the guests.

Mrs. Lorenza Jordan Cole was in charge of community singing and her young accomplished daughter, Miss Yvonne Cole, gave a piano solo.

Mrs. Zenobia Clark, recording secretary, reviewed the highlights of the civic activities of the club.

Mrs. Conner read an original "In Memoriam" recounting the recent losses of membership.

The hostesses for the day were Mrs. Ella Sellers, Mrs. Katherine Reeves and Mrs. Georgia Robinson. They were assisted by Mrs. Sadie Holt, Mrs. Florence Carter and Mrs. Jennie Graham.

Pauline Johnston, niece of Colonel Moody Staten, was married Sunday, May 16, at the Zion Temple, 1315 East Vernon avenue, to Sergeant James Hermon Moon of the 7th Regiment.

The bride, dressed in white satin gown, trimmed in pearls and carrying a bridal ring of white roses, was given away by her uncle, Colonel Moody Staten. The former Miss Johnston has been serving as Corporal Clerk at headquarters, 7th Regiment, the California State Guard.

Reverend Geraldine Johnson officiated. Participants of the ceremony were Miss Arnell Lumpkin, Maid of Honor; Mrs. Ella Williams, Matron of Honor; Misses Violet Warner, Evelyn Warner and June Brown, Bridesmaids; Sara Luella Williams, flower girl; and Mrs. Havana Woodford and Mrs. June Jackson, soloists.

First Lieut. Charles I. Bolden served as best man. Master Sergeant LeRoy McDowell, Corporal Moody Staten and Private Harold Williams were ushers.

Approximately 200 guests were present at the reception held at Camille's Den, East Adams Blvd., immediately after the wedding ceremony.

Shaw, active in church ivic affairs here, told the that "Negroes were in ca a year before the Pil- and that they have volun- played vital and signifi- oles in the nations history hat time, but the omission ese truths from school newspapers, theatre, and American agencies of in- tion has created a growing of appreciation for them as ns." Bennie Shaw for twelve years a juvenile delinquency worker and youth organizer in Los Angeles County, and now a boy's group supervisor for the state, is credited with being instrumental in the reduction of juvenile delinquency by acts of prevention. PILGRIM BAPTIST CHURCH BURNS MORTGAGE

Sunday was a "high day in Zion" for the Pilgrim Baptist Church, located at 45th and Wadsworth.

Under the able leadership of the pastor, Rev. B. W. Wade, at 3:30 p. m. a jubilant congregation, chanting the strains of "I Need Thee, Oh, I Need Thee," saw Mrs. Phyllis Miller (first Sunday School member) strike the match that spelled "doom" to all mortgages, and victory to the church.

At the 11:00 o'clock hour, Rev. Wade delivered a stirring message on Solomon's Temple, I Kings, 8:13, highlighting the sermon with the need of soul-winning and thanking the officers and members for their loyalty and commending their faith in God.

Drs. Eidmire and Hardy of the first Reform Hungarian Church gave words of commendation. Dr. Hardy, former owner, and holder of mortgage, signed the release.

During the afternoon and night services, we were graced with the following great speakers, who brought greetings and commendations: Rev. Payne, Rev. Ros, Rev. Charity, Rev. Porter, Rev. Grant Harris.

Beautiful music was furnished by the Senior and Gospel Choirs

Truly God is in this place for in 1931 Rev. Wade, with his devoted Christian wife, Mrs. Maggie Wade, organized the Pilgrim Baptist Church with 7 members. In 1938 started to build with $293 of the cost of the $17,000 edifice: but today, 1943, that monument to God stands free of all debt, including organ and all furnishings.

Although the indebtedness was only $5,000, in ten weeks a total of $6,914.99 was raised.

All officers and members pledge support to this great man and his loving wife, who for 14 months received no salary that Pilgrim Baptist Church might be a soul-saving station and a monument to God. Thanks be to God who giveth us the Victory!

The first annual tea to be given by the Thrifty Sixteen Social Club will be held at Camille's Party Den, 848 E. Adams Blvd. Sunday evening, May 30. Public is invited. Silver offering. Mrs. Julia Lee, president. Mrs. Mae Bell McBride, reporter.

CELEBRATE REV. DUVALL'S 2ND ANNIVERSARY

The First Baptist Church of Venice, celebrating the Second

REV. M. HARLEY DUVALL

Anniversary of Rev. M. Harley Duvall as its pastor, experienced a day of much celebration Sunday.

A powerful and inspiring sermon, delivered by Rev. H. S. Davis, who used as a subject "Go Further," was one of the high points at the morning worship service.

Rev. Duvalls friend from schooldays, Rev. J. S. Petersen of Mt. Carmel Baptist Church, was the afternoon speaker. Rev. Petersen, a fellow laborer in a common cause, knew well the sufferings and sorrows of his brother's life, but bade him to continue his splendid work.

At evening worship, Rev. E. G. Smith preached a helpful sermon.

Expressions of gratitude for Rev. Duvall's services were made. The Choir presented to him a Sick Visitor Communion Set, and commendable love offerings were given by the organization's members and friends of the pastor and church.

It was felt that the success of Rev. Duvall's efforts in behalf of his church was more than evident, as marked specifically by a numerical increase in church membership, and a corresponding financial increase.

The First Baptist Church of Venice, now free of all debts, will soon launch a campaign to raise funds for the building of a parsonage.

Hyson Von Clayton Diggs, graduate of Virginia Union University and Seminary and former pastor of Baltimore, Maryland, will be the speaker. Chaplain Diggs is with the 333 Military Police Battalian. He will be assisted in service by a soldier's choir of his camp, composed of twenty voices.

2nd Lt. James D. Crasson, assistant to Judge Advocate 1st. Lt. Charles Point, and a former practicing attorney in Chicago will teach the High School class and give the address at the banquet. The banquet will be in honor of men in service, mothers, wives, sweethearts of service men and in honor of veterans of our city. You are most cordially invited to the banquet at 1:30 sharp in the church parlor. A very delightful program has been arranged for the banquet.

The members of Lincoln extend a hearty welcome to all service men, to veterans, and to friends of our community. In an area such as ours where many boys are away from family, home, church, they need us to befriend them. You are invited to show your concern for the lonesome soldier by attending both the service at 11 a.m. and the banquet at 1:30 p.m.

"Next Sunday is Memorial Day, calling to memory the soldiers who gave their lives in War I to SAVE THE WORLD FOR DEMOCRACY. Their sacrifice has been nullified by the reoccurence of World War II. Yet we held most dear the principles for which they fought and we declare to these who now serve and to those who die that they shall not have served or die in vain."

Majoir Milton T. Dean,
Program Chairman.

Pastor, Members, and Friends Zion Temple To Be Entertained

On next Sunday night at 8:30 Sister Louise V. Fulghum, president of the Jolly Workers' Club of Zion Temple, will entertain Zion Temple and its many friends in the class room of the Temple, 1315 E. Vernon Ave., having as special guests the pastors, and board of directors of the church. We feel greatly indebted to these fine officers who have cooperated so loyally with the pastor and members to keep this church in its high standard in the community as it is. We appreciate the degree of peace, love and harmony and quietness, and the sincerity that is felt the moment one walks into the doors. We appreciate the pastor, Rev. Geraldine Johnson, who has so untiringly given her services to us and so successfully guided us for the past three years, and as a token of such appreciation, we invite you to come and share the honors with us as we try to show them how much we love and esteem them and all their activities.

District Conference In Annual Session

The 18th annual Los Angeles district conference of Southern California's Conference of the A. M. E. Church, met Thursday at Bethel A. M. E. Church, with Rev. J. C. White, pastor and Dr. Frank Harris presiding, assisted by Rev. R. H. Harbert, presiding elder of San Diego district.

Communion was served, after a brief meditation by Dr. F. D. Jordan. Following the organization of the conference, of which Rev. A. K. Quinn was secretary, there was an encouraging report of the churches, showing increases in spirit and finance.

Dr. J. A. Dames, Dr. F. D. Jordan, Rev. J. L. Glover and Mrs. Minnie Lee Dames, representing the president of the W. M. M. Society, were speakers in an interesting discussion of missions. Helpful suggestions, on how the Sunday School program could be improved and enlarged, were offered by Mrs. Naoshi Tatam, Mrs. P. Wilson and Henry Spears.

Dr. J. A. Dames led a discussion of "The Church in a War-Torn World," followed by Dr. F. D. Jordan's discussion of "Post War Plans." Both topics were of such a controversial nature that it was decided neither should be discussed at the conference.

Miss Susie McBride, missionary evangelist, accompanied by Dr. Glover, contributed a solo. A feeling of unity prevailed, and it was generally felt this district conference was one of the most successful in years.

Dr. Glover offered a resolution for endorsement of Dr. Jordan and Dr. Dames to the Bishopric, the highest office in the gift of the church, which passed without a dissenting vote.

Determined to take Jesus as pilot on the hard road of life, desirous of working towards the blessed state of peace, those who attended the conference left, newly inspired.

Independent Church In Drive for Boys' Home

All who know of the splendid work that has been done through the medium of the Boys' Home which was established and is being maintained by Independent Church of Christ, will be glad to respond to the urgent call for help which Pastor Russell issued this week to all members and interested friends.

"During these times when war is taking so many mothers away from their homes, juvenile delinquency is running high," says Rev. Russell, "and the church must make provisions to give proper opportunities to our men of tomorrow."

The mortgage on the home amounts to $3000.00, and it is the hope of the church that with the aid of members and friends who see the urgency of the need, they will be able to life the entire debt on May 30, the date set for the special effort.

There is an insufficient number of facilities to care for Negro boys in Los Angeles County, and this is the only home of its kind equipped to do the job. Rev. Russell will gladly accept any donations that are given for this worthy cause, and you may send or take your check to the Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma Streets, anytime between now and Sunday, May 30.

Universal Church Has Song Fest

Miss Anita L. Edmonds is pastor.

Church, Pasadena, California and California's choice for bishop in 1944, was guest speaker at a Mortgage Burning rally at Fresno, California on last Sunday. Dear Sirs:

Does it matter what a man believes just so long as he is sincere and honest?—K. S., Pasadena, Calif.

One may be ever so sincere, and yet suffer the bitter consequences of his error. Doubtless, most of us have had the experience when traveling of getting on the wrong road, and though we were very sincere, we afterward realized great inconvenience and loss of time by our profitless journey beyond the fork of the road.

Not long ago there was brought to our attention the case of a cook in a state institution who used roach powder instead of the powdered food he was supposed to use. The cook was very sincere, but in the words of the wise man, "the end thereof are the ways of death."

Therefore, we can see in daily life the fallacy of following the "way that seemeth right" no matter how sincere we are.

How much more serious and far reaching the loss is in things which pertain to salvation.

But you ask, if I cannot rely upon my own sincerity in doing the things which God requires, what hope is there?

Following our own judgment because of what we believe would make us like like ships upon the sea without rudder or anchor. However, it is the last word of your question that is the key to a solution—Honest.

An honest man may make a mistake, but he will not live for long in his mistake. If one is his views, but he will ever seek for truth. "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom and the man that getteth understanding." Proverbs 3:13.

Jesus gives us this assurance, "If any man will do his will, he shall know the doctrine." John 7:17.

The Apostle James in his epistle writes, "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God that giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him." James 1:5. And when Jesus was about to leave his disciples, he promised the Comforter—the Holy Spirit, and of him he said, "Howbeit, when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth." John 16:13.

While the mercy and justice of God causes Him to regard men where they are, and as the apostle Paul stated in addressing the men of Athens assembled on Mar's hill, "The times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth men everywhere to repent."

A sincere man may walk blindly in the error of his way; but an honest man will walk in the light as it comes to him, and will even seek for a fuller understanding of God's will."

Washington Marches Against reet Car Bias; Our Turn Now!

Four thousand Negro and white citi- s of this nation's capital went march- down the street last week bearing cards denouncing failure of the pital Transit Company to hire Negro ductors and motormen. The lesson is ich one for Los Angeles.

In Washington the demonstrators re addressed by fighting Rep. Vito rcantonio and by Charles Collins, of New York Negro Labor Victory mmittee. They were told that thou- ds of Washington war workers suf- ed from the company's determined licy of racial exclusion. They were d that the transportation requirements America's capital could not await a sed decision of jim-crow company ads. The four thousand, in one voice, manded that the Capital Transit mpany obey an order for employ- ent of all minorities long since de- ered by the near-defunct Fair Em- oyment Practice Committee.

Most significant aspect of the Wash- gton demonstration, within stone's row of poll-tax Virginia, was its cor- al reception by the city's overwhelm- gly southern population. Efficient ansportation, regardless of who runs e buses and street cars—this was the rime desire of Washington war work- s.

It is a desire no different from that of e hundreds of thousands of war work- rs in Los Angeles county. Precious ours are wasted daily by these vital roducers of war material as the result f a tediously slow, jam-packed trans- ortation system. As a consistent apol- gy for poor service, L. A. Ry. moans ver a "manpower shortage," advertises xtensively for conductors and motor- men, and points piously to the patriot- sm exhibited in conveying the nation's victoryworkers to their jobs.

After a phoney, half-hearted attempt t upgrading of Negro workers by the ompany, several months ago, all pre- ense of obedience to executive order 8802 was dropped, although the firm's president, along with railway workers' union officials, had signed a copy of the presidential order.

Continued defiance of the President's policy by the Los Angeles Railway Company endangers the job of every Negro worker in Southern California and is a Damocles sword hanging over all-out war production here. Executive order 8802 was the battering ram which broke barriers obstructing Negro work- ers from participation in Los Angeles' mighty construction of planes and ships. Executive order 8802 is the bed-rock of government policy upon which the rights of Negro workers to unbiased defense employment are built. It has been the moral and legal "clincher" in the arguments through which Negroes have streamed into aircraft plants and shipyards of the Southland.

But if the Los Angeles Railway Company may successfully flaunt Executive Order 8802 in the face of the most determined drive for Negro employment ever directed against a single firm in Southern California, what prevents North American, Lockheed, Douglas, Consolidated, Western Pipe and Steel, and all the shipyards from a similar renunciation of their responsibility to 8802? At any time, the old anti-Negro bars may be hoisted between Negro workers and the industries of Los Angeles. If executive order 8802 is reduced to a dead document, whose teeth have decayed and fallen out,—and that is the effect of L. A. Ry.'s successful defiance of it,—then Negro workers are naked and unprotected before the assault of any race-crazed employer.

At the moment when our nation is called upon to test every muscle for the greatest military,—and production,—event of all time, invasion of Hitler's "Festung Europa," policies which restrict workers from employment because of color or race, which LIMIT production are aimed at the back of our soldiers and at the heart of our country's war for survival.

Washington has marched. What about Los Angeles?

SEGREGATION: THE ENEMY'S WEAPON

That segregation of workers is a mortal enemy of the production demanded for the nation's unprecedented military requirements, which will inevitably expand as our blow against Europe is delivered, was resoundingly demonstrated for whatever Doubting Thomases there may be in the town of Chester, Pa., last week.

Here the country's biggest, boldest experiment in mass industrial segregation nearly blew up in a furious strike movement, as the CIO, representing Negro and white workers alike, locked horns with the Sun Shipbuilding Company, whose segregated "dock No. 4" employs over 9,000 Negro men.

The company, which opened its jim-crow dock amid national fan-fare and a merry windfall of self-congratulation, is furiously combatting efforts of the International Union of Marine and Shipyard Workers of America, CIO, to organize the plant. Among CIO demands are an end to the jim-crow employment of Negroes, segregated rest room accommodations, and the refusal to permit Negroes in advanced training classes.

The union also charges "persistent and often brutal company tactics to prevent Negro workers . . . from joining CIO."

At the very moment last week when the Marine Eagle, first entirely Negro-built ship was launched, the company fired two of five Negro delegates appointed to a sixteen-man CIO grievance committee.

This action precipitated a strike movement which found white workers threatening to walk-out unless their Negro brothers were re-hired.

Patriotically refusing to disrupt war poduction through a strike, however, the majority of Negro and white rank-and-filers have sent their case to President Roosevelt, asking immediate action.

Manwhile, 300 sympathetic white workers have been locked out by the company, beatings of Negro workers by company stooges are reported, others are summarily fired, and the entire plant seeths with unrest. The jim-crow dock, which was to have "solved" the race question at Sun Shipbuilding Co., has been revealed for what it is, an open attempt to divide the workers and maintain a company union. Production suffers inevitably as the yards are rent with indignation, division and strike-sentiment.

The case against segregation is proved by American industry's biggest experiment in segregation.

MEMORIAL DAY, 1943

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

Little Esther Goldberg is a mite of a girl, not even five feet tall. Up until two years ago she was a dancer. Along came the war and with it the influx of women into industry. Esther gave up professional dancing. She went to work for the Pacific Sound Equipment Company and learned to make her fingers dance—to the tune of repairing motors for phonographs that go to the men in the armed forces. She loves her work and the people she works with.

When two Mexican boys who work with Esther were picked up by the police only because of their nationality, it made her blood boil. She knows what it means to be discriminated against—she's Jewish. She knows why we are fighting this war and knows what kind of peace we want.

"Our Commander-in-Chief went to Mexico recently," she said, "to re-confirm our Good Neighbor policy with that country. It is up to us at home to carry out that policy if we are to really unite all peoples in our fight against the axis."

Here is a letter, in part, that er sent to the Mayor of this city:

"I can't believe that the police would commit any act that would hamper the war effort, and yet if this kind of persecution is kept up, these boys and many others like them who are working hard to produce vitally needed war materials, will be afraid to come to work. With the shortage of manpower this possibility presents a grave problem.

"I believe that when a policeman becomes a member of the force, he takes an oath and somewhere in that oath is a pledge to 'uphold the law and protect the citizens of the community.' Can it be that such a pledge is not a part of the oath taken by the L. A. police force? Or is it that these minions of the law (?) feel they are privileged to take the law into their own hands? Don't the police of L. A. have anything better to do than pick up young boys as criminal suspects because they wear "zoot suits" and their hair isn't cut as short as they like? Is a manner of style of dress an indication that the individual is a criminal? By what right has any police officer to boldly state (I quote) 'All Mexicans are good suspects', and further 'We aim to get rid of them'.

"'Daily our boys and those of our Allies are dying to protect our democratic way of life and yet the police are spreading race hatred and condemn a whole race because of a few behavior problems.

"As a law abiding citizen, I vigorously protest this unfair and unwarranted persecution of innocent youth by the police of Los Angeles."

The Mayor ought to answer Esther's letter, but the best answer we could all receive would not be in the form of a letter and would not necessarily come from the Mayor alone. That answer depends on the efforts of the people—to establish a City-wide "Good Neighbor" policy and put an end to discrimination against Mexicans, Negroes, Jews and all other minorities.

Where to Get the Missing WAACS

The WAACS just aren't in there —to the tune of 90,000 short. As its first birthday rolled around last Sunday, May 16, this army infant turned out to be not the lusty giant expected of 150,000 strong but a little runt of 60,000. The situation was bad. Secretary of War Stimson issued an urgent appeal for volunteers to make up the deficit. This reminds us of the famous story, ACRES OF DIAMONDS, about the man from South Africa who spent a lifetime roaming the world over in search of wealth only to find that there were acres of diamonds in his backyard all the time. But then he had one foot in the grave! Perhaps we the people should let Mr. Stimson and Commander Hobby in on this secret: there are black diamonds, thousands of them right here in our backyard. If only the Army would stop trying to measure patriotism and ability on the basis of color skin, it could get the 90,000 WAACS needed from young Negro women in a jiffy. Yes, the WAACS would grow up fast and be lusty.

TRAVEL INCIDENT

A noted Negro singer was on his way home from a successful good-will tour of South America. Everywhere he had been greeted with honor and acclaim. Perhaps second only to Vice-President Wallace he had stimulated friendship between the Americas. While waiting for his plane to be re-fueled at Houston, Texas, he went into the passenger's lounge. There was only one. While relaxing on one of the comfortable divans, two burly Texas cops reminded him he was back in good old Dixie. "You can stand up, buddy, but you can't sit down in here."

WHY NOT HERE TOO

A few weeks ago, this Column applauded the War Department for its sensible and forthright instructions in its Pocket Guide to North Africa, issued to our soldiers there. This Guide reminded our soldiers to treat North Africans with courtesy and respect. Now the Army scores again in its Pocket Guide to West Africa, where it says:

"Remember that the African though his skin is black and his ways strange to you, is a sensative and intelligent individual and will bitterly resent slurs against his race, tribe or country.

"Remember that the African is in his own country, on his own land, and that you are a guest and must conduct yourself accordilngly."

This Column again asks the President and the War Department, why not such a guide to the treatment of Negro Americans, soldiers and civilians alike. The time is ripe for it. The Axis would tremble at it. WHY NOT HERE TOO?

WEST AFRICA IMPORTANT

Lord Swinton, British Resident Minister for West Africa, recently revealed the importance of West Africa to the war effort. Speaking to newspapermen at Cairo he said: "West African colonies are now producing more than three times the amount of rubber produced by the whole Congo." Our guess is that if West Africa were not now "colonies," it would produce many times more than now.

QUESTIONS OF WAR AND PEACE

The mopping up of the dregs of Rommel's once famed Afrika Korps makes the question, "what are we going to do with Africa," not only a post-war problem. It is right in our laps. Are we ready to make the words of Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State, "the age of imperialism is ended," a living instrument of policy? Or, will we unmindful of the discoveries of Wendell Willkie, that the people of every land are bent on having their freedom, and soon, follow the policy set forth by Gen. Smuts, Prime Minister of South Africa last December, when he said: '. . . It would be unwise to disturb the existing administrative relationships between mother countries and their colonies. Mother countries should remain exclusively responsible for the administration of their colonies and interference by others should be avoided"??

North Africa has been liberated from the scourge of the Axis. Will we now liberate North Africa from the slavery of colonialism? The United Nations must answer these questions NOW. The answer will be more war or peace.

Spreading Joy.

By way of paying tribute of love and respect to its founder and first members the Pioneer Club No. 1 will hold its 29th Annual meeting at Second Baptist Church, Sunday, May 30th.

Twenty-nine years ago a small group of friends and neighbors met at the residence of Mrs. J. J. Spillar on Ninth street and there organized the Pioneer Club. In the beginning the By-Laws provided that to be eligible for membership one must have arrived in California before the year 1889. Since the laws have been amended so as to admit any who were here in 1914 and could meet the other qualifications, that is of good moral character and of good report.

Once a year we attend some church in a body to give thanks to God for his goodness during the past year, to memorialize those who have gone on home since our last Annual meeting and to pay a tribute to those first comers.

This year the meeting will have been to the Second Baptist since the coming of its present pastor. Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, who has won for himself and his gracious wife a place in the hearts and affections of the Pioneers.

I trust that all Pioneers will be in the seats that will be reserved for them at 10:45 a. m. next Sunday morning, May 30th. Pioneers of Pasadena are especially invited to join with us.

Mrs. Carrie Thomas-Jordan, the mother of Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, reluctantly left Los Angeles Tuesday for her home in Durham, North Carolina. I am sure Mrs. Jordan has had the time of her life seeing with what high esteem her son is held by all of the people of the city, and the round after round of social niceties she has received by former friends, fellow teachers and Fraternity sisters. I am pretty sure that Mrs. Jordan is almost persuaded to make California her home, and will go to North Carolina with a strong determination to sell California to Professor head of the Jordan family.

Good-bye Miss Carrie, you take with you our best wishes for a safe and pleasant trip home, and a speedy return to the land of Sunshine and Flowers.

I want to revere the memory of my friend the late Dr. James J. Liggett, whom I have known and admired for fifty years. I knew him as a young man in Atlanta when he was one of the city's best dressed young dandies. He was a prime favorite with the Southern Pacific boys and all who knew him.

Here's orchids to the Women's Civic Luncheon Club, who have one of the outstanding organizations in the city. Their recent cabaret party at the Club Alabam was a howling success and a generous sum was donated to the A. W. V. S. Baron Lawson, the Executive Secretary, has just informed me that elaborate plans are underway for a program to help in the big drive for the Outdoor Life and Health Association.

Seeing Fred Thornton out to church Sunday morning reminded me of the old gang of Dining Car Waiters of forty years ago, the majority of them were from dear New Orleans, among them were George Swazey, Jimmie Sims, Tom Nelius, Tom Colescott, Bennie Dixon, John Reed and others. Fred was one of the youngest and most popular and of all those mentioned, I think he is the happiest. He is the owner of a beautiful home in the Blodgett Manor Tract, and the Treasurer of the Dining Car Cooks and Waiters Union.

Another of the old gang who has made good is Callie Reed, he owns a number of rent houses in Watts and is doing fine.

Of the men who inaugurated the OWL one out of Los Angeles in the Dining Car Service there is not one living. Among the first were Don Russell, Rusell Slayton, Joe Lane, A. L. Tilton and Toni Williamson.

It was on the Owl I made my maiden run in 1901.

Rumor has it that big chief Percy Black is getting set to retire. I'll wait and see.

Sam Tibbs another old Grad is a familiar figure along the Avenue. Sam is one of the old timers of New Orleans, a buddy of the famous social lion, Harry Woods.

Letter To The Editor Of the Los Angeles Examiner

The Interdenominational Ministers' Alliance, and the Baptist Ministers' Union representing the Combined Negro Churches of Los Angeles and its environs unite without one dissenting voice in the following statement:

"We view with alarm and open indignation the May 23rd issue of the American Weekly in its portrayal of "Murder in Lower 13." The publishers of this story with its dastardly drawings and subtle implications know that the Folkes case is still in court. A stay of execution has been granted and an appeal is being prepared for the Supreme Court of Oregon. Folkes may be guilty but his guilt has never been proven. The little prejudiced town of Albany, Oregon, had condemned him before the trial. The unsigned confession means nothing. It is even inadmissable evidence under Oregon law. The jury had handed them typed copy the testimony of the marine in the case, which is probihited by law in any court of real justice.

"We condemn and denounce the American Weekly as being unfair to Folkes and to the Negro people of America. We denounce the policy of publishing such an article and pictorial account of a case which is still in court. We further condemn and denounce the Los Angeles Examiner as a partner to the crime of inflaming public sentiment and stirring up race tension when unity is needed to prosecute the war effort. We pledge ourselves to express our honest convictions through the press, from our pulpits and to seek any legal redress possible under the law against the American Weekly.

"We pledge ourselves to work for and financially aid this unfortunate Negro upon whom we believe a crime has been pinned by another, whose guilt will some day be established, and who was "smart" enough to shift the blame upon a Negro of insufficient intelligence to protect himself.

"Finally, we still thank God that with all of its faults we live in America, where we may employ the higher courts for justice. If Folkes is exer executed, it will be after the Supreme Court of our great country has so decreed. If the Los Angeles Examiner still believes in the freedom of the press, we look for a publication of this statement without any abrigement. We also vigorously demand an apology from the Examiner for the injustice which it has helped to heap upon this Negro and incidentally the entire Negro group in America."

NAACP June War Meet Attracting Record Response

Robeson, Murray, Hastie, Ickes to Be Among Participants in Detroit.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The emergency war conference on the Negro in the War for Freedom, Detroit, June 3-6, 1943, will have the largest attendance ever attracted by an NAACP national meeting, responses from a number of the association's more than 600 branches, youth councils and college chapters indicated this week. The conference, which has been planned on a mammoth scale, will have as active participants outstanding leaders, both Negro and white, from every field of endeavor. Paul Robeson, internationally famous singer and actor, will sing and speak at the Sunday meeting on June 6 at the Detroit Tigers' ball park before a crowd of 60,000.

Philip Murray, president of the CIO, who will be introduced by R. J. Thomas, UAW-CIO head, will deliver one of the main addresses on the Negro in the trade union movement during the war emergency. Negro war workers and members of the armed forces will hear Judge William H. Hastie, recently resigned civilian aide to Secretary of War Stimson, talk on the Negro in the armed forces of the United States. Hastie's speech will follow his acceptance of the Spingarn Award which will be presented to him by Congressman Will Rogers, Jr., of California. Secretary of Interior Ickes has been asked to speak on the role of the Negro farmer.

To represent the daily press, Lewis Gannett, of the Herald Tribune and Albert Deutsch, of PM, have been asked to attend. The closing meeting will be broadcast on a nationwide radio hookup.

Replacing the NAACP Annual Conference, the emergency war parley will last only three days instead of the usual week.

Walter White, NAACP executive secretary who will preside at the Sunday meeting at Briggs Stadium, told the press this week "But far more important than the assembling of famous people is the fact that this will be a real conference where those who attend will tell what they think can and shall be done. In other words this will be a truly democratic meeting from which we will get the benefit of the thinking of those educated and limited in education who have given real thought to the Negro's plight both now during the war and in the post-war years."

To facilitate housing arrangements, the NAACP urged this week that all delegates to the Detroit conference immediately communicate with the national office at 69 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Mid-Block Mishaps

Los Angeles traffic accident reports reveal that the majority of pedestrians injured or killed by automobiles are struck while crossing streets in the middle of the block. Drivers do not expect to meet pedestrians at such locations, especially at night. The police department advises pedestrians, for their own safety, to cross streets at intersections where traffic signals or other devices are installed for their protection, and where their presence is anticipated by motorists.

Judge Jingle Sez . .

Like a gentleman—not a knave.
He keeps fenders unharmed,
And his nerves unalarmed,
And buys Bonds with the money he saves!"

On the Minority Problem

by

RUTH TAYLOR

The other day I came across a sentence which I think is particularly applicable to the whole problem of minorities. Here it is: "The test of a man in an emergency is whether he thinks first 'How does that affect me?' or 'How can I affect it?'"

The first is the instinctive response of any minority—but in the second lies the secret of the successful solution of the minority problem.

To begin with, under a democratic form of government the majority has the ruling power—but not the right to oppress the minority. The minority has the right of protest—but not the right to place the privileges of a group before the rights of the majority.

Both sides have responsibilities. I shall not discuss here the responsibilities of the majority—that is my job when I am talking to them. What you and I must consider here is just what the minority should do.

How can the minority affect any general condition with which it has to deal? By acting as part of the majority, by realizing that the only way to get inside is to act inside, by not holding the attitude that being shut out, its responsibility is ended.

The handicap of the minority is that it cannot afford the mistakes of the majority. It must be more attentive to details because as a minority it stands out more. It is just like what we used to say about women in business—a woman to get a man's pay must be twice as good as the man on the job. So it is with minorities.

The minority cannot afford the dissipation of self-pity. The way for a minority to lift itself is by raising its own standards, by being twice as good as the majority, twice as loyal and twice as competent, twice as willing, twice as patient, twice as ready to cooperate. Every member of a minority who makes good, opens doors for others of his group. That is axiomatic—and horse sense as well.

Water seeks its own level and right alone can make might endure. Minorities have gained the rights, to which they were entitled, by sheer merit, not by pressure or force. This has been true in the fight for religious liberty, in the fight for political liberty and in the fight for economic liberty. And it applies equally to every other struggle.

Look back over the history of Negro emancipation and see how great has been the achievements to date and why. How you affect a situation is the determining factor—not the way in which it affects you.

Native Son

An Exclusive California Eagle Serial

(From the Book by Richard Wright)

He had from now until midnight. He had heard that six hours before his time came they would give him some more clothes, take him to the barber shop, and then take him to the death cell. He had been told by one of the guards not to worry, that "eight seconds after they take you out of your cell and put that black cap over your eyes, you'll be dead, boy." Well, he could stand that. He had in his mind a plan: he would flex his muscles and shut his eyes and hold his breath and think of absolutely nothing while they were handling him. And when the current struck him, it would all be over.

He lay down again on the cot, on his back, and stared at the tiny bright-yellow electric bulb glowing on the ceiling above his head. It contained the fire of death. If only those tiny spirals of heat inside of that glass globe would wrap around him now—if only someone would attach the wires to his iron cot while he dozed off—if only when he was in a deep dream they would kill him. . . .

He was in an uneasy sleep when he heard the voice of a guard.

"Thomas! Here's your lawyer!"

He swung his feet to the floor and sat up. Max was standing at the bars. The guard unlocked the door and Max walked in. Bigger had an impulse to rise, but he remained seated. Max came to the center of the floor and stopped. They looked at each other for a moment.

"Hello, Bigger."

Silently, Bigger shook hands with him. Max was before him, quiet, white, solid, real. His tangible presence seemed to belie all the vague thoughts and hopes that Bigger had woven around him in his broodings. He was glad that Max had come, but he was bewildered.

"How're you feeling?"

For an answer, Bigger sighed heavily.

"'ju get my wire?" Max asked, sitting on the cot.

Bigger nodded.

"I'm sorry, son."

There was silence. Max was at his side. The man who had lured him on a quest toward a dim hope was there. Well, why didn't he speak now? Here was his chance. He lifted his eyes shyly to Max's; Max was looking at him. Bigger looked off. What he wanted to say was stronger in him when he was alone; and though he imputed to Max the feelings he wanted to grasp, he could not talk of them to Max until he had forgotten Max's presence. Then fear that he would not be able to talk about this consuming fever made him panicky. He struggled for self-control; he did not want to lose this driving impulse; it was all he had. And in the next second he felt that it was all foolish, useless, vain. He stopped trying, and in the very moment he stopped, he heard himself talking with tight throat, in tense, involuntary whispers; he was trusting the sound of his voice rather than the sense of his words to carry his meaning.

"I'm all right, Mr. Max. You ain't to blame for what's happening to me. . . . I know you did all you could. . . ." Under the pressure of a feeling of futility his voice trailed off. After a short silence, he blurted, "I just r-r-reckon I h-had it coming. . . ." He stood up, full now, wanting to talk. His lips moved, but no words came.

"Is there anything I can do for you, Bigger?" Max asked softly.

Bigger looked at Max's grey eyes. How could he get into that man a sense of what he wanted? If he could only tell him! Before he was aware of what he was doing, he ran to the door and clutched the cold steel bars in his hands.

"I . . . I . . ."

"Yes, Bigger?"

Slowly, Bigger turned and came back to the cot. He stood before Max again, about to speak, his right hand raised. Then he sat down and bowed his head.

"What is it, Bigger? Is there anything you want me to do on the outside? Any message you want me to send?"

"Naw," he breathed.

"What's on your mind?"

"I don't know."

He could not talk. Max reached over and placed a hand on his shoulder and Bigger could tell by its touch that Max did not know, had no suspicion of what he wanted, of what he was trying to say. Max was upon another planet, far off in space. Was there any way to break down this wall of isolation? Distractedly, he gazed about the cell, trying to remember where he had heard words that would help him. He could recall none.

Max rose and went to a small window; a pale bar of sunshine fell across his white head. And Bigger, looking at him, saw that sunshine for the first time in many days; and as he saw it, the entire cell, with its four walls, became crushingly real. He glanced down at himself; the shaft of yellow sun cut across his chest with as much weight as a beam forged of lead. With a convulsive gasp, he went forward and shut his eyes. He summoned his energies and lifted his head and struck out desperately, determined to rise from the grave, resolved to force upon Max the reality of his living.

"Im glad I got to know you before I go;" he said with almost a shout; then was silent, for that was not what he had wanted to say.

Max turned and looked at him: it was a casual look, devoid of the deeper awareness that Bigger sought so hungrily.

"I'm glad I got to know you, too, Bigger. I'm sorry we have to part this way. But I'm old, son. I'll be going soon myself. . . ."

"Mr. Max, I know the folks who sent me here to die hated me: I know that. B-b-but you reckon th-they was like m-me, trying to g-get something like I was, and when I'm dead and gone they'll be saying like I'm saying now that they didn't mean to hurt nobody . . . th-that they was t-trying to get something, too. . . .?"

Max did not answer. Bigger saw a look of indecision and wonder come into the old man's eyes.

"Tell me, Mr. Max. You think they was?"

"Bigger," Max pleaded.

"Tell me, Mr. Max!"

Max shook his head and mumbled:

"You're asking me to say things I don't want to say. . . ."

"But I want to know!"

"You're going to die, Bigger . . ."

Max's voice faded. Bigger knew that the old man had not wanted to say that; he had said it because he had pushed him, had made him say it. They were silent for a moment longer, then Bigger whispered:

"That's why I want to know . . . I reckon it's 'cause I know I'm going to die that makes me want to know. . . ."

Max's face was ashy. Bigger feared that he was going to leave. Across a gulf of silence, they looked at each other. Max sighed.

"Come here, Bigger," he said.

He followed Max to the window and saw in the distance the tips of sun-drenched buildings in the Loop.

"See all those buildings, Bigger?" Max asked, placing an arm about Bigger's shoulders. He spoke hurriedly, as though trying to mold a substance which was warm and pliable, but which might soon cool.

"Yeah. I see 'em . . ."

"You lived in one of them once, Bigger. They're made out of steel and stone. But the steel and stone don't hold 'em together. You know what holds those buildings up, Bigger? You know what keeps them in place, keeps them from tumbling down?"

Bigger looked at him, bewildered.

"It's the belief of men. If men stopped believing, stopped having faith, they'd come tumbling down. Those buildings sprang up out of the hearts of men, Bigger. Men like you. Men kept hungry, needing, and those buildings kept growing and unfolding. You once told me you wanted to do a lot of things. Well, that's the feeling that keeps those buildings in their places . . ."

"You mean . . . You talking about what I said that night, when I said I wanted to do a lot of things?" Bigger's voice came quiet, childlike in its tone of hungry wonder."

"Yes. What you felt, what you wanted, is what keeps those buildings standing there. When millions of men are desiring and longing, those buildings grow and unfold. But, Bigger, those buildings aren't growing any more. A few men are squeezing those buildings tightly in their hands. The buildings can't unfold, can't feed the dreams men have, men like you . . ."

"B-b-but what they hate me for?" Bigger asked.

"The men who own those buildings are afraid. They want to keep what they own, even if it makes others suffer. In order to keep it, they push men down in the mud and tell them that they are beasts. But men, men like you, get angry and fight to reenter those buildings, to live again. Bigger, you killed. That was wrong. That was not the way to do it."

"I always wanted to do something," Bigger mumbled.

They were silent and Max did not speak again until Bigger looked at him. Max closed his eyes.

"Mr. Max, you go home. I'm all right. . . . Sounds funny, Mr. Max, but when I think about what you say I kind of feel what I wanted. It makes me feel I was kind of right. . . ." Max opened his mouth to say something and Bigger drowned out his voice. "I ain't trying to forgive nobody and I ain't asking for nobody to forgive me. I ain't going to cry. They wouldn't let me live and I killed. Maybe it ain't fair to kill, and I reckon I really didn't want to kill. But when I think of what all the killing was, I begin to feel what I wanted, what I am . . ."

Bigger saw Max back away from him with compressed lips. But he felt he had to make Max understand how he saw things now.

"I didn't want to kill!" Bigger shouted. "But what I killed for, I am! It must've been pretty deep in me to make me kill! I must have felt it awful hard to murder. . . ."

Max lifted his hand to touch Bigger, but did not.

"No; no; no . . . Bigger, not that. . . ." Max pleaded despairingly.

"What I killed for must've been good!" Bigger's voice was full of frenzied anguish. "It must have been good! When a man kills, it's for something . . . I didn't know I was really 'em . . . It's the truth, Mr. Max. I can say it now, 'cause how it sounds, but I'm all right. I feel all right when I look at it that way . . ."

Max's eyes were full of terror. Several times his body moved nervously, as though he were about to go to Bigger; but he stood still.

"I'm all right, Mr. Max. Just go and tell Ma I was all right and not to worry none, see? Tell her I was all right and wasn't crying none."

Max's eyes were wet. Slowly he extended his hand. Bigger shook it.

"Goodbye, Bigger," he said quietly.

"Goodbye, Mr. Max."

Max groped for his hat like a blind man; he found it and jammed it on his head. He felt for the door, keeping his face averted. He poked his arm through and signaled for the guard. When he was let out he stood for a moment, his back to the steel door. Bigger grasped the bars with both hands.

"Mr. Max . . ."

"Yes, Bigger." He did not turn around.

"I'm all right. For real, I am."

"Goodbye, Bigger."

"Goodbye, Mr. Max."

Max walked down the corridor.

"Mr. Max!"

Max paused, but did not look.

"Tell . . . Tell Mister . . . Tell Jan hello . . ."

"All right, Bigger."

"Goodbye."

"Goodbye."

He still held on to the bars. Then he smiled a faint, wry, bitter smile. He heard the ring of steel against steel as a far door clanged shut.

THE END.

A CLOSED LETTER TO THE GANG

A Story of Love and Disappointment and Love and Etc.

By JOHN KINLOCH
STRICTLY RESTRICTED
To the Following Persons:

Adele B. and Emma and Alice and J. Cullen and Bill Smallwood and THE GANG AT MARV's and Vera and Charlesetta and Julie and Phillippa and Jessie-honey and Joan and Martin and Rene and Carmel and John Oscar Hayes.

IF YOU'RE NOT ONE OF THESE EGGS, read no more, cause this isn't meant for public consumption, and who the hell are you to go prying into other people's mail, which is a Federal offense. Now, not another word!—Cross your heart and hope to DIE!

Dear Chums,

I'd just as well pick up where I left off a few weeks ago, remember?—Oh. Well, anyway, it was in the middle of a mess.

Yvonne was cavorting around in my dreams, beautiful long dreams about a honeymoon for just us two. But even in the dream something was wrong. A little man kept popping in and out of the thing. GREETINGS, he said. GREETINGS FROM THE PRESIDENT, etc., he kept saying. I nearly went nuts.

Besides there were lumps in the bed. In the funniest damn places. There probably isn't a lumpless bed in the whole city of Washington, D. C. Especially when you're dreaming about the gal who used to live across the street, with the pigtails. Especially when you just saw her a few hours ago. All grown up, so to speak. All grown up in the right places with the right emphasis. All grown up and ready for love.

The only trouble is, my chums—the only trouble is somebody saw her first. She told me about him in those few breathless moments together. As a matter of fact, she didn't tell me about anything else. Just him.

I'm no Gable, you understand. But there I was all shaved and clean and sharp as a TACK. She never got around to noticing me, though, except once.

"You're pretty short, huh?" she said.

Quietly, I died. Right on the spot.

A little later at the CLUB CAVERN, where my old friend, WILLIE BRYANT, was master of ceremonies with the usual cracks, only more so—I looked her over, from top to toe. What an excursion! It was only then that I started tying shoelaces with my elbows. Otherwise, I was perfectly normal. Room temperature hadn't gone up but the heat was terrific. That's all.

I was a gone goose and I didn't even ration myself.

Make An Impression, John!

Well, I started doing that business with my right eyebrow, but she thought the smoke was affecting me and sent for a bromo. I'd never tasted the stuff before, and I'll tell you it's quite an experience. Haven't sobered up yet. CLUB CAVERN hasn't cleaned up yet.

That's where I left off a few weeks ago. That's where I thought I left off. That's where things just began to happen.

(There are too many first person singulars in this letter. Too many "I's". Which isn't good taste. Hereafter, every other "I" with be represented by "R." See what R mean?)

Next morning, after the lumpy dreams, she took the day off to show me around our nation's capital on account of R am an old friend and nothing more. Every once in a while I snatched madly at her hand, but, quick as a flash, she'd start pointing with a remark, "And OVER THERE is the Lincoln Memorial!" Honest to God, one time three passersby reported her as a fascist agitator! I cleared that up, though, R told the cops she had a statue of Liberty complex.

Later on

She had a surprise for me, she said. As homeward we wended our way, she told me.

"A big surprise," she said. "I know you'll like him. Really like him, I mean."

R caught on. MOVE OVER, quoth the heart of me to my right great toe.

There He Was

No getting out of it. That was he, as the Better Grammar people put it.

"How do you do?" he remarked, with military elegance, sergeant's stripes staring at me from every corner of him.

Hullo, I said.

Yeah. That was him, and I don't give a dam how it's said. Tall. Smooth. Tarzan with a G. I. zoot suit. A jungle lion come for his mate. Whatta man!

One good thing. My friend Rene had happened in from Ft. Belvoire, and he's a pretty chesty character in his own right. The four of us stood there. The other three didn't understand with what an effort.

Rene and I soon left. The Lion had something Terribly Important to tell her, private.

It's always nice walking down the street with Rene. The prettiest girls start smiling at you. But even this didn't help. I felt BAD.

He Had To Go

It turned out that the Lion wasn't such a beast, after all. Anyway, he wasn't any holy terror to the armed forces. They didn't mind ordering him deep into the heart of Military Information. Yvonne cried all night long. She told me.

Military Information turned out to be not half so near a battlefield as we might have expected, which is too bad, since it virtually removes any chance of the Lion becoming a Hero of the Republic, even posthumously, i. e., even after he is croaked.

Well, there we were, Yvonne and me, a couple of broken hearts. Naturally, our conversation was on a high plane, almost stratospheric. OH, THE EMPTY HOURS, she kept remarking.

I told her, in my best journalist manner, that this needn't be at all. There is life throbbing about you, I said. There is America fighting a war of survival. There is world straining at its chains. The spirit of freedom is abroad in the land, and the oppressor's rights are challenged, from Mississippi to Sevastopol, as they have never been challenged before.

Works For Eagle

Now she's here in Los Angeles filling those EMPTY HOURS as a bright young reporter for the EAGLE.

Love?

I'll be durned if it ain't STILL that blast buck sergeant.

PHOOEY!

"When we get home to the mansions above,
With the loved ones gone over before,
Who can tell what a joy that will be
There to live and rejoice evermore;
Angels will praise, the Redeemer will smile,
And loved ones we'll clasp by the hand;
Free from all pain, far beyond earthly stain,
We shall dwell in that beautiful land."

"Chas. Edwards and His Visit To Berlin Germany"

By Charles Edwards
(An Exclusive California Eagle Serial)
HITLER SPEAKS!

The California Eagle takes sincere pride in presenting the first public presentation of the mission fulfilled by America's number one youth leader, Charles Edwards, on his "Assignment to Berlin." What has gone on before Mr. Edwards recalled your memory to December, 1941, when war was declared. He now attempts to expose the facts of why. He recalled his dramatic journey through Berlin, Germany, between May, 1937, and September, 1939, during which time he was granted a personal interview with Adolf Hitler. The purpose of his interview was to try to understand and explain to the World Christian Youth Conference the aspirations of the German government.

Mr. Edwards told of "Mein Kampf"—not revealing nearly all of Hitler's plans. He has entered the reich capital and has gained entrance into the private office of the Chancellor. Many questions have passed between Mr. Hitler and Mr. Edwards, among them being the future of Europe and the rest of the world and Germany's part in creating a new order.

"It is a good idea," Hitler said emphatically, "to have at least two German societies in every country. One of them can always call attention to its loyalty to the country in question, and will have the functions of fostering social and economic connections. The other one may be radical and revolutionary. It will have to be prepared to be frequently repudiated by myself and other German authorities. I want to make it quite clear, too, that I make no distinction between German nationals and Germans by birth who are citizens of a foreign country. Superficially we shall have to make allowances for such citizenship. But it will be your special task to train all Germans without distinction, unconditionally to place their loyalty to Germandom before their loyalty to the foreign state. Only this way will we be able to fulfill the difficult task I shall give to members of a world embracing secret service. I will leave to their own discretion the means by which they will train their fellow Germans to this new discipline. It will not always be possible without friction. For me success is the only criterion. The means are of no interest to me. But whoever opposes us should know that he has nothing more to expect from the German Reich. He will be outlawed for all time. And in due course he will reap the fruits of his treacherous attitude."

"It will depend upon the German People whether we reach our goal with comparative ease and without bloodshed. We must prepare the ground. Germany will spread it's might far beyond it's borders in the east as well as in the southeast. We will have the same duties overseas, Forget all we have learned hitherto. We do not seek equality, but mastery. We shall not waste time over minority rights and other such idealogical abortions of sterile democracy. When Germany is great and victorious no one will dare to give any of the German people the cold shoulder. It is our mission to win this leading role for Germany.

If we succeed, then the German people will be called to leadership, unhampered by agreements and legal red tape. It will be our task to lead these conquered countries in the name of the German People. My world embracing Secret Service shall be my viceroys in the countries and among the people, What has been our handicap—the splitting, the century-long impotence of the German Reich, leaving millions of the best Germans to emigrate and become the natural fertilizer for other countries this is our pride. Just as the Jews became the all embracing world power they are to-day only in their dispersal, so shall we to-day, as the true chosen people of God, become in our dispersal the omnipresent power, the masters of the earth.

IGH WHIPPER GREAT IN MISSION TO MOSCOW"

By Harry Levette

st about the most impressive ode in a feature that has lit- opportunity for the exciting sical action that facilitates rtainment in a motion pic- ." was Haile Selassie's speech re the League of Nations at eva. It was delivered by h Whipper as the self-exiled narch of Ethiopia, who fled England to seek aid for his ntry, then reeling under the ws of the invading Italians. med from the book "Mission Moscow," by former ambassa- Joseph E. Davies, it is pre- inated by revelatory facts ut Russia. Many great po- al figures then (1936) and still in the headlines are de- ted, but the story actually rts when the ruler of Ethiopia, ember of the League of Na- ns, went before that body to ad for its action against ag- ssor Italy, according to League aties and promises.

Whipper, who because of his tures, made almost a living rtrait of the sad-faced, but in- mitable monarch, mastered the abic dialect, and threw all e power, pathos and warning, to the address that brought alism to the role. Excerpts from s speech were:

"I am Haile Selassie. I come to u from my country, Ethiopia. come to remind you of a prom- e made to my people fifty-two onths ago, that if a larger and ggressor nation attacked them. at you would, as the League of ations, take action against it. The invaders threaten the very xistence of my people and of e.—I have refused all offers om the Italian government to etray my people, and become a uppet for them; rather would I e.—I pray for your action to pare the terrible affliction vis- ed upon my country and my eople.—but I warn you! I feel my duty to the representatives f the many governments as- embled here at Geneva to warn ou! If you sit idly by and allow y small country to be despoiled, o small country will be safe. If ou fail us, God and history will ring judgment upon you!" hese were his closing words, nd Whipper's deliverance of em makes you feel as if you ere right there at the council able.

The rest of the picture shows igns of Selassie's warning com- g true in Germany's growing ower, and signs of things to ome, witnessed by Davies in ermany, and other countries hile en route to Moscow. There is a sensational sequence in the trial and confession of fifth columnists during the historical "purge" in Russia which Davies witnessed. Davies is played by Walter Huston, Mrs. Davies by Ann Harding; "Litvinoff" Oscar Homolka; "Secretary Cordell Hull," Charles Trowbridge; "Anthony Eden," Clive Morgan, "Pierre Laval," Alex Xhirva, "Mrs. Litvinov," Barbara Everest.

The picture is good entertainment as well as food for thought, and it is one the world will talk about long after the war is over.

Durham Civic Leader Formally Opens Officers' Club, F. K. Watkins, South's Movie King Active In Recreation Work for Soldiers

DURHAM, N. C.—Fulfilling a long felt need in this city since the establishment of Camp Butner, F. K. Watkins, former movie king who amassed a fortune in the days of silent films last Friday evening formally opened an Officers' Club in his palatial home in the residential section here. Mr. Watkins, widely known for his philanthropy and interest in affairs pertaining to the race has been greatly concerned about the recreational doings of members of the Armed forces who frequently visit the "Friendly City" for relaxation. Popularly known as "King," he was the first Negro to serve on the Democratic ticket in the South as a Judge. This widely acclaimed humanitarian in commenting on the conversion of his home for the benefit of the Commissioned Officers said, "no sacrifice is too great for any one to make in behalf of these many men whose sacrificial doings are reflected in their anxiety to fight for the preservation of this country which is the world's only true democracy. A number of men in the armed forces had to make tremendous sacrifices and under all circumstances citizens here and in all sections of the country should consider any opportunity to make the officers feel at home, a privilege." Officers from all parts of the country were present at the opening and Mr. Watkins extended an invitation to Officers from everywhere to make the Officers Club their headquarters while in the area. Some time ago "King" turned over headquarters of his personally owned Democratic Club to a number of young persons in order that soldiers and non-commissioned officers may be ideally entertained. Active in religious and civic affairs in his community, Mr. Watkins has contributed in no small measure to the uplift of his people. He is a 32nd degree Mason and also holds membership in the Pythians, Odd Fellows and Elks Fraternal Orders. For 20 years he has been a Grand Lodge Officer of the Elks and has organized Elks Clubs in Cuba and all sections of the United States. He is President of the United Democratic Association of North Carolina, the only social and political Club for Negroes in the South.

"The Prophet Is Always The True World Reformer"

Sponsored by the Baha'i Faith, Mrs. Charles Reed Bishop will speak Sunday, May 30, at 3 p. m., 1709 West 8th Street, on: "THE WORLD REFORMER: BAHA'U'LLAH". She says, in part: "The prophet is always the true world reformer, for he has the power of the Holy Spirit, which transforms the minds and hearts of men. Then these changed men, carried forward by the impetus of this same transforming power, can alter the pattern of human society. For this particular prophetic cycle, Baha'u'llah, the great world reformer and educator, has brought the message of universality, which is the key today. It is the age of mankind's maturity; the age for universal education; agreement between science and religion, and unity between all religions, through recognition that revelation is not final but progressive, its message being renewed from age to age by successive prophets of God, who adapt its outer forms to the needs of the times. 'Baha'u'llah,' she quotes, 'has envisaged the establishment of a world commonwealth in which all nations, races, creeds and classes are closely and permanently united, and in which the autonomy of its state members and the personal freedom and initiative of the individuals that compose them are definitely and completely safeguarded." On Wednesday evening, June 2, at 8 p. m., at the same address, she will hold an informal gathering for questions and answers. Everyone is welcome to all Baha's programs—there are no charges or collections.

"The Powers Girl" And "Three Hearts For Julia" Now At United Artists Theatre Downtown Los Angeles

Film audiences will be thankful for the fact that "The Powers Girl," now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, serves solely the cause of entertainment—and serves it nobly.

"The Powers Girl" is one of those films that strike home equally with men and women. The reason is simple; the picture deals heavily in glamor. The allure for the males is the strong display of pulchritude inspired by the nature of the story. The attraction for the women—and a potent attraction it is—is the lavish fashion display put on by the gals in the picture, not to speak of the presence of George Murphy, who turns on the charm all the way as the fast-moving, irresponsible, magazine photographer. Boy meets girl when the latter's sister (Carole Landis), a glamor gal dying to be a model, threatens to sue the mag over a picture of Miss Shirley, her sister, run without approval.

Down in Front

With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

THE COMEBACK KID
They thought he was down and out,
Thru with knowing what it was all about;
He fooled them, alas and alack;
The Kid came all the way back!

Bob Montgomery, New York's version of the lightweight champion of the world, may be unlike Joe Gans, himself a wearer of the lightweight crown, in many respects. But on one count he rates right up there with The Old Master. And that's heart.

Gans, referred to by old-timers "as the closest thing to a superman as the lightweight division ever produced," finally succumbed to the dreaded tuberculosis germ.

He won the lightweight title from Frank Erne, May 12, 1902, at Ft. Erie, in one of the quickest championship fights on record. Before that, in 1900, at the Baltimore Athletic club, Gans had quit in the 12th round to Erne when the latter opened a gash over Gans' left eye.

Because The Old Master, who came out of Baltimore, had trouble training down to the lightweight limit, he fought welterweights, including "names" like Jimmy Britt, Sam Langford and Joe Walcott.

The lightweight division was where the money was in those days, and Gans, wanting to see that his wife and two children had enough to take care of their needs, would shed poundage. But that was his undoing.

It was his first meeting with Battling Nelson that produced the first serious effects of the dreaded TB germ. The training grind that led up to their Sept. 3 meeting in 1906 took its toll, but Gans kept his title on a foul in the 42nd round. Subsequently Gans lost his crown to Nelson in San Francisco, and then dropped another verdict to the Battler at Colma in the 21st round.

AILMENTS BROUGHT OUT "HEART"

His health impaired and knowing it, The Old Master fought once more, announced his retirement and was advised to go to Arizona where the climate might have helped him to effectively combat the disease. That was in 1910, and a short time thereafter, knowing the end was near, he asked to be taken to his home where he passed away.

Heart was a dominant factor in his three gruelling meetings with Bat Nelson, and because of it, and his ring savvy and punching power he went down in boxing history as one by whom subsequent lightweight champions had to be judged.

But Friday night in the white glare of the lights in Madison Square Garden, "Bobcat" Montgomery, also proved he had what is called heart.

Near the top of the lightweight heap for the past several years, this 24-year-old fighter who makes Philadelphia his home, had trouble with his tonsils in 1940, had an operation. He continued to fight, winning some, losing some, never seeming to possess his old-time endurance and punch.

In 1942 doctors determined that the Bobcat was a very sick man. Poison from infected tonsil tissue forced him to submit to another tonsillectomy. This time it worked. He regained his old form. Maxie Shapiro, Chester Rico, Lulu Constantino, Roman Alvarez, Gene Johnson, Henry Vasquez and then last Friday night, lightweight kingpin Beau Jack—all felt the sting and dynamite in the "Bobcat's" thudding fists.

So far as New York is concerned, Montgomery is the reigning lightweight, conqueror of poison which threatened to end his career, just as tuberculosis some 37 years before brought the shooting star who was Joe Gans, The Old Master, to earth.

Bill Smith In So. Cal. Spike Meet; Prep Stars Wind Up Season, Too

Bill Smith, former Belmont High and San Jose State one-man track team, has filed an entry in the Southern California invitational track championships to be held here Saturday, it was noted yesterday.

Employed at Calship, Smith will be an unattached entrant in the open 100-yard dash, high jump and broad jump.

Jefferson High School will be after its seventh straight city title in the All-City prep track finals at the Coliseum Saturday, but is in for more competition she has had during her long reign.

University, Huntington Park, Manual Arts, Marshall, Belmont, and Fremont, are all strong contenders for the title.

With Leon Gay, Jeff's brilliant hurdler, again scheduled to lead the Eastside school's forces, the Democrats have a lad who has yet to be beaten this season in the low hurdles, boasting a time of 19.7s.

She lost all chances of capturing her 9th straight relay title last week when her mighty mile relay team was disqualified in the preliminaries. The baton was dropped when it was being passed to the anchor man.

Jefferson holds an unofficial world's record in the mile relay of 2m. 58.2s, set in 1938.

Corp. Frank Batiste, former Pasadena Junior College track ace, supplied the only cause for sepia joy Saturday in the Fresno Relays when he won the servicemen's 100-yard dash in 10.2s. Representing March Field, he won a trial heat in 10.1s.

AIR RAID WARNING TO CITIZENS

All citizens are asked to fill bath tubs and other water containers at the time an air raid warning is sounded, so that water may be available to fight fires in case water mains are disrupted by bombing.

At the same time, all unnecessary use of water, as for example in lawn sprinklers, should be stopped.

This was the two-point recommendation of the Citizens Defense Corps made yesterday by Chief Engineer John H. Alderson of the fire department, following consultation with Chief Engineer H. A. Van Norman of the Bureau of Water Works and Supply.

Citizens' Defense Corps personnel are to be asked to call wide public attention and urge compliance with the recommendation which follows:

"1. At the time of an air raid alarm citizens are urged to fill bath tubs and other water containers for use as emergency supplies. In the event the water system is disrupted, such supplies will provide air raid wardens, fire watchers, other enrolled services and citizens with sufficient water to control incipient fires whether used in stirrup pumps, pump tanks, or in any other manner.

"2. At the time of an air raid, all unnecessary use of water, particularly in lawn sprinklers, should be immediately discontinued and not resumed until after the all-clear is sounded."

OFFICIAL NEWS OF CIVILIAN

How scientific nutrition affects everyone's lives in wartime is being shown in a new exhibit which opened Sunday, May 16, at the Exposition Park county museum, it was announced by Dr. C. Morley Sellery, chairman of the food and nutrition committee of the city and county Citizens Service Corps.

The exhibit is a visual education course in food and nutrition as applied to the armed forces, civilian needs, and American lend-lease commitments.

Worlds In Shaky Win Over Nibert

Clayton Worlds, the Chicago beanpole heavyweight who went the limit with highly regarded Turkey Thompson last week, won a dull 10-round decision over Red Nibert here Tuesday night at Olympic auditorium.

Nibert, weighing 182, to Worlds 195, is a local semi-wind-up fighter and made Worlds look just about as bad as the latter made Thompson look last week.

Winning the majority of the rounds, Worlds supplied his margin with a snaky left hand and right crosses of the powder puff variety. There were no knockdowns. Worlds, however, did open a cut over Nibert's right eye in the third.

Nibert's best rounds were the fourth and fifth when he discovered he could hit the Chicagoan with right crosses and overhand rights to the head.

The verdict was unanimous. Bill Kirschner being the referee.

Sgt. Gaston Miller, 169, and Babe Edwards, 171, fought a thrilling semi-windup of four rounds, but referee Frankie Van called it a draw. This corner had the sergeant in front.

It was such a good match that matchmaker Babe McCoy will headline it next week with four other six-round action bouts.

Other results: Jack Scott, 223, technically knocked out Roy Kramer, 219, in the first round; Don McLean, 121, nodded Eli Galindo, 121, in four heats; Jimmy Wilson, 172, defeated Flash Gordon, 171; and Ralph Lee, 159, decisioned Bob Lacey, 167, in the opener.

United Jewish Welfare Fund Gets Under Way

Stop the murder of the innocent by Hitler!

With this their theme, committees in every neighborhood have completed organization plans for the most significant United Jewish Welfare Fund campaign in history and volunteers are ready to go into the field on Thursday, May 27, when individual solicitation begins.

"Rescue of as many Jewish victims from Nazi extermination as possible, while there is yet time, is the keynote of this year's campaign," explain Ben R. Meyer, Welfare Fund president, and Charles Brown, campaign chairman.

"Chief beneficiaries are the United Jewish Appeal relief agencies which have been working overtime in saving men, women and children from annihilation and giving them a chance to join in the battle and production fronts in the world struggle for freedom. Funds also are being sought to carry on humanitarian, educational, health and child care services in the home front," they said.

Nationally known speakers have come to Los Angeles to take part in pre-campaign events. Jan Struther, author of Britain's beloved "Mrs. Miniver" and an active worker in war relief, made the principal address at a huge luncheon Monday in the Ambassador Hotel, which opened campaign activities of the Women's Division.

RING BOARD PUTS BURLEY ON SHELF

Charley Burley and Holman Williams have been found "ill and unavailable" by the State Athletic commission of California and have been put on the shelf for two weeks, J. M. Grenshlea, commission secretary, informed the press this week.

Their recent bout at Hollywood Legion stadium was stopped in the final round by referee Abe Roth "for the good of the game."

Burley is out with an injured hand, Williams with an injured forehead.

Others on the "ill and unavailable" list are Manuel Plazza, S. F. boxer, two weeks, injured eye; and James O. Smith, local boxer, indefinite, injured jaw.

Other action taken by the commission included: Reinstatements: Bill McGee, Palo Alto boxer, effective May 18; Chas. W. Morris, Stockton boxer, effective May 22.

Contracts filed: Joe Proo, boxer—Jerry Hershey Streeter, manager, effective May 3, for five years; Lee Chalky Wright, boxer—Joe Stanley, manager effective May 3, for three years; Leroy Wade, boxer — Dolph Thomas, manager, effective May 12, for five years.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Mexico, May 28—He came, saw and conquered, the gamest gentleman that ever tackled a mammoth enterprise such as Caliente during these wartime restrictions. That is what the public is saying about the popular generalissimo Eddie Nealis.

The new boss has done things that even the sophisticated said couldn't be done. Believing that "Nothing ventured, nothing gained," the generalissimo ventured . . . and conquered.

With no future war restrictions, Caliente will enjoy one of the greatest meetings in its history. You can hear the people say when they greet each other, "Gee, it's great to have a place to go now on Sundays."

The sport of kings seems to do so much for the nerves, and the thrills and excitement of watching the galloping thoroughbreds refreshes one, after a hard week of work.

Long may Caliente enjoy the success that started off in gala style.

Nearly seven thousand again visited the race course Sunday. They enjoyed the twelve race card that was arranged by that jovial, genial judge and racing secretary, Joe Walter.

Most of the races were close finishes, thus adding to the excitement. One was so close that it was difficult to tell from the photograph of the finish, the results of the race.

It was a dead heat for second place between Alfy and Paula's Lulu in the feature race of the day. The race was won by that good two-year-old, Flying Sir, the favorite. Thus far, 50 per cent of the favorites have been winning, which is an unusually high average.

The first foul claim of the meeting was disallowed after the stewards decided that Flying Sir did not bore over on Alfy.

Armando Verdugo, assistant to the president, now has things working like a clock. A new addition has been installed for the betters of the Daily-Double, and Quinela, and it has relieved the congestion and betting in the books.

Miss Snark, winner of the eighth race, was the only longshot that made the Take-a-Chance fans cheer, returning her backers $43.60 for $2. The daily-double paid $37, while the Quinela, known as The Nightcap, rewarded the lucky holders of the combination $44.80.

There you have it. The highlights of the second Sunday of races at beautiful Caliente, just south of the border, down Mexico way.

So until next Sunday, when another card of twelve races will be enjoyed by the lovers of the sport of kings, so-long.

Around the Rings

George Tolson, standout manager, trainer and developer of such box fighters as John Thomas, Georgie Crouch and Leon Zorrita, et cetera, has bought Bobby Yaeger's contract.

This fine young lightweight put up a swell winning battle against Lupe Gonzales two weeks ago at Ocean Park. Gonzales went on down to San Diego and whipped Cleo Shans.

And now, Tolson has sent Yaeger up north with Jimmy Brooks. He fights for Benny Ford in San Francisco next Monday, and on the John Thomas-Jimmy Florita card in Oakland June 2. Brooks recently whipped Jack Byrd, the Arkansas Traveler, in 10 heats in Las Vegas, and fights for Ford Wednesday.

Thomas and middleweight Bobby Birch have been going thru some spirited workouts at the Central A. C. under the watchful Tolson eye.

Thomas, whose last two tiffs were those sensational, though losing ones, with Willie Joyce and Slugger White, thinks that of the two he would have less difficulty with the Slugger if they meet again.

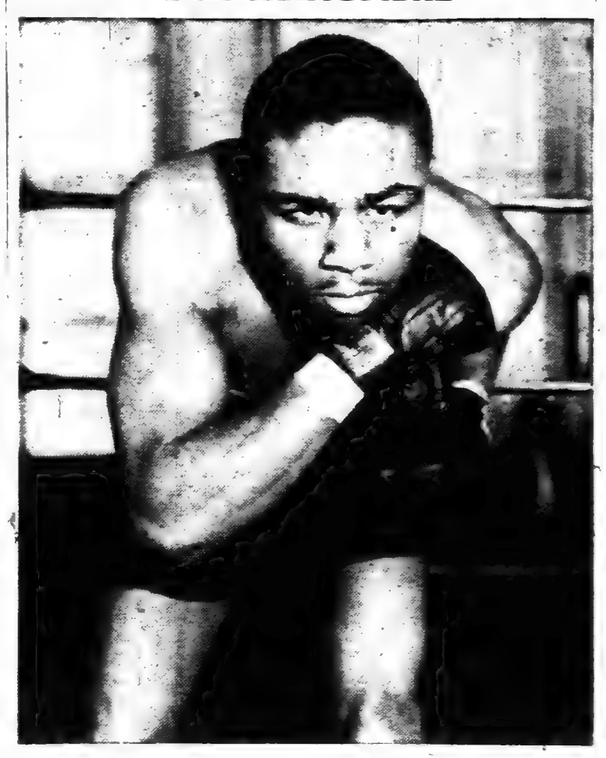
Birch, who is making a comeback, goes against Kenny La Salle Monday at Ocean Park.

Saw tubby Turkey Thompson in the gym, a spectator at the time. He was leaving to go on his defense job. Sure would like to see this likable and highly regarded heavy get more action.

Come on, promoters! What's happened to Watson Jones.

Jack Chase gets another shot at state middleweight champion Archie Moore on June 7, but it won't be for the title. Moore recently lifted the diadem from Chase's brow in San Diego.

It was close though, according to my info. The referee had Moore winning by but two points, via the Australian system. The last round told the tale.



Chase is a diligent and thorough worker in the gym.

Missed seeing Slugger White workout at Main Street for his tiff tomorrow night with the Fancy Dan, Julio Caesar Jiminez. Did meet manager Sam Lampe, who has quite a potent stable.

Ran into friend Tommy Farmer, too. His bantam kingpin, Manuel Ortiz, went against Joe Robleto in a title fight at Long Beach last night as we went to press. He says what little news—and that's not authentic—he has of Tommy Martin, the British-heavy he campaigned on the coast before the war, is not the best he had hoped for.

TOUGH HOMBRE

YOU'RE LOOKING squarely into the eyes of Luther (Slugger) White, the dangerous lightweight who meets Julio Jiminez tomorrow night at Hollywood Legion stadium. White has been inked to box Juan Zurita June 15 at Olympic auditorium.

Slugger Battles Mexican Find In Legion Headliner

Luther (Slugger) White, recognized by Maryland as lightweight champion of the world, tops the week's local fistic card when he climbs through the ropes tomorrow night at Hollywood Legion stadium to face Julio Jiminez in the 10-round main event.

Jiminez, a 22-year-old Mexican out of Yucatan, scored before Hollywood fans when he recently defeated Billy Hardges who had compiled an impressive knockout record. In another top bout he defeated Gene Valenzuela.

Friday's card will give Legion fans their first look at the Maryland buzz-saw. Rated No. 3 in the NBA standings back of Sammy Angott and Beau Jack, White has had five fights in California since last March.

He stopped George Morelia and Jackie Byrd and defeated John Thomas at the Olympic, stopped Vern Bybee in San Francisco and knocked out Jose Mendoza at Stockton.

Pee Wee Lewis, stable mate of the Slugger, trades punches with Elwood Romero in the six-round semi-windup.

Last Friday night at the film arena under the Juan Zurita-Henry Vasquez main event, Acey Haynesworth, 164, technically knocked out Bernie Cardenas in the fourth round of the semi-windup. The bout was a free punching affair, with Cardenas down for a nine count in the second and a five in the third.

Back-pedaling Vasquez afforded little more than a workout for Zurita until he chose to take the aggressive, which wasn't often. Zurita, winning fairly easily, receipted for a punch to the jaw at the end of the tenth that had him on the verge of a knockout.

White-Zurita Inked For June 15 At Olympic

Hottest local lightweight natural of the season was signed Monday by Matchmaker Babe McCoy for June 15 at Olympic Auditorium when he paired Luther (Slugger) White, Maryland's claimant to the world lightweight crown, and Juan Zurita, Mexico's lightweight king, who has swept through the field of lightweights in California the past two years.

It's for ten rounds at 135 pounds.

McCoy finally closed the attractive fight after weeks of dickering with Sam Lampe and George Parnassus, respective managers of White and Zurita.

The lightweights are fighting in top form.

Zurita smashed out a clean cut victory over Henry Vasquez last Friday night at Hollywood Legion Stadium. Just a few weeks ago Vasquez lost a close duke to Bob Montgomery, who won the New York version of the lightweight crown last Friday night when he trounced Beau Jack in Madison Square Garden.

Beau Jack recently turned down an offer of $35,000 to box Zurita here.

In sixteen fights in the lightweight class under the wing of George Parnassus, Zurita was shaded in only five rounds by the count of ringside experts. Just a few months ago the popular Mexican punched out a one-sided win over Vern Bybee in San Francisco, and stopped Eddie Marcus at Hollywood Stadium.

One of the sad happenings of 1943 was the pasing of Clarence Coffin while his wife was in the hospital. The doctors didn't whisper the news to Lottie, his wife, until she was a proud mother of an 8-pound baby.

Women in all walks of life on the coast are doing aircraft work, riveting or working on defense, including piano players, concert singers, ballet dancers, movie stars, night club vocalists, beauticians, manicurists and playgirls.

32 Dollar question: How long will Bill Robinson's Born Happy play at the Biltmore Theatre in Los Angeles with Noble Sissle, Earl Dancer, Montan Morland and Pigmeat Markins, shows also exhibiting nightly?

16 Dollar question: What man with a big name living in the Dunbar Hotel, Los Angeles, bet four thousand dollars on Henry Armstrong at 11 to 5 to beat Beau Jack and lost?

When Dee Dee Hackett arrived in Frisco from Seattle, she was asked did she want to step out. Her answer was "That's what I'm here for," so the Boob played the after hours spots until 6 a. m. and then got good night at the door.

Joyce Boyd, of the Shirley Apartments on Laguna and Geary streets is offering 50 bucks for anyone that gets her an apartment as she must move next week.

The party living in the seventeen hundred block on Webster had better ease up a little as those 2 chicks you had in the Alabam t'other night are not on the loose. Why can't you get a gal of your own?

Mrs. Bessie Jones, 1716 Webster street, is rich with her three apartments, all paid for. She gets very chesty at times, telling this writer to get ready and move on the first of the month but it's no dice.

Mr. Walter Hawkins of Cherryland fame things all soldiers in uniform are sucker-gamblers. Walter played one t'other night and the soldier sent him to the cleaners for one hundred bucks.

Frank Sluggin Brown bets the wrong way on all fights. He's now over 5 Gs in the red.

Barney McNeal and wife still playing hard and tossing away coin.

Did you see Miss Henrietta Whitby and her corporal brother and a party of friends doing the spots t'other night, spending plenty of dough?

Hattie Cherry, nurse in a local hospital—why get so ritzy at times? Nobody is going to ask you for nothing.

Yvonne has skipped to Los Angeles to see J. B. Brown. She's silly about him.

Frank Winburn, Vera Hamilton, L. D. Benton and Naomi Gibson having a good time playing the spots.

John Henry, Cuba Davis, George Childs, Mustard Arnold, Leon Alexander, Bob Miles and Fred Pugh—why don't you act like other men do and stop stalling?

If you can beat Slats Regan, Larry Sweetwine, Bud Londy and Dan Jones, mixologists, sliding drinks down the bar, come and get my watch.

Vera Marshall, the rich waitress at Jacks, has walked out on several of her boy friends, as if it's a joke.

Mildred Iva—you seem to be hard boiled some times. I wonder why.

Mary, the new girl at Jack's, looks as if she is all set for a rich catch, if she knows all the answers.

Miss Tillie McCovey — you were tops doing the spots last night.

Jess Wilson is playing hard in Frisco and his ex-wife, Velda, is playing hard in Los Angeles.

Gert Simpson and Skeeter Bentley went to Stockton to a birthday party and ordered up a poker party and were clipped for their bankroll—some boobs.

Earl Bolles, around every night with his ukelele having some fun, racking the drinks up for his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Rooster Hammond from Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Price from Cleveland were entertained to the highest first in San Francisco and while in Los Angeles. They were the center of attraction everywhere they went with their expensive jewelry and fur coats.

Georgie Parker and Bad Boy Billie Bell, two merchant marine boys, have just arrived from a long cruise in the South Pacific. The boys at Jack's Tavern are still going great thanks to George Neeley. The Club is packed every night. The orchestra is featuring Nouvella Maxie on drums, Eric Sims on bass—he is really another Walt Page. If you don't believe it, drop in and see for yourself. The boys are really good.

E. Waters and wife were having a swell time at Jack's Saturday night.

Christy Smith says "Hello" to his Los Angeles pals.

URGE MOTORISTS TO ENROLL IN LAND ARMY FOR VACATION WORK

By DON DeLEIGHBUR

With summer vacation travel restricted to the mileage limitations of an "A" book, the Automobile Club of Southern California today appealed to southland families to enroll in the Civilian Land Army—a volunteer "back to the farm" group pledged to salvage crops on manpower-starved farms, ranches and orchards.

"In past years the Automobile Club has guided motorists selecting summer vacation and recreational motor trips," declared Standish L. Mitchell, general manager of the motorists' organization. "This year, motoring vacations are restricted. Instead we urge Southern Californians to give serious consideration to the Civilian Land Army movement whereby so-called 'white-collar' workers can participate in a vital home-front project."

The Civilian Land Army is not designed for the "arm-chair patriot," Mitchell warned.

"There are no gaudy uniforms, no citations, no band-playing or flag waving for the men, women and children in the ranks of this army," Mitchell stated. "It's hard and unglamorous work. But it's healthy, you'll be paid for your vacation work, and Land Army enrollees will have the satisfaction of having turned in an honest-to-goodness war job.'

The state of California is actively in the Land Army picture, Mitchell advised. A State Farm Production Council, appointed by Gov. Earl Warren, is directing the farm labor recruitment program. Each county in the state is cooperating through offices of the Agricultural Extension Service. Complete information on the Civilian Land Army is available at the various offices of the U. S. Employment Service, the American Women's Voluntary Services, Agricultural Extension Service offices, and from local Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. offices.

Virginia Prince U. S. O. News

Exciting plans to increase the program and facilities of the Eastside Board meeting on May 18. Some of the leaders that were present at this time were Mr. A. J. Kelly Williams, chairman of the Board; Mr. Walter E. Gordan vice-chairman; Mr. Norman O. Houston, chairman of the Budget committee; Mrs. Jessee Grayson of the budget committee; Mrs. Ernestine Davidson of the House committee; Miss Carmelita White, member of the relocation committee; Miss Dorothy C. Guin, executive secretary of the Y. W. C. A.; Mr. Harold S. Prince, Executive Secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; and Miss Vye Aldridge, director of the U. S. O. All committees are now working strenuously, even overtime, to crystalize their plans for expanding the services of the Center. This Thursday every department of the U. S. O.'s activities will meet jointly with this Board for a very special meeting to discuss these plans.

A good looking sailor dashed into the U. S. O. last Sunday.

"Won't you have a bite to eat?" asked one of the Senior hostesses.

"Yes mam! That's what I came for," replied the sailor.

Well, that's the way it went all day. The news spread around to the service men that food of a "special type was available. 235 soldiers and sailors rallied to the call of the good food made available by Rahab Tent No. 1 Princess of Omar order of Calanthe, K. of P. The splendid menu that drew so to the call consisted of baked ham, potato salad, spaghetti, cheese sandwiches, potato chips, cookies, punch, and cigarettes. The members of this organization that participated are Princes Nona Hill, Grand Empress; Princes Jesse Brown, Post Grand Empress, who acted as Canteen chairman. Those serving on the Canteen committee are Princess Lula Walker, Catherine Hugh, Nona Hill, Anna Harris and Beatrice R. Sellers. Two other groups that likewise did an excellent job in the Canteen are the hostesses from the Hiawatha Temple No. 91, and the Progressive Club of Zion Hill Baptist Church.

Trips to army camps are also being planned by the U. S. O. Some of them will be to San Barnadino, Port Hueneme, Palm Springs, and an overnight trip on May 29-30, to Camp Lockette, to visit the 10th Cavalry are some of those anticipated. The camp made a request for 75 to 100 girls to be present, this has been keeping the U. S. O. office staff busy honoring requests of the many girls who telephone requesting to go on the trips.

Special award pins were presented to certain members of the U. S. O. that have volunteered 1,000 hours or more of their time for U. S. O. work. They are Mrs. Ernestine Davidson, chairman of the Senior Hostesses; Miss Mary Stamps, chairman of Junior hostesses; Miss Geraldine Jenkins, Mrs. Carol Moore, Miss Clara McLemore, Mrs. Lucille Jenkins, Mrs. Bertha Thomas, Margaret Bullock, and Mrs. Jewel Roberts, senior hostesses, and Rev. Anna McMillian of the Canteen department.

For information concerning U. S. O. activities call CE. 23772.

Boys' Pass Training Test

Only four boys from Jefferson took the test.

Boys' Victory Corps Started at Jefferson

The boys of Jefferson high school are now organizing their Victory Corps and have an enrollment of about one hundred boys, to date. At their first meeting, the boys gathered, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Marion Martino, with the idea of inaugurating a boys' corps. The girls of Jefferson have been organized ever since the national Victory Corps were started.

At the last meeting, which was held last week, the boys formed their council and appointed the leaders of the different groups. Rene Rivera, Harry Ca[illegible] Ben Walker, and Adrian Shi[illegible] and Raymond Smith are lead[illegible] such groups as: agriculture, under the sponsorship of Mr. Albert Guenzler; clean-up, under the sponsorship of Mr. William Reilly; and aeronautics, under the sponsorship of Mr. Theodore Neima.

A. W. V. S. NEWS

Saturday, the Gay Matrons sponsored the Canteen for the evening, and from all reports, it really was a gay affair! They served fruit punch, and such beautiful sandwiches, the servicemen thought it was cake, at their first glance. They also had all varieties of cigarettes. The famous Hightower band furnished the music for dancing. At 12:00, (the "Curfew Hour" for the Center) everyone was having such a grand time swinging and swaying to the excellent music, they didn't want to go home. Mrs. Edyth Wilson, Supervisor of the Canteen, promised them a repeat performance for every Saturday night.

Sunday morning, our ever faithful Sister Ada Russell, served breakfast to the servicemen. On Sunday morning, the 30th, she is having a Memorial Day breakfast. Since our entire organization is operated on voluntary contributions, we are asking your support to make the weekly breakfasts, a success, especially on the 30th. Come in and see for yourselves how much the boys enjoy it.

Sunday evening, we resumed our customary Vesper Hour, from 6 to 7:00. Sister Ada Russell opened the services with a prayer, accompanied by the electrical guitar of Mrs. Mae Talifero, and mandolin of Mr. Russo, a four minute silent meditation followed. The program consisted of; a vocal number by Mrs. Josephine Cooper, a reading by Mrs. F. Bady, a piano number by Mrs. Vivian Hoyt-Greene, who also sang a number. Guests for the evening were servicemen of the 75th and 175th Chemical Unit. Mrs. Lucille Bell was the Mistress of Ceremonies. Mrs. Lena Kirk wishes to thank all who attended.

The Keen-o Club met the past month with Mrs. Odessa Norton, and Mrs. Lillie Smothers. Mrs. Dora Swan of W. 35th St., was another lovely member added to our group. Plans are in the making to assist our new member, Mrs. Edith Wilson, chairman of AWVS Canteen, at entertaining the soldiers in the near future. Anna Lawrence, president. Edna Trotter, reporter.

Walder, under the management of Strains Harmon. The public is cordially invited to be present. Pastor of the church is Rev. A. C. Capers.

Chicken every Sunday—Taylor

Mother's boarders had chicken every Sunday, but as Mr. Robinson said, "I like your food, but what I like best about your place is the people you take in." There were the hell - bent - for - heaven Woolleys who were sure God had sent the skunk to hide under the house because the family didn't go to church on Sunday; and Rita Vlasak who loved anything in pants, including Father; and Miss Sally who loved Miss Sally who loved Miss Sally, and the Lathams who wanted to buy a gold mine.

Gideon Planish—Lewis

Three things directed Gideon's career. First there was Peony, the pert and cuddly little co-ed who followed the handsome young Dean Planish to the week-end cottage, married him, and kept constantly in love and in debt. Next he discovered he could eke out his stipend by lecturing to women's clubs. To clinch the matter, there was the first invitation to have his name listed as a national director on the stationery of a propaganda organization.

Army brat—Wadelton

Young Jim Tucker was an "army brat," which is an army term for youngsters born under the flag. This is the story of his life, of the mother he didn't remember well as she died when he was young; of Big Jim, his father, army born and bred; of Sui Jen, the Chinese house man who was both father and mother to young Jim.

One World—Wendell Willkie

In this book, Wendell Willkie gives a highly personal account of his meetings with Stalin, Chiang Kai-shek, General Montgomery, General Chennault and other United Nations leaders. He tells of his talks with prime ministers and kings, with teachers, soldiers, librarians, factory workers, and farmers around the world.

Round Trip to Russia—Graebner

This small segment of the Russian war panorama is written by a veteran reporter of "Time," "Life," and "Fortune"; Graebner was on the spot during most of the critical hours on the Russian front. He covered the visits of Winston Churchill and Wendell Willkie; he became familiar with collective farming, and he visited armies in the field.

Urban League Reports Increased Opportunities for Negro Social Workers

Movement of War Workers and Expansion of Community Welfare Services Creates Jobs.

Increased employment for Negro social workers is reported by the National Urban League which this week called attention to opportunities in many cities and communities for trained Negro men and women. The League finds that graduates of accredited schools of social work are in demand throughout the country, especially when they have had two or more years of profesional experience in private or public agencies. The League maintains a placement service for professionally-trained social workers, headed by Ann Tanneyhill, Secretary of the Bureau of Vocational Guidance. The Bureau is called upon by local and national social work organizations and agencies to recommend qualified workers. In the past month alone, in two large Eastern cities, three private social work agencies which have never before employed Negro social workers have made openings for professional staff members to serve both white and Negro trends in war employment where liberal employers are widening employment opportunities for Negro workers. Previously, many well-trained Negro workers have found it difficult to secure employment and professional experience in some of the country's best-known social work agencies.

The National Urban League points out that the employment of Negroes in war plants; the increased use of Negro women in industry; and the many social problems created by the war, have resulted in an expansion of social services being given by many agencies. New agencies are being created to care for the community needs of war workers where existing agencies are inadequately serving the popula- activities and group work; health; community organization; medical social work; child welfare and family case work lead in this trend.

THE NEWS REEL

By HARRY MORGAN

The step-sons of today's war are the lads in the Merchant Marine. Every time you open a magazine you can find pictures of fighting men in the Army, Navy, Air Corps, Marines or Coast Guard in any variety of glamorous poses with actresses or society belles—and very few manufacturers dare to run an advertisement without having a service man carrying the ball for them. About this I have no more objection than a fellow getting a tax refund—but I do think that the Merchant Marine deserves more than a listing in the casualty columns. It's no fun playing clay pigeon for a torpedo. The Merchant Marine is delivering the goods, and without them we'd all be sunk.

See where the Tunisian prisoners are anxious to come to U. S. They figure there is no place like home—and they're quite willing to avoide it.

Yes, there is no place like home for an American—and there is no place like the House of Morgan, 2729 Central Ave., for an unexcelled selection of fine liquors, wines and beer. For that pick-up at the end of a hard day—for that party you are planning—keep adequately stocked from the fine selection at the House of Morgan.

BUT ELECTRIC POWER IS STILL PLENTIFUL!

In spite of the shortage of workers, Southern California farms and war factories continue to increase their output. They can do so because they make extensive use of electric power, and electricity is still plentiful. The Edison Company expanded its power generating facilities well in advance of the war emergency. This foresight is characteristic of the American system of free enterprise. Only under such a system could a community-owned and operated company like Edison exist.

GREAT DAY AT METROPOLITAN A. M. E. ZION CHURCH, SAINT LOUIS, MO.

Bishop W. C. Brown, of Los Angeles, California, presiding Bishop of the Missiouri Conference, arrived in Saint Louis, Sunday Morning, May 16th, accompanied by his wife, to take part in the happy experiences of the Metropolitan A. M. E. Zion Church and their pastor, Dr. W. A. Cooper.

The occasion was, 1. The Mortgage Burning Service, climaxing the successful efforts to rid the Church of all debts. 2. The dedication of a very beautiful Chapel, set apart for prayer and meditation. 3. The dedication of new pulpit furniture.

Bishop Brown thrilled a packed house on Sunday Morning, with what the white visitor and donor said, was the most outstanding sermon he had ever heard in his life.

The Mortgage Burning Ceremony sent a thrill through the crowded house, such as we have never seen, ending with the congregation singing, "I KNOW THE LORD WILL MAKE A WAY FOR YOU" and a fervent prayer by the Bishop.

This service was attended by Mr. Joseph Sunnen, who has given Dr. Cooper, for the church, more than $5,000.00 this year. A distinguished group of white friends accompanied him. The as the congregation was worshiping for the first time in their newly decorated auditorium, done by Wm. A. Starks, decorator and officer of the church.

Bishop Brown, the Pastor, their wives and others went to Webster Grove at 3 o'clock to burn the mortgage on the Blackwell Temple A. M. E. Zion Church, of which the Rev. I. S. H. Curry is pastor. At the close of the mortgage burning, Mrs. C. M. Moore, district President of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, gave from her organization many song books to the church. The presentation was made by Mrs. Henrietta M. Davis, the general President of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society. At this time Mrs. W. A. Cooper presented Mrs. Gertrude Brown, The Supervisor of the district.

At 6 o'clock the Bishop returned to Metropolitan to dedicate the Chapel, which is a room in the Church, seating about one hundred people, and suitably furnished to evoke sacredness. The Chapel has an appropriate Alter and Pulpit Stand with a background of red velvet adorned with a gilted Cross. The worship value of the Chapel is further enhanced by a beautiful piano, given by Deaconess Sophronia Gibbs. There was an overflow crowd at this service, even after the doors to the adjoining rooms were opened. Short dedicatorial addresses were delivered by Dr. Clark Walker Cummings, Executive Sec'y. of the Metropolitan Church Federation of Saint Louis and the Pastor, Dr. W. A. Cooper. Bishop Brown conducted the dedicatorial ceremonies, closing it with a fervent prayer after which the congregation sang, "SWEET HOUR OF PRAYER".

At 8 o'clock, Bishop Brown preached another thrilling sermon to the crowd that had gathered to witness the dedication of the new pulpit furniture, given the church, by Miss Selena Collins, as a memorial to her mother, the late Mrs. Alice V. Collins. This service marked the end of a perfect day and the closing of a successful Conference Year.

The Pastor and the Bishop leaves for Conference at Kansas City, Missouri, Tuesday.

U. S. Supreme Court "Confesses Error" in Soldier Rape Case

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Argument on the case of the three Negro soldiers convicted and sentenced to death for rape in Alexandria, La., began in the United States Supreme Court May 10.

Thurgood Marshall, NAACP Special Counsel, revealed this week that the brief filed in behalf of the United States by the Solicitor General and the Assistant Attorney General "confessed error" and completely agreed that the points raised by the defense attacking the jurisdiction of the trial court were valid. It had been charged that the court in which the soldiers were sentenced was without jurisdiction to try them.

The NAACP did not enter this case until after the three soldiers, John Bordenave, Richard P. Adams, and Lawrence Mitchell had been sentenced. They were rushed to trial on July 27, 1942. The court appointed lawyers and the soldiers were convicted of criminal attack on a white woman in Alexandria, Louisiana.

A petition of the NAACP attorneys for a habeas corpus writ was based on the contention that the United States government had no jurisdiction over the land on which the alleged crime was committed.

As the case now stands the government has joined the defense counsel in urging the United States Supreme Court to answer the question of the federal court's jurisdiction in such a manner as to admit that the lower court was without the right to convict the men. This may not mean the end of the case because there is still the likelihood of court martial.

Each individual is a compound unit of society, and the product of three complex factors; Physical, Mental and Spiritual faculties or powers of being.

God, made the Physical Body to be the temple or dwelling in which the person could live and grow, and in which the Mental Spiritual faculties could develop and grow to their natural proportions.

The Mental faculties are located in the head; and the Spiritual within the heart. When these faculties all work in harmony, they produce a fine, upright example of perfect development. Therefore, let us strive to improve ourselves in such a manner that our hearts, bodies and souls have clean constructive thoughts and are an example for society and our friends to be proud of.

W. S. Dear Prof. Herman: Through the use of your Prayer and Meditation Combination, I have found the happiness and peace of mind I have been longing for. My friends will hear of you so that they may find consolation in your wonderful work.

G. L. Why did he stop writing?

Ans. After a careful study of your problem, I find that your friend in camp is busy, and his army duties take up most of his time which prevents him from writing to you. Within the near future, you may have some news.

L. C. E. What does he think of me?

Ans. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals the fact that you are older than this man you love, and you are wondering if this has anything to do with his feelings toward you. No, age is hot interfering with this love affair and I vision him caring a great deal for you.

* * *

A. B. When was the Home Owner's Loan Corporation established?

Ans. June 13, 1933, the Home Owners' Refinancing Act established the Home Owner's Loan Corporation whose task it was to refinance small mortgages on privately owned homes.

I. H. What happened to my wrist watch?

Ans. It appears to me that your watch was stolen from your husband's dresser. It was taken by a friend visiting at the time. I suggest that in the future you be more careful with your valuable belongings and keep them in a safe place.

E. C. P. Does the boy I like care very much for me?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find this boy is very fond of you but suggest that you concentrate upon your studies in school until you are a little older.

R. D. Will I be successful in securing the apartment for my family?

Ans. According to your Zodiacal sign you are destined to have good luck within the next few months. And you will also be successful in getting this apartment you have in mind. For further information I suggest that you write in for a private reply.

M. P. What should I do?

Ans. It comes to me that you are faced with the problem of whether you should marry this man you have been so closely related to, and whether the marriage would prove successful. Since you seem to get along so well, I see no reason why you should not marry him. He has proven how much he loves you and what he intends to do to make you happy.

N. J. I read your column every week and find it very interesting. Would you please advise me concerning my brother, and What I should do to change his mind?

Ans. No real harm will come from your brother's association with this woman if you don't make him angry and antagonize him. But if he finds out that you are trying to interfere, he may go ahead with his plans which would prove detrimental.

My Experience In The Post Office

Paul L. Hackett Sr.

"If a man say, I love God and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God." 1 John 4:20.

Christ was betrayed 2000 years ago by Judas Iscariot for 20 pieces of silver. The seed of Judas seem to have scattered to the four corners of the world. It is often the misfortune of an organization to find a member who will sell his soul to satisfy a personal ambition. This type of individual never has the interest of his fellow workers at heart.

The United Federal Workers of America Local No. 191 has on its charter the name of a man who has proven to be a disgrace to the CIO and the principles for which we stand. His actions toward his fellow workers has been contradictory to the concepts and precepts of the CIO. Numerous employees from various departments at the Terminal Annex have asked why the union did not seek to have this individual reduced in status. Though this person is thoroughly detested by most of the employees the department evidently approve of his policy. He is said to be like a rabbit, continually keeping his ears to the ground.

Mr. George Weinberg, former station cleaner, custorial laborer, and presently a custodial foreman, called a meeting of custodial employees in January 1941. He complained biterly of working conditions existing under Mr. Henry Mayer and Mr. Charles Stambach. Mr. Weinberg said that conditions were intolerable and something should be done about it. With the assistance of Mr. Weinberg and 22 charter members Local No. 191 came into being.

Mr. Weinberg was an ardent worker for about a year then he seemed to lose interest in the organization. When questioned, he told yours truly that he had been promised a better position and did not think he would be eligible for the union very long. However, he assured me that his heart would still be with the boys.

Mr. William Street, an employee with years of service, was acting in the capacity of the position which Mr. Weinberg expected to fill. I mentioned this fact to him and he said that he knew what he was doing, that he had been told that he would be taken care of. He evidently knew what he was talking about for he is now filling this same position.

Since becoming foreman Mr. Weinberg has been the source of endless confusion between the employees and personnel. Many complaints have been registered with the Local over his actions. Recently a woman custodial laborer offered to engage in combat with him over some of his treachery. The lady in question told me she detested dealing with people who had a different face for everyone. I wish to congratulate this lady and add that I wish there were more men in the post office like her.

After numerous complaints were made by women in the custodial department I took the liberty to speak to Mr. Weinberg. He told me flatly, "I have no sympathy for these women. If they did not wish to do a man's work they should not have applied for this job. So far as I am concerned they are going to do their work like every one else. As long as I am foreman I am going to see that they do it." Most men are judged by the consideration which they give women."

Mr. Weinberg recently advised a prospective union member that he could get farther out of the union that he could in. We are proud to say that this employee did not follow his advice and has become a member of the local.

The United Federal Workers of America Local No. 191, of which Mr. Weinberg was a former member, hereby declares him to be a disgrace to the Local. Fully aware of the work that the CIO has done and is doing for labor as a whole we herewith recommend the permanent suspension of Mr. George Weinberg from further participation in any CIO affiliate in the United States of America. Concurred at the regular monthly meeting Sunday, May 16, 1943.

San Diego News

SAN DIEGO—Rev. Frederick D. Jordan of Los Angeles' First African Methodist Episcopal church delivered a masterful sermon here Sunday climaxing the splendid and successful Men's Day program. It was felt that the large audience, who patiently awaited his arrival from the big neighboring city, was amply repaid, judging from the success of the occasion.

Rev. Owen's sermon at 11 a.m. was very commendable.

Mr. E. A. Dorsey, president of the brotherhood, worked untiringly for the success of the program, sponsored by their organization and Mr. Joseph Nelson, Jr., directed the men's choir, furnishing beautiful music.

Mrs. Exie Lee Hampton, secretary of USO, San Bernardino, California, and wife of Rev. Charles H. Hampton, president of the Western Baptist Convention, spent the week-end with her and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Rollins came down from Los Angeles Saturday. They are preparing to return to Los Angeles to live, after a sojourn in San Diego of more than a year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis of Cleveland, Ohio, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Morgan Sunday.

Mr. Clarence S. Brickhouse, church and civic leader of Los Angeles, was in San Diego Sunday afternoon and presided at the piano for the Men's Day program at Bethel A. M. E. Church. Featured on this program were the San Diego Gospel singers, double quartette, under guidance of Mr. Hawkins.

Mmes. Ada Cleveland, Edith Wilkinson, Mildred Lanning, E. A. Morgan and Alex McPherson attended a special meeting of the O.E.S. in Los Angeles last week. Mrs. Vivian Marsh, the worthy grand matron, was present.

Mrs. Cleveland was the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Benton, and Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Lanning were the guests of Mrs. Bauman. Their stay was from Tuesday until Friday, inclusive.

A Signal Event for Logan Chapel A. M. E. Zion Church.

Enthusiasm was at high tide at Logan Chapel A. M. E. Zion Church on last Tuesday night when its membership realized the results of its efforts in raising the required amount of $1,497.98 to liquidate the mortgage. Other churches joined most heartily in this occasion of mortgage burning in which Rev. L. M. McCoy, P. E. Chaplain, R. A. Cooper, former pastor and Rev. Lankford the pastor took the leading role in seeing that the facsimile of the mortgage went up in smoke. Dr. and Mrs. Lankford have done excellent work since their coming to San Diego a few months ago, to assume charge of Logan Chapel A. M. E. Zion Church. Mrs. Lankford's fine educational background especially adapts her for the helpmeet of the minister. His record as a churchman is fast-paving the way for him to reach the highest office in the gift of his denomination. A total of $3,000 was reported in this rally which exceeded by more than $1,000 the amount necessary to lift the mortgage.

Monrovia News

The churches all seemed to have had splendid services last Sunday.

In the Bethel A. M. E. Church, the pastor, Rev. Reeves preached at morning and afternoon services. The pastor and members of the Shiloh A. M. E. Zion Church, worshipped at Bethel, where Rev. E. C. Walkins preached at morning and afternoon services. Attendance at both churches was good.

Regular services were held in the Second Baptist Church at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., Rev. Featherstone conducting services, as its own pastor has not as yet fully recovered.

The Annual Woman's Day . . .

Rev. Mrs. J. Neal of St. Paul Baptist Church, Los Angeles, delivered the principal address, after a very lively devotional period. Scriptures were read by Mrs. Brister. An address was delivered by Mrs. Martin of Pasadena. Many visitors were present. Mrs. Estey, of Pasadena, lifted the hearts of the congregation in a solo.

The Choir of the Metropolitan Baptist Church of Pasadena rendered a program of fine music, with other features. There were also addresses by Mrs. F. M. Caliston and Mrs. Marcum of Santa Monica, and solos by Mrs. Robinson, Estey and Mrs. Elnora Woods.

In the evening there were duets by Mrs. Annie Harvey and Mrs. Strickland, and addresses by Mrs. Mary V. Green. Mrs. M. Dotson contributed a solo, Mrs. L. J. Oatis paper, reading by Mrs. Elmira Sandifer, a monologue by Miss Hattie Armstrong, and remarks by Mrs. E. M. Thompson and Mrs. Gertrude Owens.

Mrs. M. W. Davis served as Mistress of Ceremonies throughout the day.

The pastor and members of the First Baptist Church motored to Santa Ana Sunday afternoon, where they worshipped with the Methodist Church there.

Baby Contest . . .

Last Sunday there was a Baby Contest, Mrs. Young's baby from Duarte winning over Mrs. Brown's baby from Monrovia.

There was a prayer by Rev John A. Davis, for those who took part in the opening of the Young Peoples Recreation Center of Duarte, at the First Baptist Church. During the program, at which time the names of people connected with opening of Recreation Center was revealed, by Rev. A. Wilder, Mrs. J. Mitchell and Jessie M. Blount favored an enthusiastic audience with solos.

The Twin City Chapter O.E.S. last Thursday night, had the Grand Matron, Mrs. Vivian Osborne Marsh on her official visit. Many other dignitaries in the Eastern Star parade were present. The Past Grand Patron, Dr. S. M. Beane, the present Grand Patron, Brother Lampkins, Brother F. F. Carter, and Mrs. L. G. Shaw were among the many present. Refreshments were served after the meeting, during which the Grand Matron gave a very inspiring address.

The Grand Matron and Past Patron were dinner guests of Mrs. Birdie Hawkins, in the beautiful home of Mrs. E. M. Thompson, who with Mrs. Hawkins and Miss Gertrude Owens attended an Eastern Star function in Los Angeles.
